3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Diblaim: whiche conceyued and bare him a ſonne.

4 And the Loꝛde ſayde vnto him, Call his name Jezrahel: foꝛ I wyl ſhoꝛtly auenge the blood of Jezrahel vppon the houſe of Jehu, and wyl bring the kyngdome of the houſe of Iſrael to an ende.

5 And in that day wyll I alſo breake the bowe of Iſrael in the valley of Jezrahel.

6 And ſhe conceyued agayne, and bare a daughter: and (the Lorde) ſayde vnto him, Call her name Lohuhamah (that is, not obteyning mercie,) foꝛ I wyl no moꝛe haue pitie vpon the houſe of Iſrael, but I wyll vtterly take them away.

7 Yet I wyl haue mercie vpon the houſe of Iuda, and wyl ſaue them, euen thoughe the Loꝛd their God: and wyl not ſaue them by bowe, ſwoꝛde, batel, hoꝛſes, oꝛ hoꝛſemen.

8 Nowe when he had weaned Lohuhamah, ſhe conceyued agayne, and bare a ſonne.

9 Then ſaide he, Call his name Leammi, (that is, not my people:) foꝛ ye are not my people, therefoꝛe I wyl not be your (God.)

10 Yet the number of the chyldren of Iſrael ſhalbe as the ſande of the ſea, whiche can neyther be meaſured nor tolde, and in the place where it was ſayde vnto them, Ye are not my people: it ſhalbe ſayde vnto them, Ye are the chyldren of the lyuyng God.

Rom.9.c.

11 Then ſhall the chyldren of Iuda and the chyldren of Iſrael be gearthered togeather, and appoint them ſelues one head, and they ſhall comme vp out of the lande: foꝛ great ſhalbe the day of Jezrahel.

2 As foꝛ your mother, ye ſhal chyde with her, and reproue her, foꝛ ſhe is not my wyfe, neyther am I her huſbande: let her therefoꝛe put away her whoꝛedome from her face, & her aduulterie from her bꝛeaſtes:

John.8.a. 2.king.16.a

6 Therefoꝛe beholde, I wil ſtoppe thy way with thoꝛnes, and make a hedge, that ſhe ſhal not fynde her pathes.

7 And though ſhe runne after her louers, yet ſhal ſhe not ouertake them: ſhe ſhal ſeke them, but not fynde them. Then ſhall ſhe ſay, I wyll goe and returne to my fyrſt huſbande: foꝛ at that tyme it was better with me then nowe.

11 Moreouer I wil take away all her mirth, her holy dayes, her newe moones, her Sabbothes, and al her solemne feastes.

Iud.16.d. 12 I wil destroy her vineyardes and fygge trees, whereof she sayde, These are my rewardes that my louers haue geuen me: I wil make them as a wood, & wilde beastes shal eate them vp.

Iud.2.b. 13 I wil visite vpon her the dayes of Baal, wherin she burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with eare ringes and iewels, she followed her louers, & forgate me, sayth the Lorde.

C 14 Wherfore beholde, I will allure her and bring her into the wildernesse, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 From thence wyll I geue her her vineyardes agayne, yea and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shal sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came out of the lande of Egypt.

Iud.7.b. Iud.5.a. Esch.15.a.

16 And at that day (sayth the Lorde) thou shalt cal me, O my husbande, and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I wyll take away the names of Baal from her mouth, yea she shal neuer remember their names any more.

Iudi.26.a. 18 Then wyll I make a couenant for them, with the beastes of the fielde, with the foules of the ayre, and with euery thyng that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, sworde, and battaile, I will destroy out of the land, and will make them to sleepe safely.

Esch.16.b. 19 And I will marry thee vnto mine owne selfe for euer, yea euen to mee selfe wyll I marrye thee in righteousnesse, in iudgement, in louing kindnesse, and mercy.

20 In faythfulnesse also will I marry thee vnto mee selfe, and thou shalt knowe the Lorde.

D 21 At the same time will I shewe mee selfe gratious vnto the heauens, sayth the Lord, and the heauens shal helpe the earth:

22 And the earth shal helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shal helpe Iezrahel.

1.Pet.2.b. Iam.9.c. 23 And I will sowe her for mee selfe in the earth, and will haue mercy vpon her that had not obteyned mercy: and to them whiche were not my people, I wyl say, Thou art my people: and they shal say, Thou art my God.

The .iii. Chapter.

I. The Iewes shalbe cast of for their idolatrie. 5. Afterwarde they shall returne to the Lorde.

1 Then sayde the Lord to me, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an aduoutresse, according to the loue of the Lorde towarde the children of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange gods, and loue the wine pottes.

Esech.34.b

The .iiii. Chapter.

A complaint against the people, and the priestes of Israel.

1 Heare the worde of the Lorde, O ye children of Israel, for the Lorde hath a controuersie with the inhabitantes of the lande: for there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the lande.

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft, and aduoutrie hath gotten the ouer hande, and one bloodgiltinesse followeth another.

3 Therfore shal the lande mourne, and al they that dwel therein shalbe rooted out, the beastes of the fielde, the foules of the ayre, and the fyshes in the sea, shalbe consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another, for thy people (are) as they that are at controuersie with the priest.

Mala.1.b. or, contendes.

5 Therefore shalt thou fal in the day tyme, and the prophete with thee in the nyght, and I wyl bryng thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therfore wyl I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my priest: and forsomuch as thou hast forgotten the lawe of thy God, I wyl also forget thy children.

Baruc.3.b. Esai.5.b.

7 The more they increased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, (therefore) wyl I change their honour into shame.

(a) That is, the priestes seeke to eate the peoples offeringes, & flatter thē in their sinnes.

8 They eate vp the (a) sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednes.

9 Thus the prieſt is become like the people: wherefore I will punithe them for their wicked wayes, and rewarde them accordyng to their imaginations.

Leuit. 26.b. Miche. 6.c. Aggæ. 1.a. 10 They eate, and not haue ynough, they haue vſed whoredome, but ſhall not proſper, they haue forſaken the Lorde, and not regarded him.

11 Whoredome, wine, and newe wine, take the hart away.

2. King. 1.a. 12 My people aſke counſel at theyr ſtockes, and their ſtaffe teacheth them: for the ſpirit of fornication hath cauſed (them) to goe aſtray, and they haue committed fornication agaynſt theyr God.

2. Kin. 17.b. 13 They make ſacrifices vpon the toppes of the mountaynes, and burne theyr incenſe vpō the hilles, yea vnder the okes, poplars, and elmes, for there are good ſhadowes: therefore your daughters are become harlottes, and your ſpouſes haue broken their wedlocke.

C 14 I will not punithe your daughters for beyng defiled, and your ſpouſes that became whoores, ſeeyng the fathers them ſelues Num. 25.d. haue medled with harlottes, and ſacrificed with whoores: but the people that wyll not vnderſtande, muſt be punished.

15 Thoughe thou Iſrael play the harlot, yet let not Iuda ſinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, 1. King. 21.d Deut. 10.d. neyther goe ye to Bethauen, neyther ſweare ye, The Lord liueth.

16 For Iſrael is rebellious lyke an vnruly heiffer: nowe the Lorde will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim (is become) partaker of idols, let hym alone.

18 Their drunkenneſſe ſtinketh, they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue (to ſay) with ſhame, Bryng ye.

19 The winde hath bounde them vp in her wynges, and they ſhalbe aſhamed of theyr ſacrifices.

The. v. Chapter.

1. Agaynſt the prieſtes and rulers of Iſrael,
13. The helpe of man is in vayne.

A 1 O Ye prieſtes heare this, take heede, O thou houſhold of Iſrael, geue eare, O thou houſe of the king, for iudgement is againſt you, becauſe you are become as a ſnare on Mizpah, and a ſpread nette vpon the mount of Thabor.

* or, they were profounde wyfe to offer ſacrifices. 2 They * kyl ſacrifices by heapes, & turne farre from the Lorde, and I haue ben a rebuker of them al.

3 I knowe Ephraim wel ynough, and Iſrael is not hid fro me: for nowe, O Ephraim thou art become an harlot, and Iſrael is defiled.

4 They wil not geue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the ſpirit of fornication (is) in the middeſt of them, and they haue not knowen the Lorde.

Oſe. 7.b. 5 And the pride of Iſrael doth teſtifie to his face, therefore both Iſrael and Ephraim ſhal fal for theyr wyckednes, and Iuda with them alſo.

Ier. 3.b. Deut. 4.d. Ezech. 13.d. 6 They ſhal come with their sheepe and bullockes to ſeeke the Lorde, but they ſhal not finde him: for he is gone from them.

7 They haue tranſgreſſed againſt the lord, and brought vp baſtarde children: a moneth therefore ſhal deuour them, with theyr portions.

8 Blowe with the shawmes at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, crye out at Bethauen, after thee, O Beniamin.

9 In the time of the plague ſhall Ephraim be layde waſte, in the tribes of Iſrael haue I ſhewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Iuda haue ben like them that remoue the lande markes: therefore will I powre out my wrath vpon them lyke water.

11 Ephraim is oppreſſed & broken in iudgement, becauſe he willingly folowed the commaundement.

12 Therefore wyl I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the houſe of Iuda as a caterpyller.

13 When Ephraim ſawe his ſickneſſe, and Iuda his diſeaſe, Ephraim went vnto Aſſur, & ſent vnto king Iareb, yet coulde not 2. King. 15.b. he helpe you, nor eaſe you of your payne.

14 I will be vnto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lions whelpe to the houſe of Iuda: I (euen) I wyl ſpoyle, and goe my way: I wil take away, and no man ſhal reſcue.

15 I wyl goe and returne to my place, tyll they knowledge that they haue ſinned, and ſeeke me. In theyr aduerſitie they ſhal (a) early ſeeke me. (a) Thatis, diligently.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. Affliction cauſeth a man to turne to God,
9. The wickednes of the prieſtes,

1 COme, let vs turne againe to the Lord: for he hath ſmitten vs, & he ſhall heale vs, he hath wounded vs, and he ſhal bynde vs vp againe. Iob. 5.b.

2 After two dayes ſhal he quicken vs, in the thirde day he ſhall rayſe vs vp, ſo that we ſhal liue in his ſyght.

3 Then ſhal we haue vnderſtandyng, and endeuour our ſelues to knowe the Lord: he ſhall goe forth as a ſpryng of the day, and come vnto vs as the rayne, and as the latter rayne vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what ſhal I doo vnto thee? O Iuda, howe ſhall I entreate thee? for your goodneſſe is lyke a morning cloude, and like a deawe that goeth early away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe the prophets, and ſlayne them by the wordes of my mouth, and let them be ſlaine for my woordes ſake, ſo that thy puniſhment ſhal come to light.

6 For I deſyred mercie and not ſacrifice: and the knowledge of god more then whole burnt offerings.

7 But euen lyke as Adam dyd, ſo haue they broken my couenant, and ſet me at nought.

8 Gilead is a citie of wicked doers, and (is) polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues (armed) wayte for hym that paſſeth by the way: ſuche is the counſel of the prieſtes, whiche with one agreed counſell murder cruelly ſuche as keepe the way, yea they dare doo all vnſpeakeable miſchefe.

10 Horrible thinges haue I ſeene in the houſe of Iſrael: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Iſrael is defyled.

11 Yea and thou Iuda keepeſt an harueſt for thee ſelfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The. vii. Chapter.

1. Of the vices and wantonneſſe of the people.
12. Of their puniſhment.

1 When I vndertooke to make Iſrael whole, then the vngratiouſneſſe of Ephraim, and the wickednes of Samaria came to lyght, for they goe about with lyes, therefore the theefe robbeth within, & the ſpoyler deſtroyeth without.

2 They conſyder not in their hartes that I remember all their wickednes: Nowe their owne inuentions haue beſet them, which I ſee wel enough.

3 They made the king glad with their wickednes, and the princes with their lyes.

4 All theſe burne in aduulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when he hath left kneading, til the dowe be leauened.

5 (That is) the day of our kyng, the princes haue made him ſicke with bottels of wine, he hath ſtreatched out his hande to ſcorners.

6 For whyles they lye in wayte, they haue made redy their hart like an ouen, their baker ſleepeth al night, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fyre.

7 They are altogether as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne iudges, al their kinges are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath mixt him ſelfe among (heathen) people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his ſtrength, and he regardeth it not: he wareth full of gray heares, yet wyl he not knowe it.

10 And the pryde of Iſrael teſtifyeth to his face, yet wyll they not turne to the Lorde their God, nor ſeeke him for al this.

11 Ephraim is lyke a doue that is beguyled, and hath no hart: nowe cal they vppon the Egyptians, nowe goe they to the Aſſyrians.

12 But whyle they be goyng here and there, I ſhal ſpread my net ouer them, and drawe them downe as the foules of the ayre: and accordyng as they haue ben warned, ſo wyl I punniſhe them.

13 Woe be vnto them, for they haue forſaken me, they muſt be deſtroyed, for they haue ſet me at nought: I am he that hath redeemed them, yet haue they ſpoken lyes agaynſt me.

14 They cal not vpon me with their hartes, but lye howlyng vppon their beddes: they wyl aſſemble them ſelues for corne & wine, but they rebel againſt me.

15 I haue bounde (vp) and ſtrengthened their arme: yet doo they imagine miſchefe agaynſt me.

16 They turne them ſelues, but not to the moſt higheſt, and are become as a broken bowe, their princes ſhalbe ſlaine with the ſwoorde for the malice of their tongues: this ſhalbe their derriſion in the lande of Egypt.

The. viii. Chapter.

The deſtruction of Iuda and Iſrael, becauſe of their idolatrie.

1 SEt the trumpe to thy mouth, (wickedly) as an Eagle (ſhal the enemie comme) agaynſt the houſe of the Lorde: for they haue broken my couenant, and tranſgreſſed my lawe.

2 Iſrael ſhoulde haue ſayde vnto me, Thou art my God, we knowe thee.

3 But he hath refuſed the thing that is good, therefore ſhal the enimie purſue him.

4 They haue ordeyned kynges, but not through me, they haue made princes, and I knewe it not: of their ſiluer and golde haue they made them idols, therefore ſhall they be deſtroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath caſt thee of, for my wrathful indignation is gonne footh agaynſt them: howe long wyl they be without innocencie?

6 For (the Calfe) came from Iſrael, the workeman made it, therefore can it be no

God: but euen in peeces shal the calfe of Samaria be broken.

ℬ 7 They haue sowen winde, therefore shal they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalke, the bud shal bring foorth no meale: and if happly it bo, strangers shal deuoure it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, nowe shall they be among the gentiles as a vessel of no reputation.

9 For they haue gonne vp to Assyria, (and are as) a wylde Asse solitarie by him selfe: Ephraim hath hyred louers.

2.king.17.c. Ezec.16.b. 10 And though they haue hyred them among the heathen, yet nowe will I gather them, and they shall begin to be weerie with the burden of the king and the prince.

11 Ephraim hath made many aulters to doo wickednesse, his aulters (I say) be had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great thinges of my lawe, (but) they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifyce flesh for the sacrifyce of myne offeringes, and eate it, (but) the lord hath no pleasure in it: nowe wyl he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shal returne into Egypt.

℃ 14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, and hath buylded fayre palaces, and Iuda hath encreased strong cities: but I wyl sende a fyre into their cities, and it shal consume their palaces.

The. ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

𝔄 1 DO not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer ioyous things as doo the heathen: for thou hast committed adulterie agaynst thy GOD, whyche the rewardes hast thou loued more then all the corne floores.

2 The corne flooze and the wine presse shall not feede them: and the newe wine shall fayle them.

Ezr. 4.c. 3 They shal not dwel in the Lordes lande, but Ephraim shal turne againe into Egypt, and eate vncleane thinges among the Assyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lorde, neyther shal their slayne offerings be pleasant vnto him, they shalbe vnto them as ꝑ bread of mourners, al they that eate shalbe defyled: for their bread (a) for their soules shal not come into the house of the Lorde.

(a) The sacrifyce whiche they offered for their sinnes.

5 What wyl ye doo then in the solempne day, and in the feast day of the Lorde?

6 For beholde, they are gonne away for destruction, (but) Egypt shal gather them, and Memphis shall burie them: the nettles shall possesse the pleasant (places) of their siluer, thorne shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are comme, the dayes of recompence are comme: and then shal Israel knowe that they were deceyued by a foolishe, mad, and frantick prophete: for the multitude of their iniquitie (God) shal multiplie enimies agaynst thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim (was) with my (b) God (but) the prophete (is) the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and an abomination in the house of his God.

(b) At the beginning the teachers instructed the people out of gods worde only: but afterwarde trayned them in idolatrie.

9 They haue gonne to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibea: (therefore) he wyl remember their iniquitie, and visyte their sinnes.

10 I founde Israel lyke grapes in the wyldernesse, and sawe their fathers as the fyrst fruyte in the fygge tree at her fyrst season: but they went to Baal Peor, and separated them selues to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away lyke a byrde: from the byrth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bryng vp children, yet I wyl destroy them before they be menne: Yea wo shal come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as me thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, lyke as is Tyrus: but nowe must he bryng her owne children foorth to the manslayer. Gen.41.a.

14 O Lorde geue them: what shalt thou geue them? Geue them an vnfruitefull wombe, and drye breastes. ℭ

15 All their wickednesse is bonne at Gilgal, there doo I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnesse of their owne inuentions I wyll driue them out of my house, I wyl loue them no more, for al their princes are vnfaythful. Iosue.4.b.

16 Ephraim is beten downe, their roote is dryed vp, so that they shall bryng no more fruite: yea and though they bryng foorth any, yet wyll I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shall cast them away, for they haue not benne obedient vnto him, therefore shal they wander among the heathen.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Agaynst Israel and his idols. 14. His destruction for the same.

1 ISrael (is) an (a) emptie vine, (yet) hath it brought foorth fruite to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruit thereof he hath encreased the aulters, according to the the goodnesse of their land, they haue made them fayre Images.

3 Their hart is diuided, (therfore) shal they nowe be destroyed, (the Lorde) shal breake downe their auters, he shal destroye their Images.

4 For now shal they say, We haue no king, because we haue not feared the Lorde, and what shoulde then a king do to vs?

5 They haue spoken wordes, swearing falsly in making a(b) couenant: thus (c) iudgement groweth as woormewood in the furrowes of the fielde.

6 They that dwel in Samaria shall feare, because of the Calfe of Bethauen, for the people thereof shal mourne ouer it, yea, and the priestes also reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

7 It shalbe brought to the Assyrian for a present to the king Iareb: Ephraim shal receiue shame, and Israel shalbe confounded for his owne imaginations.

8 Samaria with his king shall vanishe away as the forme vpon the water.

9 The high places of Auen where Israel hath sinne, shalbe destroyed, thystles and thornes shal grow vpon their auters: then shal they say to the mountaines, Couer vs, and to the hilles, Fal vpon vs.

10 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes (d) of Gabaa: there they stood, the batayle in Gabaa against the children of iniquitie dyd not touche them.

11 It is my desire that I shoulde chastice them, and the people shalbe geathered against them, when they shal ioyne them selues togeather in their two (e) furrowes.

12 And Ephraim (is as) an heyfer vsed to delite in(f) treading out of corne: but I wyl passe by her fayre (g) necke, I wyl make Ephraim to (h) ryde: Iuda shal (i) plow, and Iacob shal breake his cloddes.

13 Sowe to your selues in righteousnesse, and reape the fruites of wel doing, plowe vp your freshe lande: for it is time to seeke the Lorde, tyl he come and rayne righteousnesse vpon you.

14 For you haue plowed vngodlinesse, ye haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruite of lyes, because thou puttest thy confidence in thine owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

15 There shal growe a sedition among thy people, all thy strong cities shalbe layde waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of batayle, where the mother with the children were dashed in peeces.

16 Euen so shal Bethel doo vnto you, because of your malitious wickednesse: in a morning shal the king of Israel be destroyed.

The. xi. Chapter.

I. The benefites of the Lorde towarde Israel.
5. Theyr ingratitude against hym.

1 When Israel was young, I loued him, and called my sonne out of the land of Egypt. A

2 They (a) called them, (but) they went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baal, and burned incense to Images. (a) The prophetes called the people.

3 I gaue to Ephraim ons to leade (b) him, who shoulde beare him in his armes: but they knewe not that I healed them. (b) He meaneth Moses.

4 I led them with cordes of a man (euen) (c) with bands of loue: and I was to them as he that taketh of the yoke from their iawes, and I layde (d) meate to them. (c) That is, freendly, not as beastes. (d) He fedde them with Manna in the desart.

5 He shal no more returne into Egypt, but Assur (e) shalbe his kyng, because he refused to conuert. (e) For their vnthankfulnesse they shalbe ledde captiue into Assyria.

6 Therefore shal the swoorde fal on his cities, and shal consume his (f) branches, & deuoure them, because of their owne counsayles. (f) The villages adioyning to the cities.

7 And my people shalbe in a doubt for their rebellion against me: for when the (prophetes) called them to the most high, not one yet would geue him his glory.

8 How shal I geue thee vp Ephraim? (howe) shal I deliuer thee Israel? howe shal I make thee as (g) Adama? (howe) shal I set thee as Zeboim? myne hart is turned within me, my repentynges are kyndled within me. (g) Whiche were two of the cities destroyed with Sodome. Gene. 19. b. Deut. 29. B

9 I wyl not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I wil not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the myddest of thee, and I wyl not enter into the citie.

10 They shal walke after the Lorde, he shal roare lyke a Lion: when he shal roare then the chyldren of the West shal feare.

11 They shal feare as a sparowe out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the lande of Assur, and I wyl place them in theyr houses, sayth the Lorde.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceite: but Iuda yet ruleth (h) with God, and is faithful with the saintes. (h) Ruleth their people agreeyng to Gods word.

1 When Ephraim ſpake, there was trembling, he was exalted among the Iſraelites: but he hath ſinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And nowe they ſinne more and more, and of their ſyluer they haue made them molten Images after the imaginations of their owne braynes, (that is) very Idols, and yet all is nothing but the woorke of the craftesman, they ſay one to another, Whiles they (a) ſacrifice a man, let them kyſſe (b) the Calues.

3 Therefore they ſhalbe as the morning cloude, and as the deawe that early paſſeth away, and like as duſt that the whirlwynd taketh away from the flooze, and as ſmoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy god (which brought thee) out of the land of Egypt, & thou ſhalt knowe no God but me only, neither is there any ſauiour beſides me. Eſai.43.b

12 The wickednelle of Ephraim is bounde togeather, and his ſinne lyeth hyd.

14 I wyll redeeme them from the power of the graue, and deliuer them from death: O death, I wyl be thy death: O hel, I wyl be thy ſtyng: yet can I ſee no comfort.

15 Though he growe among his brethren, the eaſt winde (euen) the winde of the Lord ſhal come vp from the wyldernelle, and dry vp his veyne, & his fountaines ſhalbe dried vp: he ſhal ſpoyle the treaſure of al pleaſant veſſels.

The ende of the prophecie of Osee.

¶ The booke of the Prophet Ioel.

The first Chapter.

1. A propheeie agaynst the Iewes. 14. He exhorteth the people to prayer and fastyng for the miserie that was at hande.

1 THE worde of the Lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Bethuel.

2 Heare ye this you elders, & hearken with your eares al you that dwel in this lande: was there euer suche a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thing tel your children, & let your children (shewe it) to their children, & their children to (their) posteritie afterward.

5 Awake ye drunkardes, and weepe, howle al ye wine bybbers for lacke of newe wine: for it is cleane taken awaye from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come vp vpon my lande, myghtie and without number: his teethe are as the teeth of a Lion, and he hath the iawes of a great Lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, and barked my fygge tree, he hath pylled it, and caste it from him, and hath left boughes therof whyte.

8 Lament as a virgin gyrded with sackecloth for the husbande of her youth. B

9 The meate offering and drinke offring is cut of from the house of the Lorde, the priestes (I meane) the Lordes ministers mourne.

10 The feeld is wasted, the land mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the newe wyne is dryed vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howle, O ye vine dressers, for the wheate and for the barley: for the harueste of the feelde is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomgranate tree, & the palme, and the apple tree, (euen) al the trees of the feelde are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Gyrde your selues, and lament, O ye priestes, howle ye out ye ministers of the aulter, come, and lye al nyght in sackecloth ye seruantes of my God: for the meate and drinke offeringes are taken away from the house of your God.

14 Proclaime a fast, cal a congregation, gather ye elders together, (with) al the inhabitantes drumme of the lande, vnto the house of the Lorde your God, and crie vnto the Lorde, 15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lord is at hande, euen as a destruction from the almyghtie shal it come.

16 Is not the meate cut of before our eyes, (yea) myrth and ioye from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clodes, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.

18 O howe sore yle mourne, the heardes of beastes are in woful case for lacke of pasture, yee the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.

19 Vnto thee, O Lorde, wyl I crie, for fyre hath destroyed the fruiteful places of the desart, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the feelde.

20 The beastes also of the feelde crie out vnto thee: for the ryuers of water are dried vp, and fyre hath deuoured vp the fruiteful places of the desart.

The. ii. Chapter.

I. He prophecieth of the comming and cruelte of their enimies. 13. An exhortation to mone them to conuert. 18. The loue of God towarde his people.

A 1 BLowe vp a trumpet in Sion, & showte in my holy hyl, let al the inhabitantes of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lorde is come, for it is nygh at hande.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudie and blacke day: as the mornyng is spread ouer the mountaynes (so is this) populus and mouny people: lyke vnto it there was none from the beginnyng, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before hym is a deuouryng fyre, & behynde hym a burnyng flame: the lande is as a pleasant garden before hym, and behynde hym a waste desart, yea and nothing shal escape hym.

4 The shape of hym is as the shape of horses, and lyke horsemen, so shal they runne.

5 Lyke the noyse of charrettes vpon the toppes of the mountaynes they shal skyp, lyke the noyse of a flamyng fyre deuouring the stubble, (and) as a strong people prepared to batayle.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenance of al folkes shal waxe blacke.

B 7 They shal runne lyke strong men, and clyme the walles lyke men of warre: and euery one shal marche on in his waye, and they shal not lynger in their pathes.

8 No man shal thrust another, but euery one shal walke in his path: and yf they fal on the sworde, they shal not be wounded.

9 They shal runne to and fro in the citie, they shal clyme vp & downe vpon the wal, they shal clyme into the houses, they shal enter in at the windowes lyke a theefe.

10 The earth shal quake before hym, the heauens shal tremble, the sunne and the moone shalbe darke, and the starres shal withdraw their shynyng.

11 And the Lorde shal geue his voyce before his host, for his campe is exceedyng great, for he is myghtie that executeth his commaundement: for the day of the Lorde is great and very terrible, and who can abyde it?

12 But nowe, sayth the Lord, Turne you vnto me with al your hartes, with fasting, and with weepyng, and with mournyng. The Hebr. text, Adhuc, wednesday

13 And rent your hartes, and not your garmentes, and turne you vnto the Lorde your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slowe to anger, & of great goodnesse, and he wyl repent hym of the euyl.

14 Who knoweth whether the Lorde wyll C returne and take compassion, & wyl leaue behynde hym a blessyng, (euen) meate offeryng and drynke offeryng vnto the Lorde your God?

15 Blowe vp a trumpet in Sion, proclaime a fast, cal an assemblie, sanctifie the congregation.

16 Gather the people, gather the elders, assemble the children and sucking babes: let the bridegrome come forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priestes the Lordes ministers weepe betwixt the porche and the aulter, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lorde, and geue not ouer thine heritage to reproche, that the heathen should rule ouer them: Wherefore should they say amongst the heathen, Where is their God?

18 And (then) the Lord wil be iealous ouer his lande, and wyl spare his people.

19 Yea the Lorde wyl answeare, and say to his people, Beholde, I wyll sende you corne, and wine, and oyle, and wyl satisfie you therewith, and wyl not geue you ouer any more to be a reproche among the heathen.

20 And I wyl remoue farre of from you the northren (army) and I wyl dryue hym into a lande barren and desolate, with his face towardes the east sea, and his hynder partes towardes the vttermost sea: and his stinche shal aryse, and his corruption shal assend, because he hath exalted him selfe to doo this.

21 Feare not, O thou land, be glad and reioyce: for the Lord wyl doo great thinges.

22 Be not afrayde ye beastes of the fielde, for the fruitefull places of the desart are greene: for the tree beares her fruite, the figge tree & the vine yeelde their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for he hath geuen you moderate (a) rayne, and he wyl sende downe for you the rayne, (euen) the first rayne and the latter rayne, and in the first (moneth.)

24 And the barnes shalbe filled with corne, and the presses shall ouerflowe with wyne, and oyle.

25 And I wil restore to you the yeeres which the grashopper, the canker worme, the locust, and the caterpyller haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie, and be satisfied, and shal praise the name of the Lord your God, which hath deale woonderously with you, and my people shall not be ashamed any more.

27 And you shal knowe that I am in the myddle of Israel, and (that) I am the Lord your God, and none but I: and my people shal neuer be ashamed.

28 And it shal comme to passe after this, I wyl powre out my spirite vpon al flesh, and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, your olde men shal dreame dreames, your young men shal see visions.

29 Also in those dayes vpon the seruantes, and vpon the handmaydens wyll I powre out my spirite:

30 And I wil shewe woonders in heauen & in earth, blood, & fire, and pillers of smoke.

31 The sunne shalbe turned into darknesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lorde come.

32 But who so euer shal call on the name of the Lorde shalbe saued: for there shalbe deliuerance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalem, as the Lord hath promised, and (also) in the remnant whom the Lorde shal cal.

The. iii. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God agaynst the enimies of his people.

3 FOR beholde, in those dayes and in that time when I shal bring againe the captiuitie of Iuda and Hierusalem,

2 I wil also geather al the Gentiles, & cause them to come into the valley of (a) Iehosaphat, and I wil pleade with them there for my people and heritage Israel, which they haue scattered amongst the nations, and haue parted my lande.

3 And they haue caste lottes for my people, and changed the boy for an (b) harlot, and solde the gyrle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 And what haue you to doo with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and al the coast of Palestine? wyl you render me recompence? and if you recompence me, I shal swiftly (and) speedily returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.

5 For ye haue taken my syluer and my gold, my pleasant and precious iewes, and haue carryed them into your temples.

6 You haue sold also the children of Iuda, & the children of Hierusalem to the Grecians, that you might sende them farre from their owne countrey.

7 Beholde, I wyl raise them out of that place whyther you haue sold them, and wyl returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.

8 And I wyl sel your sonnes & your daughters into the handes of the children of Iuda, and they shall sell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

9 Publishe this thing among the Gentiles, proclayme warre, wake vp the mightie men, let all the men of warre drawe neare, and come vp.

10 Breake your plough shares into swords, and your sythes into speares, let the weake say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come al you heathen, and geather your selues together round about, there shal the Lord cast downe thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen arise, and come vp to the valley of Iehosaphat: for there wyl I sit to iudge al nations counde about.

13 Put in your sythes, for the harueste is ripe, come ye (and) descende: for the (c) wine presse is ful, (yea) the presses ouerflowe: for their wickednesse is multiplyed.

14 O people, people, (come) into the valley of finall iudgement: for the day of the Lord is at hand in the valley of final iudgement.

15 The sunne and the moone shalbe darkened, and the starres shall withdrawe their lyght.

16 The Lord also shal roare out of Sion, and out of Hierusalem shall he gene his voyce, the heauens and the earth shall shake: but the Lorde wyll be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye knowe that I am the Lorde your god, dwelling in Sion my holy mountayne: then shal Hierusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers passe through her any 19 Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe a desolate wylderneſſe: for the iniuries (done) to the children of Iuda, because they haue shed innocent blood in their lande.

The booke of the prophete Amos.

The first Chapter.

1. The condition and state of Amos, and the tyme of his prophesie 3. The woorde of the Lorde against Damascus, the Philistines, Tyrus, Idumes, and Ammon.

1 THe woordes of Amos, who was among the * heepeheardes at Thecua, whiche he * saw vpon Israel in ỹ dayes of Ozia king of Iuda, and in the dayes of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioas king of Israel, two yeere before the earthquake.

* or, perish.
(a) The manifold sinnes of Damascus are meant by three and foure, which make seuen. 3 Thus saith the Lorde, For (a) three * wickednesses of Damascus, and for foure I wyl not * spare her, because they haue thresshed Gilead with yron flayles.
* or, transgressions.
4 But I wyll sende a fyre into the house of Hazael, and it shal deuoure the palaces of Benhadad.
* or, bryng her againe, or turne to it 5 I wyll breake also the barres of Damascus, and * roote out the inhabitours from the * playne of Auen, and him that holdeth the scepter out of the house of * Eden, and the people of Syria shal goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, saith the Lorde.
* or, cut of.

* or, away prisoners the whole captiuitie.
7 Therefore wyll I sende a fire vppon the walles of * Aza, whiche shal deuoure her palaces.

8 And I wyll cut of the inhabiter from Asdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ascalon, and turne my hande to * Ecron, and the remnant of the Philistines shal perishe, saith the Lorde God.

(b) For Esau (of whom came the Idumites) & Iacob were brethren.
10 Therefore wyll I sende a fire vppon the wal of Tyre, and it shal consume the palaces therof.
11 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure, I wyll not spare him: because he pursued his brother with the swoorde, and dyd "cast of al pitie, and * in his anger spoyled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

12 Therefore wyl I sende a fire into Theman, whiche shall deuoure the palaces of Bozra.
13 Thus saith the Lorde, For three wickednesses of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not spare them: because they (c) haue rypt vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.
(c) He noteth the great crueltie of the Ammonites, that spared not the women with childe.
14 Therefore wil I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbah, that shall consume her palaces, with a great crye in the day of batayle, and with a tempest in the day of the whirle wyndes.
15 And their king shall goe into captiuitie, he, & his princes together, saith the Lorde.

The. ii. Chapter.

He prophesieth against Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

1 Thus

THus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Moab, and for foure I wyl not * spare him: because he burnt the bones of the kyng of Edom into (a) lyme.

2 Therfore wyl I sende a fyre into Moab, whiche shal consume the palaces of Carioth, and Moab shal dye with tumult, with howlyng, and with the sounde of the Trumpet.

3 And I will cut of the iudge out of the middes therof, and will slay al the princes therof with hym, sayth the Lorde.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Iuda, and for foure I wyl not spare hym: because they haue cast away the lawe of the Lorde, and haue not kept his ordinances, and their lyes caused them to erre, after the whiche their fathers walked.

5 Therefore wyl I sende a fyre into Iuda, whiche shal consume the palaces of Hierusalem:

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Israel, & for foure I wyl not spare him: because they solde the ryghteous for syluer, and the poore for a payre of shoes.

7 They * gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the * meeke: A man and his father wil goe in to one * maide, to dishonour my holy name.

8 And they * lye vppon clothes layde to pledge by euery aulter: and in the house of their god they drynke the wyne of * the condemned.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose heigth was lyke the heigth of the Cedar trees, & he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneathe.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeres through the wyldernesse, to possesse the lande of the Amorites.

11 And I rayled vp of your sonnes for prophetes, and of your young men for * Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, sayth the Lorde?

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wyne to drynke, and commanded the prophetes, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Beholde, I am pressed vnder you, as a cart is pressed that is ful of sheaues.

14 Therefore the * flyght shal not perishe from the swyfte, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neyther shal the mightie saue his lyfe.

15 Nor he that handleth the bow, shal stand, nor he that is swifte of foote shal escape, neither shal he that rydeth the horse saue his lyfe.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, sayth the Lorde.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewyng Gods most iust punishment for the same. 9. Strangers are called to see the equitie of gods iudgmentes against Israel.

1 HEare the woorde that the Lorde pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against the whole familie which I brought vp from the lande of Egypt, saying, 11 Therfore thus sayth the Lord God, An aduersarie (shal come) euen rounde about the countrey, and shal bryng downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus sayth the Lord, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lion two legges or a peece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus (as in) a couche.

18 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, sayth the Lorde God, the God of hostes:

15 And I wyl smyte the wynter house with the sommer house, and the houses of yuorie shal perishe, and the great houses shalbe consumed, sayth the Lorde.

1 HEare this worde, ye kyne of Basan, that are in the mountayne of Samaria, whiche oppresse the poore, and destroy the needie, whiche say to their (a) maisters, Bryng, and let vs drynke.

(a) That is, to the creditours, to whō the pore are indebted.

2 The Lorde God hath sworne by his holynesse, that loe, the dayes shal come vpon you, that he wyll take you away with (b) thornes, and your posteritie with fleshehookes.

(b) He alludeth to fyshers, which catche fyshe by hookes and thornes.

3 And ye shal goe out at the breaches, euery (Cowe) straight forward, and ye shal • cast your selues out of the palace, sayth the Lorde.

• or, caste downe the palace.

4 Come to Bethel, & transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiple transgression: and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your tythes after three yeeres.

5 And offer a thankesgiuing of leauen, publishe and proclayme the free offerynges: for this lyketh you, O ye chyldren of Israel, sayth the Lorde God.

• or, commit wyckednesse.

(b) That is, lacke bread and meate.

6 Therefore haue I geuen you (c) cleannesse of teethe in al your cities, and scarsenesse of bread in al your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

7 And also I haue withholden the rayne from you when there were yet three monethes to the haruest, & I caused it to rayne vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to rayne vpon another citie: one peece was rayned vpon, and the peece whereupon it rayned not, wytthered.

8 So two (or) three cities wandered vnto one citie to drynke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

9 I haue smytten you with blastyng and mylderaw, your great gardens, and your vineyardes, and your figge trees, and your olyue trees, did the • palmer woorme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

• or, caterpyller.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you after the maner of Egypt: your young men haue I slayne with the swoorde, and haue taken away your horses, and I haue made the stynke of your tentes to come euen vp to your nosethyrlles: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

11 I haue ouerthrowen • you, as God ouerthrewe Sodoma and Gomorrha: and ye were as a fyrebrande pluckt out of the burnyng: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

• or, among you, meaning some part of their countrey to haue ben ouerthrowen.

12 Therefore thus wyl I doo vnto thee, O Israel, (and) because I wyl doo this vnto thee, (d) prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

(d) Turne to hym by repentance.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountaines, and createth the wynd, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, whiche maketh the • morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes is his name.

• or, morning and darkenesse.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The Prophete lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4. He calleth to repentance. 8. He describeth the power of God.

1 HEare ye this woorde whiche I lyft vp vpon you (euen) a lamentation • of the house of Israel.

• or, O ye house.

2 The virgin in Israel is fallen, and shal no more ryse, she is left vpon her land, and there is none to rayse her vp.

3 For thus sayth the Lorde God, The citie whiche went out by a thousande, shal leaue an hundred, and that whiche went forth by an hundred, shal leaue tenne to the house of Israel.

4 For thus sayth the Lorde vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shal lyue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-seba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Bethel shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lorde, and ye shal lyue: lest he breake out lyke fyre in the house of Ioseph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to woormwood, and forsake ryghteousnesse in the earth.

8 He maketh the seuen starres and Orion, and he turneth the (a) shadowe of death into the mornyng, and he maketh the day darke as nyght: he calleth the waters of the sea, & powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

(a) That is, the thicke darkenesse to the morning light.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer agaynst the myghtie, and the destroyer shal • come agaynst the fortresse.

• or, shal gate, and they abhorre hym that speaketh vprightly.

11 Forasmuche then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye (c) take from him burdens of wheate: ye haue built houses of hewen stone, but ye shal not dwel in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shal not drinke wine of them.

12 For I knowe your * manyfolde transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, & they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the wise shal keepe scilence in that time: for it is an euil time.

14 Seeke good, and not euil, that ye may liue: and so the Lorde God of hostes shalbe with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euil, and loue the good, and stablishe iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hostes wil be mercyful vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore the Lorde God of hostes, the Lorde sayth thus, Mourning shalbe in all streetes, and they shall say in al the hygh wayes, Alas, alas: and they shal call the husbandman to lamentation, and suche as can mourne * to mourning.

17 And in al the vines shalbe lamentation: for I wyl passe through ther, saith the lord.

18 Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lorde, what haue ye to do with it? the day of the Lorde is darkenesse, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lion, and a Beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hande vnto the wal, and a serpent byte him:

20 Shal not the day of the Lord be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse and no * light in it.

21 I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not (d) smell in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me whole burnt offerings, and meate offerings, I wyll not accept them, neyther will I regarde the peace offering of your fat beastes.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songues, for I will not heare the melodie of thy vials.

24 And * let iudgement runne downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie ryuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?

26 But ye haue borne (e) Sicuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your goddes, whiche ye made to your selues.

27 Therfore wil I cause you to go into captiuitie beyonde Damascus, sayth the Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The .vi. Chapter.

1. He propheciseth against the princes of Israel liuing in pleasures.

1 WOe to them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountayne of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence goe you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be (a) they better then these kyngdomes? or the border of theyr lande greater then your border?

3 Ye that put farre away the euil day, and * approche to the seate of iniquitie.

4 They lye vpon beds of yuorie, and stretch themselues vpon theyr couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They syng to the sounde of the viall, and inuent to them selues instrumentes of musicke, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, & annoynt themselues with cheefe ointments: but no man is sory for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therfore now shal they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and * the sorowe of them that stretched themselues is at hande.

8 The Lord God hath sworne by him selfe, sayth the Lorde God of hostes, I abhorre the * excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces, therefore wyl I deliuer vp the citie, with al that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shal dye.

10 And his vncle shal take him vp, and burne him, to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall say to hym that is by the (b) sydes of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shal say, None. Then shall he say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lorde.

11 For beholde the Lorde commaundeth, and he wil smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.

12 Shal horses runne vpon the (c) rocke? or wyl one plowe there with oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into * gal, and the fruit of righteousnesse into wormewood.

13 Ye reioyce in a thyng of nought, ye say, Haue not we gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But beholde, I wil raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, sayth the Lord

(c) If God haue destroied these excellent cities in three diuers kyngdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, & of the Philistines, & hath brought theyr wyde borders into a greater straightnesse then yours yet are: thynke you to be better, or to escape?

* or, bryng vpon you.

* or, the ioy of them that stretched the selues, shall depart.

* or, magnificencie, that is the ryches and pompe.

(b) That is, some neighbour that dwelleth neare about.

(c) He compareth them to barren rocks, wherupon it is in vayne to bestow labour, shewing that Gods benefities can haue no place among them.

TI God

God of hoſtes, & they ſhall afflict you from the entring of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

The. vii. Chapter.

I. God ſheweth certayne viſions whereby he ſignifieth the deſtruction of the people of Israel.

A 1 THus hath the Lorde God ſhewed vnto me, and beholde, he fourmed graſhoppers in the beginning of the ſhootyng vp of the latter growth, & loe it was in the latter growth, after the (a) kings mowing.

(a) After the publique commaundement for mowing was geuen, or as ſome reade, after the kings ſheepe were ſhorne.

2 And when they haue made an ende of eating the graſſe of the lande, then I ſayd, O Lorde God, ſpare I beſeeche thee: Who ſhal rayſe vp Jacob? for he is ſmal.

3 So the Lord (b) repented for this: it ſhal not be, ſayth the Lorde.

(b) That is, ſtayed this plague at my prayer.

4 Thus alſo hath the Lord God ſhewed vnto me, and beholde the Lord God called to iudgement by fyre, and it deuoured the great deepe, and did eate vp * a part.

* Or, the poſſeſſion, meaning the whole ſeede.

5 Then ſayde I, O Lorde God, ceaſſe I beſeech thee: Who ſhall raiſe vp Jacob? for he is ſmal.

6 So the Lorde repented for this: this alſo ſhal not be, ſaith the Lorde God.

B 7 Thus againe he ſhewed me, & behold the Lord ſtoode vpon a wal (made) by lyne (c) with a line in his hande.

(c) Signifiing that this ſhoulde be the laſt meaſuring of the people, and that he would defer his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lord ſayd vnto me, Amos what ſeeſt thou? And I ſayde, A lyne. Then ſayde the Lord, Beholde, I wyl ſet a line in the middeſt of my people Israel, and wil paſſe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isahac ſhalbe deſolate, and the * temples of Israel ſhalbe deſtroyed, and I wyl riſe againſt the houſe of Jeroboam with the ſwoorde.

* Or, ſanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the prieſt of Bethel ſent to Jeroboam king of Israel, ſaying, Amos hath conſpired againſt thee in the myddeſt of the houſe of Israel: the lande is not able to beare al his woordes.

11 For thus Amos ſaith, Jeroboam ſhal dye by the ſwoorde, and Israel ſhalbe led away captiue out of theyr owne lande.

12 Alſo Amazia ſayde to Amos, O thou the ſear, goe, flee thou away into the lande of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and propheſie there.

13 But propheſie no more at Bethel: for it is the kinges chappel, and it is the kynges court.

C 14 Then anſweared Amos, and ſayde vnto Amazia, I was no prophete, neyther was I a prophetes ſonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wylde fygges.

15 And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lorde ſayde vnto me, Goe, propheſie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therfore heare thou the woord of the Lorde: Thou ſayeſt, Propheſie not againſt Israel, & ſpeake nothing againſt the houſe of Isahac.

17 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde, Thy wyfe ſhalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy ſonnes and thy daughters ſhall fall by the ſwoorde, and thy lande ſhalbe diuided by line, and thou ſhalt die in a polluted lande, and Israel ſhall ſurely goe into captiuitie foorth of his lande.

The. viii. Chapter.

By a viſion of a baſket of Sommer fruite, the ende of the kyngdome of Israel is ſhewed.

1 THus hath the Lorde God ſhewed vnto me: and beholde, a baſket of ſommer fruite. A

2 And he ſaid, Amos what ſeeſt thou? And I ſayd, A baſket of ſommer (a) fruit. Then ſayd the Lorde vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I wyl paſſe by them no more.

(a) Which ſignifieth the ripeneſſe of their ſinnes, and the readineſſe of gods indgement.

3 And the ſongues of the temple ſhalbe howlynges in that day, ſayth the Lorde God: many dead bodyes ſhalbe in euery place, they ſhal caſt them forth with ſilence.

4 Heare this, O ye that ſwalowe vp the poore, that ye may make the needie of the lande to fayle,

5 Saying, When wyl the newe moneth be gone, that we may ſell corne? and the Sabboth, that we may ſet foorth wheate, and make the (b) Ephah ſmal, & the ſicle great, and falſifie the weightes by deceipt?

(b) That is the meaſure ſmal, and the price great.

6 That we may buy the poore for ſiluer, and the needy for ſhoes, yea, and ſel the refuſe of the wheate?

7 The Lord hath ſwoorne by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I wyl neuer forgeat any of theyr woorkes. B

8 Shal not the lande tremble for this, and euery one mourne that dwelleth therein? And it ſhall riſe vp wholly as a floodde, and it ſhalbe caſt out, and (c) drowned, as by the floodde of Egypt.

(c) That the inhabitantes of the lande ſhall be drowned, Nilus ouerneth manye whe it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, ſayth the Lorde God, I wil cauſe the (d) ſunne to goe downe at noone, & I wyll darken the earth in the cleare day.

(d) In the myddeſt of their proſperite, I wyl ſende great affliction.

10 And I wil turne your feaſtes into mourning, and al your ſongues into lamentation: and I will bynd ſackcloth vpon all loynes, and baldneſſe vpon euery head, and I wyll make it as the mourning of an only only sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde the dayes comme, sayth the Lord GOD, that I wyll sende a famine in the lande, not a famine of breade, nor thirste for water, but of hearing the woorde of the Lorde.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north euen vnto the east shall they runne to and fro to seeke the woorde of the Lorde, and shal not fynde it.

13 In that day shal the fayre virgins, and the young men perishe for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the (c) sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the (f) manner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shal fal, and neuer ryse vp agayne.

(b) For the idolaters did vse to sweare by their idols, whiche here he calleth their sinne.
(f) That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the iourney or resorting there vnto.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. Threatnynges agaynst the temple. 5. The subuertion of the people.

1 I Sawe the Lorde standing vpon the (a) aulter, and he sayde, Smite the tintel of the doore, that the postes may shake, and * cut them in peeces, euen the (b) heades of them al, and I wyl slay the last of them with the swoorde: he that fleeth of them, shal not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shal not be deliuered.

2 Though they digge into hel, thence shall my hande take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence wil I bryng them downe.

3 And though they hyde them selues in the toppe of Charmel, I wyl searche, and take them out thence: and though they be hyd from my syght in the bottome of the sea, thence wyl I commaunde the (c) serpent, and he shal byte them.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enimies, thence wyl I cõmaund the swoorde, and it shal slay them: and I wyl set myne eyes vpon them for euyl, and not for good.

5 And the Lorde God of hoastes shal touche the lande, and it shall melt away: and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shal ryse vp whole lyke a flood, & shalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

(a) Both the deede of them and al the company of the people.
(b) That is, the Whale whome God ordeined for huge bignes of the fish.
(c) That is, the inhabitantes of the lande shal be drowned, Nilus drowneth many whe it ouerfloweth, (d) In the mydddes of their prosperitie, I wyl sende great affliction.

6 He buildeth his * spheres in the heauen, and hath layde the fundation of his globe of elementes on the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

* or, ascentes, or degrees.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians (d) vnto me, O children of Israel, sayth the Lorde? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the lande of Egypt? and the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

(b) That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or black Moores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefytes.

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the sinful kingdome, and I wyl destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheles, I wyl not vtterly destroy the house of Iacob, sayth the Lorde.

9 For loe, I wyl commaunde, and I wyll sift the house of Israel among al nations, lyke as corne is sifted in a syue: yet shal not the (e) least stone fal vpon the earth.

(e) Meaning that none of his should perishe in his wrath.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall dye by the swoorde, whiche say, The cuyl shal not comme, nor haften for vs.

11 In that day wyl I rayse vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and I wyl rayse vp his ruines, and I wyll buylde it, as in the dayes of olde.

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of al the heathen, * because my name is called vppon them, sayth the Lorde, that dooth this.

* or, vpon whom my name is called.

13 Beholde, the dayes comme, sayth the Lorde, that the plowman shall (f) touche the mower, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seede, and the mountaynes shal droppe sweete wine, and al the hilles shall melt.

(f) Signifying that there shalbe great plentie of al thinges, so that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another shoulde follow, and euery one in course. Leuit. 26.

14 And I wyl bring agayne the captiuitie of my people of Israel, and they shal buyld the wast cities, and inhabite them: and they shal plant vineyardes, and drynke the wine thereof, they shal also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I wyl plant them vppon their lande, and they shall no more be pulled vp agayne out of their lande whiche I haue geuen them, sayth the Lorde thy God.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee ſmal among the heathen, thou art vtterly deſpiſed.

3 The pryde of thyne hart hath deceyued thee, thou that dwelleſt in the cleftes of the rockes, whoſe habitation (is) hygh, that ſayth in his hart, Who ſhall bryng me downe to the grounde?

4 Yea though thou exalt thee ſelfe as the Eagle, & make thy neſt among the ſtarres, thence wyl I bryng thee downe, ſayth the Lorde.

5 Came therues to thee, or robbers by night? howe waſt thou brought to ſylence? wouldе they not haue ſtollen tyl they had ynough? If the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leaue (ſome) grapes?

6 Howe are the thinges of Eſau ſought vp, (and) his treaſures ſearched?

B 7 Al the men of thy confederacie haue dryuen thee to the borders, the men that were at peace with thee haue deceyued thee, and preuayled agaynſt thee, (they that eate) thy bread haue laid a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderſtanding in him.

8 Shal not I in that day, ſayde the Lorde, euen deſtroy the wyſe men out of Edom, & vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau?

9 And thy ſtrong men, O Theman, ſhalbe afrayde: becauſe euery one of the mount of Eſau ſhalbe cut of by ſlaughter.

10 For thy crueltie agaynſt thy brother Iacob, ſhame ſhall couer thee, and thou ſhalt be cut of for euer.

11 When thou ſtoodeſt on the other ſyde, in the day that the ſtrangers caryed away his ſubſtance, and ſtrangers entred into his gates, and caſt lottes vppon Hieruſalem, euen thou waſt as one of them.

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the day of thy brother in the day that he was made a ſtranger, neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the chyldren of Iuda in the day of their deſtruction, thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction:

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their deſtruction, nor haue layde handes on their ſubſtance in the day of their deſtruction:

14 Neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue ſtand in the C croſſe wayes to cut of them that ſhould eſcape, neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue ſhut vp the remnaunt thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lorde is neere vpon all the heathen: as thou haſt donne, it ſhalbe donne to thee, thy rewarde ſhall returne vpon thyne head.

16 For as ye haue (a) dronke vpon myne holy mountayne, ſo ſhall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they ſhall drinke and ſwalowe vp, and they ſhalbe as though they (b) had not ben.

(a) that is, reioyced and triumphed.

(b) that is, at the length they ſhal vtterly periſhe.

17 But vpon mount Sion ſhalbe deliuerance, and it ſhalbe holy, and the houſe of Iacob ſhal poſſeſſe their poſſeſſions.

18 And the houſe of Iacob ſhalbe a fyre, and the houſe of Ioſeph a flame, and the houſe of Eſau as ſtubble, and they ſhal kindle in them and deuoure them, and there ſhalbe no remnaunt of the houſe of Eſau: for the Lorde hath ſpoken it.

19 And they ſhal poſſeſſe the ſouth ſyde of the mount of Eſau, and the playne of the Philiſtines, and they ſhal poſſeſſe the feeldes of Ephraim, and the feeldes of Samaria, and Beniamin (ſhal haue) Gilead.

20 And the captiuitie of his hoaſt of the chyldren of Iſrael, whiche were among the Chananites (ſhal poſſeſſe) vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Hieruſalem whiche is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſſe the cities of the ſouth.

(c) Meaning that god wyl rayſe vp in his Church ſuche as ſhal rule and gouerne for the defence of the ſame, and deſtruction of his enimies vnder Meſſias.

21 And they that ſhal (c) ſaue, ſhal comme vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Eſau, and the kingdom ſhalbe the lordes.

¶ The booke of the prophete Ionas.

Th first Chapter.

3. Ionas fled when he was sent to preache. 4. A tempest aryseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 THe worde of the lord came vnto (a) Ionas the sonne of Amittai, sayeng,

2 Aryse, and goe to (b) Minive ỹ great citie, and crye against it: for their wickednesse is come vp before me.

3 And Ionas rose vp to flee into Tharsis from the presence of the Lorde, and went downe to (c) Joppa, and founde a ship going to (d) Tharsis: so he paied his fare, and went downe into it, that he might go with them vnto Tharsis from the (e) presence of the Lorde.

4 But the Lord sent out a great winde into the sea, and there was a mightie tempest in the sea, so that the ship was in danger of splitting in sunder.

5 Then the maryners were afrayd, & cryed euery man vnto his God, & cast the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Ionas was gone downe into the sydes of the ship, and he lay downe & slepte.

6 And the shipmaister came vnto him, and said, What meanest thou sleeper? Up, and cal vpon thy God, yf so be that God wyl thynke vnto vs, that we perishe not.

7 And they said euery one vnto his felowe, Come, let vs cast lots: that we may knowe for whose cause this euil is on vs. And they cast lottes: and the lot fel on Ionas.

8 Then sayde they vnto him, Tel vs, for whose cause is this euill come vpon vs? what is thyne occupation? whence camest thou? what countreyman art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drye lande.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraide, and sayde vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe that he fledde from the presence of the Lorde, because he had tolde them.)

11 And they sayde vnto hym, What shal we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? for the sea wrought and was troublous.

12 And he sayde vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea, & the sea shalbe calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheles, the men assayed with rowyng to bring the shyp to lande, but they coulde not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherfore they cried vnto the Lord, and sayde, We beseeche thee, O Lorde, we beseeche thee, let vs not perishe for this mans lyfe, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lorde, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they toke vp Ionas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lord exceedyngly, and offred a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made (f) vowes.

17 And the Lorde prepared a great fishe to swalowe vp Ionas: and Ionas was in the belly of the fishe three dayes & three nights.

The .ii. Chapter.

1. Ionas is in the fishes belly. 13. His praier. 10. He is deliuered.

1 AND Ionas prayed vnto the Lord his God out of the (a) fishes belly,

2 And sayde, In affliction I cryed vnto the Lord, and he hearde me: out of the belly of hel cryed I, and thou hearedest my voyce.

3 Thou haddest cast me downe into ỹ deepe, into the middest of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy billowes and wawes passed ouer me.

4 And I sayde, I am cast away out of thy sight, yet wil I loke agayne towarde thyne holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the deapth closed me on euery syde, & the weedes were wapt about my head.

6 I went downe to ỹ bottome of the mountaynes, the earth with her barres was about me for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my

(d) It is the same of a place likely to be Cilicia, for there was a great citie of that name, whose also Paul was borne.

(e) As the Lawes which enable to the Lord are said to stande before him: so they which forsake his commaundements are said to be before his presence, that is, to be forsaken.

(f) To serue the Lorde, to cal vpō hym, as Dauid often times in the Psalmes maketh mention, none other vowes.

(a) He afterward calleth it hel, & the worde is taken often for the graue: being come to him selfe, he in great affliction called vpon the Lorde.

my life from corruption, O Lord my God.
7 When my ſoule fainted within me, I remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.
8 They that holde vpon (b) lying vanitie, forſake his mercy.
9 But I wyl ſacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thankeſgeuing, and wyll pay that that I haue vowed: for ſaluation is of the Lorde.
10 And the Lorde ſpake vnto the fyſhe, and it caſt out Jonas vpon the (c) drye lande.

The. iii. Chapter.

2. Jonas is ſent agayne to Niniue. 5. The repentance of the kyng of Niniue.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jonas the ſeconde time, ſaying,
2 Ariſe and go to Niniue that great citie, and preache agaynſt it the preachyng whiche I ſpeake vnto thee.
3 So Jonas aroſe and went to Niniue, according to the worde of the Lorde: (Niniue was a great citie and (a) excellent, of three dayes iourney.)
4 And Jonas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and ſayde, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue ſhalbe deſtroyed.
5 And the men of Niniue beleeued GOD, and proclaymed a faſt, and put on ſackcloth from the greateſt of them to the leaſt of them.
6 And worde came vnto the kyng of Niniue: whiche aroſe from his throne, and put of his robe, & couered him ſelfe with ſackcloth, and ſate downe in aſhes.
7 And he cauſed a cryer to crye, and ſay thorow the citie by the counſel of the king and his nobles, Let neither man nor beaſt, bullocke, nor sheepe taſte ought at al, neyther feede, nor drinke water.
8 And let both man and beaſt put on ſackcloth, and crye mightily vnto GOD: yea let euery man turne from his euyll way, and from the wyckednesſe that is in his handes.
9 Who can tel whether God wyl turne and be moued with (b) repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we periſhe not?
10 And god ſaw their workes that they turned from their euill wayes, and he repented of the (c) euill that he ſayd he would do vnto them, and dyd it not.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The great goodneſſe of God towarde his creatures.

1 AND this diſpleaſed Jonas greatly, and he was (a) angry (within him ſelfe.)
2 And he prayed vnto the Lorde, and ſayde, I pray thee, O Lorde, was not this my ſaying when I was yet in my countreyche? for I - haſted to flee vnto Tharſis: For I knewe that thou art a gracious GOD, and mercyful, long ſuffering, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteſt thee of euyl.
3 And nowe O Lorde, take I beſeeche thee my life from me: for it is better for me to dye then to liue.
4 Then ſayde the Lord, Doeſt thou wel to be angry?
5 And Jonas went out of the citie, and ſate hym downe on the eaſt ſyde thereof, and there made him a boothe, and ſate vnder it in the ſhadow, til he might ſee what ſhould be done in the citie.
6 And the Lorde God prepared a gourde, and made it ſpring vp ouer Jonas, that it might be a ſhadowe ouer his head, to deliuer him from his greefe: So Jonas was exceeding glad of the gourde.
7 But GOD prepared a wourme when the morning roſe the next day, whiche ſmote the gourde, that it withered.
8 And when the ſunne roſe, God prepared a feruent eaſt winde, and the ſunne beat vpon the head of Jonas that he fainted, and wyſhed vnto his ſoule that he might dye, and ſayde, It is better for me to dye, then to liue.
9 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Jonas, Doeſt thou wel to be ſo angry within thee ſelfe for the gourde? And he ſayde, I do wel to be angry euen vnto death.
10 Then ſayde the Lorde, Thou haſt had compaſſion on the gourde about the which thou beſtowedſt no labour, neyther madeſt it growe, whiche came vp in a night, and periſhed in a night:
11 And ſhalnot I ſpare Niniue that great citie, in the whiche are more then ſixe ſcore thouſande perſons that knowe not theyr ryght hande and theyr left, and alſo mucht cattayle?

The ende of the prophecie of Ionas.

The booke of the prophete Micheas.

The fyrst Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria because of their idolatrie.

A 1 THE woorde of the Lorde came vnto Micheas ỳ Morasthite, in the dayes of Iotham, Ahas, and Ezekias, kinges of Iuda, whiche he sawe concernyng Samaria and Hierusalem.

1 king. 15. a 2. Chr. 27. a 1 king. 16. a 2 king. 18. a.

2 Heare al ye people, marke this well, O earth, and al that therein is, yea let the Lorde God him selfe be witnesse agaynst you, (euen) the Lorde from his holy temple.

3 For beholde, the Lorde shal comme out of his holy place, and comme downe & treade vpon the high thinges of the earth.

4 The mountaynes shal melt vnder him, and the valleyes shal cleaue a sunder, lyke as waxe (melteth) before the fyre, and as the waters runne downewarde.

5 And al this shalbe for the wickednesse of Iacob, and the sinnes of the house of Isel: but what is the wickednesse of Iacob? is not (a) Samaria? whiche are the high places of Iuda? is not Hierusalem?

(a) Samaria and Hierusalem were the cheefe cities of the two kingdomes: idolatrie vsed in them, shewing a generall corruption throughout.

6 Therefore I wyl make Samaria an heape of the feelde (meete) for the planting of a vineyarde: her stones wyll I tumble downe into the valley, and discouer her foundations.

7 Al her images shalbe broken downe, and al her (b) garmentes shalbe burnt in the fyre, yea al her idols wyl I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hyre of an harlot, and into an harlots hyre shal they be turned agayne.

(b) Iust gotten, euil gear.

8 Therefore I wyll mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked wyl I goe: I wyl mourne lyke the dragons, and take sorowe as the Estriches.

9 For their wounde is past remedie, it is comme into Iuda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem alreadye.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neyther weepe ye: for the house of Aphra roule thee selfe in the dust.

(c) Names of cities that shalbe hurt annoyed by the enimies.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir, goe thee hence naked with shame: he that dwelleth at (c) Zaanan, shal not comme forth in the mournyng of Bethezel: (the enimie) shal receyue of you for his (d) standing.

(d) The long continuance of an armie in one place is hurtful.

12 For the inhabitantes of Maroth wayted for good, but the plague shal comme from the Lorde, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.

13 O thou (e) inhabitaunt of Lachis, binde the charet to the (swyftest (f)) beast, she is ỳ beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

(e) It appeareth that this citie was one of the fyrst which receyued the worshipping of the golden calues, set vp by Ieroboam

(f) Make haste to flee away.

14 Therefore shalt thou bring presentes to (g) Morasthath Gath: the houses of Achzib (shalbe) as a lye to the kinges of Israel.

(g) A citie so named.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Mareza, I wyl bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shal comme to Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee bauldy, (h) and shaue thee because of thy tender children: make thee cleane bauldy as an Eagle, for they shalbe caryed away captiue from thee.

(h) Shauing and plucking of heare, was vsed in time of mourning

The.ii. Chapter.

Threatninges agaynst the sinfull people.

6. They wouldе teache the prophetes to preache.

1 WO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beddes: when the morning is lyght they practise it, because their hande hath power. A

2 And they couet feeldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, (euen) man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, agaynst this housholde haue I deuised a plague, wherefore ye shal not plucke your neckes: ye shal no more goe so proudly, for it wyl be a perilous tyme.

4 In that day shal this parable be vsed, and a mournyng shalbe made ouer you on this maner: We be vtterly "desolate, the portion of my people is changed: how wyll he part vnto vs? the lande that he hath taken from vs.

"or, waster.

5 Therefore there shalbe no man to diuide thee thy portion in ỳ congregation of the

"or, howe that he take our lande to restore it vnto me, (seeing the enimie) hath diuided it

6 Ye ſhal not (a) propheſie (ſay they) to them that propheſie: (b) they ſhal not propheſie to them, neyther ſhal they take ſhame.

7 O thou that art named the houſe of Jacob, is the ſpirite of the Lorde ſhortened? are theſe his woorkes? are not my woordes good vnto him that walketh vpzightly?

8 But he that was yeſterday my people, is ryſen vp on the other ſyde (as) againſt an enimie: they ſpoyle the beautiful garment from them that paſſe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye chut out from their pleaſant houſes, & taken away "myne excellent gifts from their children.

10 Up, geat you hence, for here ſhall ye haue no reſt: becauſe (the lande) is defyled, it ſhall deſtroy (you) with biter deſtruction.

11 If a man (c) walke in the ſpirite, & would lye falſly (ſayeing,) I will propheſie to thee of (d) wine and ſtrong drinke: that were a prophete for this people.

12 I will ſurely geather (e) thee wholy, O Jacob, I wyl ſurely geather ye remnant of Iſrael, I wyl put them togeather as the ſheepe of (f) Bozra, as the flocke in ye middeſt of their folde, they ſhall make great noyſe by reaſon of the (multitude) of men.

13 The breaker ſhal comme vp before them, they ſhall breake out, and paſſe by the gate, and goe out by it: and their king (g) ſhall goe before them, and the Lorde ſhalbe vpon (h) their heades.

(a) The people toke vpon them to forbid the prophetes to preache and rebuke ſinne

(b) GOD threatneth he wyl ſende no mo prophetes to preache vnto them, which is the greateſt plague that can comme to a nation.

" or, my glory.

(c) Taking vpon them the office of a prophete, and pretendyng that he is directed by the ſpirite of God.

(d) Flattring them, by promiſing plentie, and not reproouing their ſinnes.

(e) To make an vniuerſall deſtruction.

(f) Where was great plentie of ſheepe, by reaſon of the good paſtures.

(g) As a priſoner, or captiue.

(h) To ſtirre his wrathfull indignation againſt the Iraelites, for their obſtinate wickedneſſe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Againſt the tyranny of princes and falſe propheres.

1 AND I ſayde, Heare, I pray you, O heades of Jacob, and ye princes of the houſe of Iſrael, ſhoulde not ye knowe iudgement?

2 (But) they hate the good, and loue the euyll, they plucke of their ſkinnes from them, and their fleſhe from their bones.

3 And they eate alſo the fleſhe of my people, and flay of their ſkinne from them: and they breake their bones, and chop them in peeces as for the pot, and as fleſhe within the cauldzon.

4 Then ſhal they crie vnto the Lorde, but he wyl not heare them: he wyl turn hyde his face from them at that tyme, becauſe they haue donne wickedly in their woorkes.

5 Thus ſayth the Lorde concernyng the prophetes that deceyue my people, (a) and byte them with their teeth, and crie peace: but yf a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre againſt him.

(a) Falſe prophetes deuoured the ſubſtance of their followers, & make gayne of religion.

6 Therefore (b) night (ſhalbe) vnto you for a viſion, and darkeneſſe (ſhalbe) vnto you for a diuination: and the ſunne ſhal goe downe ouer the prophetes, and the day ſhalbe darke ouer them.

7 Then ſhal the ſears be aſhamed, and the ſoothſayers confounded: yea (c) they ſhal al couer their lippes, for they haue no anſweare of God.

8 Yet notwithſtanding, I am full of power by the ſpirite of the Lorde, and of iudgement, and of ſtrength, to declare vnto Jacob his tranſgreſſion, and to Iſrael his ſinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heades of the houſe of Jacob, and princes of the houſe of Iſrael: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert al equitie.

10 (d) They buylde vp Sion with blood, and Hieruſalem with iniquitie.

11 (The heades thereof iudge for rewardes, and the prieſtes thereof teache for hyre, and the prophetes thereof propheſie for money: yet wyl they leane vpon the Lorde, and ſay, Is not the Lorde among vs? no euyll can comme vpon vs.)

12 Therefore ſhall Sion for your ſake be plowed (as) a feelde, and Hieruſalem ſhal be an heape, & the mountayne of the houſe as the high places of the foreſt.

(b) The knowleige whiche we nowe pretende, ſhalbe knowen to be groſſe ignorance.

(c) They ſhal couer their faces for ſhame.

(d) They fortifie and garniſhe their citie with goodes wrongfully gotten, whiche here are called blood and iniquite

The.iiii. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles and conuerſion of the Iewes.

1 BVT in the (a) latter dayes it wyll come to paſſe, that the hil of the Lordes houſe ſhalbe prepared in the toppe of the mountaynes, and ſhalbe ſet vp hyther then any mountaynes or hilles, and people ſhall preaſſe vnto it.

2 Yea the multitude of the Gentiles ſhall haſt them thither, ſayeing, Comme, let vs goe vp to the hyl of the Lorde, and to the houſe of the GOD of Jacob, and he ſhal teache vs his wayes, and we wyll walke in his pathes: for the lawe ſhal comme out of Sion, and the woorde of God from Hieruſalem.

3 And he ſhall iudge many people, & rebuke mighty nations of farre countreys: ſo that of their ſwoordes they ſhal make ploughſhares, and ſythes of their ſpeares: one people ſhall not lyft vp a ſwoorde againſt another, yea they ſhal no moze learne to fyght.

4 But euery man ſhall ſyt vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his fygge tree, and no man ſhal make them afrayde: for ye mouth of the Lorde of hoaſtes hath ſpoken it.

5 Therefore all people wyll walke euery man man in the name of his God: and we wyll walke in the name of our Lorde God for euer and euer.

6 At the same time, saith the Lorde, wyl I gather vp the lame and the outcaste, and suche as I haue chastened.

B 7 And wyl geue a remnant vnto the lame, & make of the outcast a mighty people: and the Lorde him selfe shalbe their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time forth for euermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of ỹ flocke, thou strong hold of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shal it come, euen the lordshyp and kingdome to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou crye and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counsailours perished, that thou art so pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And nowe, O thou daughter Sion, sorowe and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for nowe must thou goe out of the citie, and dwel vppon the plaine fielde: yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou goe, (but) there shalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lorde shal redeeme thee from the hande of thine enimies.

11 Now also are there many people gathered togeather against thee, saying, Sion shalbe condemned, and our eye shal loke vpon Sion.

12 But they know not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderstande not his counsaile: for he shall gather them togeather as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore geat thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, & threshe out the corne: for I wyl make thy horne yron, and thy bones brasse, that thou mayst breake in peeces many people: their goodes shalt thou consecrate vnto the Lorde, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

The.v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Hierusalem.

A 1 NOw * shalt thou be robbed thee self, O thou robbers daughter: they shall laye siege against vs, and smyte the Iudge of Israel with a rodde vppon the cheeke.

* 1. wyne semble thy gardions, O daughter of gardions

2 And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art litle among the thousandes of Iuda, out of thee shal he come forth vnto me whiche shalbe the gouernour in Israel, whose outgoyng hath benne from the begynnyng, and from euerlasting.

3 Therefore wyll he geue them vp for a season, vntyl the tyme that shee whiche shall beare, haue borne: then shal the remnant of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shal stande faste, and geue foode in the strength of the Lorde, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lorde his God: and when they be conuerted, he shalbe magnified vnto the farthest partes of the worlde.

5 And he shalbe our peace: when the Assyrians shal come into our lande, when he shall treade in our palaces, then shal we rayse against him seuen shepheardes, and eyght principal men.

6 These shal subdue the land of Assur with the swoorde, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: thus shal he deliuer vs from the Assyrian when he commeth within our land, and setteth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Iacob shalbe among B the multitude of people as the dewe of the Lord, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarryeth for no man, and wayteth on no body.

8 Yea, the residue of Iacob shalbe among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the lion among the beastes of the wood, and as the lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, whiche when he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in peeces, & there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thine hande shalbe lyft vp vppon thyne enimies, and al thine aduersaries shall perishe.

10 And it shal comme to passe in that daye, saith the Lord, that I wyl take thine horses from thee, and destroye thy charets.

11 I wyll breake downe the cities of thy land, and ouerthrowe al thy strong holdes.

12 Al witchecraftes wil I roote out of thine hande, there shal no mor soothsayeinges be within thee.

13 Thine Idols and thine Images wyll I destroye out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thee selfe vnto the woorkes of thine owne handes.

14 Thy groues wil I plucke vp by the roo- C tes, and breake downe thy cities.

15 And I wyl execute a vengeance in my wrath, and indignation vppon the heathen, suche as they haue not hearde.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel beyng vnkynde. 8. What maner of sacrifices doo please God.

1 HEarken ye now what the Lord saith, A Aryse thou, and contende with the mountaynes, and let the hylles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare

2 Heare, O ye mountaines, the Lordes quarel, and myghtie fundations of the earth: for the Lorde hath a quarel againſt his people, and wyl pleade with Iſrael.

3 O my people, what haue I donne vnto thee? or wherein haue I greeued thee, geue me anſweare.

4 I haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and deliuered thee out of the houſe of bondage, and I made Moſes, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee.

5 Remember, O my people, what Balach the kyng of Moab had deuiſed againſt thee, and what anſweare that Balaam the ſonne of Beor gaue him, from Sethin vnto Galgal, that ye may knowe the righteouſneſſe of the Lorde.

6 Wherewith ſhal I come before the Lorde, and bowe meſelfe to the hizh God? Shal I come before him with burnt offeringes, and with calues of a yeere olde?

7 Hath the Lorde a pleaſure in many thouſandes of Rammes, or innumerable ſtreames of oyle? ſhal I geue my firſt borne for mine offences, and the fruite of my body for the ſinne of my ſoule?

8 He hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: (namely) to doo iuſtly, to loue mercye, and to humble thee ſelfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that ſhalbe ſaued conſydereth thy name: hearken what is your rodde, and heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treaſures of wickednes in the houſe of the wicked, and the ſcant meaſure whiche is abominable?

11 Should I iuſtifie the falſe balances, and the bagge of deceitful wayghtes?

12 For the riche men thereof are full of cruelte, and the inhabitantes therof haue ſpoken lyes, and haue deceitful tonges in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I wyll take in hande to puniſhe thee, and to make thee * deſolate, becauſe of thy ſinnes.

14 Thou ſhalt eate, and not haue ynough: yea, thou ſhalt byde thee ſelfe downe in the myddes of thee, thou * ſhalt flee, but not eſcape, and thoſe that thou wouldeſt ſaue, wyll I deliuer to the ſwoorde.

15 Thou ſhalt ſow, but not reape, thou ſhalt preſſe out Olues, but oyle ſhalt thou not haue, to annoynt thee ſelfe with oyle: thou ſhalt treade out ſweete muſt, but thou ſhalt drinke no wine.

16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, and al the cuſtomes of the houſe of Ahab, ye walke in their counſailes: therefore wyl I make thee waſte, and cauſe thy inhabiters to be hyſſed at, and ye ſhal beare the reproche of my people.

¶ The booke of the Prophet Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the delyuerance of Israel.

A 1 THE burden of (a) Niniue: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

(a) The Niniuites were feared, because they repented at the preaching of Ionas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickednesse, therefore God threatneth them by this prophete.

2 God is ielous, and the Lorde auengeth, the Lord auengeth & hath wrath in store: the Lord taketh vengeance on his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enimies.

3 The Lorde is slowe to anger, and (also) of great power, and in no case wyl acquite (the wicked,) the Lordes dealing is with blustring tempest and whirle winde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the sea and dryeth it vp, al the ryuers also he maketh drye: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spryng also of Libanus is destroyed.

5 The mountaynes quake at his power, and the hylles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the worlde, and al that dwelleth therin.

6 Who can stand before his wrath? or who can ryse vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out lyke fyre, yea the rockes cleane in peeces at his myght.

7 The Lorde is gratious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in hym. ℥

8 But with an ouerrunnyng flood he wyl destroy her place, and wyl pursue his enimies with darknesse.

12 Thus saith the Lorde, Though ye be in concorde, and also many, yet shal ye be cut downe, and passe: and (though) I haue afflicted thee, yet wyl I trouble thee no more.

13 And nowe I wyl breake of his yoke from thee, and I wyl breake thy bondes in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath geuen a commaundement touching thee, that there shalbe no ℭ more 15 Beholde vpon the mountaynes the feate of hym that bryngeth good tydynges, that preacheth peace, keepe thy feſtiual dayes, O Iuda, pay thy vowes: for the wicked ſhal hereafter paſſe no more thyough thee, he is vtterly cut of.

The.ii. Chapter.

He deſcribeth the victories of the Chaldeans agaynſt the Aſſyrians.

1 THE deſtroyer is come vp before thy face, kepe thy Fort, lye to (thy) way, ſtrengthen (thy) loynes, encreaſe (thy) ſtrength mightily:

3 The ſhielde of his valiant ſouldiers (is) dyed red, his captaynes of warre are clad with ſkarlet: the charret (is compaſſed) with flamyng torches in the day of his expedition, and the Fyrre ſtaues are drenched in poyſon.

4 The charrets ſhal rage in the ſtreetes, they ſhal make a terrible noyſe in the brode wayes, to looke to lyke (flamyng) creſſets, ſhootyng as lyghtenyng.

5 He ſhal remember his notable ſouldiers, they ſhal ſtumble in goyng, they ſhal haſten to the wal, the coueryng fence is prepared.

6 The ryuer gates are opened, and the palace diſſolued.

10 Backyng, reſtackyng, raſyng, a diſſolued hart, and colliſion of knees, ſorowe in al loynes alſo, and the faces of them al as blacke as a pot.

11 Where is the abydyng place of Lions, and the feedyng plot of Lions whelpes, whither the young and olde Lion had their reſort? there dwelt the Lion, & there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The Lion made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, and ſtrangled his fyer Lions, and hath fylled his dennes with pray, and his abydyng places with ſpoyle.

13 Beholde me agaynſt thee, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, and I wyl burne in ſmoke her charrets, and the ſwoorde ſhal deuoure thy Lions, I wyl roote out alſo from the earth thy ſpoylyng, and the voyce of thy meſſingers ſhalbe heard no more.

4 Becauſe of the manifolde fornication of the beautiful harlot, ful of charmes, that ſelles nations by the meanes of her whoredome, & the people through her charmings.

5 Loe, I agaynſt thee, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, and wyl turne vp thy ſkyrtes ouer thy face, and wyl ſhewe the Gentiles thy filth, and kyngdomes thy ſhame:

6 And wyl caſt vpon thee abominable filth, and wyl bryng thee downe, and wyl make thee as vile as doung.

7 And it ſhal come to paſſe that al that ſhal B behold thee, ſhal flee from thee, & ſhal ſay, Niniue is deſtroyed, and who is greeued therewith? from whence ſhal I ſeeke out comfoorters for thee?

8 Wylt thou count thee ſelfe better then Alexandria the great, that was ſcituate amonges the riuers, compaſſed round about with water, whoſe fortreſſe was the ſea, (and had) her wal from the ſea?

1 THE (a) burthen which Habacuc the Prophets ſyd ſee.

2 O Lord, how long ſhal I cry and thou wyle not heare? (euen) crye out vnto thee for violence, and thou wyle not helpe?

3 Why cauſeſt thou ſhewe me iniquitie, and cauſe me to beholde ſorowe? for ſpoylyng and violence are before me, and there are that raiſe vp ſtryfe and contencion.

4 Therefore the lawe is "diſſolued, and iudgement dooth neuer goe forth: for the wicked dooth compaſſe about the righte-ous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 Beholde among the heathen, and regard and woonder, and marueyle: for I wyl woorke a woorke in your dayes, ye wyl not beleeue it though it be tolde you.

6 For loe, I rayſe vp the Caldeans, that byter and furious nation, which ſhal "goe vpon the breadth of the lande, to poſſeſſe the dwellyng places that are not theyrs.

7 They are terrible and fearful: (b) theyr iudgment and theyr dignitie ſhal proceede of them ſelues.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canſt not ſee euyll; thou canſt not beholde wickednes: wherefore (then) dooſt thou looke vpon the tranſgreſſours, and holdeſt thy tongue, whe the wicked deuoureth the man that is more righteous then he,

A prayer for the faythful.

1 A Prayer of Habacuc the prophet for (a) the ignoiances.

(c) That is, the tentes, (d) Meanyng charged was not angrye with the waters, but that by this meanes he would destroye his enemies, and deliuer his churche.

4 And (his) bryghtnesse was as the lyght: he had hornes (comming) out of his handes, and there was the hyding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burnyng coales went forth before his feete.

6 He stoode and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerlastyng mountaynes were broken, and the ancient hylles dyd bowe, his wayes are euerlastyng.

7 For iniquitie I sawe the tentes of Chusan, (and) the (c) curtaynes of the lande of Madian dyd tremble.

(e) And so diddeste vse al the elementes as instrumentes for the destruction of thine enimies,

8 Was the Lorde angrye against the (d) ryuers? or was thine anger against the floodes? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou dyddest ryde (e) vpon thy horses? thy charets (brought) saluation.

(f) That is, thy power.

9 Thy (f) bowe was manifestly reuealed, and and the (e) othes of the tribes (were) a sure worde. Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earth with ryuers.

11 The sunne (and) moone stoode styl in (their) habitation, (i) at the light of thyne arrowes they went, (and) at the bryght shynyng of thy speares.

12 Thou trodest downe the land in anger: (and) diddest threshe the heathen in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, (euen) for saluation with thine (k) annoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discouerdst the fundations vnto the (l) necke. Selah.

14 Thou diddest thrust through with his owne staues the heades of his villages, they came out as a whyrlewynde to scatter me: their reioycyng was as to deuoure the poore secretely.

15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thine horses vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled, my lyppes shooke at the voyce, rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in me selfe, that I myght rest in the day of trouble: for when he commeth vp vnto the people, he shal destroy them.

17 For the figge tree shal not florishe, neyther shal fruit be in the vines: the labour of the olyue shal fayle, and the feeldes shal yeelde no meate: the sherpe shalbe cut of from the fold, and there shalbe no bullocke in the stalles.

18 But I wyl reioyce in the Lorde, I wyl ioy in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lorde God is my strength, he wyl make my feete like hindes (feete) & he wyl make me to walke vpon my hygh places. To the cheefe synger on Neginothai, (or vpon the instrumentes of musicke.)

(h) He alludeth to the reedes and bulrushe, which grow pulage to fish people, and likewise figures of their obedience, as it were by lyfting vp of their handes.

(i) According to Gods commaundement the sunne was directed by the weapons of Gods people whiche sought in his cause, as though it durst not goe foreward, whose weapons are here called the arrowes and speares of GOD.

(k) Signifying that there is no saluation but by Christ.

(l) From the top to the necke thou hast destroyed the enimies.

Threatninges agaynst Iuda and Hierusalem, because of their idolatrie.

1 THe C. woorde of the Lorde whiche came vnto Sophoni the sonne of Chusi the sonne of Godaliah, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezekias, in the tyme of Iosia the sonne of Amon kyng of Iuda.

2 I wyl surely destroy al thynges in the lande, sayth the Lorde.

3 I wyl destroy man and beast, I wyl destroy the fowles in the ayre, and the fyshe in the sea, and great ruine shal fal on the wicked, and I wyl vtterly destroy the man out of the lande, sayth the Lorde.

4 I wyl stretche out myne hande vpon Iuda, and vpon al suche as dwel at Hierusalem: thus wyl I roote out the remnant of Baal from this place, and the names of the Remurims and priestes:

5 Yea and suche as vpon their house toppes worshyp and bowe them selues vnto the host of heauen, which sweare by the Lorde, and by their (a) Malchom also.

7 Be styl at the presence of the Lorde God, for the day of the Lord is at hande: yea the Lorde hath prepared a sacrifice, and called his gheastes thereto.

8 And thus shal it happen, In the day of the Lordes sacrifice I wyl visite the princes and the kynges chyldren, and al suche as weare strange clothyng.

9 In the same day also wyl I visite al those that leape ouer the threshold so proudely, whiche fyl their lordes house with robberie and falshood.

5 But the iust Lorde that dwelleth in the middes thereof, euery morning shewing them his lawe clearely, & ceaseth not: but the vngodly wyl not learne to be ashamed.

6 I haue destroyed the nations, their towres are desolate, I haue made theyr streetes waste, that none shal passe by: theyr cities are destroyed without man, and without inhabitant.

7 I sayde vnto them, O feare me, and be content to be reformed, so theyr dwelling shoulde not be destroyed, howsoeuer I visited them: but neuertheless they rose vp early, and corrupted al theyr workes.

8 Therefore wayte ye vpon me, sayth the Lorde, vntil the tyme that I ryse vp to the pray: for I am determined to geather the people, and to bring the kingdomes together, that I may powre out mine anger, yea al my wrathful displeasure vpon them: for al the earth shalbe consumed with the fyre of my iealousie.

9 And then wyl I cleanse the lyppes of the people, that they may euery one call vpon the name of the Lorde, and serue him with one consent.

10 From beyonde the riuers of Ethiopia, the daughter of my dispearsed praying vnto me, shal bring me an offering.

11 In that time shalt thou no more be confounded, because of all the imaginations wherethrough thou haddest offended me: for I wyl take away the proude boasters of thine honour from thee, so that thou shalt no more triumph because of my holy hil. Iere. 1.b

12 In thee also wil I leaue a smal poore simple people, whiche shal trust in the name of the Lorde.

13 The remnant of Israel shal do no wyckednesse, nor speake lyes, neyther shal there any deceitful tongue be founde in theyr mouthes, for they shalbe fedde, and take theyr rest, and no man shal make them afrayde.

14 Reioyce, O daughter Sion, be ioyful, O Israel: reioyce and be glad from thy whole hart, O daughter Hierusalem: C

15 For the Lorde hath taken away thy punishment, & hath cast out thyne enimies: the king of Israel, euen the Lorde him selfe is with thee, so that thou needest no more to feare any misfortune. * or, iudgement. * or, thou shalt see no more euyl.

16 In that time it shalbe sayde to Hierusalem, Feare not: and to Sion, Let not thine handes be slacke: * or, sayne.

17 For the Lorde thy God in the middes of thee is mighty, he wil saue (thee,) he wyl reioyce ouer thee with ioy, he wyll quiet him selfe in his loue, he wyll reioyce ouer thee with gladnesse.

18 After a certaine time will I geather the afflicted that were of thee, and them that bare the reproche for it.

19 And beholde, in that time wil I destroy all those that vexe thee, I wyll helpe the lame, and geather vp the cast away: yea I wil geat them prayse & honour in al landes where they haue ben put to shame.

20 At the same tyme will I bring you agayne, and at the same time wil I geather you: I wyl get you a name and a good report among al people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, sayth the Lorde.

Here endeth the prophesie of Sophonia.

¶ The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The firſt Chapter.

1. The time of the prophecie of Aggeus. 8. An exhortation to builde the temple agayne.

IN the ſecond yeere of king Darius, in the ſixth moneth, the firſt day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the miniſterie of the prophet Aggeus (a) vnto Zorobabel (b) the ſonne of Salathiel a prince of Iuda, and to Iosua the ſonne of Iosedech the high prieſt, ſaying,

(a) Though the people tranſgreſſe: yet the prophet is ſent to the prince and prieſte, whoſe negligence oftentymes is the cauſe of the peoples ſinne

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lorde of hoſtes, ſaying, This people ſaith, (c) The time is not yet come for the lordes houſe to be builded.

(b) Zorobabel was the ſonne of Phadaia, as 1. Chron. iii. & ver. 18. his fathers name is left out, & his grandfathers name ſupplied, becauſe it was not ſo obſcure as was the other.

3 Then came the worde of the Lorde by the miniſterie of the prophete Aggeus, ſaying, 4 Is it tyme for you your ſelues to dwell in ſeeled houſes, and this houſe lye waſte?

5 Nowe thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Conſyder your owne wayes in your hartes.

(c) And yet there were nowe ſeuentiene yeeres paſt ſince Cyrus had graunted the libertie to builde.

6 Ye haue (d) ſowen much, but ye bring little in: ye eate, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye cloth you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

(d) God is the geuer of encreaſe, neither may any thing proſper without his bleſſing.

7 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, Conſyder your owne wayes in your hartes.

8 Get you vp to the mountayne, and fetche wood, and builde this houſe, & I will take pleaſure in it, and I wil be glorified, ſayth the Lorde.

9 Ye loked for much, and lo it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it: and why, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes? becauſe of my houſe that is waſte, and you runne euery man into his owne houſe.

(e) For the greater part taryed in Babylon, and woulde not take the liberte which Cyrus had geuen them, 10 Therfore vpon you the heauen is ſtayed from deawe, and the earth is ſtayed from yeelding her encreaſe.

11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the lande, and vpon the mountaynes, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon al that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men, and vpon cattayle, and vpon al the labour of the handes.

12 Then Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Iosua the ſonne of Iosedech the high prieſt, with al the (e) remnant of the people heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the (f) wordes of the prophete Aggeus, as the Lorde their God had ſent him, then the people dyd feare before the Lorde.

(f) Here is no difference made betweene the worde of the prophete and the worde of God, to ſhew that the prophet muſt ſo ſpeake, & the people ſo feare them as the words of God.

13 Then Aggeus the Lordes meſſenger ſaid in the lordes meſſage vnto the people, ſaying, I am with you, ſayth the Lord.

14 And the Lorde ſtirred vp the ſpirite of Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel a prince of Iuda, and the ſpirite of Iosua the ſonne of Iosedech the high prieſt, and the ſpirite of al the people: and they came and did the worke in the houſe of the Lorde of hoſtes their God.

The. ii. Chapter.

He ſheweth that the glory of the latter temple ſhal exceede the firſt.

IN the (a) twentie and fourth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſecond yeere of king Darius,

(a) They had but three weekes and three dayes to heare the prophete, & to prepare their ſoules for their worke, ſo diligent were they after the preaching of the prophets.

2 In the (b) ſeuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the miniſtery of the prophete Aggeus, ſaying,

(b) They had nowe not wrought a full moneth yet their was ed worke. Therfore had needs to be ſet on a freſh by the prophete, who was therfore now ſent to the againe

3 Say nowe to Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, & to Iosua the ſonne of Iosedech the high prieſt, and to the reſt of the people, ſaying,

4 Who is among you left, which ſawe this houſe in her firſt glory, and howe do ye ſee it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in comparſon of it as nothing?

5 Yet nowe be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, ſayth the Lorde, and be of good comfort O Iosua thou high prieſt ſonne of Iosedech, and be ſtrong al ye people of the land, ſayth the Lorde, and worke: for I am with you, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, 6 According to the (c) worde that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my (d) ſpirite ſhal remaine with you, feare ye not.

7 For

(c) God made many promiſes to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but in as muche as he ſpeake of Chriſte in this place, it may wel be ment, Act. 7. verſ. 27. (d) Before he confyrmed his promiſe made of Chriſte, nowe he promyſeth his ſpirite: therefore there is no cauſe of feare.

7 For thus saith the Lorde of hoastes, (c) Yet a litle whyle, and I wyl shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drye lande:

8 And I wyl moouе all nations, and the desyre of all nations shal come, and I wyl fyll this house with glory, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

9 The siluer is myne, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the fyrst, sayth the lord of hoastes: and in this place wyl I gene peace, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

11 In the twentie & fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the seconde yeere of king Darius, came the woorde of the Lorde vnto the prophete Haggeus, sayeing, 12 Thus sayth the Lorde GOD of hoastes, Aske nowe ye priestes (concerning) the law, sayeing, 13 If one beare holy flesshe in the skirt of his coate, and with his skirt doo touche the bread, potage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shal it be holy? And the priestes answeared and sayde, No.

14 And Haggeus saide, If a polluted person touche any of these, shal he not be polluted? And the priestes answeared and sayde, He shalbe polluted.

15 Then Haggeus answeared, and sayde, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lorde, and so is all the woorke of their handes: and that whiche they offer there is vncleane.

16 And nowe consyder, I pray you, in your myndes, from this day and vpwarde, before there was layde one stone vppon another in the house of the Lorde, 17 Before these thinges (were donne) when one came to a heape of twentie (measures) there were but tenne: so who came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie (vessels of wine) out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting and with mildewe, and with hayle, in all the woorke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

19 Consyder nowe in your myndes from this day, and afore, from the foure & twentieth day of the ninth (moneth) euen from the day that the fundation of the Lordes temple was layd, consyder it in your myndes:

20 Is the seede yet in the barnes, as yet the vines, and the fygge tree, and the pomegranate, & the olyue tree hath not brought foorth? from this day wyl I blesse (you.)

21 And (f) agayne the woorde of the Lord came vnto Hagget in the foure and twentieth (day) of the moneth, sayeing, (f) He is sene twyse in one day to prophesie vnto the people.

22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say, I wyl shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I wyl ouerthrowe the * throne of kyngdomes, and I wil destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I wil ouerthrowe the charettes and the sitters thereon, and the horse and the ryders shal fall downe euery one by the swoorde of his brother. * or, seate.

24 In that day, sayth the Lorde of hoastes, wyl I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Salathiel, sayth the Lorde, & wyl make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lorde of hoastes.

The ende of the prophete Aggeus.

The booke of the prophete Zacharias.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. He moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschewe the wickednesse of their fathers. 36. He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yeere of king Darius, came the woord of the Lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophete, sayeing, Ier.25.b.

2 The Lord hath ben sore displeased with your forefathers.

Iere.31.c. Hab.3.b.

3 And say thou vnto them, thus sayth the Lorde of hoastes, Turne you vnto me, sayth the Lorde of hoastes, and I wyll turne vnto you, sayth the Lorde of hoastes.

4 Be ye not lyke your forefathers, vnto whom Prophetes cryed, sayeing, Thus sayth the Lorde of hoastes, Turne you from your euyll wayes, and from your wicked imaginations: but they wouldе not heare nor regarde me, sayth the Lorde. Ierr.44.a Psal.78.a. Oseе.14.a.

5 What is nowe become of your forefathers? and doo the prophetes liue for euer? Zeb.13.b. Ierr.44.a.

6 But dyd not my woꝛdes & ſtatutes which I commaunded by my ſeruantes the Pꝛophetes take holde of youꝛ foꝛefatheꝛs? and they returned, and ſayde, Like as the Loꝛde of hoaſtes determined to doo vnto vs acꝛoꝛding to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen ſo hath he dealt with vs.

B 7 Upon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth, (whiche is the moneth Sebah) in the ſeconde yeere of Darius, came the woꝛde of the Loꝛde vnto Zacharias the ſonne of Barachias the ſonne of Addo the pꝛophete, ſayeing, Zach.6.a. Apoc.6.a. 8 I ſawe by night, and beholde, there ſate one vpon a red hoꝛſe, and ſtoode ſtill among the Myꝛte trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there red, ſpeckled, and white hoꝛſes.

9 Then ſayde I, O my Loꝛde, what are theſe? And the angel that talked with me, ſayd vnto me, I wyl ſhewe thee what theſe be.

10 And the man that ſtoode among ꝑ Myꝛte trees anſweared, and ſaid, Theſe are they whom the Loꝛde hath ſent to goe through the woꝛlde.

11 And they anſweared the angel of the loꝛde that ſtoode among the Myꝛte trees, and ſaide, We haue gonne through the woꝛld, and beholde, al the woꝛlde ſitteth ſtyl, and is careleſſe.

12 Then the Loꝛdes angel gaue anſweare, and ſayde, O Loꝛde of hoaſtes, howe long wylt thou be mercyfull vnto Hieruſalem, and to the cities of Iuda, with whom thou haſt ben diſpleaſed nowe theſe threeſcoꝛe and tenne yeeres?

Ier.25.b. and.29.b. 1.Eſd.1.a.

13 So the Loꝛde gaue a louing and a comfoꝛtable anſweare vnto the angel that talked with me.

C 14 And the angel that communed with me, ſayde vnto me, Crie thou, & ſpeake, Thus ſayth the Loꝛde of hoaſtes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hieruſalem and Sion, 15 And ſoꝛe diſpleaſed at the careleſſe heathen: foꝛ where as I was but a litle angry, they helped foꝛwarde the affliction.

Zach.8.a. 16 Therefoꝛe thus ſayth the Loꝛde, I wyll returne vnto Hieruſalem in tender mercie, ſo that my houſe ſhalbe builded in it, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoaſtes: yea and the (a) line ſhalbe ſtretched vpon Hieruſalem.

(a) Such as Maſons and Carpenters vſe in buyldyng.

17 Crie alſo and ſpeake, thus ſayth the Loꝛd of hoſtes, My cities through proſperitie ſhalbe ſpread abꝛode, the Loꝛde ſhall yet comfoꝛt Sion, and chooſe Hieruſalem.

18 Then lyft I vp myne eyes and ſawe, and beholde foure hoꝛnes.

19 And I ſayde vnto the angel that talked with me, What be theſe? He anſwearede me, Theſe are the hoꝛnes which haue ſcattered Iuda, Iſrael, and Hieruſalem. Dan.7.d.

20 And the Loꝛde ſhewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then ſayde I, What wyl theſe doo? he anſwearede, and ſayd, Theſe are the hoꝛnes whiche haue ſcattered Iuda, ſo that no man durſt lyft vp his head: but theſe are comme to fray them away, and to caſt out the hoꝛnes of the Gentiles whiche lyft vp their hoꝛne ouer the lande of Iuda to ſcatter it abꝛode.

The.ii. Chapter.

The renewyng of Hieruſalem and Iuda.

1 I Lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked: and beholde a man, with a meaſure line in his hande. Ezech.14.a Apoc.21.c.

2 Then ſayde I, Whyther goeſt thou? And he ſaide vnto me, To meaſure Hieruſalem, that I may ſee howe long and howe bꝛode it is.

3 And beholde the angel that talked with me, went his way foꝛth: then went there out another angel to meete him,

4 And ſayde vnto him, Runne, ſpeake to this young man, and ſay, Hieruſalem ſhalbe inhabited without any wal, foꝛ the very multitude of people and catel that ſhalbe therein. Dan.4.b.

5 Foꝛ I mee ſelfe, ſayth the Loꝛde, wyl be vnto her a wall of fyre rounde about, and wylbe the glozy in the middeſt of her.

6 O get you foꝛth, O flee from the lande of the noꝛth, ſayth the Loꝛde: foꝛ I haue ſcattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, ſayth the Loꝛde.

7 Saue thee ſelfe, O Sion, thou that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon: B

8 Foꝛ thus ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, After this glozy hath he ſent me out to the heathen whiche ſpoyled you: foꝛ who ſo toucheth you, ſhall touche the apple of his owne eye.

9 Beholde, I wyl lyft vp myne hande ouer them, ſo that they ſhalbe ſpoyled of thoſe whiche afoꝛe ſerued them: and ye ſhal know that the Loꝛde of hoſtes hath ſent me. Jer.22. Pſal.17.d.

10 Be glad and reioyce, O daughter Sion: foꝛ loe I am comme to dwel in the middeſt of thee, ſayth the Loꝛde. Zach.2.d.

11 At the ſame tyme there ſhal many heathen cleaue to the Loꝛde, and ſhalbe my people: thus wyll I dwell in the middeſt of thee, and thou ſhalt knowe that the Loꝛde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto thee.

12 The Loꝛde ſhal haue Iuda in poſſeſſion foꝛ his part in the holy lande, and ſhall chooſe thenne Hierusalem yet agayne.

Esay. 1.2. 13 Let all fleshe be styl before the Lorde: for he is raysed vp out of his holy place.

The.iii. Chapter.

3. Of the lowe and high estate of Christe vnder the figure of Iosua the priest. 8. A prophesie of Christe.

Ps. 109.2 1 AND he shewed me Iosua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan stoode at his right hande to resist him.

2 And the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee thou Satan, yea the lord that hath chosen Hierusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brande taken out of the fyre?

3 Now Iosua was clothed in vncleane raymente, and stoode before the angel.

4 And he answeared and sayde vnto those that stoode before him, Take away the foule clothes from hym. And vnto hym he sayde, Beholde, I haue taken away thy sinne from thee, and I wyl cloth thee with change of rayment.

5 And I sayde, Let them set a fayre myter vpon his head. So they set a fayre myter vpon his head, & put on clothes vpon hym, and the angel of the Lorde stoode there.

6 Then the angel of the Lord testified vnto Iosua, and spake,

1. Esdr. 7 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, If thou wylt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt iudge my house, and kepe my courtes, and I will geue thee place among these that stande here.

8 Heare O Iosua thou high priest, thou and thy felowes that sit before thee, for they are monstruous persons: beholde, I wyl bring forth the branche my seruant.

Esai.4.2. Ier.33.4. 9 For loe, the stone that I haue layde before Iosua, vpon one stone shalbe seuen eyes: beholde, I will cut out the grauing thereof, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and I will take away the sinne of the lande in one day.

10 In that day shal euery man cal his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figtree, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

The.iiii. Chapter.

The vision of the golden candelsticke, and the exposition thereof.

1 AND the angel that talked with me came agayne, and waked me, as a man that is raysed out of his sleepe,

2 And sayd vnto me, What seest thou? And I sayd, I haue loked, and beholde a candlestycke al of golde, with a bowle vpon it, and his seuen lampes therein, and vpon euery lampe seuen pypes.

3 And two olyue trees therby: one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side. Apoc.11.a.

4 So I answeared and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, O my Lorde, what are these?

5 The angel that talked with me answered and saide vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No my Lord.

6 He answeared and sayde vnto me, This is the worde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, saying, Neither through an host of men, nor through strength: but through my spirite, sayth the Lorde of hostes. Esai.11.a.

7 What art thou great mountayne before Zorobabel? thou must be made euen, and he shal bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutinges, crying, Grace, grace vnto it. B

8 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 The handes of Zorobabel haue layde the fundation of this house, his handes shal also finishe it: and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you: Phil.1.a.

10 For who hath despised the day of small thynges? they shal reioyce, and shal see the stone of (a) tyne in the hande of Zorobabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lorde, which goe through the whole worlde. (a) A plummet of tinne, as nowe men vse plummets of lead.

11 Then answeared I, and sayd vnto hym, What are these two olyue trees vpon the right and left side of the candlesticke?

12 I spake moreouer, and saide vnto him, What be these two olyue branches which through the two golden pypes emptie themselues into the golde?

13 He answeared me, and sayde, Knowest thou not what these be? and I sayd, No my Lorde. Apoc.11.a.

14 Then sayde he, These are the two olyue branches, that stande with the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The vision of the fleeyng booke, signifiyng the curse of theeues, and suche as abuse the name of God. 6. By the vision of the measure, is signified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lyfting vp mine eyes, and loked, and beholde a fleeing booke. A

2 And he sayde vnto me, What seest thou? I answered, I see a fleeing booke of twentie cubites long, & ten cubites waade.

3 Then sayd he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for al theues shalbe * iudged after this booke, and all periured persons shalbe iudged according to the same.

* or, cut of as is written on the one side: & al periured persons shalbe cut of as is on the other syde.

4 And I will bring it forth, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, so that it shal enter into the house of the theefe, and into the house of him that falsly sweareth by my name, and shall remayne in the middest of his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and sayde vnto me, Lyft vp thyne eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I sayd, What is it? He answeared, This is a * measure goeing out. He sayde moreouer, Euen thus are they that dwell vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.

* or, ephah.

B 7 And beholde there was lift vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman sate in the myddest of the * measure.

* or, ephah.

8 And he sayde, This is vngodlinesse: so he cast her into the middest of the * measure, and threwe the lumpe of lead into the mouth of the * measure.

* or, ephah.

* or, ephah.

9 Then lyft I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde there came out two women, and the winde was in their wynges: for they had wynges lyke the wynges of a storke, and they lyft vp the * measure betwixt the earth and the heauen.

* or, ephah.

Gen.15.b. 10 Then spake I to the angel that talked with me, Whyther will these beare the measure?

11 And he sayde vnto me, Into the lande of Shinaar to builde it an house, and it shalbe stablished, and set there vpon her owne place.

The.vi. Chapter.

I. By the foure charets he describeth the prosperitie of foure kingdomes.

¶ 1 MOreouer I turned me, lyfting vp myne eyes, and looked, and beholde there came foure charrets out from betwyxt two hylles, whiche hylles were of brasse.

Zacha.1.b. Apoc.6.a. 2 In the first charret were red hozses, in the seconde charret were blacke hozses, 3 In the thirde charret were whyte hozses, in the fourth charret were hozses of diuers colours, and strong.

4 Then spake I, and sayde vnto the angel that talked with me, O my Lorde, What are these?

Ierr.4.b. 5 The angel answered and sayde vnto me, These are the foure spirites of the heauen, which be come forth to stande before the ruler of al the earth.

6 That with the blacke hozses went forth into the lande of the north, and the whyte folowed them, & the speckled hozses went forth towarde the south.

7 And the * strong hozses went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he sayde, Get you hence, and goe through the worlde: so they went throughout the worlde.

B * or, the speckled.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe towarde the north, shal stylle my wrath in the north countrey.

9 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of the prisoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, whiche came from Babylon: and come thou the same day, and goe vnto the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.

11 Then take golde and syluer, and make crownes therof, and set them vpon the head of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high priest, 12 And speake vnto hym, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde the man whose name is the branche, and he shall growe vp out of his place, and he shal buylde vp the temple of the Lorde.

Zach.3.b. Psal.117.d.

13 Yea euen he shal buylde vp the temple of the Lorde, and he shal beare the prayse: he shal sit vpon * the Lordes throne, and haue the dominatien: a priest shal he be also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shal be betwixt them both.

Apoc.4.b. * or, his. Psal.109.d. Heb.5.6.7.

14 And the crowne shalbe to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the sonne of Sophoni, for a memoriall in the temple of the Lorde.

15 And suche as be farre of shall come and builde in the temple of the Lorde, that ye may knowe howe that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto you: and this shal come to passe, yf ye will hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lorde your God.

The.vii. Chapter.

I. The true fasting. II. The rebellion of the people, is the cause of theyr affliction.

1 AND the fourth yere of king Darius, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Zacharia in the fourth (day) of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu,

2 What tyme as Sarasar and Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, sent vnto the house of GOD for to pray before the Lorde:

3 And that they shoulde speake vnto the priestes whiche were in the house of the lord of hostes, and to the prophetes, saying, Shoulde

Shoulde I weepe in the fyfth moneth, and abstayne as I haue donne nowe these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the woorde of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, sayeing,

5 Speake vnto al the people of the lande, and to the preestes, and say, When ye fasted and mourned in the fyfth and seuenth moneth nowe this threescore and ten yeeres, dyd ye fast vnto me?

6 When ye dyd eate also and drinke, did ye not eate and drinke for your owne selues?

7 Are not these the woordes whiche the Lorde spake by his Prophetes aforetyme, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited and wealthy, she and the cities rounde about her, when there dwelt men both towarde the south and in the playne countreys?

8 And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Zacharie, sayeing, 9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.

10 Doo the widowe, the fatherlesse, the strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euyll against his brother in his hart.

11 Neuertheless, they would not take heede, but turned their backes, and stopped their eares that they should not heare.

12 Yea they made their hartes as an Adamant stone, lest they shoulde heare the law and woordes whiche the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirite by the Prophetes aforetyme: wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at them.

13 And thus is it comme to passe, that lyke as he cryed, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, sayth the Lorde God of hostes:

14 But scattered them among al the nations whom they knewe not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauayled no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant lande was vtterly layde waste.

The. viii. Chapter.

2. Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God towarde them. 16. Of good woorkes. 20. The calling of the Gentiles.

AGAIN the woorde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lorde of hoastes, I was in great iealousie for Sion, yea I haue ben very ielous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lorde, I wyl returne vnto Sion, and wyl dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faythful and true citie, the hil of the Lorde of hostes, an holy hil.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, There shal yet olde men and olde women dwell agayne in the streetes of Hierusalem: yea and suche as goe with staues in their handes for very age.

5 The streeters of the citie also shalbe ful of young boyes and damsels, playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be impossible in (their) eyes in these dayes: shoulde it therefore be impossible in my syght, saith the Lorde of hostes?

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Behold, I wyll deliuer my people from the countreys of the east and west,

8 And wyl bryng them agayne, that they may dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: they shalbe my people, and I wylbe their God in trueth and righteousnesse.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Let your handes be strong ye that nowe heare these woordes by the mouth of the prophets whiche are in these dayes, that the fundation of the house of the Lorde of hostes is layde, that the temple may be buylded.

10 For before these dayes neyther men nor catayle could winne any (a) thing, neythr mygbt any man comme in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe agaynst his neighbour.

11 Neuertheless, I wyll nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as aforetyme, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

12 For the seede shall prosper, the wine shal geue her fruite, the grounde shall geue her encrease, and the heauens shall geue their dewe, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue al these in possession:

13 And it shal comme to passe, that lyke as ye were a curse among the heathen, O ye house of Iuda and ye house of Israel, euen so wyl I deliuer you, that ye shalbe a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong:

14 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Lyke as I thought to punnishe you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and spared not:

15 Euen so am I determined nowe in these dayes for to doo well vnto the house of Iuda and Hierusalem: (therefore) feare ye not.

16 Nowe the thinges that ye shall doo, are these, Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely &

17 And let none of you imagine euyll in his hart agaynſt his neighbour, and loue no falſe othes: for all theſe are the thinges that I hate, ſayeth the Lorde.

18 And the woorde of the Lorde of hoſtes came vnto me, ſayeing, 19 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, The faſt of the fourth (moneth) the faſte of the fyfth, the faſt of the ſeuenth, and the faſt of the tenth, ſhalbe ioy and gladneſſe, proſperous dayes vnto the houſe of Iudah: only loue the truth and peace.

21 And they that dwell in one citie ſhall goe to another, ſayeing, Vp, Let vs goe & pray before the Lorde, let vs ſeeke the Lorde of hoſtes: I wyl goe with you.

22 Yea manie people and mighty nations ſhal comme to ſeeke the Lorde of hoſtes at Hieruſalem, and to pray before the lord.

23 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, In that tyme ſhal tenne menne (out of al manner of language of the Gentiles) take one Iewe by the hemme of his garment, and ſay, We wyl goe with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. The conuertion of the Gentiles. 9. The commyng of Chriſt ſytyng on an Aſſe.

A 1 THe burden of the woorde of the Lorde in the lande of Hadrach: and Damaſcus ſhalbe his reſt, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Iſrael ſhalbe towardes the Lorde.

Ioel.4.a. 2 The borders of Hemath ſhalbe harde thereby, Tyrus alſo and Sidon, for they are very wyſe.

3 Tyrus ſhall make her ſelfe ſtrong, heape vp ſiluer as the ſande, and golde as the claye of the ſtreetes.

Exod.14.c. 4 Beholde, the Lorde ſhal ſpoyle her, he ſhal ſmite downe her power in the ſea, and ſhe ſhalbe conſumed with fyre.

5 This ſhal Aſcalon ſee, and be afraid: Gaza ſhalbe very ſory, ſo ſhal Accaron alſo, Ieremy.47.a. Amos.1.d. becauſe her hope is comme to confuſion: for the king of Gaza ſhal periſhe, and at Aſcalon ſhal no man dwel.

6 Strangers ſhal dwel at Aſdod, and as for the pryde of the Philiſtines I ſhall roote it out.

Actes.15. 7 Their blood wil I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that ſhalbe leaft ſhalbe for our God, he ſhalbe as a prince in Iuda, and Accaron likeas a Ieubuſite.

8 And I wyl pitche a campe (a) about mine houſe againſt the armie, againſt him that paſſeth by, and againſt him that returneth, and no oppreſſour ſhall comme vpon them any more: For nowe I haue ſeene with myne eyes. 9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Ieruſalem: For lo, the king commeth vnto thee, iuſt & hauing ſaluation, lowly and ſimple ſitting vpon an Aſſe, and vpon the foale of an Aſſe.

10 I wyl roote out the charettes from Ephraim, and the horſe from Hieruſalem, the batayle bowes ſhalbe deſtroyed, he ſhall geue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion ſhalbe from the one ſea to the other, and from the riuer to the ende of the worlde. Pſal.72.b.

11 Thou alſo (ſhalt be ſaued) through the blood of thy couenant: I haue looſed thy priſoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you nowe to the ſtrong holde ye that be in priſon and long ſore to be deliuered: euen this day I bryng thee woorde, that I wyl reward thee double agayne.

13 For Iuda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim (his ſtaffe) haue I fylled, and thy ſonnes, O Sion, wyl I raiſe vp againſt the Grecians, and make thee as a Giantes ſwoorde.

14 The Lorde God ſhalbe ſeene aboue them, C and his dartes ſhal goe forth as the lightning: the Lorde God ſhal blowe the trumpet, and ſhal comme forth as a ſtorme out of the ſouth.

15 The Lorde of hoaſtes ſhal defend them, they ſhall conſume and deuoure, and ſubdue them with ſling ſtones, they ſhall drinke and rage as it were through wine, they ſhalbe filled like the baſons, and as the hornes of the aulter.

16 The Lorde their God ſhall deliuer them Zacha.2.a. in that day, as the flocke of his people: for 1.Sam.17.f as pretious ſtones of a Diademe they ſhalbe ſet vp ouer his lande.

17 O howe great is his goodneſſe, and howe excellent his beautie? For the corne ſhall make the young men cheereful, and the newe wine the maydens.

The.x. Chapter.

1. The people is moued to require the doctrine of trueth of the Lorde. 3. The Lord promiſeth to viſyte and comfort the houſe of Iſrael.

Pray

10 Pray the Lorde then betime to gene the latter rayne, so shall the Lorde make hyghe cloudes, and gene you rayne ynough, and to euery one grasse in the fielde.

2 For vaine is the ymadynacion of Idolles, the soothsayers seke lyes, and the dreamers tell but vaine thinges, the comfort that they gene is nothing worthe: therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepherde.

3 My wrathfull displeasure was moued against the shepheardes, and I wyll visite the goates: for the Lorde of hoostes will visite his flocke the house of Juda, and will make them as a goodly horse in the battaile.

4 Out of (Juda) shall come the corner, the nayle, the battaile bowe, and the appoyntes of tribute also.

5 They shalbe as gyauntes which in the battaile treade downe their enimies in the myre of the stretes: they shal fight, for the Lorde shalbe with them, and the horsemenne shalbe confounded.

6 I will comfort the house of Juda, and preserue the house of Joseph, I will bring them againe, for I pitie them, and they shalbe like as they were when I had not cast them of: for I the Lord am their God, and wyl heare them.

7 Ephraim shalbe as a giant, and their hart shalbe chearful as though wyne: yea, their children shal se it, and be glad, and their hart shal reioyce in the Lorde.

8 I wyl hysse for them, and gather them together, for I wyl redeme them, they shal encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I wyl sowe them among the people, that they may thinke vppon me in farre countreys, they shal line with their children, and turne againe.

10 I wyll bring them againe also from the lande of Egypte, and gather them out of Assyria: I wyl carry them into the lande of Galead, and to Libanus, and place (a) shal not be founde for them.

11 And affliction shal passe ouer vnto the sea, and smite the sea waues, so that all the deepe floodes shalbe dryed vp, the prowde boasting of Assur shalbe cast down, and the scepter of Egypte shalbe taken away.

12 I wyll comfort them in the Lorde, that they maye walke in his name, sayeth the Lorde.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. The destruction of the temple. 4. The care of the faythful is committed to Christe by the father. 7. A greuous vision agaynst Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 Open thy doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye fyrre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all thy goodes are wasted away: Howle, O ye Okes of Basan, for the myghtie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Hen may heare the shepheardes mourne, for their glory is destroyed, when may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for the pryde of Jordan is wasted away.

4 Thus saith the Lord my God, Fede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 Whiche haue ben slaine of those that possessed them, yet they (tooke it) for no sinne, but they that solde them, saide, The Lorde be thanked, for I am riche, yea, their owne shepheardes spare them not.

6 Therefore wil I no more spare those that dwel in the lande, saith the Lorde: but lo, I wyl deliuer the people, euery man into his neighbours handes, and into the hand of his king, that they may smite the lande, and out of their handes I wyll not deliuer them.

7 I fore fede the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verely, and tooke vnto me two staues, the one called Beautie, the other called bandes: and so fedde the sheepe. B

8 Three shepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me. Apoc. 22. c.

9 Then saide I, I wyl fede you no more: the thing that dyeth, let it die: and that that wyl perishe, let it perishe: and let the remnant eate euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 I tooke also my staffe (euen) beautie, and brake it, that I might disanul the couenant which I made with al people.

11 And so it was broken in that day, then the poore simple sheepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lorde. Deut. 2. c.

12 And I saide vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hyther my wages, if no, then leaue. So they wayed downe thirtie syluer pence, the value that I was prised at.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie syluer pence, and caste them to the potter in the house of the Lorde. Mat. 27. c.

14 Then broke I my other staffe also, (namely) bandes, that I myght loose the brotherhood betwixt Juda and Israel.

15 And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Take thee also the "staffe of a foolishe shepherde. or, instrument.

16 For lo, I wyl raise vp a shepherd in the lande, whiche shal not seeke after the thynges that be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, lambes, he ſhall not heale the wounden, he ſhal not nourith the thinges that are whole: but he ſhal eate the flesshe of ſuch as be fat, and teare their clawes in peeces.

17 O idol ſherpheard that leaueth the flocke, the ſwoorde ſhal come vppon his arme, and vppon his right eye: his arme ſhalbe cleane dryed vp, and his right eye ſhalbe ſore blinded.

The. xii. Chapter.

Of the deſtruction, and buyldyng agayne of Hieruſalem.

1 THe (heauie) burden whiche the Lorde hath deuiſed for Iſrael. Thus ſaith the Lorde which ſpread the heauens abroade, layd the fundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of lyfe. Eſai. 10. a.

2 Behold, I wyl make Hieruſalem a cup of * ſurfet vnto al the people that are rounde about: yea Iuda him ſelfe alſo ſhalbe in the ſiege againſt Hieruſalem. * or, poyſon Zach. 14. c.

3 At the ſame time wyll I make Hieruſalem an heauie ſtone for al people, ſo that all ſuche as lyft it vp ſhalbe torne and rent, and all the people of the earth ſhalbe gathered together againſt it.

4 In that day, ſaith the Lord, I will make al horſes aſtonied, and thoſe that ride vpon them to be out of their wittes: I wyl open mine eyes vppon the houſe of Iuda, and ſmite al the horſes of the people with blindneſſe. Abdias. 1. c.

5 And the princes of Iuda ſhall ſay in their hartes, The inhabiters of Hieruſalem thal geue me conſolation in the Lorde of hoſtes their God.

6 In that time wyll I make the princes of Iuda like an hot burning ouen with wood, and like a fyrebrande among the * ſtrawe, ſo that they ſhall conſume all the people rounde about them, both vppon the ryght hande, and vpon the leaft: Hieruſalem alſo ſhalbe inhabited againe, (namely) in the ſame place where Hieruſalem ſtandeth. * or, cheafe.

B 7 The Lord ſhall preſerue the tentes of Iuda as afore time, ſo that the glorye of the houſe of Dauid, and the glory of the citizens of Hieruſalem ſhall not be exalted againſt Iuda.

1. Sam. 17. f 8 In that day ſhal the Lord defend the citizens of Hieruſalem, ſo that the weakeſt then among them ſhalbe as Dauid, and the houſe of Dauid ſhalbe as Gods houſe, and as the angel of the Lorde before them.

9 At the ſame time wyll I goe about to deſtroy all ſuche people as goe againſt Hieruſalem.

10 Moreouer, vppon the houſe of Dauid, & vppon the citizens of Hieruſalem wyll I powre out the ſpirite of grace and compaſſion, ſo that they ſhal looke vpon me whom they haue pearſed, and they ſhal lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begoten ſonne tyre, and be ſory for hym, as men are ſory for their firſt childe. Ezech. 36. d

11 Then ſhal there be a great mourning at Hieruſalem, like as the lamentation at Hadarremmon in the fielde of Mageddon. Luke. 23. c. 2. Chr. 35. d

12 And the lande ſhal bewayle, euery kynred by them ſelues alone: the kynred of the houſe of Dauid by them ſelues, and their wyues by them ſelues: the kynred of the houſe of Nathan them ſelues, and their wyues by them ſelues:

13 The kynred of the houſe of Leui them ſelues alone, and their wyues by them ſelues: the kynred of the houſe of Semei them ſelues alone, & their wyues by them ſelues. 2. Sam. 2.

14 In like maner, all the other generations euery one by them ſelues alone, and their wyues by them ſelues.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1. Of the well of grace and trueth. 2. Of the cleane ryddance of idolatrie, and of falſe propheters.

1 IN that time ſhal the houſe of Dauid and the citizens of Hieruſalem haue an open well to waſhe of ſinne and vncleanneſſe. A Ezech. 36. d Zache. 13. b

2 And then ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, I wyl deſtroy the names of the Idolles out of the lande, ſo that they ſhal no more be put in remembrance: yea the falſe propheters alſo, and the vncleane ſpirites, I wil take them out of the lande. Ioha. 10. b Eſai. 22. Ezech. 30. Ierem. 14.

4 And then ſhal thoſe propheters be confounded, euery one of his viſion when he propheſieth: neither ſhal they weare heare cloth any more to deceiue men withal. Amos. 7. c

5 But he ſhal be layne to ſay, I am no propheter, I am an huſbandman: for ſo am I taught by man from my youth vp. Gen. 3. b the Lord of hoſtes: ſmite the ſherpheards, & the ſheepe ſhalbe ſcattered abrode: and ſo wyl I turne my hande to the litle ones.

8 And it ſhal come to paſſe, ſayth the Lorde, that in al the lande two partes ſhalbe rooted out and dye, but the thirde part ſhal remayne therein.

9 And the ſame thirde part wil I bryng thorough the fire, and wyl cleanſe them as the ſylver is cleanſed, yea and trye them lyke as gold is tryed: then ſhal they cal vpon my name, and I will heare them. I wil ſay, It is my people, & they ſhal ſay, Lorde my God.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. The waſting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9. Of the kyngdome of the Lorde.

1 BEholde, the day of the Lord commeth, and thy ſpoyle ſhal be diuided in the myddeſt of thee.

2 For I wyl gether togeather al the heathen to fyght againſt Hierusalem, ſo that the citie ſhalbe wonne, the houſes ſpoyled, and the women defyled: the halfe of the citie ſhal goe away into captiuitie, and the reſidue of the people "ſhal not be carried out of the citie.

3 After that the Lord ſhal goe forth to fyght againſt thoſe heathen, as men vſe to fyght in the day of batayle.

4 Then ſhal his feete ſtand vpon the mount Oliuete that lyeth vpon the eaſt ſyde of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuete ſhal cleaue in two, eaſtwarde and weſtwarde, ſo that there ſhalbe a great valley: and the halfe mount ſhall remoue towarde the north, and the other towarde the ſouth.

5 And ye ſhal flee vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hilles ſhal reach vnto Azal: yea flee ſhal ye lyke as ye fledde for the earthquake in the dayes of Oziah kyng of Iuda: and the Lorde my God ſhal come, and al the ſaintes with hym.

6 In that day ſhal there be no cleare lyght, but darke,

7 This ſhalbe that ſpecial day whiche is knowen vnto the Lorde, neyther day nor nyght: but about the euenyng tyme it ſhalbe lyght.

8 In that tyme ſhal there waters of lyfe runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them towarde the eaſt ſea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermoſt ſea, and ſhal continue both ſommer and wynter.

9 And the Lorde him ſelfe ſhalbe kyng ouer al the earth: At that tyme ſhal there be one Lorde one(ly), and his name ſhalbe but one. Abdi.1.b.

10 Al the lande ſhalbe turned as a playne from Gibea to Remmon towardes the ſouth of Hierusalem: She ſhalbe ſet vp, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto the place of the fyrſt port, & vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kynges wyne preſſes. 2.Eſd.3.f. Ierem.41.f

13 In that day ſhal the Lorde make a great ſedition among them: ſo that one man ſhal take another by the hand, & lay his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour.

14 Iuda ſhal fyght againſt Hierusalem, & the armies of al the heathen ſhalbe geathered togeather round about with golde and ſilver, & a very great multitude of apparel. E Zach.12.a.

15 And this plague ſhal goe ouer Horſes, Mules, Camels, Aſſes, & al the beaſts that ſhalbe in the hoſt, lyke as ponder plagne was.

16 Euery one that remaineth then of al the people whiche came againſt Hierusalem, ſhal goe vp yeere by yeere to worſhyp the kyng (euen) the Lord of hoſtes, & to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles. Leuit.23.f. Num.29.b

17 And looke what generation vppon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem for to worſhyp the kyng the Lorde of hoſtes, vpon the ſame ſhal come no rayne.

18 If the kynred of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it ſhal not (rayne) vpon them: This ſhalbe the plague wherewith the Lorde wyl ſmyte al the heathen that come not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles, 19 Yea this ſhalbe the plague of Egypt, and the plague of al people that goe not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 At that time ſhal the riding geare of the horſes be holy vnto the Lord: the kettles in the Lordes houſe ſhalbe lyke the baſons before the aulter.

21 Yea, al the kettles in Hierusalem and Iuda ſhalbe holy vnto the Lorde of hoſtes: and al they that ſlay offrynges, ſhal come and take of them, and ſeethe therein: And at that time there ſhalbe no moe Chananites in the houſe of the Lorde of hoſtes, D

The ende of the prophecie of Zacharias.

¶ The booke of the Prophete Malachias.

The first Chapter.

A complayne against Israel, and cheefely the Priestes.

1 THE (a) burden of the worde of the Lord to Israel, by the ministerie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you (sayth the Lorde: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loued vs? (b) Was not Esau Iacobs brother, (sayth the Lorde, yet loued I Iacob.

3 And I hated Esau, and made his mountaynes waste, and his heritage a wylderneſſe for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, we are impouerished, but we will returne and buylde the desolate places: yet sayth the Lord of hostes, They shal buylde, but I wyl destroy: and they shal cal them, The border of wickednesse, and the people with whom the Lord is angrie for euer.

5 And your eyes shal see: and you shal say, The Lord wyl be magnified vpon the borders of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a seruaunt his maister: If then I be a father, where is myne honour: If I be a maister, where is my feare, sayth the Lorde God of hostes to you, O ye priestes that despise my name? and ye say, Wherein haue we despised thy name?

7 Ye offer vpon myne aulter (c) vncleane bread, and say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

8 When ye bryng the blynde for sacrifice (you say) it is not euyl: and when ye bring the lame and sicke (you say) it is not euyl: offer it nowe (d) to thy prince, wyl he be content with thee, or accepte thy person, sayth the Lorde of hostes?

9 And nowe I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercie vpon vs (this (euyl) hath ben done by your meanes) wil he regarde your persons, sayth the Lord of hostes?

10 Who is there euē among you that would shut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine

11 From the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my name is great among the gentiles, & in euery place (f) incense shalbe offred to my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the very heathen, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

12 But ye haue (g) polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruite therof, (euen) his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And ye sayd, Behold, (it is) a werynesse, and you haue snuffed at it, sayth the Lord of hostes, and ye haue offred the stolne, and the lame, and the sicke, ye haue offered in offering: shoulde I accepte this of your handes, sayth the Lorde?

14 Cursed be the deceiteful which hath in his flocke a male, and vowerh, and sacrificeth a corrupt thyng to the Lorde: because I ame a great king, saith the Lord of hostes, and my name is feareful among the heathen.

The. ii. Chapter.

Threatninges against the priestes, being seducers of the people.

1 AND nowe, O ye priestes, this commaundement is for you.

2 If ye wyl not heare it, nor regarde it, to geue the glorie to my name, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl sende a curse vpon you, and wyl curse your blessynges, yea I haue cursed them alredie, because ye doe not confyder it in your hart.

3 Beholde, I wyl (a) corrupt your seede, and cast (b) doung on your faces (euen) the doung of your solemne feastes, and you shalbe lyke vnto it.

4 And you shal know that I haue sent this commaundement vnto you, that my couenaunt which I haue made with Leui might stande, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

5 My couenaunt was with him of lyfe and peace, and I gaue them him (for) the feare wherewith he feared me, and was afrayde before my name.

6 The lawe of trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie founde in his lyppes,

(b) Dung is vncleane.

lippes, he (c) walked with me (d) in peace and (e) equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 (f) For the priestes lippes shall keepe knowledge, and they shal seeke the lawe at his mouth: because he is the messenger of the Lord of hostes.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fal by the lawe, ye haue corrupted the covenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you despised and vile before al the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue ben partial in the lawe.

10 Haue we not al one father? hath not God made vs al: why then is euery one deceyued of his brother, to violate the covenant of our fathers?

11 Juda hath offended, and abomination is committed in Israel & in Hierusalem: for Juda hath defiled the holynesse of the Lord whiche he loued, and hath marryed the daughter of a strange God.

12 The Lorde wyll destroye the man that doth this, both the * rayser vp, and the answeare out of the tabernacle of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 (g) And this againe haue ye done in couering the aulter of the Lorde with teares, with weepyng and mourning, and therefore there is no more respect to the offering, neither acceptable receiuyng of it at your handes.

14 Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lord hath benne witnesse betweene thee and the wyfe of thy youth, agaynst whom thou hast transgressed, yet is shee thyne owne companion, and the wyfe of thy couenant.

15 And dyd not he make one? yet had he abundance of spirite: And wherfore one? Because he sought a godly seede: therefore keepe your selues in your spirite, and let none transgresse agaynst the wyfe of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her awaye, sayth the Lorde God of Israel: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and be ye kept in your spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearyed the Lorde with your wordes, & you haue sayd, Wherein haue we wearyed him? Whilest you say, Euery one that doth euyl, is good in the syght of the Lorde, and he is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The. iii. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lorde Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

1 BEhold, I wyl sende my messenger, and he shal prepare the way before me, and the Lord (a) whom ye seeke, shal speedily come to his temple, and the messenger of the couenant whom ye desire, beholde he commeth, saith the Lord of hostes.

2 But who maye abide the day of his comming? and who shal stande when he appeareth? for he is like a purgyng fire, and like Fullers sope.

3 And he shall syt downe to trye & fine the syluer, & he shal purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde & syluer: and they shall bring vnto the Lord offerings in righteousnesse.

4 Then shal the (b) offeringes of Juda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord as in olde time, and as in the yeeres afore.

5 And I wyll comme neare to you in iudgement, and I wyll be a (c) swyft witnesse against the (d) soothsayers, and against the adulterers, & against false sweerers, and against those that wrongfully kepe backe the hyrelynges wages, and vexe the wydowe and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the straunger, and feare not me, saith the Lorde of hostes.

6 For I am the Lorde, I change not: and ye sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gonne away from mine ordinances, & haue not kept (them:) turne you to me, and I wil turne to you, saith the Lorde of hostes. And ye saide, Wherein shal we returne?

8 Wyl a man (e) spoyle his goodes? yet ye haue spoyled me, and ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offeringes.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, and me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bryng euery tythe into the store house, that there may be meate in myne house, and prooue me withal, saith the Lord of hostes: if I wyll not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, & powre you out a blessyng without measure.

11 And I wyl reproue the deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroye the fruite of the ground, neither shal your vine be baren in the fielde, saith the Lorde of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: because you shalbe a pleasant lande, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

13 Your woordes haue benne stoute against me, saith the Lorde: and you sayd, Wherein haue we spoken against thee?

14 Ye haue sayde, (It is but) vayne to serue God,

(a) Though not as you shoulde: for you seeke an earthly Messias, and a worldly king.

(b) When Christe shal haue cleansed his, and reconciled them to his fatheragaine, then shal their seruice be accepted.

(c) Offenders thynke themselues safe, if they may deny their fault: but when the iudge hymselfe is a witnesse agaynst them, they shal not escape.

(d) Soothsaying not inferior to adulterie, swearing, & such like vices, with whom it is here numbered.

(e) Suche regarde hath God to his ministers & poore members, that he thinketh himselfe robbed when they are defrauded.

God, and what profite (is it) that we haue kept his commaundement, & that we haue walked humbly before the face of the Lord of hostes?

15 And nowe we call the proude happy: yea, the woorkers of wickednesse are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, spake euery one to his neighbour, and the Lorde considered and heard, and there was written a booke of remembrance before him, for them that feared the Lorde, and for them that thinke vpon his name.

17 And they shalbe to me, saith the Lorde of hostes, in that day wherin I shal do (iudgement) a flocke, and I wyll spare them as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shal ye returne, & discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

The.iiii. Chapter.

The day of the Lorde, before the whiche Elias shoulde come.

1 LOR marke, the day commeth burnyng like an Ouen: and all the proude, and all that woorke wickednesse shalbe stubble, and the day that is for to come shal burne them, saith the Lorde of hostes, and shall leaue them neyther roote nor blanche.

2 But to you that feare my name shall that sonne of righteousnesse arise, and health shalbe vnder his wynges: and ye shal goe forth and skippe like fatte calues.

3 And ye shall treade downe the vngodly: for they shalbe ashe vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shal do this, saith the Lorde of hostes.

4 Remember the lawe of Moses my seruant, which I commaunded him in Horeb for al Israel, with the ordinances & iudgementes.

5 Beholde, I wyll sende you Elias the prophete, before the comming of the great and fearful day of the Lorde.

6 He shall turne the hart of the fathers to their children, and the hart of the children to their fathers, least I come and smite the earth with cursyng.

1. Ioſias appoynteth prieſtes and keepeth the paſſeouer. 7. Offeringes for the prieſtes and the people. 23. The vpright lyfe of Ioſias. 53. The deſtruction of Hieruſalem.

1 AND Ioſias helde the feaſt of Eaſter in Hieruſalem vnto his lord, and offered the paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth.

2 He ſet the prieſtes alſo in order accordyng to their dayly courſes, beyng arayed in long garmentes, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he ſpake vnto the Leuites the holye miniſters of Iſrael, that they ſhould halowe them ſelues vnto the Lorde, to ſet the holy arke of the Lorde in the houſe that kyng Salomõ the ſonne of Dauid had buylded,

4 And ſaid, Ye ſhal no more beare the arke vpon your ſhoulders: and nowe ſerue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people Iſrael, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 Accordyng as kyng Dauid the king of Iſrael hath left in writyng, & * according as Salomon his ſonne hath honourably prepared, and ſtandyng eche of you in that degree of authoritie whiche in the diſtribution was appoynted vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the preſence of your brethren the chyldren of Iſrael:

6 Offer the paſſeouer in order, and make redy the ſacrifyces for your brethren, and kepe the (paſſeouer) accordyng to the commaundement of the Lorde whiche was geuen vnto Moſes.

7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Ioſias gaue thirtie thouſand lãbes and kiddes, and three thouſand calues. Theſe thynges were geuen of the kynges owne poſſeſſions, accordyng as he promiſed to the people, to the Prieſtes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Syelus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the prieſtes for the paſſeouer, two thouſand and ſixe hundred theepe, & three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ozdiel, and Ioram, captaynes ouer thouſandes, gaue to the Leuites for the paſſeouer, fyue thouſand theepe, and ſeuen hundred calues.

10 And when theſe thinges were brought to paſſe, the Prieſtes and Leuites ſtoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lorde in the ſyght of the people, accordyng as it is written in the booke of Moſes: and thus dyd they in the morning.

12 And they roſted the Eaſter lambe with fyre, as accordyng was: as for the offeryngs, they dight them in kettles and pottes with good ſauours, 13 And ſet them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for them ſelues and the prieſtes their brethren the ſonnes of Aaron.

14 For the prieſtes offered the fat, * vntyll the tyme was expired, & the Leuites prepared for them ſelues, and for the prieſtes their brethren the chyldren of Aaron.

15 The holy ſingers alſo the chyldren of Aſaph, ſtoode in their orders accordyng as Dauid deuiſed, to wit, Aſaph, * Zacharias, and Idithum, whiche was appoynted by the king.

16 Moreouer, the (poners and) doore kepers ſtoode by the doores (and that diligently,) ſo that none went out of his * ſtandyng and ſeruice, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

17 Thus were all thynges performed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might holde the paſſeouer, 18 And offer ſacrifyces vppon the aulter of the Lorde, accordyng to the commaundement of king Ioſias.

19 So the chyldren of Iſrael whiche were then preſent, helde a (honorable) paſſeouer, and the feaſt of ſweete bread ſeuen dayes long:

20 Yea ſuche a paſſeouer was not kept in Iſrael, from the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

21 And all the kynges of Iſrael helde not ſuche an Eaſter as this which kyng Ioſias helde, and the Prieſtes, the Leuites, the Iewes, & all Iſrael, of al them that * were at Hieruſalem.

22 In the eyghteenth yeere of the raigne of Ioſias was this paſſeouer kept.

23 And with an hart full of godlynes dyd kyng Ioſias ryghtly order al his woorkes before the Lorde.

24 And the thinges that came to paſſe in his tyme, they were written of olde before thoſe dayes, concernyng thoſe that ſinned, and were vngodly againſt the Lorde aboue all people and kyngdomes, and howe they greeued him in seruyng sensible thinges, so that the woordes of the Lorde rose vp agaynst Israel.

25 Nowe, after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the kyng of Egypt came to Carchamis vpō Euphrates, to moue warre: & Iosias went out agaynst him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, sayeng, What haue I to doo with thee, O king of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lorde God agaynst thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe the Lorde is with me, yea the Lorde maketh diligent * speede with me: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

* or, haste.

28 Howbeit Iosias wouldе not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the woordes of the prophete Ieremie spoken by the mouth of the Lorde:

29 But pitched a batayle agaynst him in the feelde of * Mageddo: and the princes preassed to king Iosias.

* or, Megiddo.

30 Then sayde the king vnto his seruantes, Cary me away out of the batayle, for I am very weake. And immediatly his seruantes tooke hym away out of the front of the battayle.

31 Then gate he vp vppon his seconde charret, came to Hierusalem, dyed, and was buryed in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in al Iurie they mourned for Iosias, yea Ieremie the Prophet lamented for Iosias, and the rulers also with their wyues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be donne continually in al the kinred of Israel.

33 These thinges are written in the booke of the stories of the kynges of Iuda: and all the actes of Iosias, and his glory, and vnderstandyng in the lawe of the Lorde, and the thinges whiche he had done before, and that was nowe (recited) are written in the booke of the kinges of Israel and Iuda.

3. Reg. 23. f 2. Chr. 26. a

34 And the people tooke Iechonias the sonne of Iosias, & made him king in stede of Iosias his father, when he was twentie and three yeres olde.

(a) This place is corrupt, & thus it seemeth to be: As for Ioacim and his rulers he bounde, and hauing take his brother Zaracen, led them away into Egypt.

35 And he raigned in Iuda and in Hierusalem three monethes: and then the kyng of Egypt put him downe from raigning in Hierusalem:

36 And layed vp a tare of the people, namely an hundred talentes of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The kyng of Egypt also made Ioacim his brother king of Iuda & Hierusalem.

38 (a) And (thus) he * bounde Ioacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.

* or, established.

39 Fiue and twentie yeres olde was Ioacim when he was made kyng in the lande of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he dyd euyl before the Lorde.

40 Wherefore agaynst him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylō came vp, and bound him with bandes of iron, and caryed hym vnto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holye vesselles of the Lorde, caryed them away, and set them in his owne Temple at Babylon.

42 But al his actes, and his prophanation and reproche, are written in the Chronicles of the kinges.

43 And Ioachin his sonne raygned in his stede. He was made kyng being eyghteene yeeres olde, 44 And raygned but three monethes and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and dyd euyl before the Lorde.

45 So after a yeere Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lorde, 46 And made Zedechias king of Iuda and Hierusalem when he was twentie and one yeeres olde, and he raigned a leuen yeeres.

47 And he dyd euyll also in the sight of the Lorde, and cared not for the woordes that were spoken vnto him by the Prophete Ieremie from the mouth of the Lorde. Ier. 38. vers. 21.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto kyng Nabuchodonosor, he forswore hym selfe by the name of the Lorde, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel. 6

49 The gouernours also of the people and priestes dyd many thinges agaynst the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of al nations, & defyled the temple of the Lorde which was sanctifyed in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent his (b) messenger to call them backe, because he spared them and his tabernacle also. (b) Meaning Ieremie.

51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the Lord spake vnto them, they made a spoyt of his prophetes.

52 This drewe on so long tyll the Lorde was wroth with his people for their great vngodlynesse, so that he caused the kinges of the Chaldees to come vp agaynst them:

56 Deſtroyed al her * noble buildings, and brought them to nought, & the people that were not ſlayne with the ſwoorde, he caryed vnto Babylon:

1. Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13. The names of them that returned. 16. Their aduerſaries did let theyr building. 17. and the kinges letters for the ſame.

1 NOwe when king Cyrus raigned ouer the Perſians (in his firſt yeere, when the Lord would perfourme the woord that he had promiſed by the mouth of (the prophete) Jeremie:

2 The Lord raiſed vp the ſpirite of Cyrus the king of the Perſians, ſo that he cauſed this writing to be proclayned throughout his whole realme,

3 Saying, Thus ſayth Cyrus kyng of the Perſians, The Lorde of Iſrael, that hygh Lorde, hath made me kyng of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded me to buylde him an houſe at Hieruſalem in Jurie.

5 If there be any nowe of you that are of his people, let the Lorde, euen his Lorde, be with him, and let hym goe vp to Hieruſalem that is in Judea, and buylde the houſe of the Lorde of Iſrael, that is, the Lorde that dwelleth in Hieruſalem.

6 And al they that dwelt rounde about that place, ſhall helpe him, all that dwell in his place I ſay, whether it be with gold, with ſiluer, 7 With gyftes, with hoſſes, and neceſſary cattel, & all other thinges that are brought with a freewyl to the * houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem.

* a. temple

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and villages of Juda and Beniamin ſtoode vp: ſo did the prieſtes alſo and the Leuites, and al they whoſe minde the Lord had moued to goe vp, and to buylde the houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in al thinges, with ſiluer and golde, hoſſes, and cattel, and with * many free gyftes of many men, whoſe mindes were ſtyred vp thereto.

* or, ſundry voyces of ſundry men.

10 King Cyrus alſo brought foorth the veſſels and ornamentes that were halowed vnto the Lorde, whiche Nabuchodonoſor had carried away from Hieruſalem, and conſecrated them to his idol (and image.)

11 And hauing brought them foorth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treaſurer.

12 And by him they were deliuered to Abaſſar the deputie in Jurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thouſande golden cups, and a thouſande of ſiluer, baſons of ſiluer twentie and nine for the ſacrifices, vials of golde thirtie, and of ſiluer two thouſande, foure hundred and ten, and a thouſande other veſſels.

14 So al the veſſels of golde and ſiluer whiche they caried away, were fiue thouſande, foure hundred, threeſcore and nine. C

15 These were brought by Salmanaſar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hieruſalem.

16 But in the tyme of Artaxerxes king of the Perſians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, & Semellius the ſecretarie, with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him againſt them that dwelt in Judea and Hieruſalem, theſe letters folowing: To the kyng Artaxerxes our lorde.

17 Thy ſeruantes, Rathumus the ſtory writer, and Semellius the ſecretarie, and the reſt of theyr counſel, and the iudges that are in Coeloſyria and Phenice:

18 Be it nowe knowen to our lord the kyng, that the Jewes whiche are come vp from you vnto vs into the rebellious and wicked citie, begin to buylde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to ſet vp the temple a newe.

19 Nowe if this citie and the walles thereof be ſet vp agayne, they ſhal not only refuſe to geue tributes (and rates) but alſo rebel vtterly againſt kynges.

20 And forſomuch as they take this in hande nowe about the temple, we thought it reaſon to thinke no ſcorne of it:

21 But to ſhewe it vnto the lord the kyng, to the intent that yf it pleaſe the kyng, he may cauſe it to be ſought in the bookes of olde, D

22 And thou ſhalt fynde in recordes hereof written, & ſhalt vnderſtande that this citie hath alway ben rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kynges and cities, 23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and rayled alwayes warres therein: for the whiche cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherefore nowe we certifie our lorde the kyng, that yf this citie be buylded (and occupied) agayne, and the walles therof set vp a newe, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the king to Rathumus the * stoup writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner.

* or, registers.

26 I haue read the epistle which ye sent vnto me: therefore I commaunded to make diligent searche, and haue founde that this citie hath euer resisted kinges, 27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused much warre, and that mightie kinges haue raigned in Hierusalem, which also haue raised vp tayes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commaunded to forbid those men that they shal not builde vp the citie, and heede to be taken that there be no more done in it:

29 And that they proceede no further in those wicked workes, forsomuche as it myght be occasion of trouble vnto princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe had read the writing of king Artaxerxes, they gate them together, and came in al the haste to Hierusalem, with an host of horsmen, and with much people on foote, 31 And forbad them to builde: and so they left of from building of the temple, vnto the seconde yeere of king Darius, kyng of the Persians.

The.iii. Chapter.

I. The feast of Darius. 16. The three wyse sentences.

A 1 KYng Darius made a great feast vnto his * seruantes, vnto al his court, and to al the officers of Medea & Persia,

* or, subiectes.

2 Yea to al the gouernours and captaynes, and lieftenants that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred & twentie and seuen * countreys.

* or, prouinces.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being satisfied, and were gone home agayne, Darius the kyng went into his chamber, layde him downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

* or, were of the garde.

4 Then the three young men that * kept the kinges person, and watched his body, (communed among them selues, and) spake one to another,

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shal ouercome, & whose sentence may seeme wiser then the others, vnto him shall kyng Darius gene great gyftes, and great thinges, in token of victorie:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and an * head tyre of fyne linnen, and a chayne about his necke:

* or, a kerchef.

7 Yea he shal sit next to Darius, because of his wysedome, and shalbe called Darius cosin.

8 So euery one wrote his * meanyng, sealed it, and layde it vnder kyng Darius pelowe,

* or, sentence.

9 And sayde, When the kyng aryseth, they woulde gene him the writinges, and loke whose wordes the king and the three princes of Persia shal iudge to be the moste wisely spoken, the same shal haue the victorie as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, Wine is a strong thing.

11 The seconde wrote, The king is strong.

12 The thirde wrote, Women haue very muche strength, but aboue al thinges the trueth beareth away the victorie.

13 Nowe when the kyng was risen vp, they tooke their writinges, and deliuered them vnto hym, and so he read them.

14 Then sent he foorth to call al his chiefe lordes of Persia, and of Medea, and the rulers, and the captaynes, and lieftenantes, and consuls:

15 And when he had set hym downe in the counsel, the writinges were read before them.

16 And he commaunded to cal for the young men, that they might declare their * meaninges them selues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.

* or, sentences.

17 And then he sayde vnto them, Shew vs, and make vs to vnderstande what the thinges are that ye haue written. Then beganne the first, whiche had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 And sayde thus, O ye men, howe strong is wine, that deceiueth al menne whiche drinke it?

19 It maketh the kynges mynde and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans and the free, the poore mans and the riche.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man remembreth neither heauynesse nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery hart (thinke it selfe) riche, so that a man remembreth neyther kyng nor gouernour, & it maketh to speake al al thinges by talrytes.

22 Moreouer, when menne haue dronke, they forgete all frendship and brotherly kyndnesse, and a litle after they drawe out swordes:
23 And afterwardes when they are from the wyne, they remember nothing what was donne.
24 O ye menne, is not wyne the strongest, that thus enforceth (menne) to doo? And when he had spoke this, he helde his peace.

The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Of the strength of a kyng. 13. Of the strength of women. 34. Of the strength of trueth, whiche sentence is approued, 47. and his petition graunted.

1 Then the seconde that had spoken of the strength of the kyng, began to say,
2 O ye menne, are not menne the strongest of all, that conquer both by lande and sea, & al the thinges that are in them?
3 Nowe is the king stronger, as lorde of al these thinges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commaundeth them, it is al donne.
4 If he byd them the one agaynst the other to make warre, they doo it: if he send them out agaynst the enimies, they goe, & breake downe mountaynes, walles, and towres.
5 They slay and are slayne, and ouerpasse not the kynges commaundement: if they geat the victory, they bryng al to the kyng, so wel the spoyle as other thinges.
6 Lykewyse the other that meddle not with warres and fyghting, but tyl the grounde: when they haue sowen and reaped, they bryng to the king, and compel one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.
7 And if the kyng, though he be but one man, commaunde to kyl, they kyl, if he commaunde to * forgeue, they forgeue:
8 If he commaunde to smite, they smyte, yf he byd * dryue away, they dryue away, yf he commaunde to buylde, they buylde:
9 If he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, if he commaunde to plant, they plant.
10 * So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the meane season sytteth him downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.
11 And these keepe him rounde about, and not one of them dare geat him out of the way to doo his owne businesse, * but must be obedient vnto the king at a woorde.
12 Iudge ye nowe, O ye menne, how should not the kyng goe farre aboue, when in such sort he is obeyed? And (when he had spoken thus) he helde his tongue.
13 The thirde (whose name was Zorobabel) whiche had spoken of women, & of trueth, beganne to say (after this manner.)
14 O ye menne, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of menne, neyther is it wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordshippe ouer them? is it not women? ℭ
15 Women haue borne the kyng, and all the people whiche beare rule by sea and by lande.
16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought those vp that planted the vines, wherof the wine commeth.
17 They make garmentes for menne, they geat honour vnto menne, and without women, can not men continue.
18 Yea if they haue geathered togeather gold and siluer, or any other pretious thing, doo they not loue a woman for her comely shape and beautie?
19 And letting all those thinges goe, doo they not gape, and euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her? and haue not al men more desyre vnto her, then vnto syluer & golde, or any manner of pretious thing?
20 A man leaueth his owne father that brought him vp, leaueth his owne natural countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wyfe. Gene. 2. b. Mat. 19. a.
21 Yea, he * leopardeth his lyfe with his wyfe, and remembreth neyther father nor mother, nor countrey. 1. Cor. 6. b.
22 By this also ye must needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: do ye not labour, and trauayle, and gene and bryng al to the woman? D * or, passeth
23 A man taketh his swoorde, and goeth his way to steale, (to kyl,) to murther, to sayle vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And seeth a Lion, and goeth in the darkenesse: and whē he hath stollen, * deceiued, and robbed, he bryngeth it vnto his loue. * or, spoyled.
25 Wherefore, a man loueth his wife better then father and mother:
26 Yea, many there be that runne out of their wits, and become bondmen for their * wyues sake.
27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women. * or, for womens.
28 And nowe doo ye not beleeue me? is not the kyng great in his power? doo not al regions feare to touche him?
29 Yet dyd I see him, & Apame the daughter of the great kyng Bartacus the kynges concubine, sate beside the kyng vpon the right hande, 30 And tooke of his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne head, and stroke the king with her left hande.
31 And therwhyle stedily the king loked vpō her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with him, the kyng was fayne to flatter her (and to get her good woorde) tyll he had gotte her fauour againe.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that doo these thinges?

33 Then ỹ king & the princes loked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the trueth, Eccle.1.a. 34 O ye menne, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, hygh is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauens round about, and fetcheth his course agayne to his owne place in one day.

35 Is he not excellent that maketh these thynges? therefore great is the trueth, and stronger then al thinges.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen prayseth it, all woorkes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

C 37 Wine is wicked, the kyng is wicked, women are wicked, al the children of men are wicked, yea and suche are al their wicked woorkes, & there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they (be destroyed and) perishe:

Esai.40.a. Psal.117.a. 38 As for the trueth it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth, and conquereth for euermore worlde without ende.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but she dooth that iust is, and refraineth from all vniust and wicked things, & al men do wel lyke of her woorkes.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrighteous thyng, and she is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people cryed, and then sayde, Great is trueth, and aboue al.

42 Then sayde the kyng vnto hym, Aske what thou wylt, more then is appointed in the writing, and we shall geue it thee, for thou art found wyser (then thy companions) thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayde he vnto the kyng, Remember thy (promise and) vowe whiche thou hast vowed (and promised) in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to buylde vp Hierusalem:

F 44 And to sende agayne al the vessels (and iewels) that were taken away out of Hierusalem, whiche Cyrus set apart when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to sende them agayne thyther.

45 And thy mynde was also to buylde vp the temple, whiche the Edomites burnt, when Iuda was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this onely (O kyng) is ỹ thyng that I require and desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee, I desyre therefore, that thou performe the vowe, which thou with thyne owne mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the kyng stoode vp, and kissed him, wrote him letters vnto all the deputies and lieftenantes, to al the lordes and nobles, that they should conuey hym forth, and al them that went vp with him, to buylde Hierusalem. 2.Esd.2.b 4.Esd.6.a.

48 He wrote letters also vnto al the lieftenantes that were in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they shoulde bryng Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and builde the citie with hym.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for all the Iewes that were gonne out of his * realme into Iurie concernyng their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no Lieftenant, nor Gouernoure, shoulde enter into their doores: * or, kingdom.

50 And that all their land which they kept, shoulde be free, and not tributary: and that the Edomites shoulde geue ouer the (cities and) villages of the Iewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be yeerely geuen twentie talentes to ỹ buylding of the temple, vntil the time that it were finished:

52 And to maynteyne the whole burnt offerings vpon the aulter euery day, (as they had a commaundement to offer seuentene) other ten talentes euery yeere.

53 And that al they whiche came from Babylon to builde the citie, should haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the priestes that went away.

54 He wrote also concernyng the charges, & the priests garment wherein they minister, 55 And lykewyse for the charges of the Leuites, to be geuen them, vntyl the day that the house were fynished, and Hierusalem buylded vp.

56 And he commaunded, that all they that watched the citie, shoulde haue their pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vesselles that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and al that Cyrus had geuen in commaundement, ỹ same charged he also that it should be donne, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gonne forth, he lyfted vp his face to heauen, towarde Hierusalem, and praysed the king of heauen, 59 And sayde, Of thee commeth victorie, Eccle.1.d.

of thee commeth wisdome, and thine is the glory, glory, and I am thy ſeruant.

60 Bleſſed art thou whiche haſt geuen me wiſedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde (thou God) of our fathers.

61 And ſo he tooke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and tolde it al his brethren.

62 And they praiſed the god of their fathers, that he had geuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To goe vp, and to buylde Hieruſalem and the temple, * wherein the name of the Lorde is called vppon: and they reioyced with inſtrumentes of muſicke and gladneſſe ſeuen dayes long.

* a, where his name is called vpon.

39 And was named after hym: The writyng of the ſame kynrede, was ſought in the regiſter of their generation, but it was not founde, and therefore were they forbydden to execute the office of the prieſthood.

40 For vnto them ſayde Nehemias and Atharias, that they ſhoulde haue no portion in the ſanctuarie, tyll there roſe vp an holy prieſt that were well inſtruct in the playne clearenesſe and trueth.

41 So of Iſrael from them of twelue yeres olde, and chyldren, they were all in number fourtie and two thouſande, three hundred and three ſcore, beſides men ſeruantes and women ſeruantes.

45 And to geue into the holy treaſure of the woorkes, a thouſand pounde of golde, fiue thouſande of ſyluer, and an hundred precious garmentes.

46 And ſo dwelt the prieſtes and the Leuites, and the people in Hieruſalem, and in the countrey (thereabout) the ſyngers alſo and the porters, and all Iſrael in their villages.

47 But when the ſeuenth moneth came, and when the chyldren of Iſrael were euery man in his owne, they came altogether with one conſent into the open place of the gate, whiche is towardes the eaſt. 1.Eſd.5.1.

48 And there Ieſus the ſonne of Joſedec, & his brethren the prieſtes, and Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel and his brethren, ryſyng vp, made ready the aulter of the God of Iſrael, 49 To offer whole burnt ſacrifices vpon it, ſo as it is written in the lawe of Moſes the man of God.

50 And thyther were geathered agaynſt them, diuers of other nations of the lande: but they dreaſſed the aulter in his owne place, although al the nations in the lande were enimies to them, and vexed them: and they offered ſacrifices to the Lord both morning mornyng and euenyng.

51 And alſo they helde the feaſt of tabernacles as it is • commaunded in the lawe, and ſacrifices dayly as it was appartey-nyng. • as, &c. lyeth.

52 And after that alſo the continual oblations, and the offerynges of the ſabbothes, and of the newe monethes, and of al holy feaſtes.

53 And al they whiche had made any vowe to God, beganne to offer ſacrifice to God, from the fyrſt day of the ſeuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lorde was not yet buylt vp.

54 And they gaue vnto the Maſons & Carpenters, money, meate, and drynke, with chearefulneſſe.

55 Unto them of Sidon alſo, and Tyre, they gaue Carres, that they ſhould bryng Cedar trees from Libanus, which ſhoulde be brought by flote to the hauen Joppe, accordyng as it was commaunded them by Cyrus kyng of the Perſians.

Eſdr.29.b 56 And in the ſeconde yere and ſeconde moneth, came into the temple of God at Hieruſalem, Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Jeſus the ſonne of Joſedec, and their brethren, and the prieſtes and Leuites, and al they that were come vnto Hieruſalem out of the captiuitie (of Babylon.)

'.in the firſt day. 57 And they layde the fundation of the houſe of God, in the • newe moone of the ſeconde moneth, in the ſeconde yeere that they were come to Iurie & Hieruſalem.

58 And they appoynted the Leuites that were aboue twentie yeres olde, ouer the woorkes of the Lorde: So Jeſus and his ſonne and brethren aſſyſted, and Cadmiel alſo his brother, and the ſonnes of Phahiabon, with the ſonnes of Joda, the ſonne of Eliadon, and his ſonnes and brethren, euē al the Leuites with one accorde folowed on earneſtly to aduance the woorkes in the houſe of God: ſo the woorkemen built vp the temple of the Lorde.

59 And the prieſtes ſoode, and had their garmentes, with muſical inſtrumentes, & trumpettes, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſaph had Cymbales, 1.Eſd.10.d 60 Geuyng thankes and prayſes vnto the Lord, accordyng as Dauid the kyng of Iſrael had ordeyned.

61 And they ſong with loud voyces, ſonges to the prayſe of the Lorde, becauſe his mercie and glorie is for euer in Iſrael.

62 And al the people blew out with trumpetts, and cryed with a loude voyce, prayſyng the Lord togeather for the rearyng vp of the houſe of the Lorde.

63 There came alſo from among the prieſtes and Leuites, and of the cheefeſt, accordyng to the tribes and kynredes, to wite, the elders, whiche had ſeene the former houſe, 1.Eſd.3.a.

64 To the buyldyng of this, with great crye and great mournyng, many alſo with trumpettes and (great) ioy cried with loud voyce:

65 Inſomuche that the trumpettes myght not well be hearde for the weepyng and mournyng of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blewe trumpettes marueylouſly, ſo that it was hearde farre of.

66 Wherefore, when the enimies of the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin hearde it, they came to knowe what that noyſe of trumpettes ſhoulde meane. 1.Eſd.4.a.

67 And they perceyued that they whiche were come agayne out of captiuitie, built the temple vp a newe vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jeſus, and to the rulers of the villages, and ſayde vnto them, Shall we buylde with you alſo?

69 For we lykewyſe, as you, doo obey your Lorde, and doo ſacrifice vnto him from the dayes of Aſbazareth the kyng of Aſſyria, whiche brought vs hyther.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Jeſus, and the rulers of the villages of Iſrael, ſayde vnto them, It dooth not agree that ye ſhoulde buylde the temple of our God with vs.

71 We our ſelues alone wyl buylde vnto the Lord of Iſrael, as is meete, and lyke as Cyrus the king of the Perſians hath commaunded vs. 1.Eſd.1.a.

72 But the heathen in the land made them ſluggyſhe that were in Iurie, and ſtopped them, and letted them buyldyng.

73 And by their embuſhmentes, ſedicions, and conſpiracies, ſtopped that the building coulde not be finiſhed, al the tyme that kyng Cyrus lyued, ſo that they put of the buyldyng for the ſpace of two yeeres, vntil the raigne of kyng Darius.

phetes, prophecied vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iurie and Hierusalem, euen in the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Iosedec, stoode vp, and began to builde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, when the prophetes of the Lorde were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same time, came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria & Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes, and his companions, and sayde vnto them, 4 Who hath bidden (and commaunded) you to build this house, to make this roofe, and all other thynges agayne? and who are the * workemen that builde them?

* or, builders that dyd these thynges.

5 Neuertheleſſe, the elders of the Iewes had (ſuche) grace of the Lorde, after he had viſited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from building, vntyl the tyme that kyng Darius was certified thereof, and an anſweare receyued (from hym.)

B 7 The copie of the letters which he wrote, & ſent vnto Darius. Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, whiche are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, sende their ſalutation vnto Darius the kyng.

8 We certifie our Lorde the kyng, that we came into the lande of Iurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we founde the auncientes of the Iewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem, 9 Building an house vnto the Lorde, great and newe, of hewen and coſtly ſtones, and the tymber alredy layde vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great haſte with the worke, and it goeth forth proſperouſly in their handes, and with great diligence and worſhyp is it made.

11 Then aſked we the elders, saying, By whoſe commaundement buyld you vp this house, and lay the fundations of theſe workes?

12 Whiche we demaunded of them, to the intent that we myght geue knowledge vnto thee, & wryte vnto thee of thoſe that gouerned it: and we requyred of them their names in wryting, that were their cheefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this anſweare, We are the ſeruantes of the Lorde, whiche made heauen and earth.

C 14 And as for this house, it was buylded many yeeres agone, by a kyng of Israel, great and strong, and was finished. 3. King. 6. a.

15 But when our fathers prouoked GOD vnto wrath, and synned agaynſt the Lorde of Israel, which is in heauen, he gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon, of the Caldees:

16 Whiche brake downe the house, & burnt it, and caryed away the people prysoners vnto Babylon. 4. King. 24. Iere. 39.

17 Neuertheleſſe, in the firſt yeere that kyng Cyrus raigned ouer the countreys of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrot (and commaunded) to builde vp this house (agayne.) 1. Eſd. 5. a.

18 And the holy veſſels of golde, and of ſiluer, that Nabuchodonoſor had caryed away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: thoſe brought Cyrus forth agayne out of the temple at Babylon, and delyuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commaunding him, that he ſhould cary away thoſe ſame veſſelles, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lorde ſhoulde be builte in his (owne) place.

20 Then the ſame Sanaballarus beyng comme hyther, layde the fundations of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, and from that to this, beyng styl a buyldyng, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therfore, O kyng, if thou thinkeſt it good, let it be ſought in the libraries (and rolles) of kyng Cyrus: D

22 And if it be founde then, that the buyldyng of the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem hath ben done with the (counſayle and) conſent of kyng Cyrus, and yf our Lorde the kyng be ſo mynded, let hym geue anſweare vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commaunded kyng Darius to ſeeke in the kynges libraries at Babylon: and ſo at Ecbatane, a towne in the region of Medea, there was founde a place where * of, in theſe thynges was layde vp for * memorye. 1. Eſd. 6. a. 2. Eſd. 4. c. membrance

24 In the firſt yeere of the raigne of Cyrus, (the ſame) kyng Cyrus commaunded that the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem ſhoulde be buylded agayne, where they doo ſacrifice with the continual fyre.

25 Whoſe height ſhalbe ſixtie cubites, and the breadth ſixty cubites, with three rowes of hewen ſtones, & one rowe of newe wood, and of that countrey, and the expences therof, to be geuen out of the houſe of kyng Cyrus:

26 And the holy veſſelles of the house of the Lord, both of golde and of ſyluer, that Nabuchodonoſor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, ſhoulde be reſtored to the house at Hierusalem, and be ſet in the place where it was (before.)

27 And

27 And alſo he commaunded that Siſinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuſanes, with their companions, and other conſtituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, ſhoulde take heede not to meddle with that place, but to ſuffer Zorobabel the ſeruant of the Lorde and gouernour of Iuda, and the elders of the Iewes, to buylde the houſe of the Lorde in that place.

28 I haue commaunded alſo to haue it built vp whole againe, and that they be diligent to helpe thoſe that be of the captiuitie of the Iewes, tyl the houſe of the Lord be finiſhed.

29 And out of the tribute of Coeloſyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be geuen thoſe men vnto the offeringes of the Lorde, and the ſame to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therewithal may ordaine oxen, rammes, lambes,

C 30 And alſo corne, ſalt, wine, and oyle, and that continually euery yeere, after the expences whiche the prieſtes that be at Hieruſalem ſhal teſtifie to be made dayly (this ſhalbe geuen vnto them) without delay, 31 That they may offer ſacrifices dayly to the higheſt God for the king & for his children, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commaunded alſo, that who ſo euer ſhould breake any poynt of the foreſaid and foredecreed thinges, or make it voyde, of his owne goodes ſhoulde a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and al his goodes ſeaſed vnto the king.

33 The Lord therefore whoſe name is there called vppon, roote out and deſtroye euery kyng & nation that ſtreatcheth out his hand to hynder or (hurt and) endamage that houſe of the Lord in Hieruſalem.

34 I Darius the kyng haue ordeyned, that according to theſe thinges it be done with diligence.

The.vii.Chapter.

1. Siſinnes and his companions folowe the kynges commaundement, and helpe the Iewes to buylde the temple. 5. The tyme that it was buylte. 10. They keepe the Paſſeouer.

A 1 Then Siſinnes the gouernour in Coeloſyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeyed the thinges that king Darius had ordeyned.

2 And were diligent aſſyſters in the holy woorkes, worcking with the auncientes and gouernours of the ſanctuarie:

3 And ſo the holy woorkes went forth and proſpered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophetes prophecied.

4 And they perfourmed al thinges through the commaundement of the Lorde God of Iſrael, and with conſent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes kynges of Perſia.

5 And thus was the holy houſe finiſhed in the twentie and three day of the moneth Adar, in the ſyxt yeere of Darius kyng of the Perſians.

6 And the children of Iſrael, the prieſtes and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie that had any charge, dyd accordyng to the thynges written in the booke of Moſes.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lorde, they offered an hundred * oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, B * or, bulles.

8 And twelue goates, for the ſinnes of al (the people of) Iſrael, after the number of the cheefe of the tribes of Iſrael.

9 The prieſtes alſo and the Leuites ſtoode arayed in their long robes, after their kinredes, in al the woorkes of the Lord God of Iſrael, accordyng to the booke of Moſes, and the porters at euery doore.

10 And the chyldren of Iſrael, with thoſe that were come out of captiuitie, helde the Paſſeouer the fourteenth daye of the firſt moneth, after that the prieſtes and the Leuites were ſanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie were not al ſanctified together: but the Leuites were al ſanctified together.

12 And ſo they offered the Paſſeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the prieſtes, and for them ſelues.

13 And the chyldren of Iſrael that came out of captiuitie, did eate, al they that had ſeparated them ſelues from the abominations of the people of the lande, and ſought the Lorde:

14 And they kept the feaſt of the vnleauened C breade ſeuen dayes long, makyng merry before the Lorde, 15 That the Lord had turned the counſel of the kyng of Aſſyria towards them, to ſtrengthen their handes vnto the woorkes of the Lorde God of Iſrael.

The.viii.Chapter.

1. Eſdras commeth from Babylon to Hieruſalem. 10. The copie of the commiſſion geuen by kyng Artaxerxes. 26. Eſdras geueth thankes to the Lorde.

1 AND after theſe, when Artaxerxes the A kyng of the Perſians raigned, there 1.Eſd. 7.d. went vnto hym Eſdras the ſonne of Saraias, the ſonne of Ezerias, the ſonne of of Helchiah, the sonne of Sallum,

2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Menerath, the sonne of Sarias, the sonne of Sanias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisun, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first priest:

3 This Esdras went vp from Babylon, beyng a scribe of good vnderstanding in the law of Moses that was geuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 And the king fauoured him, and dyd him great (worshyp and) honour * after all his desires.

* or, in all his suites.

5 There went vp with hym also certayne of the children of Israel, of the priestes, of the Leuites, of the syngers, porters, and ministers of the temple, vnto Hierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yeere of the raigne of king Artaxerxes, in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yeere, (for they went from Babylon in the first daye of the first moneth, 7 And came to Hierusalem accordyng as G O D gaue them speede in their iourney.)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the law and the commaundementes of the Lorde, and to teach al Israel al the * ordinances & iudgementes.

* or, righteousnesse.

9 The copie of the commission whiche Artaxerxes the kyng wrote, and that was geuen to Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde, this is it that foloweth.

10 Kyng Artaxerxes sendeth his greetyng vnto Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde.

11 I hauyng waied thinges with pitie, haue (ordeyned and) charged, if there be any of the Iewes, of the priestes and Leuites in my * realme, which desireth and is content to go with thee vnto Israel, that he may do it.

* or, kyngdome.

12 Therfore, so many as long thereafter, let them depart togeather, and goe with thee, like as I am content and my seuen frendes my counsaylours, 13 To see what they doo at Hierusalem and in Iurie, conuenientlye, accordyng as thou hast in the lawe of the Lorde:

14 And to bryng the gyftes vnto (God) the Lorde of Israel, that I and my frendes haue * promised to Hierusalem, and all the syluer and gold that in the countrey of Babylon may be found (paieyong) to the lord in Hierusalem,

* or, bound

15 With the thing that is geuen of the people to the Lorde their Gods temple at Hierusalem: that the same syluer and gold may be geathered for oxen, rammes, sheepe, and goates, and other that belong to these thinges,

16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the Lord, vpon the aulter of the Lord their God which is at Hierusalem. C

17 And what so euer thou and thy brethren wyl doo with the syluer and golde, that doo accordyng to the wyll of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lorde, whiche are geuen thee for the seruice of the temple of thy God whiche is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set (them) before thy God in Hierusalem.

19 And what so euer thing els thou shalt remember for the vse of the temple of thy God, thou shalt geue it out of the kinges treasure.

20 And I kyng Artaxerxes haue also commaunded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that what so euer Esdras the priest and the reader of the lawe of the hyghest God shal sende for, they shoulde geue it him with speede:

21 Euen to the summe of an hundred talentes of syluer: of corne also an hundred * measures, and tyl an hundred * vesselles of wyne, and other thinges abundantly.

* or, cores.
* or, pecces.

22 Let all thinges be done after the lawe of God diligently vnto the hyghest God, that wrath come not vppon the kingdome of the kyng and of his sonnes.

23 I commaunde you also, that ye require no D tare nor tribute of the priestes, Leuites, holy syngers, porters, & ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue dooynges in this temple, and that no man haue auctoritie to put any impost vpon them.

24 As for thee, O Esdras, set thou Iudges and arbitrers to iudge in the whole land of Syria and Phenice after the wisedome of God, al skilful in the lawe of God, & teache such as are ignorant.

25 And let al them which shal offend against the lawe of God and the kyng, be diligently punished, whether it be by death or other payne, by pounishyng in money, or els by banishment.

26 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be 3. Esd. 7.
the only Lord God of my fathers, that hath geuen so good a mynd and wyl into the hart of the kyng, to magnifie his house that is at Hierusalem, 27 And hath * made me to be accepted in the syght of the kyng, of his counsaile, of his frendes, and of his nobles.

* or, honored me.
* or, of a good courage.

28 And so I was * stedfast in my mynde, accordyng accordyng as the Lord my God helped me, and I gathered vp men of Iſrael to goe vp with me.

29 And theſe are the guydes after their families and orders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon in the raigne of kyng Artaxerxes.

30 Of the ſonnes of Phinees, Gerſom: of the ſonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the ſonnes of Dauid, Hattus the ſonne of Sechemah:

31 Of the ſonnes of Pharez, Zacharias, & with him there returned againe an hundred and fyftie men.

32 Of the ſonnes of Pahath, Moab, Elioenai, the ſonne of Zacharias, and with hym two hundred men.

33 Of the ſonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias the ſonne of Iezolus, and with him three hundred men: and of the ſonnes of Adin, Obed the ſonne of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fyftie men.

34 Of the ſonnes of Elam, Jeſias, ſonne of Gotholias, and with hym ſeuentie men.

35 Of the ſonnes of Saphatias, Zarias ſonne of Machael, and with him threeſcore and ten men.

36 Of the ſonnes of Joab, Badias, ſonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelue men.

37 Of the ſonnes of Banid, Aſſalimoth ſonne of Joſaphias, and with him an hundred and threeſcore men.

38 Of the ſonnes of Babi, Zacharias ſonne of Bebai, & with him twenty & eyght men.

39 Of the ſonnes of Aſtath, Johannes ſonne of Acatan, and with hym an hundred and tenne.

40 Of the ſonnes of Adonicam the laſt: and theſe are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and Maias, and with them ſeuentie men.

41 Of the ſonnes of Bagouthi, ſonne of Iſtacournus, and with hym ſeuentie men.

42 Al theſe called I togeather by the water Thia, where we pitched our tentes three dayes, and there I muſtred them.

43 As for the ſonnes of the prieſtes and Leuites, I founde none there.

44 Then ſent I vnto Eleazar, and behold there came Maaſman, and Maloban, 45 And Alnathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Moſollamon the cheefe & beſt learned:

46 And I bad them that they ſhoulde goe vnto Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treaſurie:

47 And commaunded them that they ſhould ſpeake vnto Daddeus, and to his brethren, and to thoſe that were the treaſourers, to ſende vs ſuche men as myght execute the prieſtes office in the houſe of our Lorde.

48 And with the mightie hand of our Lord (God) they brought vnto vs men of good * experience, from among the ſonnes of Moli, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, Sereebia, and his ſonnes, and his brethren, whiche were eyghtiene. * or, learnyng.

49 And Aſebia, and Amon, and Oſaian his brethren, of the ſonnes of Canaineus, their ſonnes were twentie men.

50 And of them that ſerued in the temple, whom Dauid had ordeyned, and the principal men to the worke of the Leuites, that were miniſters in the temple, two hundred and twentie, whoſe names are al ſigned vp in wryting.

51 And then commaunded I a faſtyng vnto the young men before the Lorde, that I myght deſyre of him a proſperous iourney, (and a good way) both for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, and for the cataple.

52 For I feared to deſyre of the kyng men of horſe and of foote, to conueygh vs ſafely againſt our enimies.

53 For we haue ſayd vnto the king, that the power of the Lorde our God ſhoulde be with them that ſeeke hym, to directe them in al thynges.

54 And therefore we beſought our Lorde agayne, as touchyng theſe thynges, and founde hym fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I ſeparated from among the cheefe of the tribes, and from the prieſtes, twelue men, (to wit,) Eſebrias, and Aſſanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

56 And I weighed them the gold, and the ſyluer, and the holy veſſelles of the houſe of our Lord, whiche the king & his counſel, and his princes, & whole Iſrael had geuen.

57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them syxe hundred and fyftie talentes of ſyluer, and an hundred talentes in ſyluer veſſelles, and an hundred talentes of golde, 58 And twentie golden baſons, and twelue veſſeles of braſſe, euen fine braſſe, like ſhyning golde.

59 And I ſayde vnto them, ye are holy vnto the Lorde, and the veſſelles are holy, and the gold and the ſyluer is * promiſed vnto the Lord (God) of our fathers. * or, vowed

60 Be * diligent nowe, and keepe it vntil the tyme that ye deliuer it to the cheefe of the prieſtes and Leuites, and to the principal men of the families of Iſrael in Hieruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of our God. * or, watch

61 So

1.Esd.8.a. 61 So the priestes and the Lenites whiche receyued of me the golde, the syluer, & the vessellies, brought it vnto Hierusalem vnto
the temple.
62 And from the ryuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the fyrst moneth, accor-dyng to the myghtie hande of our Lorde whiche was with vs: and from the beginnyng of our iourney, the Lorde delyue-red vs from euery enimie, so that we came vnto Hierusalem:
63 And when the thirde day was past, the weyghed golde and syluer was delyuered in the house of the Lord on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the priest, & sonne of Iozi:
64 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinees, & with them were Iosabdus the sonne of Iesu, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: al was deliuered them by number and weyght.
65 And al the weight of them was wrytten
vp the same houre.
66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offered sacrifice vnto the Lorde God of Israel, euen twelue Oxen for al Israel, foure score and syxtene Rammes,
67 Three score and twelue Sheepe, twelue
Goates for saluation, al in sacrifice to the Lorde.
68 And the kynges commission delyuered they vnto the kynges Seewardes, & to the gouernours of Coelosyria & Phenice, who honored the people and the temple of God.
69 Nowe when these thynges were done,
the rulers came vnto me, and sayde, 1.Esd.6.a. 70 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priestes & Leuites haue not put away from them the strange people of the lande, nor the vncleannesse of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites:
71 For both they & their sonnes haue mingled them selues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is myxt with the strange people of the lande: and since the begynnyng of the affayres, the rulers and head men haue ben partakers of this wickednesse.
1.Esd.9.a. 72 And as soone as I had hearn these thyn-ges, immediatly I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled of the heare of my head and my beard, & sate me downe sorowful and heauie.
73 So al they that were moued though the woorde of the Lorde God of Israel, came vnto me wyleyst I wept for the iniquitie:
but I sate styl ful of heauinesse vntyl the euenyng sacrifice.
74 Then stoode I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, and helde out my handes vnto the Lorde, 75 And sayde, O Lorde, I am confounded, and ashamed before thy face.
76 For our synnes are become many, euen aboue our heades, and our ignorances are lyfted vp, euen vnto heauen:
77 For sines the time of our fathers, we are in great synne vnto this day.
78 And for the synnes of vs, & our fathers, we with our brethren, and with our kings, and with our priestes, haue benne geuen vp vnto the kynges of the earth, into the swoorde, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion (and shame) vnto this day.
79 And nowe, O Lorde God, howe great is the mercie that we haue gotten of thee, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy sanctuarie, 80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a lyght in the house of the Lorde our GOD, and hast geuen vs meate in the tyme of our seruitude:
81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forsaken of the Lorde our God:
but he made the kinges of Persia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victualles (and meate,) 82 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lorde, and repayred the wasted places of Sion, and gaue vs assurance in Iurie and Hierusalem.
83 And nowe, O Lorde, what shal we say, hauyng al these thynges (in possession?)
For we haue broken thy commaundemen-tes, whiche thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruauntes the prophetes, saying,
84 Because the lande whiche ye goe to pos-sesse as an heritage, is a land defyled with the vncleannesse (and fylthynesse) of the strangers of the lande, and with their abomination they haue polluted it altogether:
45 Therefore nowe shal ye not ioyne your daughters vnto your sonnes, neyther marrie your daughters to their sonnes.
86 Moreouer, ye shal neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may * encrease and eate the best in the lande, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the land vnto your chyldren for euermore.
87 As for the thynges that are come to passe, they come al for our wicked woorkes and great synnes: for thou, O Lorde, hast made our synnes lyght, 88 And geuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe agayne, so that we haue broken

* or, be strong, eate the good of the land ken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with the vncleannesse of the outlandyshe heathen.

89 Wyghdraw not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest leaue vs neyther roote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our sinnes, neyther can we stande before thee for them.

1.Esd.10.a. 92 And when Esdras with this prayer had knowledged the synne, weeping, and lying flat vpon the grounde before the temple, there gathered vnto hym from Hierusalem, a great multitude of men and women, of young men and maidens: for there was a very great (weeping and) mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Iechonias the sonne of Iehell, one of the children of Israel, cryed out, and sayde, O Esdras, we haue sinned against the Lorde God, (because) we haue maryed strange women of the nations of the land.

94 And nowe al Israel hangeth in doubt: We wyl sweare another therefore vnto the Lorde, that we shal put away al our wyues *n. strangers. which we haue taken of the * heathen, with theyr children:

95 Like as it may seeme good to thee, and to al those that obey the lawe of the Lorde.

96 Stande vp, and put it in execution: for to thee both this matter apparteyne, and we are with thee, to adde thee strength.

97 So Esdras arose, and tooke an othe of the cheefe of the priestes and Leuites of al Israel, to do after these thynges: and they sware.

The. ix. Chapter.

7. After Esdras had read the lawe for the strange wiues, 18. They promised to put them away.

THen Esdras rysyng from the courte of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the sonne of Eliasib, 2 And remayned there, and dyd eate no meate, nor dronke * drinke, weeping for the great wyckednesse of the people.

*or, bread. 3 And there was made a proclamation in al Iurie, & at Hierusalem, for al them that were of the captiuitie, that they should gather togeather at Hierusalem,

4 And that who so euer met not there within two or three dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appoynted, theyr cattel shoulde be sealed to the vse of the temple, and he be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were al they of ꝑ tribe of Iuda and Beniamin geathered together at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the nienth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the * courte of the temple, for it was wynter. *or, the large rooms

7 So Esdras arose vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue done vnrighteously, in that ye haue taken * outlandishe wiues to mary- *or, strange age, and so to encrease the sinnes of Israel.

8 And nowe knowledge the same, and gene prayse vnto the Lorde God of our fathers:

9 And performme his wyl, departyng from the heathen of the lande, and from the * *or, strange outlandishe wiues.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and sayd with a loude voyce, Lyke as thou hast spoken, so wyl we do.

11 But forasmuche as the people are many, and wynter season, so that we may not stande without the house, and because this worke is not a thing that can be finished in a day or two, seeyng we be many that haue sinned in these thinges:

12 Ordeyne therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue strange wyues, tary.

13 And let the priestes and iudges come out of euery place in theyr time appoynted, tyll they swage the wath of the Lorde in this businesse.

14 Then Ionathas the sonne of Azahel, and Ezechias the sonne of Thecan, reteined the charge of this matter: and Mosollam, and Leuis, and Sabatheus helped them thereto. C

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, did accordyng to al these thinges.

16 And Esdras the priest chose vnto hym the principal men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the fyrst day of the tenth moneth, they sate togather, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining concerning the men that had maried strange wyues, vntil the newe moons of the fyrst moneth.

18 And of the priestes that had myxte them selues with * outlandish wiues, there were *or, strange founde, 19 Of the sonnes of Iesu the sonne of Iosedec, and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:

20 Whiche offered them selues to put away theyr wyues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for theyr purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaias, and Hieriel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Phaisu, Elionas, Maasias, Elmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Talsas.

23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Dudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy singers, Eleazarus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Tolbantes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phoros, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleasar, and Asbias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Eliasimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Josabad, and Emathetas.

30 Of the sonnes of Hani, Olamus, Maluchus, Israias, Jasubus, Jasael, and Jeremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, Moosias, Laccunus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Seichel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Chosamite.

33 And of the sonnes of Asom, Altaneus, and Mattithias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manasses, and Semei.

34 And of the sonnes of Haani, Jeremias, Mombis, Omairus, Inel, Mamai, and Baelias, and Amos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mammimata, Haius, Elisiasis, Uamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the sonnes of Dzozas, Sesis, Ekril, Ezailus, Samatas, Sambis, Josiphus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Nazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.

36 All these had taken * outlandishe women to mariage, and they put them away with their children.

37 And the priestes and Leuites, and (all) they that were of Israel, dwelt at Hierusalem, and throughout all the lande in the * newe moone of the seuenth moneth: and the children of Israel were in their * dwellynges.

38 And the whole multitude came together with one accorde, into the wyde place before the east gate of the temple.

39 And they spake vnto Esdras the high priest and reader, that he woulde bring the lawe of Moses, whiche had ben geuen of the Lorde God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the high priest brought the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to all the priestes, that they myght heare the lawe in the * newe moone of the seuenth moneth. 2.Esd.3.1

41 And he read in the first wide place that is before the porte of the temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde al vnto the lawe.

42 And Esdras the priest, and reader of the lawe, stoode vp vpon a pulpit of wood, whiche was made therefore:

43 And vpon his right hande, there stoode by hym, Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balalan:

45 Then toke Esdras the booke of the lawe before the whole multitude, (for he was the principal, & had in most honor of them al.)

46 And when he expounded the lawe, they stoode al straight vpon their feete. So Esdras * prayed the Lorde the most high God, the almighty God of hostes.

47 And al the people answered, Amen.

48 And Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Bataias, Autamas, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Iohalabdus, Ananias, and Biatas the Leuites, lift vp their handes, and fell downe on the grounde, and worshypped the Lorde, 49 And taught the lawe of the Lorde, and were earnestly occupied together in the reading therof.

50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the high priest and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, saying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lorde: and al when they heard the lawe, wept.

52 (So Esdras sayd.) Depart your way therfore: and eate the fatte meates, and drynke the sweete drynkes, and sende gyftes vnto them that haue nothyng. 2.Esd.8.

53 For this day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye sory: for the Lorde wyl bryng you to honour.

54 So the Leuites * published al these thinges to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lorde, be not sory.

55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were mery, and sent presentes to them that had nothing, and made very good cheare.

56 For they were as yet * filled with the wordes that had ben taught them, and for the which they had ben assembled.

¶The fourth booke of Eſdras.

The firſt Chapter.

8. The people is reproued for their vnthankfulneſſe. 30. God wyl haue another people, if theſe wyl not be reformed.

1 THe ſecond booke of the Prophete Eſdras, the ſonne of Saraias, the ſõne of Azarias, the ſonne of Helchia, the ſonne of Sadanias, the ſon of Sadoc, the ſonne of Achitob,

2 The ſonne of Achia, the ſonne of Phines, the ſonne of Heli, the ſonne of Amerias, the ſonne of Aziel, the ſonne of Marimoth, the ſonne of Arna, the ſonne of Ozias, the ſonne of Bozith, the ſonne of Abiſei, the ſonne of Phinees, the ſonne of Eleazar,

3 The ſonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, whiche (Eſdras) was priſoner in the lande of Medes, in the raigne of Artaxerxes king of Perſia.

4 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſayeing,

5 Goe thy way, and ſhewe my people their ſinful deedes, and their chyldren their wickednes whiche they haue done agaynſt me, that they may tell their childers chyldren the ſame.

6 For the ſinnes of their fathers are increaſed in them: and why? they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto ſtrange gods.

7 Am not I euen he that brought them out of the lande of Egypt from the houſe of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and deſpiſed my counſels.

8 Pul thou * out then the heare of thy head, and caſt all euil vppon them, for they haue not benne obedient vnto my lawe: but it is a people without (learning and) nurture.

9 Howe long ſhal I forbeare them, vnto whom I haue donne ſo muche good?

10 Many kynges haue I deſtroyed for their ſakes, Pharao with his ſeruantes and all his * power haue I ſmitten downe (and ſlayne.)

11 And the nations haue I deſtroyed (and rooted out) before them, and in the Eaſt haue I brought two landes & people to nought, euen Tyre and Sidon, and haue ſlayne all their enimies.

12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, ſayeing, Thus ſayth the Lorde, 13 I led you through the ſea, and haue geuen you ſure ſtretes ſince the beginning: I gaue you Moſes to be your captayne, and Aaron to be the prieſt:

14 I gaue you lyght in a pyller of fyre, and great woonders haue I donne among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, ſayth the Lorde.

15 Thus ſayth the almightie Lorde, The quales were as a token for you, I gaue you tentes for your * ſuccour, neuertheleſſe in them ye murmured:

16 And * aſcribed not the victorie of your enimies vnto my name, but euer to this day doo ye yet murmure.

17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? When ye were hungry in the wyldernelle, dyd ye not crye vnto me, 18 Sayeing, Why haſt thou brought vs into this wyldernelle to kyl vs? It had ben better for vs to haue ſerued the Egyptians, then to dye in this wyldernelle.

19 Then had I pitie vpon your mournings, and gaue you Manna to eate. So ye dyd eate angels foode.

20 When ye were thirſtie, dyd not I cleaue the rocke, and waters flowed out, to ſatiſfie you withal? for the heate, I couered you with the leaues of the trees.

21 A good pleaſant fat lande gaue I you: I caſt out the Chananites, the Pherezites, and Philiſtines before you: what ſhall I doo more for you, ſayth the Lorde?

22 Thus ſayth the almighty Lorde, When ye were in the wyldernelle * in the water of the Amorites, beyng a thirſte and blaſpheming my name, 23 I gaue you not * fyre for your blaſphemies, but caſt a tree into the water, and made the ryuer ſweete.

24 What ſhall I doo vnto thee, O Jacob? thou Juda wouldeſt not obey me: I wyl turne me to other nations, and vnto thoſe wyl I geue my name, that they may keepe my ſtatutes.

25 Seeyng ye haue forſaken me, I wyl forſake you alſo. When ye deſire me to be gratious vnto you, I ſhal haue no mercie vpon you.

26 When ye call vpon me, I wyl not heare you: for ye haue defyled your handes with blood, and your feete are ſwifte to commit manſlaughter.

27 Ye haue not as it were forſaken me, but your owne ſelues, ſayth the Lorde.

29 That ye woulde be my people, and I ſhoulde be your God, that ye woulde be my chyldren, and I ſhould be your father?

30 I gathered you together, as a henne gathereth her chickens vnder her wings: but nowe, what ſhal I doo vnto you? I wyl caſt you out from my face.

31 When you offer vnto me, I wyll turne my face from you: for your ſolemne feaſte dayes, your newe moones, and your circumciſions haue I forſaken.

32 I ſent vnto you my ſeruantes the prophetes, whom ye haue taken and ſlaine, and torne their bodyes in peeces, whoſe blood I wyll · require of your handes, ſayth the Lorde.

33 Thus ſayth the almightie Lorde, Your houſe ſhalbe deſolate, I wyl caſt you out, as the wynde doth ſtubble:

34 Your chyldren ſhal not · be fruitfull, for they haue deſpiſed my cõmaundement, and donne the thing that is euil before me.

· or, haue procreation.

35 Your houſes wyll I geue to a people that ſhall comme, whiche not hauyng heard of me, yet ſhall beleeue me: to whom I haue ſhewed no ſignes, yet they ſhal doo that I haue commaunded them.

36 They haue ſeene no Prophetes, yet ſhall they · call their ſinnes to remembrance, and knowledge them.

· or, hate their iniquities.

37 I wyll declare the grace that I wyll doo for the people that is to comme, whoſe chyldren reioyce in gladneſſe: and though they haue not ſeene me with bodyly eyes, yet in ſpirite they beleeue the thing that I ſay.

· or, glory.

The.ii. Chapter.

2. The ſynagogue fyndeth fault with her owne chyldren. 18. The Gentiles are called.

THus ſayth the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commaundements by my ſeruants the prophetes, whom they would not heare, but deſpiſed my counſayles.

2 The mother that bare them, ſayth vnto them, Goe your way ye chyldren, for I am a wydowe and forſaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladneſſe, but with ſorowe and heauyneſſe haue I loſt you: for ye haue ſinned before the Lorde your God, and donne that thing that is euyll before him.

4 But what ſhall I nowe doo vnto you? I am a widowe and forſaken: goe your way, O my chyldren, & aſke mercy of the Lorde.

5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a witneſſe ouer the mother of theſe chyldre, which woulde not keepe my couenant:

6 That thou bryng them to confuſion, and their mother to a ſpoyle, that ſhe beare no more.

7 Let their names be ſcattered abroade among the Heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue · thought ſcorne of my couenant.

· or, deſpiſed.

8 Wo be vnto thee Aſſur, thou that hydeſt the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember what I dyd vnto Sodome and Gomorrhe, Gen.19.c.

9 Whoſe lande is turned into cloddes of pitche, and heapes of aſhes: euen ſo alſo, wyll I doo vnto al them that heare me not, ſayth the almighty Lorde.

10 Thus ſayth the Lorde vnto Eſdras, Tel my people that I wyll geue them the kingdome of Hieruſalem, whiche I would haue geuen vnto Iſrael.

11 Their glory alſo wil I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlaſting Tabernacles, which I had prepared for thoſe.

12 They ſhal haue the tree of lyfe at wyll, as in the ſweete ſauour of ointment, they ſhal neyther labour, nor be weery.

13 Goe ye your way, and ye ſhall receyue it: pray that there may be but fewe dayes, and the long tyme may be ſhortened for them: the kyngdome is already prepared for you, therefore watche.

14 Take heauen and earth to witneſſe, for I haue broken the euyl in peeces, and created the good: for I liue, ſayth the Lorde.

15 Mother embrace thy chyldren, and bryng them vp with gladneſſe, make their feete as faſt as a piller: for I haue choſen them, ſayth the Lorde.

16 And thoſe that be dead, wyl I rayſe vp agayne from their places, and bryng them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Iſrael.

17 Feare not thou mother of the chyldren: for I haue choſen thee, ſayth the Lorde.

18 And for thy helpe I ſhall ſende thee my ſeruantes Eſai and Jeremie, after whoſe counſayle I haue ſanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with dyuers fruites.

19 And as many fountaynes flowing with mylwith milke and honye: and seuen mightie mountaynes, whereupon there grow roses and lylies, wherebye I will fil thy children with ioye.

20 Execute iustice for the widowe, iudge for the fatherlesse, geue to the poore, defend the fatherlesse, clothe the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and sycke, laugh not a lame man to scorne, defende the creeple, and let the blind come into the lyght of my clearnesse.

Tobi.i.d. 22 Keepe the olde and young that are within thy walles.

23 Wherlocuer thou findest the dead, take them, and bury them, and I shal geue thee the first place in my reuerrection.

24 Abyde styl, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnesse shal come.

25 Feede thy children, O thou good nurse, stablishe their feete.

26 As for the seruantes whom I haue geuen thee, there shal not one of them perisher for I will seeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weery: for when the day of trouble & heauinesse commeth, other shal weepe and be sorowfull, but thou shalt be mery and plenteous.

E 28 The heathen shalbe ielous (as ie) but they shalbe able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lorde.

29 My handes shal couer thee, so that thy children shal not see the * fyre euerlasting.

* g, hel.

30 Be ioyful, O thou mother, with thy children, for I will deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde.

31 Remember thy children that sleepe, for I shall bring them out of the sydes of the earth, and shewe mercy vnto them: for I am merciful, sayth the Lorde almightie.

32 Embrace thy children until I come, and shewe mercie vnto them: for my * welles runne ouer, and my grace shal not fayle.

* g, fountayne.

33 I Esdras receiued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mount Oreb, that I shoulde goe vnto Israel: but when I came vnto them, they set me at nought, & despised the commaundementes of the Lorde.

34 And therfore I say vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderstande, * Looke for your shephearde, he shal geue you euerlasting rest: for he is nigh at hand that shal come in the ende of the worlde.

* h, kepar.

F 35 Be redy to the reward of the kyngdome, for the euerlasting lyght shal shine vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the shadowe of this world, receiue the ioyfulnesse of your glory: I testifie my sauiour openly.

37 O receiue the gyfte that is geuen you, and be glad, geuing thankes vnto hym that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.

38 Aryse vp, and stande fast, beholde the number of those that be sealed * in the feast of the Lorde,

* or, for.

39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receiued glorious garmentes of the Lorde.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shutte vp * thy purified which haue fulfylled the lawe of the Lorde.

* or, those of thyne that are clothed in white.

41 The number of thy children whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lorde, that thy people which haue ben called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

42 I Esdras sawe vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I coulde not number: and they al praysed the Lord with songues (of thankesgeuing.)

G Apoc. 7.8.

43 And in the middest of them there was a young man of an high stature, more excellyng then all they, and vpon euery one of theyr heades he set crownes, and was euer * higher and higher: which I marueyled at greatly.

* or, & was higher then the other.

44 So I asked the angel, and sayde, Syr, what are these?

45 He answeared and sayd vnto me, These be they that haue put of the mortall clothing, and put on the immortal, and haue * confessed and knowledged the name of God: nowe are they crowned, and receiue the * rewarde,

* o, haue confessed.

46 Then sayd I vnto the angel, What yong person is it that crowneth them, and geueth them the Palmes in theyr handes?

* or, the Palmes.

47 So he answeared and sayd vnto me, It is the sonne of GOD, whom they haue * knowledged in the worlde: then began I greatly to commende them that stoode so stedfastly for the name of the Lorde.

* or, confessed.

48 Then the angel saide vnto me, Goe thy way, and tel my people what maner of thynges, and howe great woonders of the Lorde thy God thou hast seene.

The.iii. Chapeter.

4. The wonderous workes which God did for the people are recited. 31. Esdras marueyleth that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, whiche yet are sinners also.

1 IN the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, I was at Babylon, & lay troubled vpon my bedde, and my thoughtes came vp ouer my hart.

A

2 For I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirite was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearefull woordes to the moste hyghest, and sayde,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the begynning, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thee selfe alone) and gauest commaundement vnto the people,

5 And a body vnto Adam without soule, which was a * creature of thy handes, and hadst breathed in him the breath of lyfe, and so he lined before thee:

* or, woorkemanshyp.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, whither thy right hande had planted or euer the earth brought fruites:

B 7 And vnto him thou gauest commaundement to loue thy way, whiche he transgressed, & immediatly thou appoyntedst death in hym, and in his generations: of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kinredes out of number.

Gene.6.b. 8 And euery people walked after their owne wil, and did wonderful things before thee: and as for thy commaundements, they despised them.

Gene.7.b. 9 But * in processe of tyme, thou broughtest the water flood vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, and destroyedst them.

* or, at tyme appoynted.

10 So that by the flood, that was wrought in eache of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheleſſe, one of them thou leauest, namely Noah, with his household, of whom came al righteous men.

* or, came to passe.

12 And it * happened that when they that dwelt vppon the earth began to multiplie, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodly then the fyrst.

13 Now when they lined so wickedly before thee, thou diddest choose thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

Gene.21.a. Gene.25.c. Gene.32.a. Exod.19.a. Deut.4.b. 14 Hym thou louedst, and vnto hym only thou shewedst thy wyl:

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with hym, promising hym that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

16 And vnto him thou gauest Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Iacob and Esau. As for Iacob, thou diddest choose him to thee, and put backe Esau: and so Iacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou broughtest them vp to the mount Sina,

* or, abassyng.

18 Bowyng downe the heauens, * settyng fast the earth, mouing the grounde, making the deapthes to shake, and * troubling the worlde.

* or, astonishyng.

19 And thy glory went thoughe foure * portes, of fyre, and earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou mightest geue the lawe vnto the seede of Iacob, and * knowledge vnto the generation of Israel.

* or, that which the generation of Israel should kepe with diligence.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked hart, that thy law might bring forth fruite in them.

Rom.5.a.

21 For the first Adam beeryng a wycked hart, trangressed, and was ouercome: and so be al they that are borne of hym.

22 Thus remayned weakenesse styl: and the lawe in the hartes of the people, with the wyckednesse of the roote, so that the good departed away, and the euyl abode styl.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an ende: then diddest thou rayse thee by a seruant called Dauid,

1. Sam.16.a. 2. Sam.5.a.

24 Of whom thou commaundedst to builde a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done nowe many yeeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsoke thee, 26 And in al thinges did euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked hart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thyne enimies.

28 But do they of Babylon then any thing better, that they shoulde therefore haue the dominion in Sion? E

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not be numbred: then my soule sawe many euyll doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my hart fayled me:

30 For I sawe howe thou sufferedst them in such vngodlynesse, and sparedst the wicked deeres: but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enimies, and this hast thou not shewed * me.

* or, it.

31 I can not perceiue howe this * happeneth. Do they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

* or, commeth to passe.

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee, sauyng the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy * couenantes, as Iacob?

* or, testimonies.

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here & there though the heathen, and I see that they be * rich and wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commaundements.

* or, lying in wealth.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednesse nowe in the ballance, and theyrs also that dwel in the worlde: and so shal thy name be no where founde, but in Israel.

35 Or whē was it that they which dwel vpō earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commaundements?

36 Thou shalt find that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not the (other people and) heathen.

The

The.iiii. Chapter.

The angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemeth to enter into the profounde iudgementes of God.

1 AND the angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Ariel, gaue me
2 an answeare,
And sayde, Thy hart hath taken to much vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehende the way of the highest.
3 Then sayde I, Yea my Lorde. And he answeared me, and sayd, I am sent to shew thee three wayes, and to set foorth thee similitudes before thee:
4 Whereof, if thou canst declare me one, I wyl shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shal shewe thee from whence the wicked hart commeth.
5 And I sayde, Tel on my Lorde. Then sayde he vnto me, Go thy way, weygh me the weyght of the fyre, or measure me the blaste of the winde, or call me agayne the day that is past.
6 Then answeared I, and said, What man borne, is able to doo that, that thou shouldest aske such thinges of me?
7 And he sayde vnto me, If I shoulde aske thee how deepe dwellinges are in the middest of the sea, or howe great water springes are in the begynnyng of the deepe, or howe great water springes are vppon the firmament stretching out of the heauens, or which are the * outgoynges of paradise:
8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hel, neyther dyd I euer clymbe vp into heauen.
9 Neuertheless, now haue I asked thee but onely of fyre, and wynde, and of the day wherethrough thou hast trauayled, and from the whiche thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou geue me no answere of them.
10 He sayde moreouer vnto me, Thyne owne thynges, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:
11 Howe shoulde thy vessell then be able to comprehende the way of the highest, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt worlde to vnderstande the corruption that is euident in my sight?
12 Then sayde I vnto hym, It were better that we were not at al, then that we should lyue in wyckednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.
13 He answeared me, and sayde, I came to a forrest in a playne, and the trees toke such a deuice, 14 And sayde, Comme, let vs go, and fight against the sea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet more woods.
15 The floodes of the sea also in lyke maner tooke counsayle, and sayde, Comme, let vs go vp, and fight against the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.
16 The thought (and deuice) of the wood was but vaine (and nothyng woorth) for the fire came and consumed it.
17 The thought of the floodes of the sea, came lykewyse to nought also: for the sande stoode vp and stopped them.
18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt these two, whō wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condemne?
19 I answeared, and sayde, Verely it is a foolishe thought that they both haue deuised: for the ground is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floodes.
20 Then answeared he me, and sayd, Thou hast geuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thee selfe also?
21 For lyke as the grounde is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his floodes: euen so they that dwel vppon earth, may vnderstande nothyng but that whiche is vppon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onlye vnderstande the thinges that are aboue the heauens. Esai.45. John.3.c. 1.Cor.2.b.
22 Then answeared I, and said, I beseche thee, O Lorde, let me haue vnderstanding, 23 For it was not my minde * to be curious of thy hygh thinges, but of suche as we dayly meddle withal, namely, as wherefore Israel is geuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued is geuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written * couenantes come to none effect: * or, to inquire. * or, ordinances.
24 And we passe away out of the worlde as the grashoppers, and our lyfe is a very feare, and we are not woorthy to obteyne mercie.
25 What wyll he doo then vnto his name whiche is called vppon ouer vs? Of these thinges haue I asked question.
26 Then answeared he me, and sayde, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueyle: for the worlde hasteth fast to passe away.
27 And can not comprehende the thinges that are promised to the righteous in tyme to comme; for this worlde is full of vnrighteousnesse and weakenesse. 1.John.5.c.

28 But as touchyng the thinges whereof thou askett me, I wyll tell thee: the euil is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet comme.

29 If the euyll sowe that is sowen, be not turned vpsyde downe, & if the place where the euyl is sowen passe not away: then can not the thyng comme that is sowen with good.

30 For the come of euyl seede hath benne sowen in the hart of Adam from the beginning: and howe muche vngodlynesse hath he brought vp vnto this tyme? and howe muche shall he yet bryng forth vntyl he comme into the barne?

31 Wonder nowe by thee selfe howe great fruites of wickednesse the come of euyl seede bringeth forth.

32 And when the stalkes shalbe cut downe, whiche are without number, howe great a barne shal it fyll?

33 Then I answeared, and sayde, Howe, and when shall these thinges come to passe? Apoc. 6. b. where fore are our yeeres fewe and euyl?

34 And he answeared me, sayeng, Haste not thou to muche about the most byzhest: for thy hastinesse to be about him, is but vaine, though thou dost al that thou canst for it.

35 Dyd not the soules also of the ryghteous aske question of these thinges in their chambers, saying, How long shal I hope on this fashion? when commeth the fruite of my barne, and our rewarde?

36 And vpon this, Jeremiel tharchangel gaue them answeare, & sayde, Euen when the number of the seedes is fylled in you, for he hath weighed the woyld in the ballance.

37 In measure and number hath he measured the tymes, & mooueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntyl the sayd measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answeared I, and sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, nowe are we al full of sinne:

38 And for our sake peraduenture it is that F the barne of the ryghteous is not fulfylled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

40 So he answeared me, and sayde, Go thy way to a woman wyth childe, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine monethes, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then sayd I, No Lord, that can she not. And he sayde vnto me, In the grane, the secrete places of soules are lyke the wombe of a woman.

42 For lyke as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauayle: euen so doo these places haste to deliuer those thinges that are commanded vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shalbe shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answeared I, and sayde, If I haue found fauour in thy sighte, and if it be possible, and if I be meete therefore, 45 Shewe me then whether there be more to comme then is past, or more past then is for to comme.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to comme, I knowe not.

47 And he sayde vnto me, Stande vp vpon the ryghte syde, and I shal expounde the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stoode, and behold an hot burning ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that whē the flame was gonne by, I loked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand.

49 After this there passed by before me a 6 watery cloude, & sent downe muche rayne with a storme: and when the stormie rayne was past, the droppes remayned styl. * or, stil drops came after.

50 Then sayde he vnto me, Consyder with thee selfe: lyke as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as the fyre exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the thinges that are past hath the vpper hande, and the droppes and smoke worke muche in quantitie.

51 Then I prayed, and sayde, May I lyue thynkest thou vntyll that tyme? or what shal happen in those dayes?

52 He answeared me, and sayde, As for the tokens whereof thou askett me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touchyng thy lyfe, I am not sent to shewe therefor: I doo not knowe it.

The. v. Chapter.

1. In the latter tymes trueth shalbe hidde, vnryghteousnesse and all wickednesse shall raygne in the worlde.

1 NEuertheles, as concernyng the tokens (marke this) beholde, the dayes A shall comme, that they whiche dwell vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shalbe hid, and the lande shalbe barren from fayth:

2 But iniquitie shalbe increased aboue that whiche nowe thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago. Matth. 24. 1

3 And the lande that thou seest nowe to haue rule, shalt thou hardly see waste.

4 But if God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shal sodenly shine againe in the nyght, and the moone three tymes in the day:

5 And blood shall droppe out of wood, and the stone shall geue his voyce, and the people shalbe enquieted:

6 And euen he that rule, who they hope not that dwel vpon earth, & the soules shal turne

7 And

7 And the Sonne ſhall the ſhal caſt out the ſame, and make a noyſe in the night, whiche many heare not knowen: but they ſhall all heare the voyce therof.

8 There ſhalbe a confuſion alſo in many places, and the fyre ſhalbe oft ſene out agayne: and the wyld beaſtes ſhal change their places, and monſtrous women ſhal beare monſters,

9 And ſalte waters ſhalbe founde in the frendes, and al frendes ſhal fight one againſt another: then ſhal al wit and vnderſtanding be hydde, and put aſide into their ſecret places:

10 And ſhalbe ſought of many, and yet not be founde: then ſhall vnrighteouſneſſe and
* voluptuouſneſſe haue the vpper hand vp-on earth.

* g. knowledge.

11 One land alſo ſhal aſke another, and ſay,
Is righteouſneſſe that * maketh a man righteous gone through ther? And it ſhall ſay, No.

* g. that pleaſeth. ſhal that man righteouſneſſe.

12 At the ſame time ſhall men hope, but nothing obteyne: they ſhal labour, but their wayes ſhal not proſper.

13 To ſhew thee ſuch tokens I haue leaue:
and if thou wylt pray agayne, and weepe as nowe, and faſt ſeuen dayes, thou ſhalt heare yet greater thinges.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearfulneſſe went through al my body, and my mynd was feeble, ſo that I almoſt ſowned withall:

15 So the angel that was comme to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and ſet me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the ſecond night it came to paſſe, that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, ſayeing, Where haſt thou ben? and why is thy countenance ſo heauie?

17 Knoweſt thou not that Iſrael is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Vp then, and eate, and forſake vs not, as the ſheepheard that leaueth his flocke in the handes of * wicked woolues.

* g. cruel.

19 Then ſayde I vnto him, Goe thy wayes from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard it, and as I ſaide, ſo he went his way from me.

D 20 And ſo I faſted ſeuen dayes, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.

21 And after ſeuen dayes ſo it was, that the thoughtes of my harte were very greeuous vnto me againe:

22 And my ſoule receyued the ſpirite of vn-derſtanding, and I begamne to talke with the moſt highеſt againe:

23 And ſaid, O Lorde, Lorde, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees therof, thou haſt choſen thee one only vineyarde:

24 And of all landes of the whole worlde, thou haſt choſen thee one pyt: and of al flowres of the grounde, thou haſt choſen thee one Lilie:

25 And of all the waueſ of the ſea, thou haſt fylled thee one ryuer: and of al buylded cities, thou haſt halowed Sion vnto thee ſelfe:

26 And of al the foules that are created, thou haſt named thee one doue: and of al the cat-tel that are made, thou haſt prouided thee one ſheepe:

27 And among al the multitudes of peoples, thou haſt gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedſt, thou gaueſt a lawe that is proued of al.

28 And nowe, O Lord, why haſt thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou haſt * prepared others, and why haſt thou ſcattered thy one only people among many?

* or, ſet.

E

29 Whiche treade them downe, yea whiche haue euer withſtande thy promiſes, and neuer beleeued thy couenantes.

30 If thou vnderſtandeſt ſo much hate thy people, yet ſhouldeſt thou punniſh them with thine owne handes.

31 Nowe when I had ſpoken theſe wordes, the angel that came to me the nyght afore,
was ſent vnto me,

32 And ſaide vnto me, Heare me, and I wyl inſtructe thee: hearken to the thyng that I ſay, and I ſhal tel thee more.

And I ſayde, Speake on my Lorde. Then 33 ſayde he vnto me, Thou art ſore troubled in mynde for Iſraels ſake: loueſt thou that people better then he that made them?

And I ſayd, No Lorde, but of very greefe 34 (and compaſſion) haue I ſpoken: for my enemies payne me euery houre, becauſe I
* woulde haue experience of the way of the moſt highеſt, and ſeeke out parte of his iu-gement.

* or, comprehende.

35 And he ſaide vnto me, That thou * mayeſt not. And I ſayde, Wherefore Lord? wherunto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my grue, that I myght not haue ſeene the miſerie (and trouble) of Jacob, and the wearying out of the ſtocke of Iſrael?

* or, canſt not.

36 And he ſayde vnto me, Number me the thynges that are not yet come, gather me togeather the droppes that are ſcattered abroade, make me the flowres greene againe that are wythered,

F

37 Open me the places that are cloſed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are ſhut vp, ſhewe me the image of a voyce:
and then I wyl declare to thee the thyng that thou laboureſt to knowe.

38 And

F 38 I said I saydst, O Lorde, howe that thou may knowe these thinges, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am vnwise: howe maye I then speake of these thinges, in the which thou art best me?

40 Then sayde he vnto me, Like as thou canst doo none of these thinges that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the end the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayde, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou wyth vnto them that be returned vnto the ende: and what shall they doo that haue been before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shal come after vs?

42 And he sayde vnto me, I wyll liken my iudgement vnto a ryng: Like as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answered, and sayde, Couldest thou not make those that haue been made, and beynge, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the sooner?

* or, before. 44 Then answered he me, and sayde, The creature may not haste * aboue the maker, neither may the worlde holde them at once that shalbe created therein.

45 And he sayde, As thou hast sayde vnto thy seruant, that thou whiche quickenest all thinges, hast geuen life at once to the creature (or woorke) that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it nowe also beare them that nowe be present at once.

G 46 And he sayde vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bringest fourth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another? Bidde her therefore to bring fourth tenne children at once.

47 And I said, She can not: but must doo it by distances of time.

48 Then saide he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided the distance of time the childebedde of the earth, for those that be sowen vppon her.

49 For like as a young child may not bring fourth the thinges that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordeyned * the world which I created.

* or, the tyme.

50 And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast nowe geuen me the way, I will proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast tolde me that she is young, drawyth she nowe nigh vnto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Aske a woman that beareth children, and she shal tel thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast nowe brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shall answere thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe fayleth) are otherwise.

54 Consyder nowe thee selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then ye, as the creatures which nowe begyn to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then saide I, Lorde, I beseeche thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy syght, shew thy seruant by whom thou visitest thy * creature?

* or, bowelmanhed.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. God hath foreseene al thynges in his secrete counsayle, and is auctheur therof, and hath created them for his chyldren. 25. The felicitie of the age to come.

1 AND he sayde vnto me, In the begynnyng when the * grounde was made, before the borders of the worlde stoode, or euer the wyndes blewe,

A * or, the paste of the earth.

2 Before it thundred and lightened, or euer the fundations of Paradise were layde,

3 Before the fayre flowres were seene, or euer the mooueable powers were established, before the innumerable * multitude of angels were gathered togeather,

* or, numbers.

4 Or euer the highnesses of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chymneys in Sion were hot,

5 And or the present yeres were sought out, and or euer the inuentions of them that now sinne, were * put aside, before they were sealed that haue geathered fayth for a treasure:

* or, taken away.

6 Then did I consyder and ponder al these thinges, and they al were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shalbe the * partyng asunder of the tymes? or when shalbe the ende of the first, and the begynnyng of it that followeth?

B * or, division.

8 And he sayde vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of hym, Iacobs hande helde first the heele of Esau.

9 For Esau is the ende of this worlde, and Iacob

Jacob is the beginning of it that holdeth 26 The hand of man, betwyxt the heele and the hande: Other question thynge aske thou not.
27 I answered then, and sayde, O Lorde,
Lorde, yf I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee * shewe thy seruaunt the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last nyght.
13 So he answeared, & sayd vnto me, Stande vp vppon thy feete, and heare * a perfecte voyce and sounde.
14 There shal come a * great motion, but the place where thou standest, shal not be mouued.
15 And therfore whē * thou hearest the wor-des, be not afrayde: for of the ende shal the worde be, and of the fundation of the earth shal it be vnderstande.
16 And why? the worde thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the ende.
17 And it happened, that when I had heard it, I stood vp vpon my feete, & hearkened:
and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it, was lyke the sound of many waters,
18 And it sayde, Beholde, the dayes come, that I wyl begynne to drawe nygh, and to visite them that dwel vpon earth:
19 And wyl begynne to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shalbe fulfylled.
20 And when the worlde that shal vanishe away shalbe ouersealed, then wyl I doo these tokens: the bookes shalbe opened before the * firmament, and they shal see al-togeather.
D 21 And the children of a yere old shal speake with their voyces, the women with childe shal bring forth vntimely children of three or foure monethes olde, and they shal lyue, and be rayled vp.
22 And sodainely shall the sowen places ap-peare as the vnsowen, the full storehouses shal sodainely be founde emptie:
23 And the trumpet shal geue a sound, which when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastily afrayde.
Esa.27.2. Ioel.2.10.
24 At that time shall frendes fyght one a-gaynst another lyke enimies, and the earth shal stand in feare with them: the springes of the welles shall stande styl, and in three houres they shal not runne.
25 Who so euer remaineth scom all these thynges that I haue tolde thee, shal es-capt, and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.
26 And the men that are receyued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their byrth: and the hart of the * inhabiters shalbe changed, & turned into another meanyng.
27 For euyl shalbe put out, and deceite shal be quenched.
28 As for faythe, it shal florishe, corruption shalbe vndercome, and the truth whiche hath benne so long without fruite, shalbe
* declared.
29 And when he talked with me, beholde,
I looked a litle and a litle vpon hym, before whom I stoode:
30 And then he sayde vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.
31 Yf thou wylt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes agayne, I shal tel thee more thynges, and greater then before, whiche I haue hearde by the day.
32 For thy voyce is hearde before the hyghe-est: for why? the myghtie hath seene thy righteous dealyng, he hath seene also thy chastitie whiche thou hast had euer sins thy youth:
33 And therfore hath he sent me to shewe thee al these thynges, and to say vnto thee,
Be of good comfort, and feare not:
34 And haste not with the times that are past, F to thynke vpon thynges, that thou mayst not hasten from the latter times.
35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept agayne, and fasted seuen dayes in lyke maner, that I myght fulfyl the three weekes which he tolde me.
36 And in the eyght nyght was my harte vexed within me agayne, and I beganne to speake before the hyghest.
37 For my spirite was greatly set on fyre, and my soule was in distresse:
38 And I sayde, O Lorde, thou spakest vnto Gene.1.2.
thy creature from the begynning, euen the first day, & sayedst, Let heauen and earth be made: & thy worde was a perfect worke.
39 And then was there the spirite, and the darknesse were yet on euery syde, and silence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.
40 Then commaundedst thou a * fayre lyght to come frooth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be scene.
41 Vpon the second day thou madest the spi-rite of the firmament, and commaundedst it to parte a sunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that the one parte might remaine aboue, & the other beneeth.
42 Vpon the thirde day thou boyghtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: three partes hast thou layed vp, and kept them, to the 45 As there ran thy woorde went for yt, the woorke was made,

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vnchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smel: And this was done the thirde day.

Gen. 1. d. 45 Upon the fourth day thou commaundedst that the firmit shulde geue his shyne, and the moone her lyght, the starres dyddest thou set in order:

Deut. 4. c. 46 And geuest them a charge to doo seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

Gene. 1. c 47 Upon the fyfth day, thou saydest vnto the lowlyest parte where the waters were gathered, that it shulde bryng forth (diuers) beastes, foules, and fyshes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water & without soule, brought forth lyuyng thinges at the commaundement of GOD, that al * people myght prayse thy wonderous woorkes.

* or, the nations.

49 Then dyddest thou ordeyne two soules: the one thou callest Enoch, & the other Leuiathan.

50 And dyddest separate the one from the other, for the seuenth part (namely, where the wat er was gathered togeather) might not holde them both.

* or, Behemoth.

51 Vnto * Enoch thou gauest one parte, whiche was dryed vp the therde day, that he shoulde dwel in the same part, wherein are a thousande hylles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth parte, namely the moyste, and hast kept hym to deuour what thou wylt, and when.

53 Upon the syxth day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee it shoulde bryng forth beastes, cattel, and al that creepe:

54 And beside this, Adam also, whom thou madest lorde of al thy creatures, of hym come we al, & the people also whom thou hast chosen (specially vnto thy selfe.)

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lorde (that I might shewe howe)

56 As for the other people whiche also come of Adam, thou hast sayde that they are nothyng, but be lyke vnto spyttle, and hast likened the abundaunce of them vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And nowe, O Lorde, beholde, the heathen whiche haue ever benne reputed as nothyng, haue begun to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance of the worlde in possession? howe long shal this endure?

The. vii. Chapter.

5. Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12. God aduertiseth al in time. 28. The comming and death of Christe. 32. The resurrection and last iudgment.

1 AND when I had made an ende of speakyng these woordes, there was sent vnto me an angel, whiche had benne sent vnto me also the nyghtes afore: A

2 And he sayde vnto me, Up Esdras, and heare the woordes that I am come to tel thee.

3 And I sayd, Speake on (Lord) my God. Then sayde he vnto me, The sea is set in a wyde place, that it myght be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narowe and smal, lyke a ryuer.

5 Who then coulde goe into the sea to looke vpon it, & to rule it? If he went not through the narowe, howe might he come into the brode?

6 Item * another. A citie is buylded, and set vpon a brode feelde, and is ful of all good thynges: * or, again

7 The entrannce thereof is narowe, and B is set in a dangerous place to fal, lyke as if there were a fyre at the ryght hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one steraight path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fyre and the water, so smal that there could but one man goe there at once:

9 If this citie nowe were geuen to a man for an inheritance, & he neuer went through the perilous way before, howe woulde he receyue his inheritance?

10 And I sayde, It is so Lorde. Then sayde he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thyng ordeyned as nowe is done.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narowe, ful of sorowe and trauayle: they are but few and euil, ful of perils, and labour.

13 For the entrances of the faye worlde were wide & sure, and brought immortal fruite.

14 If then they whiche are lyuyng, euer C not not diligently thought these strayt and brittle thynges, they can not receiue the thyngs so layd vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thy self then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou moued, whereas thou art but mortal?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine hart, the thinges that are to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayd I, O Lorde, Lorde, thou hast ordeyned in thy lawe, that the righteous shoulde inherite these thinges, but that the vngodly should perishe:

18 Neuertheles, the righteous shall suffer strayte thinges, and hope for wyde: for they that haue liued vngodly, and suffered strait thinges, shal not see the wyde.

19 And he saide vnto me, There is no iudge abone God, and none that hath vnderstanding abone the highest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this lyfe, because they despise the lawe of God that is * set before them:

21 For God hath geuen strayt commaundement to suche as came, so oft as they came, what they should doo to haue life, and what they should keepe to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheles, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine thinges:

23 And deceyued them selues by wicked dedes, and denyed the power of the most high, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his lawe haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinances haue they not benne saythfull and stedfast, and haue not performed his woorkes.

25 And therefore Esdras, for the emptie, are the emptie thinges, and for the full, are the full thinges.

26 Beholde, the tyme shal come, that these tokens whiche I haue tolde ther, shal come to passe, and the bryde shall appeare, and the commyng forth shalbe seene, that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And who so euer is deliuered from the foresayd euylles, shal see my woonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shalbe openly declared, with those that be with him: and they that remaine, shalbe merry within foure hundred yeres.

29 After these same yeeres shall my sonne Christ dye, and al men that haue life:

30 And the worlde shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, lyke as in the forefudgementes, so that no man shal remayne.

31 And after seuen dayes the worlde that yet awaketh not, shalbe rayled vp, and that shal dye that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shal restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the duste those that dwel therein in silence, and the secrete places shall deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shalbe openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, & al misserie shall vanishe away, and long suffering * shalbe gathered together.

34 But the iudgement shall continue, the trueth shal remayne, and fayth shal waxe strong, 35 The woorke shal folowe, and the reward shalbe shewed, the * righteousnesse shall watche, and the vnrighteousnesse shal beare no rule.

36 Then sayde I, Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wyldernesse, 37 And they that came after him, for Israel, in the tyme of Achas and Samuel,

38 And Dauid for the destruction, and Solomon for them that came into the sanctuarie, 39 And Helias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead, that he myght lyue, 40 And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in lyke maner which haue prayed for many.

41 Euen so now, seyng the * corrupt is growen vp, and wickednesse encreases, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shall it not be so nowe also?

42 He answeared me, and sayde, This present lyfe is not the end, oft tymes honour is reteyned in itt therfore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of doome shalbe the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption shalbe vanished:

44 Intemperancie shalbe loosed, infidelitie be cut of, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answeared then, and sayd, This is my first and last sayeing, that it had ben better not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was geuen hym, to haue kept him that he should not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for menne nowe in this present tyme to lyue in beastinesse, and after death to * looke for punishment?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done? For though it was thou y sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we al that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortal * tyme, whereas we doo the woorkes that bring death:
50 And that there is promised vs an euerlasting hope, whereas our selues are euyll and vaine:
51 And that there is laide vp for vs dwellings of health and saftie, wheras we haue liued wickedly:
52 And that the glorye of the highest is kept to defende them whiche haue led a patient life, whereas we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of al?
53 And that there should be shewed a paradise, whose fruite endureth for euer, wherin is * freedome and medicine, wherein we shal not goe in?
54 For we haue walked in vnpleasant places.
55 And that the faces of them whiche haue abstained, shall shyne aboue the starres: whereas our faces shalbe blacker then darknesse?
56 For while we liued and dyd vnrighteously, we consydered not that we shoulde suffer therefore after death.
57 Then answeared he me, and said, This is the maner of the bataile, which man that is borne vpon the earth shal fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he geat the victorie, he shal receiue the thing that I say.
59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake vnto the people while he liued, sayeing, Choose thee life, that thou mayest liue.
60 Neuertheless they beleeued hym not, neither the prophetes after hym, no nor me which haue said vnto them.
61 That beastlinesse shoulde not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioye is for to come ouer those * that haue suffered them selues to be enfourmed in saluation.
62 I answeared then, and saide, I knowe Lorde, that the highest is called mercyfull, in that he hath mercy vpon them which are not yet come vnto that worlde, 63 And vppon those also that walke in his lawe.
64 And that he is patient: for he long sufferreth those that haue sinned, as his creatures.
65 And that he is liberall to geue whereas neede requireth.
66 And that he is of great mercy: for he passeth in mercy muche both those that are present, and that are past, and also them which are for to come.
67 For if he multiplied not his mercies, the worlde coulde not continue his beyng with those that haue inheritance therein.
68 He * giueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they whiche haue done euyl, might be eased from their wickednes, the ten thousandth part of men shoulde not remaine liuing.
69 And if he, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his woorde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There should be very fewe leaft, peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

The. viii. Chapter.

6. The woorkes of God are excellent. 20. Esdras prayeth for hym and for his people. 39. The promise of saluation to the iust.

1 AND he answered me, saying, The most A highest made this worlde for many, but the worlde to come for fewe.
2 I wyl tell thee a similitude Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it geueth muche * moulde whereof earthen vessels are made, but litle of it that golde commeth of: euen so is it with the woorke of this worlde.
3 There be many created, but fewe shalbe saued.
4 Then answeared I, and said, Then swalowe vp the wyt (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding:
5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to geue eare, and willing to prophesie: for thou hast no longer space but this lyfe geuen thee.
6 O Lorde, if thou suffer not thy seruant to intreate thee, that thou mayest geue seede vnto our hart, and buylde our vnderstanding, that there may come fruit of it, wherby eche man may liue that is corrupt: then who shal step foorth in the place of man?
7 For thou art alone, & we al one workman- B ship of thy handes, like as thou hast said.
8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou geuest the members, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine monethes doeth thy woorke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her:
9 But the thinges that keepeth, and that is kept, shal both be preserued: and when the tyme commeth, the wombe preserued deliuereth vp the thinges that growe in it.
10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the breastes, to geue milke vnto the fruite of the breastes:
11 That the thing whiche is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a tyme, tyll thou disposest & ordrest it with thy mercy.
12 And then thou bryngest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy lawe, and reformest it with thy vnderstanding, 13 * Mortifyest it as thy creature, and makest makeſt it lyuyng as thy wooꝛke.

14 Seeyng then that thou deſtroyeſt hym whiche with ſo great labours is created and faſhioned thoughe thy commaundement, thou couldeſt lyghtly oꝛdeyne alſo that the thyng whiche is made, myght be preſerued.

15 Nowe therfoꝛe Loꝛde, I wyl ſpeake (foꝛ concernyng al men in general thou ſhalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, foꝛ whoſe ſake I am ſoꝛie,

16 And thine inheritance, foꝛ whoſe cauſe I mourne, and Iſrael foꝛ whom I am woful, and Jacob foꝛ whoſe ſake I am greeued:

17 Therefoꝛe begynne I to pꝛay befoꝛe thee foꝛ my ſelfe, and foꝛ them: foꝛ I ſee the faultes of vs that dwel in the lande.

18 But I haue heard the * ſwyftneſſe of the iudge whiche is to come.

19 Therefoꝛe heare my voyce, and vnderſtande my wooꝛdes, and I ſhal ſpeake befoꝛe thee. This is the begynnyng of the wooꝛdes of Eſdras, befoꝛe he was taken vp:

20 O Loꝛde, thou that dwelleſt in euerlaſtyngneſſe, whiche beholdeſt from aboue thynges in the heauen and in the ayre:

21 Whoſe thꝛone is ineſtimable, whoſe glorie (and maieſtie) may not be cõpꝛehended, befoꝛe whom the hoſtes of angelles ſtande with tremblyng,

22 Whoſe keepyng is turned in wynde and fyre, whoſe wooꝛde is true, whoſe ſayinges are ſtedfaſte, whoſe commaundement is ſtrong, whoſe oꝛdinance is feareful,

23 Whoſe looke dyꝛeth vp the deapthes, whoſe wꝛath maketh the mountaynes to melte away, * and whoſe truth beareth witneſſe:

24 O heare the pꝛayer of thy ſeruant, and marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

25 Foꝛ whyle I lyue, I wyl ſpeake, and ſo long as I haue vnderſtandyng, I wyl anſweare.

26 O looke not vpon the ſynnes of thy people, rather then on them which ſeꝛue thee in truth.

27 Haue no reſpecte vnto the wicked ſtudies of the Heathen: but to the deſyꝛe of thoſe that keepe thy teſtimonies with afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon thoſe that haue walked faignedly befoꝛe thee: but remember them whiche accoꝛdyng to thy wyl haue knowen thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy wyll to deſtroy them, whiche haue had beaſtly maners: but to looke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy lawe.

30 Take thou no indignation at them which * are wooꝛſe then beaſtes: but loue them that alway put their truſt in thy righteouſneſſe and glorie.

31 Foꝛ we and our fathers haue al the ſame ſickneſſe (and diſeaſe:) but becauſe of vs ſinners, thou ſhalt be called merciful.

32 Foꝛ yf thou haſt mercie vppon vs, thou ſhalt be called merciful to vs that haue no wooꝛkes of ryghteouſneſſe.

33 Foꝛ the ryghteous whiche haue layde vp many good wooꝛkes togeather, ſhal out of theyꝛ deedes receyue rewarde.

34 But what is man that thou ſhouldeſt take diſpleaſure at hym? Oꝛ what is this coꝛruptible and mortall generation, that thou ſhouldeſt be ſo rough towarde hym?

35 Foꝛ of a trueth, there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the * faythfull, there is none whiche hath not done amiſſe.

36 Foꝛ in this, O Loꝛde, thy ryghteouſneſſe and thy goodneſſe ſhalbe prayſed (and declared) yf thou be merciful vnto them whiche * are not riche in good wooꝛkes.

37 Then anſweared he me, and ſayd, Some thinges haſt thou ſpoken aright, and accoꝛdyng vnto thy wooꝛdes it ſhalbe.

38 Foꝛ I wyl not beryly conſyder ẏ wooꝛkes * of them which haue ſinned befoꝛe death, befoꝛe iudgement, befoꝛe deſtruction:

39 But I wyl reioyce ouer the wooꝛke and thought of the ryghteous, I wyl remember alſo the pilgrimage, the ſaluation, and the rewarde that they ſhal haue.

40 Lyke as I haue ſpoken nowe, ſo ſhal it come to paſſe.

41 Foꝛ as the huſbandman ſoweth muche ſeede vpon the ground, and planteth many trees, & yet alway the thyng that is ſowen oꝛ planted, is not al kept ſafe, neyther doeth it all take roote: euen ſo is it of them that are ſowen in the wooꝛlde, they ſhal not al be ſaued.

42 I anſwearedthen, and ſayd, Yf I haue founde grace, then let me ſpeake.

43 Lyke as the huſbandmans ſeede periſheth, yf it come not vp, and receyue not thy rayne in due ſeaſon, oꝛ yf there come to muche rayne vpon it, and coꝛrupte it:

44 Euen ſo periſheth man alſo, whiche is created with thy handes, and is lyke vnto thyne owne image, and to thee ſelfe, foꝛ whoſe ſake thou haſt made al thynges, and likened him vnto the huſbandmans ſeede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, (O lord) but ſpare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thyne owne inheritãce: foꝛ thou wilt be mercyful vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, & sayd, Thinges present, are for the present, and thinges to come, for suche as be to come.

47 For thou lackest yet muche, seeyng thou canst love my creature above me: but I have oft tymes drawen nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unryghteous.

48 In this also thou art marvelous before the hyghest.

49 In that thou hast humbled thee selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not judged thy selfe woorthy to be much glorified among the ryghteous.

50 For many and great miseries remaine for them that in the later time shal dwel in the worlde, because they * have walked in great pryde.

* or, shal walke.

51 But understande thou for thee selfe, and seeke out the glorie for such as be like thee.

52 For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of lyfe is planted, the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made redie, the citie is buylded (for you) & rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnesse and wysedome.

53 The roote of evyl is * marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hyd from you, and unto hel fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.

* or, sealed up.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concernyng the multitude of them that perishe.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the hyghest, thought scorne of his lawe, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreover, they have trodden downe his ryghteous,

58 And sayde in their hart, that there is no God, * yea and that wittyngly, for they dye.

Psal. 14. a.

* or, for al they knewe that they should dye.

59 For like as the thing that I have spoken of, is made redie for you, euen so is thyrste and payne prepared for them: for it was not * his wyl that man shoulde * come to nought.

* or, gods.

* or, perish.

60 But they which be created, have defyled the name of hym that made them, and are unthankful unto hym which prepared lyfe for them.

61 And therefore is my judgement nowe at hande.

62 These thynges have I not shewed unto al men, but unto fewe, namely unto thee, and to suche as be like thee. Then answeared I, and sayde, 63 Behold, O Lord, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the woonders whiche thou wylt begynne to doo in the last times: but at whas time (and when) thou hast not shewed me.

The. ix. Chapter.

5. Al thynges in this world have a begynnyng and an ende. 10. Tormentes for the wicked after this lyfe. 15. The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

1 HE answeared me then, & sayde, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one parte of the tokens come to passe, which I have told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou understande, that it is the very same time wherin the hyghest wil begynne to visite the worlde whiche he made.

3 Therefore when there shalbe seene an earthquake, and uproare of the people in the worlde.

4 Then shalt thou wel understand that the moste hyghest spake of those thynges from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the begynnyng.

5 For like as al that is made in the worlde, hath a begynnyng and ende, and the end is manifest:

6 Euen so, the times also of the highest have playne begynnynges in wonders & signs, and ende in * woorkyng and in tokens.

* or, effectes.

7 And every one that shalbe saued, & shalbe able to escape by his woorkes, and by fayth, wherein ye have beleeued,

& miracles. B

8 Shalbe preserued from the sayde perils, and shal see my * saviour in my lande, and within my borders: for I have halowed * me from the worlde.

* or, salvation.

* or, my sitte.

9 Then shal they pitie them selves, whiche now have abused my wayes: and they that have cast them out despitefully, shal dwel in paynes.

10 For suche as in their lyfe have receyued benefites, and have not knowen me:

11 And they that have abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet * freedome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendement and conuertion, understood not, but despised it:

* or, liberte.

12 The same must knowe it after death in payne.

13 And therefore be thou no more * careful howe the ungodly shalbe punished: but enquire howe the righteous shalbe saued, and whose the worlde is, and for whom the worlde is, and when (it is.)

* or, curious to knowe.

14 Then answeared I, and sayde,

C

15 I have sayde before, and nowe I speake, and and will speake it also hereafter: that there be many mo of them which perishe, then of them which shalbe saued:

16 Lyke as the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the seede is, so is also the seede: as the flowres be, so are the colours also: suche as the workman is, suche is also the worke: and as the husbandman is him selfe, so is his husbandry also: for it was the tyme of the worlde.

18 And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or ever the world was made, wherin they shoulde dwel: then was there no man that spake against me.

19 For then every one (obeyed) but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual seede, and by a lawe wherevnto they can not rid them selues.

20 So I considered the world, and beholde there was perill, because of the * thoughts that were come into it.

*a thoughts

D 21 And I sawe, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a * winebery of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

*a grape tre cluster

22 Let the multitude perysshe then whiche are growen vp in vayne, and let my grape (and wynebery) be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheles, yf thou wylt ceasse yet seuen dayes mor, but thou shalt not fast in them:

24 Goe thy way then into a feeld of flowres, where no house is builded, and eate only of the flowres of the feelde, taste no flesshe, drinke no wine, but eate flowres only,

25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so wil I come and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the feelde whiche is called Ardath, lyke as he commaunded me, and there I sate among the flowres, & did eate of the hearbes of the feelde, & the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my hart was vexed within me lyke as before.

E 28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and sayde, 29 O Lord, thou that shewest thee selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thee selfe vnto our fathers in the wildernesse, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:

30 And thou spakest, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes thou seede of Jacob.

31 For beholde, I sowe my lawe in you, and it shal bring fruite in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the law, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinances and statutes, and the fruite of thy lawe did not appeare, neither could it: for why? it was thyne.

33 For they that receiued it, perysshed, because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them. Deut. 32. f.

34 And loe, it is a custome when the grounde receiueth seede, or the sea a shyp, or a vessel meate and drinke: that when it perysheth, or is broken, wherein a thing is sowen, or wherein any thyng is put,

35 The thinges also perishe and are broken F whiche are sowen or put therein and receiued, and the thinges that are receiued, remayne not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.

36 For we that haue receiued the lawe, perishe in sinne, and our hart whiche also receiued the lawe:

37 Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remayneth in his force. Esai. 40. e.

38 And when I spake these thynges in my hart (after this manner) I looked about me with mine eyes, and vpon the ryght syde I sawe a woman which mourned sore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was greeued in hart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head. 2. Tim. 2. a. 4. Esd. 10. B

39 Then let I my thoughts goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And sayde, Wherefore wepest thou? why art thou so sory in mynde?

41 And she sayd vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewaile mee selfe, and take yet my sorowe: for I am sore vexed in my mynde, and brought very lowe. G

42 And I sayd vnto her, What ayleth thee? (Or who hath done any thyng to thee?) tell me.

43 She sayde vnto me, I thy seruant haue ben vnfruiteful, and barren, and haue had no childe, though I haue had an husbande thirtie yeeres.

44 And these thirtie yeeres I do nothyng els day and night, and al houres, but make my prayer to the highest.

45 After thirtie yeeres God hearde me thy handmaiden, loked vpon my miserie, consydered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne: and I was glad of him, so was my husband also, and al my neyghbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almyghtie.

46 And I nourished hym with great trauayle.

47 So when he grewe vp, and came to the tyme that he should * haue a wyfe, I made a feast. *gr. take.

The.x. Chapter.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto hym, commune togeather.

A 1 AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe and dyed.

2 Then ouerthrewe we al the lyghtes, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me, then tolde I my rest vnto the seconde day at night.

3 And when they had al left of to comfort me, that I should be quiet: then I rose vp by night and fledde, and am come hyther into this feelde, as thou seest,

4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remayne here, and neyther to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast vntil I dye.

5 Then let I my meditation and thoughtes fal that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, saying,

6 Thou foolishe woman aboue al other, seest thou not our heauinesse and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?

B 7 Howe Sion our mother is all woful and sory, and how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?

8 Seyng we be all nowe in heauinesse, and make our mone, for we al be sorowful: art thou so heauie for one sonne?

9 Demaund the earth, and she shal tel thee, that it is she whiche ought (by reason) to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning al men are borne of her, and other shal come: and beholde, they walke almost al into destruction, and the multitude of them shalbe rooted out.

11 Who should then (by reason) make more mourning, then she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou whiche art sory but for one?

12 But yf thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not lyke the mourning of the earth: for I haue lost the fruite of my * body, whiche I brought forth with heauynesse, and bare with sorowes:

13 But the earth is accordyng to the maner of the earth, and the presente multitude goeth agayne into her, * as it is come to passe:

C 14 Then say I vnto thee, Lyke as thou hast borne with trauayle and sorowe, euen so the earth also from the begynnyng geueth her fruite vnto man, euen to hym that laboureth her.

15 And therefore withholde thy sorowe and heauinesse by thee selfe, and loke what happeneth vnto thee beare it * strongly.

16 For if thou iudgest the marke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsayle in time, thou shalt be commended herein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy husbande.

18 And she sayde vnto me, That wyl I not do: I will not goe into the citie, but here wil I dye.

19 So I communed more with her, & sayd,

20 Do not so, but be counselled, and folowe me: for howe many falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorowe of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is laid D waste, our aulter broken, our temple destroyed,

22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songues are put to silence, our mirth is vanished away, ✠ light of our candelsticke is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, al our holy thynges are defiled, & the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonored: our children are put to shame, our priestes are brent, our Leuites are carped away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wyues rauished, our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake:

23 And Sion our seale, whiche is the greatest of all, is loosed vp from her worthynes for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake of thy great heauynesse, & put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mighty may be merciful vnto thee, and that the highest may geue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauayle.

25 And when I was talkyng with her, her face and beautie shined sodaynely, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it myght be.

26 And immediatly she cast out a great voice, very fearful, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the grounde and fundation: then was I afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, 28 Where is Uriel the angel, whiche came E to me at the first? For he hath caused me to 4.Esd.4 come in many consyderations and vayn thoughtes, and myne ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And

* or, wõbe.

* or, as it is accustomed.

Hebr. 12. a. * or, constantly.

30 And lo, I lay as one that had benne dead, and myne vnderstandyng was altered: and he tooke me by the ryght hande, and comforted me, and set me vppon my feete, and sayde vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thyne vnderstandyng vexed, and the vnderstanding of thy hart? and wherefore art thou sory?

32 And I sayde, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue donne accordyng vnto thy wordes, I went into the feelde, and there haue I seene thinges, and set that I am not able to expresse.

33 He sayde vnto me, Stande vp, and be manly, and I shal gene thee exhortation.

34 Then sayde I, Speake on to me, my Lorde, forsake me not, lest I dye therowe my rashnesse:

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I doo not knowe.

36 Or is my vnderstandyng deceyued, or sooth my soule dreame?

37 Nowe therefore I beseeche thee, that thou wylt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answeared me then, and sayde, Heare me, and I shall enfourme thee, and tel thee wherefore thou art afrayde: for the hyghest hath opened many secrete thynges vnto thee, 39 He hath seene that thy * way is ryght, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. * a.pur-pol.

40 And therefore vnderstande the vision whiche thou sawest a litle while agoe, after this maner.

41 Thou sawest a woman mournyng, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the lykenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie buylded:

43 And where she tolde thee of the fal of her sonne, so is this the solution of it, 44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and whereas she tolde thee, euen she whom thou seest nowe as a citie buylded.

45 And as touchyng that she sayde vnto thee, that she hath benne thirtie yeeres vnfruitefull and barren: those are the thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offring made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Solomon buylded the citie, and offered offeringes: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And where as she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was ỳ dwellyng in Hierusalem.

48 But where as she told thee, that her sonne dyed as his chance was, when she came into her chamber, that is the fal that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde, when thou sawest her lyke one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these thinges which haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most hyghest seeth that thou art sory in thy mynde, and sufferest from thy whole hart for her, and so hath he shewed thee her clearenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remayne in the feelde, where no houle was buylded.

52 For I knewe that the hyghest would shewe this vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commaunded thee to goe into the feelde where no fundation nor buylding is.

54 For in the place where the hyghest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans buyldyng be able to stande.

55 And therfore feare not, and let not thyne hart be afrayde, but goe thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnesse of the buylding, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as muche as thyne eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest as the fewe.

58 But to morowe at nyght thou shalt remayne here:

59 And so shalt the highest shewe thee visions of the high thinges, whiche he wil doo vnto them that dwell vppon earth in the last dayes. So I sleapt the same night and another, like as he commaunded me.

The. xi. Chapter.

I. The vision of an Egle comming foorth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37. Of a Lion comming out of the forrest.

1 THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde there came vp from the sea an Eagle, whiche had twelue feathered wingtes, and three heades:

2 And I sawe, and beholde, she spread her wynges ouer al the earth, and al the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and gathered them together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers, and smal.

4 But her heades remayned styl, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet reasted it with the residue.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Eagle flewe with her wynges, and raigned vpon earth, & ouer al them that dwelt vppon the earth.

6 And I sawe that al things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake agaynst her, no not one creature vpō earth.

B 7 I sawe also that the Egle stood vp vppon her clawes, and * gaue a sounde with her fethers, & a voyce, saying after this maner, * or, spake to her fethers, saying.

8 Watch not altogether, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watche by course.

9 But let ꝑ heades be preserued for the last.

10 Neuertheles, I sawe that the voyce went not out of her heades, but from the middest of her body.

11 And I numbred her contrary fethers, & beholde there were eyght of them.

12 And I looked, and beholde, vppon the ryght syde there arose one fether, & raigned ouer all the earth.

13 And so it was that when it raigned, the ende of it came, and the place therof appeared no more: so the next folowing stood vp, and raigned, and had a great tyme.

C 14 And it happened that when it raigned, the ende of it came also lyke as the fyrst, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, & sayde,

16 Heare thou that hast keapt the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shall none after thee atteyne vnto thy tyme, neyther vnto the halfe therof.

18 Then arose the thirde, and raigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.

19 So went it, with al the residue, one after another, so that euery one raigned, and the appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, & beholde in proceste of tyme the fethers that folowed stoode vpon the ryght side, that they myght rule also, and somme of them ruled: but within a whyle they appeared no more.

D 21 For somme of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this, I looked, and beholde, the twelue fethers appeared no more, nor the two wynges:

23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but two heades that reasted, and fyre wynges.

24 Then sawe I also that two wynges diuided them selues from the fyre, & remayned vnder ꝑ head that was vpon the ryght side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and beholde the fethers that were vnder the wyng, thought to set vp them selues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the seconde was sooner away then the fyrst.

28 And I beholde, and loe, the two that remayned, thought also in them selues to raigne:

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely it that was in the middest: for that was greater then the two other heades.

30 And then I sawe that the two heades were ioyned with him:

31 And the head was turned with them that E were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wynges that would haue raigned.

32 But this head put ꝑ whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer al those that dwelt vpon the earth, with muche labour: and he had the gouernance of the worlde ouer all the wynges that had ben.

33 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the middest, sodenly appeared no more, lyke as the wynges.

34 But there remayned the two heades whiche ruled vppon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the ryght syde, deuoured it that was vpon the leaft syde.

36 Then I hearde a voyce whiche said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consyder the thing that thou seest.

37 Then I sawe, and beholde as it were a F Lion that roareth, runnyng hastyly out of the wood: & I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and sayde,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the hyghest shal say vnto thee, 39 * Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beastes whom I made to raigne (vpon earth and) in my worlde, that the ende of their tymes might come through them?

* or, art not thou he that remayneth of the foure beastes

40 And the fourth came, and ouerran all the beastes that were past, and had power ouer the worlde with great fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and so long tyme dwelt he vpon the earth with deceipt.

41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.

42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable (and quiet,) thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellynges of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of suche as dyd thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wyongfull dealing (and blasphemie) comme vp vnto the highest, and thy pryde vnto the mightie.

44 The hyghest also hath looked vpon the G proude tymes, and beholde they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therfore appeare no more thou Egle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wycked fethers, and thy vngratious heades, & thy sinnefull clawes, and al thy vayne body:

46 That

46 That the earth may be refreshed, (and come agayne to her selfe) when she is relieued from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgment and mercy of hym that made her.

The .xii. Chapter.

The declaration of the former visions.

1 AND it happened when the Lion spake these wordes vnto the Eagle, I sawe:
2 And behold, the head that stode had the vpper hande appeared no more, neyther did the foure wings appeare any more that came to him, and were set vp to raigne, and their kingdome was smal & ful of vproare.
3 And I sawe, and beholde they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and traunce of my minde, and from great feare, and sayde vnto my spirite, 4 Loe, this hast thou geuen me, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the highest.
5 Loe, yet am I weery in my minde, and very weake in my spirite: and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.
6 Therfore wil I now beseech the highest, that he wil comfort me vnto the ende.
7 And I saide, Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with ther before many other, & if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:
8 Comfort me then, and shewe me thy seruant the interpretation and playne difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayst perfectly comfort my soule:
9 For thou hast iudged me worthy to shewe me the last of tymes.
10 And he sayde vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight:
Daniel.7.c. 11 The Eagle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kyngdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniel:
12 But it was not expounded vnto hym, therfore nowe I declare it vnto thee.
13 Beholde the dayes wil come, that there shal rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shalbe feared about al the kyngdomes that were before it.
14 In the same kingdome shall twelue kinges raigne one after another.
15 Whereof the second shal begin to raigne, and shall haue more tyme then the other twelue.
16 And this do the twelue wings signifie whiche thou sawest.
17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to go out from the heades, but from the mids of the body thereof, it betokeneth,
18 That after the tyme of that kyngdome, there shall arise great stirringes, and it shall stande in perill of falling: neuertheles it shall not then fall, but shalbe restored agayne into his beginning.
19 And the eight feathers vnder the winges, which thou sawest hang vnto her winges, betoken, 20 That in him there shal arise eight kinges, whose time shalbe but smal, and their yeeres swift, and two of them shal perishe.
21 But when the middest tyme commeth, there shalbe foure kept for a tyme, whyles his tyme beginneth to come, that it may be ended: but two shalbe kept vnto the ende.
22 And whereas thou sawest three heades resting, this is the interpretation
23 In his last dayes shal the most high raise vp three kingdomes, and cal many thinges agayne in to them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth,
24 And of those that dwell therein, with much labour, aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heades of the Eagle.
25 For it is they that shal bring forth his wickednesse agayne, & that shal performe and finish his last.
26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shal dye vpon his bed, and yet with payne.
27 For the two that remayne shalbe slayne with the swoorde.
28 For the swoorde of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the last shal he fal thorow the swoorde him selfe.
29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers vnder the winges, passing towarde the head that is on the right syde, 30 It signifieth, that it is they whom the highest haue kept vnto theyr ende: this is the smal kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou sawest.
31 And the Lion, whom thou sawest rysing vp out of the wood, and roring, and speaking to the Eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnesse, with al the wordes whiche thou hast heard, 32 Is the winde which the highest hath kept for them and for theyr wickednesse vnto the ende: he shal reprooue them, and call before them theyr owne spaylinges.
33 For he shal set them alyue in iudgment, and shal rebuke them, and correct them.
34 For the residue of my people shall he deliuer by trouble, those that be preserued vpon my beyders, and he shall make them ioyfull vntyll the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto ther from the beginning.

35 This is the vysanne that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations:

36 Thou only hast ben meete to know this secrete of the highest.

37 Therefore wryte all these thynges that thou hast seene in a booke, and hyde them, 38 And teach them to the wyse of the people, whose hartes thou knowest may comprehende and keepe these secretes.

39 But wayte thou here thre selfe yet seuen dayes me, that it may be shewed ther what soeuer it pleaseth the highest to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And when al the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come agayne into the citie, they gathered them altogether, from the least vnto the moste, and came vnto me, and sayde, 41 What haue we offended thee? and what euyll haue we done agaynst thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place?

42 For of al the people thou only art left vs, as a grape of the vine, and as a candell in a darke place, and as an hauen of shippe preserued from the tempest.

43 Haue we not tis aduersitie ynough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had ben burnt with Sion?

45 For we are not better then they that dyed there. And they wept with loude voyce. Then answeared I them, and sayde, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie thou house of Iacob.

47 For the highest hath you in remembrance, and the mightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neyther am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, because of the miserie of Sion, that I might seeke mercy for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And now go your way home euery man, and after these dayes wil I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commaunded them:

51 But I remayned styll in the feelde seuen dayes, as * the angel bad me, and did eate only of the flowres of the feelde, & had my meate of the hearbes in those dayes.

* or, he.

The xiii. Chapter.

2. The vision of a wynde comming fourth of the sea, 3. which became a man. 5. His properties & power against his enimies. 21. The declaration of this vision.

1 AND after the seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde from the sea, that it moued all the wawes therof.

3 And I looked, and beholde there was a strong man with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, al the thynges trembled that were seene vnder hym.

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, al they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth fayleth when it feeleth the fyre.

5 After these I sawe, and beholde there was gathered togather a multitude of men out of number, from the foure wyndes of the heauen, to fight agaynst the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and beheld he graued him selfe a great mountaine, & flew vp vpon it.

7 But I wouldehaue seene the region or place wherevnt the hil was grauen, and I coulde not.

8 And I saw after these, that al they which came to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst they fight.

9 Neuertheless, when he saw the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lyft vp his hande, * nor helde sworde, nor any weapon:

* or, for he beheld no sworde nor any instrument of warre.

10 But only, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had ben a blast of fire, and out of his lippes the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were all mixte togeather: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme: and fel with a * rushe vpon the people whiche was prepared to fyght, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene but only dust & smell of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde.

* or, violence

12 Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, and callyng vnto hym another peacrable * people.

* or, multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto hym, some were glad, some were sory, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offred: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and sayde,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I conceyue in my vnderstandyng:

dyng? woe vnto them that shalbe left in these dayes, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde:
37 For they that were not left, were in heauynesse.
38 Nowe vnderstande I the thinges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shal happen vnto them, and to those that are left behynde.
39 Therefore are they comme into great perils, and many necessities, lyke as these dreames declare.
20 Yet is it easier that he whiche is in danger, fall (into these) and nowe to see that which shal chaunce hereafter, then to passe out of this worlde as a cloude. Then answearer he me, and sayd, 21 The interpretation of the sighe shall I shewe thee, and I will open vnto thee the thing that thou hast requirest.
22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation, 23 He that feareth the perill in that tyme, hath keapt him selfe: they that be fallen into danger, are suche as haue woorkes and fayth vnto the most mightie.
24 Knowe this therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.
25 This is the meanyng of the vision,
Whereas thou sawest a man commyng vp from the * deepe of the sea, 26 The same is he whom God the hyghest hath keapt a great season, whiche by his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature: and he shal order them that are left behynde.
27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wynd, fire, and stourme:
28 And howe that he syst vp neyther sworde nor weapon, but that the * rushing in of hym destroyed the whole multitude that came to fyght against him: it signifyeth, 29 That the dayes comme, when the most hyghest wyl begin to deliuer them that are vpon earth:
30 And a * trauce of minde shal he come vpon them that dwel in the earth.
31 And one shall vndertake to fyght against another: one citie against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realme against another.
32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens comme that I shewed thee before: and then shal my sonne be * declared, whom thou sawest climbe vp as a man.
33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shal in their owne lande, leaue the battayle that they haue one against another:
34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered together, as they that be wyllyng to comme, and to ouercome him by fyghting.
35 But he shal stande vppon the toppe of the mount Sion.
36 And Sion shall comme, and shalbe shewed to all menne, beyng prepared and buyl-ded, lyke as thou sawest the hyll grauen forth without any handes.
37 And this my sonne shall rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, for their wicke dulle and euil imaginations, 38 And into tormentes lyke to flame, wherwith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shall he destroy them, euen by the lawe, whiche is compared vnto the fyre.
39 And whereas thou sawest, that he gat herd another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their owne land in the tyme of Oseas the king, whom Sal-manasar the kyng of Assyria tooke prison-ners, and caried them * ouer the water, and so came they into another lande.
41 But they tooke this counsayle among themselues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to goe forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:
42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.
43 And so they entered in at the narowe passages of the riuer of Euphrates.
44 For the most hyghest then shewed tokens for them, and held styl the flood tyll they were passed ouer.
45 For thorowe y countrey there was a great way, namely of a yeere and a halfe iourney:
and the same region is called Arsareth.
46 Then dwelt they there vntyl the latter tyme: and when they comme forth againe, 47 The highest shal holde styll the springes of the streame agayne, that they may goe through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.
48 But they that be leaft behind of thy peple, are those that are founde within my borders.
49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shal defende his people that remayne:
50 And then shal he shewe them great wonders.
51 Then sayde I, O Lord, Lord, shewe me this, Wherefore haue I seene the man commynge vp from the * deepe of the sea?
52 And he sayd vnto me, Like as thou canst

* or, fly in the waues of the sea. * or, mildnesse.

* or, thrusting.

* or, violence

* or, he shall stirre the mindes of men. Esa. 24. 2.

* or, reueled.

* or, deepe.

Ccc iiii nayneyther seeke out nor knowe these thynges that are in the depe of the seat ouer me: no man vppon earth se my sonne, or those that be with him, but in the tyme of * the day.

* or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the vysonne whiche thou sawest, and wherefore thou only art here lyfted vnto

54 For thou hast forsaken thyne owne lawe, and applyed thy diligence vnto myne, and sought it.

1. king. 3. a. Prou. 7. a.

55 Thy lyfe hath thou ordered in wysedome, and hast called vnderstandyng thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed vnto the treasures of the hyghest. After other three dayes I wyll shewe thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea beastes and woonderous thinges wyl I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the feelde, geuyng prayse and thankes greatly vnto god, because of his woonders whiche he dyd in tyme, 58 And because he gouerneth the same, and suche thynges as fal in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

3. How God appeared to Moses in the bushe. 10. All thynges decline to age. 16. The latter age woorse then the former. 29. The ingratitude of Israel. 35. The resurrection and iudgement.

A 1 VPon the thirde day I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

Exod. 3. a. 2 And I sayde, Here am I Lord: and stood vp vpon my feete.

3 Then sayde he vnto me, In the bushe dyd I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sinai, where I held him by me a long season:

5 And told him many woonderous workes, and shewed him the secretes of the times, and the ende, & commaunded him, sayeing,

6 These woordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hyde.

B 7 And nowe I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thyne hart, the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations whiche thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt be taken away from among all, and henceforth thou shalt remayne with my companyle, and with suche as be like thee, vntyl the tymes be ended.

10 For the worlde hath lost his youth, and the tymes begynne wexe olde.

11 For the worlde is deuided into twelue partes, and the tenne partes of it are gone already, and halfe of a tenth part:

12 And there remayneth there that which is after the halfe of * the tenth part.

* or, that.

13 Therefore set thyne house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort suche of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption,

14 Let goe from thee mortal thoughtes, cast away the burdens of menne, put of the weake nature,

15 And set alyde the thoughtes that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times:

16 For as for suche euyll (and wicked dedes) as thou hast nowe seene happen, they shall doe yet much woorse.

Mat. 24. 1. Iohn. 2. 1.

17 For the weakes that the worlde is, by reason of age, the more shal euilles encrease vpon them that dwel therein.

18 For the truethe is fled farre away, and leasyng is harde at handes: For nowe hasteth the vision to comme that thou hast seene.

19 Then answeared I before her, and sayd,

20 Beholde Lorde, I wyll goe as thou hast commaunded me, & reforme the people whiche are present: but they that shalbe borne afterwarde, who wyl admonishe them? Thus the worlde is set in darkenesse, & they that dwel therein are without light.

21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thynges that are donne of thee, or the woorkes that shalbe donne.

22 But yf I haue founde grace before thee, D sende the holy ghost into me, and I shal write al that hath ben donne in the worlde since the begynnyng, whiche was written in thy lawe, that menne may finde the path, and that they whiche wyl lyue in the latter dayes, may lyue.

23 And he answeared me, sayeing, Goe thy way, gather the people togeather, and say vnto them, that they seeke the not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou gather thee many boxe trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Seleuia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fyue which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, & I shal light a candel of vnderstanding in thine hart, whiche shal not be put out, tyll the thinges be perfourmed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some thinges openly vnto the perfect, & some thinges shalt thou shewe secretly vnto the wise: To morowe this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then

27 Then went I forth as he commaunded me, and gathered all the people togather, and ſaide,

28 Heare theſe wordes, O Iſrael,

29 Our fathers at the beginning were ſtrangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered, 30 And receyued the lawe of lyfe, whiche they kept not, which ye alſo haue tranſgreſſed after them.

31 Then was the land, euen the land of Sion, parted among you by lot, (to poſſeſſe:) but your fathers, and ye your ſelues alſo, haue done vnrighteouſneſſe, and haue not kept the wayes whiche the hyghest commaunded you:

32 And for ſo muche as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time, the thyng that he had geuen you.

33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore, if ſo be that ye wil ſubdue your owne vnderſtanding, and reforme your hart, ye ſhalbe kept aliue, and after death ſhal ye obteyne mercy.

35 For after death ſhal the iudgement come, when we ſhal liue againe: and then ſhal the names of the righteous be manifeſt, and the workes of the vngodly ſhalbe declared.

36 Let no man therfore come nowe vnto me, nor ſeeke after me theſe fourtie dayes.

37 So I toke the fiue men, as he commaunded me, and we went into the fielde, and remayned there.

38 The next day a voyce called me, ſaying, Eſdras, open thy mouth, and drinke that I gene thee to drinke.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached me a ful cuppe, whiche was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dranken it, my hart had vnderſtanding, and wiſdome grewe in my breſt: for my ſpirite was ſtrengthened in remembrance, 41 And my mouth was opened, and ſhut no more.

42 The hyghest gaue vnderſtanding vnto the fiue menne, that they wrought the high thinges of the night, which they vnderſtood not.

43 But in the night they dyd eate bread: as for me I ſpake in the day, and helde not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.

45 And it came to paſſe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the hyghest ſpake, ſaying, The firſt that thou haſt written, publiſhe openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it:

46 But keepe the ſeuentie laſt, that thou mayeſt deliuer them only to ſuch as be wiſe among thy people.

47 For in them is the ſpring of vnderſtanding, the fountaine of wiſedome, and the ſtreame of knowledge.

48 And I dyd ſo.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. The prophecie of Eſdras is certayne. 5. The euyls that ſhal come on the worlde. 9. The Lorde wyl auenge the innocent blood.

1 BEholde, ſpeake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophecie, which I wyl put in thy mouth, ſaith the Lord. A

2 And cauſe them to be written in a letter: for * it is the trueth.

3 Feare not the imaginations againſt thee, let not the vnfaythfulneſſe of them trouble thee, that ſpeake againſt thee:

4 For al the vnfaythful, ſhal dye in their vnfaythfulneſſe.

5 Beholde (ſaith the Lorde) I wyl bryng plagues vpon the worlde, the ſworde, hunger, death, and deſtruction:

6 For wickednes hath the vpper hande in al the earth, and their ſhamefull workes are fulfilled:

7 Therefore ſaith the Lorde,

8 I wyl holde my tongue no more of their wickednes, which they do ſo vngodly, neither wyll I ſuffer them in the thinges that they deale withal ſo wickedly: beholde, the innocent and righteous blood cryeth vnto me, and the ſoules of the iuſt complaine continually. B

9 And therfore, ſaith the Lord, I wyl ſurely auenge, and receiue vnto me al the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is ledde as a flocke of ſheepe to be ſlayne, I wyl not ſuffer them nowe to dwel in the lande of Egypt:

11 But wyll bring them out with a mighty hand, and a ſtreatched out arme, and ſmite it with plagues as afore, and wyl deſtroy al the lande of it.

12 Egypt ſhal mourne, and the foundations of it ſhalbe ſmitten with the plague and punniſhment that God ſhal bring vpon it.

13 They that tyll the grounde ſhal mourne, for their fredes ſhalbe deſtroyed through the blaſtyng and hayle, and by an horrible ſtarre.

14 Woe worthy the worlde, and them that dwell therein:

15 For the ſworde and their deſtruction draweth nigh, and one people ſhal ſtande vp to fyght againſt another, and ſwordes in their handes. C

16 For

* o. they are faythful and true.

Apoc. 6. b. and. 19. a.

Pſal. 44. c. Rom. 8. c. 1. Cor. 4. b.

* or, for there shalbe sedition among men.

16 * For men shalbe vnstedfast, and some shal doo violence vnto other, they shall not regarde their king, and the princes shall measure the way of their doynges by their power.

17 A man shal desire to goe into a citie, and shal not be able.

18 For because of their pride, the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shal tremble, and men shalbe afraide.

19 A man shal haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shal destroy their houses with the swoorde, and spoyle their goodes, because of the * hunger of breade, and because of the great trouble.

* or, lacke.

20 Beholde, saith God, I cal together all the kinges of the earth to reuerence me, whiche are from the * vprysyng, from the south, from the east, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:

* or, west.

D 21 Like as they doo yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lorde God.

22 My right hande shall not spare the sinners, and my swoorde shal not cease ouer them that shedde the innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the fundations of the earth, & the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Woe vnto them that sinne, and keepe not my commaundementes, saith the Lord.

25 I wyl not spare them: goe your waye ye children from the power, defile not my sanctuaries:

26 For the Lord knoweth al them that sinne against him, & therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, and ye shal remaine in them: for god shal not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Behold, an horrible vision commeth from the east,

E 29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shal come out with many charettes, and the multitude of them shalbe carryed as the winde vpon earth, that all they whiche heare them, may feare and tremble.

30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall goe forth as the wylde bores of the forest, and with great power shall they come, and stande fighting with them, and shal waste a portion of the lande of the Assyrians.

31 And then shal the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remembryng their nature, shall turne about, conspiring togeather in great power to persecute them.

32 Then these shalbe troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shal flee:

33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shal the enimie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shalbe fear and dread, and strife among their kinges.

34 Beholde cloudes from the east, and from the north vnto the south, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, ful of wrath and storme:

35 They shall smyte one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shalbe from the swoorde vnto the belly,

36 And the young of man vnto the cammels lytter,

37 And there shalbe great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath shalbe afrayde, and a trembling shal come vpon them:

38 And then shal there comme great rayne from the south, and from the north, and part from the west:

39 And strong wyndes shall aryse from the east, and shal open it, and the cloude whiche he raysed vp in wrath, and the starre flyeth to cause feare towarde the east and west wynde, shalbe destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shalbe lyfte vp, and the myghtie cloudes full of wrath, and the starre, that they maye make al the earth afrayde, and them that dwel therin, and that they maye powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,

41 Fire, & hayle, and flee ing swoordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and al ryuers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaynes, and hylles, trees of the wood, & the grasse of the medowes, and al their corne.

43 And they shal go stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.

44 They shal come to her, and besiege her, the * starre and all wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shal the dust and smoke goe vp vnto the heauen, and al they that be about her, shal bewayle her:

* or, tribulation and temptation.

45 And they that remayne vnder her, shall doo seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thee selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Woe be vnto thee thou wretche, because thou hast made thee selfe like vnto her, and hast decked thy daughters in whoordome,

that that they myght • triumph, and pleale thy lourds, whiche haue alway delyred to commit whoredome with ther.

48 Thou hast followed the abominable cleanesse in al her woorkes and inuentions: therfore sayth God, 49 I wyl send plagues vpon thee, wyldewood, powertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glorie of thy power shalbe wiped vp as a flourr, when the heate ryseth that is sent • ouer ther:

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wyfe that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the myghtie and lourds shal not be able to receyue ther.

52 Wouldst I so hate thee, sayth the Lorde,

53 Yf thou hadst not alway slayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, & said ouer their death when thou was dronken,

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance:

55 The rewarde of thy whoredome shalbe recompenced thee in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receyue rewarde.

56 Lyke as thou hast donne vnto my chosen, sayth the Lorde, euen so shal God doo vnto thee, and shal delyuer thee into the plague.

57 Thy children shal dye of hunger, and thou shalt fal through the swoorde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and al thyne shal perishe with the swoorde in the feelde.

58 They that be in the mountaines, shal die of hunger, and eate their owne flesshe, and drynke their owne blood, for very hunger of breed, and thyrste of water.

59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come through the sea, & receyue plagues agayne.

60 In the passage they shal cast downe the slayne citie, and shal roote out one parte of the lande, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 They shal treade thee downe lyke stubble, and they shalbe thy fyre:

62 And shal consume thee, thy cities, and thy lande, and thy mountaynes, all thy woodes and thy fruitful trees shal they burne vp with the fyre.

63 Thy children shal they carrie away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shal spoyle it, & marre the beautie of thy face.

The. xvi. Chapter.

18. 38. Of the euyls that shal come vpon the world, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictions.

WOE be vnto thee Babylon and Asia, woe be vnto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gyrd vp your sides with clothes of heare and heare, and mourne your children, be sorie: for your destruction is at hande.

3 A swoorde is sent vpon you, and who wyl turne it backe?

4 A fyre is sent among you, and who wyl quenche it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, & what is he that wyl driue them away?

6 May any man driue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or may any man quenche the fyre in stubble when it hath begunne to burne?

7 May one turne agayne the arrowe that B is shot of a strong Archer?

8 The mightie Lorde sendeth the plagues, and what is he that wyl driue them away?

9 The fyre is kindled and gone forth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it?

10 He shal cast lightenings, and who shal not feare? he shal thunder, and who shal not be afrayde?

11 The Lorde shal threaten, & who shal not vtterly be beate to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the fundations therof, the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fyshes therof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bowe, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, and shal not misse when they begyn to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, & shal not C turne agayne tyl they come vpon earth.

15 The fyre is kindled, and shal not be put out, tyl it consume the fundations of the earth.

16 Lyke as an arrowe whiche is shot of a mightie Archer, returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpon the earth, shal not turne agayne.

17 Woe is me, woe is me, who wyl deliuer me in those dayes?

18 The begynnyng of sorowes and great mourning, the begynnyng of dearth and great death, the begynnyng of warres, and the powers shal stande in feare: the begynnyng of euyls, and they shal tremble euery one.

19 What shal I doo in these thynges, when the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger, and plague, trouble, and anguyshe, are sent as scourges for amendement:

21 But for al these thynges, they shal not D turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindful of the scourges.

22 Behold, victuals shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thynke them selues selues to be in good case: and euen then shal mischefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great * vnquietnesse.

* or, confusion.

23 For many of them that dwel vpon earth, shal perishe of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shal the sword destroy:

24 And the dead shalbe caste out as dounge, and there shalbe no man to comfort them: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

25 There shalbe no man left to til the earth, and to sowe it.

26 The trees shal geue fruite, and who shal plucke them of, and gather them?

27 The grapes shalbe ripe, & who shal tread them? For al places shalbe desolate of men:

28 So that one man shal desyre to see another, or to heare his voyce.

29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten left, and two of the fielde, which shal hyde themselues in the thicke * bushes, and in the clyftes of stones,

* or, woods

30 Lyke as when there remayne three or foure Olives, in the place where Olives growe, or among other trees, 31 Or as when a Vineyarde is gathered, there are left some Grapes of them that diligently sought through the Vineyarde:

32 Euen so, in thole dayes there shalbe three or foure left, by them that searche their houses with the sworde.

33 And the earth shalbe layd waste, and the feeldes therof shal waxe olde, & her wayes, and al her pathes shal grow ful of thornes, because no man shal trauayle therthrough.

F 34 The virgins shal mourne, hauyng no bridegromes, the women shal make lamentation, hauing no husbandes, their daughters shal mourne, hauyng no helpers, 35 In the warres shal their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shal perishe of hunger.

36 But ye seruants of the Lord, heare these thynges, and marke them.

37 Beholde the worde of the Lorde, O receyue it: beleeue not the gods of whom the Lord spake, 38 Beholde, the plagues drawe nygh, and are not slacke in tarrying.

39 Lyke as a trauaylyng woman, which in the mene whyle mourneth bryngeth forth a sonne, when the houre of the byrth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paynes come vpon her body, and when the childe commeth to the byrth, they tarrie not the twynckling of an eye:

40 Euen so shal not the plagues be slacke to come vppon the earth, and the world shal mourne, and sorowes shal come vppon it on euery syde.

41 O my people, heare my worde, make you redie to the batalle, and in al wyl be euen as pylgrymes vpon earth.

42 He that selleth, let hym be as he that fleeth his way: and he that buyeth, as one that wyl leese:

43 Who so occupieth marchandise, as he that wynneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shal not dwel therein: 1. Cor. 7.

44 He that soweth, as they that shal not reape: he that curreth the Vineyard, as he that shal not gather the Grapes:

45 They that marrie, as they that shal get no children: and they that marrie not, as the widdowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne. Phil. 2.

47 For strangers shal reape their fruites, and spoyle their goodes, ouerthowe their houses, and take their children captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shal they get children. Psa. 10. Eccle. 4.

48 And they that occupie their marchandise with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons, 49 The more wyl I punishe them for their synnes, sayth the Lorde.

50 Like as an whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shal ryghteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shal accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shal bidde the auctlour of al sinne vppon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye like therevnto, nor to the workes therof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and ryghteousnesse shal raigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for coales of fyre shal burne vpon his head, whiche sayth, Before the Lorde God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

55 Beholde, the Lord knoweth al the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughtes, and their hartes.

56 For he spake but the worde, Let the earth be made: and it was made, Let the heauen be made: and it was created. Gen. 1. Psal. 148.

57 In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them.

58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteyneth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the middest of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens like a vaut, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In

61 In the deſart and dyre wyldernesſe hath he made ſpringes of water, and pooles vpon the toppes of the mountaines, that the floodes myght poure downe from the ſtonye rockes to water the earth.

62 He made man, and put his hart in the myddes of the bodye, and gaue him breath, life, and vnderſtanding,

63 Yea, and the ſpirite of the almightie God whiche made al thinges, and hath ſearched the grounde of al the ſecretes of the earth, 64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thinke whē ye ſinne, and would hide your ſinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched and ſought out all your wooркes, and he ſhal bewray you al:

66 And when your ſinnes are brought forth, ye ſhalbe aſhamed before menne, and your owne ſinnes ſhalbe your accuſers in that day.

67 What wyl ye doo? or howe wyl ye hyde your ſinnes before God and his angels?

68 Behold, God him ſelf is the iudge, feare him: leaue of from your ſinnes, and forgeat your vnrighteouſneſſe, and meddle no more with them: ſo ſhal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.

69 For beholde, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they ſhal take away certaine of you, & ſhal ſlaye for meate to the Idolles?

70 And they that conſent vnto them, ſhalbe had in deriſion, laughed to ſcorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there ſhalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great inſurrection vpon thoſe that feare the Lorde.

72 They ſhalbe like madde men, they ſhall ſpare no man, they ſhal ſpoile and waſt ſuch as yet feare the Lorde:

73 For their goods ſhal they take from them, and ſhut them out of their houſes.

74 Then ſhal it be knowen who are my choſen, and they ſhalbe tryed as the gold in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, ſaith the Lorde beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the ſame.

76 Be not ye afrayde, diſpayre not: for God is your captaine.

77 Who ſo keepeth my commaundementes and precepte, ſaith the Lorde God, let not your ſinnes waygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteouſneſſe be lyft vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bounde with their ſinnes, and couered with their wickednesſe, like as a fielde is hedged in with buſhes, and the pathe thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile thyought: it is ſhut vp, and is caſt into the fire for euer, to be conſumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Eſdras.

The booke of Tobias.

The firſt Chapter.

1. Tobias parentage. 3. His godlyneſſe. 6. His equitie. 8. His charitie and proſperitie. 23. He fleeth, and his goodes are confiſcate, 25. and after reſtored.

1 TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nephthali, whiche lyeth in the high countreys of Galilee aboue Naaſſon, beſyde the waye that leadeth to the Weſte, hauyng the citie of Sephet vppon the leaſt ſide.

2 Though he was taken priſoner in the dayes of Salmanaſar kyng of the Aſſyrians, neuertheleſſe being in captiuitie, he forſooke not the way of truethe:

3 In ſo muche that what ſo euer he myght geat, he parted it dayly with his felow priſoners and brethren that were of his kynrde.

4 And though he were younger then all in the tribe of Nephthali, yet dyd not he behaue him ſelfe childiſhly in his wooркes.

5 And when al the other went to the golden calues, which Ieroboam the kyng of Iſrael had made, he alone fledde al their companies:

6 And gat hym to Hieruſalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there wooрſhipped the Lorde God of Iſrael, faythfully offeryng al his firſt fruites and tythes:

7 So that in the third yeere, he miniſtred all the tythes vnto the ſtrangers and conuertes.

8 These and ſuche like thinges dyd he obſerue, accordyng to the lawe of God, when he was yet but young. B

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wyfe called Anna: and of her he begate a ſonne, whom he called after his owne name.

10 And

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from al sinne, 11 Nowe when he, with his wife, his sonne, and with al his * kynrede, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Ninive, 12 What time as they al dyd eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, & was neuer defiled in their meates.
13 And for so muche as he was myndeful of the Lorde in all his hart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanasar the kyng:
14 Which gaue him power to goe where he would, and so had he libertie to do what so euer he would.
15 So went Tobias vnto al them that were in captiuitie (and comforted them,) and gaue them wholesome exhortations.
16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing tenne talentes of syluer (of the thinges wherewith the king had honoured him,) 17 And saw among a great company of people of his kinrede, one Gabelus which was of his own tribe beyng in neeſsitie, he gaue him the saide waight of syluer, vnder an hand writing.
18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne raigned in his steede, which hated the children of Israel:
19 Tobias went dayly throughout all his kynrede, and comforted them, and gaue of his goodes to euery one of them as much as he might.
20 He fedde the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slaine, and that diligently.
21 And when Sennacherib the king came againe, and fledde out of Iurie (what time as God pounished him for his blasphemie) and in his wrath slue many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodyes.
22 But when it was told the king, he commaunded to slaye him, and tooke away all his goodes.
23 Neuertheleſse, Tobias, with his sonne, and with his wife, fledde away naked, and was hydde: for there were many that loued him.
24 But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was slaine of his owne sonnes:
25 Then came Tobias againe to his house, and al his goodes were restored vnto hym.

* or, tribe.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Tobias calleth the faythfull to his table. 3. He leaueth the feaste to burye the dead. 10. Howe he became blynde. 13. His wife laboureth for his liuyng. 16. Shee reproacheth hym bytterly.

1 AFter those thinges, vpon a solemne day of the Lord, Tobias made a good feast in his house,
2 And saide vnto his sonne, Goe thy waye, and bryng hyther some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.
3 And when he was gonne, he came againe, and tolde his father, that one of the children of Israel lay slaine vpon the streete.
4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, leaft the feaste, came fasting to the dead coarse, tooke him, & bare hym priuily into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely burye him.
5 And when he had hydde the coarse, he dyd eate his meate with mourning and feare,
6 Remembring the woordes that the Lorde said by the prophet Amos, Your high feasts shalbe turned to sorowe and heauinesse. Amos. 8.
7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way, and buryed him.
8 Then al his * neighbours reproued him, saying, It is not long since it was commanded to slay thee because of this matter, and hast scarse escaped the danger of death: and buryest thou the dead againe? * or, his next of kin.
9 Neuertheleſse, Tobias fearing God more then the king, toke the bodyes of the slaine, and hydde them in his house, and buryed them at mydnightes.
10 It happened vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead, and was weery, came home, and layed him downe by the wal, & slept.
11 And while he was a sleepe, there fell downe vppon his eyes warme doung out of the swalowes nest, so that he was blinde.
12 This temptation dyd God suffer to happen vnto him, that they whiche came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.
13 For in so muche as he euer feared GOD from his youth vp, and kept his commaundementes, he grudged not against GOD, that the plague of blyndneſse chanced vnto him:
14 But remained stedfast in the feare of god, and thanked God al the dayes of his life.
15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kinges: euen so was he laughed to scorne of his elders and kinsfolkes, whiche saide vnto hym, 16 Where is the hope for the whiche thou hast donne almes, and buryed the dead?
17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:
18 For we are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which God shal geue vnto them that neuer turne their beleefe from hym.

19 And

19 And Anna his wyfe went dayly to the weauyng woorke:
20 And looke what lyuyng she coulde gett with the labour of her handes, she brought it. And it happened that she tooke a kyd, and brought it home:
D 21 And when her husbande heard it crie, he sayde, Looke that it be not stollen: restore it agayne to the owners, for it is not lawful for vs to eate or to touche any thyng of theft.
22 Then was his wyfe angrie, and sayde, Nowe is thy hope become vayne openly, and thine almes deedes are manifest.
23 With these and suche lyke woordes, dyd she cast hym in the teeth.

The. iii. Chapter.

3. The prayer of Tobias. 7. Sara Raguels daughter, and the thinges that came vnto her. 12. Her prayer heard. 19. The angel Raphael sent.

A 1 THen Tobias * tooke it heauily, & with teares beganne to make his prayer,
* o, lyfted.
2 Saying, O Lorde, thou art ryghteous, and al thy iudgementes are true: yea, al thy wayes are mercie, faithfulnesse, and iudgement.
3 And nowe, O Lorde, be myndeful of me, and take no vengeaunce of my synnes, neyther remember my misdeedes, neyther the misdeedes of my forefathers.
4 For we haue not benne obedient vnto thy commaundementes, therfore are we spoyled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision & shame vnto al nations, among whom thou hast scattered vs.
5 And nowe, O Lorde, thy iudgementes are great: for we haue not done accordyng to thy commaundements, neyther haue we walked innocently before thee.
6 And nowe, O Lord, deale with me accordyng to thy wyl, and commaunde my spirite to be receyued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to dye, then to lyue.
B 7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaydes, 8 That she had seuen husbandes, whiche as soone as they were gonne in vnto her, were slayne of the deuyl, called Aſmodeus.
9 Therfore when she reproued the mayden for her fault, she answered her, saying, God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou kyller of thy husbandes.
10 Wylt thou slay me also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an hygh chamber of her house, and three dayes and three nyghtes she neyther ate, nor dranke:
11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would delyuer her from this rebuke.
12 Upon the third day it came to passe, that when she had made an ende of prayer, she prayſed the Lorde, 13 Saying, Blessed be thy name, O God of our fathers, whiche when thou art wroth, shewest mercy, & in time of trouble thou forgeuest the synnes of them that cal vpō thee.
14 Unto thee, O Lord, turne I my face, vnto thee lyft I vp myne eyes: C
15 I beseeche thee, O Lorde, loose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly away from the earth.
16 Thou knowest, Lorde, that I neuer had desyre vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from al vncleanly lust:
17 I haue not kept companie with those that passe their time in sporte, neither haue I made mee selfe partaker with them that walke in lyght behauiour.
18 An husbande haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.
19 Nowe peraduenture, eyther I haue ben vnwoorthie of them, or els were they vnmeete for me: for thou happyly hast kepte me to another husbande.
20 For why? thy counsel is not in the power of man.
21 But euery one that serueth thee, is sure D of this, that if his life be in trying, it shalbe crowned: and yf he be in trouble, that God (no doubt) shal delyuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shal haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.
22 For thou hast no pleasure in our * damnation: and why? after a stourme, thou makest the weather fayre and styl, after weeping and heauinesse, thou greuest great ioy.
* or, destruction.
23 Thy name, O God of Israel, be prayſed for euer.
24 At the same tyme were both their prayers heard, in the syght of the maiestie of the hyghest God.
25 And Raphael the holy angel of the Lord, was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers * came at one time togeather before God.
* or, were recited at one tyme togeather.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Preceptes and exhortations of Tobias, to his sonne.

1 SO when Tobias thought his prayer to A be heard, that he myght dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias:
2 And saide vnto him, My sonne, heare the woordes wordes of my mouth, and lay them in thine hart as a fundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my body: and holde thy mother in honour, al the dayes of her lyfe.

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, & how great perils she suffred for thee in her wombe.

5 And when she also hath fulfylled the time of her lyfe, burie her * beside me. * or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought al the dayes of thy lyfe, and beware, lest at any time thou consent vnto synne, and lest thou let slyppe the commaundementes of the Lorde our God.

B 7 Geue almes of thy goodes, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shal it come to passe, that the face of the Lorde shal not be turned away from thee.

8 Be merciful after thy power.

9 If thou haue muche, geue plenteously: yf thou hast litle, doo thy diligence gladly, to geue of that litle:

10 For so geatherest thou thee selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.

11 For mercie delyuereth from al sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come into darknesse.

12 A great comfort is mercie before the high God, vnto al them that shewe it.

13 My sonne, keepe thee wel from al whoredome: and beside thy wyfe, suffer not thee selfe to knowe of sinne.

C 14 Let neuer pride haue rule in thy minde, nor in thy worde: for in pride began al Destruction.

15 Whatsoeuer worketh any thyng for thee, immediately geue him his hyre, and looke that thy hyred seruauntes wages remayne not at al with thee.

16 Looke that thou neuer doo vnto another man, the thyng that thou wouldest not an other man shoulde doo vnto thee.

17 Eate thy bread with the hungrie & poore, and couer the naked with thy clothes, 18 Set thy bread and wine vpon the burial of the righteous, and doo not thou eate and drynke thereof with the synners.

19 Aske euer counsayle at the wyse.

20 Be alway prayeng of God, and beseche hym that he wyl * order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hande, it may remayne in hym. * or, direct.

D 21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I delyuered ten talentes of syluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, & his hande wryting haue I by me:

22 And therefore seeke some meanes, howe thou mayest come by hym, and receyue of hym the sayde weyght of syluer, and geue hym his hande wryting agayne.

23 My sonne be not afrayde: truely it is we leade here a poore lyfe, but great good shal we haue yf we feare God, and departe from al synne, and doo wel.

The.v. Chapter.

2. Tobias is sent to Rages. ¶. He meeteth with the angel Raphael, which dyd conduct hym.

1 THen Tobias answeared his father, A and sayde, Father, al that thou hast commaunded me, wyl I doo, and that diligently.

2 But howe I shal require this money, I can not tel, neither doeth he knowe me, nor I him: what token shal I geue him? And as for the way thyther, I neuer knewe it.

3 Then his father answeared him, & sayde, I haue his hande wryting by me, whiche whē thou shewest him, immediatly he shal pay thee.

4 But goe thy way nowe, & get thee some faythful man to goe with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receyue the money whyle I am yet lyuyng.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vppon the streete he founde a fayre young man standyng, gyrded vp, and as it were one redie to take his iourney.

6 And he knewe not that it was an angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd, From whence art thou, thou good young man?

7 He answered, Of the children of Israel. B And Tobias said vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?

8 He answeared, I knowe it wel, and al * or, bye those * streetes haue I gonne ofte tymes, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, whiche lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

9 Tobias sayd vnto him, I pray thee tarry for me, tyl I haue tolde my father theis thynges.

10 Then went Tobias in, and told his father al that the whiche his father marueyled, and prayed that he would come in vnto hym.

11 Nowe when he came in, he saluted him, and saide, Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And olde Tobias saide, What ioy can I haue, that syt here in darknesse, and se not the lyght of heauen?

13 The young man sayde vnto him, Be of good cheare, God shal helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Canst C thou thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Medea: and when thou comest agayne, I shal pay thee thy hyre?

15 And the angel sayde vnto hym, I shall leade thy sonne, and bryng hym to thee agayne.

16 Then Tobias answeared hym, Tell me, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The angel Raphael sayd vnto him, Seekest thou after the kinrede of an hyreling, or an hyred man hym selfe, for thy sonne to go with hym?

18 But that I make thee not careful, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Ananias.

19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great kinrede: but, I pray thee, be not displeased that I desire to knowe thy kynrede.

20 The angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shal I leade forth safely, and bring hym whole and sounde to thee agayne.

D 21 Then answered Tobias, and said, Well, go on your way, and God be in your iourney, and his angel beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared all thynges that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewell: and they went on their way both togeather.

23 And when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayde, The staffe of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs, 24 Would God that money had neuer ben, for the whiche thou hast sent him away.

25 For our powertie was sufficient for vs, why we should haue counted it riches that we sawe our sonne heere.

26 Then saide Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shal goe safely, and come to vs agayne sounde, and thyne eyes shall see him.

27 For I trust that the good angel of God shal beare him company, and order well al the things that he doth, so that he shal come to vs agayne with ioy.

28 At these wordes his mother left of from weeping, and helde her peace.

The. vi. Chapter.

2. Tobias delineted from the fishe. 6. Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19. He conducteth him towarde Sara.

A SO Tobias went on his way, & a dogge followed him: and the fyrste nyght they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to washe his feete, and behold, there came forth an horrible fishe to deuoure him.

3 Of whom Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Lord, he commeth vpon me.

4 And the angel said vnto him, Take hym by the gil, and drawe him vnto the lande: and the fishe began to leape at his feete.

5 Then said the angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fishe: and as for the hart, the gall, and the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these thynges are necessary vnto good for medicines.

6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fleshe, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as muche as was sufficient for them, tyl they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.

7 Then Tobias asked the angel, and sayde B vnto him, I pray thee brother Azarias, tell me, wherein are these thynges good of the fishe that thou hast bidden me keepe.

8 The angel answeared him, and sayde, If thou layest a peece of the hart vpon the coales, the smoke thereof driueth away all euil spirites, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shal come no more vnto them.

9 The gall is good to annoynt or to stryke the eyes withal, where as there is any blemishe in them, so that they shalbe whole.

10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Where wilt thou that we remaine? The angel answeared, 11 And sayde, Here is a nygh kynsman of thyne, & of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, whiche hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.

12 Al his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must marry her.

13 And therefore desyre her of her father, and he shal geue her thee to wyfe.

14 Then answered Tobias, and saide, As C I vnderstande, she hath ben maried vnto seuen husbandes, and they all are dead: and I haue heard say, that the deuil slue them.

15 I am afrayde therefore, lest suche thynges happen vnto me also: whiche yf it came to passe, seeyng I am the only sonne of my father and my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorowe to their graues.

16 Then saide the angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I will tel thee what they be of whom the deuil hath power.

17 Namely, they that receiue marlage after suche a fashion, that they shutte GOD out from them, and from their harte, and geue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were an horse and mule which haue no vnderstanding: vpon suche hath the deuill powre.

18 But when thou entrest her, and art come into the chamber, withhold thee selfe from her thre dayes, and geue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.

19 And in the first night roste the liuer of the fishe, and the deuil shalbe driuen away.

20 The seconde night shalt thou be receiued into the company of the holy patriarches.

21 The third night shalt thou obteyne the blessing of God, so that * whole children shall be borne of you.

* or, founde

22 After the thirde night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desyre of children, then for any fleshly lust, that in the seede of Abraham thou mayst obteyne the blessing in children.

The vii. Chapter.

Tobias marieth Sara Raguels daughter.

1 THen went they in vnto Raguel, which receiued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he said vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my fathers sonne?

3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Where be ye, ye young men, and our brethren? They sayde, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninue.

4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They saide, Yea we knowe him wel.

5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the angel saide vnto Raguel, Tobias of whom thou askest, is this young mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, and wept, and tooke him about the necke and kissed him.

7 And sayde, Gods blessing haue thou my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.

8 And Anna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept also.

9 Now when they had talked together, Raguel bade kyll a wether, and to make a feast: and when he had entreated them to sitte downe to dinner,

10 Tobias sayde, I will neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promyse me to geue me thy daughter Sara.

11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonyed, for he knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he began to feare that it should chance vnto him in like maner. And while he stoode so in a doubt, and gaue the young man no answere,

12 The angel sayde vnto him, Feare not to geue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: wherefore might none other haue her.

13 Then said Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers and teares in his sight:

14 And I beleue he caused you to come vnto me for the same intent, that this daughter of myne might be maryed in her owne kinrede, according to the lawe of Moyses: and now be ye sure that God hath geuen her vnto thee. Num. 36.

15 So he tooke the right hande of his daughter, and gaue her vnto the right hande of Tobias, and saide, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Iacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfil his blessing in you.

16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writyng of the mariage.

17 And then made they merry, and prayed God.

18 And Raguel called Anna his wyfe vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber, 19 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.

20 Then said he vnto her, Be of good cheare my daughter: the Lorde of heauen geue thee ioy, for the heauinesse that thou hast suffered.

The. viii. Chapter.

2. Tobias driueth away the euyl spirite.
4. He prayeth to GOD with his wyfe.
11. Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. 16. Raguel blesseth the Lord.

1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the young man in to her.

2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the angel, and tooke out of his bagge a peece of the liuer of the fishe, and layde it vpon the hotte coales.

3 So the angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuil, and sent him away, and bounde him in the wildernesse of the higher Egypt.

4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgin, and sayde, Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and * ouermorowe: for these three nightes will we reconcile our selues with God: and when the third holy night is past, we shall ioyne together in the matter of mariage.

* a, the third day. * or, in three dayes to God.

5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together, as the heathen that know not God.

6 Then

6 Then kneled they down both together, and besought God earnestly, that he would preserve them.
7 And Tobias sayde, O Lorde God of our fathers, prayse be thou of heauen & earth, of the sea, welles, & floodes, and of all thy creatures that be therein.
8 Thou madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.
9 And now Lorde, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse that I take this sister of myne to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whom thy name may be blessed for euer.
10 And Sara sayde, Haue mercie vpon vs,
O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sounde together to a good age.
11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruantes:
12 And they went with him to make a graue.
13 For he sayde, Lest chaunced nowe vnto him perchaunture, as it dyd vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.
14 Nowe when they had made the graue,
Raguel came agayne to his wyfe, and sayd vnto her, Sende one of thy maydens to looke if he be dead, that I may burye him agayne ere it be light day.
15 So she sent a mayden to see: which when she came into the chamber, founde them whole and sounde, sleeping together.
16 And so she came agayne, and brought good tydinges: then Raguel and Anna his wyfe, praysed the Lorde,
17 And sayde, Praysed be thou, O Lord God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.
18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enimis that persecuted vs,
19 And hast shewed mercy vnto yonder two,
the only borne children of their parentes:
O Lord, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifyce of thy prayse and of their health: that all people may knowe that thou only art God in all the earth.
20 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his seruantes to fyl the graue, that they had made, with earth, ere it was lyght.
21 And bade his wyfe prepare a feast, and to make ready all things that were necessary for such a iourney by the way.
22 He caused two fat kyne, & fiue, and foure weathers to be slaine, and meates to be prepared for all the neighbours and seruantes.
23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.
24 As for all the good that he had, he gaue
Tobias the halfe of it, and made his wilting, that the halfe which remained, should fal vnto Tobias after their death.

The. ix. Chapter.

The angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias; whiche deliuereth the letter, and receyueth the money.

1 THen Tobias called vnto him the an- g gel, whom he thought to haue benne a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray the hearken vnto my woor-des,
2 If I shoulde geue mee selfe to be thy seruant, I shal not deserue thy prouidence.
3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wylt take the beastes, and the seruantes, and goe vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie
of the Medes, and deliuer him his hande writing, and receyue the money of him, and pray him to commie to my marriage.
4 For thou knowest thee self, that my father dooth number the dayes, and if I tary one day to long, he wyll be sorye in his mynde.
5 Nowe seest thou howe earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I cannot lay him vnder an othe.
6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruantes, & two Camelles, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had founde Gabelus, he gaue him his hande writing, and receyued all the money.
7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how al things had happened: and caused him to commie with him to the marriage.
8 Now when he came into the house of Ra-guel, he found Tobias sitting at the table:
and he leaped vp, and they kyssed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God, 9 And sayde, The blessing of the GOD of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and geueth great almes:
10 And blessing haue thy wyfe, and your parentes.
11 That ye may see your children, and your childrens children, vnto the thirde and fourth generation: & your seede be blessed of the GOD of Israel, which raigneth for euer and euer.
12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde before their eyes, they kept the feast of the marriage.

The. x. Chapter.

Tobias and his wyfe thinke long for their sonne. 10. Raguel sendeth away Tobias and saye.

NOwe whyle yonng Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the mariage, his father was full of care and heauynesse, sayeing, Canst thou thynke what shoulde be the cause that my sonne tarryeth so long? or why he shoulde be kept so long there?

2 Thinkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man wyl geue him the money?

3 Thus begonne he to be very sorowfull, he and Anna his wyfe with him: and begonne to weepe both togeather, because their sonne was not comme agayne vnto them at the day appoynted.

4 As for his mother, she weapt with discomfortable teares, and sayde, Wo is mee my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to sende thee away into a strange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, thou comfort of our lyfe, thou hope of our generatiō?

5 Seeing all the thinges that we haue are onely in thee, we shoulde not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias (comforted her and) sayde, Holde thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sounde: the man that we sent him withal, is faythfull ynough.

B 7 Neuertheles, she might in no wyse be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, and went about all the streetes whereby she thought he shoulde comme agayne, that if it were possible, she myght see hym comming a farre of.

8 But Raguel sayde vnto his sonne in law, O tary here, and I shall sende a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their harte are sory.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he wolde in no wyse heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of all his good, in seruantes, and handmaydens, in beeste, in cammels, and in kyne, and in ready money: so sent him away from him with health and ioy, 11 And sayde, The holy angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bryng you sooner safe and sounde: that ye may fynde all thinges in good case with your elders, and that myne eyes may see your children afore I dye.

12 So the elders imbraced their daughter, kyssed her, and let her go:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in law, to loue her husband, to rule well her houshold, to kepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe louyng.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The returne of Tobias to his father. 11. How he was receyued. 15. His father hath his sight restored, and prayseth the Lorde.

1 AS they nowe were goeyng homeward A agayne, vppon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, whiche lyeth in the halfe way towarde Ninue.

2 And the angel sayd, Brother Tobias, thou knowest howe thou hast lefte thy father.

3 Therefore if it please thee, we two wyll goe before, and let the housholde, with thy wyfe and the cattel, comme fayre and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they shoulde goe before, Raphael sayd vnto him, Take of the gall of the fishe with thee: for it shalbe necessarie. So Tobias tooke of the gal, and they went their way.

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate dayly by the way syde vppon the top of an hil, frō whence she might see far about her.

6 And whyle she was wayting there for his commyng, she looked a farre of, and anone she perceyued her sonne comming, and ran and tolde her husbande, sayeing, Beholde, thy sonne commeth.

7 And Raphael sayd vnto Tobias, Assoone B as thou commest into the house, immediatly worshipp the Lorde thy God, and geue thankes vnto him: then goe to thy father, and kysse him.

8 And straightwayes stryke his eyes ouer with the gal of the fishe that thou hast brought with thee: for be sure that his eyes shal straight way be opened, and thy father shal see the light of heauen, and shal reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had ben with them in their iourney ranne before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his taile for gladnesse.

10 So the blinde father arose, and beganne to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruant his hande, and ran towarde his sonne, 11 Receyued him, and kyssed him, bes his wyfe, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Nowe when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sate downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fishes gal, and anoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And tarryed halfe an houre, & then began C the dimnesse to goe out of his eyes, like as it had ben the white skinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke, & drewe from his eyes, and immediatly he receyued his sight.

16 Then

16 Then they prayed God, he and his wife, and all they that knewe him.

17 And Tobias sayde, O Lord God of Israel, I geue thee prayse and thankes, for thou hast chastened me, & made me whole: and loe, nowe do I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wife also whole and sounde, with all the houshold and cattel, with Camnels, and muche money of his wyues, and with the money that he had receiued of Gabelus.

19 And he told his father and his mother, al the benefites which GOD had done for him by the man that led him.

20 Achior also and Mabath, Tobias sisters sonnes came, and were glad, and reioyced with him, by reason of al the good thynges that God had shewed vnto hym: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made merry, and were right ioyful euery one.

The.xii.Chapter.

2. Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had done him. 5. The whiche he woulde recompence.

1 THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and sayde, What may we geue this holy man that went with thee?

2 Tobias answered his father, and sayde, Father, what reward shal we geue him? for what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath ben my guide, and brought me safe againe, he receiued the money from Gabelus, he caused me to wed my wife, he droue the euil spirite from her, he hath ben an occasion of gladnesse to her father & mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fishe, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we al haue receiued great good of hym.

4 Howe houlde we worthily deserue these thinges vnto hym? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wilt desyre hym, yf happyly he will vouchsafe to take with him the halfe of al that we haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called hym, tooke him aside, and began to pray him, that he woulde be content to take in good worth, the halfe part of al that they had brought.

6 Then said he secretely vnto them, Praise ye the God of heauen, and geue thankes vnto hym before al men liuing: for he hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the kinges secrete: but to shewe and to prayse the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercy is better then to hoorde vp treasures of golde.

9 For mercy deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercy and lyfe euerlasting.

10 But they that do sinne and vnrighteousnesse, are the enimies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tel you the truth, and wyll hyde no secrete saying from you.

12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buriedst the dead, and leauest thy dinner, and hiddest the dead in thyne house vppon the day tyme, that thou mightest bury them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lorde.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation shoulde trye thee.

14 And nowe hath the Lord sent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wyfe from the euil spirite. C

15 For I am Raphael an angel, one of the seuen that stande before the Lorde.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afrayde, and trembled, and fel downe vpon their faces vnto the grounde.

17 Then sayd the angel, Peace be with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue ben with you, it is the will of God: geue prayse and thankes vnto hym.

19 You thought that I did eate and drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that can not be seene of men: Gene.18.8. Iudi.13.6.

20 Nowe therefore is the tyme that I must turne againe vnto him that sent me: but be ye thankful vnto God, and tel out al his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had spoken these wordes, he was take away out of their sight, so that they coulde see hym no more.

22 Then fel they downe flat vpon their faces, by the space of three houres, and praised God: and when they rose vp, they told al his wonderous workes.

The.xiii.Chapter.

A thankesgeuing of Tobias, who exhorteth al to prayse the Lorde.

1 THen olde Tobias opened his mouth, and prayed the Lord, and sayd, Great art thou, O Lorde for euermore, and thy kingdome worlde without ende. T

2 For thou scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hell, and bringest out againe: and there is none that may escape thyne hande.

3 O geue thankes vnto the Lorde ye children of Israel, and prayse him in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen which know hym not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that ye shoulde shewe forth his marueilous workes, & cause them for to knowe, that there is none other God almighty but he.

5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercies sake shal he saue vs.

6 Consyder then howe he hath dealt with you, and prayse him with feare and dread: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your workes.

7 I wyl prayse him euen in the lande of my captiuitie: for he hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinful people.

8 Turne you therefore, O ye sinners, and do righteousnesse before god, and be ye sure that he wil shewe his mercy vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, we wyll reioyce in God.

10 O prayse the Lord al ye his chosen: holde the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankful vnto hym.

11 O Hierusalem thou citie of God, the lord hath punished thee for the workes of thyne owne handes.

12 O prayse the Lorde in thy good thynges, and geue thankes to the euerlasting God, that he may builde vp his tabernacle agayne in thee, that he may cal agayne vnto thee al suche as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a fayre light shalt thou shine, and al the endes of the worlde shal honour thee.

14 The people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shal bring giftes, and worshippe the Lorde in thee, and thy lande shall they haue for a sanctuarie: for they shal call vpon the great name in thee.

15 Cursed shal they be that despise thee, and al that blaspheme thee shalbe condemned: but blessed shal they be that builde thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they al shalbe blessed, and gathered togeather vnto the Lorde.

17 Blessed are all they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.

18 Prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule: for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his citie Hierusalem from al her troubles.

19 I wil count mee (els happy, yf my seede remayne to see the clearenesse of Hierusalem.

20 The gates of Hierusalem shalbe builded with Saphir & Smaragde, and al the compasse of her walles with precious stones.

21 Al her streetes shalbe paued with white and fayre stone, and in al streetes shal Alleluia be song.

22 Prayse be the Lord which hath exalted her, that his kyngdome may be vpon her for euermore. Amen.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1 Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6. He prophesieth the destruction of Niniue, 7. and the restoryng of Hierusalem and the temple.

1 AND so Tobias made an ende of speaking: and after that Tobias had gotten his sight agayne, he lyued fourtie and two yeeres, and sawe his children children.

2 Nowe when he was an hundred and two yeeres olde (he dyed, and) was buryed honourably in Niniue.

3 For when he was fyue and fyftie yeeres of age, he lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was threescore yeeres olde, he gate his sight agayne.

4 The residue of his lyfe ledde he in ioy, and increased wel in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his death, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, & seuen young springalles his sonnes children, & sayde vnto them,

6 The destruction of Niniue is at hande, (for the worde of the Lorde can not fayle) and our brethren that are scattered out of the lande of Israel, shall come thyther agayne.

7 And the whole lande of it that hath ben waste, shalbe filled, & the house of God that was brent in it, shalbe builded againe: and al such as feare God, shall returne thyther.

8 The heathen then also shall forsake their idolles, and come to Hierusalem, and dwel there:

9 And al the kinges of the earth shalbe glad in her, & worshipp the Lord God of Israel.

10 And therefore my children, beare your father, serue the Lorde in the trueth, seeke after his wyll to do the thing that pleaseth hym:

11 Commaunde your children that they do ryght, geue almes, be myndful of God, and euer to be thankful vnto him in trueth, and with al their power.

12 Heare me nowe therefore my children, and abyde not here: but in what day soeuer ye haue buried your mother by me in one sepulchre, get you from hence:

13 For I see that the wickednesse of it shall bryng it to (destruction and) ende.

14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Niniue, with his wife & children, chyldren, and with his chyldres chyldren, and came agayne to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And founde them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and he closed their eyes, and was heyre vnto all Raguels goodes, and sawe the fyfth generation, and his chyldres chyldren.

16 And nintie and nine yeares being ended in the feare of God, they buryed him with ioy.

17 And all his kinrede and posteritie continued in a good lyfe and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of GOD and men, and of all the people of the lande.

The ende of the booke of Tobias.

The booke of Iudith.

The fyrst Chapter.

2. The buyldyng of Ecbatanis. 5. Nabuchodonosor made warre agaynst Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12. He threatneth them that woulde not helpe him.

1 ARphaxad the kyng of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominiō, and buylded a strong citie, whiche he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites hygh, and thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euery syde was twentie foote broade: he made the gates in the height, lyke as the towres.

4 (This kyng) trusted in his mightie hoast, and in his glorious charrettes.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his raigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, whiche raigned in the great citie of Ninive, fought agaynst Arphaxad:

6 And ouercame him in the great feelde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadason, in the feelde of Ecbatis the kyng of the Elimes.

7 Then was the kyngdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his hart was lyft vp: and he sent vnto al them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus, and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel and Cedar, and to suche as dwelt in Galilee in the great feelde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Jordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole lande of Iesse, vnto the bordres of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto all these dyd Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians sende messengers.

11 But they all with one consent wouldne not agree vnto hym, & sent the messengers agaynt emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng tooke indignation at all those landes, and sware by his throne and by his kyngdome, that he woulde be auenged of al those countreys.

The.ii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumptuously that al people shoulde be brought in subiection.

1 IN the thirtienth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vppon the twentie and two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge him self. A

2 So he called vnto hym al the elders, al his captaynes and mēne of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsel,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Nowe when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the kyng called Holophernes the cheefe captayne of his warres,

5 And sayde vnto him, Goe thy way foorth agaynst all the kyngdomes of the West, & specially agaynst those that haue despised my commaundement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together al the captaynes and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustred the souldiers vnto the host, lyke as the kyng commaunded hym, (namely) an hundred and twentie thousand fyghtyng mēne vppon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke. B

8 At his ordinance sent he hether, with an innumerable multitude of Camelles, so that the hoast was wel prouided for with oxen and smal catel, and that without number.

9 He appoynted to prepare corne out of al Syria in his passage.

10 Muche golde and siluer also tooke he out of the kinges house.

11 So he tooke his iourney, and al his hoast, with charettes, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the grounde of the lande, lyke the grashoppers.

12 And when he was gonne past the borders of the Assyrians, he came toward the great mountaynes of Ange, whiche lye vpon the leaft side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into al their castels, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthie citie of Melothus he brake it downe, & spoyled al the children of Tharsis, and the Ismaelites, which laye towarde the wyldernesse, and vppon the south syde of the lande of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe al the hygh cities that were there, from the broke of Nambre, vnto the sea:

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the south.

16 He caryed away all the Madianites, and spoyled all their goodes, and who so euer withstoode him, he slue them with the swoorde.

17 After this, he went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the tyme of haruest, and burnt vp al the corne, and all the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vppon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. The people subiect to Holophernes. 12. He destroyes their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might only be woorshipped.

1 SO the kinges and princes of al the cities & lands, sent their ambassadours, namely, they of Syria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and sayde,

2 Let thy wrath cease towarde vs: it is better for vs to serue the great kyng Nabuchodonosor with our lyues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should dye, and with our slaughter suffer the ryghtes of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, all mountaynes and hilles, al feeldes, great & small, catel, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, al our goodes and households, be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy subiection be al that we haue, & our selues, and also our children, wyl be thy seruantes.

5 Come vnto vs, peaceable Lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

6 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaynes, with horsemen and great power, and conquered al strong fensed cities, and al that dwelt in the lande.

7 And out of all cities he tooke strong men, and such as were meete for the warre (to helpe him.)

8 And there came such a feare vppon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people togeather, went forth to meete him as he came.

9 And receyued hym (honourably) with garlandes and torches, with dances, tabrets, and pypes.

10 Neuertheles though they did this, yet myght they not swage his rigorous stomache.

11 But he destroyed their cities, and hewen downe their woodes.

12 For Nabuchodonosor the king had commaunded hym that he shoulde roote out all the goddes of the lande, to the intent that he onely myght be called (and aduised) for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

13 So went he through Syria Sobal, and through all Apamea, & all Mesopotamia, and came to the Abuneans in the lande of Gebal.

14 And tooke their cities, and remayned there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused al the whole multitude of his hoste to be geathered togeather.

The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they shoulde fortifye themselues. 8. They cryed to the Lorde, and humbled themselues before him.

1 WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were sore afrayde of him.

2 There came suche trembling also and feare vppon them, lest he shoulde doo vnto the cities of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lorde, as he had donne to other cities and their temples.

3 So they sent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Iericho, (tooke in) and occupied al the toppes of the mountaynes:

4 And that they shulde fortifie the townes with walles, and prepare them for them against the battaile.

5 Eliachim also the priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt towarde Dinelon, which lyeth over against the great playne by Dothain, and viewed all those by whom men might have passage vnto them.

6 That they shoulde take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any haye and passage to Hierusalem, and that they shoulde holde diligent watche betwixt the straytes was betwixt the mountaynes.

7 And the chyldren of Israel dyd as Eliachim the priest of the Lorde had commaunded them.

8 And all the people cryed vnto the Lord earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The priestes put on heary clothes, and layde the young babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the aulters of the Lorde with an hearie cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that their chyldren shulde not be geuen into a praye, and their wyues into a spoyle, that their cities should not be layne waste, and that their sanctuarie shoulde not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

11 Then Eliacim the high priest of the lord, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lorde wyll heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastynges and prayers in the sight of the Lorde.

13 Remember Moses the seruant of the Lorde, who the ouerthrewe the Amalekites that trusted in their myght and power, in their host, in their shieldes, in their chariots, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

14 Euen so shal al the enimies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue beginne.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lorde.

16 In so much that they which offred burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offerynges vnto the Lorde, beyng arayed in heare clothes, and had ashes vppon their heades.

17 And they all besought God from their whole hart, that he would visite his people of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doth declare to Holofhernes of the power of the Israelites.

1 AN knowne came to Holophernes the prince of the power of the Assyrians, that the chyldren of Israel prepared them selues to make resistance, and howe they had stopped the wayes betwixt the mountaynes.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaynes of Ammon,

3 And saide vnto them, Tel me, what people is this that kepeth in the mountaines? Or what manner, and howe great cities theirs are? What is their power? Or what maner of host haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why doe they despise doores then al those that dwel in the east, and come not forth to meete vs, that they myght receiue vs with peace?

5 Then Achior the captaine of all the Ammonites, answered, and sayde, Syr, if it please thee to heare, I will tell the truely before thee, concernyng this people that dwel in the mountaines, and there shall no untruth go out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwelt first in Mesopotamia, for they would not followe the Gods of their fathers that were in the land of the Chaldees:

8 And so forsooke they the customs of their forfathers which had many Gods, and worshypped one God that made heauen and earth, which also commaunded them that they should go from thence, and dwel in Charran.

9 And when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that their host might not be numbred.

10 And when the kyng of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in buyldyng of his cities, with vnkyng of claye and bricke, they cryed vnto God their lord, which punished the whole lande of Egypt with diuers plagues.

11 And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceassed from them, and they folowyng after them to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage:

12 Whyle they were fleeyng away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stoode fast vpon both the sydes as a wal, and the see went through the bottome of the sea drye shod.

13 An

53 In the whiche place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon them, they were ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remayned not one to tell them that came after, how it happened.

54 So when this people was passed through the red sea, they came into the wyldernesse of mount Sina, where neuer man myght dwel afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested.

55 There were the bytter waters made sweete for them, that they might drinke, & fourtie yeres had they meate from heauen.

56 Wherefoeuer they went, without bowe and arrowe, without buckler or swoorde, their God fought for them, & caused them to haue the victorie.

57 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed from the fayth & fell from the worshypping of the Lorde their God.

58 But as often as they worshipped any other beside their God, he gaue them ouer to their enemies, to be slayne, and to be put to confusion.

59 Neuertheles, as often as they were sorye for their departyng from the worshyp of their God: the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstande (the enemies.)

Iosua.12.c. 60 Yoze ouer, they slue the king of the Chananites, Jebusites, Pherezites, Hethites, Hevites, and Amorites, and all the myghtie in Hesebon, and tooke their landes and cities in possession:

D 61 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went well with them: for their God hateth wickednesse.

Iudi.2.b. 2.king.25.a 62 For sometimes past, when they went out of the way whiche God had geuen them, that they should walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battailes of many nations, and many of them were caryed away prisoners into a strange countrey.

1.Esd.1.a. 63 But nowe lately they haue turned them selues againe vnto the Lorde their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were scattered abrode: and thus haue they conquered their mountaynes, and dwel therein: and as for Hierusalem where their sanctuarie is, they haue it againe in possession.

64 And therefore my Lorde, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue donne wickednesse in the sight of their God, then let vs go vp against them & so double their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

65 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shal not be able to withstand them: for their God shal defende them, and so shal we be a skorne vnto all the worlde.

26 Now when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes host myght, and thought to slaye him, and they said one to another, 27 What is he this whiche dare saye that the children of Israel are able to withstand Nabuchodonosor the kyng, and his hoste? wherein they are an vnarmed people, without strength or vnderstandyng of the feates of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceyued vs, we wyl goe vp into the mountaines: and when the myghtie men of them are taken, he with them shalbe stickt with the swoorde:

29 That all the people may know that Nabuchodonosor is the God of the earth, and that there is none other beside hym.

The.vi. Chapter.

Holophernes blaspheneth God whom Achior confessed.

1 SO when they had leaft of speaking, Holophernes tooke soze indignation, & sayd vnto Achior, A

2 For so much as thou hast prophesied vnto vs, sayeyng that the people of Israel shalbe defended of their God: I wyl shewe thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor.

3 Yea, when we slaye them all as one man, thou also shalt perishe with them through the swoorde of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thee:

4 And then shalt thou see & knowe that Nabuchodonosor is the Lord of the whole earth: then shall the swoorde of my knyghthood go through thy sides, and thou shalt fal downe stickt among the woundes of Israel, and shalt not come to thee selfe againe, but be vtterly destroyed with them.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkest thy prophesie to be true, why mookst thou thus change thy colour? why art thou afrayd? thinkest thou that my woordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou mayest knowe that thou shalt fele these thinges with them, behold, from this houre forth, wyl I send thee vnto yonder people, that when the punishment of my swoorde, (which they haue wyckedly deserued,) falleth vppon them, thou mayest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commanded his seruantes to take Achior, and to carry him vnto Bethulia, and to delyuer hym into the handes of the chyldren of Israel.

8 Then

8 Then Holofernes seruantes toke him, and went through the playne feilde: but when they came nigh vnto the mountaines, the slyng casters came out agaynst them.

9 Neuertheles they gat them away by the syde of the mountaine, and bound Achior hande and foote to a tree, and so left hym bounde with withes, and turned agayne vnto their Lorde.

10 After that, the children of Israel went downe from Bethulia, came vnto hym, loosed him, brought him into Bethulia, set him in the middest of the people, and asked him what the matter was that the Assyrians had left him bounde?

11 Ozias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is also called Gothoniel, were the principal rulers at the same tyme.

12 Now when Achior stoode in the middest of the brethren, and before them all, he told them what answere he gaue Holofernes to the thyng that he asked him, and how Holofernes people would haue slaine him for so saying.

13 And how Holofernes him selfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the same cause to be deliuered vnto the Israelites: that when he ouercame the children of Israel, he might commaunde Achior also to be put to death with diuers tormentes, because he sayd, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achior had plainely told out all these thynges, all the people fell downe vpon their faces, prayeng the Lorde, and powred out their prayers togeather vnto the Lorde, with a generall complaynt and weepyng.

15 And sayde, O Lord God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pride, and loke vpon our lowlynesse, and consyder how it standeth with thy saintes, and make it to be knowē that thou forsakest not those which put their trust in thee: and how that thou tormentest them lowe, that presume of themselues, and make their boast in their owne strength.

16 So when the weepyng and prayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long) was ended, they called Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whose power and strength thou hast prayed, shal so reward thee, that thou shalt rather see their destruction.

18 When the Lorde our God then shal geue his seruantes this libertie, GOD be also with thee among vs, that as it shal please thee, so thou with all thyne maiest well with vs.

19 Nowe when Ozias had ended the counsel, he toke him into his house, and made a great supper.

20 Called the elders to it: and so they refreshed them selues after the fastyng.

21 And afterward was al the people called togeather, which made their prayers al the nyght long * in the congregation, and besought the God of Israel for helpe. * or, within the Church.

The. vii. Chapter.

Holofernes, doeth besege Bethulia.

1 THE next day Holofernes commaunded his host to go vp against Bethulia.

2 There were an hundred and twentie thousand fyghting men on foote, & two and twentie thousand horsemen, beside the prepayryng of them that were women, and came to them on euery syde out of the countreyes and cities which he had taken.

3 Al these prepared them selues vnto the batayle agaynst the Israelites, and came on by the hyl syde, vnto the top that loketh ouer against Dothain, from the place whiche is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lyeth towarde Esdrelon.

4 Now when the children of Israel saw so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fel downe flat vpon the grounde, strawed ashes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Israel would shewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And so they toke their weapons, and sate betwixte the mountaynes in the narowe place, and kept the way day and nyght.

6 But whyle Holofernes was gayng round about, he founde the water spryng, whiche from the south syde was conueyed into the citie by a conduice, & he commaunded their conduite to be cut in sunder.

7 There were welles also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretely, more for pleasure, then for necessitie. * or, thirste drinke them

8 Then went the Ammonites & the Moabites vnto Holofernes, and sayde, The children of Israel trust neyther in speare nor swe, but haue taken in and kept the mountaynes, and steepe hylles defende them.

9 That thou mayest ouercome them therefore without the stryking of any batalle, set men to keepe the welles, that they drawe no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without swoorde: or at the least they shalbe so feeble, that they shall lie fayne to geue ouer the citie, whiche they thinke not able to be wonne, for so much as it lyeth in the mountaynes.

10 Then

9 Their wordes pleased Holopherners wel, and al his meane of warre, and he set an hundred at euery wel rannge about.
10 And when this wicche had endured twenty dayes, the cesternes and al that had water, fayled them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, & that in the whole citie they had not drynke ynough for one day, for the people had water geuen them daily in a measure.
12 Then came the men and women, young persons and chyldren, al vnto Ozias, and sayde al with one voyce, 13 God be iudge betwixt vs & thee, for thou hast deale cruelly with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the lorde of the Assyrians, therefore hath GOD sold vs into their handes.
E 14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought vnder foote before their eyes in thyrst and great destruction.
15 Therefore gather vnto vs together al the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeeld our selues wyllyngly vnto the people of Holopherner.
16 For better it is that we be captiue, and prayse the Lorde with our lyues, then to be slayne and perishe, and to be laughed to scorne, and reuiled of euery man when we see our wyues and chyldren dye before our eyes.
17 We take heauen and earth this day to recorde, and the GOD of our fathers, whiche punisheth vs according to (to the deseruyng of) our sinnes, (and geue you wa-rnyng) that ye geue vp the citie now into the power of Holopherners hoste, that our ende may be from with the swoorde, whiche als that endure long for want of water, and for thyrst.
18 When they had spoken out their wordes, there was a great weping and howling in the whole congregation (and that of euery man) and they cried a whole houre long vnto God with one voyce, 19 Saying, We haue synned with our fathers, we haue ponished, we haue dealt wickedly.
20 O thou that art gracious, haue mercie vpon vs, or punishe our vnrighteousnesse with thyne owne scourge, and geue not vnto ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people whiche knowe thee not:
D 21 That they may not say among the Heathen, Where is their God?
22 And when they were so weerie with this crying and weryeng, that they helde their peace,
23 Ozias stood vp with watrie eyes, & said,
O take good hartes vnto you, deare brethren (and be of good cheere) & let vs wayte yet these fyue dayes for mercie of the Lord.
24 Peraduenture he shall put away his indignation, and geue glory vnto his name.
25 Dare the helpe vs not when the fyue dayes are past, we shal doo as ye haue sayde.

The.viii. Chapter.

The parentage, lyfe, and consolation of Iudith.

1 AND it happened when these wordes came to the eares of Iudith, a widow, whiche was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enias, the sonne of Nathanie, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:
2 And her husbande was called Manasses, whiche died in the dayes of the barley haruest.
3 For whyle he was byndyng the sheaues together in the feelde, the heate came vp-on his head, and he dyed at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.
4 Iudith was Iudith his widowe three yeres and syx monethes.
5 And in the hygher partes of her house she made her selfe a priuie chamber, where she dwelt, being closed in with her maydens:
6 She ware a sworde of heare, and fasted all the dayes of her lyfe, except the Sabbothes, and newe moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kept.
7 She was a very fayre and beautiful per- B son, her husbande also had left her great richelle, a plenteous householde, great vnmoueable possessions, and many carel.
8 This Iudith was a woman of a very good reporte with euery one, for she feared the Lorde greatly: and there was no body that spake an euyll worde of her.
9 When this Iudith hearde howe Ozias had promised the people, that after the fifth day he would geue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, she sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.
10 And when they came to her, she sayde,
What thing is this, wherein Ozias hath consented, that if GOD helpe not within fyue dayes, he wyl geue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?
11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lorde?
12 This deuice obteineth no mercy of god:
but prouoketh him vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Wyl

(> 87. many houres.)

wyl ye set the mercy of the Lord a time, and appoynt him a day after your wyl?

14 Neuertheles, for so muche as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beseching hym of grace.

15 For God threateneth not as a man, neyther wyl he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.

16 And therfore let vs humbly submyt vnto him, & serue him with a meke spirite, 17 And with weeping eyes, lye vnto the Lorde, that he deale with vs according to his owne wyl, specially in mercy: that like as our hart is now vexed and brought lowe through the vyle of them, so may we be comforted through his grace.

18 In so muche as we folowe not the sinnes of our fathers which forsooke their God, and worshipped other Gods:

19 For the which sinne they perished with the swoorde, were spoyled, and brought to shame of all their enimies: as for vs, we knowe none other God but onely him.

20 For whose comfort let vs tarrye with meekenesse, and he shal require and make inquisicion for our blood from the deuises of our enimies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise vp against vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lorde our God.

D 21 Therefore deare brethren, seeyng ye are the (honourable and) elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth al vppon you, lyft vp their hartes with your exhortation, that they may cal to remembrance how our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might be proued if they worshipped their God aright.

11.8. 22 They ought to remember howe our father Abraham beyng tempted, and tryed through many tribulations, was founde a louer and freende of God.

23 So was Isahac, so was Jacob, so was Moses: and all they that pleased God, passed stedfast in tryed through manifold troubles.

24 Againe, they that receiued not their temptations with the feare of god, but put them selues forth with impacience and murmuring against God, 25 Perished of the destroyer, & were slaine of serpentes.

26 And therfore shoulde we not vndertake vs be auenged for the thinges that are come vnto vs:

27 But to consyder that all these punishmentes are sayre lesse then our sinnes and misdedes, and beleeuyng that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the seruantes of God, for chastisement, and not for destruction.

28 Then saide Ozias and the elders vnto Judith, All that thou speakest is true; and no man can reprooue thy wordes.

29 Pray thou for vs now therfore (vnto God) for thou arte an holy woman, and feareste God.

30 And Judith saide vnto them, Beeyng ye knowe that my wordes are of God, 31 Then prouue my counsayle and driue it to the of God: and beseech God that he wyl bryng my counsayle to good ende.

32 (Thus haue I deuised,) Pe that stande this night before the gate, and I wyl goe forth with thyne my mayden: & pray ye therfore vnto God, that he wyll graciously remember this people of Israel within fiue dayes, as he hath saide.

33 As for the thing that I goe in hande withall, aske ye no questions of it: and wyll I bryng you word ere I departe, but go ye nothing els, but pray vnto the Lorde our God for me.

34 Then Ozias the prince of the people of Juda saide vnto her, Goe thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we maye be auenged of our enimies. And so they went from her again.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Iudith humbleth her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

1 NOwe when they were gone they to their owne, Judith went into her closet, put on a heery smocke, strewed ashes vpon her head, fel downe before the Lord, and prayed vnto him, saying,

A. Ashes vpon.

2 O Lorde God of my father Simeon, whe the gaue him a swoorde for a defence against the enimies that vsed violence in their vncleanneesse, and that rauished the virgin, (and) put her to shame and confusion:

Gene. 34. b. or, to reuengement of the straungers.

3 Thou hast gaue their wiues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuitie, and all their prayse for a thyng vnto thy seruantes whiche were a zeale vnto the: helpe me widowe, O Lorde my God, I beseeche thee.

4 For thou hast made the first thynges: and after that, whatsoeuer thou hast taken in hande and deuised, it came euer to passe.

5 For all thy waies are prepared, and thy foreknowledge lyeth in thy euerlastyng foreknowledge.

6 Behold now vpon the armies of the Assyrians, * or, tentes.

Affliction, like as it was thy pleasure some time to looke vpon the host of the Egyptians, when they in vayne trusted to their chariots, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

Verse 7 Wherefore thou didst vpon their host, casting a thicke darkenesse before them.

And when they came to the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

Euen so let it go with these that trust in their multitude of their men of warre, in their chariots, arrowes, and speares.

And know not that thou only art our God, which destroyest warres from the beginning, and * that thou art the Lorde.

* or, and that it appertayneth to thee to be called Lord.

For lo, the heathen (power) like as ouer from the beginning, ⁊ hauing power, hyring thereto men of warre, which haue their weapons and weapons, and vse cruelty, intending to bring the earth into subiection, to make their boast that they will couer the holy place with darkenesse, and to defile the tabernacle of the name, and to cast downe the horne of thine aulter with the sworde.

* or, of this man.

Beyng to passe, O Lorde, that the pride of the enemie may be cut downe with his owne sworde.

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smyte him with the lippes of my lippe.

14 O geue me a stedfast minde, that I may despise him ⁊ his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shal bring the name an euerlasting remembrance, if the hand of a woman ouerthrow him.

16 For thy power, O Lorde, standeth not in the multitude (of men) neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horse, neyther was there from the beginning any proude person that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke, hath thy pleasure alwayes ben moued.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, ⁊ Lorde of all creatures, heare me poore woman calling vpon thee, and putting my trust in thy worde.

18 Remember the couenant, O Lorde, and put in my mouth and stablish this deuice in my hart, that thy house may continue stedfast in holynesse.

19 And that all the heathen may know that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

The. x. Chapter.

1 Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth forth of the citie. 11 Shee is taken of the watch of the Assirians, and brought to Holofernes.

AND it came to passe, when they had left crying vnto the God of Israel, ⁊ saw that he had not regarded their prayer, they remayned in their siege many dayes.

2 Then Iudith arose vp from the place where she had layen downe before the Lord, and called her mayden Abra, went downe into her house, layde the heare cloth from her, put of the garmentes of her widowhood,

3 Washed her bodye, annointed her selfe with precious thinges of sweete sauour, parted and platted her heare, sent cappe vpon her head, and put on suche apparel as she had worne in the dayes of her reioysing, for her husband Manasses, put shoes vpon her feete, bracelettes, spanges, eare ringes, finger ringes, and decked her selfe with all her geare.

4 The Lorde gaue her also a special beautie and fayrenesse, for all this dressing of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but for a vertuous discretion and decree: therefore did the Lorde increase her beautie, so that she was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 Shee gaue her mayden Abra also a bottell of wyne, a potte with oyle, pottage, cake bread, and cheese, and went her way.

6 Nowe when they came to the porte of the citie, they found Ozias and the elders of the citie waytyng there.

7 Which when they saw her, they wondred at her beautie exceedingly, and maruelled greatly at her beautie.

8 Neuertheles, they asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers geue thee grace, and with his power performe all the deuice of thy hart, that Hierusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous.

9 And all they that were there said with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Iudith made her prayer vnto the Lord, ⁊ went out at the port, there ⁊ her mayd Abra.

11 And as shee was going downe the mountaine, it happened that about the rysing of the day, the spyes of the Assyrians met with her, and take her, saying, Whence comest thou? or whether goest thou?

12 Shee answeared, I am a daughter of the Hebrues, and am flowne from them: for I knowe that they shalbe geuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought scorne to yeeld them selues vnto you, that they might finde mercy in your syght.

13 Therfore haue I deuised by mee selfe after this maner, I wyl go before the prince Holofernes, and tel him all their secretes, and wyll shewe him howe he may come by them, and winne them all, so that not one man of his host shalbe lost.

14 And when these men had heard her wordes, ⁊ considered her fayre face, they were astonied, wonders (for they wondred at her excellent beautie,)

Iudith sayd vnto her, Thou hast vnto thy self by fyghting, ouercome this denice: therefore thou wouldest come downe to our lorde. And be thou sure, that when thou comest vnto hym, he shall intreate thee well, and thou shalt please hym at the hart. So they brought her in to Holophernes pauilion, and tolde hym of her.

Sodenly when he came in vnto hym, he was wonderly ouercome and taken with her beautie.

Then sayde his seruantes, Who would despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so fayre women? shoulde we not by reason fyght agaynst them for theis?

So when Iudith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canapie, that was wrought of purple silke, golde, smaragde, and precious stones,

She looked fast vppon hym, bowed her self, & fell downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruantes toke her vp again at their lordes commaundement.

The xi. Chapter.

Holophernes commeth to Iudith. 3. and asketh her cause of her comming. 5. Iudith answereth hym by her fayre wordes.

THen sayde Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thyne hart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonoso the king.

As for this people of thyne, if they had not displised me, I should not haue lyft vp my speare against them:

But this is not now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and hyder art thou come vnto vs?

And Iudith sayd vnto hym, Syr, vnderstande the wordes of thy handmayden, for if thou wylt doo after the wordes of thy handmayden, the Lord shal bryng the matter to a prosperous effect.

As Nabuchodonoso the king of the earth lyueth, and as his power lyueth, which is sent hether to the punishment of al men that goe wrong: al men that not only be subdued vnto hym through thee, but al the beastes also of the fielde.

For al people speake of thy prudent actes, and it hath ouer brode reported how thou onely art good and mighty in all his kyngdome, and thy discretion is commended in al landes.

The thyng is manifest also that Achior spake, & it is well knowen what thou com-maundest to doo vnto hym.

For this is playne, and of a surette, that our GOD is so wroth with vs by the treason of our synnes, that he hath shewed by his prophetes vnto the people, howe that for their synnes he wyl deliuer them vnto (our the enimie.)

And for so muche as the children of Israel knowe that they haue so displeased their God, they are sure ouercome of thee.

They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water they are dead now in a great numbre.

Moreouer, they are appointed to slay al their cattel, that they may drynke the blood of them.

And are purposed to spende the holye thynges of their GOD, which he hath forbidden them vnto vs to touche, wine and oyle, and therfore they sende vnto the dwelers, which they ought not to touche with their handes. Seeing now that they doo these thynges, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed.

Wherfore when I the handmayden perceiued, I strake from them: and the Lorde hath sent me to ouerthrowe thee.

For I thy handmayden worshyp God, euen here now he sende thee, and thy handmayden shal goe forth, and I wyl make my prayer vnto God.

And he shal tel me when he wyl bryng them their synne, then shal I come & shewe thee, and bryng thee through the myddest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue al the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepherde, and there shal not so much as one dogge barke agaynst thee.

For these thynges are so wel me by the prouidence of God.

And for so muche as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tel them the same.

These wordes pleased Holophernes, and al his seruantes, which marueyled at the wysedome of her, and sayde one to another.

There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beautie, and discretion of wordes.

And Holophernes sayde vnto her, God hath doone wel, that he hath sent thee before the people, that they might geue them into our handes.

And for so much as thy promyse is good, of thy God performe it vnto me, he shalbe my God also, and thou shalt be exalted, and great in the court of Nabuchodonoso, and thy name shalbe spoken of in al the landes.

The

A commaundeth her to goe in where his treasure laye, and charged that the houlde haue her dwelling there, and appoynted what shoulde be geuen her from his table.

1 THen commaunded he her to goe in where his treasure laye, and charged that the houlde haue her dwelling there, and appoynted what shoulde be geuen her from his table.

2 Judith answered hym, and sayde, As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to geue me, I may not eate of it as nowe, lest I displease my GOD: but will eate of those as I haue brought with me.

3 Then sayde Holophernes vnto her, Of these thynges that thou hast brought with thee, sayde, what shal we doo vnto thee?

4 And Judith vpon, Thy soule liueth, my lorde, thy handmayden shal not spende all this, ere God hath brought to passe in my handes the thynges that I haue purposed. So his seruauntes brought her into the tent wheras he had appoynted.

5 And as she was goyng in, she desyred that she might haue leaue to goe forth by night, and before day to doe her prayer, and to make request vnto God for the losse.

6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlayne, that she houlde goe out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto GOD thole seuen dayes.

B 7 And so in the nyghte season she went forth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the wel water.

8 And comming vp, she besought the Lorde God of Israel, that he would prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in her tent, tyl she tooke her meate in the euenyng.

10 Vpon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruauntes, and sayde vnto Vagao his chamberlayne, Goe thy way, and counsel this Hebrewesse, that she may be willing to consent to keepe companie with me.

11 For it were a shame vnto vs (sayde he) that a woman shoulde so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from vs vnmaried withal.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and sayd, Let not the good daughter be afrayde to come in to my lorde, that he may be honoured before him, that she may eate and drinke wyne, and be merie with him.

13 Vnto whom Judith answeared, Who am I, that I shoulde say nay vnto my lorde? whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shal doo it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shal I thynke best vnto me as long as I lyue.

14 So she stood vp, and decked her selfe with her apparel, and went in, and stoode before hym.

15 And Holophernes hart was wholy moued: for he brent in desyre towarde her.

16 And Holophernes sayd vnto her, Drinke nowe, and sit downe, and be merry, for thou hast founde fauour before me.

17 Then sayde Judith, Yea, I wyl drynke, for my lyfe is merier to day then euer it was in al my lyfe.

18 And she tooke, and dyd eate, and drinke before him the thynges that her mayden had prepared for her.

19 And Holophernes was merie with her, and dranke more wyne then euer he dyd in his lyfe.

The.xiii.Chapter.

7. Judith prayeth for strength. 10. She sitteth of Holophernes head. 12. She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

1 NOwe when it was late in the nyght, his seruauntes made haste euery man to his lodging, and Vagao shut vp the chamber doores, and went his way:

2 For they were all ouerladen with wyne.

3 So was Judith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, he lay vpon the bed (al dronken) and of very drunkennesse fel aslepe.

5 Then commaunded Judith her mayden to stande without before the doore, and to wayte.

6 And Judith stood before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and moouing her lippes secretely.

7 And sayd, Strengthen me, O Lorde God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the woorke of myne handes in this houre, that thou mayst set vp thy citie of Hierusalem, like as thou hast promised: and graunt that I may performe the thyng, wherin hope that it may be done by thee, I haue be liued.

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the piller that was at Holophernes beds head, and loosed his swoorde that hanged vpon it, and drue it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabbard, she tooke hold of the heary lockes of his head, and sayde, Strengthen me, O Lorde God in this houre.

10 And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote of his head: then she the canapie away from the piller, and and rolled the dead body a syde.

11 Immediatly the gate her fourth, and delyuered the head of Holopherne vnto her mayden, and bade her put it in her waller.

12 And so these two went forth together after their custome as though they would pray: and so passed by the host, and came about through the valley vnto the porte of the citie.

13 And Iudith cried a farre of vnto ȳ watchmen vpon the walles, Open the gates (sayd she) for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they hearde her voyce, they called the elders of the citie (together)

15 And they came all to meete her, litle and great, young and olde: for they thought not that she shoulde haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candels, and gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and caused silence to be proclaymed.

17 And when euery man now was in his peace, Iudith sayde, O prayse the Lord our God, for he hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmayden he hath performed his mercie, whiche he promised vnto the house of Israel: Yea, in my hande this same night hath he slayne the enimie of his people.

19 And with that she tooke forth the head of Holopherne out of the waller, and shewed it them, saying, Beholde the head of Holopherne the captayne of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is his canapy wherin he lay in his drunkennesse, where the lord our God hath slayne him by the hande of a woman.

20 But as the Lord liueth, his angel hath kept me, goeyng thither, remaining there, and comming hither agayne from thence: and the Lord hath not suffred me his handmayden to be defiled, but without any defiling of sinne, hath he brought me agayne vnto you, and that with great victorie, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.

D 21 O geue thankes vnto him euery one, for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

22 So they prayed the Lorde all together, (and gaue thankes vnto him) and to her they sayde, The Lorde hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enimies to nought.

23 And Ozias the cheefe ruler of the people of Israel, sayd vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the Lorde the high God aboue all women vpon earth.

24 Blessed be the Lord the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aryght to wounde and to smite of the head of the captayne of our enimies.

25 For this day he hath made thy name so honourable, that thy praise shal neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shal alway remember the power of the Lorde, seyng thou hast not spared thine owne selfe (but put thee in iopardie) considering ȳ anguishe and trouble of thy people, and so hast helped them ful before God our Lorde.

26 And all the people sayde, Amen. Amen.

27 Achior also was called, and he came: then sayde Iudith vnto him, The God of Israel, vnto whom thou gauest witnesse that he would be auenged of his enimies, euen he hath this night through my hande smitten of the head of all the vnfaythful.

28 And that thou mayst see that it so is, beholde this is the head of Holopherne, which in his presumptuous pride defyled the God of Israel, and threatned thee with destruction, saying, All them the people of Israel is taken, I shall cause them also to be slayne with the swoorde. E

29 When Achior sawe Holopherns head, he fell downe vpon his face to the grounde for very anguishe and feare, so that he sowned withal.

30 But after that he was come agayne to him selfe, he fell downe before her, and prayed her, saying, 31 Blessed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Iacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, shal prayse the God of Israel, because of thee.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

I. Iudith causeth to hang vp the head of Holopherne. 6. Achior ioyneth himself to the people of God. 7. The Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

1 IUdith sayd vnto all the people, Brethren I heare me, Sticke vp this head vpon our walles: 2. Mac. 15. 8

2 And when the sunne ariseth, take euery man his weapon, & sal out violently: not as though ye would be goe beside them, but to runne vpon them with violence.

3 When the spyes see this, they shal of necessitie be compelled to flee backwarde, and to rayse vp their captayne to the battayle.

4 So when they ȳ praimes come into Holopherne's pauilion, and finde the dead body wrapped in the blood, feare fulnesse shall fal vpon them.

5 And when ye perceiue that they flee, follow them without afeare, for GOD shal deliuer them vnto you to be destroyed. * 23. The Lorde shall breake them vnder your feete.

6 Then Achior seeing the power of GOD, Eee i which whiche he had thrown vnto the people of Israel, fel of from his heathenishe beleefe, and put his trust in God, and let himselfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Nowe assone as it was day, they stycke vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible crye.

8 When the spyes sawe that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were without the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great rushing, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by their whyle.

10 For there durste not one of the Assyrians knocke, or in, or open.

11 But when the captaynes and princes, and all the cheefe in the hoste of the Assyrians came together, they sayde vnto the chamberlaynes:

12 Goe your way in, and wake him vp: for the mice are creapt out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battayle.

13 Then Bagao went into his chamber, stoode before the * bed, and clapped with his handes: for he thought he had ben sleepyng with Judith.

* or, curtayne.

14 But when he heard nor perceiued perfectly with his eares, and coulde perceiue no slyepyng, he went nigher to the * bed, and lift it vp, and when he found the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, welteryng in his blood vpon the earth, he cryed with a loud voyce, and with weeping, rent his clothes,

* or, curtayne.

15 And went into Judithes tent, and founde her not.

16 And so he leapt out vnto the people, and said, One woman of the Iewes hath brought al Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for lo, Holophernes lyeth vpon the grounde, and hath no head.

17 When the cheefe of the Assyrians hoste hearde that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembling vpon them: so that their myndes were sore afrayde.

18 And there was an exceedyng great crye in * the whole hoste.

* or, myddest of the hoste.

The. xv. Chapter.

I. The Assyrians are afrayde and flee.
6. The Israelites pursue them.

1 NOwe when all the hoste hearde that Holophernes was beheaded, their myndes and counsayle fel from them: and being araysed with feare only and trembling, they fained them selues by fleeyng away.

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe their heades, left al behinde them, and made hast to escape from the Hebrues: for they heard that they were hastyng to come after with their weapons, and so they fled by the wayes of the feeldes, & though al the foote pathes of the dales. & woodes.

3 And when the children of Israel sawe that they fledde, they followed vpon them: and went downe with trumpets, blowing, and makyng a great crye after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and kept not them selues togeather, but fled their way: neuertheles, the children of Israel fel vpon them with one company and ouer, and discomfited as many as they might geat.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto al the cities and countreys of Israel.

6 So al the region and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the swoorde, tyll they came to the vttermost parte of their borders.

7 And they that were in Bethulia, came into the tentes of the Assyrians, and tooke al that they whiche were fledde had left behinde them, and so they founde great good.

8 And they that came agayne to Bethulia from the battayle, tooke with them suche thinges as had ben theirs: there was no number of the cattalle, and of al costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the best, they were al made ryche of the spoyles of them.

9 And Joachim the high priest, came from Hierusalem vnto Bethulia, with all the elders, that they might see Judith.

10 Nowe when she came out vnto them, they began al to prayse her with one voyce, saying, Thou worship of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people.

11 Because thou hast done manly, and thy hart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hande of the Lorde comforted thee, and blessed thou shalt be for euer.

12 And all the people sayde, So be it, so be it.

13 In thirtie dayes coulde the people of Israel scarse geather vp the spoyles of the Assyrians.

14 But all that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had ben his specially (wether it were of golde, of syluer, pretious stone, clothing, & al ornamentes) they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the the people.

35 And all the people reioyced, both women, maydens, and young people, with pypes, and harpes.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. Iudith prayseth God with a song. 25. She offereth to the Lorde Holophernes stuffe. 26. Her continencie, life, and death. 29. Al Israel lamenteth her.

1 THen sang Iudith this song vnto the Lorde, sayeng.

2 Begynne vnto the Lorde vpon the tabrettes, syng vnto the Lorde vpon the cymbales, O syng vnto hym a newe song of thankesgiuing, be ioyful, and cal vpon his name.

3 It is the Lorde that destroyeth warres, euen the Lorde is his name.

4 Whiche hath pytched his tentes in the myddest of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the handes of al our enimies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaynes of the north in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, & their horses couered the valleys.

6 He purposed to haue brent vp my * land, and to slay my young men with the swoord.

7 He woulde haue caryed away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almightie Lord hindred him, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman * which brought him to confusion.

8 For their mightie was not destroyed of the young menne, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slue him, neither haue the great giantes set them selues against him: but Iudith the daughter of Merari, with her fayre beautie hath discomfited hym, (and brought him to nought.)

9 For she layde away her widowes garment, and put on the apparell of gladnesse, to the reioycing of the children of Israel.

10 She annoynted her face with ointment, and bounde vp her heare in a coyffe, and toke a new * stole to beguyle him.

11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his mynd, with the swoorde smote she of his necke.

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, and the Medes at her boldnesse.

13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared byes of thirst.

14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearsed them through, and slayne them as fugitiue children: they perished in the battayle, * for the very feares of the Lorde my God.

15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgiuing vnto the Lorde, A newe song of prayse will we sing vnto our GOD.

16 Lorde, Lorde, thou art a great GOD, mighty in power, whom no man may ouercome.

17 Al thy creatures must serue thee: for thou spakest but the woorde, & they were made, thou sentest thy spirite, and they were created, and no man can withstande thy voyce. Gen.1. Psal.32.b.

18 The mountaynes shall moone from the foundations with the waters, the stonie rockes shal melt before thee lyke waxe.

19 But they that feare thee, shalbe great with thee in al thinges.

20 Wo vnto the people that ryse vp against my generation: for the almightie Lord wil auenge him selfe of them, and in the day of iudgement wyl he visite them.

21 For he shal geue fire and wormes in their flesshe, that they may burne and feele it for euermore. D

22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, all the people came to Hierusalem, to geue prayse and thankes vnto the Lord: and when they were purified, they offered all their whole burnt sacrifices, and their vowes, and their promised offerings.

23 And Iudith offered al Holophernes weapons (and all the tentes) that the people had geuen her, and the canopie that she toke from his bedde, and hanged them vp * vnto the Lorde.

* The olde interpreter hath, In anathema obliuionis.

24 The people were ioyful as the vie is: and this ioy with Iudith, by reason of the victorie, endured three monethes.

25 So after these dayes, euery man went home againe, and Iudith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken vnto the house of Israel.

26 Unto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knewe man all the dayes of her lyfe.

27 Upon the high solempne dayes, she went out with great worship. C

28 She dwelt in her husbandes house an hundred & fyue yeeres, and leaft her handemayden Abra free.

29 And died, and was buried beside her husband in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.

30 So long as she lyued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeeres also after her death.

31 The day wherein this victory was gotten, was solemply holden, and reckened of the Iewes in the number of holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer since, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

A 1 MArdocheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, of the tribe of Benjamin,

2 A Jewe, whiche had his dwelling in the citie of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kynges courte.

2. Reg. 24. d Jerr. 24. a. 3 Nevertheles, he was one of the prysoners whom Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon had caryed away from Hierusalem unto Babylon, with Jechonias the kyng of Juda.

4 In the seconde yeere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes, in the fyrst day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus suche a dreame.

5 He thought he hearde a great tempest, horrible thunderclappes, earthquakes, and great noyse in the lande.

6 And that he sawe two great dragons, redy to fyght one agaynst another.

B 7 Their crye was great: at the which roaryng and crye, all the heathen were redy to fyght agaynst the righteous people.

8 And the same day was ful of darknesse and very uncleare, ful of trouble and anguishe, yea a great fearefulnesse was there in the lande.

9 The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and evil that was devised over them, and were at a poynt with them selues to dye. So they cryed unto God.

10 And whyle they were cryeing, the litle wel grew into a great riuer, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the sunne rose up again: & the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious and proude.

12 Nowe when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his hart what God would doe: and so he desired to know all the matter, & his minde was therupon wholy occupied.

The.xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus uttereth the treason devised against the king, and is therefore rewarded of him.

A 1 AT the same tyme dwelt Mardochens with Bagatha and Thara in the kinges court, the kinges chamberlaynes and porters of the palace.

2 But when he hearde their deuise, and had diligently consydered their imaginations, he perceyued that they went about to lay their (cruel) handes upon the kyng Artaxerxes, and so he certifyed the king therof.

3 Then caused the king to examine the two * gelded with tormentes: and when they had graunted it, they were put to death. * Or, chamberlaynes.

4 This the kyng caused to be put in the Chronicles for an euerlasting remembrance, and Mardocheus wrote up the same matter.

5 So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde remayne in the court, and for this faythfulnesse of his, he gaue him rewards.

6 But Aman, the sonne of Amadathu the Agagite, whiche was holden in great honour and reputation in the kinges court, undertooke to hurte Mardocheus and his people, because of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

The.xiii. Chapter.

I. The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst the Iewes. 9. The prayer of Mardocheus.

A 1 THE great kyng Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India unto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth his freendly saluation unto all the princes & deputies of the countrey, whiche be subiect unto his dominion.

2 When I was made lorde ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth unto my dominion, my mynd was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt mee selfe, by the reason of my power: but purposed with gentle alway and gentlenesse, to gouerne those that be under my iurisdiction, and wholy to set them in a peaceable lyfe, and thereby to bryng my kingdome unto tranquilitie, that men might safely goe through on on euery ſide, and to reuue peace agayne, whiche al men deſyre.

3 Now when I aſked my counſellers howe theſe thinges myght be brought to a good ende, there was one by vn excellent in wyſdome, whoſe good wyll, trueth, and faythfulneſſe hath oft ben ſhewed and proued, (which was alſo the principal and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 Whiche certified vs, howe that in all landes there was ſcattered abrode a rebellious folke, that made ſtatutes and lawes agaynſt all other people, & haue alway deſpiſed the proclaymed commaundementes of kinges, and howe that for this cauſe it were not to be ſuffred that ſuch rule ſhould continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeyng nowe we perceiue the ſame, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vſyng ſtraunge and other manner of lawes, and withſtand our ſtatutes and doynges, and goe about to ſtablithe theſe matters, that our kingdome ſhoulde neuer come to good eſtate (and ſtedfaſtneſſe.)

6 Therefore haue we commaunded that al they that are appointed in writing, and ſhewed vnto you by Aman, whiche is ordayned and ſet ouer all our landes, and the moſte principal next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, ſhal with theyr wyues and chyldren be deſtroyed and rooted out with the ſworde of theyr enimies and aduerſaries, and that there ſhalbe no mercie ſhewed, and no man ſpared: and this ſhalbe done the fourtieenth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere.

7 That they which of old, & nowe alſo haue euer ben rebellious, may in one day with violence be thruſt downe into the hel, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.

8 But Mardochens thought vpon all the workes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto hym.

9 Saying, O Lorde, Lorde, thou ſtrong and almightie king, for all thinges are in thy power: and yf thou wylt helpe and deliuer Iſrael, there is no man that can withſtande nor let thee.

10 For thou haſt made heauen and earth, and what woonderous thing ſoeuer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of al things, & there is no man that can reſiſt thy maieſtie, O Lorde.

12 Thou knoweſt al things, thou woteſt Lorde that it was neither of malice nor preſumption, nor for any deſyre of glory, that I would not bowe downe mee ſelfe, nor worſhyp yonder proude preſumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue ben content, and that with good wyll, if it might haue done Iſrael any good, to haue kyſſe euen his footeſteppes.)

14 But that I dyd it becauſe I woulde not ſet the honour of a man in the ſtede of the glory of God, and becauſe I woulde worſhyp none but only thee, my Lorde: and this haue I done in no pride nor preſumption. C

15 And therefore, O Lorde, thou God and kyng, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, they; mynde and deſire is to deſtroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer ben thine inheritance of olde.

16 O deſpiſe not thy portion, whiche thou haſt deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thyne owne ſelfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercyfull vnto thy people whom thou haſt choſen for an heritage vnto thee ſelfe, turne our complaynt and ſorowe into ioy, that we may lyue, O Lorde, and praiſe thy name: O Lorde, ſuffer not the mouthes of them that praiſe thee, to be deſtroyed.

18 All the people of Iſrael in lyke manner cried as earneſtly as they coulde vnto the Lord, for their death and deſtruction ſtoode before theyr eyes.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

The prayer of Eſther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

1 QVeene Eſther alſo beyng in the * barrayle of death, reſorted vnto the Lorde, A * or, peryl.

2 Layde away her glorious apparel, and put on the garmentes that ſerued for ſyghyng and mournyng: In the ſtede of precious ointment, ſhe ſcattered aſhes and dounge vpon her head: & as for her body, ſhe humbled it with faſtyng, and brought it very lowe: al the places where ſhe was woont to haue ioy afore, thoſe filled ſhe with her owne heare that ſhe pluckt of.

3 She prayed alſo vnto the Lorde GOD of Iſrael with theſe wordes, O my Lorde, thou only art our kyng, helpe me deſolate woman, whiche haue no helper but thee:

4 For my miſerie and deſtruction is harde at my hande.

5 From my youth vp, I haue hearde out of the kynrede of my father, that thou tookeſt Iſrael from among al people, and ſo haue our fathers of theyr fore elders, that they ſhoulde be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou dyddſt promyſe them;

thou haſt made it good vnto them.
6 Nowe Lorde, we haue ſinned before thee, therefore haſt thou geuen vs into the handes of our enimies.
7 Becauſe we worſhipped their gods: Lord thou art righteous.
8 Neuertheleſſe, it ſatisfieth them not that we are in bitter and beaſtly captiuitie, and oppreſſed among them, but they haue layde their handes vpon the handes of their gods.
9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth haſt ordeyned & appointed, to deſtroy thine inheritance, to ſhutte and to ſtoppe the mouthes of them that prayſe thee, to quenche the glory and worſhyp of thy houſe and thyne aulter:
10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may prayſe the power and vertue of the goddes, and to magnifie the fleſhly king for euer.
11 O Lorde, geue not thy ſcepter vnto them that be nothing, leſt they laugh vs to ſcorne in our miſerie and fall: but turne their deuice vpon them ſelues, and punyſhe hym that hath begun the ſame ouer vs, and ſet him to an example.
12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and ſhew thee ſelfe vnto vs in the tyme of our diſtreſſe, and of our trouble: ſtrengthen me, O thou king of gods, thou Lord of al power:
13 Geue me an eloquent and pleaſant ſpeach in my mouth before the Lion: turne his hart into the hate of our enimies, to deſtroy hym, and all ſuche as conſent vnto him.
14 But deliuer vs with thy hande, and helpe me thy handmaide, whiche haue no defence nor helper, but only thee Lord.
15 Thou knoweſt all thinges, thou woteſt that I loue not the glory and worſhyp of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bedde of the vncircumciſed, and of all heathen.
16 Thou knoweſt my neceſſitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence and worſhyp, whiche I beare vpon my head what tyme as I muſt ſhewe mee ſelfe and be ſeene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by mee ſelfe.
17 Thou knoweſt alſo that I thy handmayden haue not eaten at Amans table, & that I haue had no pleaſure nor delight in the kinges feaſt, that I haue not dronke the wine of the drinke offeringes, 18 And that I thy handmaiden haue no ioy, ſynce the day that I was brought hyther, vnto this day, but only thee, O Lorde, O thou God of Abraham.
19 O thou mightie God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hande of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

I. Mardocheus mooueth Eſther to goe in vnto the kyng, and make interceſſion for her people. 9. And ſhe performed his requeſt.

1 MArdocheus alſo bade Eſther goe in vnto the kyng, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.
2 Remember (ſayth he) the dayes of thy lowe eſtate, how thou waſt nourished vnder my hande: for Aman whiche is nexte vnto the kyng, hath geuen ſentence of death againſt vs:
3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lorde, and ſpeake for vs vnto the kyng, and deliuer vs from death.
4 And vpon the third day it happened, that Eſther layde away the mourning garmentes, and put on glorious apparel,
5 And decked her ſelfe goodly (after that ſhe had called vpon God, whiche is the beholder and ſauiour of al thinges) (and) tooke two maydens with her:
6 Vpon the one ſhe leaned her ſelfe, as one that was tender:
7 The other folowed her, & bare the traine of her veſture.
8 The ſhine of her beautie made her face roſe coloured, the ſimilitude of her face was chearefull and amiable: but her hart was ſorowful for great feare.
9 She went in through al the doores, and ſtoode before the kyng: the kyng ſate vpon the throne of his kingdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all ſhining with golde, and ſet with pretious ſtones, and he was very terrible.
10 He lyft vp his face that ſhone in the clearneſſe, and looked grimly vpon her: then fel the Queene downe, was pale and fayne, leaned her ſelfe vpon the head of the maide that went with her.
11 Neuertheleſſe, God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his ſeate for feare, and gate her in his armes, and helde her vp tyl ſhe came to her ſelfe agayne, he gaue her louing wordes alſo, and ſayde vnto her,
12 Eſther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:
13 Thou ſhalt not dye, for our commaundement toucheth the commons, and not thee: Come nigh.
14 And with that he held vp his golden rod, and and layde it vpon her necke,

15 And imbraced her freendely, and sayde, Talke with me.
16 Then sayde she, I sawe ther (O Lorde) as an angel of God, and my hart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie & clearenesse.
17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou, O Lorde, and thy face is ful of amitie.
18 But as she was thus speaking vnto him, she fel downe agayne for fayntnesse:
19 For the which cause the king was afrayd, and al his seruantes comforted her.

The. xvi. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes, wherby he reuoketh those whiche he first sent foorth.

1 The great king Artaxerxes, which raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, suche as lone him, his freendly salutation.
2 There be many that for the sundry freendshippes and benefytes whiche are diuerslly donne vnto them for their worshipp, be ever the more proude and high minded:
3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subiectes, (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, and begin to imagine some thing agaynst those that doo them good,
4 And take not onely all thankfulnesse away from men) but in pryde and presumption, as they that be vnmyndfull and vnthankful for the good deedes, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all thinges, whiche iudgement hateth and punnisheth al wickednesse,
5 It happeneth oft also, that they whiche be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, waxe proude, and defyle them selues with sheddyng of innocent blood, whiche bringeth them to intollerable hurt.
6 Whiche also with false and deceytfull woords, and with lyeing tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.
7 Nowe is it profytable and good that we take heede, make searche therafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnhonest, and noysome things that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes.
8 And therby to beware in tyme to comme, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for al menne, and that we might lomtyme drawe it to a change.
9 And as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to put it downe after the most freendly maner.
10 What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger verely of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was comme in among vs as an aliant,
11 And had obteyned the frendshyp that we beare toward al people, so that he was called our father, and had in hygh honour of euery man, as the next and principall vnto the kyng:
12 He could not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken not onely to rob vs of the kingdome, but of our lyfe:
13 With manifold deceyt also hath he desyred to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hath donne vs good in al thynges, and innocent Esther the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, with all her people.
14 For his mynde was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.
15 But we fynde that the Iewes (which were accused of the wicked, that they myght be destroyed) are no cruel doers, but vse reasonable and ryght lawes:
16 And that they be the children of the most hygh lyuing God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath benne wel ordered hytherto.
17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commaundements that were put foorth by Aman, the sonne Amadathu, ye shall doo wel if ye holde them of none effect.
18 For he that set them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the porte, with all his kinrede: and God, which hath all thinges in his power, hath rewarded him after his deserning.
19 And vpon this ye shall publishe and set vp the coppie of this letter in all places: that the Iewes may freely and without hynderance holde them selues after their owne statutes:
20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, whiche in the tyme of their anguishe and trouble would haue oppressed them.
21 For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people shoulde haue perished.
22 Moreouer, among the high solempne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with al gladneſſe:

23 That nowe, and in tyme to comme, this day may be a remembrance of good, for al ſuche as loue the proſperitie of the Perſians: but a remembrance of deſtruction to thoſe that be ſeditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and landes that doo not this, ſhall horribly periſhe, and be deſtroyed with the ſwoorde and fire, and ſhal notonly be no more inhabited of menne, but be abhorred alſo of the wylde beaſtes and foules.

The ende of the reaſt of the booke of Eſther.

¶ The wiſdome of Solomon.

The fyrſt Chapter.

I. Howe we ought to enquire and ſearche after God. 2. Who they are that fynde hym.

1 LOue rygh teouſneſſe, ye
A that be iudges of the earth: conſyder deepely of the Lord in goodnes, and ſeeke him in ſingleneſſe of hart.

2 For he wyl be found of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto ſuch as put no diſtruſt in him.

3 For wicked thoughtes ſeparate from god, and (his) power when it is * tryed, reproueth the vnwyſe. * or, tempted.

4 For whyle wyſedome ſhal not enter into a wicked ſoule, nor dwel in the body that is ſubiect vnto ſinne.

5 For the holy ſpirite of diſcipline fleeth from deceypt, and withdraweth him ſelfe from thoughtes that are without vnderſtandyng, and is declared when wickedneſſe commeth.

6 For the ſpirite of wyſedome is louyng, and wyl not abſolue him that blaſpemeth with his lippes, for God is witneſſe of his reynes, and a true beholder of his hart, and an hearer of his tongue.

B 7 For the ſpirite of the Lorde fylleth the rounde compaſſe of the world, and the ſame that vpholdeth al thinges, hath knowledge alſo of the voyce.

8 Therefore he that ſpeaketh vnrighteous thinges, can not be hydde, neyther ſhal the iudgement of reproofe let him eſcape.

9 And whyle inquiſition ſhalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the ſounde of his woordes ſhal comme vnto GOD, ſo that his wickednelle ſhalbe punniſhed.

10 For the eare of ielouſie heareth all thinges, and the noyſe of the grudgynges ſhall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, whiche is nothing worth, & refrayne your tongue from ſclaunder: for there is no woorde ſo ſecrete that it ſhal goe for nought, and the mouth that ſpeaketh lyes, ſlayeth the ſoule.

12 D ſeeke not your owne death in the error of your lyfe, deſtroy not your ſelues thorough the woorkes of your owne handes:

13 For God hath not made death, neyther hath he pleaſure in the deſtruction of the lyuyng:

14 For he created al things, that they might haue their being, and the * generations of C the worlde were healthfull, and there is no poyſon of deſtruction in them, nor the kingdome of hel vpon the earth. * or beginnings.

15 For rygh teouſneſſe is (euerlaſtyng and) immortall: but vnrygh teouſneſſe byngeth death.

16 Neuertheleſſe, the vngodly call (a) it vnto them both with woorkes and woordes: and whyle they thinke to haue it theyr freende, they come to nought, and they haue made an agreement with it, for they are woorthy to be of her part. (a) To wit, death.

The. ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and deſires of the wicked, and their counſel agayn ſt the faythful.

1 FOR the vngodly ſay, reaſonyng with them ſelues, but not aright, Our lyfe is A ſhort and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neyther is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at al aduenture, and we ſhalbe hereafter, as though we had neuer benne: for our breath is as a ſmoke in our noſethyrilles, and woordes as a ſparke rayſed out of our hartes:

3 Whiche beyng extinguiſhed, our bodye ſhalbe turned into aſhes, and our ſpirite ſhal vaniſhe as the ſoft ayre.

4 Our lyfe ſhall paſſe away as the trace of a cloude, and comme to nought as the miſt that is dryuen away with the beames of the ſunne, & put down with the heate ther-of:

of: our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shal haue our workes in remembrance.

5 For our time is a very shadowe that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returninge: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

6 Come on therefore, let vs enioye the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearefully vse the creatures like as in youth:

7 Let vs fyll our selues with good wyne and ointment, and let there no flowre of the tyme escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buds, afore they be wythered:

9 (a) Let there be no fayre medowe, but our lust goe through it. Let every one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in every place: for that is our portion, and this (onely) our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore ryghteous, let vs not spare the widow nor old man, let vs not regard the heades that are gray for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothing worthy.

12 Therfore let vs defraude the righteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contrary to our doynges, he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, & slaundereth the faultes of our maner of lyuing.

13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth him self Gods sonne.

14 He is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughtes.

15 It greeueth vs also to looke vppon hym, for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

16 He counteth vs but * dayne persons, he withdraweth him selfe from our wayes as from fylthynesse, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his woordes be true, let vs prooue what shal happen in the ende of hym.

18 For if the iust man be the sonne of God, he wyl receiue hym, and deliuer hym from the handes of his enemies.

19 Let vs examine hym with dispitefull rebuke and tormentyng, that we may know his meekenesse, and prooue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne hym with the moste shamefull death: for as hym selfe sayth, he shalbe rewarded (of God.)

21 Such thynges doo they imagine, and goe astraye, for their owne wickednesse hath blynded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstande them not, they neyther hope for the rewarde of ryghteousnesse, nor regarde the worshyp that holy soules shal haue.

23 For God created man to be vndestroyed, yea, after the image of his owne likenesse made he hym. Gene. 4. k 24 Neuertheles thorow enuie of the deuyl came death into the worlde, and they that belong of his owne doo finde it.

The. iii. Chapter.

I. The conseruation and assurance of the ryghteous. 7. The rewarde of the faythfull. 11. Who are miserable.

1 BVt the soules of the righteous are in the A hand of God, and there shal no torment touche them.

2 In the syght of the vnwise they appeared to dye, and their ende is taken for miserie,

3 And their departing from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet is their hope ful of immortalitie.

5 They are punished but in fewe thynges, neuertheles in many thinges shall they be wel rewarded, for God prooueth them, and findeth them meete for hym selfe.

6 As gold in the furnace doth he trye them, and receiueth them as a burne offering: and when the tyme commeth they shalbe looked vpon.

7 They shal shine and runne thorough, as the B sparkles among the stubble.

8 They shal iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their Lord shal raigne for euer.

9 They that put their trust in him, shal vnderstande the trueth, and suche as be faythful, shal persewer with hym in loue: for his Saintes haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

10 But the vngodly shalbe punished accordyng to their owne imaginations, for they haue despised the ryghteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

11 For who so dispiseth wisedome & * nurture, he is * vnhappy, & as for the hope of suche it is but vayne, their labours vnfruitful, and their woorkes vnprofitable. * or, discipline. * or, he is miserable.

12 Their wyues are vndiscrete, and their chyldren most vngodly.

13 Their offspryng (or progenie) is cursed: wherefore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, whiche hath not knowen the synfull bed, she shal haue fruite in the visitation of soules:

14 And the geldod whiche with his handes C hath hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shalbe geuen the speciall gyft of fayth, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruite of the good labour, and the roote of wisedome shal neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shal not come to a perfect ende, and the seede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they lyue long, yet shal they be nothing regarded, & their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they dye quickly, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of inquirie.

19 For horrible is the ende of the vnrighteous generation.

The. iiii. Chapter.

I. Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof. 10. The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaythful.

1 O How fayre is a chaste generation with vertue? the memorial therof is immortal: for it is knowen with God & with men.

2 When it is present, menne take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desyre it: it is crowned, and euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the reward of the vndefiled batayles.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in children, shal profite nothyng, nor geue deepe roote by the seede of adulteris, nor lay any fast fundation.

4 For though they bud foorth in the branches for a time, yet shal they be shaken with the wynde, for they stande not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wynde they shalbe rooted out:

5 The vnperfect branches shalbe broken, their fruite shalbe vnprofitable, and sowre to eate, yea, meete for nothing.

6 And why? al the children that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare record of the wickednesse against their fathers and mothers when they be asked.

B 7 But though the righteous be ouertaken with death, yet shal he be in rest.

8 For honorable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres:

9 But a mans wisedome is the gray heare, and an vndefiled life is the old age.

10 He pleased God, & was beloued of hym, for that whereas he lyued among sinners, he translated him.

11 Yea, speedyly was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse should not alter his vnderstanding, and that deceite should not beguyle his soule. Gene. 5. 24.

12 For wickednesse with bewitching, dooth darken the honest things: and the lightnesse of * voluptuous desyre * turneth aside the single minde. * or, concupiscence. * or, changeth, or alienateth.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he muche tyme:

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore hasted he to take him away * from among the wicked. * or, from out of the middest of wickednesse.

15 This the people see, and vnderstande it not, they lay not vp suche thinges in their hartes, howe that the louing fauour and mercy (of God) is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly whiche are lyuyng: and the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long lyfe of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the end of the wise: but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him, and wherfore the Lord hath taken him away to be in saftie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise hym, therfore shal god also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they them selues shal dye hereafter without honour, yea in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst those that be put vp, & shake them from the fundations, so that they shalbe layde as vtterly wasted: they shalbe in sorow, and their memorial perish.

20 So they shall come afrayde in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The. v. Chapter.

I. The constantnesse of the ryghteous before their persecutours. 14. The hope of the vnfaythful is vayne. 15. The blessednesse of the Saintes and godly.

1 THen shal the righteous stande in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, and taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, & shal woonder at his health so farre beyonde al that they looked for.

3 And changyng their opinion, with grenyng for the redresse of mynd, they shal say, This is he whom we sometime had in derision, and iested vpon.

4 We fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his ende to be without honour:

5 But

5 But loe howe he is counted among the chyldren of God, and his portion is among the saintes.
6 Therfore haue we erred from the way of trueth, the light of rightewulnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstandyng rose not vp vpon vs.
7 We haue weeried our selues in the way of wickednes and destruction, yea we haue gone through tedious desartes: but as for the way of the Lorde, we haue not knowen it.
8 What good hath pryde done vnto vs? or what profyte hath the pompe of richesse brought vs?
9 All those thynges are passed away lyke a shadowe, and as a Poste that hasteth by:
10 As a shyp that passeth ouer the waues of the water, whiche when it is gone by, the trace therof can not be founde, neither the path of it in the floodes:
11 Or as a byrde that fleeth through in the ayre, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but onely heareth the noyse of her wynges, beating the light wynde, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of her goyng, and fleeth on shaking her wynges, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be founde:
12 Or lyke as when an arrowe is shot at a marke, it parteth the ayre, whiche imme-diatly commeth together againe, so that a man can not know where it went through:
13 Euen so we in lyke maner, as soone as we were borne, beganne immediately to drawe to our ende, & haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.
14 Such wordes they that haue sinned speake in the hel:
15 For the hope of the vngodly is lyke a drye thystle flowre that is blowen awaye with the wynde, lyke a thynne * scumme that is scattered abrode with the storme, lyke as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the wynde, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarrieth but a day, and then departeth.
16 But the righteous shal liue for euermore, their rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the care for them is with the byghest.
17 Therefore shal they receyue a glorious kingdome, and a beautiful crowne of the Lordes hande: for with his ryght hande shal he couer them, and with his arme shal he defende them.
18 His iealousie also shal take on harnesse, and he shal arme the creature to be reuenged of his enimies.
19 He shal put on ryghteousnesse for a brest plate, and take vnfalgned iudgement in stead of an helmet.
20 The inuincible shielde of equitie shal he take.
21 His fierce wrath shal be sharpe for a sworde, and the whole compasse of the worlde shal fyght with him agaynst the vnwyse.
22 Then shal the thunder bolts goe * ryght out of the lightenynges, and come as out of the wel bent bowe of the clouden, to the place appoynted.
23 And as from an angrie castre of stones, there shal fal thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shalbe wroth agaynst them, and the floodes shal runne roughly together.
24 Yea a mightie wind shal stand vp against them, & a storme shal scatter them abrode:
thus vnryghteous dealyng shal bryng al
the land to a wyldernesse, and wickednesse shal ouerthrowe the royal * seates of the mighty.

* Or, straight.

* Or, thrones.

The. vi. Chapter.

2. The callyng of kynges, princes, and iudges, whiche are also exhorted to searche wysedome.

1 WIsedome is better then strength: and a man of vnderstandyng is more worthy then one strong.
2 Heare therefore (O ye kynges) and vnderstande, O learne, ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth.
3 Geue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, &
glorie in the number of peoples.
4 For the power is geuen you of the Lorde, and the strength from the byghest, whiche shal trye your workes, and search out your imaginations:
5 Howe that ye being officers of his kyngdome, haue not geuen true iudgment, haue not kept the lawe of ryghteousnesse, nor walked after the wyl of God.
6 Horribly, and that ryght soone, shal he appeare vnto you: for an harde iudgement shal they haue that beare rule.
7 Mercie is graunted vnto the lowest: but they that be in auctoritie shalbe sore punished.
8 For he whiche is lorde ouer al, shal * recept no mans person, neither shal he stande in awe of any mans greatnesse: for he hath made the smal and great, and careth for al alyke.
9 But the mighty shal haue the sorer tryal.
10 Unto you therfore, (O ye kynges) doo I speake, that ye may learne wysedome, and not goe amysse.
11 For they that keepe holynesse * holily, shalbe iudged holy: & they that haue learned suche thinges, shal fynde defence.

This vearse is onely in the olde translation.

* Or, feare, Or, spare.

* Or, holy thynges.

12 Wherefore

* or, couet my wordes
* or, be instructed and learned.

12 Wherefore set your delyght vpon my wordes, and delyre them, so shal ye come vnto perfitnes.
13 Wysedome is a noble thyng, and neuer fadeth away: yea she is easily seene of them that loue her, & founde of such as seeke her.
14 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may shewe her selfe vnto them.
15 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shal haue no great trauayle: for he shal finde her syttyng redie at his doores.
16 To thynke therefore vpon her, is perfect vnderstandyng: and who so watcheth for her, shal quickly be dispatched of care.
17 For she goeth about seekyng suche as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe chearfully vnto them in their goynges, and metteth them with all diligence.
* or, in their waies
18 For the vnfaigned delyre of reformation is her begynnyng: to care for nurture, is loue.
* or, enterpriseth.
19 And loue is the keeping of her lawes, and the keeping of her lawes, is the assurance of immortalitie:
* or, discipline.
20 And immortalitie maketh a man familier with God.
21 And so the delyre of wysedome, leadeth to the kyngdome (euerlastyng.)
22 If your delyght be then in royal seates and sceptors (O ye kinges of the people) set your * hart vpon wysedome, that ye may raigne for euermore.
* or, honor.
This vearse is onely in the olde interpreter.
23 O loue the lyght of wysedome, al ye that be rulers of the people.
24 As for wysedome, what she is, and howe she came vp, I wyl tel you, & wyl not hide the mysteries of (God) from you: but wyl seeke her out from the begynnyng of her natiuitie, and bryng the knowledge of her into lyght, and wyl not keepe backe the trueth, 25 Neyther wyl I haue to doo with consumyng enuie: for such a man shal not be partaker of wysedome.
26 But the multitude of the wyse, is the welfare of the worlde: and a wyse kyng is the * vpholdyng of the people.
* or, stay.
27 O receyue nurture then through my wordes, and it shal doo you good.

The.vii. Chapter.

Wisdome ought to be preferred aboue al thinges.

1 I Mee selfe also am a mortal man, lyke as al other, and am come of the earthie generation of him that was first made,
2 And in my mothers wombe was fashioned to be fleth in the time of ten monethes, being brought together in blood, through the seede of man, & the pleasure that came with sleepe.
3 And when I was borne, I receyued like aire as other men, and fel vpon the earth, whiche is of like nature, crying and weepyng at the first as al other doo.
4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.
5 For there is no kyng that hath had any other begynnyng of byrth:
6 Al men then haue one entrance vnto lyfe, and one goyng out in lyke maner.
7 Wherefore I desyred, and vnderstanding was geuen me: I called, and the spirite of wysedome came into me.
D
8 I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royal seates, and counted richesse nothyng in comparison of her.
9 As for precious stone, I compared it not vnto her: for al golde is but a litle grauel vnto her, & syluer shalbe counted but clay before her syght.
10 I loued her aboue * welfare and beautie, and purposed to take her for my lyght: for her lyght can not be quenched.
* or, health
11 Al good thynges together came to me with her, & innumerable richesse through her handes.
12 And I was glad in al thynges, because wysedome went before them: and I knewe not that she was the mother of them.
13 And I me selfe learned vnfaignedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hyde her richesse from no man.
14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men: which who so vse, become partakers of the loue (and frendship) of God: and are accepted vnto him for * gifts of wysedome.
* or, knowledge.
15 God hath graunted me to speake what my minde conceiueth, and to thinke as is meete for the thynges that are geuen me: for it is he that leadeth vnto wysedome, and teacheth to vse wysedome aryght.
16 For in his handes are both we and our wordes, yea al our wysedome, and knowledge of (his) woorkes.
17 For he hath geuen me the true science of the thynges that are, so that I knowe how the worlde was made, and the powers of the elementes:
18 The begynning, endyng, and myddest of the tymes, howe the tymes alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfylled,
19 The course of the yere, the ordinances of the starres, 20 The natures of lyuing thynges, the furiousnesse of beastes, the power of the windes, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of young plantes, the vertues of rootes:
21 And al suche thynges as are eyther secrete or manifest, them haue I learned.
D

22 For

22 For wisedome, whiche is the woorker of al thinges, hath taught me: for in her is the spirite of understanding, which is holy, one only, manyfold, subtile, * quicke, mouing, cleare, undefiled, plaine, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, which can not be letted, beeyng good,

23 Kind to man, stedfast, sure, free frō care, hauing all * vertues, * circumspect in all thinges, and passyng through all understanding, cleane, and subtile spirites.

24 For wisdome is nimbler then al nimble thinges, she goeth through, and attaineth to al things, because of her cleanesse.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowyng from the glory of the almightie (God:) therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.

26 For she is the brightenesse of the euerlasting lyght, the undefiled mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And beyng (but) one, she can doo al things: and remaynyng in her selfe, she renueth al, and in al ages of tymes entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods frendes, and prophetes:

28 For GOD loueth none, if he dwell not with wisedome.

29 For she is more beautiful then the sunne, * and geueth more lyght then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For vpon * the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisedome.

The. viii. Chapter.

The effectes of wisedome.

1 WIsdome reacheth from one ende to another mightily, & * louingly dooth she ozder al thinges.

2 I haue loued her, and * laboured for her from my youth vp: I dyd my diligence to marrie mee selfe with her, suche loue had I vnto her beautie.

3 That she hath the company of GOD, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lozde of al thinges him selfe loueth her.

4 For she is the scoolemaistresse of the knowledge of GOD, and the chooser out of his woozkes.

5 If * a man woulde desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisdome, that woorketh al thinges?

6 For if prudencie woorke: what is it among al thinges that woozketh better?

7 And if a man loue righteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why? she teacheth soberneſſe & prudence, * righteousnesse and strength, whiche are such thinges as men can haue nothing more profitable in their lyfe.

8 If a man desire muche * knowledge, she can tel the things that are past, and discerne thinges for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of woozdes, and can expounde darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders oz euer they come to passe, and the * endes of al tymes and ages.

9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I wyl take her into my cōpanie, that she may liue with me, knowyng for certaintie she shal geue me good counsaile, & speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and greefe.

10 For her sake that I be wel (and honestly) taken among the commons, & with honour among the elders though I be young.

11 I shalbe found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueylous in the sight of great menne: * and the faces of princes shal woonder at me.

12 When I holde my tongue, they shal byde my leysure, and when I speake, they shall geue good eare vnto me, & if I talke muche, they shall laye their handes vppon their mouth.

13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shall obteyne immortalitie, and leaue behynd me an euerlasting memorial among them that come after me.

14 I * shal set the people in ozder, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrantes shalbe afrayde when they doo but heare of me, among the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in batayle.

16 When I come home, I shall fynde rest with her: for her companie hath no bytternesse, & her felowshyp hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.

17 Nowe when I consydered these thynges by mee self, and pondered them in my hart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure to haue her frendship, and that in the woozkes of her handes are infinite riches, and that who so * keepeth companie with her shalbe wise, and that he whiche talketh with her shall come to honour: I went about seekyng howe to geat her vnto me.

19 For I was a lad of ripe wyt, and had a good * understandyng.

20 * But when I grewe to more understandyng, I came to an vndefiled body.

21 Neuerthelesse when I perceyued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it (me) and that was a poynt of wisedome also, to knowe whose gyft it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde, and besought him, and with my whole hart I saide after this maner.

* oz, much experience.

* oz, successe of tymes.

* This part of y eleuenth verse is only in the olde translation.

* oz, I shall gouerne the people.

* oz, reasoneth talke with her.

* oz, spirite with me.

* oz, yea rather beyng good.

8 Thou hast commaunded me to buylde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an aulter in the citie wherin thou dwellest, a likenesse of thy holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginnyng.

9 And thy wisedome with thee, which knoweth thy woorkes, whiche also was with thee when thou madest the world, & knewe what was acceptable in thy sight, & right in thy commaundementes.

10 O sende her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that she may be with me, and labour (with me) that I maye knowe what is acceptable in thy syght.

The.x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enimies commeth through wisedome.

1 SHE preserued the first fourmed father of the worlde that was created alone, and brought hym out of his fal:

2 And gaue him power to rule al thinges. Gene.2.c.

3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, he perished by the furious desire to murder his brother. Gene.4.b.

4 For whom when the water destroyed the whole worlde, wisedome againe preserued it, her selfe gouernyng the iust man by no costly woorkes of wood. Gene.7.b.

5 Moreouer, when the nations were confounded (or ioyned togeather) in their malicious confederacie, she founde out the righteous, & preserued hym faultlesse vnto God, and kept hym strong againste the loue of his sonne. Gene.11.a.

6 She preserued the righteous when he fled from the vngodly that perished, what tyme as the fyre fil downe vpon the fiue cities. Gene.19.f.

7 Like as yet this day the (vnfruitful) waste (and) smokyng lande geueth testimonie of their wicked dede: yea, the * vnripe and vntimely fruites that growe vpon the trees, & for a token of a remembrance of the vnfayth-ful soule, there standeth a pyller of salt.

* or, that are not ripe.

8 For all suche as regarded not wisedome, gat not only this hurt, that they knewe not the thinges which were good: but also left behinde them vnto men a memorial of their foolishnesse, so that in the thinges wherein they sinned, they could not be hyd.

9 But as for such as tooke heede vnto wisedome, she hath deliuered them from sorow. Gene.21.

10 When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, * wisedome ledde hym the right way, shewed hym the kyngdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holy thynges, made hym rich in his labours, and brought to passe the thinges that he went about.

* or, counsaile.

11 In the * deceitfulnesse of suche as defrauded fraudes him, she stoode by him, and made him riche.

13 She saued him from the enimies, and defended him from the * deceyuers: in a strong batayle she gaue him the victorie, that he myght knowe howe that the feare of God is stronger then al thynges.

14 When the ryghteous was solde, she forsooke him not, but delyuered him from synne: she went downe with him into the * dungeon,

15 And failed him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she declared them to be lyers, and brought him to perpetual * worshyp.

16 She delyuered the righteous people, and faultlesse seede from the nations that oppressed them.

17 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lorde, and stood by him in wonders and tokens agaynst the dreadful kynges.

18 She gaue the * ryghteous the rewarde of their labours, and led them forth a marueylous way: on the day tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a lyght of starres in the nyght season.

19 She brought them through the red sea, and caried them through the great water.

20 But she drowned their enimies (in the sea) but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

21 So the ryghteous tooke the spoyles of the vngodly, and prayled thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accorde.

22 For wysedome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. The miracles done for Israel. 13. The vengeance of sinners. 28. The great power and mercie of God.

1 SHE * ordered their workes in the handes of the holy prophete:

2 (So that) they went through the wylderneſſe that was not inhabited, and pytched their tentes in the waste desart.

3 They stoode agaynst their enimies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

4 When they were thirstie, they called vpon thee, and water was geuen them out of the (most) hygh rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the harde stone.

5 For by the thynges wherewithall their enimies were punished, were the * chyldren of Israel helped in their neede.

6 For in steade of a fountayne of the perpetual runnyng flood, al troubled with goare blood,

7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infantes, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neyther:

8 Declaring by that thirst then, howe thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

9 For when they were tried, and nurtured with (fatherly) mercie, they knewe howe the vngodly were iudged and punished in the wrath (of God.)

10 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but vnto the other thou hast ben a boysterous kyng, * layde harde to their charge, and condemned them.

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alyke.

12 For their greefe was double, and mournyng for the remembraunce of thynges past.

13 For when they perceyued that their punishmentes did them good, they * thought vpon the Lorde.

14 For whom, hys calling out before as an abiect, they had denied with derision, him in the ende, when they sawe what happened, they wondered at: for they were of an other thirst then was the iust.

15 But for the foolishe deuises of their wickednesse, wherewith beyng deceiued, they worshipped serpentes that had not the vse of reason, and vyle beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vppon them for reuengeance:

16 That they myght knowe, that lookes wherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shal he be punished.

17 For vnto thy almighty hande that made the worlde of nought, it was not vnpossible to sende among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions,

18 Or cruel beastes of a strange kinde, such as are vnknowen, or spoute fyre, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of their eyes:

19 Whiche myght not onely destroy them with hurting, but also kil them with their horrible syght.

20 Yea without these (beastes) might they haue bene slayne with one wynde, beyng persecuted by the reuengeance, and scattered abrode through the breath of thy power: neuertheleſſe, thou hast ordered al thinges in measure, number, and weyght.

21 For thou hast euer had great strength and myght, and who may withstand the power of thyne arme?

the ballance weyeth, so is the world before thee: yea as a drop of the morning deawe that falleth downe vpon the earth.

Rom. 2. a. 23 But thou hast mercie vppon al, for thou hast power of al thinges, and makest thee as though thou sawest not the synnes of men, because they shoulde amende.

24 For thou lovest al the thinges that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest not have made any thyng, yf thou haddest hated it.

25 Yea, howe might any thyng endure, if it were not thy wyl? or howe could any thing be preserved, except it were called of thee?

26 But thou sparest al: for they are thyne, (O Lorde) thou lover of soules.

The xii. Chapter.

2. The mercie of God towarde sinners. 14. The woorkes of God are unreprovable. 19. God geveth leasure to repent.

1 FOR thy uncorruptible spirite, O Lord, is in al thynges.

2 Therefore chastenest thou them measurably that goe wrong, and warnest them, by putting them in remembrance in what thynges they have offended, that leavyng their wickednesse, they may believe on thee, O Lorde.

Deut. 9. a. 3 As for thole olde inhabiters of thy holye lande, thou mightest not away with them:

Deut. 12. b. 18. c. 4 For they committed abominable woorkes (against thee,) as witchecraft, sorceries, and wicked sacrifices:

5 They slue theyr owne children without mercie, they dyd eate vp the bowelles of mens flesh, and devoured the blood in abominable banquettes, and had their mad fannatical prieftes:

6 And the fathers were the cheefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe (these doers) thou wouldest destroy by the handes of our fathers:

7 That the lande which thou lovest above al other, might be a meete dwelling for the children of God.

8 Nevertheleffe, thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thine hoaste, even hornettes, to destroy them out by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodlye vnto the righteous in batayle, or with cruel beastes, or with one rough woorde to destroy them together:

Exod. 13. b. Deut. 7. b. 10 But thy myndе was in punishyng them by litle and litle, to geve them place for amendement, knowyng well that it was an unrighteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might never be altered:

11 For it was a cursed seede from the begynnyng: yet hast thou not pardoned their synnes wherin they offended, for that thou feareſt any man.

12 For who dare say (vnto thee) what hast thou done? or who wyl stande against thy judgement? or who wyl blame thee for the nations that perishe, whō thou hast made? or who wyl come before thy face to be revenged for the unrighteous men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, that carest for al thynges: that thou mayest declare, howe that thy judgement is not unryght. 1. Pet. 5. a.

14 There dare neyther kyng nor tyrant in thy sight require accomptes of them whom thou hast * destroyed. C * or, pu nished.

15 For so much then as thou art ryghteous thy selfe, thou ordereſt al thynges ryghteously, thinking it unsemely for thy power to condemne him that hath not deserved to be punished. Iob. 9. a.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnesse, and because thou art lorde of all thynges, it maketh thee to be gracious vnto al.

17 For when men thynke thee not to be of full strength, thou declareſt thy power, and reprooveſt the boldnesse of the wyse.

18 But thou * maistering thy power, doest iudge with equitie, and ordereſt vs with great favour: for thou mayest vse power when thou wylt. * or, re lyng.

19 By such woorkes nowe hast thou taught thy people, that the iuſtman ſhoulde be louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, because thou geveſt rooms to repentance for synnes.

20 For in so muche as thou hast punished, and with ſuche deliberation and obſervation, the enimies of thy ſervantes whiche were woorthie to die, where through thou gaveſt them time & place of amendement, that they myght turne from their wickednesse:

21 With howe great circumſpection then punishest thou thyne owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast woorne, and made covenantes of good promises? D

22 So whereas thou doest chaſten vs, thou * punishest our enimies a thouſande tymes more: to the intent that when we punishe, we ſhoulde diligently thynke of thy goodnesse, and when we our ſelves are * punished, we ſhould hope for mercie. * or, ſtrike. * or, in gelt.

23 Wherefore, where as men have lyved diſſolutely and unryghteously, thou hast punished them ſore with their owne abominations.

abominations.

24 For they went astray very * long in the wayes of errour, and held the beastes (whiche euen theyr enimies despised) for gods, deceiued as children of no vnderstanding.

25 Therfore hast thou sent them thy iudgement in scorne, as to children voyde of reason.

26 As for suche as will not be reformed by thole scornes (and rebukes) they shall feele the worthy * punishment of God.

27 For looke in what thynges they * displayed when * they suffred for theyr sakes whom they counted goddes, seeyng them selues punished in the * same, they perceiued that he was in deede the true GOD, whom before they had denyed to knowe, and therfore came extreme damnation vpon them.

The xiii. Chapter.

1. All thinges be vayne except the knowledge of God. 10. Idolaters and idols are mocked.

1 SVrely vaine are al men by nature, whiche were ignorant of god, and could not out of the good thinges that are seene, know him that of him selfe is (euerlastyng,) neither toke so much regard of the workes that are made, as thereby to knowe who was the craftes man of them:

2 But some toke the fire, some the winde as swift ayre, some the course of the starres, some the running water, (some tooke sunne and moone) or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the worlde.

3 But though they had suche pleasure in theyr beautie, that they thought them to haue ben gods, yet should they haue knowen howe muche more * fayrer he is that made them: for the * maker of beautie hath ordeyned al these thynges.

4 Or if they marueyled at the power and worke of them, they shoulde haue perceiued thereby, howe much he whiche made these things is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie and of the creatures, the maker therof compared with them, may playnely be * knowen.

6 Notwithstanding they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and woulde finde him, and yet peraduenture * mysse:

7 For they beyng occupyed in his workes, do seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the thinges are beautiful that are seene.

8 Howbeit, yet neither are they to be excused.

9 For if they vnderstanding (and knowledge) be so great, that they can * discerne the worlde (and the creatures,) why do they not rather finde out the Lorde therof?

10 But miserable are they, and * among the dead is theyr hope, that cal them gods which are but the workes of mens handes, golde, syluer, and the thyng that is founde out by * cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath ben made by hande of olde.

11 Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpole, and pareth of al the bache cunningly, and so by art comely maketh a vessell profitable to the vse of lyfe:

12 And with that whiche is cut of from his worke, doth dresse his meate to fill his belye:

13 And as for the other part that is leaft, whiche is profitable for nothyng (for it is a crooked peece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently by leysure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, he geueth it some proporcion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man,

14. Or maketh it like some vile beast, stretheth it ouer with red, and paynteth it, and loke what foule spot is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

15 Then maketh he a * conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with iron:

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it happen to fal, * for it is wel knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

17 Then making prayer for his goodes, for his mariage, and for children, he is not ashamed to speake to that whiche hath no soule.

18 For health, he maketh his petition vnto him that is * sicke: for life, he humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: he * calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at al: and to send him a good iourney, he prayeth hym that may not goe.

19 And for gayne, for worke, and for successe of his affayres, he asketh power of him whiche is without al manner of power.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1. The detestation and abomination of images. 8. A curse of hym and of them that maketh them. 14. Whereof idolatrie proceeded. 23. What euils come of idolatrie.

1 AGaine, another man purposing to sayle, and * beginning to take his iourney through the raging * sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the vessel that beareth hym:

* or, in deade thynges.
* or, arte.
* or, house worthy of it.
* or, for he knoweth wel.
* or, maketh, or, maketh supplication vnto hym.
* or, prepareth and beginneth.
* or, waues.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath founde it out, and the crafty man made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast made a way euen in the sea, & a sure path in the middest of the waues,

4 Declaryng thereby that thou hast power to helpe * in al thinges, yea though a man went to the sea without * thy.

5 Neuertheles thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisdome should be in vayne: and therfore do men commit their liues to a smal perce of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

6 For in the olde time also when the proude giantes perished, he in whom * the hope was left to encrease the worlde, went into the thyp whiche was gouerned through thy hande, and so left seede behynde hym vnto the worlde.

7 For * happy is the tree, wherethrough ryghteousnesse commeth:

8 But cursed is * (the idoll) that is made with handes, yea both it, and he that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a * fraile thing.

9 For the vngodly and his vngodlynesse, are both like abominable vnto God.

10 (Euen so) the worke, and he that made it also, shalbe punished togeather.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idoles of the heathen: for out of the creature of GOD they are become an abomination, a * temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

12 For why, the * seeking out of idolles, is the beginning of whoredome, and the * deuising vp of them, is the * destruction of lyfe.

13 For they were not from the begynning, neither shal they continue for euer.

14 The vaine glory of men hath found them out vpon earth, therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

15 For when a father mourned heavily for his sonne * sodainly taken away from him, he made hym an image: and hym which then was but a dead man, he nowe began to worship as a God, and ordeyned for his * seruantes ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Then by processe of time this * vngracious customs beyng waxen strong, was kept as a lawe, and images were worshypped by commaundement of tyrantes.

17 Is for those that were so farre of, that men might not worshyppe them presente; they mage beyng beawen out from farre of, was made as the * cleare image of an honorable king, that they might with * affection flatter as wel the absent as the present.

18 Against the singuler ambition of ỹ craftesman gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to encrease the superstition.

19 For he willing to please one, peraduenture that * bare rule, laboured with al his cunnyng to make the image of the best fashion.

20 And so though the beautie of the worke the * common people beyng thereto allured, toke him nowe for a god, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was to the deceiuyng of mans lyfe, when men either with calamitie or tyrannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name (of God) whiche ought not to be geuen to any thyng (els.)

22 Moreouer this was not ynough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so (many and) great * plagues called they peace.

23 For either they slue their owne children and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secrete ceremonies, or folowed mad drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice.

24 So that they kept neither lyfe nor mariage cleane: but either one slue another trayterously, or greued hym by adultery.

25 So that there raigned in al men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, * dissimulation, corruption, vnfaythfulnesse, sedition, periurie, 26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulnesse, defiling of soules, changyng of birth, disordering of mariages, adulterie, and vncleannesse.

28 For why? the honouring of * abominable images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of al euil.

28 For (they that worshyp idols) either they are mad when they be merry, or prophesie lyes, or lyue * vngodly, or els lyghtly forsweare them selues.

29 For in so muche they trust is in the idols which haue no * soule, though they sweare falsly, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them.

30 Therfore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthely for both causes: for they haue an euil opinion of God that geue heede vnto idols, and they sweare vniustly in deceyt, despising holynesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare: but it is the iust * vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers.

The.xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faythfull prayeng the mercye of God, by whose grace they serue not idols.

1 BVt thou, O our God, art gratious, true, and long suffering, and in mercye ordrest thou al thinges.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thyne, for we knowe thy strength: but we wyl not sinne, because we knowe we are counted thyne.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect ryghteousnesse: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 As * for the thing that men haue founde out through their euyl sciences, it hath not deceyued vs, nor the paynters vnprofytable labour, (to wit) an image * spotted with diuers colours,

5 Whose sight entiseth the ignorant to lust after it, and he desireth the * picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desyre them, and they that worshyp them, loue euyls, and are worthie to haue such thinges to trust vpon.

7 For the potter tempereth soft earth, laboureth it, & geueth it the fashion, of whatsoeuer vessel serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same clay he maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also suche as serue to the contrarye: whereunto euerye vessel serueth, the potter him self being the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vayne god of the same clay, this dooth euen he whiche a litle before was made of earth him selfe, and within a litle whyle after returneth to the same out of which he was taken, when the lons of his lyfe shalbe demaunded from him agayne.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not the more for this that he must labour, nor that his lyfe is short: but striueth to excell goldesmithes and siluersmithes, and endeuoureth to dos lyke the coppersmithes, and taketh it for an honour to make * deceauable thinges.

10 His hart is but ashes, his hope is more vayne then earth, and his lyfe of * lesse honour then clay.

11 Forsomuche as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule of power to worcke, and breathed in him the breath of lyfe.

12 But they counted our lyfe but a passime, and (our) conuersation to be but a market for gayne, and that manne shoulde euery way be getting, yea though it were by euyl meanes.

13 Nowe he that of earth maketh fraylie vessels and images, knoweth him selfe to offende aboue al other.

14 All the enimies of thy people that holde them in subiection, are most vnwyse, and C are more miserable then very * fooles.

16 For man made them, and he that borowed his owne spirite fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto him self.

17 For seeing he is but mortal, it is but mortal that he maketh with vnryghteous handes: he him selfe is better then they whom he worshippeth, for he lyued, as they dyd neuer.

B 7 For he that looked backe (to it) was not healed by the thing that he sawe, but by thee, O sauiour of al.

8 So in this thou shewest our enimies, that it is thou whiche deliuerest from al euyll.

Exod.10.a. 9 For them when they were bitten with grashoppers and flyes, they dyed, neyther was there any remedie founde for their lyfe, for they were woorthy to be punished by suche.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons dyd ouercome thy children: for thy mercy was euer by them, & healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy woordes, but spedyly were they healed agayne, least they shoulde fall into so deepe forgetfulnes, that they might not be called backe by thy benefyte.

12 For it was neyther herbe, nor plaster that restored them to helth: but thy woorde, O Lorde, which healeth al thinges.

13 It is thou, O Lorde, that hast the power of lyfe and death, thou leadest * vnto deathes doore, and bringest vp agayne.

Deut.32.f. 1.Sam.2.a. * or, downe to hel gates. Exod.9.e.

14 A man in deede thoughe his wickednesse may slay (another,) but when his spirite is gonne forth, it turneth not againe, neither may he call agayne the soule that is taken away.

C

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hande.

16 For the vngodly that wouldе not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thyne arme: with strange raynes, hayles, and showres were they persecuted that they coulde not auoyde, and thoughe fyre were they consumed.

17 For it was a woonderous thyng that fyre might doo more then water which quencheth al thinges: but the woorlde is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometymes was the fyre so tame, that the beastes whiche were sent to punishe the vngodly burnt not, and that because they shoulde see and knowe that they were persecuted with the punishment of God, 19 And sometime burnt the fyre in the myddest of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust lande.

Exod.16.c. 20 In steede whereof, thou hast fedde thyne owne people with angels foode, and sent them bread redy from heaue without their labour, * beyng very pleasant and of good taste.

* or, beyng of force for al pleasures, and apt to euery taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children declared thy swetenesse, and seruyng to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 But the snowe and yce abode the violence of the fyre and melted not, that they might knowe that the fyre burnyng in the hayle, and sparkelyng in the rayne, destroyed the fruite of the enimies.

23 The fyre also forgate his owne strength agayne, that the ryghteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee whiche art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnryghteous, but is easie (and gencle) to doo good vnto suche as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore dyd it alter at the same tyme into all fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, whiche is the nurse of al things, accordyng to the desyre of them that had neede thereof:

26 That thy children, O Lorde, whom thou louest, myght knowe that it is not the * growing of fruites that feedeth menne, but that it is thy woorde whiche preserueth them that put their trust in thee. Deut.8.a. Psalm.4.c. * or, increase and encrease.

29 For the hope of the vnthankful, shal melt away as the wynter yce, and flow away as vnprofytable water.

The.xvii. Chapter.

The iudgementes of God agaynst the wicked.

1 FOr great are thy iudgementes (O Lord) and can not be expressed: therefore men doo erre that wyl not be reformed (by thy wysedome.) Q Rom.11.c.

2 For when the vnryghteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bandes of darknesse and long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternal prouidence. Exod.10.c.

3 And whyle they thought to be hyd in the darknesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abroade in ỹ very middest of the darke couerying of forgeatfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and * woonderouslly vexed. * or, abashed with fightes of strange apparitions.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not keepe them from feare, because the soundes came round about them, and vexed them, yea many terrible and * strange visions appeared vnto them. * or, plentifully with woful tenants.

5 No power of the fyre myght geue them lyght, neyther might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night:

6 But there appeared vnto them a sudden fyre onely, very dreadfull: at the whiche sight wherin they sawe nothing thoroughly, they they were so afrayde, that they thought the thyng whiche they sawe to be • the moze fearefull.

B 7 As for the illusions of the magical Arte they came to nought, and it was a moste shameful reproch of the pride that they had of theyr owne wisdome.

8 For they that promised to drive away the feares and troubles from the sycke soule, were sicke them selues with feare worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing dyd feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes whiche passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpentes.

10 In so muche that with tremblyng, they • sowned, and • sayde they sawe not the ayre, whiche no man yet may escape.

11 For malice is a dreadful thing that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and beyng prested with conscience, it euer • suspecteth cruel thinges.

12 For feare is nothyng els but a • betrayeng of the succours whiche reason offereth.

13 And looke howe muche the lesse his hope is within, the greater doth he recount his ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

C 14 But (they that did endure) the nyght that in deede was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hel, sleepyng the same sleepe, 15 Were sometymes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometimes they sowned as they owne soules had betrayed thē: for an hastie feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaynes.

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandrie, or had ben an heardman, or labourer in the • woodes, if he were taken, he suffered • intollerable necessitie.

18 For they were al bounde with one chaine of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing wind, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water,

16 Or great noyse of the fallyng downe of stones, or the running of playing beastes, whiche they sawe not, or the myghtie noyse of roaring wylde beastes, or • the sounde that answeared againe in the holownesse of mountaynes: these terrible thinges made them sowne (for very feare.)

20 For all the • earth shyned with cleare lyght, and no man was hyndered in his labour.

D 21 Only vpon them there fel an heauie night, an image of darknesse that was to come vpon them: yea they were vnto them selues moze heauie then darknesse.

The. xviii. Chapter.

3. The fierie pyller that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8. The deliuerance of the faythfull.

1 NEuertheless thy saintes had a very great lyght, whose voyce they hearyng, and not seeing theyr figure, for that they suffered not the same things, they thought them blessed. A

2 And for that they did not hurt them nowe of whō they had ben wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of that they had ben enimies.

3 Therfore thou gauest them a burning piller of fyre to leade them in the vnknowen way, & the sunne not to hurt them in their honorable iourney.

4 But reason it was that they shoulde leese the light, and be put in the prison of darkenesse, whiche had kept thy children • shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the law was to be geuen vnto the worlde. • or, in bondage. Exod. 1. c.

5 After when they thought to slay the babes of the saintes, one childe being cast out, and preserued to reprooue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of theyr children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water. and. 2. a. Exod. 14. f and. 24. g.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowyng vnto what othes they had geuen credence, myght be of good cheare.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the ryghteous, but the vngodly were destroyed. B

8 For lyke as thou hast • reuenged our enimies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called. • or, punished.

9 For the ryghteous children of the good men offred secretly, and made a godly lawe with one consent, that the saintes should in lyke manner, receiue togeather both good and euyl, and that the fathers nowe should first sing prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing voice of the enimies, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were bewayled.

11 The maister and the seruant were punished after one maner: and like as the king, so suffered the common people.

12 So they had innumerable that dyed with one kind of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to bury • the dead: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest offspryng of them was destroyed. Exod. 12. c. • or, them.

13 For whereas they woulde discredite al thynge by reason of the inchauntmentes, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For whyle all thynges were styll in silence, and when the night was in the myddest of her course, thy almightie worde, O Lorde, leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne, 15 Asa * rough man of warre in the myddest of the lande that was destroyed, * or, fierce.

16 And brought thine vnfaigned commaundement as a sharpe sworde, and standyng vp, filled al things with death, yea it stoode vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sightes of the euil dreames vexed them sodaynely, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there halfe dead (halfe quicke) and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these thinges afore, that they might not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea the temptation of death touched the righteous also, and * among the multitude in the wyldernesse there was * insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long. * or, of. * or, a slaughter.

D 21 For the blamelesse man went in all the haste, and tooke the battayle vpon hym, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set him selfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaring (thereby) that he was thy seruant. Num. 16. g.

22 For he ouercame not the * multitude with bodyly power or force of weapons: but with the worde he subdued hym that * vexed, alleaging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers. * or, the destroyer. * or, that vnthed.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stoode in the middest, * pacified the wrath, and * parted the way that it might not come to the liuing. * or, cut of. * or, brake. Exod. 28. a

24 And why? in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, & thy maiestie was written in the * crowne of his head. * or, diademe.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayde of them: for it was ynough that they only tasted of the wrath.

The. xix. Chapter.

1. The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrues.

1 AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the ende: for he knewe before what should happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they would repent, and * folowe vpon them. * or, pursue them. Exod. 14. d

3 For whiles they were yet mournyng and making lamentation by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolyshnesse, so that they persecuted them in their flieing, whom they had (a) cast out afore with prayer. (a) That is, the children of Israel whom they before had desyred and prayed for to go their way

4 For the * necessitie whiche they had deserued, brought them vnto this ende, and made them forget the thynges that had alredy happened, that they myght by torments fulfil their punishment whiche remayned: * or, destiny

5 And that thy people myght trye a marueylous passage: and these myght finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kynde was fashioned agayne of newe, seruyng the peculiar offices, as was commaunded them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tents, & the drie earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the redde sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene feelde: B

8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hande, seeing thy marueylous strange wonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, playsyng thee (O Lorde) whiche hadst deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet myndful of the thinges that were done while they dwelt in the strange lande, howe the grounde brought forth flyes in steede of cattel, and how thriuer scrawled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

11 But at the last they sawe a newe generation of byrdes, what tyme as they were styrred with lust, and desyred delicate meates. Exod. 16. c. Num. 11. g.

12 For why? the Quayles came vp to them from the sea for their comfort: but punishmentes came vpon the sinners not without the signes whiche came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightninges: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednesse, because they dealt so churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

13 For some woulde not receiue * men that came vnto them and were vnknowen: and some brought the strangers into bon- * or, ghestes vnknowen.

dage that dyd them good.

14 Nor onely ſo, but if they had benne any where regarded, they could not ſuffer it: for they entreated ſtrangers very diſpitefully.

15 Others that had receiued thē with great ſolemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their ſocietie, they afflicted them with greeuous labours.

16 Therefore were they ſtricken with blindneſſe, lyke as when they that were couered with ſodayne darkneſſe at the doores of the righteous, ſought euery one of them the entrance of his doores.

17 Thus the elementes beyng changed, agreed among them ſelues, lyke as when tunes are changed vppon an inſtrument of muſicke, & yet keepe ſtyl a melodie: whiche may eaſyly be perceiued by the ſight of the thinges that are comme to paſſe.

18 For the earthy thinges were turned into watrie: and the thing that before ſwamme in the water, nowe went vpon the ground.

19 The fyre had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgat his owne kynde to quenche (the fyre.)

20 Agayne thy flames hurted not the fleſhe of the corruptible lyuyng thinges, though they walked therein, neyther melted they that ieye kind of immortal meate that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in al thinges haſt thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour, thou haſt not diſpiſed thē, but alway and in al places haſt thou ſtand by them.

The ende of the booke of wyſedome.

The booke of Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Eccleſiaſticus.

The prologue of Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MANY and great menne haue declared wyſedome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes, and out of other that folowed them: in the whiche thynges Iſrael ought to be commended, by the reaſon of doctrine and wyſedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, ſhoulde not onely them ſelues be wyſe therethrough, but ſerue other alſo with teachyng and wryting. After that my grandfather Ieſus had geuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes that were leaft vs of our fathers, and had wel exerciſed hym ſelfe therein: he purpoſed alſo to wryte ſomme thing of wyſedome and good manners, to the intent that they whiche were wyllyng to learne, and to be wyſe, myght haue the more vnderſtandyng, and be the more apt to leade a good converſation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receyue it louingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good woorth, though our woordes be not ſo eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is written in the Hebrue tongue, ſoundeth not ſo wel when it is tranſlated into another ſpeache: not only this booke of myne, but alſo the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes, ſounde farre otherwyſe then they doo, when they are ſpoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the tyme of Ptolomie Euerges, and continued there a long ſeaſon, I founde bookes there leaft ful of great and profounde learnyng. Wherefore, I thought it good and neceſſary to beſtowe my diligence and trauayle to interprete this booke: and conſyderyng that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my beſt to perfourme this booke, and to bryng it vnto lyght, that the ſtrangers alſo whiche are diſpoſed to learne, myght applye them ſelues vnto good manners, and lyue accordyng to the lawe of the Lorde.

21 She fylleth the whole houſe with her C gyftes, and the garners with her treaſure.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wyſedome, and geueth plentious peace and health: he hath ſeene her, and numbred her: both theſe are the gyftes of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderſtanding of wyſedome hath he powred out as rayne, and them that helde her faſt hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wiſdome, and her branches are long lyfe.

25 In the treaſures of wiſedome is vnderſtandyng and deuotion of knowledge, but wyſedome is abhorred of ſinners.

26 The feare of the Lorde driueth out ſinne, and when she is preſent, she dryueth away anger.

27 For he that is without feare can not be made ryghteous, and his wylfull boldneſſe is his owne deſtruction.

28 A patient man wyl ſuffer vnto the tyme, D and then ſhal he haue the rewarde of ioy.

29 A good vnderſtanding wil hide his woordes for a tyme, and many mens lyppes ſhal ſpeake of his wyſedome.

30 In the treaſures of wyſedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the ſinner abhorreth the woorſhip of God.

31 My ſonne, yf thou deſyre wyſedome, keepe the commaundement, and God ſhall geue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lorde is wyſedome and nurture: he hath pleaſure in fayth and louyng meekeneſſe, and he ſhal fyl the treaſures thereof.

33 Be not obſtinate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lorde, and comme not vnto hym with a double hart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in the ſight of men, and take good heede what thou ſpeakeſt.

35 Exalt not thee ſelfe, leſt thou happen to fall, and bryng thy ſoule to diſhonour: and ſo diſcouer thy ſecretes, and caſt thee

The. ii. Chapter.

I. He exhorteth the ſeruantes of God to ryghteouſneſſe, loue, vnderſtandyng, and patience. II. To truſt in the Lorde. 13. A curſe vppon them that are faynt harted and impatient.

1 MY ſonne, if thou wylt come into the ſeruice of God, ſtande faſt in ryghteouſneſſe and feare, & arme thy ſoule to temptation. Ecclꝰ.4.a. 1.Em.3.c.

2 Settle thyne hart and be pacient, bowe downe thyne eare, receyue the wordes of vnderſtanding, and ſhrinke not away when thou art aſſaulted.

3 Holde thee faſt vpon God, ioyne thee ſelfe vnto hym: and ſuffer, that thy lyfe may encreaſe at the laſt.

4 Whatſoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: ſuffer in beauineſſe, and be pacient in thy trouble. Ecclꝰ.3.a.

5 For like as golde and ſyluer are tryed in the fyre, euen ſo are acceptable menne in the furnace of aduerſitie. Exod.17.a.

6 Beleeue in God, and he ſhal helpe thee: order thy waye aryght, and put thy truſt in hym: hold faſt his feare, and growe therin.

B 7 O ye that feare the Lorde, take ſure holde of his mercye, ſhrynke not away from hym, that ye fal not.

8 O ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, and your rewarde ſhal not be emptie.

9 O ye that feare the Lord, (a) truſt in good thinges, and mercy ſhal come vnto you for pleaſure. (a) That is, make for good things, and truſt to haue the reward of euers lyng life, promiſed to men that walk pacient, and continue in his feare.

10 O ye that feare the Lorde, ſet your lone vpon him, and your hartes ſhalbe lightned.

11 Conſyder the olde generations of menne (O ye chyldren) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his truſt in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forſaken? or whom dyd he euer deſpiſe that called faythfully vpon hym?

12 For God is gracious and mercyfull, he forgeueth ſinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that ſeeke hym in the trueth.

C 13 Woe be vnto them that haue a * feareful harte, wicked lyppes, and euyll occupped handes, and to the ſinner that goeth two maner of wayes. * Or, double 14 Wo be vnto them that are faynt harted, which put not their truſt in God, and therefore ſhal they not be defended of hym.

18 They that feare the Lorde, wyll prepare their hartes, and humble their ſoules in his ſyght.

19 They that feare the Lord, keepe his commaundementes, and wyl be pacient til they ſee hym ſelfe,

The. iii. Chapter.

2. To our father and mother ought we to gene double honour. 10. Of the bleſſyng and curſe of the father and mother.

1 THe chyldren of wiſedome are a congregation of the ryghteous, and their offpring is obedience and loue. A 2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare chyldren) and doo thereafter, that ye may be ſafe.

3 For the Lorde wyll haue the father honoured of the chyldren: and looke what a mother commaundeth her chyldren to doo, he wyl haue it kept. Exod.20.a Deut.5.b.

4 Who ſo honoureth his father, his ſinnes ſhalbe forgeuen hym: and he ſhal abſteyne from them, and ſhal haue his dayly deſires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that geathereth treaſure togeather. Ephe.6.a.

6 Who ſo honoureth his father, ſhall haue ioy of his owne chyldren: and when he maketh his prayer, he ſhalbe hearde.

7 He that honoureth his father, ſhall haue a long lyfe: and he that is obedient vnto the Lorde, ſhal comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and ſooth them ſeruice as it were vnto lordes.

9 Honour thy father and mother in deede, in woorde, and in all pacience, that thou mayeſt habe Goddes bleſſyng: and his bleſſyng ſhal abyde with thee at the laſt. Exod.20.c. Deut.5.b.

10 The bleſſyng of the father ſtabliſheth the houſes of the chyldren: but the mothers curſe rooteth out the fundations. Gene.27.d. Deut.33.a.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worshyp of a mans father, is his owne worshyp: and the reproche of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.
13 My sonne, make muche of thy father in his age, and greeue hym not as long as he lyueth.
14 And if his vnderstandyng fayle, haue pacience with him, and despise not hym in thy strength.
E 15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thee selfe wantest, it shalbe rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompenced with good, yea, it shalbe founded for thee in righteousnesse.
16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shal melt away, like as the yce in the fayre warme weather.
17 He that forsaketh his father shal come to shame: and he that defyeth his mother, is cursed of God.
18 My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louing meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued above other men.
Phil. 2. a. 19 The greater thou art, the more humble thee selfe in all thinges, and thou shalt finde fauour in the sight of God.

Rom. 12. a. 23 But looke what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needeful for thee to see with thine eyes the thinges that are secrete.
24 Make not too much searche in superfluous thinges, and be not curious in many of his workes: for many thinges are shewed vnto thee already, whiche be above the capacitie of men.
25 The medling with suche hath beguyled many a man, and tangled their wittes in vanitie.
E 26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therefore professe not the thing that thou hast not.
27 An harde hart shal feare euyl at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perishe therein.
28 An hart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and he that is froward of hart, wyl euer be woorse and woorse.
29 An obstinate hart shalbe laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner wyl heape one sinne vpon another.
30 The counsayle of the proude hath no healthe, and his footesteppes shalbe plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in hym.
31 The harte of hym that hath vnderstandyng, shall perceyue hygh thynges: and a good eare wyl gladly hearken vnto wisedome.

I. Almes must be donne with gentlenesse,
12. The study of wisedome and her fruite.
20. An exhortation to eschewe euyl, and to doo good.

1 My sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thyne eyes from hym that hath neede. A Deut. 15. a.
2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defile not the poore in his necessitie.
3 Greeue not the harte of hym that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gyft from the needefull.
4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.
5 Cast not thyne eyes aside from the poore for any euyl wyl, that thou geue him not occasion to speake euyl of thee.
6 For if he complayne of thee in the bytternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made him shal heare hym.
7 Be courteous vnto the companye of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worshyp. B (a) As a man must of duetie be curteous to the poore, humble to the auncient, bowe downe to the worshipful: so it his duetie to comfort, to helpe, to deliuer the innocent & simple soule from the cruelnesse of the vngodly
8 Let it not greeue thee to bowe down thine eare vnto the poore, (a) but pay thy det, and geue him a frendly answere, and that with meekenesse.
9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hande of the oppressour: and be not faynt harted when thou sytteste in iudgement.
10 Be mercyful vnto the father lesse as a father, and be in stede of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as an obedient sonne of the highest, and he shal loue thee more then thy mother doeth.
11 Wisdome exalteth her children, receiueth them them that ſeeke her, and wyl goe before them in the way of ryghteouſneſſe.

12 He that loueth her, loueth lyfe: and they that ſeeke her diligently, ſhal haue great ioy.

13 They that kepe her, ſhal inherite glorie: for where ſhe entreth in, there is the bleſſyng of God.

C 14 They that honour her, ſhalbe the ſeruantes of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who ſo geueth eare vnto her, ſhal iudge the heathen: and he that · hath reſpect vnto her, ſhal dwel ſafely.

16 He that beleeueth her, ſhal haue her in poſſeſſion, and his generation ſhal endure.

17 For whē he · falleth, ſhe doeth goe with him, and chooſeth him among the beſt: feare, dread, and temptation ſhal ſhe bring vpon him, and trie him in her doctrine, til ſhe haue ſo proued him in his thoughtes, that he commit his ſoule vnto her.

18 Then ſhal ſhe ſtablithe hym, bryng the ryght way vnto him, make him a glad man, ſhewe him her ſecretes, and heape vpon him the treaſures of knowledge, and vnderſtandyng of ryghteouſneſſe.

19 But yf he goe wrong, ſhe ſhal forſake him, and geue him ouer into the handes of deſtruction and ruyne.

20 My ſonne, make muche of the tyme, eſchewe the thyng that is euyl:

D 21 And for thy lyfe ſhame not to ſay the trueth: (b) for there is a ſhame that bryngeth ſinne, and there is a ſhame that bryngeth worſhyp and fauour.

22 Accept no perſon after thine owne wyl, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay: Be not aſhamed of thy neyghbour in his aduerſitie.

23 And kepe not backe thy counſayle when it may doo good, neither hide thy wiſdome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wyſdome knowen, ſo is vnderſtanding, knowledge, and learnyng in the talkyng of the wyſe, and ſtedfaſtneſſe in the workes of ryghteouſneſſe.

35 In no wyſe ſpeake againſt the worde of trueth: but be aſhamed of the lies of thyne owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confeſſe thine errour, and reſiſt not the courſe of the ryuer.

27 And ſubmit not thee ſelfe vnto a fooliſh man, neyther accepte the perſon of the myghtie.

28 And ſtriue thou not againſt the ſtreame: but for ryghteouſneſſe take paynes with al thy ſoule, and for the trueth ſtryue thou vnto death, & God ſhal fyght for thee againſt thyne enimies.

29 Be not haſtie in thy tongue, neither ſlacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a Lion in thine owne houſe, deſtroying thy houſhold ſolkes, and oppreſſyng them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thyne hande be ſtretched out to receiue, and ſhut when thou ſhouldeſt geue. Acts.20.§

The.v. Chapter.

1. In riches we may not put any confidence.
7. The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

1 TRuſt not vnto thy richeſſe, and ſay not, Tuſhe, I haue ynough for my lyfe, for it ſhal not helpe in the tyme of vengeaunce and temptation. Luke.12.c. Eccle.11.c.

2 Folowe not the luſt of thyne owne hart in thy ſtrength.

3 And ſay not, Tuſhe, howe haue I had ſtrength? or who wyl bryng me vnder, becauſe of my workes? For doubtleſſe God ſhal auenge it.

4 And ſay not, I haue ſinned, and what euil hath happened me? for the almyghtie is a patient rewarder.

5 Becauſe thy ſinne is forgeuen thee, be not therefore without feare, neyther heape one ſinne vpon another. Rom.7.a.

6 And ſay not, Tuſhe, the mercie of the Lord is great, he ſhal forgeue me my ſinnes be they neuer ſo many: for like as he is merciful, ſo gorth wrath from him alſo, and his indignation commeth downe vppon ſinners. Eccle.21.a. Eccle.16.a.

7 Make not tarying to turne vnto the Lord, B and put not of from day to day: for ſodainly ſhal his wrath comme, and in the time of vengeance he ſhal deſtroy thee.

8 Truſt not in wicked riches, for they ſhal not helpe thee in the day of puniſhment and wrath. Pro.10.a. Ezech.7.B Sopho.1.c

9 Be not carried about with euery wynde, and goe not into euery way: for ſo doeth the ſinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stande faſt in the way of the Lorde, be ſtedfaſt in thy vnderſtandyng, abyde by the woorde, and folow the woorde of peace and righteouſneſſe.

11 Be gentle to heare the woorde of God, that thou mayeſt vnderſtande it: and make a true anſweare with wiſdome.

12 Be ſwift to heare, but ſlowe and patient in geuyng anſweare. Jacob.1.c.

13 If thou haſt vnderſtandyng, ſhape thy neyghbour an anſweare: yf no, lay thy hand vppon thy mouth, leſt thou be trapped in an vndiſcrete woorde, and ſo confounded.

Leuit.19.d. 15 Be not a priuie accuser as long as thou lyuest, and vse no slander with thy tongue: for shame and sorow goeth ouer the theefe, and an euyl name ouer him that is double tongued: but he that is a priuie accuser of other men, shalbe hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Doo not rashly, neither in great nor smal.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. It is the propertie of a sinner to be euyl tongued. 6. Of frendship. 33. Desyre to be taught.

¶ 1 BE not of a freende an enimie: (a) for suche a man geatteth an euyl name, shame, & rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth enuie, and a double tongue, offendeth.

(a) For that is against the rule of charitie, whiche loueth al, & hateth nothyng but only sinne.

2 Be not proude in the deuice of thyne vnderstandyng, lest thy soule rent thee as a (b) Bul:

(b) As a bul teareth in peeces a young tree with his hornes, so thou trustyng in thine owne wisedome, & standyngin thyne owne conceipt, because of thy power, or riches, shouldest destroy thee selfe.

3 And lest thy leaues wither, and thy fruite be destroyed, and so thou be left as a drie tree in the wyldernesse.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enimies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete worde multiplieth frendes, and pacifieth them that be at variance: and a thankful tongue wil be plenteous in a good man.

6 Holde freendshyp with many, neuerthelesse, haue but one counsellour of a thousande.

7 Yf thou getteste a freende, proue him fyrst, and be not hastie to geue him credence.

¶ 8 For some man is a freende but for his owne turne, and wyll not abyde in the day of trouble.

9 And there is some freende that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part agaynst thee: and yf he knowe any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

Eccle.37.a. 10 Agayne, some freende is but a companion at the table, and in the day of neede he continueth not.

11 But in thy prosperitie he wyl be as thou thee selfe, & deale playnely with thy houshold folke.

12 Yf thou be brought lowe, he wyl be against thee, & wyl be hidden from thy face.

13 Departe from thine enimies, yea and beware of thy freendes.

¶ 14 A faythful freende is a stronge defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure.

15 A faythfull freende hath no peere, the weight of gold and syluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of his fayth.

16 A faythful freende is a medicine of lyfe and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lorde shal fynde hym.

17 Who so feareth the Lorde, shal prosper with freendes: and as he is him selfe, so shal his freende be also.

18 My sonne, receyue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou fynde wysedome tyl thou be olde.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and soweth, and waite patiently for her good fruites: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her woorke, but thou shalt eate of her fruites ryght soone.

20 O howe exceedyng sharpe is wysedome to vnlearned men? an vnstedfast body wyl not remayne in her.

21 Vnto such she is as it were a touchstone, D and he casteth her from him in al the haste.

22 For wysdome is with him but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, she abydeth euen vnto the appearyng of God.

24 Geue eare, my sonne, receyue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsayle.

25 Put thy foote into her linckes, and take Par.11.b. her yoke vpon thy necke.

26 Bowe downe thy shoulder vnder her, beare her patiently, and be not weerie of her bandes.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole hart, and keepe her wayes with al thy power.

28 Seke after her, & she shalbe shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt fynd rest in her, E and that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then shal her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious rayment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, & her bandes are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honor, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, yf thou wylt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstanding, and yf thou wylt applie thy mynde, thou shalt be wyse.

34 Yf thou wylt bowe downe thyne eare, thou shalt receyue doctrine: and yf thou delite in hearyng, thou shalt be wyse.

35 Stande with the multitude of suche elders as haue vnderstanding, and consent vnto their wysedome with thine hart, 36 That thou mayest heare al godly ser- Eccle.6.a. mons, and that the woorthie sentences escape thee not.

37 And yf thou seest a man of discrete vnderstandyng, geat thee soone vnto hym, and let thy foote treade vpon the steppes of his doores.

The. vii. Chapter.

2. We must forsake euyl, and yet not iustifie our selues. 23. The behauiour of the wyse toward his wyfe, his freend, his chyldren, his seruantes, his father and mother.

1 DO no euyl, so shal there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, and no misfortune shall meddle with thee.

3 My sonne, sowe no euyl thinges in the forowes of vnrighteousnesse, so shalt thou not repe them seuen folde.

4 Labour not to the Lord for preheminence, neither vnto the king for the state of honour.

Psal. 142.b. 5 Iustifie not thee selfe before God, for he knoweth the hart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king.

Eccle. 7.c. Mat. 9.a. 6 Make no labour to be made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldest mightyly put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stande in awe of the presence of the mightie, thou shouldest fayle in geuing sentence.

Mat. 11.b. 7 Offende not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thee selfe among the people.

Eccle. 12.c. 8 Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

9 Say not, Tushe, God wyl looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he wyl accept it.

10 Be not faynt harted when thou makest thy prayer, neyther slacke in geuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all thynges) is he that can bryng downe, and set vp againe.

Num. 2.b. 12 Accept no leasyng agaynst thy brother, neyther doo the same against thy freende.

Luke. 12.a. 15 Let no labourous workes be tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandry which the almyghtie hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thee selfe euen from thine hart.

17 And remember that the wrath shal not be long in tarrying, and that the vengeance of the fleshe of the vngodly is a very fyre and woosme.

18 Geue not ouer thy freende for any good, nor thy faythful brother for the best golde.

19 Depart not from a discret and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde: for the gyft of her honestie is aboue golde.

20 Where as thy seruant woorketh truely, intreate him not euyl, nor the hyrelyng that is faythful vnto thee. D Luk. 19.c.

21 Loue a discrete seruant as thyne owne soule, defraude him not of his libertie, neyther leaue him a poore man.

22 If thou haue cattel, looke wel to them: and if they be for thy profite, keepe them. Deut. 25.b. Eccle. 30.a

23 If thou haue sonnes, bryng them vp in nurture and learnyng, and holde them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face chearefull towards them.

25 Marrye thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a waighty matter: but geue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wyfe after thyne owne mynde, forsake her not: but commit not thee selfe to the hateful.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole hart: and forgeat not the sorowfull trauayle that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, & howe canst thou recompence them the thinges that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue thy maker with al thy strength, and forsake not his seruantes.

31 Feare the Lorde with al thy soule, and honour his priestes: geue them their portion of the first fruites & encrease of the earth, like as it is commaunded thee, and reconcile thee selfe of thy negligence with the litle flocke, geue them the shoulders, and their appointed offeryngs and first-lynges.

32 Reache thine hande vnto the poore, that God may blesse thee with plentousnesse.

33 Be liberal vnto al men lyuing: yet let not but doo good euen to them that are (a) dead.

34 Let not them that weepe be without comfort, but mourne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not greeue thee to visite the sicke, for that shal make thee to be beloued.

36 What so euer thou takest in hande, remember the ende, and thou (b) shalt neuer doo amysse.

(a) To burye their bodyes with honor, agaynst the day of the resurrection, as did Abraham, Ioseph, &c. to succor & helpe, and deale faythfully and truely with their children cõmitted to thy charge, as did Dauid with the children of his freende Ionathan. (b) Do all thinges to the glory of God, and the profit of thy neighbour, or otherwyse remember the day of death, of the last iudgement of euerlasting ioy or payne.

Eccle. 8.b. haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thee selfe with the wise sentences of them: of them thou shalt learne wisdome, and the doctrine of vnderstandyng, and howe to serue great men without complaynt.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they have learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstandyng, so that thou mayest make answere in the time of nede.

10 Kyndle not the coales of sinners when thou rebukest them, lest thou be brent in the fiery flames of their sinnes.

I. Of ielousie. 12. An olde freende is to be preferred before a newe.

A 1 BE not ielous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shewe not some shrewde poynt, (a) lest thou teache her an euyll lesson agaynst thee selfe.

2 Geue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many menne, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Vse not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, lest thou perish through her entising.

5 Beholde not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her beautie.

6 Cast not thy mynd vpon harlottes in any maner of thyng, lest thou destroye both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gasyng in euery lane of the citie, neither wander thou aboute in the streetes therof.

8 Turne awaye thy face from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon the fayrenesse of other: many a man hath benne deceyued through the beautie of women, for through it the desyre is kindeled as it were a fyre.

9 An adulterous woman shalbe troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man wondring at the beautie of a strange woman, hath benne cast out: for her wordes kyndle as a fire.

11 Syt not with another mans wife by any meanes, lye not with her vppon the bedde, make no woordes with her at the wyne: lest thine hart consent vnto her, & so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde freende, for the newe shal not be like him: a newe freende is newe wine, let him be olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and richesse of a sinner: for thou knowest not what destruction is for to come vpon him.

16 Beware of thy neyghbour as nygh as thou canst, & meddle with suche as be wyse and haue vnderstandyng.

17 Let iust men be thy ghestes, let thy myrth be in the feare of God.

18 Let the remembraunce of God be in thy mind, and let al thy talking be in the commaundementes of the byghest.

19 In the handes of craftesmen shal the workes be cõmended: so shal the princes of the people in the wysedome of their talkyng.

20 A man ful of wordes is perilous in his citie: and he that is rashe in his talkyng, shal be abhorred.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Of kynges and iudges. 7. Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 28. Labour is praysed.

1 A Wise iudge wil order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it wel.

2 As the iudge of the people is him selfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwel therin also.

3 An vnwyse king destroyeth his people: but where they that be in auctoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and al iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when tyme is, he shal set a profitable rule vpon it.

5 In the hande of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shal he lay his honour.

6 Be not angrie for any wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.

7 Pride is hateful before GOD and man, (a) and al wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealyng, wrong, blasphemies, & diuers deceites, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing woorse then a couetous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? suche one hath his soule to sel, yet is he but lyke vnto dong whyle he liueth.

10 Al tyrannie is of smal endurance, and the disease that is harde to heale, greeueth the Phisition.

11 And though the Phisition shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a kyng, to morow dead.

12 For when a man dieth, he is the heyre of serpentes, beastes, and wormes.

13 The beginnyng of mans pride, is to fal away from God: and why? his hart is gone from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of al sinne: who so taketh holde therof, shal be fylled with curssinges, and at the last it shal ouerthrow him: therefore hath the Lord brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the ende. C

15 God hath destroyed the seates of proude princes, and set vp the meeke in their stede. Sapi.6.b. Luke.1.c.14 c.and.18.b.

16 God hath wythered the rootes of the proude heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, & destroied them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wyther away, he hath brought them to nought, and made the memorial of them to erasse from out of the earth. Gene.29.b.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble in minde.

19 Pride was not made for man, neyther wrathfulnesse for mens children.

20 The seede of men that feareth God, shal be brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the commaundementes of the Lorde, shalbe shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his syght. D

22 The feare of the Lorde causeth that the kyngdome fayleth not: but the kyngdome is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The glory of the rich, of the honorable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstandyng, and magnifie not the riche vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mightie in honor, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 Vnto the seruant that is discreete, shal the free doo seruice: he that is wyse and wel nurtured, wyl not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shal not come to honour. Pro.22.8 2.Es.12.b

29 My sonne, get thy soule honor by meknesse, and geue her her due honor.

30 Who shal iustifie him that sinneth against him selfe? Who wyl honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faythfulnesse and trueth: but the riche is had in reputation because of his goodes.

32 He that honoureth him selfe honestly in powertie, howe muche more shal he behaue him selfe honestly in richesse? and who so dishonoureth him selfe honestly in richesse, howe muche more shal he behaue him selfe honestly in powertie?

The xi. Chapter.

1. The prayse of humilitie. 2. After the outwarde appearaunce ought we not to iudge.

A 1 THe aduancement of him that is brought lowe, shal lift vp his head, & shal make him to syt among great men.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beauty, neyther despise a man in his vtter appearaunce.

3 The Bee is but a smal beast among the foules, yet is her fruite exceadyng sweete.

Mat.19.c. 10 My sonne, meddle not with many matters: and yf thou gayne muche, thou shalt not be blameles, and yf thou folowe after, thou shalt not atteyne it, and though thou shunnest thy way aforne, yet shalt thou not escape.

16 Errour and darkenesse are made for synners, & they that exalt them selues in euyl, waxe olde in euyl.

17 The gift of God remaineth for the righteous: and his good wyl shal geue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is riche by his care and wardlyhyp, and that is the portion of his reward:

19 In that he sayth, Nowe haue I gotten rest, and nowe wyl I eate and drinke of my goodes me selfe alone: and yet he considereth not that the tyme drawethnygh, and death approcheth? he must leaue al these thynges vnto other men, and dye hym selfe. Luke.12.b

20 Stande thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise ther selfe therein: and remayne in the worke vnto thy age.

21 Maruayle not at the workes of sinners, D but put thy trust in God, and byde in thy labour: for it is but an easie thyng in the sight of GOD to make a poore man riche, and that sodainely.

22 The blessyng of God hasteth to the reward of the ryghteous, and maketh his fruites loone to florishe and prosper.

23 Say not, What helpeth it me? and what good thyng shal I haue hereafter?

24 Agayne, say not, I haue ynough, howe can I want?

25 When thou art in welfare, forget not Eccl.18.c aduersitie, and when it goeth not wel with ther, haue a good hope that it shalbe better:

26 For it is but a smal thyng vnto God in the day of death, to reward euery man accordyng to his maners.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forgete al pleasure: and when a man dyeth, his workes are discouered.

The. xii. Chapter.

1. Vnto whom we ought to do good,
10. Enimies ought not to be truſted.

1 WHen thou wylt do good, knowe to whom thou doeſt it, and ſo ſhalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites.
2 Do good vnto the ryghteous, and thou ſhalt finde great rewarde, though not of rewarde thee.

3 He ſtandeth not in a good caſe that is al-for the higheſt hateth the ſinners, and hath mercie vpon them that ſhewe the workes of 5 As for the vngodly and ſinners, he ſhal recompence vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Geue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the ſinner, do well vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread be geuen hym, that he be not myghtier then thee ſelfe therein: for ſo ſhalt thou receiue twiſe as muche euil, in al that good that thou doeſt vnto him.
7 And why? the higheſt hateth ſinners, and ſhal rewarde vengeance to the vngodly.
8 In proſperitie a frende ſhalbe knowen, and in aduerſitie an enimie ſhall not be 9 For when a man is in wealth, it greeueth his enimies: but in trauineſſe and trouble a mans very frende will depart from hym.

10 Truſt neuer thine enimie: for like as iron ruſteth, ſo doth his wickedneſſe.
11 And though he make muche crouchyng as he that wypeth a glaſſe, and thou ſhalt

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that ac-companiith a more honourable man then hym one that is richer then thee ſelfe: How yf the one be ſmitten againſt the other, it ſhalbe broken.

3 The ryche dealeth vnryghteouſly, and threatneth withal: but the poore beyng op-preſſed and wrongfully dealt withal, ſuffe-

If the riche haue done wrong, yet muſt he be entreated: but yf the poore haue done it, he ſhal ſtrayghtwayes be threatned.
4 If thou be for his profite, he vſeth thee:

but yf thou haue nothyng, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thyng of thyne owne, he shalbe a good felowe with thee: yea he shal make thee a bare man, and not be sory for thee.

6 If he haue nede of thee, he shall defraude thee, and with a pryuie mocke shall he put thee in an hope, & geue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

B 7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meate, vntyll he haue supt thee cleane vp twyse or thryse, and at the last shall he laugh thee to scorne: afterwarde, when he seeth that thou hast nothyng, he shal forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thee selfe vnto God, and wayte vpon his hande.

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: Be not to humble in thy wildome, lest when thou art brought lowe, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thee selfe, so shall he call thee to hym the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto hym, that thou be not shut out: but goe not thou farre of, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thee selfe from his speach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with muche communication shal he tempte thee, and with a pryuie mocke shall he question with thee of thy secretes.

(a) That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sinne agayne as a dogge to his vomit: or els after the other translation Hyena is a subtyll beast, watching about shepheardes foldes resembling a mans voyce, and learning certaine names, doth cal the foorth & so destroy thē, whose nature is contrary to the dog, whiche is a keeper of the folde, and freendly vnto man.

13 The vnmerciful minde of his shal marke thy wordes, he shal not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prysion.

14 Beware and take good heede to thee selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing: Nowe when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God al thy life long, and cal vpon hym in thy nede.

16 Euery beast loueth his lyke: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All flesche wyl resorte to their lyke, and euery man will keepe company with suche as he is hym selfe.

18 But as the woolfe agreeth with ye lambe: so doth the vngodly with the ryghteous.

19 (a) What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? howe can the ryche and the poore agree togeather?

20 The wylde Asse is the Lions pray in the wyldernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the ryche.

21 Lyke as the proude may not away with lowlynesse: euen so doth the ryche abhorre the poore.

22 If a ryche man fall, his frendes set him vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his acquayntance forsake hym. D

23 If a rich man fal into an errour, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie hym: but yf a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the riche man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he saith, they prayse it vnto the cloudes: but yf the poore man speake, they say, What felowe is this? and if he do amysse, they shal destroy hym.

25 Rychesse are good vnto hym that hath no sinne in his conscience: and powertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The hart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euil.

5 He that is wycked vnto hym selfe, howe shoulde he be good vnto other men? howe can suche one haue any pleasure of his goodes.

6 There is nothing woorse then when one disfauoureth him selfe: & this is a rewarde of his wickednesse.

15 If thou wylt obſerue the commaundementes, and keepe acceptable faythfulneſſe for euer, they ſhal preſerue thee.

16 He hath ſet water and fyre before thee, reache out thyne hande vnto whiche thou wylt. Ierr.21.b.

17 Before man is lyfe and death, good and euyl: looke what hym lyketh, ſhalbe geuen hym.

18 For the wyſedome of GOD is great and mightie in power, and beholdeth al things continually.

19 The eyes of the Lorde are vpon them that feare hym, and he knoweth al the workes of man.

(a) As a pure virgin newly maried, doth frendely entreate her huſbande: ſo ſhal iuſtice pure & vndefyled, gently entertayne her louers. Mat.4.a. Ioh.4.a.

20 He hath commaunded no man to doo vngodly, neyther hath he geuen any man licence to sinne: for he delyteth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. Of vnhappy and wicked chyldren. 39. No man can hyde him selfe from God.

A 1 Delite not thou in the multitude of vngodly chyldren, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their lyfe, and regarde not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousande vngodly: and better it is for a man to dye without chyldren, then to leaue behinde him suche chyldren as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden: but though the vngodly be many, yet shal it be wasted thorowe them.

5 Many such thinges hath myne eye seene, and greater thinges then these haue I hearde with myne eares.

Eccle. 21. b. 6 In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fyre burne, and among vnfaythful people shal the wrath be kindled.

Gene. 6. a. 7 The olde giantes obteyned no grace for B their sinnes, whiche were destroyed trusting to their owne strength.

8 Neyther spared he them among whom Gene. 19. c. Lot was a stranger: but smote them, and abhorred them, because of the pryde of their woordes.

9 He had no pitie vpon them: but destroyed all the people that were so stoute in sinne.

10 And forasmuche as he ouerlawe the fyre Num. 14. c. hundred thousande that geathered them selues togeather in the hardnesse of their hart, in afflicting them, in pitieyng them, in smyting them, and healing them with mercye chastisement: it were maruayle if one being hardnecked should be free.

11 For mercy and wrath is with him, he is Eccle. 5. a. both mightie to forgeue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Lyke as his mercy is great, euen so is his pounishement also: he iudgeth a man accordyng to his woorkes.

13 The vngodly shal not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of him that sheweth mercy, shal not byde behinde.

C 14 He wyll make a place for euery mercyful deede, and euery man shal fynde according to his woorkes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that he shoulde not knowe him, and that his woorkes might be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercy is knowen to all creatures, he hath separated his lyght from the darknesse with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I wyl hide mee selfe from God: for who wyll thinke vpon me from aboue? I shal not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

18 Beholde the heauen, yea the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shalbe moued at his presence.

19 The mountaynes, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These thinges doeth no hart vnderstand worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery hart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? D no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his woorkes are secrete.

22 Who wyll declare the woorkes of his righteousnesse? or who shalbe able to abyde them? For the couenant is far from sonne, and tryeng out of men is in the ende.

23 He that is humble of hart, thinketh vpon such thinges: but an vnwyse and erronious man, casteth his mind vnto foolish thinges.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstandyng, and marke my woordes with thyne hart: I wyl geue thee a sure doctrine, and playnly shal I instruct thee.

25 Marke my woordes then in thyne hart: for in righteousnesse of the spirite doo I speake of the woonders that GOD hath shewed among his woorkes from the beginnyng, and in the truth doo I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his woorkes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his woorkes from euerlastyng, and their begynnynges accordyng to their generations: they are not hungry nor wery ed in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hyndred another, neyther was any of them disobedient vnto his E woordes.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and fylled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all manner of lyuyng beastes hath he couered the grounde, and they al shalbe turned vnto earth agayne.

The

The .xvii. Chapter.

I. The creation of man, and the goodneſſe that god hath done vnto him. 20. Of almes, 26. and repentance.

1 GOD ſhaped man of the earth, & made him after his owne image, and turned him vnto earth againe, and clothed him with his owne ſtrength.

2 He gaue him the number of dayes and certaine tyme, yea and gaue him power of the thinges that are vpon earth.

3 He made al fleſhe to ſtande in awe of him, ſo that he had the dominion of al beaſtes and foules.

4 He made out of him an helper lyke vnto him ſelfe, and gaue them diſcretion and tongues, eyes, and eares, and a part to vnderſtande:

5 He gaue them a ſpirite, and a ſpeache to declare his workes, and ſylled them with inſtruction and vnderſtandyng.

6 He created for them alſo the knowledge of the ſpirite, filled theyr hartes with vnderſtanding, and ſhewed them good and euil.

7 He ſet his eye vpon theyr harts, declaring vnto them his great and noble workes.

8 That they ſhoulde prayſe his holy name together, reioyce of his wonders, and be telling of his noble actes.

9 Beſyde this, he gaue them inſtruction, and the lawe of lyfe for an heritage, that they might nowe knowe that they were (a) mortal.

10 He made an euerlaſtyng couenant with them, and ſhewed them his righteouſneſſe and iudgemmentes.

11 Theyr eyes ſawe the maieſtie of his glory with their eyes, and theyr eares heard the maieſtie of his voyce, and he ſayde vnto them, Beware of al vnrighteous thynges.

12 He gaue euery man alſo a commaundement concernyng his neighbour.

13 Theyr wayes are euer before hym, and are not hidde from his eyes.

14 Euery man from his youth is geuen to euil, and theyr ſtony harts can not become (b) fleſhe.

15 He hath ſet a ruler vpon euery people, but Iſrael is the Lordes portion:

16 Whom he nourſheth with diſcipline as his firſt borne, and geueth hym moſt louing light, and doth not forſake hym.

17 All theyr workes are as the ſunne in the ſight of God, and his eyes are alway looking vpon theyr wayes.

18 Al theyr vnrighteouſneſſe are manyfeſt vnto him, and all theyr wyckednes are open in his ſight.

19 And as he is mercyful and knoweth his worke, he doth not leaue them, nor forſake them, but ſpareth them.

20 The mercie that a man ſheweth, is (c) as a ſeale with hym, and the grace that is geuen to man, preſerueth hym as the apple of an eye, and geueth repentance to their ſonnes and daughters. Eccle. 29. b. (c) Asa thing ſealed vp is ſurely found agayne, ſois mercy layde vp in ſtore.

21 At the laſt ſhall he awake, and reward euery man vpon his head, and ſhal turne them together into the neathermoſt partes of the earth.

22 But vnto them that wyl repent, he hath geuen the way of righteouſneſſe: as for ſuche as be weake, he comforteth them, ſuffereth them, and ſendeth them the potion of the veritie. D Actes. 3. c.

23 O turne then vnto the Lorde, forſake thy ſinnes, make thy prayer before the Lorde, Do the leſſe offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the Lorde, for he wil bryng thee from darkneſſe vnto wholſome light, forſake thine vnrighteouſneſſe, be an vtter enimie to abomination.

25 Learne to knowe the ryghteouſneſſe and iudgementes of God, ſtande in the potion that is ſet foorth for thee, and in the prayer of the moſt high God.

26 Goe in the potion of the holy worlde with ſuche as be lyuyng, and geue thankes vnto God.

27 Who wyll prayſe the Lorde in the hel? abyde not thou in the errour of the vngodly, but geue thankes before death. Pſal. 7. a.

28 As for the dead, thankſulneſſe perysheth from hym as nothyng: geue thou thanks in thy lyfe, yea whyle thou art lyuyng and whole ſhalt thou geue thankes, and prayſe God, and reioyce in his mercie. E

29 O howe great is the louyng kyndnes of the Lorde, and his mercyful goodneſſe vnto ſuche as turne vnto hym.

30 For all thinges may not be in man, and why? the ſonne of man is not immortall, and he hath pleaſure in the vanitie of wyckednes.

31 What is more cleare then the ſunne? yet ſhal it faile.

32 Or what is more wycked then the thyng that fleſhe and blood hath imagined? and that ſame ſhalbe reproued.

33 The Lorde ſeeth the power of the high heauen, and al are but earth and aſhes.

The .xviii. Chapter.

I. The marueylous workes of God. 6. The miſerie and wretchednes of man. 9. Againſt God ought we not to complayne.

A t HE that liueth for euermore, made all Gene.1.a. things together: God only is righteous, and there is none other but he, and remayneth a victorious king for euer.
2 He ordereth the worlde with the power of his hande, and all thinges obey his wyll:
for he gouerneth all thynges by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.
Psal.105.a. 3 Who shalbe able to expresse the woordes of hym? who wyl seeke out the grounde of his noble actes?
4 Who shal declare the power of his greatnesse? or who wil take vpon hym to tel out his mercy?
5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lorde, there may nothing be taken from them, nothyng may be put vnto them, neyther may the grounde of them be founde out.
6 But when a man hath done his best, he must beginagaine: and when he thynketh to be come to an ende, he must go againe to his labour.
B 7 What is man? wherto is he worth? what good or euill can he do?
Psal.110.a. 8 If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeeres, it is much: and no man hath certayne knowledge of his death.
9 Lyke as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, and as a gravel stone is in comparison of the sande: so are these fewe yeeres to the dayes of euerlastyng.
2.Pet.3.b. 10 Therfore is the Lord patient with them, and powreth out his mercy vpon them.
11 He sawe and perceiued the thoughtes and imaginations of their hart that they were euyll, therefore heaped he vp his mercyful goodnesse vpon them, and shewed them the way of rygh teousnesse.
12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercy of GOD is vpon al flesh: he chasteneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea euen as a shepheard turneth agayne his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastenyng, nurture, and doctrine.
Esai.66.a. 13 Merciful is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgementes.
C 14 My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: and whatsoeuer thou geuest, speake no discomfortable woordes.
15 Shal not the deawe coole the heate? euen so is a woorde better then a gyft.
Prou.15.a. 16 Is not a frendly woorde a good honest gyfte? but a gratious man geueth them both.
Eccle.41.b. 17 A foole shall cast a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gyft of the vnryghte putteth out the eyes.
18 Geat thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou speake, and goo to phisicke or euer thou be sicke.
19 Examine and iudge thee selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou fynde grace in the sight of God. 1.Cor.11.
20 Humble thee selfe afore thou be sicke: and whyleste thou mayest (a) sinne, shewe thy conuersation. (a) For he more perfe that may sinne & doe resist it, the he that doe folowe after it.
21 Be not let to pay thy dewe in good tyme, and tarye not to be iustified vnto thy death: for the rewarde of God endureth for euer.
22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God. D
23 Thinke vpon the wrathful indignation that shalbe at the ende, and the houre of vengeance when he shall turne away his face.
24 When thou hast ynough, remember the tyme of hunger: and when thou art riche, thynke vpon the tyme of pouertie and scarcenesse. Eccle.11.
25 From the morning vntil the euening the time is changed, and all suche thynges are soone done in the sight of God.
26 A wyse man feareth God in all thynges, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth him selfe from sinne: but the foole doth not obserue the tyme.
27 A discrete man hath pleasure in wysedome, and he that fyndeth her, maketh muche of her.
28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue E deale wisely in woordes, haue vnderstande the trueth & righteousnes, and haue sought out wise sentences and iudgmentes.
29 The cheefe worthynesse of speakyng, is of the Lord alone: for a mortal man hath but a dead hart.
30 Folow not thy lustes, but turne them from thyne owne wyl.
Rom.6.b. 31 For if thou graunt thy soule her desyres, it shal make thine enimies to laugh thee to scorne.
32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnesse, and meddle not to muche with al.
33 Make not to great cheare of the thyng that thou hast wonne by aduantage, lest thou fal into pouertie and haue nothing in thy purse, els thou wouldest (slaunderously) lye in wayte for thyne owne lyfe.

The.xix.Chapter.

2. Wine and whoredome bryngeth men to pouertie. 6. In thy woordes muste thou vse discretion.

1 A labou-

1 A Labourynge man that is geuen vnto drunkennesse, shal not be riche: and he that maketh not muche of small thinges, shall fal by litle and litle.
2 Wyne and women make wyse men run-nagates, and put men of vnderstanding to reproofe.
3 And he that companyeth aduulterers, shall become an impudent man: mothes and wormes shal haue hym to herytage, yea he shal be set vp to a great example, and his soule shalbe rooted out of the number.
4 He that is hastie to geue credence, is light minded, and sooth agaynst him selfe.
5 Who so reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: he that refray-neth his tongue, may liue with a troublesome man: he that hateth to be reformed, his lyfe shalbe shortened: and he that ab-horreth babblyng of woordes, quencheth
wickednesse.
6 He that offendeth against his owne soule, shal repent it: and he that reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished.
7 Rehearse not a wicked & churlishe woord twyse, and thou shalt not be hindered.
8 Shewe thy secretes neyther to freend nor foe: and if thou hast offended, tell it not out.
9 For he shal hearken vnto thee, and marke thee: and when he fyndeth opportunitie, he shall hate thee, & so shal he be alway about ther.
10 If thou hast heard a woorde agaynst thy neyghbour, let it be dead within thee: and be sure thou shalt haue no harme thereby.
11 A foole trauayleth with a woorde, lyke as a woman that is payned with bearyng of a childe.
12 Lyke as an arrowe shotte in a thygh of fleshe, so is a woorde in a fooles hart.
13 Tel thy freende his fault, lest he be ignorant, and say, I haue not donne it: or yf he haue spoken, that he doo it no more.
14 Reproue thy neyghbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.
15 Tel thy neighbour his fault, for oft tymes an offence is made: and geue not credence to euery woorde.
16 A man falleth sometime with his tongue, but not with his wyll: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue?
17 Geue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten him: and geue place vnto the law of the Lorde.
18 The feare of the Lorde is the first degree to be receyued of him: and wisedome obteyneth his loue.
19 The knowledge of the commaundemen-tes of the Lorde, is the doctrine of lyfe: and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruite of immortalitie.
20 The feare of God is all wysedome: and he that is a righteous man keepeth the lawe.
21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I wil not doo as it pleaseth thee: though afterwarde D he doo it, he shal displease him that nouri-sheth him.
22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wysedome, and the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wyckednesse and abomination, and a blaspheme myng of wysedome.
23 A symple man of small vnderstandyng that feareth GOD, is better then one that hath muche wysedome, and transgresseth the lawe of the hyghest.
24 A craftie subtile man can be wyse, but he is vnrighteous, & with gyftes he wrasteth the open and manifest lawe: agayne, there is that is wyse, and iudgeth righteously.
25 A wicked man can behaue hym selfe humbly, and can ducke with his head, and yet is he but a deceyuer within: he hydeth his face, and disguiseth it, and because he shoulde not be knowen, he preuenteth ther, to hurt thee.
26 And though he be so weake that he can Mat. 6. b.
doo thee no harme, yet when he may fynde opportunitie, he shal doo some euyl.
27 A man may be knowen by his face, and one that hath vnderstandyng may be per-ceyued by the looke of his countenance.
28 A mans garment, laughter, and going, Eccle. 32. c

The. xx. Chapter.

1. Of correction and repentance. 6. Of the gyft of the wyse man, & of the foole. 23. Of lyeing.

1 SOmme man reproueth his neyghbour A oft times, but not in due season: agayne, Eccle. 31. b.
somme man holdeth his tongue, and he is wyse and discrete.
2 It is muche better to geue warnyng and to reproue, then to beare euyll will: for he that knowledgeth him selfe openly, shalbe preserued from hurt and destruction.
3 Lyke as when a gelded man through de-syre and lust defyleth a mayden: euen so is it with hym that vseth violence and vnrighteousnesse in the lawe.
4 O howe good a thing is it, a man that is reproued to shewe openly his repentance:

for to shalt thou escape wylful sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he sayth, is hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not understanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, wayting a convenient time.

℣ 7 A wyse man wyl holde his tongue tyll he see opportunitie: but a wanton and vndiscreete body shal regarde no tyme.

Eccls.3.a. 8 He that vseth many woordes, shall hurte his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.

9 Some man hath oft tymes prosperitie in wicked thinges: agayne, some man getteth muche, and hath harme and losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: agayne, there is some gyft whose rewarde is double.

21 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worshyp from lowe estate.

12 Some man byeth muche for a litle price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

Eccle.6.d. 13 A wyse man with his woordes maketh hym selfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles shalbe powred out.

℣ 14 The gyft of the vnwyse shall doo thee no good, nor yet of the enuious, for his importunitie is seuen folde, for he looketh to receyue many thinges for one.

15 He shal geue litle, and say he gaue muche: he openeth his mouth and cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wyde.

Eccle. 18. c. 16 To day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he agayne: and suche a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole sayth, I haue no frende, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes, yea euen they that eate my bread speake no good of me: O how oft, and of howe many shal he be laughed to scorne?

18 He taketh a more perylious fal by suche woordes, then if he fel vpon the grounde: euen so shal the fal of wicked men comme hastily.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vncomfortable & vnmeete woordes.

20 A wyse sentence shall not be alowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

21 Somme man sinneth not, because he hath ℣ not wherewithal, and in his rest he shalbe stynged.

22 Somme man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnwyse bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shal he vndoe him selfe.

23 Somme man promiseth his frende a gift for very shame: and getteth an enimie of him for nought.

24 A lye is a wicked shame in a man: yet shal it be euer in the mouth of the vnwyse.

25 A theefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of lyers are vnhonest: and their shame is euer with them.

27 A wyse man shall bryng him selfe to honour with his woordes: and he that hath vnderstanding, shalbe set by among great men. Gene.41.f.

28 He that tilleth his lande, shall encrease his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnesse shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shal escape muche euyl. Pro.12.b.

29 Rewardes and gifres blynde the eyes of the wyse, and make him dumbe that he can not tel men their faultes. Eccle.23.d.

30 Wysedome that is hydde, and treasure that is hoorded vp, what profyte is in them both? Eccle.41.c.

31 Better is he that keepeth his ignorance secrete, then a man that hydeth his wysedome.

32 The necessarie patience of him that followeth the Lorde, is better then he that gouerneth his lyfe without the Lorde.

The. xxi. Chapter.

1. Not to continue in sinne. 5. The prayer of the afflicted. 6. To hate to be reprooued. 17. The mouth of the wyse man. 26. The though: of the foole.

1 MY sonne, if thou hast sinned, doo it no more: but pray for thy formersinnes that they may be forgeuen thee. ℣ Eccle.5.a.

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou commest to nigh her, she wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednesse of man is as a sharpe two edged swoorde, whiche maketh such woundes that they can not be healed. Eccl.3.b.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing shall waste away a mans goods, and through pryde a riche house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of the proude shalbe rooted out. (a) With goodes borowed and not payed agayne, robbed, stolen, or craftyly conueyed: geatherers stones in winter to builde, when the frost doth sooneale the morter, that it can not holde the stones together.

5 The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, & commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance (or defence) shall comme hastily.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, wyl remember him selfe.

7 A mighty man is knowen a farre of by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding perceyueth that he shal haue a fal.

8 Who so buyldeth his house with other mens coste, (a) is lyke one that geatherith stones to make his graue.

9 The congregation of the vngodly is like ſtubble gathered together, their ende is a flame of fire.

10 The way of the vngodly is ſet with ſtones: but in their ende, is hel, darkeneſſe, and paynes.

11 He that keepeth the lawe, wyl holde faſt the vnderſtanding therof: and the end of the feare of God is wiſdome and vnderſtandyng.

12 He that is not wiſe, wyl not be taught in good, but the vnwiſe man aboundeth in wickednesſe: and where bytternesſe is, there is no vnderſtandyng.

13 The knowledge of the wiſe ſhal flowe like water that runneth ouer: & his counſel is like a pure fountayne of lyfe.

14 The hart of a foole is like a broken veſſel, he can kepe no wiſedome.

15 When a man of vnderſtanding heareth a wyſe word, he ſhal commend it, and make moche of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he ſhal haue no pleaſure therein, but caſt it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like an heauie burden by the way: but to heare a wiſe man ſpeake, it is pleaſure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is aſked at the mouth of the wiſe: and they ſhal ponder his woordes in their hartes.

18 Like as in a houſe that is deſtroyed, euen ſo is wiſdome vnto a foole: as for the knowledge of the vnwiſe, it is but darke woordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderſtanding, euen as fetters about his feet, and like manicles vpon his ryght hande.

20 A foole lyfteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wiſe man ſhal ſcarſe laugh ſecretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wiſe man a iewel of golde, and like an armelet vppon his ryght arme.

22 A fooliſhe mans foote is ſoone in his neighbours houſe: but one that hath experience, ſtande aſhamed at the perſon of the myghtie.

23 A foole wyl peepe in at the wyndow into the houſe: but he that is well nurtured, wyll ſtande without.

24 A fooliſhe man ſtandeth hearkenyng at the doore: but he that is wiſe wyl be aſhamed.

25 The lyppes of the vnwiſe wyl be telling fooliſhe thynges: but the woordes of ſuche as haue vnderſtandyng, ſhal be weighed in the balance.

26 The hart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wiſe is in his hart.

27 When the vngodly curſeth the (b) blaſphemer, he curſeth his owne ſoule.

28 A priuie accuſer of other men, ſhal defile his owne ſoule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is diſcreet, ſhal come to honour.

The .xxii. Chapter.

1. Of the ſluggarde. 12. Not to ſpeake much to a foole. 16. A good conſcience reſteth not.

1 A Slouthfull body is moulded (a) of a ſtone of clay, and euery man wil ſpeake to his diſpraiſe.

2 A ſlouthfull body is made of the doung of oxen, and euery one that toucheth him, muſt waſhe his handes againe.

3 A miſnurtured ſonne is the diſhonour of the father: a fooliſhe daughter ſhalbe little regarded.

4 A wiſe daughter is an heritage vnto her huſbandes: but ſhe that commeth to diſhoneſtie, bringeth her father in beaunteſſe.

5 A daughter that is paſte ſhame, diſhonoureth both her father and her huſbande: the vngodly ſhal regard her, but they both ſhall deſpiſe her.

6 A tale out of time, is as muſicke in mourning: but wiſedome knoweth the ſeaſons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honeſtly, and haue wherwithal, they ſhal put awaye the ſhame of their parentes:

8 But if children be proude with hautineſſe and fooliſhneſſe, they blotte out the nobilitie of their kynrede.

9 Who ſo teacheth a foole, is euen as one that glueth a potſharde togeather, as one that telleth a tale to hym that heareth hym not, and as one that rayſeth a man out of an heauie ſleepe.

10 Who ſo telleth a foole of wiſedome, is euen as a man whiche ſpeaketh to one that is aſleepe, when he hath tolde his tale, he ſayth, What is the matter?

11 When one weepeth, lamentation is made for him, becauſe the lyght kayleth him: euen ſo, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderſtanding. Make but litle weeping becauſe of the dead, for he is come to reſt: but the lyfe of the foole is worſe then the death.

12 Seuen dayes doo menne mourne for hym that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwiſe and vngodly, ſhould endure all the dayes of their lyfe.

13 Talke not muche with a foole, and goe not with hym that hath no vnderſtandyng: beware of hym, leſte it turne thee to trauayle, and thou ſhalt not be defyled with his

(a) A fayr that is, like as the idle ſtone geathereth mooſe and fylth, ſo doth the ſlouthful both ſickneſſe of body, and corruption of mynd, and as euery man doth auoyde the filthines of doung, & ſhaketh it of: ſo doth he auoyd the companye of idle loyterers, leſt he be accounted like vnto them.

his sinne: Depart from him, and then shalt thou rest, and shalt not be troubled bicause of his foolishnesse.

E 14 (b) What is heauyer then lead? and what
(a) Though lead be heauie, yet may it be borne, but the insolent foole may not be borne, as Prou. 28. Heauy is the stone, and weightie is the sand: but the furie of a foole doth passe them both.
should a foole be called els but lead?

15 Sand, salt, and a lumpe of yron, is easier to beare, then an unwise, foolishe, and ungodly man.

16 Like as the bandes of wood bound together in the fundation of the house can not be loosed: euen so is it with the hart that is stablished in the thought of counsel. The thoughts of the wise shal neuer feare, nor be offended at any tyme.

17 Like as a fayre plastered wal in a wynter house: a high building may not abide the wynde and stourme: euen so is a fooles hart afraid in his imagination, bicause he feareth at euer yche thyng, and can not endure.

18 A wauering hart in the imagination of a foole, wyl not euer stande in ayde: but he that abydeth in the commaundementes of God, wyl alway feare.

19 He that puppeth a mans eye, bringeth foorth teares: and he that pricketh the hart, bringeth forth the meanyng and thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the byrdes, frayeth them away: and he that blaspheameth his frende, breaketh frendshyp.

D 21 Though thou hauest a swoorde at thy frende, yet dispayre not: for thou mayest come agayne to thy frende.

22 If he speake sourely, feare not: for ye may be agreed togeather agayne, except it be that thou blaspheme hym, disdaine hym, open his secretes, and wounde hym trayte-rously: for al such thinges shal flye away frende.

23 Be fayre frindl vnto thy neyghbour in his powertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abyde stedfast vnto hym in the tyme of his trouble, that thou mayest be heyre with him in his heritage:
for powertie is not alwayes to be contem-ned, nor the riche that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so ayre wor-des, reproches, and threatnings, goe before bloodshedyng.

25 Be not ashamed to defend the frende, as for me, I wyl not flye my face from hym though he shoulde doo me harme: who so e-uer heareth it, shal beware of hym.

Psal. 112. a. 26 Who shal set a watche before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lyppes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

The. xxiii. Chapter.

1. A prayer against pryde, lecherye, and glorie. 22. Many sinnes procede of idolatrie.
27. Of the feare of God.

1 O Lorde, father and gouernour of my lyfe, leaue me not in their imagination and counsel: oh let me not fal in suche reproofe. E

2 Who wyll keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wisedome in mine harte? that he spare not mine ignorance, that I fal not with them?

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that myne offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fal before mine enimies, and so myne aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lorde, thou father and God of my lyfe, leaue me not in their imagination: O let me not haue a proud looke, but turne away al voluptuousnesse fro me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the bodye, let not the desyres of vncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And geue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate myndc.

7 Heare me, O ye chyldren, I wyl giue you B a doctrine howe ye shall order your mouth:
who so keepeth it, shall not perishe though his lyppes, nor be hurt through wicked woordes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proude and curse, shal fal therein.

9 Let not thy mouth be accustomed with Exod. 20.
swearyng, for in it there are many fallen:
let not the nameyng of God be continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of Saintes, for thou shalt not be excused of them.

10 For like as a seruant whiche is oft punished, can not be without some sore: euen so, what so euer he be that sweareth, and nameth God, shall not be clean pourged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth muche sweareyng, shall be fylled with wickednesse, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house, if he beguyle his brother, his fault shalbe vpon hym, if he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, and if he sweare in vayne, he shal not be founde righteous: for his house shalbe ful of plagues.

12 The woordes of the swearer bringeth Leuit. 24.
death, God graunt that it be not founde in the house of Iacob: but they that feare
God, eschew al such, and lye not waltering in sinne.

13 This

Ma.12.b. 15 Use not thy mouth to unhonest & filthie talkyng, for in it is the woorde of synne.

16 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: lest God forget them in their sight, and lest thou nedyng their custome, suffer rebuke, and wyshe not to have bene borne, and so curse the day of thy nativitie.

Ma.15.b. 17 The man that is accustomed with the woordes of blasphemie, wyl never be reformed al the dayes of his lyfe.

18 Two sinner wyse is to much, but the third bringeth wrath & destruction: An hot stomache can not be quenched (euen lyke a burning fyre) til it have swalowed up some thyng: euen so an unchaste man hath no rest in his flesshe, til he have kindeled a fyre.

19 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, he wyl not leave of tyl he dye.

Pa.11.a. 20 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, Tushe, who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse, the walles cover me, no body seeth me, whom neede I to feare the hyghest wyl not remember my synnes:

21 He understandeth not that his eyes see al thynges, for al suche feare of men driveth away the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer then the sunne, beholdyng al the wayes of men, & the grounde of the deepe, and lookyng euen to mens hartes in secrete places.

22 The Lorde God knewe al thynges or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he looketh upon them all.

D 23 The same man shalbe openly punished in the stretes of the citie, and shalbe chased abroade lyke a young horse foale: and when he thynketh least upon it, he shalbe taken.

24 Thus shal he be put to shame of every man, because he wolde not understande the feare of the Lorde: and thus shal it goe also with every wyfe that leaveth her husbande, and getteth inheritance by a straunge marriage.

Pro.30.c. 25 First, she hath ben unfaithfull unto the lawe of the hyghest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husband: thirdly, she hath played the whoore in adulterie, and gotten her children by another man.

26 She shalbe brought out of the congregation, and her children shalbe looked upon.

27 Her children shal not take roote: and as for fruite, her branches shal bryng fourth none.

28 A thankful reporte shal she leave behinde her, and her dishonour shal not be put out.

29 And they that remaine, shal knowe that there is nothyng better then the feare of GOD, and that there is nothyng sweeter then to take heede unto the commaundementes of the Lorde.

30 A great worshyp is it to folowe the lorde: for long lyfe shalbe received of hym.

The. xxiiii. Chapter.

1. A prayse of wysedome proceedyng fourth of the mouth of God. 6. Of her woorkes and place where she resteth.

1 WIsedome shal prayse her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the myddest of the people. A

2 In the congregations of the hyghest shal she open her mouth, and triumph in the beholdyng of his power.

3 In the myddest of her people shal she be exalted, and woondered at in the holy fulnesse.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shalbe commended, and among such as be blessed she shalbe praysed, and shal say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the hyghest, fyrst borne before al creatures.

6 I caused the lyght that fayleth not to arise in the heaven, and covered al the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is above in the heigth, and my seate is in the pyller of the cloude. B

8 I mee selfe alone have gone rounde about the compasse of heaven, and pearced the grounde of the deepe.

9 I have walked in the flooddes of the sea, and have stande in al landes, my dominion is in every people, and in every nation, and with my power have I troden downe the hartes of al both hygh and lowe.

10 In al these thynges also I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creatour of al thynges gave me a commaundement, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and sayde unto me, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, & thyne inheritance in Israel, and roote thee selfe among my chosen.

12 I was created from the beginning, and before the world, and shal not leave of unto the worlde to comme: in the holy habitation have I served before hym, and so was I stablished in Sion. Pro.8.c. Exod.31.a

13 In the holy citie rested I in lyke maner, and in Hierusalem was my power. Psal.132.a

14 I tooke roote in an honorable people, euen in the portion of the Lorde, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnesse of the saintes. C

15 I was

25 I am set vp an high lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypres tree vpon the mount Hermon.

26 I am exalted like a palme tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Iericho, as a fayre Olive tree in the felde, and am exalted lyke as a plantane tree by the water side.

27 I haue geuen a smel in the stretes as the Cynamom and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea a sweete odour haue I geuen as it were myrrhe of the best: I haue made my dwellynges to smel as it were of Rosin, Galbanum, of Onyx, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not hewen downe, and myne odour is as the pure Balme.

(a) Terebint, is a hard tree spred abrode with long boughes, wherout runneth the gum called a pure turpentine, which cleanseth the stomacke of putrified humors, and purifieth the eares: so the wisedome of god declared in his scriptures, spreadeth abrode her manifold branches of knowledge and vnderstandyng, to purge the inwarde eares and corruption of the soule.

28 As the (a) Terebint haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and louyng fauour.

19 As the vine haue I brought forth fruite of a swete sauour, and my floures are the fruite of honour and richesse.

20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I geue eternal thinges to al my children to whom God hath commaunded.

21 In me is al grace of lyfe and trueth, in me is al hope of lyfe and vertue.

22 O come vnto me, al ye that be desyrous of me, and fyl your selues with my fruites.

23 For my spirite is sweeter then hony, and so is myne inheritance more then the hony combe: the remembraunce of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate me, shal haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me, shal thirst the more.

25 Who so hearkeneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion, and they that worke in me, shal not offende: they that take me to be knowen, shal haue euerlastyng lyfe.

26 Al these thynges are the bookes of lyfe, the covenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth.

27 Moses commaunded the lawe in the precepts of ryghteousnesse for an heritage vnto the house of Iacob, and confirmed the promises vnto Israel.

28 He not wearie to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lorde, that he may also confyrme you: elect him vnto him, for the lord almyghtie is but one God, and beside him there is no other sauiour.

Psal.131.b Actes.2.d.

29 (Out of Dauid his seruant he ordeyned to rayse vp a most myghtie kyng, syttyng in the state of honour for euer more.)

Deut.4.a. and.29.b.

30 This fylleth with wisedome, lyke as the floodes of Phison, and as the floodes of Tigris when the newe fruites are a growyng.

31 This bringeth plenteous vnderstanding lyke Euphrates, and fylleth vp as Iordan in the tymes of harueste.

Iosue.3.c

32 This maketh vertue to breake forth as the light, and as the water Gehon in the harueste.

33 The first hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shal the last serche out the grounde of her.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, & her counsayle is profounder then the great deepe.

E

35 I wyse dome haue caste out floodes, I am as a great water brooke out of the ryuer, I am as the ryuer Dozir, and as a water conduite am I come out of the garden of pleasure.

36 I sayde, I wyl water the garden of my young plantes, and fyl the fruite of my byrth: So my water brooke became ryuer lyke great, and my ryuer approched vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to be vnto al men as lyght as the fayre morning, & I shal make it to be euer the clearer.

38 I wyl pearse through al the lower parties of the earth, I wyl looke vpon al such as be a sleepe, and lyghten al them that put their trust in the Lorde.

38 I shal yet powre out doctrine lyke as prophecie, and leaue it vnto suche as seeke after wisedome, and their generations shal I neuer fayle vnto the holy euerlastyng worlde.

40 Beholde howe that I haue not laboured for mine selfe onely: but for al them that seeke after the trueth. Eccle.33.

The .xxv. Chapter.

1. Of three thynges which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7. Of nine things that be not to be suspected, and of the tenth. 15. Cheefely of the malice of a woman.

1 THree thinges there are that my spirite A fauoureth, which be also alowed before God & men: The vnitie of brethren, the loue of neyghbours, & man and wyfe that agree wel together. Gen.13.b. Rom.12.b Eccle.40.

2 There thinges there be which he my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of them: A poore man that is proude, a ryche man that is a lyer, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste. Gen.18.b

3 If thou hast gathered nothyng in thy youth, what wylt thou finde then in thyne age?

4 O howe pleasant a thing is it when gray headed men are discrete, and when the elders can geue good counsayle.

5 O howe comely a thyng is wisedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstandyng and counsel to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of olde men, is to haue much experience: and the feare of God is their worshyp.

7 There be nine thinges whiche I haue iudged in my hart to be happy, & the tenth wil I tel forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he liueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fal of his enimies.

8 Wel is hym that dwelleth with an houswyfe of vnderstandyng, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not ben faine to serue suche as are vnmete for hym.

9 Wel is hym that fyndeth a faythful frende: and wel is hym whiche talketh of wisedome to an eare that heareth hym.

10 O howe great is he that fyndeth wisedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue hym that feareth the Lorde.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue al thinges.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shal he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the begynning of his loue: and the beginning of faith, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

14 The heauinesse of the hart is al the punishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue al.

15 All pounishment and plague is nothyng in comparison of the plague of the hart: euen so, al wickednesse, is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in compation of it that his euill willers doo vnto hym: and al vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the chimke.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent: & there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

18 I wyll rather dwell with a lion and dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wyfe.

19 The wickednesse of a woman changeth her face, she shal mokke her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sacke shal she hew it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sygh.

21 Al wickednesse is but litle to the wickednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shal fal vpon her.

22 Like as the clymyng vp a sandy waye is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife ful of wordes vnto a stil quiet man.

23 Looke not too narowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desyre towarde her. Eccle.42.8. 2.king.11.2. and.13.2.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: if a woman get the maistrie, then is the contrary to her husband.

25 A wicked wife maketh a lazy hart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wounde: Weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better for. Gene.3.c. 1.Tim.2.b.

26 Of the woman came the (a) beginning of sinne, and through her we al are dead. (a) 1.Tim.2. Adam was not deceyued. But to the Rom.5. he sayth, By one man sin entred into the worlde.

27 Geue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neither geue a wicked woman her wyl. The occasion was offred by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consentyng thereunto 28 If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde thee in the sight of thine enimies: cut her of then from thy flesh, that she doo not alway abuse thee.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

3. The prayse of a good woman. 6. Of the iealousie and drunkennesse of a woman.

1 HAppy is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shal be double. A 2 An honest woman maketh her husbande a ioyful man, and he shal fyll the yeeres of his life in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gyft, which shalbe geuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God:

4 Whether a man be riche or poore, he may haue euer a merry harte, and a cheareful countenance.

5 There be three thynges that my hart feareth, and my face is afrayde of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and noysome tongues: al these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is iealous ouer another, it bryngeth payne and sorow vnto the hart: and a woman that telleth out al thinges, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euyl wyfe, it is euen as when an vnlike payre of oxen must draw togither: he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion. B Iud.16.a.

8 A dronken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes and eye lydes.

10 If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her strayghtly, lest she abuse her selfe through ouermuche libertie. Eccle.13.d.

11 Beware of al the vnhonestie of her eyes, and maruayle not if she doo against thee.

12 As a way faring man that is thirstie, when he hath founde a wel, drinketh of eue-ry next water to wyl she set downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louyng wife reioyceth her husbande, and fordeth his bones with her wisedome.

C 14 A woman of fewe woordes is a gyft of God: and all nurtured myndes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and mannerly woman is a gyft aboue other gyftes: and there is no weight to be compared vnto a mynde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it ariseth is an ornament in the high heauen of the Lorde: so is a vertuous wyfe the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vppon the holy candlestickes: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

Eccl. 5. b. 18 Like as the golden pyllers are vppon the sockettes of syluer: so are the fayre feete vpon a woman that hath a constant mynd.

19 Perpetual are the fundations that be layde vppon a whole stonie rocke: so are the commaundmentes of God vpon the hart of an holy woman.

20 There be two thinges that greeue my hart, & the third is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisedome are not set by, & when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: who so dooth such, the Lord hath prepared hym vnto the swoorde.

21 There be two manner of thynges which mee thinke to be harde and perillous: A marchant can not lightly keepe hym from hurt, neither a taueruer him selfe from sinne.

The. xxvii. Chpter.

3. Of the poore that woulde beseeche. 5. The probation of the man that feareth God. 20. The wicked imagineth euyll, which returneth vpon hym selfe.

A 1 BEcause of pouertie hath many one offended: and he that seeketh to be riche, turneth his eyes aside.

2 Like as a nayle in the wal sticketh fast betwixt two stones: euen so doth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he holde him not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, his house shal soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Lyke as when one syfteth on the sylynesse remayneth in the syue: so remayneth there some vncleane thing in the thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessel: so dooth temptation of trouble trye righteous men.

6 The tree of the fielde is knowen by his fruite: so is the thought of mans hart knowen by his woordes. 1. Pet. 3. Matth. 7.

7 Prayse no man, excepte thou haue heard B hym, for a man is knowen by his woordes.

8 If thou folowest righteousnesse, thou shalt gat her, and put her vppon thee as a fayre garment: & thou shalt dwel with her, and she shal defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shal find stedfastnesse.

9 The byrdes resort vnto their like: so doth the truth turne vnto them that be occupyed with al.

10 The Lion waiteth the pray: so doth sinne vpon them that woorke vnrighteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is nothyng but wisedome: as for a foole, he chaungeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vnlearned, kepe thy woordes to a conuenient time: but among suche as be wise, speake on hardly.

13 The talkyng of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.

14 Muche swearyng maketh the heare to C stande vp: and to striue with such, stoppeth Eccle. 23. the eares.

15 The stryfe of the proude is bloodshedyng, and their blasphemyng is heauie to heare.

16 Who so discouereth secretes, leeseth his Eccle. 19. credence, & findeth no freende after his pyl. and. 22. lasure.

17 Loue thy freende, and byde thee selfe in faythfulnesse with him: but if thou bewrayest his secretes, thou shalt not gat hym agayne.

18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enimie: so is he also that breaketh faithe in the freendshyp of his neighbour.

19 Like as one that letteth a byrde goe out of his hande, can not take her agayne: euen so thou, if thou geue ouer thy freende, thou canst not gat him agayne.

20 Yea, thou canst not come by him, for he is too farre of: he is as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for wounded they may be bounde vp D againe, and an euyl woorde may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a freende, there is no more hope to be had vnto him.

22 He that winketh with the eyes, imagi- Prou. 6. neth some euyl: and he that knoweth hym, wyl let him alone.

23 While thou art present, he shal highly commend and prayse thy woordes: but at the last he be shal turne his tayle, & slaunder thy saying.

24 Many thinges haue I hated, but nothing so euyll as for the Lorde him selfe also abhorreth suche a one.

11.b. 25 Who so casteth a stone an hygh, it shal fal vpon his owne head: and he that smyteth with guyle, woundeth hym selfe.

26 Who so dygged a pyt, shal fal therein, and he that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shal stumble therevon, and he that layeth a snare for another, shalbe taken in it him selfe.

27 Who so gyueth a wicked noysome counsayle, it shal come vpon him selfe, and he shal not knowe from whence.

28 The proude blaspheme, and are scornful: but vengeaunce lurketh for them as a Lion.

29 They that reioyce at the fal of the righteous, shalbe taken in the snare: anguishe of hart shal consume them before they dye.

30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abominable thynges, and the vngodly hath them both vpon him.

The.xxviii. Chapter.

1. We ought not to desyre vengeance, but to forgeue the offence. 13. Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers therof.

1 HE that seeketh vengeance, shal synde vengeance of the Lorde, whiche shal surely keepe his sinnes.

2 Forgeue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shal thy sinnes be forgeuen thee also when thou prayest.

3 A man that beareth hatred agaynst another, howe dare he desyre forgeuenesse of GOD?

4 He that sheweth no mercie to a man whiche is lyke him selfe, howe dare he aske forgeuenesse of his sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred, and keepeth it, who wyl intreate for his sinnes?

6 Remember the end, and let enmitie passe, whiche seeketh death and destruction, and abyde thou in the commaundementes.

7 Remember the commaundementes, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neighbour: thinke vpon the couenant of the highest, and forgeue thy neighbours ignorance.

8 Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer.

19.a. 9 For an angrie man kindeleth variance: and the vngodly disquieteth freendes, and putteth discorde among them that be at peace.

26.d. 10 The more wood there is, the more vehement is the fyre, and the myghtier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his richesse, his anger increaseth, and the longer the stryfe endureth, the more it burneth.

11 An hastie brawling kyndeleth a fyre, and an hastie strife sheddeth blood: a tongue also that beareth false witnesse, bringeth death.

12 If thou blowe the sparke, it shal burne, if thou spyt vpon it, it shal goe forth, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 The slaunderer and double tongued is cursed: for many one that be frendes letteth he at variaunce. Exod. 21. b.

14 The * thyrde tongue hath disquieted many one, and driuen them from one lande to another: strong cities of the riche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and hurte the dearest of myghtie nations. * or, a Double tongue: which sayth and vnsaith, or speaketh one thing, & thynketh an other. The third tongue do some take for that whiche speaketh neyther out of the newe nor the olde Testament, but of their owne braine.

15 The thyrde tongue hath caste out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto suche, shal neuer synde rest, and neuer dwel safely.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh prynters in the skinne: but the stroke of the tongue smiteth the bones in sunder.

18 There be many that have perished with the swoorde: but many more through the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euyll tongue, and commeth not in the anger therof, whiche draweth not the yoke of suche, and is not bounde in the bandes of it.

20 For the yoke thereof is of iron, and the bande of it of * steele. * or, hasse. D

21 The death thereof is a very euyl death: hel were better for one, then such a tongue.

22 But the fyre of it may not oppresse them that feare GOD, and the flame therof may not burne them.

23 Suche as forsake the Lorde, shall fall therin, and it shal burne them, and no man shalbe able to quenche it: it shal set vpon them as a Lion, and deuour them as a Leoparde.

24 Thou hedgest thy goodes with thornes: why doest thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth?

25 Thou weyest thy gold and syluer: why doest thou not wey thy woordes also vpon the ballance, and make a yoke and a barre, and a sure bridle for thy mouth?

26 Beware that thou slyde not in thy tongue, and so fal before thyne enimies that lay waite for thee, and thy fal be incurable, euen vnto death.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1. Howe we ought to lend our money, and doo almes. 15. Of a faythful man answearyng for his freende. 22. Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

A 1 Who so wyl shewe mercie, let him lend vnto his neighbour: he that is able, let him kepe the commaundementes.
Deut.15.a. Luke.6.d.

2 Lende vnto thy neyghbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neyghbour agayne in due season.

3 Kepe thy woorde, and deale faythfully with him: and thou shalt alway fynde the thyng that is necessarie for thee.

4 There haue ben many, that when a thing was lent them, reckened it to be founde, and made them trouayle and labour that had holped them.

5 Whyle they receyue any thyng, they kysse the handes of suche as geue them, and for their neyghbours good, they humble their boyes: but when they shoulde pay agayne, they keepe it backe, and gene euyl woordes, and make many excuses by reason of the tyme.

6 And though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe agayne, and reckeneth the other to be founde: and if he withholde not his money, yet hath he an enmie of hym, and that vndeserued: he payeth him with cursyng and rebuke, and geueth him euyl woordes for his good deede.

B 7 There be many one whiche are not glad for to lende, not because of euyl, but they feare to loose the thyng that they lende.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withholde not mercy from hym.

9 Helpe the poore for the commaundements sake, and let him not goe emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Loose thy money for thy brother & neighbours sake, and burie it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.

Mat.6.c. Luke.12.b 1.Tim.6.b Tobias.4.b

11 Gather thy treasure after the commaundement of the hyghest, and so shal it bryng thee more profite then golde.

12 Lay vp thyne almes * in the handes of the poore, and it shal keepe thee from al euyl.

* or, in the secrete chambers.

13 A mans almes is as a purse with him, & shal kepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shal it aryse, and pay euery man his rewarde vpon his head.

C 14 It shal fyght for thee agaynst thyne enimies better then the shielde of a Giant, or speare of the myghte.

15 A good honest man is a suretie for his neyghbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.

16 Forget not the freendshyp of thy suretie: for he hath geuen his soule for thee.

17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie.

18 (a) The wicked wyl not become suretie, and the vnthankefull and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.

(a) As he is foole that becometh suretie for euery man: & is he vngodly that wyl become suretie for no man.

19 Some man prowideth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he shal forsake him.

20 Suretishyp hath destroyed many a riche man, and remoued them as the waues in the sea: mightie people hath it driuen away, and caused the to wander in strange countreyes.

21 An vngodly man transgressyng the commaundement of the Lorde, shal fal into an euyl suretishyp: and though he forget him selfe to get out, yet shal he fynde trubbemēt. C

22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy power, and beware that thou thee selfe fal not in suche debt.

23 The cheefe thyng that kepeth thy lyfe, is water, and bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer the shame. Eccli.39.

24 Better is it to haue a poore lyuyng in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.

25 Be it litle or muche that thou hast, holde thee content withal: and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabounde. Mal.36.b 1.Tim.6.b Heb.13.a.

26 For a miserable life is it to goe fro house to house, and where a man is (b) fremde, he dare not open his mouth. (b) That is a stranger without auctoritie or kynred.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet shal he be taken as vnworthy, and heare many bytter rough woordes, (namely thus,) 28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and prepare a table for thee selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast.

29 Gene place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother commeth into my house: and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.

30 These thinges are heauie to a man that hath vnderstandyng, (namely) the forbyddyng of the house, & that the lender casteth him in the teeth.

The.xxx. Chapter.

1. Of the correction of chyldren. 14. Of the commoditie of health. 17. Death is better then a sorowful lyfe.

1 Who so loueth his chylde, holdeth him stil vnder correction, that he may haue ioy of him afterwarde, and that he A Psal.127.a and.33.

he grope not after his neighbours doores.

2 He that trusteth his sonne, shal haue ioy in hym, and needs not to be ashamed of him among his acquaintance.

3 Who so enstourmeth and teacheth his sonne, greeueth the enimie: and before his frendes, he may haue ioy of hym.

4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behinde him that is lyke hym.

5 In his life he sawe hym, and had ioy in hym, and was not sorie in his death, neyther was he ashamed before the enimies.

6 For he left behynde hym an auenger against his enimies, and a good doer vnto the frendes.

7 For the lyfe of chyldren he shal binde the woundes togeather, and his hart is greeued at euery crie.

8 An vntamed horse wyl be harde, and a wanton childe wyl be wylful.

9 If thou dying vp thy sonne delicately, he shal make thee afrayde: and yf thou play with him, he shal bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with hym, lest thou weepe with hym also, and lest thou gnashe with thy teeth at the last.

11 Geue hym no libertie in his youth, and escule not his follie.

12 Bow downe his necke while he is young, bit hym vpon the sides whyle he is but a childe: lest he waxe stubburne, and geue no more force of thee, and so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teache thy childe, and be diligent therein, lest it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore being whole & strong, then a man to be riche, and not to haue his health.

15 Health and welfare is aboue all golde, and a whole body aboue al treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sounde body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the hart.

17 Death is better then a bitter lyfe, and eternal rest better then continual sickenesse.

18 (a) The good thynges that are put in a clese mouth, are like as when meat is layd vpon the graue.

19 What good doeth the offring vnto an Idol? for he can neyther eate, taste, nor smel: euen so is he that is chased of the Lord, and beareth the rewardes of iniquitie.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lieth with a virgin, and sigheth.

21 Geue not ouer thy mynde into heauinesse, & vexe not thee selfe in thine owne counsel.

22 The ioy and chearefulnesse of the hart is the lyfe of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolongyng of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine hart, as for sorowe and heauinesse driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slayne many a man, and bringeth no profite.

24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the lyfe, carefulnesse and sorowe bring age before the tyme.

25 Vnto a merie hart, euery thyng hath a good taste that he eateth.

The. xxxi. Chapter.

1. We ought to geue diligent heede to honestie. 2. Of them that take payne to gether ryches.

1 TRauayle and carefulnesse for riches, A taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesshe to consume. 1. Tim. 6. b

2 When one lyeth and taketh care, he waketh euer vp, lyke as a great sickenesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The riche hath great labour in geathering his riches togeather, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest, and is refreshed.

4 But who so laboureth & prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue of, yet is he a begger.

5 He that loueth riches, shal not be iustified: and who so followeth corruption, shal haue ynough thereof. Eccle. 8. a 6 Many one are comme in great misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue founde theyr destruction before them.

7 It is a tree of fallyng vnto them that offer it vp, and al such as be foolishe fal therein. B

8 Blessed is the rich which is founde without blemishe, & hath not gonne after gold, nor hoped in money and treasures.

9 Where is there suche a one, and we shall commende hym, and cal hym blessed? for wonderful thynges doeth he among his people.

10 Who so is tryed and founde perfect in such thinges, shalbe commended and prayed: who might offende, and hath not offended? who coulde doo euyl, and hath not donne it?

11 Therefore shall his good be stablished, and the whole congregation shall declare his almes.

12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wyde vpon it, and say not, There is muche meate on it.

13 Remember that an euyl eye is a shrewe: what thyng created is woorse then a wycked eye? therefore weepeth it before euery mans face.

14 Lay not thyne hande vpon euery thyng C that thyne eye seeth, and striue not with Mat. 7. a hym in the dyshe.

15 Ponder by thee selfe what thy neyghbour would fayne haue, and be discrete in euery poynt.

16 Eate the thyng that is set before thee mannerly as it becommeth a man, and eate not to much, lest thou be abhorred.

17 Leaue thou of fyrst of al, because of nurture, lest thou be he whom no man may satisfie, whiche may turne to thy decay.

18 When thou sittest among many menne, reache not thyne hande out fyrst of al, neyther cal thou fyrst for dryncke.

Eccle.37.c 19 O howe wel content is a wyse man with a litle wine? so that in sleepe thou shalt not be sicke thereof, nor feele any payne.

20 A sweete hollome sleepe shal suche a one haue, & feele no inward greefe: he ryseth vp betymes in the morning, and is wel at ease in hym selfe: but an vnsatiable eater slepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payne of the body.

D 21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten to much, aryse, gor thy way, caste it of thy stomacke, and take thy rest: and it shal ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sickenesse vnto thy body.

Rom.12.c 22 My sonne, heare me, and despyse me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in all thy woorkes be diligent and quicke, so shal there no sickenesse happen vnto thee.

23 Who so is liberall in dealyng out his meat, many men shal blesse hym, and prayse hym with their lyppes, & the same is a sure token of his loue and faythfulnesse.

24 But he that is vnfaythful in meate, the whole citie shall complayne of hym: and that is a sure experience of his infidelitie and wyckednesse.

25 Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine hath destroyed many a man.

26 The fyre proueth the harde yron: euen so doth wine proue the harts of the proud, when they be dronken.

Pro.22.a 27 Wine soberly dronken, quickeneth the life of man: if thou drinkest it measurable, thou shalt be temperate: what is the lyfe of him that is ouercome with wine? what taketh away the lyfe? euen death.

28 Wine was made from the begynnyng to make men glad, and not for dronkennesse: wine measurable dronken is a reioycyng of the soule and body: a measurable drynkyng is health to soule and body.

29 But if it be dronken with excesse, it maketh bitternesse, & sorowe vnto the mynde.

30 Dronkennesse filleth the minde of the foolishe with shame and ruine, minisheth the strength, and maketh woundes.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despyse hym not in his mirth: geue hym no dispiteful woordes, and preasse not vpon hym with contrary sayinges. Eccle. 10.

The. xxxii. Chapter.

1. Of the discretion and prayse of the preacher and of the hearer. 15. Of the feare, faith, and confidence of God.

1 IF thou be made a ruler, pryde not thee selfe therein, but be thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, and looke well thereto. A Deut.17.a Rom.12.b

2 And when thou hast done al thy dutie, sit thee downe, that thou maiest be mery with them, and receyue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hynder not musicke.

4 Speake not where there is no audience: and powre not foorth wyldome out of time at an improper vnitie. Eccle.32

5 Like as the carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde: so doeth a song garnyshe the wine feast.

6 And as the Smaragde that is set in golde: so is the sweetenesse of musicke by the myrth of wine.

7 Geue eare and be syl, and for thy good behauour thou shalt be loued. B

8 Thou young man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable, and yet scarse when thou art twise asked.

9 Comprehend muche with fewe woordes, in many thyngs be as one that is ignorant: geue eare, and holde thy tongue withal.

10 If thou be among men of high auctoritie, desire not to compare thee selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many woordes therein.

11 Before the thunder, goeth lightning: and before nurture and shamefastenesse goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stande vp betimes, and be not the last: but geat thee home soone.

13 And there take thy pastime and doo what thou wylt: so that thou doo no euyl, and dese no man.

14 But for all thynges geue thankes vnto hym that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodnes. C

15 Who so feareth the Lorde, wyl receyue his doctrine: and they that geat them to hym betimes, shal finde grace.

16 He that seeketh the lawe, shalbe fylled withal: as for hym that is but fayned, he wyl be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lorde, shal finde the iudgement: and their righteousnesse shalbe kindled hyndred as a light.

18 An vngodly man wyll not be reſourmed, but can helpe him ſelfe with the example of others in his purpoſe.

19 A man of vnderſtandyng deſpiſeth no good counſel: but a wylde and proud body hath no feare, yea euen when he hath dealt rathly with another man: but his owne doynges ſhalbe his rebuke.

D 20 My ſonne, doo nothing without aduiſement: ſo ſhall it not repent thee after the deede.

22 Goe not in the way where thou mayeſt fal, nor where thou mayeſt ſtumble againſt the ſtone: agayne, neither truſt thou to the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thyne owne houſholde.

23 In all thy woorkes put thy truſt in God from thy whole hart: for that is the keeping of the commaundementes.

24 Who ſo beleeueth Gods woorde, taketh heede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth his truſt in the Lorde, ſhall want nothyng.

The. xxxiii. Chapter.

1. The deliuerance of him that feareth God, 12. Man is in the hande of God, as the earth is in the hande of the potter.

E 1 THere ſhal no euyl happē vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lorde ſhall deliuer him, and keepe him from euyl.

2 A wyſe man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite (a) is as a ſhip in ragyng water.

3 A man of vnderſtandyng geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faythfull vnto him.

4 Be ſure of the matter, then talke therof: be firſt wel inſtruct, then mayeſt thou geue anſweare.

5 The hart of the foolyſhe is lyke a cart wheele, & his thoughtes runne about lyke the axeltree.

6 (b) Like as a wylde horſe that neyeth vnder euery one that ſitteth vppon him, ſo it is with a ſcorneful freende.

7 Why dooth one day excel another, ſeeing al ỹ dayes of the yeere come of the ſunne?

8 The wyſdome of the Lord hath ſo parted them a ſunder, and ſo hath he ordeyned the tymes and ſolemne feaſtes.

9 Some of them hath he choſen and halowed before other dayes.

10 And all menne are made of the grounde, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of ſcience hath the lord ſundred them, and made their wayes of diuers faſhions.

11 Some of them hath he bleſſed, made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to him ſelfe: but ſome of them hath he curſed, brought them low, and put them out of their eſtate.

12 Like as the clay is in the potters hande, and al the ordering therof at his pleaſure: ſo are menne alſo in the hande of hym that made them, ſo that he may geue them as liketh him beſt.

13 Agaynſt euyl is good, and agaynſt death is lyfe: ſo is the vngodly agaynſt ſuche as feare God.

14 Behold, theſe are the woorkes of ỹ higheſt, C and there are euen two agaynſt two, and one ſet agaynſt another.

15 I am awaked vp laſt of all, as one that geathereth after in harueſt, in the gyftes of God, and in his bleſſing I am increaſed, and haue filled my wine preſſe like a grape geatherer.

16 Beholde howe I haue not laboured onely for mee ſelfe, but for all ſuche as loue nurture and wyſedome. Eccle. 24. B

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares ye rulers of the congregation.

18 Geue not thy ſonne and wyfe, thy brother, and freende, power ouer thee whyle thou liueſt: and geue not away thy ſubſtaunce and good to another, leſt it repent thee, and thou be faine to aſke of them agayne.

19 As long as thou liueſt and haſt breath, (c) let no man change thee.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou houldeſt be fayne to looke in their handes. (c) Let no man vſe thee as his ſeruant, when thou haſt committed al thy goods into his hande.

21 In al thy woorkes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer ſtayned.

22 At the tyme when thou ſhalt ende thy dayes and finiſhe thy lyfe, diſtribute thyne inheritances. D

23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burden belongeth vnto the aſſe: meate, correction, and woorke vnto the ſeruant.

24 If thou ſet thy ſeruant to labour, thou ſhalt finde reſt: but if thou let him goe idle, he ſhal ſeeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bowe downe the harde necke: but tame thou thy euyl ſeruant with bondes and correction.

26 Sende him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idleneſſe byngeth ſuch euyl.

27 Set hym to woorke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him wel.

28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but doo not to much vnto him in any wyſe, and without diſcretion doo nothyng.

29 If thou haue a (faithful) ſeruant, let him be vnto thee as thyne owne ſoule: entreate him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: yf thou haue a seruaunt, holde him as thee selfe, for thou hast neede of him, as of thee selfe.

30 If thou entreatest him euyll, and keepest him harde, and makest him to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tel what way thou shalt seeke him.

The.xxxiiii. Chapter,

1. Of dreames, diuinations, & enchauntmentes. 6. We ought to confute vayne hope, and lyeing. 13. The prayse of them that feare God.

1 A VAnwyse people beguyle them selues with vayne & deceiptful hope, * and fooles trust in dreames.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is lyke hym that wyll take holde of a shadowe, and followe after the winde.

3 Euen so is it with the appearinges of dreames: before the face, is the likenesse of a face.

4 Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyer?

5 Southsaying, witchcraft, sorcerie, and dreaming, is but vayne: like as when a woman trauayleth with childe, and hath many fantasies in her hart.

6 Where as suche visions come not of God, set not thyne hart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many a man, and they failed that put their trust therin.

8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, and wysedome is sufficient to a faythfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?

9 A wyse man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth muche: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wysedome.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth litle, and he that erreth causeth muche wickednesse: he that is not tryed, what thinges knoweth he? he that hath benne deceiued, is ful of subteltie.

11 When I was yet in errour, I learned muche also: yea I was so learned, that I coulde not expresse it at, 12 And came oft in peril of death therefore, tyll I was delinered from it through the grace of God.

13 Nowe I see that they whiche feare God haue the right spirite, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the lord are on them that loue him.

14 Whoso feareth the Lorde, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayde: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lorde: in whom putteth he his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their myghtie protection and strong ground, a defence for the heat, a refuge for the hot noone day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lightneth the eyes: he geueth health, lyfe, and blessing.

18 He that geueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offering is refused: and the scornefull dealinges of the vnrighteous please not God.

19 The Lorde is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of the trueth and of ryghteousnesse.

20 The highest doth not alowe the giftes of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offeringes of the vngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations.

21 Who so bringeth an offering out of the goodes of the poore: dooth euen as one that killeth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needefull is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth him therof, is a man of blood.

23 Who so robbeth his neighbour of his liuing, doth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.

24 When one buildeth and another breaketh downe: what profite haue they then but labour?

25 (a) When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wyll the Lorde heare.

26 He that washeth him selfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead agayne, what doth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and dooth them agayne: who wyll heare his prayer, or what dooth his fasting helpe him?

The. xxxv. Chapter.

1. It is wel don to pray and to doo sacrifice. 14. The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the wydowe, and of him that humbleth him selfe.

1 WHo so keepeth the lawe, bringeth offeringes enough: he that holdeth fast the commaundement, offereth the ryght health offeryng.

2 He that is thankfull and recompenceth, offereth fine floure: who so is merciful and geueth almes, that is the ryght thanke offeryng.

3 God hath pleasure when one departeth from 8 Geue God his honour with a chearefull hart: and kerpe not backe the fyrſtlynges of thyne handes.

9 In al thy gyftes ſhewe a chearful countenaunce, and halowe thy tythes vnto God with gladneſſe.

10 Geue vnto God accordyng as he hath enriched & proſpered thee: & looke what thine hande is able, geue with a chearefull eye.

11 For the Lorde recompenceth and geueth thee ſeuen tymes as muche agayne.

12 Geue no vnryghteous gyftes, for ſuche wyl he not receyue: beware of wrong offeringes, for the Lorde is a ryghteous iudge, and regardeth no mans perſon.

13 He accepteth not the perſon of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppreſſed.

14 He deſpiſeth not the deſyre of the fatherleſſe, nor the widdowe when ſhe powreth out her prayer before hym.

15 Doeth not God ſee the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widdowe? for heareth he not the complaynt ouer ſuche as make her to weepe? For from her chekes doo the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lorde whiche heareth them, doeth accept them.

16 Who ſo ſtriueth God after his pleaſure, ſhalbe accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of hym that humbleth hym ſelfe, goeth through the cloudes: tyll ſhe come nigh the wyl not be comforted, nor goe her way til the higheſt GOD haue reſpect vnto her, geue true ſentence, and performe the iudgement.

18 And the Lorde wyl not be ſlacke in commyng, nor tary long, tyl he haue ſmitten in ſunder the backes of the vnmercyful, and auenged hym ſelfe of the heathen, tyl he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the ſcepter of the vnryghteous, til he geue euery man after his workes, and reward them after their doynges, tyl he haue deliuered his people, mayntayned their cauſe, & reioyced them in his mercie.

19 O how fayre a thing is mercie in the time of anguiſhe and trouble? it is lyke a cloude of rayne that commeth in the time of drouth.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

1. A prayer to God in the perſon of al faythful men. 22. The prayſe of a good woman.

1 HAue mercie vpon vs, O lord, thou God of al thinges, haue reſpect vnto vs: A ſhewe vs the light of thy mercies,

2 And ſende thy feare among the heathen and ſtrangers whiche ſeeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may ſhew thy wonderous woorkes.

3 Lyft vp thyne hande ouer the outlandiſhe heathen, that they may learne to know thy might and power.

4 Lyke as thou art halowed in vs before them: ſo byrng to paſſe that thou mayeſt be magnified alſo in them before vs.

5 That they may knowe thee, lyke as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lorde.

6 Renue the tokens, and change the woonderous woorkes: ſhewe thine hande and thy ryght arme glorioully.

7 Rayſe vp thyne indignation, and powre B out thy wrath: take away the aduerſarie, and ſmite the enimie.

8 Make the time ſhort, remember the couenant, that thy woonderous woorkes may be prayſed.

9 Let the wrath of the fire conſume them that lyue ſo careleſſe: and let them periſhe that doo thy people hurt.

10 Smite in ſunder the head of the princes that be our enimies, and ſay, There is none other but we.

11 Gather al the tribes of Iacob togeather agayne, that they may knowe howe that there is none other GOD but onely thou, that they may ſhewe thy wonderous woorkes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, lyke Exod. 4. c as from the begynning.

12 O Lord haue mercie vpon the people that hath thy name, & vpon Iſrael whom thou haſt lykened to a firſt borne ſonne. 1. Chro. 6. a 13 O be mercyful vnto Hieruſalem the citie of thy ſanctuarie, the citie of thy reſt.

14 Fyl Sion with thine vnſpeakeable ver- C tues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Geue witneſſe vnto thy creatures whom thou madeſt from thy beginning, and raiſe vp the prophecies that haue benne ſhewed in thy name.

16 Rewarde them that wayte for thee, that thy prophetes may be founde faythful.

17 O Lord heare the prayer of thy ſeruaunte Num. 6. a accordyng to the bleſſing of Aaron ouer thy people, & guide thou vs in the way of right teouſneſſe: that al they whiche dwel vpon the earth may know that thou art the lord the eternal god, which is from everlasting.

18 The belly devoureth all meates: yet is one meate better then another.

1.Cor.1.b 19 Lyke as the tongue taketh venison: so doth an hart of understandyng marke false woordes.

20 A frowarde hart geueth heauinesse: but a man of experience lifteth him vp again.

D 21 The woman receiueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 A fayre wyfe reioyceth her husband: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentlenesse, meekenesse, and holsome talke: then is not her husband like other menne.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous woman hath a goodly possession: she is vnto him a helpe, and pillar whereupon he reasteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goodes are spoyled: and where no housewyfe is, there the freendlesse mourneth.

26 Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleeued that hath no neast, and must turne in where he may abyde in the nyght.

The. xxxvii. Chapter.

1. Howe a man shoulde knowe freendes and counselleres, 12. and searche the companie of an holy man.

A 1 EVery freende sayth, I wyl be freendly vnto him also: but there is some freend, whiche is onely a freende in name.

2 Remayneth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and freende is turned to an enimie.

3 O most wicked presumption: frō whence art thou sprong vp to couer the earth with falshood and deceyte?

4 There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his frend: but in the time of trouble he taketh part against him.

* or, There is somme companion that helpeth his freende for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler agaynst the enimie. 5 * There is some companion that mourneth with his frende for the bellies sake: but when trouble cōmeth, he taketh holde of the shielde.

6 Forgeat not thy frende in thy mynd, and thynke vpon hym in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counsel at thy kinsmen, ne hyde thy counsel from suche as beare thee no good wyl.

8 Euery counseller praiseth his counsel: nemart hys selfe, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.

9 Beware of the counseller, aynde aduisen whate wherto thou wylt vse him (for he wyl counsel for hym selfe) lest he cast the lot vpon thee,

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and afterwarde he stande agaynst thee, and laughe what that become of thee.

11 Aske no counsel at him that suspecteth thee for an enimie, and hide thy counsel from suche as hate thee: aske no counsel for religion of hym that is without religion, nor for iustice, of hym that hath no iustice: aske no counsel at a woman, touching her of whom she is ielous, nor at a fearefull and fayntharted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, how deare he wil cheape thy wares toward his: or at a buyer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankesgeuyng: or at the vnmerciful, of louyng kyndnesse: or at an vnhonest man, of honestie: or at the slouthfull, of woorkyng: or at an hyrelyng whiche hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no suche folkes to counsel.

12 But be diligent to seeke counsel at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the commaundementes, which hath a mynde after thyne owne mynde, & is sory for thee when thou stumblest.

13 And holde thy counsel fast in thyne hart: for there is no man more faythfull to keepe it, then thou thee selfe.

14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tel out more, then seuen watchemen that sit aboue in an high place loking about thee. C

15 And aboue al this pray the highest, that he wyl leade thy way in faythfulnesse and trueth.

16 Before al thy woorkes aske counsell first: and or euer thou doest any thing be well auised.

17 There be foure thinges that declare a changed hart, whereout there springeth euyl and good, death and lyfe, and a mastefull tongue that bableth muche.

18 Some man is apt and wel instructed in many thinges, and yet very vnprofitable vnto hym selfe.

19 Some man there is that can geue wyse and prudent counsel, and yet is he hated, and continueth a beggar, 20 For that grace is not geuen hym of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of al wysedome: yet D is he wyse vnto hym selfe, and the fruite of vnderstandyng is commendable in his mouth.

22 A wyse man maketh his people wise, and the fruites of his wysedome fayle not.

23 A wyse man haldeth plentefully bicause of God: and all they that see hym, shall speake good of hym.

24 The lyfe of man standeth in ỹ number of the the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wyse man shall obteyne longe holinesse and credence among his people, and his name shalbe perpetual.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thee selfe, and yf thou see any euyll thing, geue it not vnto her:

27 For all thinges are not profitable for all menne, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

28 Be not greedie in euery eating, and be not to hastie vpon all meates.

29 For exercise of meates bringeth sickenesse, and glutteny commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate.

30 Thorough surfet haue many one perished: but he that dyeteth him selfe temperately, prolongeth his lyfe.

The.xxxviii. Chapter.

1. A Phisition is commendable, 12. To bury the dead. 24. The wisedome of him that is learned.

HOnour the phisition, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie, for God hath created hym.

2 For of the highest commeth medicine, and he shal receiue gyftes of the king.

3 The wysedome of the phisition bringeth him to great worshyp, and in the sight of the great men of this worlde he shalbe honourably taken.

4 The Lorde hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wyse wyl not abhorre it.

5 Was not the bitter water made sweete with a tree, that menne might learne to knowe the vertue thereof.

6 The Lorde hath geuen menne wysdome and vnderstandyng, that he myght be honoured in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale menne, and taketh away their paynes:

8 Of suche doeth the Potheccarie make a confection, yet can no man performe all his workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperous wealth ouer al the earth.

9 My sonne, despise not this in thy sickenesse: but pray vnto the Lorde, and he shal make thee whole.

10 Leaue of from sinne, and order thy handes aryght, cleanse thyne hart from all wickednesse.

11 Geue a swette sauoured offering, and the fine flowre for a token of remembrance: make the offering fat, as one that geueth the first fruites.

12 And geue roome to the Phisition, for the Lorde hath created him, let him not go from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

13 The houre may come, that the sicke may be helped thorough them, 14 When they pray vnto the Lorde, that he may recouer and get health to liue longer.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, shal fall into the handes of the Phisition.

16 My sonne, bring teares ouer the dead, & beginne to mourne, as if thou hadest suffered great harme thee selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his burial.

17 Enforce thee selfe to weepe, and prouoke thee selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, & be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be euyll spoken of: and then comfort thee selfe, because of the heauinesse.

18 For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauinesse of the hart breaketh strength.

19 Heauinesse and powertie, greeueth y hart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauinesse to hart, driue it away, and remember the last thinges.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt doo him no good, but hurt thee selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thyne also shalbe like wyse: vnto me yesterday, vnto thee to day.

23 Let the remembrance of the dead ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee againe ouer him, seeing his spirite is departed from him.

24 The wysedome of the scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth from exercises and labour, shalbe wyse.

25 Howe can he gnat wysdome that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goade and in driuing the oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and his talke is but of the breeding of bullockes?

26 He setteth his hart to make forowes, and is diligent to geue the kine fodder.

27 So is euery carpenter also & workemaister that laboureth still night and day: he carueth, graueth, cutteth out, and his desire is in sundry cunnyng things, his hart imagineth howe he may cunnyngly cast an image, his diligence also and watching performeth the worke.

28 The iron Smith in lyke manner bydeth by his stithie, and doth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire burneth his flesh, & he must fight with the heat of ꝑ furnace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, & his eyes looke stil vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that he will make out his worke, and therefore he watcheth howe he may set it out, and bring it to an ende.

29 So doth the potter set by his worke: he turneth ꝑ wheels about with his feete, he is diligent and careful in al dooynges, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, & with his feete he tempereth it: his hart imagineth howe he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 Al these hope in their handes, and euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the citie be maynteyned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not hygh in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgment seate: they vnderstande not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not finde out the darke sentences.

34 But though these shal the creature of the world be maynteyned, their desire consisteth only in the worke & labour of cunning.

The. xxxix. Chapter.

1. A wyse man. 16. The woorkes of God. 24. Vnto the good, thinges doo profit but vnto the euil, euen good thinges are euil.

BUt he that applyeth his minde to vnderstande the lawe of God, sooth diligently seeke out the wysdome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth him selfe in the prophetes.

2 He keepeth the sayenges of famous men, and preasseth to ꝑ vnderstanding of darke sentences of wysedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secrete sayinges, and exercifeth him selfe therein continually.

4 He vseth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince: he goeth into a straunge countrey, and tryeth out through it: looke what good or euyl is among men, he proueth and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his hart to resort early vnto the Lorde that made him, and to pray before the higher ✠ D: he openeth his mouth in prayer, & praieth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde wyl, he shalbe fylled with the spirite of vnderstanding, that he may then powre out wyse sentences, and geue thankes vnto the Lorde in his prayer.

7 He shall order his counsil, and leade his knowledge aryght, and gaue him vnderstanding of secrete thinges.

8 He shal shew sooth the science of his learning, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lorde.

9 The whole congregation shall commend his wysdome, and it shal neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shall continue from one generation to another.

10 His wysdome shalbe spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shal openly declare his prayse. Eccle. 44.

11 Whyle he lyueth, he hath a greater name then a thousande besides: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto him.

12 Yet wyll I speake of more men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the feelde.

14 And geue ye a sweete smell as incense, flourishe as the rose garden, sing a long of prayse, & geue thankes vnto God ouer all his woorkes. C

15 Geue magnificence vnto his name, and set him forth in thy prayse with your lyppes, and with musicke and harmonie: yee ouen with the song of your lippes, with harpes and playing, and in geuing thankes vnto him, say after this maner: Gen. 1.

16 Al the woorkes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commaundements are meete and conuenient in due season.

17 A man needs not to say, what is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shal al be sought: at his commandement the water was as a wall, and at the mouth of his mouth the water stoode stil.

18 In his commaundement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his healp can not be minished.

19 The woorkes of all flesche are before him, and there is nothing hyd from his eyes. D

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing to wonderful or high vnto him.

21 A man needs not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made all thinges to doo good vnto man.

22 His blessing shal runne ouer as ꝑ streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Like as he maketh the vnouth: so shal his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 (a) For the good, are good thinges created from the beginnyng, and euyl thinges for the vngodly.

26 Al thinges necessarie for the lyfe of man, are created from the beginnyng: water, fire, iron, and salt, meale, wheate, & honye, milke, and wine, oyle and clothyng.

27 All

(a) The creatures of god are good by creation, but as good men vse them to the glory of god, the profite of others, and their owne necessities: so the vngodly doo not acknowledge them as the good gyftes of god, but abuse them eyther in riot and excesse, or els in miserable keping of them, take them for their god.

27 All theſe thinges are created for the beſt to the faithfull: but to the vngodly ſhal al theſe thinges be turned to hurte & harme.

28 There be ſpirites that are created for vengeance, and in their rigorouſneſſe haue they laſtened their tormentes: in the tyme of ſ ende they ſhal powre out their ſtrẽgth, and pacifie the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fyre, hayle, hunger, and death: all theſe thinges are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wylde noyſome beaſtes, the ſcorpions, ſerpentes, and the ſwoorde, are created alſo for vengeance, to the deſtruction of the vngodly.

31 They ſhalbe glad to doo his commaundementes, and when neede is, they ſhalbe redy vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they ſhall not overpaſſe the commaundement of the Lorde.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put theſe thinges in writting, and to leaue them behinde me:

33 All the woorkes of the Lorde are good, and he geueth euery one in due ſeaſon, and when neede is.

34 So that no man needeth not to ſay, This is woorſe then that: for in due ſeaſon they are al pleaſant and good.

35 And therefore prayſe the Lorde with whole hart and mouth, and geue thankes vnto his name.

The. xl. Chapter.

1. Many miſeries light in a mans life. 11. Al thinges paſſe away, but a firme & ſtable faith remayneth. 14. Of the bleſſing of the ryghteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

A Great trauayle is created for al men, and an heauie yoke vpon al the ſonnes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, til they be buried in (the earth) the mother of al thinges.

2 (Namely,) their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the hart, counſel, meditations, longing & deſiring the day of death:

3 From the higheſt that ſitteth vppon the glorious ſeate, vnto the loweſt and moſt ſimple vpon the earth.

4 From him that is gloriouſly arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and ſimply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulneſſe, vnquietneſſe, and feare of death, rigorouſneſſe, anger, and ſtrife: and in the night when one ſhould reſt and ſleepe vpon his bed, the ſleepe changeth his vnderſtandyng and knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his reſt in the ſleepe, aſwell as in the day of labour: he feareth and is diſquieted in the viſion of his hart, as one that runneth out of a batel.

7 And in the time of health he awaketh, & marueyleth that the feare was nothyng. B

8 Such thinges happen vnto al fleſhe, both man and beaſt: but ſeuen folde to the vngodly.

9 Moreouer, death, bloodſhedding, ſtrife, & ſwoord, oppreſſion, hunger, deſtruction, and punishment: Eccle. 39. ti

10 Theſe thinges are all created againſt the vngodly, and for their ſakes came the flood alſo. Gene. 7. b.

11 Al that is of the earth, ſhall turne to earth againe, and al waters ebbe againe into the ſea. Gene. 3. b.

12 All bribes and vnrighteouſneſſe ſhalbe put away: but faithfulneſſe and truth ſhal endure for euer.

13 The ſubſtance and goodes of the vngodly ſhalbe dryed vp, and ſucke away as a water flood, (a) and they ſhal make a ſound like a great thunder in the rayne. C

14 Like as the ryghteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: ſo ſhall ſ tranſgreſſours be faint when their goodes vaniſhe and conſume away.

15 The children of the vngodly ſhal not obtayne many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the hygh rockes, ſhalbe rooted out before the graſſe by the water ſide, & vpon the riuer bankes.

17 Freendlyneſſe and liberalitie in the increaſe and bleſſing of God, is like a paradiſe and garden of pleaſure: ſuche mercie alſo and kyndneſſe endureth for euer.

18 To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a ſweete pleaſant lyfe: and that is, to finde a treaſure of al treaſures. 1. Tim 6. b. Phil. 4. b.

19 To begeat children and to repayre the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honeſt woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minſtrelſie reioyceth the hart: but the loue of wyſedome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a ſweete noyſe: but a freendly tongue goeth beyonde them both.

22 Thyne eye deſireth fauour and beautie: but a greene ſeede time, rather then they both. D

23 A freende and companyon come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wyfe that agreeth with her huſbande.

24 Brethren and helpers are profitable in tyme of trouble: but almes ſhall deliuer more then they both.

25 Golde

(a) That is, with great tumulte and trouble ſhal they be diſperſed, and ſcattered abrode like as the roaring thunder.

25 Golde and syluer fasteneth the feete: but a good counsell is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporal substance & strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lorde more then they both: the feare of the Lord wanteth nothyng, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothing so beautiful as it is.

28 My sonne leade not a beggers lyfe: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The lyfe of him that looketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a lyfe, for he defyleth his soule in other mens meate: but a wise and well nurtured man wyl beware therof.

30 Beggyng is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The. xli. Chapter.

1. Of the remembrance of death. 3. Death is not to be feared. 8. A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God.

1 O Death (a) howe bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and richesse, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in all thinges, yea vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate?

2 O death, how acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, & vnto him whose strength fayleth, and that is now in his last age, and that in al thinges is full of care & fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in dispaire, & hath no hope nor patience?

3 Be not thou afrayde of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer al flesshe.

4 And why wouldest thou be agaynst this pleasure of the highest? Whether it be ten, an hundred, or a thousande yeeres, " death asketh not howe long one hath liued.

5 The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shal come to nought, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetual shame and confusion.

7 The children complayne of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly, whiche haue forsaken the lawe of the highest God: for though ye doo encrease, yet shal you perishe.

9 If ye doo liue, ye shalbe accursed: & if ye dye, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth agayne: so doe the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction. Eccle. 11. b.

11 Though menne mourne for theyr body: yet the name of the vngodly shalbe put out, for it is nothing worth.

12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that shal continue surer by thee then a thousand great treasures of golde. Eccle. 22. a.

13 A good lyfe hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My children keepe wysedome in peace: for wysedome that is hid, & a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man that hydeth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hydeth his wysedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my woordes: for it is not good in all thinges and alway to be ashamed: (b) true fayth must proue and measure it.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed to leasing before the prince and mesne of auctoritie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnesse, before a companion and frende:

19 Of theft, before thy neighbours: as for the trueth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed therof: (c) be ashamed to lye with thyne elbowes vpon the bread, or to be repryued for geuing or taking:

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute ther: be ashamed to looke vpon harlottes:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinsman, be ashamed " to take and not to geue:

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wyfe, and to make many trifleyng woordes with her mayden, or to stande by her bedde side.

23 Be ashamed to vpbrayde thy frende: when thou geuest any thyng, cast him not in the teethe withal:

24 Or to repeat the matter that thou hast hearde, or to disclose the secrete woordes: so shalt thou wel be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with all men.

The. xlii. Chapter.

1. The lawe must be taught. 9. A daughter. 14. A Woman. 18. God knoweth all things, yea euen the secretes of the hart.

1 O F these thinges be not ashamed, and accept no person to offende. (Namely of these thinges be not ashamed:)

2 Of

(a) Temporal death is bitter to foure sortes of men: one to infidels that looke for no lyfe after this: second, to them that set their pleasure in their ryches, from whence they nowe must needes depart: thirde, to them that neuer tasteth of the crosse: fourth, to the that be strog and lusty in body, for that they strongly struggle with death: but sweete vnto the contrary. " or, there is no defence for lyfe agaynst the graue.

(b) True fayth doeth all thinges in season and opportunitie, when and howe euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meat & hard bread nourisheth grose, and strengtheth others, some one heareth, some mans diseases, and increaseth sone agayne.

(c) Beyng bidden to another mans table, presume not to the highest place, be not ouer busy that thou lye not with thyne elbowes vpon the table when thy breade, for that is vnmanerly. Luke. xiii. " or, to take alway the from any man.

8 Of the lawe of God, of the covenant, of iudgement to brynge the vngodly from his vngodlinesse vnto ryghteousnesse, and to make hym a good man.

3 To deale faythfully with thy neyghbour and companion, to distribute the heritage vnto the frendes:

4 To be diligent to keepe true measure and wayght, to be content whether thou get-test muche or litle:

5 To deale truely with temporal goodes in buyinge & sellinge, to bring vp children with diligence, to correct an euyl seruant:

6 To keepe that thine is from an euyl wife, to set a locke where many handes are:

7 What thou delinerest and geuest out to be kept, to tel it, and to wey it: to write vp al thy outgeuing and receyuing.

8 To enkourme the vnlearned and vnwise, of the aged that are iudged of the young:
yf thou be diligent in these thinges, truely thou shalt be learned and wyse, and acceptyd of al menne.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watch secretely, and the carefulnesse that he hath by her taketh away his sleepe, yea in her youth, lest she should ouergrowe hym, and when she hath an husbande, lest she shoulde be hated:

10 Lest she shoulde be defyled or rauished in her virginitie, or gotten with chylde in her fathers house: or when she commeth to the man, lest she behaue her selfe not ryght, or continue vnfruitful.

11 If thy daughter be wanton, keepe her straighely, lest she cause thine enimies to laugh thee to scorne, and thy whole citie to geue ther an euyl report: and so thou be layne to heare thy shame of euery man, and be confounded before al the people.

12 Beholde not euery bodies beautie, and haue not muche dwelling among women.

13 For lyke as the woorme and moth commeth out of clothing: so doeth wickednesse comme of women.

14 It is better to be with an euyl man, then with a frendly wyfe that putteth one to shame and rebuke.

15 I wyl remember the woordes of the Lord, and declare the thyng that I haue seene:
In the woordes of the Lord are his woorkes.

16 The sunne ouerlooketh al thynges with his shine, and al his woorkes are full of the clearenesse thereof.

17 Hath not the Lorde brought to passe, that his saintes shoulde tel out all his wonder-ous woorkes whiche the almightie Lorde hath stablished: all thynges endure in his glory.

18 He sercheth out the grounde of the deepe, and the hart of men, & he knoweth al theyr imaginations and wysedome: for the Lord knoweth al science, and he looketh into the token of the tyme.

19 He declareth the thinges that are past and for to come, and discloseth thinges that are secrete.

20 No thought may escape hym, neyther may any woorde be hyd from hym.

21 He hath garnished the hygh excellent woorkes of his wysedome, and he is from euerlastyng to euerlastyng: vnto him may nothyng be added, neyther can he be mini-shed, he hath no neede also of any mans counsel.

22 O howe amiable are al his woorkes, and as a sparke to looke vpon?

23 They lyue al, and endure for euer: and when so euer neede is, they are al obedient vnto hym.

24 They are double one agaynst another:
he hath made nothyng that hath faulte or blemishe.

25 He hath stablished the goodes of euery one: (a) and who may be satisfied with his glory when he seeth it?

The. xliii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the woorkes of God.

1 The glory of the heyght, is the faire and cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glorious clearnesse.

2 The sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous woorke of the hyghest.

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abyde for the heate thereof?

4 Who so keepeth an ouen when it is hotte, three times more doeth the sunne burne vp-on the mountaynes: when it breatheth out the fierie beames and shineth, with the brightnesse of it, it blyndeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and in his cōmaundement he causeth it to runne swiftly.

6 The moone also in al thinges according to her season, is a declaration of the tyme, and a signe for the worlde.

7 The token of the solempne feast is taken of the moone, a lyght that minisheth and increaseth agayne.

8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth wonderously in her chaungyng.

9 The armie of heauen also is in the heighte in the firmament of heauen it geueth a cleare & a glorious shine: this is the cleare-nesse of the starres, the beautiful apparell
of

(a) As who shoulde say, no man, for where Dauid sayth, Psalm. 17. I shalbe satisfied when the glory appeareth: he speaketh of that glory which he desireth to obtayne, which he yet wanteth is not satisfied: but whē he hath obtayned it, he hath the thyng he dooth desire, and yet is not weery of it, but desireth in that ioy whiche neuer shalbe ended as, 1. of heauen, the apparel that the Lorde lightneth in the heyght.

10 In his holy worke they continue in theyr order, and not one of them fayleth in his watche.

Gen.9.b. 11 Looke vpon the raynebowe, and prayse hym that made it: very beautiful is it in his shine.

12 He compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the handes of the hyghest haue bended it.

13 Through his commaundement he maketh the snowe to fal, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite hastily.

14 Through his commaundement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules.

15 In his power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hayleſtones.

* or, mount. 16 The mountaynes * leape at the syght of hym, the wynde bloweth accordyng to his wyl.

17 The sounde of his thunder beateth the earth, and so doo the stormes of the north: the whirle winde also lighteth downe as a feathered foule, casteth out and spreadeth the snowe abrode, and as the grashoppers that destroy al, so falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueyleth at the beautie of the whiteneſſe thereof, and the hart is afrayde at the rayne of it.

19 He powreth out the frost vpon earth lyke salt, and when it is frosen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.

20 When the colde north wynde bloweth, harde Chrystal commeth of the water: he lyghteth downe vpon al the gatherynges togeather of water, and putteth on the water as a brestplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaynes, and burneth the wyldernesse: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out lyke fyre.

22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloude commeth hastyly, & when a dewe cõmeth vpon the heate, it shalbe refreshed agayne.

23 In his woorde he stylleth the wynde, in his counsel he appeaseth the deepe, & hath planted Ilandes in it.

24 They that sayle ouer the sea, tel of the perils and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueyle thereat.

25 For there be strange wonderous woorkes, dyuers maners of nyce beastes, and whale fishes.

26 Through hym are al thinges set in good order and perfourmed, and in his woorde al thinges endure.

27 I speake muche, but I can not sufficiently atteyne vnto it: for he hym selfe onely is the perfection of al woordes.

28 We shoulde prayse the Lorde after al our power, for he is great in al his woorkes.

29 The Lorde is to be feared, yea very great is he, and marueylous is his power. Psal.116.a

30 Prayse the Lorde, and magnifie hym as muche as ye may, yet doeth he farre exceede al prayse: O magnifie hym with all your power & labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wyse hable sufficiently to prayse him. Psal.106.a

31 Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs? Who can magnifie him so greatly as he is?

32 For there are hydde yet greater thinges then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his woorkes. Deut.5.c Ioh.21.b

33 For the Lorde hath made al thynges, and geuen wysedome to such as feare God.

The.xliiii.Chapter.

1. The prayse of certayne holy menne, 16. Enoch, 17. Noah, 18. Abraham, 1 LET vs commende the noble famous menne, and the generation of our forefelders and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes haue the lorde donne in them, and shewed his great power euer since the beginning.

3 The noble famous men raigned in theyr kingdomes, & bare excellent rule in their wysedome & vnderstandyng, they folowed the counsel shewed in the prophecies:

4 They ledde the folke through the counsel and wysedome of the Scribes of the people, wyse sentences are founde in theyr instructions: Ecclus.18.c

5 They sought the sweetenesse and melodie of musicke, and brought forth the pleasant songes in scripture:

6 They were riche also, and coulde comforte & pacifie those that dwelt with them.

7 Al these were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 These haue left a name behynde them, so that their prayse shal alway be spoken of.

9 Afterwarde there were some whose remembrance is gonne, they came to nought and perished, as though they hadde neuer ben, and became as though they had neuer beene borne, yea and theyr children also with them. Gen.7.d

10 Neuertheleſſe these are louyng menne, whose righteousnesse shal neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posteritie.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the couenant.

12 For theyr sakes shall theyr children and seede ſtede continue for ever, and their prayſe ſhall never be put downe.

13 Their bodyes are buried in peace, but their name lyueth for euermore.

C 14 The people can ſpeake of their wyſdome, & the congregatiō can talke of their praiſe.

Gen.41.c. Exo.5.c. 15 Enoch walked ryght and acceptably before the Lorde, therefore was he tranſlated for an example of amendment to the generations.

Gen.6.a. 16 Noe was a ſtedfaſt and righteous man, and in the tyme of wrath he became a reconcilyng: therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

Gen.9.c. 17 An euerlaſting couenant was made with him, that all fleſhe ſhoulde perithe no more with the water.

Gen.17.a. 18 Abrahā was a great father of many people, in glory was there none like vnto him.

19 He kept the lawe of the higheſt, & came into a couenant with him.

20 He ſet the couenant in his fleſhe, & when he was proued he was founde faythfull.

D 21 Therefore ſwore God vnto him with an othe, that he would bleſſe al people in his ſtede, that he would multiply and increaſe him as the duſt of the earth, and to exalte his ſeede as the ſtarres: yea and that his ſeede ſhoulde haue the poſſeſſion and inheritannce of the land from ſea to ſea, & from the riuer vnto the borders of the worlde.

Gen.22.a. 22 With Iſahac dyd he ſtabliſhe the ſame couenant for Abrahams his fathers ſake: Yea that gratious bleſſing and health of al menne, and couenant dyd he ſtabliſhe with Iſahac, and made it reſt vpon the head of Iacob.

(a) He knewe him in that he proſpered him ſo wel and richely, and gaue him an heritage, and ſundred his portion by it ſelf, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Merciful menne brought he out of hym, which found fauour in the ſight of al fleſhe.

I. The prayſe of Moſes, 6. Aaron, and Phinehes.

Act.7.d. Eccl.11.a. Eccl.7.c. MOſes beloued of GOD and menne, whoſe remēbrance is in high prayſe: 2 Him that the Lorde made lyke in the glory of the ſaintes, & magnified him, ſo that the enimies ſtoode in awe of hym.

3 Through his wordes he dyd great wonders: he made him glorious in the ſight of kinges, gaue him commaundement before his people, and ſhewed him glorious power.

Num.12.a. 4 He ſtabliſhed him with faithfulneſſe and meekeneſſe, and choſe him out of al menne.

5 For he heard his voyce, and he led him in the darke cloude, & there he gaue him the commaundementes, yea the lawe of lyfe and wyſdome: that he might teache Iacob the couenant, and Iſrael his lawes. Exod.19.b.

6 He choſe Aaron his brother alſo out of the tribe of Leui, exalted hym, and made him ſuche like.

7 An euerlaſting couenant made he with him, and gaue him the prieſthood in the people: he made him glorious in beautifull aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour. B

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and gyrded him with ſtrength, he decked him with fine clothes & a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate alſo, and a gyrdle.

9 Round about made he him belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the ſounde myght be heard, that they myght make a noyſe in ỹ ſanctuarie, and geue the people warnyng. Exod. 28. f.

10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with gold, yelowe ſilke, and purple: and in the breſtlap there was a goodly worke, wherein was faſtened lyght and perfectneſſe.

11 Upon the ſame alſo there was a worke faſtened and ſet with coſtly precious ſtones al bounde with golde, and this he brought in his miniſtration: the ſtones were faſtened for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Iſrael. Exod. 4. f.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure gold, a graue image of holineſſe, a famous noble worke, garniſhed, and pleaſant to looke vppon.

13 Before hym were there ſeene no ſuche faire ornamentes, and theſe it behoued him alway to vſe: there myght none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Dayly perfourmed he his burnt offeringes two tymes. C

15 Moſes filled (a) his handes, and annoynted him with holy oyle: this was now confirmed him with an euerlaſting couenant, and to his ſeede as the dayes of heauen, namely that his children ſhould alway miniſter before him, and perfourme the office of the prieſthood, and wiſh the people good in his name. Leuit.8.a. (a) That was, either to put into his hand the booke of the law written to read vnto the people, or els ſome ſacrifice that he myght offer vnto God for their offences.

16 Before all menne liuyng choſe he hym, that he ſhould offer incenſe before the lord, and make odours for a ſweete ſauour and remembrance, that he ſhould reconcile the people of the Lorde with him agayne.

17 He gaue him auctoritie alſo in his commaundementes, and in the couenant, that he ſhould teache Iacob the ſtatutes & teſtimonies, monies, and to enfourme Israel in ꝑ lawe.

Num. 16.g. 18 Therefore there stood vp certaine against him, and had enuie at him in the wylderneſſe: namely they that were of Dathan and Abirams ſide, and the furious congregation of Chore.

19 This the Lord ſawe, & it diſpleaſed him, and in his wrathful indignation were they conſumed: a great woonder vpon them, and conſumed them with the fyre.

Exod. 25.f. Leuit. 24.b. 20 Beſides this, he made Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, he gaue him an heritage, and parted the fyrſt fruites vnto him: vnto him ſpecially he appointed the head of ſuſtenaunce.

Deut. 12.b. and. 18. 21 For the prieſtes dyd eate of the offeringes of the Lord: this gaue he vnto him and his ſeede.

Ezech. 14.b 22 Els hadde he no heritage nor portion in the lande and with the people: for the Lord him ſelfe is his portion and inheritance.

Num. 15.c. 23 The thirde noble and excellent man is Phinehes the ſonne of Eleazar, whiche pleaſed the God of Israel, becauſe he had the zeale and feare of the Lorde: for when the people were turned backe, he put him ſelfe forth ryght ſoone, and that with a good wyl, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord towarde Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that he ſhould be the principal among the rygh teous in the people, that he and his poſteritie ſhoulde haue the office of the prieſthood for euer.

25 Like as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his ſonnes onely there ſhoulde be a king, and that Aaron alſo and his ſeede ſhoulde be an heritage, to geue vs wyſedome in our hart, to iudge his people in righteouſneſſe, that his goodes ſhould not come into forgetfulneſſe, and that their honour might endure for euer.

1. The prayſe of Ioſue. 9. Caleb. 13. Samuel.

1 A Manly and ſtrong in batayle was Ieſus the ſonne of Naue, and was the ſucceſſour of Moſes in prophecies, and was geuen to be captayne of the people, whiche accordyng vnto his name was a great ſauiour vnto the elect of GOD, to pounyſhe the enimies that roſe vp againſt Iſrael, that Iſrael myght obtayne theyr inheritance.

Ioſu. 12.c. Num. 27.d. Deut. 34.b. Ioſue. 1.a.

2 O howe great, noble, and excellent was he, when he lift vp his hande, and dyue out his ſwoorde againſt the cities?

3 Who ſtoode ſo manly before him? for the Lorde him ſelfe brought in the enimies?

4 Stoode not the ſunne ſtill at his commaundement, and one day was as long as two? Ioſue. 10.a

5 He called vpon the highe ſt & moſt myghty when the enimies preaſſed vppon him on euery ſide, and the myghtie Lorde hearde him with the hayle ſtones.

6 They ſmote the heathenyſhe people mightyly, and in falling downe they ſlue all the aduerſaries: ſo that the Heathen knew his hoſt, and al his defence, that the Lord hym ſelfe fought againſt them: for he folowed vpon the mightie menne of them.

B

7 In the time of Moſes alſo, he & Caleb the ſonne of Jephune did a good worke, which ſtoode againſt the enimies, withholde the people from ſinne, and ſtilled the wicked murmuring. Num. 14.a.

8 And of ſixe hundred thouſande people of foote, they two were preſerued to bryng them into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth with milke and hony. Num. 26.g.

9 The Lorde gaue ſtrength alſo vnto Caleb, whiche remayned with him vnto his age: ſo that he went vp into ꝑ high places of the lande, and his ſeede conquered the ſame for an heritage: Ioſue. 13.a.

10 That all the children of Iſrael myght ſee howe good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lorde.

11 And the iudges or rulers every one after his name, whoſe hart went not a whooring nor departed from the Lorde, and that forſooke not the Lorde vnfaithfully, whoſe remembrance hath a good report.

12 Yea their bones floriſh out of their place, & their names ſhall never be changed: but honour remayneth ſtyll with the children of thoſe holy men.

13 Samuel the prophete, beloued of the Lorde his GOD, ordeyned a king, and annoynted the princes ouer the people. 1.Sa.10.a

14 In the lawe of the Lorde ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the lord had reſpect vnto Jacob. C

15 The prophete was founde diligent in his faythfulneſſe: yea and he is knowen faithfull in his woordes, becauſe he ſaw the god of lyght.

16 He called vppon the Lorde Almighty when the enimies preaſſed vppon him on euery ſide, what tyme as he offered the ſuckyng lambe. 1.Sam.7.a

17 And the Lorde thundred from heauen, and made his voyce to be hearde with a great noyſe.

18 He diſcomfited the princes of Tyre, and all the rulers of the Philiſtines.

19 Before

19 Before his laſt ende, he made proteſtation in the ſight of the Lord and his annoynted, that he tooke neither ſubſtance nor good of any man, no not ſo muche as a ſhoe: and no man might accuſe hym.

20 After this he tolde that his ende was at hande, and ſhewed the kyng alſo his ende and death: and from the earth lyft he vp his voyce in the prophecie, that the vngodly people ſhoulde periſhe.

The .xlvii. Chapter.

1. The prayſe of Nathan, 2. Dauid, 11. and Solomon.

1 AFterward in the time of kyng Dauid there roſe vp a prophete called Nathan.

2 For lyke as the fatte is taken away from the offering: ſo was Dauid choſen out of the chyldren of Iſrael.

3 He played with the lions as with kiddes, and with beares lyke as with lambes of ſheepe.

4 Slewe he not a Giant when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he tooke the ſtone in his hande, and ſmote downe proud Goliath with the ſling?

5 For he called vpon the hyghest Lorde, whiche gaue hym ſtrength in his ryght hande, ſo that he ouerthrewe the mightie Giant in the batel, that he might ſet vp the horne of his people agayne.

6 So he glorified hym in tenne thouſande, and made hym to haue a good report in the prayſe of the Lorde, that he ſhoulde weare a crowne of glory.

7 For he deſtroyed the enimies on every ſide, rooted out the Philiſtines his aduerſaries, and brake theyr horne in ſunder, like as it is broken yet this day.

8 In al his workes he prayſed the highest and holyest, and aſcribed the honour vnto hym: with his whole hart dyd he prayſe the Lorde, and loued God that made hym.

9 He ſet ſyngers alſo before the aulter, and in their tyme he made ſweete ſonges, that they might geue prayſes euery day to God with ſongues.

10 He ordeyned to keepe the holy dayes worthipfully, and that the ſolempne feaſtes thorowe the whole yeere ſhoulde be honorably holden with prayſing the name of the Lorde, and with ſingyng betymes in the morning in the ſanctuarie.

11 The Lorde tooke away his ſinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue hym the couenant of the kyngdome, and the throne of worſhyp in Iſrael.

12 After hym there roſe vp the wyſe ſonne (called Solomon) who by hym dwelt in a large poſſeſſion, and for his ſake he dyone the enimies away farre of.

13 This Solomon raigned with peace in his tyme, and he obteyned glory: for God gaue hym reſt from his enimies on euery ſide, that he might buylde hym an houſe in his name, and prepare the ſanctuarie for euer.

14 Howe wyſe waſt thou in thy youth, and fylled with wiſedome and vnderſtandyng, as it were with a water floodde?

15 Thou couereddſt and fylledſt the whole lande with ſimilitudes, and wyſe prudent ſentences.

16 Thy name went abrode in the Iles, becauſe of thy peace, thou waſt beloued.

17 All landes marueyled at thy ſongues, prouerbes, ſimilitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 And in the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Iſrael, thou gatheredſt gold as tinne, and thou hadſt as much ſyluer as leade.

19 Thou waſt moued in inordinate loue towarde women, and waſt ouercome in affection.

20 Thou ſtaynedſt thy honour and worſhip, yea thy poſteritie defiledſt thou alſo, in bryngyng the wrath of the Lorde vpon thy chyldren, and hart felt ſorow for thy folly.

21 So that thy kingdome was diuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaythful and a rebellious kyngdome.

22 Neuertheleſſe God forſooke not his mercie: neyther was he vtterly deſtroyed becauſe of his workes, that he ſhould leaue him no poſteritie: as for the ſeede that came vppon hym, whiche he loued, he brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of hym.

23 Thus reſted Solomon with his fathers, and out of his ſeede he left behinde hym a very foolyſhneſſe of the people, & ſuche one as had no vnderſtanding: euen Roboam, which turned away the people thorough his counſel, and Jeroboam the ſonne of Nabat, whiche cauſed Iſrael to ſynne, and ſhewed Ephraim the way of vngodlineſſe.

24 In ſo muche that their ſynnes and miſdeedes had the vpper hande ſo ſore, that at the laſt they were dryuen out of the land for the ſame.

25 Yea he ſought out and brought vp al wickednelſe, tyl the vengeance came vppon them.

The prayse of Elias, Elizeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

A 1 THen stoode vp Elias the prophete as a fyre, and his woorde burnt like a cresset,
2.Ki.17.a 2 He brought an hunger vppon them, & in his zeale he made them fewe in nomber: for they might not away with the commaundementes of the Lorde.
1. King.18. 3 Through the woorde of the Lorde he shut the heauen, and three tymes brought he the fire downe.
4 O Elias, howe honorable art thou in thy woonderous workes? who may make his boast to be lyke thee?
1. King.17. 5 One that was dead thou raysedst vp from death, and in the woorde of the highest thou broughtest hym out of the graue agayne.
6 Thou hast cast downe kings, & destroyed them, and the honourable from their seate.
B 7 Upon the mount Sina thou heardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:
. King.19. 8 Whiche diddest annoynt kynges to recompence, and ordeynedst prophetes after thee.
2. King.2.c 9 Thou wast taken vp in the storme of fire, in a charet of fierie horses.
10 Thou wast ordeyned in the reprooninges in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord before it raged, to turne the hartes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Iacob agayne.
Luke.1.a 11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, & were garnished in loue, for we lyue in lyfe: but after death we shal haue no suche name.
2. King.2.c 12 Elias was couered in the storme, but Elizeus was fylled with his spirite: whyle he lyued he was afrayde of no prince, and no man might ouercome hym.
13 There coulde no woorde deceyue him, and
2. Kin.13.b after his death his body prophecied.
C 14 He dyd wonders in his lyfe, and in death were his woorkes marueylous.
15 For al this the people amended not, neyther departed they from their sinnes, tyll they were caried away pryseners out of the
2. King.18. lande, and were scattered abroade in all countreys, so that of them there remayned but a very litle people, and a prince vnto the house of Dauid.
16 Howbeit some of them dyd right, and some heaped vp vngodlynesse.
17 Ezechias made his citie strong, conueyed
2.Chr.32.a water into it, digged through the stonie rocke with iron, and made vp a wall by the water side.
18 In his tyme came Sennacherib vp, and
2.king.18.a sent Rabsakes, lyft vp his hande against Sion, and defied them with great pryde.
19 Then trembled they harte and hande, so that they sorowed lyke a woman trauayling with chylde.
20 But they called vpon the Lorde whiche is merciful, and lyft vp their handes before hym: immediatly the Lorde hearde them out of heauen.
21 He thought no more vppon their synnes, D nor gaue them ouer to their enimies: but deliuered them by the hande of Esaias.
22 He smote the hoast of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.
23 For Ezechias had donne the thyng that pleased the Lorde, and remayned stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great and faithful prophete in the sight of God had commaunded hym.

and he lengthned the kynges lyfe.
25 With a ryght spirite prophecied he what shoulde come to passe at the last: and to suche as were sorowful in Sion, he gaue consolation, wherewith they might comfort them selues for euermore.
26 He shewed thinges that were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

2 He was appointed to turne the people agayne, and to take away all abominations of the vngodly.
3 He directed his hart vnto the Lorde, and in the tyme of the vngodly he set vp the worshyp of God agayne.
4 All kynges, except (a) Dauid, Ezechias, and Iosias, committed wyckednesse: for euen the kynges of Iuda also forsooke the lawe of God.
5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour and worshyp also to a straunge people.
6 Therefore was the elect citie of the sanctuarie burnt with fire, and the streetes thereof layde desolate and waste in the hande of Ieremie.

9 For he thought vppon the enimies in the rayne, to doo good vnto ſuche as had ordered theyr wayes aryght.

10 And the bones of the twelue prophetes ſpryſhed from out of theyr place, for they gaue comfort and conſolation vnto Jacob, and deliuered them faythfully.

11 Howe ſhal we prayſe Zorobabel, whiche was as a ryng on the ryght hande:

12 So was Jeſus alſo the ſonne of Joſedec theſe men in their times buylded the houſe, and ſet vp the ſanctuarie of the Lorde agayne, which was prepared for euerlaſting worſhyp.

23 And among the elect was Nehemias, whoſe renowme was great, which ſet vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the portes and barres agayne, and buylded our houſes a newe.

¶ 14 But vpon the earth there is no man created lyke Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neyther was there a lyke man vnto Joſeph, which was lorde of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: (c) his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and ſo was Adam aboue all the beaſtes when he was created.

The. l. Chapter.

1. Of Simon the ſonne of Onias. 22. An exhortation to prayſe the Lorde.

¶ 1 SImon the ſonne of Onias ỹ high prieſt, which in his life ſet vp the houſe againe, and in his dayes made faſt the temple.

2 The heyght of the temple alſo was founded of hym, the double buylding, and the hygh walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceedyng ful as the ſea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and deliuered them from deſtruction: he kept his cittie and made it ſtrong, that it ſhoulde not be beſieged.

5 Howe honorable was his converſation among the people, and when he came out of the houſe couered with the vayle?

6 He gaue lyght as the mornyng ſtarre in the middeſt of the cloudes, & as the moone when it is ful:

¶ 7 He ſhyned as the ſunne in the temple of God, he is as hyght as the rainebow in the fayre cloudes,

8 And flouriſhth as the floures and roſes in the ſpryng of the yeere, and as lylies by the ſprynges of water, lyke as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the time of ſommer:

9 As a fyre and incenſe that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde ſet with al maner of pretious ſtones,

10 And as an Olyue tree that is fruitful, and as a Cypres tree whiche groweth vp an hygh.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with al beautie, when he went to the holy aulter, he made the garment of holyneſſe honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of the prieſtes hande, he hym ſelfe ſtoode by the hearth of the aulter, & his brethren rounde about in order: as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, ſo ſtoode they rounde about hym:

13 And as the branches of the Olyue tree, ſo ſtoode all the ſonnes of Aaron in theyr glorie, & the oblations of the Lorde in their handes before al the cõgregation of Iſrael.

14 And that he might ſufficiently perfourme ¶ his ſeruice vpon the aulter, and garniſh the offeryng of the hygheſt God, 15 He ſtretched out his hande, and tooke of the dyrnke offeryng, and powred in of the wyne: ſo he powred vpon the bottome of the aulter a good ſmel vnto the hyghest prince.

16 Then began the ſonnes of Aaron to ſing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noyſe, for a remembrance & prayſe vnto the Lorde.

17 Then al the people togeather were haſted, and fel downe to the earth vpon their faces to worſhyp their Lord their God, and to geue thankes to the almightie God.

18 They ſong goodly alſo with their voyces, ſo that there was a pleaſant noyſe in the great houſe of the Lorde.

19 And the people in theyr prayer beſought the Lorde the hyghest, that he woulde be merciful, tyl the honour of the Lorde were perfourmed, and they had ended theyr miniſtration and ſeruice.

20 Then went he downe, and ſtretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Iſrael, that they ſhoulde geue prayſe and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lorde, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He began yet once alſo to pray, that he ¶ myght openly ſhewe the thankeſgeuyng before the hyghest, 22 (Namely thus) ¶ geue prayſe & thankes al ye vnto the Lorde our God, which hath euer donne noble and great things, which hath increaſed our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs accordyng to his mercie.

23 That he wyl geue vs the ioyfulneſſe of hart, and peace for our tyme in Israel:

24 Which faythfully keepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.
25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my hart, as for the thyrde whom I hate, it is no people:
26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolishe people that dwel in Sichimis.
27 I Iesus, the sonne of Syrach, Eleazarus, of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysdome and vnderstanding in this boke, and powred out the wysedome of my hart.
28 Blessed is he that exerciseth hym selfe therein: and who so taketh suche to hart, shalbe wyse for euer.
29 If he doo these thynges, he shalbe strong in al: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, whiche geueth wysdome to the godly: the Lorde be praysed for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The. li. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Syrach.

A 1 I Wyl thanke thee, O Lorde, and kyng, and prayse thee, O God, my sauiour: I wyl yeelde prayse vnto thy name.
2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, from the snares of trayterous tongues, and from the lyps that are occupied with lyes.
3 Thou hast bene my helper from such as stoode vp agaynst me, and hast delyuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaryng of them that prepared them selues to deuoure me, out of the handes of suche as sought after my lyfe, from the multitude of them that trouble me,
4 And from them that went about to set fire vpon me on euery syde, so that I am not brent in the middest of the fire:
5 From the deepe of hel, from an vncleane tongue, from lyeing wordes, from false accusation to the kyng, and from an vnrighteous tongue.
6 My soule shal praise the Lord vnto death: for my life drue nigh vnto hel downeward.
B 7 They compassed me round about on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about me if there were any man that wouldo succour me: but there was none.
8 Then thought I vppon thy mercie, O Lorde, and vpon thy actes that thou hast bene euer of olde: (namely) that thou deliuerest suche as put their trust in thee, and rydest them out of the handes of the heathen.
9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliueraunce from death.
10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my Lorde, that he wouldo not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude.
11 I wyl prayse thy name continually, perlyng honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was hearde.
12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vnrighteous time: therefore wyl I acknowledge and prayse thee, and magnifie the name of the Lorde.
13 When I was yet but young, or euer I went astray, I desyred (a) wisedome openly in my prayer.
14 I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flourished she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.
15 My hart reioyced in her, then went my foote the ryghe way: yea from my youth vp sought I after her.
16 I bowed downe myne eare, and receiued her: I found me much wisedome, and prospered greatly in her.
17 Therefore wyl I ascribe the glorie vnto hym that geueth me wysedome.
18 For I am aduised to doo thereafter, I wil be gelous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so that I not be confounded.
19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue ben diligent to be occupied in her: I lyft vp my handes on hygh, then was my soule lyghtened through wysedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.
20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one hart from the begynnyng, and I founde her in cleannesse, and therefore shal I not be forsaken.
21 My hart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.
22 Through her the Lord hath geuen me a new tongue, wherwith I wyl prayse him.
23 O come vnto me ye vnlearned, and dwel in the house of wysedome.
24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these thynges: for your soules are very thirstie.
25 I opened my mouth, & spake, O comme and bye wysedome without money.
26 Bow downe your necke vnder her yoke, & your soule shal receyue wysedome: she is harde at hande, and is content to be found.
27 Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but litle labour, & yet haue found muche rest.
28 O receyue wysedome, and ye shall haue plenteousnesse of siluer & gold in possession.

(a) Wysedome is obteyned by one of these three meanes: first by prayer, as Salomon did and Iacob. Secondly by diligent reading of good boke, wherin wysedome is conteyned. Psal. xix. Sam. vi. Thirdly, by godly conuersation & continuyng in the feare of God. Prou. ii. Ioha. vii. If any man wyl doo the wyl, he shal knowe my doctrine.

The ende of the booke of Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latine Eccleſiaſticus.

The booke of the prophete Baruch.

The firſt Chapter.

1. Baruch wrote a booke duryng the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and al the people. 10. The Iewes ſent the booke with money vnto Hieruſalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they ſhoulde pray for them.

1 AND theſe are the woordes of the booke, which were (a) written by Baruch the ſonne of Neryas, the ſonne of Maaſias, the ſonne of Sedechias, the ſonne of Helchias, at Babylon,

2 In the fifth yeere, and in the ſeuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hieruſalem, & burnt it vp with fyre.

3 And Baruch dyd reade the woordes of this booke, that Iechonias ỹ ſonne of Joachin king of Iuda might heare, and in the preſence of all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before al the nobles, ỹ kings ſonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the loweſt vnto the higheſt: before al them that dwelte at Babylon, by the water of * Sody:

5 Whiche when they hearde it, wept, faſted, and prayed before the Lorde.

6 They made a collection alſo of money, accordyng to euery mans power:

7 And ſent it to Hieruſalem vnto Joachin the ſonne of Helchia, the ſonne of Salom prieſt, with the other prieſtes, and to al the people whiche were with him at Hieruſalem,

8 (What time as they had gotten ỹ * veſſels of the temple of the Lord that were taken away out of ỹ temple, that they myght bring them agayne into ỹ land of Iuda the tenth day of the moneth (b) Siuan, (namely) ſiluer veſſels, whiche Sedechias the ſonne of Joſias king of Iuda had made,)

9 After that Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with all his princes, lordes, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hieruſalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they ſaide, Beholde, we haue ſent you money to byr you burnt offerynges and incenſe withal, & prepare a meate offering, and offer for ſinne vppon the aulter of the Lorde our God:

11 And (c) pray for the proſperitie of Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthaſar his ſonne, that theyr dayes may be vppon earth as the dayes of heauen:

12 That God alſo may geue vs ſtrength, and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthaſar his ſonne, ỹ we may long boo them ſeruice, and finde fauour in their ſight.

13 Pray for vs alſo vnto the Lorde our God: for we haue ſinned agaynſt the Lorde our God, & vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And ſee that ye reade this booke, whiche we haue ſent vnto you, to be rehearſed in the temple of the Lord vpon ỹ high dayes, and at tyme conuenient.

15 Thus ſhall ye ſay, The Lorde our God is ryghteous, but we are woorthy of confuſion and ſhame, like as it is come to paſſe this day vnto all Iuda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hieruſalem, 16 To our kinges, princes, prieſtes, prophetes, and to our fathers.

17 We haue ſinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our truſt in him, nor geuen him credence.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this preſent day, we haue benne euer a miſbeleeuing and an vnfaythfull people vnto the Lorde our God, deſtroying our ſelues vtterly, and ſtyrnyng backe, that we ſhoulde not hearc his voyce.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, and diuers curſes, like as the Lorde deuiſed by Moſes his ſeruaunt, whiche brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, to geue vs a lande that floweth with milke and hony, like as it is to see this day.

Exod.12 D 21 Neuertheleſſe, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, accordyng to all the woordes of the prophetes, whom he sent vnto vs (and to our rulers.)

22 But euery man followed his owne mind and wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange goddes, and to doo euil in the sight of the Lorde our God.

The .ij. Chapter.

I. The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinne. 21. The Lorde wyl that we obey vnto princes, although they be cruyl.

Dani.9.b. A 1 FOr the whiche cause the Lord our God hath performed his dewte, wherof he certified vs, and our heades that ruled in Hierusalem, yea and our kynges, our princes, with al Israel and Iuda:

2 And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heaven, like as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, accordyng as it is written in the lawe of Moses,

Deut.28.f. 3 That a man shoulde eate the fleshe of his owne sonne, and the fleshe of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of al the kinges that are rounde about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abrode in al landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath and not aboue, because we haue sinned agaynst the Lorde our God, and haue not benne obedient vnto his voyce.

Baruc. I. d. 6 Therfore the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers (as reason is) are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alredy, the Lord had deuised them for vs.

B 8 Yet woulde we not pray vnto the Lorde our God, that we myght euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lorde hath caused suche plagues to come vpon vs: for he is righteous in all his workes which he hath cõmaunded vs:

10 Which we also haue not donne, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde, that he hath geuen vnto vs.

Dan.9.c. Exod.7.d. 11 And nowe, O Lorde God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of ỹ lande of Egypt with a mightie hande, with tokens and wonders, with thy great power and outstretched arme, & hast gotten thee selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lorde our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in al thy righteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs (we beseeche thee) for we are but a fewe leafe among the heathen where thou hast scattered vs.

C 14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, brynge vs out of captiuitie for thyne owne sake, geat vs fauour in the sight of them whiche haue ledde vs away:

2.Par.6.c. 15 That al landes may knowe that thou art the Lorde our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

16 O Lorde, looke downe from thy holye house vpon vs, encline thyne eare, & heare vs.

17 Open thyne eyes, and beholde, for the Dead that be gonne downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodyes, ascribe vnto the Lorde neyther prayse nor righteousnesse. Deut.26.d. Psal.113.c

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude (of her sinnes) which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begyn to fayle, yea suche a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousnesse vnto the Lorde.

19 For we poure not our prayers before thee, & require mercy in thy sight, O Lorde our God, not for any godlynesse of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, accordyng as thou spakest by thy seruantes the prophetes, sayeng, Iere.27.d. 21 Thus sayth the Lord, Bowe downe your D shoulders and neckes, and serue the kyng of Babylon: so shall ye remayne styl in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But yf ye wyll not heare the voyce of the Lord your God to serue ỹ king of Babylon, 23 I wyll destroy you in the cities of Iuda within Hierusalem and without: I wyl also take from you the voyce of myrth, and the voyce of ioy, the voyce of the bridegrome, and ỹ voyce of the bride, and there shall no man dwel more in the lande.

24 But they woulde not hearken vnto thy voyce, to doo the king of Babylon seruice: & therfore hast thou performed the woordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the prophetes: (namely) that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, nowe are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the nyght, & dead in great miserie, with hunger, with swoorde, (with pestilence,) and are cleane cast vooyth.

26 As for the temple wherin thy name was called vpon, thou hast layde it waste, as it is to see this day, & that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs after al thy goodnesse, and accordyng to al that great louing mercie of thyne.

28 Lyke as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou dyddest commaunde hym to write thy lawe before the chyldren of Israel, saying,

29 If ye wyll not hearken vnto my voyce, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very smal people among the nations, for I wyl scatter them abrode.

30 Notwithstandyng, I am sure that this folke wyl not heare me, for it is an harde necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shal remember them selues, 31 And learne to know that I am the Lorde their God, when I geue them an hart to vnderstande, and eares to heare.

32 Then shal they prayse me in the lande of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their hard backes, and from their vngodlinesse: then shal they remember the thynges that happened vnto their fathers which sinned agaynst me.

34 So wyll I bryng them agayne into the lande whiche I promised with an oth vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, & Iacob, and they shalbe lordes ouer, yea I wyll encrease them, and not minishe them.

35 And I wyl make another couenant with them, suche one as shall endure for euer: (namely) that I wil be their God, and they shalbe my people: and I wyl no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the lande that I haue geuen them.

The. iii. Chapter.

36. Onely God was the finder of wysedome.
37. Of the incarnation of Christe.

1 AND nowe, O Lorde almightie, thou GOD of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirite that is vexed cryeth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, & haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a merciful God: be gratious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: shoulde we then vtterly perishe?

4 O Lorde almightie, thou God of Israel, heare nowe the prayer of the dead Israelites, & of their children, which haue sinned before thee, & not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde their God, for the which cause their plagues hang nowe vpon vs.

5 O Lorde, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name nowe at this tyme:

6 For thou art the Lorde our God, and thee, O Lorde, wyl we prayse.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hartes, to the intent that we houlde cal vpon thy name, and prayse thee in our captiuitie, and that we might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee. B Num. 14.a Psal. 77.a

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs, to be an abomination, curse, & subiect to exactions: lyke as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of all their wickednesse and departyng from thee, O Lorde our God. Psal. 79.a

The. iiii. Chapter.

1. The rewarde of them that keepe the lawe, and the pounishment of them that despise it.

G 1 This is the booke of the commaundementes of God, and the lawe that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it shal come to lyfe, but such as forsake it shal come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take holde of it, walke by this way thorowe his brightnesse and shine.

3 Geue not thyne honour to another, and thy worshyp to a strange people. Psal.93.b

4 O Israel, how happy are we, seeyng that God hath shewed vs suche thynges as are pleasant vnto hym?

5 Be of good cheare thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel. 4.Reg.17.b and.25.

6 Nowe are ye solde among the heathen, howbeit not for your vtter destruction: but because ye prouoked GOD the Lorde to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enimies.

7 For ye displeased the euerlastyng GOD that made you, offeryng vnto deuyls, and not to God. B

8 Ye haue forgotten hym that brought you vp, and ye haue greeued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she sawe that the wrath of GOD was comming vpon you, she sayd, Hearken O ye that dwel about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes & daughters, whiche the euerlastyng God hath brought vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourishe them: but nowe must I leaue them with weeping & sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me wydowe and forsaken, whiche for the synnes of my chyldren am desolate of euery man: For why? they departed from the lawe of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his commaundementes: and as for the pathes of trueth and godlynesse, they had no lust to goe in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, comme and let vs cal to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlastyng God hath brought vpon my sonnes and my daughters. C

15 He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an vncurteous people, and of a strange language, whiche neyther regarde the olde, nor pitie the young. Deut.28.d Jere.5.b

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of the widdowes, leauing me alone both desolate and chyldelesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Nowe he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the handes of your enimies.

19 Goe your way, O my chyldren, goe your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put of the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, & for my tyme I wyl cal vpon the most hyghest. Deut.4.d and.30.a Psal.130.a

21 Be of good cheare, O my chyldren, crye vnto the Lorde, & he shal deliuer you from the power of the princes your enimies. D

22 For verely I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea a very gladnes is come vppon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shal haue of our euerlastyng sauiour.

33 With mourning and weeping did I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetual gladnesse shal the Lorde bryng you agayne vnto me.

34 Like as the neyghbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shal they also see shortly your health in God, whiche shall come on you with great honour and euerlasting worshyp.

35 O my children suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vppon you: for the enemie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt se his destruction, and shalt treade vppon his necke.

26 My darlinges haue gone rough harde wayes, for they are ledde away as a flocke that is scattered abrode with the enimies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and crye vnto the Lord: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembrance.

28 And like as ye haue benne minded to swarue from your God: so shal ye now endeuour your selues ten times more to turne agayne and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shal bring you euerlasting ioy agayne with your health.

30 Take a good hart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, comforteth thee so to doo.

31 The wicked doers that nowe put thee to trouble, shal perishe: and suche as haue reioyced at thy fal, shalbe punished.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue caryed away thy sonnes, shalbe corrected.

33 For like as they be nowe glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shalbe taken away, and their cheare shalbe turned to sorowe.

35 For a fire shall fall vppon them from the euerlasting god, long to endure, and it shal be inhabited of deuyls for a great season.

36 O Hierusalem, looke about thee towarde the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abrode, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the worde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The .v. Chapter.

1. Hierusalem is mooued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof, the Churche.

1 Put of thy mourning clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorowe, and decke thee with the worshyp & honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glory. A

2 God shall put the garment of rightwisenesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worshyp vpon thyne head:

3 For vpon thee wyll God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea an euerlastyng name shall be geuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Aryse, O Hierusalem, stande vp on hygh, looke about thee towarde the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West, whiche reioyce in the holy worde, hauing God in remembrance.

6 They departed from thee on foote, and were ledde away of their enimies: but now shal the Lord bring them caried with honour, as children of the kingdome. B

7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stoute mountaines, yea and al high rockes, to fyll the valleys, & so to make them euen with the grounde, that Israel may be diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.

8 The woodes and all pleasant trees, shall ouershadowe Israel at the commaundement of God.

9 For hither shall God bring Israel with ioyful mirth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie & righteousnesse that commeth of him selfe.

The .vi. Chapter.

A copple of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were ledde away prisoners by the kyng of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thing that was commaunded him of God.

In this chapter are the makers and mayntayners of images mightyly confuted.

1 BEcause of the sinnes that ye haue done against God, ye shalbe ledde away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon. A Iere. 25. a.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shal remayne there many yeeres, and for a long season, (namely) (a) seuen generations: and after that wyl I bring you away peaceably from thence. (a) That is, seuentie yeeres.

3 Nowe shal ye se in Babylon gods of gold, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a feartfulnesse before the heathen.

4 But looke that ye doo not as the other: be not ye afraide, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therefore when ye se the multitude of people worshipping them behind and before, say ye in your hartes, O Lorde, it is thee Deut. 6. c.

then ought vnto only to be worshipped.

6 Myne angel also shalbe with you, and I mee selfe wyll care for your soules.

* or, tongue B

7 As for the * timber of thole goddes, the carpenter hath pulliſhed them: yea gylded be they, and layde over with ſilver, yet are they but dayne thinges, & can not ſpeake.

8 Lyke as a wenche that loueth paramours is trimly decked: euen ſo are theſe made and hanged with golde.

9 Crownes of gold verely haue their gods vppon their heades: ſo the prieſtes them ſelues take gold and ſilver frō them, and put it to their owne vſe:

10 Yea they geue of the ſame vnto harlots, and trim their whoores withal: agayne, they take it from the whoores, and decke their goddes therewith:

Ierr. 10. a. 11 Yet can not theſe goddes deliuer them ſelues from ruſt and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wype their faces for the duſt of the temple, wherof there is muche among them.

13 One hath a ſcepter in his hand as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not ſlay ſuche as offende him.

C 14 Another hath a ſwoorde or an axe in his hande: for al ſ he is neyther able to defend him ſelf from batalle, nor from murderers.

15 By this ye may vnderſtande that they be no goddes: therefore fee that ye neyther worſhyp them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a veſſell that a man vſeth, is nothyng worth when it is broken, euen ſo is it with their gods: when they be ſet vp in the temple, their eyes be full of duſt through the feete of thoſe that come in.

17 And lyke as the doores are ſhut in rounde about vppon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beſide the graue: euen ſo the prieſtes keepe the doores with barres and lockes, leſt they goddes be ſpoyled with robbers.

18 They ſet vp candels before them, yea verely and that many, wherof they can not ſee one: but euen as blockes, ſo ſtand they in the temple.

19 It is ſayde, that the ſerpentes & wormes whiche come of the earth gnawe out their harres, eating them and their clothes alſo, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through ſ ſmoke that is in the temple.

21 The Owles, Swalowes, & birdes flee vpon them, yea and the cattes runne ouer their heades.

22 By this ye may be ſure that they are no D goddes, therefore feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue is to make them beautiful: for al that, except ſome body ſhyne of their ruſt they wyll geue no thing, and when they were caſt into a fourne, they feele it not.

24 They are bought for money, and haue no breath of lyfe within them.

25 They muſt be borne vppon mens ſhoulders as thoſe that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto menne that they be nothyng worth: confounded be they then that worſhyp them. Pſal. 114. a.

26 For ſ they fall to the grounde, they can not ryſe vp againe of them ſelues: Yea though one helpe them vp & ſet them right, yet are they not able to ſtande alone, but muſt haue props ſet vnder thē like dead menne.

27 As for the thing that is offred vnto them, their prieſtes ſel it, and abuſe it, yea the prieſtes wyues take therof: but vnto the ſicke and poore they geue nothing of it. E

28 The women with childe, and the menſtruous lay handes of their offeringes: By this ye may be ſure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

29 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods? becauſe women * ſit before the gods of ſilver, golde, and wood, * or, bring offers.

30 And the prieſtes ſit in their temples, hauyng * open clothes, whoſe heades and beardes are ſhaue, & haue nothyng vppon their heades, * or, rent.

31 Roaryng and cryeing vpon their gods, as menne doo at the feaſt when one is dead.

32 The prieſtes alſo take away the garmentes of the images, & decke their wyues and chyldren withal.

33 Whether it be good or euill that any man doo vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither ſet vp a king, nor put him downe.

34 In like manner, they may neither geue riches, nor rewarde cuyll: though a man make a vowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they wyl not require it. Eccle. 5. a.

35 They can ſaue no man from death, neyther deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They can not reſtore a blinde man to his ſight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can ſhewe no mercy to the wydow, nor doo good to the fatherleſſe.

38 Their gods of wood, ſtone, golde, and ſilver, are but euen as other ſtones that be hewen of the mountayne: they that worſhyp them, ſhalbe confounded.

39 How ſhould they then be taken for gods? yea, howe dare menne call them gods?

40 "And though the Chaldees worſhyped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and coulde not ſpeake: "or, reade, 40. The Chaldees alſo diſhonour them, the which, yf they ſhal ſee a dumbe one that can not ſpeak, doo preſent it to Bel, and doo require that it may ſpeake.

41 Yet

42 Yet they them selues offer vnto Bel, and wolde fayne haue him to speake: as who say they coulde feele that may not moove.

43 But when these menne come to vnderstanding, they shal forsake them, for theyr goddes haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women gird with cordes, sitte in the streetes, and burne * olive berries: Nowe yf one of them be conueyed away, and lye with suche as come by, she casteth her neighbours in y teeth, because she was not worthyly reputed, nor her corde broken.

44 What so euer is donne for them, it is but in vayne and lotte: Howe may it then be thought or saide that they are goddes?

45 Carpenters & Goldsmithes make them: neyther be they any other thing but euen what the workeman wyl make of them.

46 Yea the Goldsmithes them selues that make them, are of no long continuance: how shoulde then the thinges that are made of them be goddes?

47 Vayne therefore are the thinges, yea very shame is it that they leaue behinde them for their posteritie.

48 For as soone as there commeth any warre or plague vppon them, then y priestes imagine where they may hide them selues with them.

49 Howe can menne then thinke that they be goddes, whiche neyther may defende them selues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, (of stone) of siluer, and of gold, al people and kinges shal know hereafter, that they be but vaine thinges: yea it shalbe openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very workes of mens handes, and that God hath nothyng to doo with them.

51 It is manifest then that they are no gods, but the workes of mens handes, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in the land, nor geue raine vnto men.

53 They can geue no sentence of a matter, neither defende the lande from wrong: for they are not able to doo so muche as a crowe that fleeth betwixt heauen & earth.

54 When there happeneth a fire into the house of those goddes of wood, and siluer, and of golde, the priestes wyll escape and saue them selues, but the goddes burne as the balkes therein.

55 They can not withstande any king or batel: how may it then be thought or graunted that they be goddes?

56 Moreouer, these goddes of wood, of stone, of golde and siluer, may neyther defende them selues from theeues nor robbers.

57 Yea the very wicked are stronger then they: theft stripps them out of their apparel that they be clothed withal, these take their golde and siluer from them, and so geat them away, yet can they not helpe them selues.

58 Therefore it is muche better for a man to be a kyng, and so to shewe his power, or els a profitable dekel in a house, wherein he that oweth it might haue pleasure, yea or to be a doore in a house, to kepe such things safe as be therein: then to be such a dayne God.

59 The sunne, the moone, and al the starres, seeing they geue their shine and lyght, are obedient, and doo men good.

60 When y lightning glistreth, al is cleare.

61 The winde bloweth in euery countrey: and when God commaundeth the cloudes to go rounde about the whole world, they doo as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp hilles and woodes: but as for these goddes, they are not lyke one of these thinges, neyther in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore meane shoulde not thinke nor say that they be goddes, seeing they can neither geue sentence in iudgement, nor doo men good.

64 For so muche nowe as ye are sure that they be no goddes, then feare them not:

65 For they can neyther speake euil nor good of kinges.

66 They can shewe no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neyther shine as the sunne, nor geue lyght as the moone:

67 Yea the vnreasonable beastes are better then they: for they can geat them vnder the roofe, and doo them selues good.

68 So can ye be certified by no manner of meanes that they be goddes, therfore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrowe in a garden of hearbes keepeth nothing: euen so are they goddes of wood, of siluer, and golde.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euery birde sitteth vpon, yea like as a dead body that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with those goddes of wood, siluer, and golde.

71 By the purple and scarlet whiche they haue vpon them, and soone fadeth away, ye may vnderstande that they be no goddes: yea they them selues shalbe consumed at the last, whiche shalbe a great confusion of the lande.

72 * Blessed is the godly man that hath no images (and worshippeth none:) for he shal be farre from reproofe. * or, better.

24 AND they walked in the middes of the flame, prayſyng God, and magnifyng the Lorde.

26 Bleſſed be thou, O Lorde God of our fathers, ryght worthy to be prayſed and honoured is that name of thine for euermore:

27 For thou art righteous in all the thinges that thou haſt donne to vs, yea faithful are all thy woorkes, thy wayes are right, and al thy iudgementes true.

28 In al the thinges that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hieruſalem, thou haſt executed true iudgement: yea accordyng to ryght and equitie haſt thou brought al theſe thinges vpon vs, becauſe of our ſinnes.

The

¶ The storie of Susanna, whiche is the xiii. Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

1. The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 19. They take her alone in the garden. 20. They entice her to wyckednesse. 23. She chooseth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her lyfe. 34. She is accused. 45. Daniel doeth delyuer her. 62. The gouernours are put to death.

1 THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim,

2 That tooke a wyfe, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very fayre woman, and suche one as feared God.

2 Her father & mother also were good people, and taught theyr daughter accordyng to the lawe of Moyses.

4 Nowe Joacim (her husband) was a great riche man, and had a fayre orchard ioyning vnto his house: and to hym resorted the Iewes commonly, because he was a man of reputation among them.

5 The same yeere were there made two Iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, The wyckednesse of Babylon commeth from the elders (that is) from the Iudges which seeme to rule the people.

6 These came oft to Joacims house: and al suche as had any thyng to doo in the lawe, came thither vnto them.

7 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbandes orchard to walke.

8 The two elders seeing this, that she went in daily and walked, they burned for lust to her,

9 Yea, they were almost out of their wittes, and cast downe theyr eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember that God is a ryghteous iudge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neyther durst one shew another his greefe:

11 And for shame they durst not tel her their inordinate lust, that they would fayne haue had to doo with her:

12 Yet they layde wayte for her earnestly from day to day, that they might (at the least) haue a syght of her.

13 And the one sayde to the other, Vp, let vs goe home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went theyr way one from another.

14 When they returned agayne, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt them selues, yea, the one tolde the other of his wicked lust: Then appoynted they a tyme when they might take Susanna alone.

15 It happened also that they spyed out a conuenient tyme, when she went forth to walke, as her manner was, and no body with her but two maydens, and thought to washe her selfe in the garden: for it was an hot season. Exod. 14.

16 And there was not one person there, except the two elders that hadde hyd them selues to beholde her.

17 So he sayde to her maydens, Get me oyle and sope, and shut the orchard doore, that I may washe me.

18 And they dyd as he bade them, and shut the orchard doore, & went out them selues at a backe doore to fetch the thyng that he had commaunded: but Susanna knew not that the elders lay there hyd within. * or, but they saw not the elders, because they were hyd.

19 Nowe when the maydens were gone forth, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon her, saying, 20 Nowe the orchard doores are shut, that no mã can see vs, we haue a lust vnto thee, therefore consent vnto vs, and lye with vs.

21 If thou wylt not, we shal bring a testimonial agaynst thee, that there was a young felow with thee, and that thou hast sent away thy maydens from thee for thy same cause.

22 Susanna sighed, and sayde, Alas, I am in trouble on euery syde: though I folow your minde, it wyl be my death: and yf I consent not vnto you, I can not escape your handes.

23 Wel, it is better for me to fall into your handes without the deede doyng, then to synne in the syght of the Lorde.

24 And with that she cried out with a lowde voyce: the elders also cried out against her.

25 Then ranne there one to the orchards doore, and smote it open.

26 Nowe when the seruantes of the house heard the crie in the orchard, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what the matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the seruantes were greatly ashamed: for why? there was neuer suche a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morowe after came the people to Joacim her husbande, and the two elders came came ofte hir of nolichowus imaginations agaynſt Suſanna, to bring her vnto death.

59 And ſpake thoſe before the people, Sende for Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Joachims wyfe. And immediatly they ſent for her.
30 So ſhe came with her father and mother,
her children, and al her kinrede.
31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and maruelous fayre of face.
32 Therefore the wicked men commaunded to take her clothes from her face (for ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt they myght ſo be ſatiſfied in her beautie.
33 Then her freendes, yea and all they that knewe her, began to weepe.
34 Theſe two elders ſtood vp in the middes of the people, and layd their handes vppon
the head of Suſanna.
35 Which weapt, and looked vp toward heauen: for her hart had a ſure truſt in the Lord.
36 And the elders ſayde, As we were walkyng in the Orcharde alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whom ſhe ſent away from her, & ſparred the Orchard doores:
37 With that a young felowe whiche there was hyd, came vnto her, and lay with her.
38 As for vs, we ſtoode in a corner of the or-charde: and when we ſawe this wickednes, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them
as they were together.
39 But we coulde not holde him, for he was ſtronger then we. Thus he opened the dooze, and gate him away.
40 Nowe when we had taken this woman, we aſked her what young felowe this was,
but ſhe woulde not tel vs. This is the matter, and we be witneſſes of the ſame.
41 The common ſort beleeued them, as theſe that were the elders and iudges of the peple, and ſo they condemned her to death.
42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and ſaide, O euerlaſtyng God, thou ſear-cher of ſecrets, thou that knoweſt al things before they come to paſſe:
43 Thou woteſt that they haue boyne falſe witneſſe againſt me, and beholde I muſt dye, whereas I neuer did any ſuch things as theſe menne haue malitiouſly inuented againſt me.
44 And the Lorde heard her voyce.
45 For when ſhe was ledde forth to death, the Lorde raiſed vp the ſpirite of a young childe, whoſe name was Daniel, 46 Whiche cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from this blood.
47 Then al the people turned toward him, and ſaide, What meane theſe wordes that thou haſt ſpoken?
48 Daniel ſtood in the middes of them, and ſaide, Are ye ſuche fooles, O ye children of Iſrael, that ye can not diſcerne and knowe the truth? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, and knowe not the truth wherefore?
49 Get ſtite in iudgement againe: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt her.
50 Wherefore the people turned againe in al the haſte: and the elders (that is the principal leaders) ſaide vnto him, Come ſitte downe here among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeing God hath geuen thee as great honour as an elder.
51 And Daniel ſaide vnto them, Put theſe 2. Sam. 3. B two aſide one from an other, and then ſhal
I examine them.
52 When they were put a ſunder one from another, he called one of them, and ſayde vnto him, O thou olde rankard carle, that haſt vſed thy wickednes ſo long, thine vngratious deedes whiche thou haſt done afore, are nowe come to light.
53 For thou haſt geuen falſe iudgementes, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten
the giltie goe free: where as yet the Lorde ſayth, The innocent & righteous ſer thou Exod. 23. a.
ſlay not.
54 Wel then, yf thou haſt ſeene her, tell me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying together? He anſweared, vnder a
* Wulberie tree. * Or, a lentiſke tree.
55 And Daniel ſaide, Very well, nowe thou lyeſt euen vpon thyne head: lo, the meſſenger of the Lorde hath receiued the ſentence of him, to cut thee in two.
56 Then put he him aſide, and called for the other, and ſaide vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Iuda, fayrenes hath deceiued thee, & luſt hath ſubuerted thyne hart.
57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda woulde not abide your wickednes.
58 Nowe tell me then, vnder what tree dyd-ſt thou take them companying together? He anſweared, vnder a * Pomegranate tree. * Or, a pomegranate tree.
59 Then ſaide Daniel vnto him, Very wel, Or, a mirtil tree.
nowe thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thyne head:
the meſſenger of the Lorde ſtandeth waytyng with the ſwoorde to cut thee in two,
and ſlay you both.
60 With that al the whole multitude gaue a great ſhowte, and praiſed God, which al-way deliuereth the that put their truſt in Pſal. 17. a.
him.
61 And they came vpon the two elders, who Daniel hadde conuict with their owne mouth

mouth, that they had geuen falſe wytneſſe, 62 And dealt with them euen lykewyſe as they wouldē haue done with theyr neyghbours, yea they dyd accordyng to the lawe of Moſes, and put them to death: Thus Deut. 19. d. the innocent blood was ſaued ꝑ ſame day.
63 Then Helcias and his wyfe prayſed God for their daughter Suſanna, with Joachim her husbande, and all the kinred, that there was no dishoneſtie founde in her.
64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in ꝑ ſight of the people.
65 And king Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia raigned in his ſtede.

The ende of the ſtory of Suſanna.

The ſtory of Bell and of the Dragon, whiche is the fourtieth Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

1 DAniel dyd eate at the kings table, and was had in reuerence aboue all his frendes.
2 There was at Babylō an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie ſherpe, and ſixe great pottes of wine.
3 Him dyd the king worſhip him ſelfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worſhipped his owne God: and the king ſaid vnto him, Why doeſt not thou worſhyp Bel?
4 He anſwearedand ſaide, Becauſe I may not worſhyp thinges that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hath power vppon all fleſhe.
5 The king ſaide vnto him, Thinkeſt thou not that Bel is a liuing God? or ſeeſt thou not howe mucke he eateth and drinketh euery day?
6 Daniel ſmiled, and ſaide, O king deceiue not thee ſelfe: for this is but made of claye within, and of braſſe without, neither eateth he euer any thyng.
7 Then the king was wroth, and called for his prieſtes, and ſaide vnto them, If ye tel me not who is this that eateth vp theſe expences, ye ſhal dye:
Eccle. 30. c.
8 But yf ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhal dye: for he hath ſpoken blaſphemie agaynſt Bel. And Daniel ſayde vnto the king, Let it ſo be, accordyng as thou haſt ſayde.
9 The prieſtes of Bel were threeſcore and tenne, beſides their wyues and chyldren: And the kyng went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.
10 So Bels prieſtes ſaide, Loe, we wyll goe out: and ſet thou the meate there, O king, and powre in the wine, then ſhut the dooze faſt, and ſeale it with thyne owne ſignet:
11 And to morowe when thou comeſt in, yf thou findeſt not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we wyll ſuffer death; or els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.
12 The prieſtes thought them ſelues ſure ynough: for vnder the * aulter they hadde made a priuie entraunce, ꝑ there went they in euer, and dyd eate vp what there was. * or, table.
13 So when they were gone forth, ꝑ kyng ſet meates before Bel: Nowe Daniel had commaunded his ſeruants to bring aſhes, & theſe he * ſyfted throughout all the temple, that the king myght ſee: then went they out and ſparred the dooze, ſealing it with the kynges ſignet, and ſo departed. * or, ſtrewed.
14 In the night came the prieſtes, with their wyues and chyldren, as they were wont to doo, and dyd eate and drinke vp all.
15 In the morneyng betimes at the breake of the day the king aroſe, & Daniel with him.
16 And the king ſaide, Daniel, are the ſeales whole yet? He anſwearedPea, O kyng, they be whole.
17 Nowe as ſoone as he had opened ꝑ dooze, the king looked vnto the * aulter, and cryed with a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceipt. * or, table.
18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he ſhould not goe in, and ſaid, Beholde the pauement, marke wel, whoſe footeſteps are theſe?
19 The king ſaide, I ſee the footeſteppes of menne, women, and chyldren.
20 Therefore the king was angry, and tooke the prieſtes, with their wyues and chyldren: & they ſhewed him the priuie doozes where they came in, and dyd eate vp ſuche thinges as were vpon the aulter:
21 For the whiche cauſe the king ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, whiche deſtroyed him and his temple.
22 And in that ſame place there was a great Dragon, whiche they of Babylon worſhipped. D
Jere. 51. d. Eſai. 46.
23 And the king ſaide vnto Daniel, Sayeſt thou that this is but a God of braſſe alſo? Loe, he liueth, he eateth and drinketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay that he is no liuyng God: therefore worſhyp him.
24 Daniel ſaide vnto the king, I wyl worſhyp fyre the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuyng God: as for this, he is not the God of lyfe.

25 But geue me leaue, O kyng, and I shall destroy this Dragon without swoorde or staffe. The kyng sayde, I geue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitche, fat, and heare wool, and dyd seethe them together, and made lumpes thereof, this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel sayde, Lo, there is he whom ye woorshypped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and gathered them together against the kyng, saying, The kyng is become a Iewe, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the Dragon, and put the priestes to death.

28 So they came to the kyng, and sayde, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we wyl destroy thee, and thyne house.

29 Nowe when the kyng sawe that they rushed in so soare vpon hym, & that necessitie constreyned hym, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

30 Whiche cast him into the Lions denne, where he was sixe dayes.

31 In the denne there were seuen Lions, and they had geuen them euery day two bodyes, and two sheepe: which then were not geuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a prophete called Habacuc, whiche had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was goeing into the feeld for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the angel of the Lord sayd vnto Habacuc, Goe carie the meate that thou hast, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche is in the Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc sayde, Lord, I neuer sawe Babylon, & as for the denne I know it not.

35 Then the angel of the Lorde tooke hym by the toppe, and bare hym by the heare of the head, and through a mightie winde set hym in Babylon vpon the denne. F Ezech.8.8

36 And Habacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, thou seruant of God, haue take the * breakfast that God hath sent thee. 1.Reg.17.8 * or, dinner

37 And Daniel sayde, O God, hast thou thought vpon me? wel, thou neuer forsakest them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel arose, and dyd eate. And the angel of the Lord set Habacuc in his owne place againe immediately.

39 Vpon the seuenth day, the kyng went to bewepe Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel sate (in the middest of the Lions.)

40 Then cried the kyng with a loud voyce, saying, Great art thou, O lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee. G

41 And he drew him out of the Lions denne, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face. Ierr.17.b

42 After this, wrote the kyng vnto all people, kynreds, and tongues, that dwelt in al countreys,

43 Saying, Peace be multiplied with you: My commaundement is in al the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuing God, whiche endureth euer:

44 His kyngdome abydeth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting.

45 He is he that can deliuer & saue, he worth woonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

The prayer of Manasses king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lorde almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and of the ryghteous seede of them, whiche hast made heauen and earth, with al the ornament thereof, whiche hast * ordeyned the sea by the woorde of thy commaundement, whiche hast shut vp the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearful and laudable name, whiche al men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the greatnesse of thy threatnyng, the whiche is insupportable to sinners, but the mercie of thy promise is great and vnsearchable for thou art the Lorde God most hygh aboue al the earth, long suffering, and exceedyng mercyful, and repentant vpon the malice of men: thou Lorde after thy goodnesse hast promised repentance of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the God of the ryghteous, hast not put repentance to the ryghteous Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the sandes of the sea, and thy wyne iniquities are multiplied, I am * humbled with many bandes of yron, and there is in me no breathyng, I haue prouoked thyne anger, and haue donne euyl before thee, in committing abominations, and multiplied offences: and nowe I bowe the knees of my hart, requyryng goodnesse of thee, O Lorde. I haue sinned Lorde, I haue sinned, and knowe myne iniquitie. I beseche thee by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me, forgeue me, and destroy me not with myne iniquities, neyther doe thou alwayes remember myne euyll to punishe them: but saue me (whiche am vnworthie) after thy great mercie, and I wyl prayse thee euerlastyngly al the dayes of my lyfe: for al the power of heauen prayseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glorie, worlde without ende. Amen. * or, bounde the sea. * or, crooked.

The. 70. weekes foreshewed. Dani. 9

THE angel of the Lord sent to Daniel, sayd, that it was. 70. weekes of yeres, that is to say, 70. tymes seuen, whiche commeth to. 490. from the goyng fooryh of the commaundemente that Hierusalem shoulde be buylded agayne and restored, vntyll Christe the Prince. This commaundement was geuen fooryh by the mouth of Darius longhand, monarche of the Persians, the yere of his raigne, as it is wrytten in Nehemias. 2. Therfore the sayde. 70. weekes ought to begynne there, though al agree not therein: for some begynne it in the. 2. yere of the sayde Darius other, the fyrst yere of Cyrus. So that from the begynnyng of the sayde weekes, tyl the tyme that Alexander wurped the monarchie, we recken. 4. yeres and. 18. weekes, whiche maketh. 130. yeres. To shewe the verifying of the sayde weekes, accordyng to the aforesayde prophecie of Daniel the. 9. we wyl proportion them with the yeres in which the kynges of Syria (set here in order on the ryght syde) haue ended their kingdome each of them in order.

The monarchie of the Grekes.

ALexander the great, sonne to Philip king of Macedo. conquered the monarchie of the Persians from Darius, the. 192. yere of Cyrus the fyrste monarche, and transported it to the Grekes; he raigned syxe whole yeres, and the seuenth dyed, leauyng diuers successours, to whom he diuided the sayde monarchie before his death, that is, the kyngdomes of Syria, Asia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We wyl here treate of his successours the kynges of Syria onely, because the Scripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the supputation of the yeres by the tyme that the sayde kynges raigned, begynnyng at the fyrst, as appeareth in the fyrst booke of Machabees. And we wyll orderly set their names, and the time that eache of them hath raigned, to conferre them with the number of the weekes placed on the left syde of this Table, to the ende the sayde weekes may be verified, and that the prophecie of Daniel may be playnely vnderstoode, touchyng the commyng and death of our Sauiour Christe.

5 And subdued the lands and people, with theyr princes, so that they became tributaries vnto hym,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceiued that he must needes dye, 20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the lande of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned agayne in the hundred fourtie and three yeere, and went towarde Israel,

D

22 And came vp to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and toke away the golden aulter, the candlestycke, and all the ornamentes thereof, the table of the shewe bread, the pouryng vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the vayle, the crownes, & golden apparel of the temple, & brake downe al in peeces.

24 He tooke also the syluer and golde, the precious iewels, and the secrete treasures that he founde.

25 And when he had taken away altogether, caused a great murder of menne, and spoken very proudely, he departed vnto his owne lande.

26 Therefore there was great lamentation throughout al Israel.

27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the young menne and the maydens were * defiled, and the fayre beautie of women was changed,

1.Mac.1.

31 Speaking peaceable woordes vnto them, but al was deceypt: for when they had geuen hym credence,

32 He

32 He fell sodenly vpon the citie, and smote it sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.
33 And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fyre on it, casting downe houses & walles one euery syde.
34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and ledde away theyr cattel.
35 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towers, and made it a strong hold for them.
36 Besides al this, they set wicked people, and ungodly men to keepe it, 37 Seased it with weapons and victuailles, gathered the goodes of Hierusalem, and layde them vp there: thus became it a theeues castel.
38 Thus they became a heauy burden, laying waite for the people that went into the sanctuarie, and for the cruel destruction of Israel.
39 Thus they shedde innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuarie, and defiled it:
40 Insomuche, that the citezins were faine to depart, and the citie became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.
41 Her sanctuarie was greate wasted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her sabbothes were had in derision, and her honour brought to nought.
42 (k) Looke howe great her glory was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioy turned into sorowe.
43 Antiochus also the king sent out a commission vnto al his kingdome, that all the people shoulde be one.
44 Then they leaft euery man his law, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundement of king Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented therunto, offering vnto idols, and defiling the sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to all the cities of Iuda, that they shoulde folowe the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbad the whole burnt offering, meate offryng, or peace offring to be made in the temple of God, and that there should no sabboth nor high feast day be kept:
48 But commaunded that the sanctuarie & the holy people of Israel should be defiled:
49 He commaunded also, that there shoulde be set vp aulters, temples, and idols, to offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,
50 That menne shoulde leaue their children vncircumcised, to defile their soules with all maner of vncleanesse and abominations:
51 That they might so forget the lawe, and change al the holy ordinances of God, 52 And that whosoeuer woulde not doo according vnto the commaundement of kyng Antiochus, shoulde suffer death.
53 In like maner commaunded he throughout al his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to doo these thinges:
54 Commaunding all the cities of Iuda to doo sacrifice (vnto idols.)
55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsooke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed muche euil in the lande:
56 And they droue the Israelites into secrete places, euen whersoeuer they coulde flee for succour.
57 The fiftienth day of the moneth * Caslen, in the hundred three score and fift yere, set king Antiochus an abominable idol of desolation vppon the aulter of God, and they builded aulters throughout all the cities of Iuda on euery side, * Nouember.

59 And as for the bookes of the law of God, they (l) burnt them in the fyre, & rent them in peeces. Iere.36.c (l) It is a manifest note of the enimies of God, to burne the bookes of the lawe. Hist.eccles. iasti.li.8. Cap.2.
60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testamente of the Lorde founde by him, yea who so euer endeuoured him selfe to keepe the lawe of the Lord, the kings commaundement was, that they shoulde put him to death.
61 And thiough his auctoritie they executed these thinges euery moneth, vppon the people of Israel that were founde in the cities.
62 The twentie & fifth day of the moneth, what tyme as they dyd sacrifice vppon the aulter, whiche stoode in the steade of the aulter of the Lorde:
63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certaine women to death, whiche had caused their children to be circumcised:
64 Not onely that, but they hanged vp the children by the neckes throughout al their houses, and slue the circumcisers of them:
65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, which determined in them selues that they would not eate vncleane things: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defyled with vncleane meates:
66 So because they would not breake the blessed lawe of god, they were cruelly slaine.
67 And this great tyrannie encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

The.ii. Chapter.

The Mournyng of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie.

A 1 IN those dayes there dyd stande vp one Mathathias the sonne of John, ꝑ sonne of Simeon the priest, out of the kinrede of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,

2 And had fiue sonnes: John called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thak,

4 Judas, otherwise called Machabeus,

5 Eleazer, otherwise called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.

6 These sawe the euyl that was donne among the people of Juda and Hierusalem.

7 And Mathathias sayde, Wo is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this miserie of my people, and the piteous destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so still, it being deliuered into the handes of the enimies.

B 8 Her sanctuarie is come into the power of strangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:

9 Her pretious ornamentes are caryed away captiue, her olde menne are slayne in the streetes, and her young menne are fallen through the swoorde of the enimies.

10 What people is it that hath not some possession in her kingdome? or who hath not gotten some of her spoyles?

11 All her glory is taken away, she was a free woman, and nowe she is become an handmayde.

12 Beholde our sanctuarie, our beautie and honour is wasted away, and defiled by the Gentiles.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

C 14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackecloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

15 Then came the menne thyther, whiche were sent of kyng Antiochus to compel suche as were fled into the citie of Modin for to doo sacrifice, & to burne incense vnto idols, and to forsake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remayned stedfast.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of kyng Antiochus, and sayde vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many fayre children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfyll the kynges commaundement, like as all the heathen haue donne, yea, and the menne of Juda, and such as remayne at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children be in the kinges fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.

19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though al nations obey the king Antiochus, ꝑ fal away euery man frō keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commaundementes:

20 (a) Yet wyl I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from ꝑ lawes of our fathers, 21 GOD forbidde we shoulde: that were not good for vs that we shoulde forsake the lawe and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus.

22 Therefore we wyl doo no suche sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our lawe, to goe another way.

23 And when he had spoken these woordes, there came one of ꝑ Jewes, whiche openly in the sight of all dyd sacrifice vnto the idols vpon the aulter in ꝑ citie of Modin, accordyng to the kinges commaundement.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieued (b) him at the hart, so that his reynes shoke withal, and his wrath kyndled for very zeale of the law: with that he start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the aulter.

25 Yea and slue the kinges Commissioner that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the aulter at the same tyme:

26 Suche a zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, lyke as Phinehes dyd vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loude voyce through the citie, saying, Who is feruent in the law, and wyl keepe the couenant, let him folowe me.

28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaynes, and left al that euer they had in the citie. E

29 Many other godly menne also whiche lined iustly and vprightly, departed into the wyldernesse, with their children, their wyues, and their cattell, and remayned there: for the tyrannie increased sore vpon them.

30 Nowe when the kinges seruantes, and the host whiche was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certayne menne had broken the kinges commaundement, and were gonne their way to the wyldernesse into secrete places:

31 Then many pursued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped themselues, and set the batayle in aray agaynst them in the sabboth day, 32 And saide vnto them, Wyll ye yet rebell? Geat you hence, and doo the commaundement of king Antiochus, and ye shall liue.

33 Then

(a) The father promiseth for his children that they shal serue God, to do Iosue for his housholde Iosue, xxiiii

33 They answeared, We wyl not goe (for thee) neither will we do the kinges commaundement, to defile the sabboth day.
34 Then began they to fight against them:
35 But the other gaue them none other answeare, neyther cast they one stone at them, nor made fast theyr priuie places:
36 But sayde, We wyl dye al in our innocencie, heauen and earth shall testifie with vs that ye put vs to death wrongfully.
37 Thus they fought agaynst them vpon the Sabboth, and slue both men & cattel, theyr wiues and theyr chyldren, to the number of a thousande people.
38 When Mattathias & his frendes heard this, they mourned for them right soare, 39 And sayde one to another, If so be that we all do as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our lines, and for our lawes against the heathen, then shal they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.
40 So they concluded among them selues at the same tyme, saying,
41 What so euer he be that cõmeth to make batayle with vs vpon the Sabboth day, we wyl fight against hym, and not dye all as our brethren that were murthered in the wyldernesse.
42 Upon this came the assemblie of the Asideans vnto them, whiche were of the strongest menne in Israel, and al suche as were feruent in the lawe:
43 And al they that were fled for persecution came to helpe them, & to stand by them:
44 In so muche that they gathered an hoast of menne, and slue the wicked doers in their gelousie, and the vngodly menne in their wrath: but the rest fledde vnto the heathen, and escaped.
45 Then Mathathias & his frendes went about, and destroyed the aulters, 46 And circumcised the chyldren that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they founde within the coastes of Israel:
47 And followed myghtyly vpon the proude menne: and this act prospered in theyr handes, 48 In so muche that they kept the lawe against the power of the gentiles and the kynges, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.
49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias shoulde dye, he sayde vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pryde and persecution increased, nowe is the tyme of destruction and wrathful displeasure:
50 Wherefore O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieopарde your liues for the testament of the fathers.
51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers dyd in their time, so shall ye receiue great honour, and an euerlastyng name.

59 Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, remayned stedfast in fayth, and were deliuered out of the fyre. Dan.3.c.
60 In like manner Daniel being vngiltie, was saued from the mouth of the Lions. Dan.6.c. Hebr.11.b.
61 And thus ye may consyder throughout al ages since the worlde began, that whosoeuer put their trust in God, were not ouercome.
62 Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodly man, for his glory is but doung and wormes: Mat.10.b. Esai.40.a. and. 51.c.

64 Wherefore, O my sonnes, take good harts vnto you, and quite your selues like men in the lawe: for by ye do the thynges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the Lorde your GOD, ye shal obteine great honour therein. Psal.26.c.
65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wysedome: see that ye geue eare vnto hym alway, he shalbe a father vnto you.
66 As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer ben mightie and strong from his youth vp: let him be your captayne, and order the battayle of the people.
67 Thus shal ye dyng vnto you al those that fauour the lawe, and see that ye auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompence the heathen agayne, and apply your selues wholly to the commaundement of the lawe.
69 So he gaue them his blessing, and was layde by his fathers,
70 And dyed in the hundred fourtie and fiue yeere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and al Israel made great lamentation for him.

The. iii. Chapter.

I. Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. II. He kylleth Appollonius and Seron the princes of Syria.

A 1 Then stoode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers steade, Iosephus, cap. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. Lat.

2 And al his brethren helped him, and so dyd all they that helde with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Judas gate his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a Giant, and arayed him selfe with his harnesse, and defended the host with his sworde.

Psal. 101. b. 2. Mac. 8. a.

4 In his actes he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe roaring at his pray.

5 He was an enimie to the wicked, and hunted them out, and brent vp those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enimies fled for feare of him, and al the workers of vngodlynesse were put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperitie was in his hande.

B 7 This grieued diuers kinges: but Jacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, and he gate him selfe a great name for euer.

8 He went through the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turnyng away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receiuing suche as were oppressed: and the fame of hym went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Appolonius (a prince of Syria) gathered a mightie great host of the heathen, & out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Whiche when Judas perceiued, he went forth to meete him, fought with him, slue him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fled, and he toke their substance.

12 Judas also toke Appollonius owne sword, and fought with it al his life long.

13 Nowe when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, hearde say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation and church of the faythful.

14 He sayde, I wyl get me a name and a prayse throughout the realme: for I wyl goe fyght with Judas and them that are with hym, as many as haue despised the kynges commaundement.

15 So he made hym redy, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly to stande by hym, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when they came nygh vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a smal company.

17 And when his people sawe suche a great host before them, they sayde vnto Judas, Howe are we able, beyng so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeyng we be so weery, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayd, It is a smal matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company: 1. Reg. 14.

19 For the victorie of the battayle standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Behold, they come against vs with a cruel and proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs: 2. Chr. 20.

21 But we wyl fight for our liues, and for D our lawes, 22 And the Lord him selfe shal destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these wordes, he lept sodenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flyght, 24 And Judas followed vpon them beyonde Bethoron, vnto the playne feelde, where there were slayne eyght hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the lande of the Philistines.

25 Then all the heathen on every side were afrayde of Judas and his brethren:

26 So that the * rumour of hym came vnto the kynges eares, for al the Gentiles coulde tel of the warres of Judas. * Or, fame.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tydynges, he was angry in his minde: wherfore he sent foorth, and gathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his E host a yeeres wages in hande, commaundyng them to be redy at al tymes.

29 Neuertheleese, when he sawe that there was not money ynough in his treasuries, and that through the discorde and persecution whiche he made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had ben of old times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:

30 He feared that he was not able for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue suche gyftes to geue so liberally as he did afore, more then the kynges that were before hym.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his minde, 1. Mac. 6. and thought to goe vnto Perslos, for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather mucke money.

32 So he left Lysias, a noble man of the kynges blood, to ouersee the kynges busynesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe wel his sonne Antiochus tyl he came agayne.

34 More-

34 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoſt, and Elephantes, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of all thinges that he would haue donne, concerning thoſe whiche dwelt in Iuda and Hieruſalem:

35 That he ſhoulde ſend out an armie againſt them, to deſtroy and to roote out the power of Iſrael, and the remnant of Hieruſalem, to put out their memoriall from that place:

36 To ſet ſtrangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and to parte their lande among them.

37 Thus the kyng tooke the other parte of the hoſt, and departed from Antioche, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie and ſeuen yeere, & went through the hygh countreys, 38 And Lyſias choſe vnto him Ptolome the ſonne of Dozymmius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men, and the kinges freendes.

39 Theſe he ſent with fourtie thouſande footemen, and ſeuen thouſande horſemen, for to goe into the lande of Iuda, and to deſtroy it, as the kyng commaunded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne feelde.

41 When the marchantes of the countrey hearde the rumour of them, they and their ſeruantes tooke very much ſiluer and gold, for to buye the chyldren of Iſrael to be their bondmenne: there came vnto them alſo yet moe menne of warre en euery ſide, out of Syria, and from the Paleſtines.

42 Nowe when Iudas and his brethren ſawe that trouble increaſed, and that the hoſt drue nygh vnto their borders, conſidering the kinges words which he commaunded vnto the people (namely) that they ſhould vtterly waſt and deſtroy them:

43 They ſayde one to another, Let vs redreſſe the decay of our people, let vs fyght for our folke, and for our ſanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were ſoone ready geathered to fyght, to pray, and to make ſupplication vnto GOD for mercie and grace.

45 As for Hieruſalem it laye voyde, and was as it had benne a wylderueſſe: there went no man in nor out at it, and the ſanctuarie was troden downe, the aliantes kept the caſtle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the myrth of Iacob was taken away, the pype and the harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Iſraelites geathered them togeather, and came to Maſpha before Hieruſalem: for in Maſpha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Iſrael.

47 So they faſted that day, and put ſackecloathes vpon them, caſt aſhes vpon their heades, rent their clothes,

48 And layde forth the bookes of the lawe, wherevnt the heathen ſought to paynt the lykeneſſe of their images,

49 And brought the prieſtes ornamentes, the firſtlinges, and the tithes: they ſet there alſo the Nazarites, whiche had accompliſhed their vowes before God:

50 And cryed with a loude voyce towarde heauen, ſayeing, What ſhal we doo with theſe? and whyther ſhall we cary them away?

51 For thy ſanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, the prieſtes are comme to heauineſſe and diſhonour.

52 And beholde, the heathen are comme togeather for to deſtroy vs: thou knoweſt what thinges they imagine againſt vs.

53 Howe may we ſtande before them, except thou (O God) be our helper?

54 Then they blewe out the trumpet alſo with a loude voyce.

55 Then Iudas ordeyned captaynes ouer the people, ouer thouſandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fyftie, and ouer tenne.

56 But as for ſuche as buylded them houſes, marryed wyues, planted them vineyardes, and thoſe that were fearefull, he commaunded them euery man to goe home againe, according to the lawe.

57 So the hoaſt remoued, and pitched vpon the South ſyde of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas ſayde, Arme your ſelues, be ſtrong, O my chyldren, make you ready againſt to morowe in the morneng, that ye may fyght with theſe people, which are agreed togeather to deſtroy vs and our ſanctuarie:

59 Better is it for vs to dye in batayle, then to ſee our people and our ſanctuarie in ſuch a miſerable caſe.

60 Neuertheleſſe, as thy wyl is, O God in heauen, ſo be it.

Iudas goeth againſt Gorgias, which lyeth in wayte.

1 THen tooke Gorgias fyue thouſande menne of foote, and a thouſand of the beſt horſemen, and remoued out of the campe by nyght, ned, and all the strong menne that were with him, to smyte the cheefe and principal of the kinges host at Emmaus:

4 For ỹ armie was not yet come togeather.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by nyght into Judas tentes, and when he founde no man there, he sought them in the mountaynes, and thought they hadde ben fled away because of him.

6 But when it was day, Judas shewed him selfe in the feelde with three thousand men onely, whiche had neyther harnesse, nor swoordes to their mindes.

B 7 But on the other syde they sawe that the Heathen were mighty and wel harnessed, and their horsemen about them, & all these wel expert in feates of warre.

8 Then said Judas to the menne that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of thē, be not afrayd of their violent running.

Exod.14.f. 9 Remember howe our fathers were delivered in the red sea, when Pharao folowed vpon them with a great host.

10 Euen so let vs also crye nowe towarde heauen, and the Lorde shal haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea and destroy this host before our face this day:

11 And all the heathen shall knowe that it is God him selfe whiche delivereth & saueth Israel.

12 Then the heathen lyft vp their eyes, and when they sawe that they were comming agaynst them,

13 They went out of their tentes into the batayle, and they that were with Judas

C blewe vp the trumpettes.

2.Mac.7.d. 14 So they buckled tograther, and the heathen were discomfyted, and fledde ouer the playne feelde:

15 But the hindmoste of them were slayne with the swoorde: for they folowed them or, Gazeron. vnto Assaremoth, and into the feeldes of Idumea toward Azot and Jamnia: so that there were slayne of them vppon a three thousande men.

16 So Judas turned agayne with his host,

17 And sayd vnto the people, Be not greedy of the spoiles, we haue yet a bataile to fight.

18 For Gorgias and his host are here by vs in the mountaines, but stand ye fast against our enimies, and ouercome them, then may ye safely take the spoyles.

19 As Judas was speaking these woordes, beholde there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias sawe that they of his partie were fledde, and the tentes brent vp (for by the smoke they myght vnderstande what was donne) they perceauyng this, were very sore afrayde:

21 And when they sawe also that Judas and his hoast were in the feelde ready to D stryke batayle, 22 They fledde every one into the lande of the heathen.

23 So Judas turned agayne to spoyle the tentes, where they gate muche golde and syluer, precious stones, purple, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and song a psalme of thankesgeuing, and praysed God in hea- Psal.107.c dureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 Now all the heathen that escaped, came & tolde Lysias euery thing that had happed.

27 Wherefore Lysias was soare afrayde, and greeued in his minde, because Israel had not gotte such misfortune as he would they shoulde, neyther as the kyng commaunded.

28 The nexte yeere folowyng, geathered E Lysias three score thousande chosen men of foote, and fyue thousande horsemenne, to fyght agaynst Hierusalem.

29 So they came into Jurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethzor: where Judas came agaynst them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he sawe so great and mighty I.Sam.17.a an host, he made his prayer, and sayde, I.Sa.14.b
Blessed be thou O sauiour of Israel, whiche dydst destroy the violent power of the gyant in the hande of thy seruant Dauid, and gauest the host of the heathen into the hande of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, and of his harnesse bearer:

31 Put this host nowe into the hande of thy people of Israel, and let them be confounded in their multitude and horsemen.

32 Make them afrayde, and discomfyte the boldnesse of their strength, that they maye be mooued through their destruction.

33 Cast them downe through the swoorde of thy louers, then shal al they that knowe thy name, prayse thee with thankesgeuing.

34 So they stroke the batayle, & there were slayne of Lysias host fyue thousand men.

35 Then Lysias seeing the discomfyting of his men, and the manlynesse of the Jewes, howe they were ready eyther to lyue or to dye lyke menne: he went vnto Antioch, and chooste out menne of warre, that when they were geathered togeather, they myght come agayne into Jurie.

36 Then saide Judas & his brethren, Beholde our enimies are discomfyted, let vs now goe vp to cleanse & to repayre the sanctuarie.

37 Vpon

37 Upon this al the holt geathered them togeather, and went vp into mount Sion.
38 Now when they sawe the sanctuarie layd waste, the aulter defiled, the doores brent vp, the shrubbes growyng in the courtes, like as in a wood, or vpon mountaines, yea, and that the priestes chambers were broken downe:
39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, caste ashes vpon their heades, 40 Fell downe flatte to the grounde vpon their faces, made a great noyse with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.
6 41 Then Iudas appoynted certaine men to fyght against those whiche were in the castle, tyl they had cleansed the sanctuarie.
42 So he chose priestes that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:
43 And they cleansed the sanctuarie, & bare out ỹ defiled stones into an vncleane place.
44 And for so muche as the aulter of burnt offerynges was vnhalowed, he toke aduisement what he might doo withal:
45 So he thought it was best to destroy it, lest it should happen to do them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therefore they brake it downe.
46 As for the stones they layde them vp vp-on the mountayne by the house in a conuenient place, til there came a prophet to shew what should be done with them.
Exo.20.d. Deu.27.a. Ios.8.g. 47 So they tooke whole stones accordyng to the law, and builded a newe aulter, suche one as was before,
48 And made vp ỹ sanctuarie within & without, and halowed the houses & the courtes:
49 They made newe holy ornamentes, and brought the candlesticke, the aulter of incense, and the table into the temple.
50 The incense laide they vpon the aulter, and lyghted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they myght burne in the temple:
51 They set the shewe bread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, and finished al the 52 And vpon the twentie & fifth day of the neth of * Casleu) in the hundred, fourtie, and eyght yeere:

53 They rose vp betymes in the mornyng, for to doo sacrifice accordyng to the lawe, vppon the newe burnt offeryng aulter that they had made.
54 After the tyme and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set vp agayne, with songes, pypes, harpes, and cymbales.
55 And all the people fel vpon their faces, worshyppyng & thankyng the God of heauen, whiche had geuen them the victorie.
56 So they kept the dedication of the aul- 2.Thes.2.b and thanke offerynges with gladnesse:

57 They decke the forefrunt of the temple also with crownes and shieldes of gold, and halowed the portes and celles, and hanged doores vpon them.
58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, because the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.
59 So Iudas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeyned, Iohn.10.c.

Casleu with myrth and gladnesse.
60 And at the same time builded they vp the mount Sion, with high walles, and strong towres round about, lest the gentiles should come & treade it downe as they dyd afore.
61 Therefore Iudas set men of warre in it, 1.Mac.6.b.
to keepe it, and made it strong for to defend Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge agaynst the Edomites.

The.v. Chapter.

Iudas vanquisheth the heathen that goe about to destroye Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

1 IT happened also, that when the heathen A

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the ge- Ezech.25.b

so muche that they began to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.
3 Then Iudas fought agaynst the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabathane: for they dwelt rounde about the Israelites, where he slue and spoiled a great multitude of them.
4 He thought also vpon the malice and vn-faythfulnesse of the chyldren of Bean, howe they were a snare and stop vnto the people, and howe they layde wayte for them in the high way:
5 Wherefore he shut them vp into towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, and brent vp their towres, with al that were in them.
6 Afterwarde went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he found a myghtie power, and a great multitude of people with Timothi their captayne.
7 So he stroke many battayles with them, B whiche were destroyed before hym.
8 And when he had slayne them, he wanne
Gazer

Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad geathered them togeather against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slaye them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters vnto Iudas & his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are geathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs,

11 And nowe they make them ready for to come and laye siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothi is captayne of their host:

12 Comme therefore and deliuer vs out of their handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne already.

13 Yea and our brethren that were at Tubin are slayne and destroyed, welnygh a thousande men, and their wyues, their children, and their goodes, haue the enimies ledde away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a readyng, beholde there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which tolde euen the same tydynges, 15 And sayd, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were geathered against them, and that al Galilee was filled with enimies to destroy Israel.

16 When Iudas and the people heard this, they came togeather a great congregation, to deuise what they myght do for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enimies.

17 And Iudas sayde vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certaine men, and go, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Ionathas, we wyl goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he leaft Iosephus the sonne of Zachari, and Azarias, to be captaynes of the people, to keepe the remnant of the host in Iurie, 19 And commaunded them, sayeing, Take the ouersyght of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntyll the tyme that we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men for to goe into Galilee: but Iudas him selfe had eyght thousand in Galaaditim.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battayles with the heathen, whom he discomfited, 22 And folowed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousand men.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caryed away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with their wyues, their children, and al that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse.

24 Iudas Machabeus also, and his brother Ionathas, went ouer Iordane, and trauayled three dayes iourney in the wyldernesse:

25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receyued them louingly, and told them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (al these are strong walled and mighty great cities,)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appoynted to bryng their host vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroye them in one day.

28 So Iudas and his host turned in all the haste in the wyldernesse toward Bosor, and wanne the citie, slue all the males with the swoorde, tooke al their goodes, and set fire vpon the citie:

29 And in the nyght they tooke their iourney from thence, and came to the castle,

30 And betymes in the morowyng when they looked vp, beholde there was an innumerable people bearyng ladders and other instrumentes of warre, to take the castle, and to ouercome them.

31 When Iudas saw that the batayle began, and that the noyse thereof went vp vnto the heauen, and that there was so great a crye in the citie,

32 He sayde vnto his host, Fyght this daye for your brethren:

33 And so came behynde their enimies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpets, and cryed in their prayer to God.

34 But so soone as Timotheus host perceyued that Machabeus was there, they fled from hym: and he slue them downe right sore, so that there were kylled of them the same day almost eyght thousand men.

35 Then departed Iudas vnto Malpha, layde siege vnto it, and wanne it, slue al the males in it, spoyled it, and set fyre vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Casbon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After this geathered Timothi another host, whiche pitched their tentes before Raphon, beyonde the water.

38 Iudas also sent to spye the host, and they brought hym woorde agayne, sayeing, All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are geathered vnto hym, and the host is very great:

39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, & haue pitched their tentes beyonde ponde the water, and are redie to come and fyght agaynſt thee. So Judas went on to meete them.

40 And Timothi ſayd vnto the captaynes of his hoſt, When Judas and his hoſt comenygh the ryuer, yf he goe ouer fyrſt, we ſhal not be able to withſtande him: for why? he wyl be to ſtrong for vs.

41 But yf he dare not come ouer, ſo that he pytche his tent beyonde the water: then wil we goe ouer, for we ſhalbe ſtrong ynough agaynſt him.

42 Nowe as ſoone as Judas came to the riuer, he appoynted certayne ſcribes of the people by the ryuer, & commaunded them, ſaying, See that ye leaue none behynde vpon this ſide of the ryuer, but let euery man come to the batayle.

43 So he went firſt ouer vnto them, and al his people after him, and all the heathen were diſcomfited before him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnaim, 44 Whiche citie Judas wanne, and brent the temple, with al that were in it: So was Carnaim ſubdued, and myght not withſtande Judas.

45 Then Judas geathered al the Iſraelites that were in Galaaditim, from the leaſt vnto the moſte, with their wyues and their children, a very great hoſt, for to come into the lande of Iſrael.

Nu.7.4. 46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a myghtie great and ſtrong citie, and lay in their way: for they could not goe by it, neyther on the ryght hande, nor on the left, but muſt goe through it.

47 Neuertheleſſe, they that were in the citie wouldo not let them goe through, but walled vp the portes with ſtones: and Judas ſent vnto them with peaceable woordes, ſaying, 48 Let vs paſſe through your lande, that we may goe into our owne countrey, there ſhal no body doo you harme, we wyl but onely goe through on foote. But they wouldo not let them in.

49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoſt, that euery man ſhoulde aſſaulte the citie in his order.

Nu.10. 50 And ſo they dyd their beſt, lyke valiant men: and Judas beſieged the citie al that day, and al that nyght, and ſo wanne it:

51 Where they ſlue as many as were males with the edge of the ſwoorde, and deſtroyed the citie, and ſpoyled it, and went through al the citie ouer them that were ſlayne.

52 Then went they ouer Jordane into the playne feelde before Bethſan.

53 And Judas helped thoſe forwarde that came behynde, and gaue the people good exhortation al the way through, tyl they were come into the lande of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offeryngs with mirth and thankeſgeuyng, becauſe there were none of them ſlayne, but came home agayne peaceably. 2.Thy.20.a

55 Nowe what tyme as Judas and Jonathas were in the lande of Galaad, and Simon they brother in Galilee before Ptolemais:

56 Then Joſephus the ſonne of Zachari, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the actes that were donne, and of the battels that were ſtricken, ſayde, G

57 Let vs get vs a name alſo, and goe fyght agaynſt the Heathen that are rounde about vs.

58 So they gaue they hoſte a commaundement, and went towarde Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his menne out of the citie to fight agaynſt them:

60 Joſephus alſo and Azarias were chaſed vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were ſlayne that day of the people of Iſrael two thouſande menne: ſo that there was a great miſerie among the people of Iſrael, 1.Mac.5.b.

61 And al becauſe they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they ſhoulde quite them ſelues manfully.

62 Neuertheleſſe they came not of the ſeede of theſe men by whom Iſrael was helped.

63 But the menne that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the ſight of al Iſrael, and al the Heathen wherſoeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought agaynſt the children of Eſau, in the land that lyeth toward the South, where he wan the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beſide it: and as for the walles and towres rounde about it, he brent them vp.

66 Then remooued he to goe into the lande of the * Philiſtines, and went through Samaria. * or, ſtrangers.

67 At the ſame tyme were there (many) prieſtes ſlayne in the battel, whiche wylfully and without aduiſement went out for to fight to get them honour. Deut.6.a.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philiſtines lande, he brake downe they aulters, brent the images of they idolles, ſpoyled they cities, and came agayne into the lande of Juda.

The.vi.Chapter.

Antiochus wyllyng to take the citie of Elimais for a pray, is dryuen awaye of the citizens.

1 NOwe when kyng Antiochus trauayled throughe the hygh countreyes, he heard̄e that Elimais in Perſia was a noble and plenteous citie in ſiluer & gold,
2 And that there was in it a very riche temple, wherein were clothes, coate armoures, and ſhieldes of golde, whiche Alexander the ſonne of Philip kyng of Macedonia that raigned fyrſt in Grecia had left behind him.
3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to ſpoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.
4 And ſo he fled, and departed with great heauineſſe, and came againe into Babylon.
5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tydynges in Perſia, that his hoſtes which were in the lande of Iuda were dryuen away:
1.Mach.3.c
6 And howe that Lyſias went forth firſte with a great power, and was dryuen awaye of the Iewes, howe that they had wonne the victorie, and gotten great goodes out of the hoſtes that periſhed:
7 Howe they had broken downe the abomination whiche he ſet vp vppon the aulter at Hieruſalem, & fenced the ſanctuarie with hygh walles, lyke as it was afore, yea and Bethſura his citie alſo.
1.Mach.1.f.
8 So it chaunced, that when the kyng heard theſe wordes, he was afrayde, and greeued very ſore: wherefore he layde him downe vpon his bed, and fell ſicke for very ſorowe, and all becauſe it had not happened as he had deuiſed.
9 And there continued he long: for his griefe was euer more and more, ſo that he ſawe he muſt needes dye.
10 Therefore he ſent for al his freendes, and ſayde vnto them, The ſleepe is gonne fro myne eyes, for the very ſorowe and vexation of hart that I haue.
11 For when I conſyder in my mynde the great aduerſitie that I am come vnto, and the flooddes of heauineſſe whiche I am come in, whereas afore tyme I was ſo merie, and ſo greatly let by, by reaſon of my power:
12 Againe, conſyderyng the euyll that I haue donne at Hieruſalem, from whence I tooke all the riches of golde and ſyluer that were in it, & ſent to deſtroy the inhabiters of Iurie without any reaſon why:
13 I knowe that theſe troubles are come vpon me for the ſame cauſe: and beholde I muſt dye with great ſorowe in a ſtraunge lande.
14 Then called he for one Philip a frend of his, whom he made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ryng, that he ſhould take his ſonne Antiochus vnto him, and bryng him vp, tyll he myght raigne him ſelfe.
16 So the king Antiochus died there, in the hundred fourtie and niene yeere.
2.Mac.9.a Joſep.cap. 14.lib.12.
17 When Lyſias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeyned Antiochus his ſonne, whom he had brought vp, to raigne in his fathers ſteade, and called him Eupator.
18 Now they that were in the caſtle (at Hieruſalem) kept in the Iewes round about the ſanctuarie, and ſought euer ſyl to doo them harme, and the ſtrengthenyng of the heathen.
19 Wherefore Iudas thought to deſtroye them, and called all the people togeather, that they myght laye ſiege vnto them.
20 So they came togeather in the hundred and ſyxtie yeere, and beſieged them, laying forth their ordinance and inſtrumentes of warre.
21 Then certayne of them that were beſieged, went forth: vnto whom ſome godly men of Iſrael ioyned them ſelues alſo, 22 And went vnto the kyng, ſaying, Howe long wyl it be or thou puniſhe, and auenge our brethren?
23 We haue euer benne mynded to doo thy father ſeruice, to walke in his ſtatutes, and to obey his commaundementes:
24 Therefore our people fell from vs, and whereſoeuer they founde anye of vs, they ſlue them, and ſpoyled our inheritance.
25 And they haue not onely meddled with vs, but with al our countreyes.
26 And behold, this day are they beſiegyng the caſtle at Hieruſalem to take it, and haue made vp the ſtrong holde at Bethſura.
27 And if thou doeſt not preuent them ryght ſoone, they wyll doo more then theſe, and thou ſhalt not be able to ouercome them.
1.Mac.4.
28 When the king heard this, he was very angrie, and called all his frendes, the captaines of his armie, and (al his footmen and) horſemen:
2.Mac.13.
29 He hyred menne of warre alſo, of other realmes partenyng to the kynges that were confederate with him, and of the Iſles of the ſea, whiche came vnto him.
30 And the number of his hoſt was an hundred thouſand footemen, and twentie thouſande horſemen, and thirtie and two Elephantes well exerciſed to batayle.
31 Theſe came through Idumea vnto Bethſura, sara, and besieged it a long season, & made diuers instrumentes of warre agaynst it: but the Iewes came out and brent them with fyre, and fought like menne.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle (at Hierusalem) and remouned the host towarde Bethzacharan, ouer agaynst the kinges armie.

33 So the kyng arose before the day, and brought the power of his hoast into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hoastes made them ready to the batayle, blowyng the trumpettes.

34 And to prouoke the Elephantes to fight, they shewed them the sappe of rede grapes and mulberies.

35 And diuided the Elephantes among the host: so that by euery Elephant there stood a thousande menne wel harnished, and helmets of steele vpon their heades: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordayned fiue hundred horsemen of the best,

36 Whiche wayted on the Elephaut, going where so euer he went, and departed not from him.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong towre of wood, fastned theron with instrumentes, wherupon were thirtie and two valiant menne with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two partes, with trumpets to prouoke the host, and to stirre vp suche as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vppon their shieldes of gold and steele, the mountaynes glittered agayne at them, & were as bright as the creffets of fire.

40 The kinges host also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaynes, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, takyng good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afrayde at the noyse of their host, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote together: for the host was both great and mightie.

42 Iudas also and his host entred into the battel, and slue fiue hundred menne of the kynges armie.

43 Nowe when Eleazar the sonne of Saura did see one of the Elephantes decke with the kinges badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the king shoulde be vpon him:

44 And ieopardyed him selfe to deliuer his people, and to get hym a perpetuall name:

45 Wherefore he ranne swiftly & courageously vnto the Elephaut in the middest of the hoast, smityng them downe on euery side, and slue many a dour him.

46 So went he to the Elephantes feete, and gate him vnder him, (a) and slue him: then fell the Elephant downe vppon him, and there he dyed.

47 Iudas also and his men, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his host, departed from them.

48 And the kinges armie went vp agaynst them towarde Hierusalem, and pitched their tentes in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king tooke truice with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut vp within, and the lande lay vntilled,

50 The king tooke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his host to the place of the sanctuarie, 51 And layd siege to it a great while, where he made all maner of ordinance, handbowes, fierie dartes, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slynges.

52 The Iewes also made ordinance agaynst theyrs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no victuals, for it was the seuenth yeere of the warres, and those heathen that remayned in Iurie, had eaten vp all they stoke.

54 And in the sanctuarie were fewe menne leaft: for the hunger came so vppon them, that they were scattered abroade euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip (whom Antiochus the kyng whyle he was yet liuing, had ordayned to bryng vp Antiochus his sonne that he myght be kyng)

56 Was come agayne out of Persia and Media with the kinges host, and thought to obtayne the kingdome, with the gouernance of all thinges:

57 He gate him to the king in all the haste, and to the captaynes of the host, and saide, We decrease daily, and our victuals are but small: agayne, the place that we laye siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the Realme:

58 Let vs agree with these menne, and take truice with them, & with all their people, 59 And graunt them to liue after their law, as they dyd afore: for they be grieued, and doo all these thinges agaynst vs, because we haue despised their lawe.

60 So the kyng and the princes were content, & sent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.

(a) This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the commaundement.

6. Nowe

61 Nowe when the kyng and the princes had wonne agayne into the, they came out of the castle.

62 And the kyng went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was wel fenced, he broke the othe that he had made, and commaunded vp to destroy the wal round about.

63 Then departed he in al the haste, and returned vnto Antioche, where he founde Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the citie again into his handes.

The xij. Chapter.

1. Demetrius raigned after he had killed Antyochus and Lysias.

1 IN the hundred fifth and one yeere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleuchus, from the citie of Rome, with a small company of seruse, into a certain of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioche, the citie of his progenitores, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto hym.

3 But when it was tolde him, he sayd, Let me not see their faces.

4 So the host slue them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue benne made high priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, sayeing, Judas and his brethren haue slayne all thy frendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.

7 Wherefore, sende nowe some man to whom thou geuest credence, that he may goe, and see all the destruction which he hath donne vnto vs, and to the kynges lande, and let him be punished with all his frendes and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a frend of his, whiche was a man of great power in the kyngdome, beyonde the water, & faithful vnto the king, and sent him (to see the destruction that Judas had donne.)

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, he made him high priest, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed (from the kyng) and came with a great host into the land of Juda, sending messengers to Judas & his brethren, and speaking vnto them with peaceable wordes, but vnder deceipt.

11 Therefore Judas and his people beleeued not their sayeing: for they sawe that they were come with a great host.

12 After this came the Gerithes togeather vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreate of reasonable conenantes.

13 And the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel, that required peace of them, 14 Sayeing, Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, howe can he deceiue vs, though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louing wordes, and sware vnto them, and sayde, We wyl doo you no harme, nether your frendes.

16 And they beleeued him: but the very same day toke he three score men of them, and slue them, according to the wordes that are written,

17 They haue (said) the flesche of thy saintes, and shed their blood rounde about Hierusalem, & there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a great feare and dreade among all the people, sayeing, There is nether truth nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appoyntment and othe that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his host from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken him: he slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and least men of warre with hym to helpe hym: and Bacchides hym selfe went vnto the kyng.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And all suche as vexed Israel, resorted vnto him: insomuche that they obtayned the lande of Juda, and dyd muche euyl vnto the Israelites.

23 Nowe when Judas sawe all the mischeefe that Alcimus and his company had donne (yea more then the heathen themselues) vnto the Israelites:

24 He went foorth rounde about all the boyders of Jurie, and pounished those vnfaythfull runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus sawe that Judas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abyde them: he went agayne vnto the king, and said al the wooyst of them that he coulde.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his cheefe princes, whiche bare euyl wyll vnto Israel, & commaunded him that he shoulde vtterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a great host, & sent vnto Judas & his brethre with with freendly wordes: but vnder receipt, saying,

28 There shalbe no warre betwixt me and you, I wyl comme with a fewe menne, to see howe ye doe, with freendshyp.

29 Vppon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceablie: but the enimies were appointed to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuerthelesse it was tolde Judas that he came vnto hym but vnder receipt: wherefore he gate hym away from hym, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceyued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight agaynst Judas beside * Capharsalama:

32 Where there were slayne of Nicanors host fiue thousande menne, and the residue fled vnto the citie of David.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priestes with the elders of the people went forth to salute him peaceablie, and to shewe hym the whole burnt sacrifices that were offered for the kyng.

34 But he laughed them and the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offeringes, and spake disdaynefully:

35 Yea and swore in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his host be not deliuered nowe into my handes, assoone as euer I comme agayne and fare wel, I shal burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priestes came in, and stoode before the aulter of the temple, weepyng, and saying,

37 Forsomuche as thou, O Lorde, hast chosen this house, that thy name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his host, and let them be slayne with the swoorde: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gonne from Hierusalem, he pitched his tente at Bethoron, and there an host met hym out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adasa with three thousande men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying,

41 O Lorde, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went forth and slue an hundred fourescore and fiue thousande of them:

42 Euen so, destroy thou this host before vs to day, that other people may knowe howe that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie, and punishe hym according to his malitiousnesse.

43 And so the hostes stroke the feelde the thirteenth day of the moneth * Adar, and Nicanors host was discomfited, & he hym selfe was first slayne in the battayle. * Febr. 2. Mac. 15. d

44 When Nicanors menne of warre sawe that he was kylled, they cast away their weapons and fledde:

45 But the Jewes followed vppon them a whole dayes tourney from Adasa vnto Gazara, blowyng with the trumpettes, and makyng tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came forth of all the townes rounde about, and blewe out their hornes vppon them, & turned agaynst them: thus were they all slayne, and not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke their substance for a pray, and smote of Nicanors head, and his ryght hande, which he had vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hierusalem. 2. Ma. 14. c

48 Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeyned that the same day (namely) the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, should be kept in myrth euery yeere.

50 Thus the lande of Juda was in rest a litle whyle.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. Judas conlydering the power and goodly pollicie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22. The rescript of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

1 IUdas hearde also the fame of the Romanes, that they were mightie & valiant men, & agreeable to all thinges that are required of them, and make peace with al men whithe come vnto them,

2 And howe they were boughtie menne of strength: besides that, it was tolde him of their battayles and noble actes which they did in * Galatia, how they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute, * or, Frannce.

3 And what great thynges they had done in Spayne: how that with their wisedome and sober behauiour they had wonne the mines of syluer and golde that are there,

4 And obteyned all the lande, with other places farre from them: howe they had discomfited and slayne downe the kyngs that came vpon them from the vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yeere:

5 Howe they had slayne and ouercome Philip and Perses kinges of * Cethim, and other mo in battayle, which had brought their ordinaunce agaynst them: * or, the Macedonians.

6 Howe

6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that would needes fight with them, hauyng an hundred and twentie Elephantes, with horsemen, charretes, and a very great hoste.

7 Howe they tooke hym selfe alyue, and ordeyned hym, with suche as houlde raigne after hym, to pay them a great tribute, yea, and to find them good sureties and pledges besydes al this:

8 Howe they had taken from him Indie, Medi a, and Lydia, his best landes, and geuen them to kyng Eumenius.

9 Agayne, howe they perceyuing that the Grekes were commyng to vexe them,

10 Sent agaynst them a captayne of an host, which gaue them battayle, slue many of them, led away they? wyues and chyldren captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their land, & destroyed they? strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, howe that as for other kyngdomes and Iles whiche sometyme withstood them, they destroyed them, & brought them vnder they? dominion:

12 But kept amitie with they? owne frendes, and those that were confederate with them, & conquered kyngdomes both farre and nygh: and that whosoeuer heard of they? renowme was afrayde of them.

13 For whom they woulde helpe to they? kyngdomes, those raigned: and whom it lyked not them to raigne, they put them downe: and howe they were comt to great prehemineuce,

14 Hauyng no kyng among them, neyther any man clothed in purple to be magnified therebyonge:

15 But had ordeyned them selues a * parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twentie senatours dayly vppon the counsel, to dispatche euer the busines of the people, and to keepe good order:

16 And howe that euery yeere they choose a * Maire to haue the gouernance of all their lande, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neyther enyl wyl nor discention among them.

17 Then Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn the sonne of * Iacob, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome for to make frendshyp, & a bonde of loue with them, 18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Grekes: for the Iewes sawe that the Grekes woulde subdue the kyngdome of Israel.

19 So they went vnto Rome a very great iourney, and came vnto the * parliament, and sayde, 20 Iudas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of frendshyp and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and frendes.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes ryght wel.

22 Wherefore it was written vp: of the whiche the Romanes made a writyng in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bonde of frendship, after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by land, and keepe the swoorde and enimie from them for euermore:

24 If there come fyrst any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of they? frends throughout al they? dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the tyme requyreth, and that with al they? hartes.

26 Also they shal neyther geue nor send vnto they? enimies victuals, weapons, money, nor shippes: but fulfyl they? couenantes at the Romanes pleasure, takyng nothyng of them therefore.

27 Agayne, if the people of the Iewes happen fyrst to haue warre, the Romanes shall stand by them with a good wyl, according as the tyme wyl suffer:

28 Neyther shal they geue vnto the Iewes enimies, victuals, weapons, money, or ships: Thus are the Romanes content to do, and shal fulfil their charge without any deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bonde with the Iewes.

30 Nowe after these articles (sayde they) yf any of the parties wyl put to them, or take any thyng from them, they shal do it with the consent of both: and whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stande fast.

31 And as touchyng the euyl that Demetrius hath doone vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our frendes and louers?

32 If they make any complaynt of ther agayne vnto vs, we shal defende them, and fight with thee by sea and by lande.

33 Now therefore if warre be made vpon Demetrius, and thou be not redy to helpe them, we shal make warre vpon thee by sea and by lande, accordyng to iustice.

The.ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine.

IN the meane season, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his host was slayne

* or, a counsel, or senate house.

* or, one man.

* or, Achus.

* or, senate house.

slayne in the fielde, he proceeded further to sende Bacchides and Alcimus agayne into Iurie, and the chiefe strength of his host with them.

2 So they went fooith by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tents before Malaloth (whiche is in Arbellis) and wan the citie, and slue much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fyftie and two yeere, they brought theyr host and laide their siege against Hierusalem:

4 But raising theyr campe, they came to Beres, with twentie thousande footemen, and two thousande horsemen.

5 Nowe Iudas had pytched his tent at Laisa, with three thousande chosen men,

6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie that it was so great, they were soare afrayde, and many conueyed themselues out of the host, insomuche that there abode no mo of them but eyght hundred men.

7 When Iudas sawe that his host fayled him, and that he must needes fight, it brake his hart, that he had no time to geather them togeather: wherfore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless, he saide vnto them that remayned with him, Vp, let vs goe agaynst our enimies, peraduenture we shalbe able to fight with them.

9 But they wouldo haue stopped him, saying, We shal not be able: therfore nowe let vs saue our lines, and turne agayne to our brethren, for should we fight against them, being so fewe?

10 And Iudas said, (a) God forbid that we should flee from them: wherfore if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not slayne our honour.

11 Then the host remoued out of the tentes, and stoode against them, and the horsemen were diuided in two partes: and slyng casters and archers went before the host, and al the mightie men were foremost in the fielde.

12 Bacchides hym selfe was in the ryght wing of the battraile, and the host drue nigh in two partes, and blew the trumpets:

13 They of Iudas side blewe the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a fielde from the morowe tyl nyght.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides host was strongest of the right side, he toke with him al the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of theyr order, and folowed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Nowe when they whiche were the left wyng sawe that the ryght side was discomfited, they persecuted Iudas and them that were with hym harde at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battayle: for many were slayne and wounded on both the partes.

18 Iudas also hym selfe was kylled, and the remnant fledde.

19 So Ionathas and Simon tooke Iudas theyr brother, and buryed hym in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And al the people of Israel made great lamentation for hym, and mourned long, saying, 21 Alas that this worthie should be slayne, which delinered the people of Israel.

22 As for other thinges parteyning to the battayles of Iudas, the noble actes that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

23 Nowe after the death of Iudas, wycked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and there arose all suche as dyd worke vngodlynesse. Ioseph. ca. 3. lib. 13. ant.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the lande, and all the countrey gaue ouer them selues and theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wycked men, and made them lordes in the lande.

26 These sought out and made searche for Iudas freendes, and brought them vnto Bacchides, whiche auenged him selfe vpon them with great dispite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the tyme that no prophete was seene there.

28 Then came al Iudas freendes togeather, and sayde vnto Ionathas,

29 Forsomuch as thy brother Iudas is dead, there is none lyke hym to goe foorth agaynst our enimies, agaynst Bacchides, and suche as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day we choose thee for him, to be our prince and captayne, to order our battayle.

31 And Ionathas toke the gouernance vpon hym at the same tyme, and ruled in steade of his brother Iudas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge therof, he sought for to slay him.

33 But Ionathas and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua with al theyr companie, & pytched theyr tentes by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Whiche when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iordane with all his host vpon the Sabboth day.

35 Nowe had Ionathas sent his brother (Iohn) a captayne of the people, to praye his freendes the Nabuthites, that they would lewde them theyr ordinance, for they had muche.

* or, Ambri 36 So the chyldren of * Iambri came out of Medaba, and tooke Iohn and al that he had, and went theyr way withal when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Ionathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Iambri made a great mariage, & brought the bryde frō Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of Iohn theyr brother, and went vp, and hyd themselues vnder the shadow of the mountayne.

39 So they lyft vp theyr eyes, and looked, and behold there was much ado, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his frendes and his brethren met them with tympanies, instrumentes of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Ionathas, and they that were with him, rose out of theyr lurkyng places against them, and slue many of them: and the remnant fledde into the mountaynes, and they tooke al theyr substance.

G 41 Thus the maryage was turned to mournyng, and the noyse of theyr melodie into lamentation.

(a) Blood doth require blood. 42 And so when they had auenged the (a) blood of theyr brother, they turned agayne vnto Iordane.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Iordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabboth day.

44 And Ionathas sayde to his company, Let vs geat vp, and fyght agaynst our enimies, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in tyme past.

45 Beholde, our enimies are in our way, the water of Iordane vpon the one side of vs, with banckes, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

2. Mac. 4. b 2. Chr. 10. a 46 Wherefore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered frō the power of your enimies: So they stroke the battayle.

47 And Ionathas stretched out his hande to smite Bacchides, but he fled backward.

48 Then Ionathas and they that were with him, leapt into Iordane, and swimmed ouer Iordane vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe ouer Iordane after hym.

49 And there were slayne of Bacchides side that day a thousande men.

50 Therefore Bacchides with his host turned againe to Hierusalem, and built vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Iurie, Iericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, * Phara, and * Thopo, with hygh walles, with portes, and with lockes:

* or, Pharathoni. * or, Tephon

51 And set men to keepe them, that they myght vse theyr malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, & the castle, and prouided them with men and victualles.

53 He tooke also the cheefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde, in the hundred fyftie and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they shoulde destroy the walles of the inwarde court of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe and began to destroy the monumentes of the prophetes.

55 But at the same tyme Alcimus was plagued and smytten with a paulsie, and his enterprises were hindered, & his mouth was stopped (by God) so that he coulde no more speake nor commaunde any of his house concernyng his businesse.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus in great miserie at the same tyme.

57 And when Bacchides sawe that Alcimus was dead, he turned agayne to the kyng: and so the lande was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men helde a counsel, saying, Behold, Ionathas and his company are at ease, and dwell without care, wherefore, let vs bryng Bacchides hither, and he shal take them al in one nyght.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsel.

60 Which arose to come with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherentes whiche were in Iurie, to take Ionathas and those that were with hym: but they myght not, for the other had gotten knowledge of theyr deuice.

61 And Ionathas tooke fyftie men of the countrey, whiche were the ryngleaders of them, and slue them.

62 Then Ionathas and Simon, with theyr company, departed vnto the citie * Bethbasin, whiche lyeth in the wyldernesse, and repayred the decay thereof, and made it strong. * or, Bethbesin.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered al his host, and sent worde to them that were in Iurie.

64 Then came he and layde siege to Bethbasin, and fought agaynst it a long season, and made instrumentes of warre.

65 Nowe Ionathas left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forth hym selfe into the countrey, & came with a certayne number, and the chyldren of Phaseron in their tentes, so that he beganne to be strong and to increase in power.

66 And slue * Odomeras & his brethren, and * or, Odomeras.

67 As for Simon & his company they went out of the citie, and brent vp the instrumentes of warre, 68 And fought agaynst Bacchides, and discomfited hym: and Bacchides was soare vexed, because his counsel and trauayle was in vayne.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked menne (a) that gaue him counsel to comme into their lande, and slue many of them: then purposed he with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him for to make peace with him, and that he shoulde deliuer him his prisoners agayne.

71 To the whiche Bacchides consented gladly, and dyd accordyng to his desire: yea and made an othe that he shoulde neuer doo him harme al the dayes of his lyfe.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne lande, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and beganne there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly menne out of Israel.

(a) Wicked counsel fall on the counsellers.

The.x. Chapter.

4. Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathas, 48. Alexander mooueth warre agaynst Demetrius, 50. Demetrius is slayne. 51. The freendship of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

1 IN the hundred and threescore yere, came Alexander the sonne of noble · Antiochus, and tooke Ptolomais, whose citizens receyued him, and there he raigned.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceeding great hoast, and went forth agaynst him to fyght.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas with louing wordes, and praysed him greatly.

4 For he sayde, We wyl fyrst make peace with him, before he bynde him selfe with Alexander agaynst vs:

5 Els he shall remember the euyl that we haue donne agaynst him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoast, to make weapons, & to be confederate with him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, & of them that were in the castle. B

8 And therefore were they soare afrayd, because they hearde that the kyng had geuen him licence to gather an hoast.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, whiche restored them to their parentes.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and beganne to buylde vp and to repayre the citie:

11 Commaundyng the workemen to wall it and the mount Sion rounde about with free stone, to be a strong holde: and so they dyd.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles which Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man left the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onlye at Bethsura remayned certayne of the Jewes, whiche had forsaken the law and commaundementes of God, for Bethsura was their refuge. C

15 Nowe when kyng Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was tolde hym of the batayles and noble actes which he and his brethren had donne, and of the great trauayles that they had taken,

16 He sayde, Where shall we fynde suche a man? wel, we wyl make him our freende, and be confederate with him.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter vnto hym, with these wordes:

18 Kyng Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiaunt man, and meete to be our freende:

20 Wherefore this day we ordeyne thee to be the hygh priest of thy people, and to be called the kynges freende. (Vpon this he sent hym a purple clothyng, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayest consyder what is for our profyte, and kepe freendshyp towarde vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vppon the solempne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vppon him: then gathered he an hoast, & prepared many weapons. D

22 Whiche when Demetrius heard, he was maruelous sory,

23 And sayde, Alas what haue we donne, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the freendshyp of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet wyl I write louingly vnto them also, yea and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my syde.

25 Whereuppon he wrote vnto them these woordes, Kyng Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Iewes:
26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued in our frendship, not inclinyng to our enimies, we were glad when we heard thereof.
27 Wherefore remayne styl, and be faythfull to vs, and we shall wel recompence you for the thinges that ye haue donne on our partie:
28 We shall release you of many charges, and geue you rewardes.
29 And now I discharge you and all the Iewes from tributes, I forgeue you the customes of salt, and release you of the crowne taxes, of the thirde part of seede,
30 And halfe the fruite of trees, whiche is myne owne duetie, I doo release them frō this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of the lande of Iuda, nor of the three cities whiche are added thereunto out of Samaria & Galilee, from this day forth, for euermore.
31 Hierusalem also, with all thinges belongyng thereto shalbe holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shall parteyne vnto it.
32 As for the power of the castle whiche is at Hierusalem, I remit and geue it vnto the high priest, that he may set in it suche men as he shal choose to keepe it.
33 I freely deliuer al the Iewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shalbe free from paying any tribute, yea euen of their catel.
34 All the solempne feastes, Sabothes, newe moones, the dayes appoynted, the three dayes before and after the feast, shalbe free for al the Iewes in my realme.
35 So that in them no man shal haue power to doo any thing, or to vexe any of them in any manner of cause.
36 There shall thirtie thousande also of the Iewes be written vp in the kynges hoaste, and haue their wages payed as all other men of warre of the kynges howlde haue: and of them shalbe ordeyned certayne to keepe the kinges strong holdes, 37 Yea and some of them shalbe set ouer the kynges secrete affayres: and their gouernours and princes shalbe of them selues, and lyue after their owne lawes, as the kyng hath commaunded in the lande of Iuda.
38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Iurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Iurie, and be vnder one, neyther be subiect to any strange Lorde, but to the high priest.
39 As for Ptolomais and the lande parteynyng thereto, I geue it vnto the sanctuarie at Hierusalem, for the necessarie expences of the holy thinges.
40 Moreouer, I wyll geue euery yeere fyfteene thousand sicles of siluer of the kinges reuenues, out of the places appartayning vnto me.
41 And all the ouerplus whiche they haue not payde for thynges vnc, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they shall geue it towarde the woorkes of the temple.
42 And besides this, the fyue thousand sicles of siluer whiche they receyued yeerely of the accompt appoynted for the intertenyment of the sanctuarie these yeeres passed, euen these thinges shalbe released, because they apparteyne to the priestes that minister.
43 Item, who so euer they be that flye vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, where as they are fallen into the kinges danger for any manner of businesse, they shalbe pardoned, and all the goodes that they haue in my realme shalbe free.
44 For the buyldyng also and repayring of the woorke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe geuen out of the kinges reuenues.
45 Yea and for the makyng of the walles rounde about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holdes in Iurie, shall the costes and charges be geuen out of the kynges reuenues.
46 But when Ionathas & the people heard these woordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neyther receyued them: for they remembred the great wickednesse that he had donne vnto Israel, and howe sore he had vexed them. 1. Mac. 7.
47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt frendly with them, and so they stoode by hym alway.
48 Then gathered kyng Alexander a great hoast, and brought his armis against Demetrius: Ioseph. lib. 13.
49 So the two kynges stroke batayle together, but Demetrius hoast fledde, and Alexander folowed after, and fell vppon them.
50 A myghtye sore feelde was it, continuing tyll the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.
51 And Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolome the kyng of Egypt, with these woordes, saying,

52 For so-

53 Forasmuch as I am come agayne to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our land, and stricken a feelde with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and his host, and sit in the throne of his kyngdome:

54 Let vs nowe make freendship togeather, geue me thy daughter to wyfe, so shal I be thy sonne in lawe, and both geue thee rewardes and her, accordyng to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolome the kyng gaue answeare, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come agayne to the lande of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of theyr kyngdome:

56 And nowe wyl I fulfil thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, & that I may mary my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and two yeere, F 58 Where kyng Alexander met hym: and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and maryed them at Ptolemais with great worshipp, like as the manner of kinges is to be.

59 Then wrote kyng Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde come and meete hym.

60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kinges, and gaue them and theyr freendes great presentes of gold and syluer, and founde fauour in theyr sight.

61 And there came togeather agynst Jonathas certayne wycked men and vngratious persons of Israel, makyng complayntes of hym: but the kyng regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commaunded to take of his garmentes, and to clothe him in purple: and so they did. Then the kyng appoynted him to sit by hym, 63 And sayde vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middest of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complayne agaynst hym of any matter, & that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers sawe the worshipp whiche was proclaimed of hym, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled every one.

65 And the kyng made much of hym, wrote him among his cheefe freendes, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathas went agayne to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred threescore and fifte yeere, came Demetrius, the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Whereof when Alexander hearde tel, he was right sory, and returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius chose Apollonius, whiche had the gouernance of Celosyria, to be his captayne: so he geathered a great host, and came vnto Jamnia, and sent wordes vnto Jonathas the byrd priest, saying, 1. Mac. 3. 8

70 Darest thou withstand vs thee selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and shamed, because thou dyddest daunt thy strength agaynst vs in the mountaynes.

71 Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thine owne strength, comme downe to vs into the playne feelde, and there let vs trye the matter togeather, for thou shalt know that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt knowe who I am, and the other that stande by me, whiche say, That your foote is not able to stande before our face, for thy fathers haue benne twise chased in their owne lande. G

73 And nowe howe wylt thou be able to abyde so great an host of horsemen & footemen in the feeld, where as is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas hearde the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mynde, wherfore he chose tenne thousande menne, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tentes at Joppa: but the citie keapt him sooth, for Apollonius garrison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas layde siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let hym in: and so Jonathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearyng of this, tooke three thousande horsemen, with a great host on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he woulde goe further, and tarne immediatly into the playne feelde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas folowed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skrymyshed with his rereward, and there they stroke the battayle.

79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousande horsemen behinde them priuily in the tentes.

80 And when Jonathas knewe that suche wayte was layde behynde them, they went rounde about the enimies host, and shotte dartes at the people, from the morning to the euenyng.

81 As for Jonathas people, they kept theyr order as he had commaunded them, and the enimies hostes were weery.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and ſet them againſt the footemen (for the horſemen were weery alredy:) and ſo he diſcomfited them, and they fled.

83 And they that were ſcattered in the feeld, gate them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idoll, that they myght there ſaue their lines.

1.Mac.11.a. 84 But Jonathas ſet fyre vpon Azotus, and al the cities round about it, and toke their goods, and brent vp the temple of Dagon, with al them that were fled vnto it.

85 Thus were ſlayne and brent welnygh eyght thouſande men.

86 So Jonathas remoued the hoſt from thence, and brought them to Alcalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met hym with great worſhyp.

87 After this went Jonathas and his hoſt againe to Hieruſalem, with great ſubſtãce of goodes.

88 And when king Alexander hearde theſe thynges, he thought to do Jonathas more worſhip:

89 And ſent him a coller of golde, as the vſe is to be geuen vnto ſuch as are of the kings next blood: He gaue him alſo the citie of Accaron, with the landes belongyng therto, in poſſeſſion.

The.xi.Chapter.

3. The diſſention betwixt Ptolomeus and Alexander his ſonne in lawe. 17. The death of Alexander.

Ioſeph. cap. 7. lib. 13.

A 1 AND the kyng of Egypt geathered an hoſt like the ſande that lyeth vpon the ſea ſhore, and many ſhyppes, and went about through deceit to obteyne the kyngdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.

2 Upon this he toke his iourney into Syrya, vſyng gentle wordes, ſo that he was letten into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commaunded them ſo to do, becauſe he was his father in lawe.

3 Nowe when Ptolome entred into any citie, he left men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout al the cities.

2.Mac.10.c 4 And when he came to Azotus, they ſhewed hym the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was brent vp, with the other thynges whiche were deſtroyed, the dead bodyes caſt abrode, and the graues that they had made by the wayes ſyde for ſuche as were ſlayne in the feelde,

5 And tolde the kyng that Jonathas had done all theſe thynges, to the intent they might great him euil will: but the king layd not one worde thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Ioppa, where they ſaluted one another, and tooke their reſt.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Hieruſalem. B

8 Nowe Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpon the ſea coaſt, imaginyng wicked counſels againſt Alexander, 9 And ſent ambaſſadours vnto Demetrius, ſaying, Come, let vs make a bond betwixt vs, ſo ſhall I geue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou ſhalt raigne in thy fathers kyngdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to ſlay me.

11 And thus he ſlaundered Alexander, becauſe he would haue had his realme.

12 Thus he tooke his daughter from hym, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forſooke Alexander, ſo that his malice was openlye knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioche, where he ſet two crownes vpon his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Aſia.

14 In the meane ſeaſon was kyng Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in thoſe places had rebelled againſt hym. C

15 But when Alexander hearde of this, he came to warre againſt hym: ſo kyng Ptolome brought forth his hoſt, and met hym with a mightie power, and chaſed hym away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and kyng Ptolomeus honour increaſed.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian ſmote of Alexanders head, and ſent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the thirde day after dyed kyng Ptolome hym ſelfe, and they whom he had ſet in the ſtrong holdes were ſlayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius raigned in the hundred threeſcore and ſeuenth yeere.

20 At the ſame tyme geathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay ſiege vnto the caſtle whiche was at Hieruſalem, and ſo they made many inſtrumentes of warre againſt it.

21 Then went there certayne vngodly perſons, which hated their owne people, vnto kyng Demetrius, and tolde hym that Jonathas beſieged the caſtle. D

22 So when he hearde it, he was angry, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he ſhoulde

not not lay ſiege to the caſtle, but comme and ſpeake with him at Ptolemais in all haſte.

23 Neuertheleſſe, when Jonathas hearde this, he commaunded to beſiege it: he choſe alſo certayne of the elders and prieſtes of Iſrael, and put him ſelfe in peryl, 24 And tooke with him golde, ſiluer, cloathyng, and diuers preſentes, and went to Ptolemais vnto the kyng, and founde him gratious.

25 And though certayne vngodly menne of his owne people made complayntes vppon hym,

26 Yet the kyng intreated him lyke as his 1.Mac.10.d predeceſſoures had donne before, and promoted him in the ſyght of all his frendes, 27 Confyrmed hym in the hygh prieſthood, with al the worſhip that he had afore, and made him his chefe frende.

28 Jonathas alſo deſyred the kyng that he 1.Mac.10.e woulde make Iurie free, with the three 11.28. head cities of Samaria, and the landes parteyning thereto: vpon this dyd Jonathas promiſe him three hundred talentes.

29 Whereunto the king conſented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the ſame, conteyning theſe wordes, 30 King Demetrius ſendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 We ſend you here a copy of the letter whiche we dyd write vnto our coſin Laſthenus concernyng you, that ye ſhoulde knowe it.

32 Kyng Demetrius ſendeth greeting vnto Laſthenus his father.

33 For the faythfulneſſe that our frendes the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindneſſe whiche they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doo them good.

34 Wherefore we aſſigne vnto the coaſtes of Judea the three gouernements, Afferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, whiche are added vnto Iurie from Samaria, and all the landes parteyning therevnto, to be freely ſeparated for ſuche as doo ſacrifyce in Hieruſalem, both concernyng the paymentes whiche the king tooke yeerely afortyme, and the fruite alſo of the earth and trees:

f 35 As for other tythes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we diſcharge them thereof from this tyme forth.

36 In lyke manner we graunt vnto them all the cuſtomes of ſalt, and crowne taxes whiche were brought vnto vs: and this freedome ſhall they haue fyrme and ſtedfaſt from this tyme forth for euermore.

37 Therefore ſee that ye make a copy of theſe our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be ſet vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the kyng ſawe that his lande was in reſt, and that no reſyſtance was made againſt hym, he ſent away all his hoaſt, euery man to his owne place, except certayne bands of ſtrangers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore al his fathers hoſt hated hym.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon, that had 1.Mac.12.c benne of Alexanders part afore, whiche when he ſawe that all the hoaſt murmured againſt Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the ſonne of Alexander, 40 And lay ſore vppon hym to deliuer hym this young Antiochus, that he myght raigne in his fathers ſtede: he tolde hym alſo what great euyl Demetrius had done, and howe his menne of warre loued hym not: and ſo remayned there a long ſeaſon.

41 And Jonathas ſent vnto kyng Demetrius, to driue them out whiche were in the caſtle at Hieruſalem, and thoſe that were in the fortreſſes, for they dyd Iſrael great harme.

42 So Demetrius ſent woorde vnto Jonathas, ſayeing, I wyll not onlye doe theſe thynges for thee and thy people: but at tyme conuenient, I wyll doo both thee and thy people great worſhip.

43 But nowe thou ſhalt doo me a pleaſure, G yf thou wylt ſende me menne to helpe me: for al myne armie is gonne from me.

44 So Jonathas ſent hym three thouſande ſtrong men vnto Antioche, and they came vnto the kyng, wherefore the kyng was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thouſande menne, geathered them togeather in the middeſt of the citie, and would haue ſlayne the king:

46 Whiche fledde into his court, and the citizens kept the ſtreetes of the citie, and beganne to fyght.

47 Then the kyng called for the Jewes helpe, whiche came vnto hym altogeather, and went abroade through the citie, 48 And ſlue the ſame day an hundred thouſande menne, ſet fyre vppon the citie, and gate many ſpoyles in that day, and deliuered the kyng.

49 So when the citizens ſawe that the Jewes had gotten theyr wyll of the citie, and they themſelues diſappointed of their purpoſe, they made their ſupplicatiō vnto the king, ſayeing,

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes ceaſſe from troublyng vs and the citie

51 And vppon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Iewes gate great worshippe in the syght of the king, and in the syght of al that were in his realme, and were spoken of throughout the kyngdome: and so they came agayne to Hierusalem with great goodes.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and hadde peace in his lande.

53 Nevertheleise, he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe him selfe from Ionathas, neyther rewarded him according to the benefytes whiche he had donne for hym, but troubled hym very sore.

54 After this came Tryphon agayne with young Antiochus, which raigned, and was crowned kyng.

55 Then there geathered vnto hym al the menne of warre, whom Demetrius hadde put away, these fought against Demetrius: which fledde, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioche,

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, sayeing, I confyrme thee in thy priesthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayest be a freend of the kynges.

58 Upon this he sent hym golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue hym leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also captayne from the coastes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathas tooke his iourney, and went throughe the cities beyonde the water of Iordane, and all the menne of warre of Syria geathered them vnto hym for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receyued hym honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they wouldo not let him in: wherefore he layed siege vnto it, burnyng vp and spoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza submitted them selues vnto Ionathas, which made peace with them: but tooke of their sonnes to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, and went throughe the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Nowe when Ionathas hearde that Demetrius princes were comme into Cades, whiche is in Galilee, with a great hoaste, purposyng to dryue hym out of the countrey:

64 He came agaynst them, and leaft Simon his brother in the lande.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, and layde siege to it a long season, and discomfyted them.

66 So they desyred to haue peace with him: whiche he graunted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set men to keepe it.

67 And Ionathas with his hoast came to the water of Genesar, and betymes in the morning gate them to the playne feelde of Azor:

68 And beholde, the hoastes of the heathen mette them in the feelde, and layde watche for them in the mountaynes,

69 So that when Ionathas came agaynst them, the other which were layd to watch, rose out of their places, and fought,

70 And they that were of Ionathas syde fledde euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captayne of the hoast.

71 Then Ionathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, (a) made his prayer, 72 And turned agayne to them in the feelde, where they fought togeather, and he put them to flyght. (a) Beholde the effect of prayer.

73 Nowe when his owne menne that were fled sawe this, they turned agayne vnto hym, and helped hym to folowe vppon al their enimies vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slayne of the heathen the same day three thousande menne, and Ionathas turned agayne to Hierusalem.

The. xii. Chapter.

1. Ionathas sendeth ambassadoures to Rome, 2. and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of freendship. 10. Ionathas putteth to flyght the princes of Demetrius, 40. Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceipt.

1 IOnathas seeyng that the tyme was meete for him, chose certayne men, and sent them to Rome, for to stablishe and to renue the freendship with them: ¶ 1. Mac. 7.

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in lyke manner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the * counsel, and sayde, Ionathas the bygh priest, and the people of the Iewes, sent vs vnto you, for to renue the old freendship and bonde of loue. * or, senate

4 Upon this the Romanes gaue them free passportes, that menne shoulde leade them home into the lande of Juda peaceably.

5 And

5 And this is the copie of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the high priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Iewes, sende greetyng vnto the Spartians their brethren.

B 7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto Onias the high priest from * Arius which raigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie here vnder written dooth specifie.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent honourably, and receyued the letters, wherin there was mention made of the bond of loue and freendshyp.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comfort.

10 Neuertheless we had rather sende vnto you for the renuyng of the brotherhood and freendshyp, lest we shoulde be strange vnto you: for it is long since the tyme that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherfore in the sacrifices that we offer, & other ceremonies vpon the hygh solemne dayes, and other, we alway remember you without ceassyng, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are ryght glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kynges about vs haue fought agaynst vs:

C 14 Yet would we not be greeuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and freendes in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are delyuered, and our enimies subdued.

16 Wherfore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the old * bonde of freendshyp and loue with them.

* 1. league

17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concernyng the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And nowe ye shall doo ryght well to geue vs an answeare thereunto.

19 And this is the copie of the writing whiche Arius the kyng of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the kyng of the Spartians, sendeth greetyng vnto Onias the high priest:

D 21 It is founde in writyng, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And nowe for so muche as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doo wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our mynd vnto you, our cattel and goodes are yours, and yours, ours: these thynges haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fyght agaynst him with a greater host then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the lande of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to comme into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spyes vnto their tentes, whiche came agayne and tolde hym that they were appoynted to come vpon hym in the nyght season.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gonne downe, Jonathas commaunded his men to watche all the nyght, and to be ready with weapons for to fyght, and set watchemen round about the host.

28 But when the aduersaries hearde that E Jonathas was ready with his menne to the batayle, they feared, and were afrayde in their hartes, and kindled fires in their tentes, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his company knewe it not tyll the morowyng, for they sawe the fyres burnyng.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke their goodes.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departyng vnto Joppa, and wanne it, 34 (For he hearde that they would deliuer F the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part,) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to buyld vp the strong holdes in Jurie, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem hygher, to set vp an hygh wall betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it myght be alone, and that menne shoulde neyther buye nor sell in it.

37 Vpon this they came together for to buylde vp the citie, and for so muche as the wal vpon the brooke of the east syde, called

Caphete-

Cephetetah, was fallen downe, repaired it.
38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes & lockes vpon it.
I.Mac. II.c 39 Now when Tryphon purposed to raigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the kyng Antiochus:
40 He was afrayde that Jonathas would not suffer him, but fyght against him, wherfore he went about to take Jonathas, and to kyll hym: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.
41 Then went Jonathas forth against hym to the batayle, with fourtie thousande chosen menne, and came vnto Bethsan also.
42 But when Tryphon saw that Jonathas came with so great an host to destroye hym, he was afrayde:
43 And therefore he receyued hym honourably, commended hym vnto all his frendes, and gaue hym rewardes, and commaunded his menne of warre to be as obedient vnto hym, as to hym selfe:
G 44 And sayde vnto Jonathas, Why haste thou caused this people to take suche trauayle, seeyng there is no warre betwixt vs?
45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certayne menne to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I wyll geue it thee, with the other strong holdes, men of warre, and their officers, as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my commyng.
46 Jonathas beleeued hym, and dyd as he sayde, puttyng away his host, whiche went into the land of Juda.
47 He kept but three thousande by hym, whereof he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him selfe.
48 Nowe as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolemais, the citizens sparred the gates of the citie, and tooke him, and slue al them with the swoorde that came in with him.
49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footmen and horsmen into Galilee, & into the great playne fielde, to destroye al Jonathas compame:
50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and al they slayne that wayted vpon him, they toke counsel togeather, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fyght.
51 So when they which folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of lyfe, they turned backe agayne.
52 As for the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathas, and them that were with hym fyght sore: and Israel made great lamentation.
53 Then al the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them:
54 For they sayde, Nowe haue they no captayne, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercome them, and roote out their name from among men.

The.xiii.Chapter.

I. After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captayne, 17. Of whom Tryphon takyng his chyldren and money for the redemption of Ionathas, kylleth hym and his chyldren.

1 NOwe when Simon hearde that Tryphon geathered a great host to come into the land of Juda, & to destroy it,
2 And sawe that the people was in great fearfulnesse and care: he came vp to Hierusalem, and geathered the people togeather,
3 And gaue them exhortation, sayeing, Ye knowe what great batayles I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what maner of troubles we haue seene.
4 Through occasion wherof al my brethren are slayne for Israels sake, and I am left alone. I.Mac.6.
5 And now let me not spare myne owne life in any maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:
6 But wil auenge my people and the sanctuarie, our chyldren and our wyues: for al the heathen are geathered togeather to destroye vs of very malice.
7 At these woordes the hartes of the people B were kyndeled togeather.
8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing, Thou shalt be our captayne, in steede of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:
9 Order thou our batayle, and what so euer thou commaundest vs, we shal doo it.
10 So he geathered al the menne of warre, makyng haste to finish all the walles of Hierusalem, wherin he made strong rounde about.
11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absolomus, with a fresh host vnto Joppa, which dyd out them out that were in the castle, and remayned there hym selfe.
12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with hym in warde.
13 And Simon pitched his tentes at * Adida, before the playne fielde. * o. Addis.
14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood vp in steede of his brother Jonathas, and and that he woulde warre agaynſt him, he ſent meſſengers vnto him, ſaying, 35 Whereas we haue kept Ionathas thy bꝛother, it is foꝛ money that he is owyng in the kynges accompte, concernyng the buſineſſe that he had in hande.

36 Wherefoꝛe, ſende nowe an hundꝛed talents of ſyluer, and his two ſonnes foꝛ ſuretie (that when he is letten foꝛth, he ſhall not foꝛſake vs) and we ſhall ſende him agayne.

37 Neuertheleſſe, Simon knewe that he diſſembled in his woꝛdes: yet commaunded he the money and chyldꝛen to be delyuered vnto him, leſt the Iſraelites myght haue hated him, 38 And ſayde, Becauſe he ſent him not the money and the chyldꝛen, therfoꝛe is Ionathas dead.

39 So Simon ſent him the childꝛen, and an hundꝛed talentes: but he diſſembled, and woulde not let Ionathas goe.

40 Afterward came Tryphon into the land to deſtroy it, and went rounde about by the way that leadeth vnto Adoꝛ: but where ſo euer they went, thyther went Simon and his hoſt alſo.

D 41 Nowe they that were in the caſtle, ſent meſſengers vnto Tryphon, that he ſhoulde make haſte to come by the wyldernеſſe, and to ſende them victuals.

42 And Tryphon made redie al his hoꝛſemen to come the ſame nyght: neuertheleſſe, it was a very great ſnowe, ſo that he came not becauſe of the ſnowe, but he remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

43 And when he dꝛue nigh Baſcama, he ſlue Ionathas and his ſonnes there, 44 And then turned foꝛ to goe home into his owne lande.

45 Then ſent Simon foꝛ to fetche his bꝛothers dead coarſe, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

46 So all Iſrael bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned foꝛ him very long.

47 And Simon made vpon the ſepulchre of his father, and his bꝛethren, a buyldyng, hygh to looke vnto, of free ſtone, behind and befoꝛe,

48 And ſet vp ſeuen pyllers vppon it, one agaynſt an other, foꝛ his father, his mother, and foure bꝛethren,

E 49 And ſet great pyllers rounde about them, with armes vpon them, foꝛ a perpetual memoꝛie, & carued ſhyppes beſyde the armes, that they myght be ſene of men ſailyng in the ſea.

50 This ſepulchre whiche he made at Modin, ſtandeth yet vnto this day.

51 Nowe as Tryphon went foꝛth to warre with the yong king Antiochus, he ſlue him trayterouſly, Ioſeph. cap. 10. lib. 13.

52 And raigned in his ſteade, crowned him ſelfe kyng of Aſia, and dyd muche euyl in the lande.

53 Simon alſo buylt vp the caſtles in Iurie, makyng them ſtrong, with hygh towꝛes, great walles, poꝛtes, and lockes, and layde vp victuals in the ſtrong holdes.

54 And Simon chooſe certayne men, and F ſent them to king Demetrius, to deſire him that he woulde diſcharge the lande from al bondage, foꝛ Tryphon had ſpoyled it very ſoꝛe.

55 Whereupon Demetrius the king anſwearyng hym, and wꝛote vnto him after this manner, 56 Demetrius the kyng ſendeth greetyng vnto Simon the hygh prieſt his frend, with the elders and people of the Iewes:

57 The golden crowne and pꝛecious ſtone that ye ſent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are redie to make a ſtedfaſt peace with you, yea, and to wꝛyte vnto our officers foꝛ to releaſe you concernyng the thynges wherin we made you free.

58 And the appoyntment that we make with you, ſhalbe fyrme and ſtable: the ſtrong holdes whiche ye haue buildꝛd, ſhalbe your owne.

59 As foꝛ any ouerſight oꝛ fault committed vnto this day, we foꝛgeue it, & the crowne taxe that ye ought vs alſo: and where as was any other tribute in Hieruſalem, it ſhal nowe be no tribute:

60 And looke who are meete among you to be in our court, let them be wꝛitten vp, that there may be peace betwyxt vs.

61 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken G frō Iſrael, in the hundꝛd & ſeuentieth yere.

62 And the people of the Iewes began to wꝛyte in their letters and acts on this maner, In the fyrſt yeere of Simon the hygh prieſt, a gouernour & prince of the Iewes.

63 In thoſe dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and beſieged it rounde about, where he ſet vp ordinance of warre, and wan a towꝛe, whiche he tooke.

64 So they that gate into the towꝛe, leapt into the citie, whiche was in a great feare:

65 In ſo muche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and clymed vp vpon the walles, with their wyues and chyldꝛen, beſeechyng Simon to be at one with them, ſaying,

66 Dꝛeward vs not after our wickednes, but be gratious vnto vs, (and we ſhall doo thee ſeruice.)

67 Then Simon foꝛ very pitie woulde fyght

fyght no more agaynst them, but put them out of the citie, & cansed the houses, wherin the images were, to be cleansed, and so entred the citie with psalmes of prayse, geuing thankes vnto the Lorde.

48 So when he had caste all abominations out of the citie, he set such men in it as kept the lawe (of God) and made the citie strong, and buylded a dwellyng place for him selfe.

49 Nowe when they in the castle at Hierusalem were kept so straytely that they could not come foorth, nor goe into the countrey, and myght neyther buye nor sel, they were very hungrie, and many of them famished to death:

50 In so muche that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: so he put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from fylthinesse.

51 And vpon the twentie and three day of the seconde moneth, in the hundred threescore and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thankes geuyng, & branches of palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbales, and Lutes, syngyng psalmes and songues of prayse vnto God, for that the great enimie of Israel was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordeyned that the same day shoulde be kept euery yeere with gladnesse, 53 And made strong the hyll of the temple that was beside the castle, where he dwelt him selfe with his companie.

54 Simon also perceyuyng that Iohn his sonne was a myghtie man of armes, made him captayne of all the hostes, and caused him to dwel at * Gaza.

* or, Gazaris.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

I. Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. II. Simon being captayne, there is great quietnes in Israel. 18. The couenant of freendshyp with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renued.

IN the hundred, three score, and twelfth yeere, gathered kyng Demetrius his host, and departed vnto Media, to gat him helpe for to fyght agaynst Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arsaces the kyng of Persia and Media, hearde that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alyue, (and to bring him vnto him.)

3 So he went & slue Demetrius host, tooke him selfe, brought him to Arsaces, whiche kept him in warde.

4 And all the lande of Iuda was in rest so long as Simon lyued, for he sought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worshyp all way.

5 Simon wanne the citie of Ioppa also for an hauen towne, and made it an entraunce into the Iles of the sea.

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more lande:

7 He gathered vp many of they people that were prysoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle whiche he cleansed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted hym. B

8 So that euery man tylled his grounde in peace, the lande of Iuda, and the trees gaue they fruite and increase.

9 The elders sate al in iudgement, & tooke their deuice for the wealth of the lande, the young men put on worshyp and harnesse vpon them.

10 He prouided victuals for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worshyp was spoken of vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 For he made peace throughout the lande, and Israel was ful of myrth and ioy. Leuit.26.

12 Euery man sate vnder his vine and figge trees, and there was no man to fray them away.

13 There was none in the lande to fyght agaynst them, for then the kinges were ouercome.

14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, he was diligent to set the lawe kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, he tooke them awaye. C

15 He set vp the sanctuarie, and increased the holy vessels of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten woorde that Ionathas was dead, they were ryght sory:

17 But when they hearde that Simon his brother was made high priest in his steade, and howe he had wonne the lande agayne, with the cities in it:

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, 2. Mac.8. to renue the frendshyp and bonde of loue, and 12. whiche they had made afore with Iudas and Ionathas his brethren.

19 Whiche writinges were read before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent,

20 The Senatours and Citizens of Sparta, sende greetyng vnto Simon the great priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Iewes their brethren:

21 When your Ambassadours, that were D sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worshyp, honour, and prosperous wealth, we

we were glad of their commyng,

22 And haue written the ambaſſage in the publique recoꝛdes in this maner: (namely) that Numenius the ſonne of Antiochus, & Antipater the ſonne of Iaſon, the Iewes ambaſſadours, are come vnto vs foꝛ to renue the olde freendſhyp with vs.

23 Vppon this, the people conſented that the men ſhoulde be honourably entreated, and that the copie of their ambaſſage ſhould be written in the ſpecial bookes of the people, foꝛ a perpetual memoꝛie vnto the Spartians: Yea, and that we ſhoulde ſende a copie of the ſame vnto Simon the great prieſt.

24 After this dyd Simon ſende Numenius vnto Rome with a golden ſhielde of a thouſand pound waight, to confirme the freendſhyp with them.

25 Which when the Romanes vnderſtood, they ſayde, What thankes ſhall we recompence againe vnto Simon & his children? 26 Foꝛ he and his bꝛethren, and the houſe of his father, hath ſtabliſhed Iſrael, and ouercommed their enimies, wherefoꝛe they graunted hym to be free, and confirmed the libertie therof: therefoꝛe they wꝛote this in tables of bꝛaſſe, and ſet it vppon pyllers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the wꝛityng is this, The eyghteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundꝛed three ſcoꝛe and twelfth yeere, in the thirde yeere of Simon the hygh prieſt,

E 28 In the great congregation of the prieſtes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at * Saramel, were theſe wꝛoꝛds openly declared:

29 Foꝛ ſo muche as there was much warre in our lande, therefoꝛe Simon the ſonne of Mathathias, come of the chyldren of Iarib, and his bꝛethren, put them ſelues in peryll, and reſiſted the enimies of their people, that their ſanctuarie and law might be maintayned, and dyd their people great wooꝛſhyp.

30 Ionathas in like manner, after that he had goueꝛned his people, and benne their high prieſt, dyed, and lyeth buryed beſide his elders.

31 After that would their enimies haue tꝛoden their holy thinges vnder foote, deſtꝛoyed their land, and vtterly waſted their ſanctuarie.

32 Then Simon withſtood them, & fought foꝛ his people, ſpent muche of his owne money, weaponed the valiant men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made ſtꝛong the cities of Iuda, with Bethſura that lyeth vppon the boꝛders of Iurie, where the oꝛdinance of their enimies lay ſometime, and ſet Iewes there foꝛ to keepe it.

34 He made faſt Ioppa alſo whiche lyeth vpon the ſea, and * Gaza that boꝛdereth vpon Azotus, where the enimies dwelt afoꝛe, and there he ſet Iewes to keepe it: and what ſo euer was meete foꝛ the ſubduyng of the aduerſaries, that layde he therein. * or, Gaſis.

35 Nowe when the people ſawe the noble actes of Simon, and what wooꝛſhyp he purpoſed to doo foꝛ them, his godly behauiour and faythfulneſſe whiche he kept vnto them, and how he ſought by al wayes the wealth of his people: becauſe he dyd al this, therefoꝛe they choſe hym to be their pꝛince and hygh prieſt.

36 And in his tyme they pꝛoſpered well by F hym, ſo that the heathen were taken out of their lande, and they alſo whiche were in the citie of Dauid at Hieruſalem in the caſtle, where they went out, & defiled al thinges that were about the ſanctuarie, and did great harme vnto cleanlyneſſe:

37 And Simon put men of the Iewes in it, foꝛ the defence of the land and citie, and ſet vp the walles of Hieruſalem.

38 And kyng Demetrius confirmed hym in his hygh prieſthood.

39 Foꝛ theſe cauſes, made hym his freende, and dyd hym great wooꝛſhyp:

40 Foꝛ he hearde that the Romanes called the Iewes their freendes, louers, and bꝛethren: howe honourably they receyued Simons ambaſſadours:

41 Howe the Iewes and prieſtes conſented that he ſhoulde be their pꝛince and hygh prieſt perpetually, tyll God rayſed vp the true pꝛophete:

42 And that he ſhoulde be their captayne, to care foꝛ the ſanctuarie, and to ſet officers vppon the wooꝛkes therof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houſes of defence, to make pꝛouiſion foꝛ the holy thynges:

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the wꝛitinges of the lande to be made in his name, that he ſhoulde be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it ſhoulde be lawful foꝛ none of G the people noꝛ prieſtes to breake any of theſe thynges, to withſtande his wooꝛdes, noꝛ to call any congregation in the lande without hym: that he ſhould be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde.

45 And if there were any whiche diſobeyed oꝛ bꝛake this oꝛdinance, that he ſhoulde be punniſhed.

46 So all the people conſented to alloꝛe Simon, and to doo accoꝛdyng to theſe wooꝛdes:

47 Simon

47 Simon also him selfe tooke it vpon him, and was content to be the high priest, the capteyne and prince of the Iewes and priestes, and to gouerne them al.

48 And they commaunded to make this writyng in tables of brasse, and fasten it vnto the wal that compasseth the sanctuary in an open place:

49 And to laye vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie myght haue it.

The.xv.Chpter.

The Romanes write letters vnto kynges and nations in the defence of the Iewes.

1 Moreouer kyng Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the high priest and prince of the Iewes, and to al the people,

2 Concernyng these woordes, Antiochus the kyng sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Iewes.

3 For so much as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: Wherefore I haue gathered a great host, and made shyppes of warre,

4 That I may goe throughe the countrey, and be auenged of them whiche haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.

And therefore nowe I make thee free also from al the tributes whereof al kynges my progenitours haue discharged thee, & from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be:

6 Yea, I geue thee leaue to smite money of thyne owne within thy lande.

7 As for Hierusalem, I wyl that it be holy and free, and all the weapons and houses of defence whiche thou hast builded, and kepest in thyne handes, shalbe thyne:

8 Where as any thyng is or shalbe owing vnto the kyng, I forgeue it thee, from this tyme forth, for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteyned our kyngdome, we shal doo thee, thy people, and the temple great worshyp: so that your honour shalbe knowē throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred three score & fourteenth yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and al the men of warre came together vnto hym, so that few were leaft with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him, but he fled vnto Dora, whiche lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he saw that there was mischefe commyng vnto him, and that his host had forsaken hym.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twentie thousande menne of armes on foote, and eyght thousande horsemenne: so he compassed the citie rounde about, and the shyppes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by land and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to go in nor out. C

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had ben with hym, from the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kynges and prouinces, wherein were conteyned these woordes, 1.Mac.14.

16 Lucius the consul of Rome, sendeth greetyng vnto Ptolome the kyng,

17 The ambassadours of the Iewes our freendes, beyng sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renue the olde freendshyp and bonde of loue, 18 Brought a shielde of golde, weyghing a thousande pounde.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kynges and prouinces to doo them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countreys, neither to maintayne their enimies against them.

20 And we were content to receyue of them the shielde.

21 If there be any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey, vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them accordyng to their owne lawe. D

22 The same woordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Attalus, Araba, Arlaces, 23 And to al regions: as Sampsames, to them of Spartia, Delo, Mydo, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Facelidis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Cosyna, Gnidum, to Cyprus, and Cyrene. *or, Dic. *or, Pe. dus.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copie to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the kyng brought his host vnto Dora the seconde tyme, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he should not goe eyther in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousande chosen menne to helpe hym, with golde, syluer, and other plenteous thynges.

27 Nerertheleſſe he would not receyue them, them, but brake al the couenant whiche he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe him selfe from hym.

28 He sent Athenobius also a freende of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, sayeing, Ye withhold from me Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, whiche are cities of my realme:

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and donne great euyl in the lande, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome.

30 Wherfore, deliuer now the cities whiche ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon without the borders of Jury:

31 Or els geue me fiue hundred talentes of syluer, yea and for the harme that ye haue donne in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other fiue hundred talentes: yf no, we shal come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kynges freende came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worshipp and honour of Simon, in golde, syluer, and so great plentie of ornamentes, he marueyled: and tolde Simon as the kyng commaunded him.

33 Then answeared Simon, and sayde vnto him, As for vs, we haue neither taken other mennes landes, nor withholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, whiche our enimies had vnryghteously in possession a certayne tyme.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of tyme.

35 And whereas thou complaynest concernyng Joppa & Gaza, they dyd great harme to our people, and in our lande, yet wyl we geue an hundred talentes for them. Neuertheless, Athenobius answeared him not one woorde:

36 But turned agayne wrathfully vnto the kyng, and tolde him all these woordes, and the great dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the kyng was very angrie.

37 And in the meane tyme fledde Tryphon by shyp vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the kyng made Cendebeus captayne of the sea coast, and gaue him an host of footemen and horsemen, 39 Commaundyng him to remooue the host towarde Jurie, and to buylde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre agaynst the people of the Iewes: as for the king him selfe, he folowed vppon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to treade downe Jurie, to take the people prisoners, to slay them,

41 And to buylde vp Cedron: where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that thei myght come forth, and go through the streetes of Jury, like as the kyng had commaunded hym. 1.Mac.16.b

The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captayne of Antiochus host, is put to flyght of the sonnes of Simon.

1 THen came John vp from Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had donne (among theyr people.) A 1.Mac.13.k

2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas & John, and sayd vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day foughten agaynst the enimies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to delyuer Israel oftentymes.

3 And nowe, for as much as I am olde, and ye by gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in steade of me and my brother, to goe forth and fyght for our people: and the helpe of God be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousande fyghtyng men of the countrey, with horsemen also, whiche went forth agaynst Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morneyng they arose and went into the playne feelde, and beholde a myghtie great host came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And John remoued the host toward them: and when he sawe that the people was afrayd to goe ouer the water brooke, he went ouer fyrst him selfe: & the men seeing this, folowed him.

7 Then John set his horsemen and footmen B in order, the one by the other: for their enimies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the * prieſtes trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host: wherof many were slayne, and the remnant gate them to their strong holdes. * or, holy

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same tyme, and John folowed styll vpon their enimies, tyl he came to Cedron, whiche Cendebeus had builded. 1.Mac.15.k

10 The (enimies) fled also vnto the towres that were in the feeldes of Azotus, and those dyd John burne vp with fyre: thus there were slayne two thousande men of them, and John turned agayne peaceably into Jurie.

11 And in the feelde of Jericho was Ptolome me the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whiche becauſe he had abundance of ſyluer and golde,

12 (For he had married the daughter of Simon the hygh prieſte,)

13 Waxed proud in his mynde, & thought to conquer ỹ land, imagining falſhood againſt Simon and his ſonnes, to deſtroy them.

¶ 14 Now as Simon was going about through the cities that were in the countrey of Iurie, & caring for them, he came downe to Iericho, with Mathathias & Iudas his ſonnes, in the hundred, thyrteſcore, & ſeuentienth yere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.

15 Then (Ptolome) the ſonne of Abobus receiued them, but with deceite, into a ſtrong houſe of his, called Dochus, which he had builded, where he made them a banket, and had hyd menne there.

16 So when Simon and his ſonnes were mery, & had dronken wel, Ptolome ſtoode vp, with his menne (whom he had hid there) and tooke theyr weapons, entred into the banket houſe, and ſlue Simon with his two ſonnes, and certayne of his ſeruantes.

17 Such great vnfaythfulneſſe did Ptolome in Iſrael, and recompenced euyl for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome theſe thinges, and ſent vnto king (Antiochus) requiryng him that he ſhoulde ſende him an hoſt to helpe him: and ſo ſhould he deliuer him the land, with the cities and tributes of the ſame.

19 He ſent other men alſo vnto Gaza for to take Iohn, and wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, & he ſhoulde geue them ſyluer, golde, and rewardes.

20 And to Hieruſalem he ſent other, to take it, and the ſanctuarie.

21 Then ran there one before, & tolde Iohn D in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were ſlayne, and howe that Ptolome had ſent to ſlay him alſo.

22 When Iohn hearde this, he was ſore abaſhed, and laid handes of them that were come to deſtroy him, and ſlue them: for he knewe that they went about to kyl him.

23 As for other thynges concernyng Iohn, of his warres, of his noble actes, wherein he behaued him ſelfe manfully, of the buyldyng of walles whiche he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are wrytten in the Chronicles of his prieſthood, from the time forth that he was made hygh prieſt after his father.

The ende of the firſt booke of the Machabees.

¶ The ſeconde booke of the Machabees.

The firſt Chapter.

1. An Epiſtle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hieruſalem, ſent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhorte them to geue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19. Of the fyre that was hyd in the pyt. 24. The prayer of Nehemias.

¶ 1 THE brethren of the Iewes whiche be at Hieruſalem, and in the lande of Iurie, wyſhe vnto theſe brethren of the Iewes that are throwout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and thynke
Deut.30.d. vpon his couenant that he made with Abraham, Iſahac, and Iacob, his faythfull ſeruantes:

3 And geue you al ſuche an hart that ye may loue and ſerue him, yea and perfourme his wyll with an whole harte, and a wyllyng mynde:

4 He open your hartes vnto his lawe, and in his commaundementes, and ſende you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forſake you in tyme of trouble.

6 For ſo muche as nowe we here be praying for you,

7 What tyme as Demetrius raigned, in B the hundred, thyrte ſcore and niene yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in thoſe yeres, after that Iaſon departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome.

8 They brent vp the portes, and ſhedde innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard, we offered vp ſacrifices and fyne flowre, and lyghted Leuit.24. the lampes, and ſet forth the bread.

9 And nowe come ye vnto the feaſt of tabernacles, in the moneth * Caſleu. Nouemb.

10 In the hundred, foure ſcore, and eightiene yere, the people that was at Hieruſalem, and in Iurie, the counſel, and Iudas him ſelfe, ſent this wholeſome ſaluation vnto Ariſtobulus kyng Ptolomes maiſter, whiche came of the generation of the annoynted prieſtes, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 In ſo

11 Inſomuche as GOD hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no leſſe at al then yf we had vanquiſhed the kyng in battel.

12 For when he, with thoſe that had fought againſt the holy citie, did ſet vpon Perſia:

13 For as he was in Perſia (namely) the captayne with the great hoſt, he periſhed in the temple of Nanea, beyng deceiued through the deuice of Naneas prieſtes.

C 14 For when Antiochus, ashe that ſhoulde marrie with her, came, and his frendes with him, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money whiche the prieſtes of Nanea had ſet forth:

15 He entred with a ſmal company into the compaſſe of the temple, and ſo they ſhut the temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by opening the pinie entrance of the temple, the prieſtes ſtoned the captaine to death, hewed them in peeces that were with hym, ſmote of their heades, and threwe them out.

17 In al things God be praiſed, whiche hath deliuered the wycked into our handes (to be punished.)

18 Whereas we are nowe purpoſed to kepe the purification of the temple vppon the twentie & fifth day of the moneth Caſleu, we thought neceſſarie to certifie you thereof: that ye alſo myght keepe the tabernacles feaſt day, and the day of the fire, which was geuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had ſet vp the temple and the aulter.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away into Perſia, the prieſtes which then ſought the honour of GOD, tooke the fire priuily from the aulter, & hid it in a valley, where as was a deepe dyre pyt: and therein they kept it, ſo that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Nowe after many yeeres, when it pleaſed GOD that Nehemias ſhoulde be ſent from the kyng of Perſia, he ſent the chylders chyldren of thoſe prieſtes whiche had hyd the fire, to ſeeke it: and as they tolde vs they founde no fyre, but thycke water.

D 21 Then commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to bryng it hym, and the offeringes withall: Nowe when the ſacrifices were laid on, and ordered, Nehemias commaunded the prieſtes to ſprynckle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was done, and the tyme come that the ſunne ſhone which afore was hyd in the cloude, there was a great fyre kyndled, inſomuche that euery man marueyled.

23 Nowe al the prieſtes prayed whyle the ſacrifice was a makyng: Jonathas prayed firſt, and the other gaue anſweare.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this manner, O Lord God, maker of al things, thou fearefull and ſtrong, thou ryghteous and merciful, thou that art only a gratious kyng,

25 Only liberal, only iuſt, almightie and euerlaſtyng, thou that deliuereſt Iſrael from all trouble, thou that haſt choſen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offeryng for thy whole people of Iſrael, preſerue thyne owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Geather thoſe togeather that are ſcattered abrode from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are deſpiſed and abhorred: that the heathen may knowe and ſee howe that thou only art God, whiche art our God.

28 Punishe them that oppreſſe and proudly put vs to diſhonour. E Deut. 30.a.

29 Set thy people agayne in thyne holy place, lyke as Moſes hath ſpoken.

30 And the prieſtes ſong Pſalmes of thankeſgeuyng, ſo long as the ſacrifice endured. Iudg. 6.b.

31 Nowe when the ſacrifice was brent, Nehemias commaunded the great ſtones to be ſprynckled with the reſidue of the water. 1.Kin.18.c. Eccle.48.a

32 Whiche when it was done, there was kyndled a flame of them alſo: but it was conſumed through the lyght that ſhyned from the aulter.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the kyng of Perſia, that in the place where the prieſtes, which were led away, had hyd fyre, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his company had purified the ſacrifices withal.

34 Then the kyng, conſyderyng and ponderyng the matter diligently, incloſed the place, and conſecrated a temple, to prooue the thyng that was done:

35 And when he founde it ſo in deede, he gaue the prieſtes many gyftes, and diuers rewardes, yea he toke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the ſame place (a) Nephthar, whiche is as muche to ſay, as a cleanſing: but many men cal it Nephi. (a) Ephthar whiche is to ſay, a thyning: it is alſo ſo called Nephi or Nephthar, whiche is a cleanſing.

The ii. Chapter.

4. How Ieremie hyd the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter in the hyl. 21. Of the fyue bookes of Iaſon conteyned in one.

1 IT is founde alſo in the writtinges of Ieremie the prophete, that he commaunded them whiche were caryed away, to take fyre, as it is ſayde afore. T 2.Mach. 7.c. Iere. 29.b. Baruc. 6.a.

2 He cõmaunded them alſo that they ſhould not forget the lawe and commaundements of the Lorde, and that they ſhoulde not erre in theyr myndes, when they ſee images of ſiluer and golde, with theyr ornamentes.

3 Theſe and ſuch other thynges commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they ſhoulde not let the lawe of God gor out of theyr hartes.

4 It is wrytten alſo, howe the prophete at the commaundement of god, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountayne where Moſes clymed vp, and ſawe the heritage of God.

Deut. 34.a. 5 And when Jeremi came there, he founde an open caue, wherein he layde the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter of incenſe, and ſo ſtopped the doore.

6 There came certayne men togeather alſo, folowyng him to marke the place, but they coulde not fynde it.

B 7 Whiche when Jeremie perceiued, he reprooued them, ſaying, As for that place it ſhalbe vnknowen, vntyl the tyme that God gather his people togeather agayne, and receiue them vnto mercy.

Exod. 13.d. 8 Then ſhal God ſhewe them theſe things,
1. Sam. 8.b. and the maieſtie of the Lorde ſhal appeare, and the cloude alſo, lyke as it was ſhewed vnto Moſes: and lyke as when Solomon deſired that the place myght be honorably ſanctified, and it was ſhewed hym.

9 For he beyng a wiſe man, handled honorably and wyſely, offeryng vnto GOD in the halowyng of the temple when it was finiſhed.

Luke. 10.b. 10 And lyke as when Moſes prayed vnto the Lorde, the fyre came downe from heauen, and conſumed the burnt offering: euen ſo prayed Solomon alſo, and the fire came downe from heauen, and conſumed the whole burnt offeryng.

11 And Moſes ſayd, Becauſe the ſinne offeryng was not eaten, therefore it is conſumed.

12 In like manner Solomon kept the dedication (or halowyng) eyght dayes.

2. Chr. 7.a 13 In the annotations and wrytynges of
* Some reade, Nehemias. Jeremie were theſe thynges put alſo: and howe he made a librarie, and howe he geathered out of al countreys the bookes of the kinges, and of the prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epiſtles of the kinges concernyng the holy gyftes.

C 14 Euen ſo Judas alſo, looke what he learned by experience of warre, & ſuche thinges as hath happened vnto vs, he geathered them altogeather, & ſo we haue them by vs.

15 If ye nowe deſyre to haue the ſame, ſende ſome body to fetche them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue wrytten vnto you: therfore ye ſhal do wel yf ye keepe the ſame dayes.

17 We hope alſo that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them al the heritage, kingdome, prieſthood, and ſanctuary, 18 That he promiſed them in the lawe, ſhal Deut. 30.a.

ſhortly haue mercy vpon vs, and geather vs togeather from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for he hath ſaued vs from great perils, and hath cleanſed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great temple, the dedication of the aulter:

20 Yea and of the warres that concerne no- 1. Mac. 6.a. ble Antiochus and Eupator his ſonne:

21 And the myracles ſhewed from heauen P
by the valiant actes of thoſe whiche defended the Jewes religion, ſo that a few ranne through the whole countrey, & draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repayred agayne the temple that was ſpoken of throughout al the worlde, deliuered the citie, doing theyr beſt that the lawe of the Lorde which was put downe, might with al tranquilitie be reſtored agayne vnto the Lorde that was ſo mercyful vnto them:

23 As touchyng Jaſon alſo of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendeouſly to bryng into one booke the thynges that were comprehended of hym in fiue.

24 For we conſyderyng the multitude of the bookes, and howe harde it ſhoulde be for them that ſhoulde meddle with ſtories and actes, and that becauſe of ſo diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken ſo to comprehende the ſtories, that ſuche as are diſpoſed to reade, myght haue pleaſure and paſtyme therein, and that they whiche are diligent in ſuche thinges, might the better thinke vpon them: yea and that whoſoeuer reade them, might haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheleſſe, we our ſelues that haue medled with this matter, for the ſhortening of it, haue taken no ſmal labour, but great diligence, watchynges, and trauayle.

27 Lyke as they that make a feaſt, woulde fayne do other men pleaſure: euen ſo we alſo for many mens ſakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Where as we may ſhortly comprehende C
the thynges that other men haue truely wrytten.

29 For he that buyldeth an houſe a newe, muſt prouide for many thinges to the whole building: but he that paynteth it afterwarde, ſeeketh but only that is comely, meete, & conuenient to garniſhe it withal.

30 Euen

30 Euen so doo we also in lyke manner: and why? He that beginneth fyrst to wryte a storie, must with his vnderstandyng gather the matter togeather, set his wordes in order, & diligently serche out euery part.

31 But he that afterwarde wyll shorten it, vseth fewe wordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.

32 Nowe wyl we beginne to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolishe thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storie it selfe.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. Of the honour donne vnto the temple by the kinges of the Gentiles. 6. Simon vttereth what treasure is in the temple.

1 2 WHat tyme as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordayned through the godlynesse of Onias the high priest, and other godly menne that were enimies to wickednesse,

2 It came thereto, that euen the kynges and princes them selues dyd the place great worshyp, and garnished the temple with great gyftes:

3 In so muche that Seleucus kyng of Asia, of his owne rentes bare al the costes belonging to the seruice of the offeringes.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the temple, vpon a variance risen betweene hym and the high priest, for wickednesse that was donne in the citie,

5 For that he coulde not ouercome Onias, he gate hym to Apollonius the sonne of Tharsia, whiche then was cheefe Lorde in Celosyria and Phenices,

6 And tolde him that the treasurie in Hierusalem was full of immumerable money, and howe that the common goodes which belongeth not vnto the offeringes, were exceeding great also: yea and how it were possible that all these myght comme vnder the kinges power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the kyng of the money, as it was tolde hym: the kyng called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement to bryng him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he would goe through Celosyria and Phenices to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfyl the kinges pleasure.

9 So when he came to Hierusalem, & was louingly receyued of the high priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concernyng the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also yf it were so in deede.

10 Then the high priest tolde him, that there was suche money layde vp for the vpholdyng of wydowes and fatherlesse chyldren.

11 And howe that a certayne of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of al the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talentes of syluer, and two hundred of golde:

12 Yea and that it were vnpossible for those menn meanyng to be deceyued that had put assured confydence in the holynesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted safetie of the temple, whiche is had in worshyp through the whole worlde, for the mayntenance and honour of the same.

13 Wherevnto Heliodorus answeared, that the king had cõmaunded hym in any wyse to bring him the money.

14 So at the day appoynted Heliodorus entred into the temple to order this matter: C wherefore there was no small feare throwe out the whole citie.

15 The priestes fell downe before the aulter in their vestments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a lawe concernyng stuffe geuen to keepe, that they shoulde be safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keeping. Exod. 22. b.

16 Then who so had looked the high priest in the face, it would haue grieued his hart: for his countenance and the changyng of his colour, declared the inwarde sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was all in beauynesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon hym might perceyue the greefe of his hart.

18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was lyke to comme into confusion.

19 The women came togeather through the streetes with heary clothes about their brestes: the virgins also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the wyndowes, 20 Yea they al held vp their handes toward heauen and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vppon the common people, and the high priest, beyng in such trouble.

22 But they besought almighty God, that the goodes whiche were committed vnto them, myght be kept whole for thoſe that had delinered them vnto their keeping.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doo, that perfourmed he in the ſame place, he him ſelfe perſonally bryng about the treaſurie with his men of warre.

24 But the ſpirite of almighty God ſhewed him ſelfe openly, ſo that all they whiche preſumed to obey Heliodorus, fell thorough the power of God, into a great fearefulneſſe and dreade.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horſe, with a terrible man ſitting vppon hym, decked in goodly aray, and the horſe ſmote at Heliodorus with his fooreferer: nowe he that ſate vppon the horſe, had harneſſe of golde vpon him. 2.Mac.10.c and.11.b.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautifull young men of notable ſtrength, in goodly aray, which ſtoode by him, ſcourged him on both the ſydes, and gaue hym many ſtripes without ceaſſing.

27 With that fell Heliodorus ſodenly vnto the grounde: ſo they tooke him vp, beyng compaſſed about with great darkeneſſe, and bare him out vpon a beere. 2.Mac.5.c.

28 Thus he that came with ſo many runners and menne of warre into the ſaid treaſurie, was borne out, where as no man myght helpe hym, being deſtitute of harneſſe and weapons: and ſo the power of God was manifeſt and knowen.

29 He lay ſtyll dumbe alſo by the power of God, deſtitute of al hope and lyfe.

30 And they prayſed the Lorde, that he had ſhewed his power vppon his place and temple, whiche a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, and that thorough the reuelation of the almighty Lorde it was fylled with ioy and gladneſſe.

31 Then certayne of Heliodorus freendes prayed Onias, that in all haſte he would call vppon God, to graunt him his lyfe, which was geuing vp the ghoſt.

32 So the hygh prieſt, fearing leſt the kyng ſhoulde ſuſpect that the Iewes had donne Heliodorus ſome (a) euyl, he offered an offering for his health. (a) In woorkyng ſome trechery or ſorcerie agaynſt him.

33 Nowe when the hygh prieſt had obtayned his petition, the ſame young menne in the ſame clothyng appeared, and ſtoode beſyde Heliodorus, ſayeing, Thanke Onias the hygh prieſt: for, for his ſake hath the Lorde graunted thee thy lyfe.

34 Therefore ſeeyng that God hath ſcourged thee, gene him prayſe and thankes, and ſhewe euery man his myght and power. And when they had ſpoken theſe woordes, they appeared no more. Actes.27.c.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him whiche had graunted hym his lyfe, thanked Onias, tooke his hoaſt, and went agayne to the king.

36 Then teſtifyed he vnto euery man, of the great woorkes of GOD, that he had ſeene with his eyes.

37 And when the kyng aſked Heliodorus who were meete to be ſent yet once agayne to Hieruſalem, he ſayde, 38 If thou haſt any enimie or aduerſarie vnto thy realme, ſend him thyther, and thou ſhalt haue hym punniſhed, if he eſcape with his lyfe: for in that place (no doubt) there is a ſpecial power and woorking of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, viſiteth and defendeth that place, and al that come to doo it harme, he punniſheth, and plageth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concernyng Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treaſurie (at Hieruſalem.)

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. Simon reporteth euyll of Onias. 7. Iaſon deſyring the offyce of the hygh prieſt, corrupted the kyng with rewardes.

1 THis Simon nowe (of whom we ſpake afore) being a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne natural countrey, reported the woorſt of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though he had ben a bringer vp of euyl. A

2 Thus was he not aſhamed to call hym an enimie of the realme, that was ſo faythfull an ouerſeer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea and ſo feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increaſed ſo farre, that thorough his freendes there were certayne manſlaughters committed:

4 Onias conſydered the peryl that myght come thorough this ſtrife, and how that Apollonius the cheefe Lord in Celoſyria and Phenices was all ſet vppon tyrannie, and Simons malice increaſed the ſame,

5 He gate him to the king, not as an accuſer of the citizens, but as one that by hym ſelfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:

6 For he ſawe it was not poſſible to lyue in peace, neyther Simon to leane of from his fooliſhneſſe, except the kyng dyd looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, whiche is called the noble, tooke the kyngdome, Iaſon the brother of B

Onias

Onies laboured to be high priest:

8 For he came vnto the kyng, and promised him three hundred and threescore talentes of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.

9 Besydes this, he promised hym yet an hundred and fifty more, yf he myght haue licence to set vp a scoole and an exercise of weapons, and that he might call them of Hierusalem Antiochians.

10 Whiche when the kyng had graunted, and he had gotten the superiorytie, he began immediatly to drawe his kynsmen to the custome of the heathen.

11 Put downe the kynges that the Iewes had set vp of loue by John, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of frendshyp and loue, he put downe al the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and set vp the wycked statutes.

12 For when he had made a scoole of fence vnder the castle, he drewe all the chiefest young men on his syde, and trayned them to were (a) hattes.

(a) These were tokens of Mercurie the gentiles vsed.

13 And there was suche a feruent desire to come to the manners of the heathen, and to take vp new strange fashions brought in through the vngracious and vnheard of wickednesse of Iason, which should not be called a priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuche that the priestes were nowe no more occupied about the seruice of the aulter: but despised the temple, regarded not the offerynges, yea gaue their diligence to learne to fyght, to wrestle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but lyked the glory of the Grekes best of al:

16 For the whiche they stroue perilously, and were greedie to folowe theyr statutes, yea theyr lust was in al thynges to be lyke them, whiche afore were theyr enimies, and destroyers.

17 Howbeit, to do wickedly agaynst the law of God, shal not escape vnpunished, but of this we shal speake hereafter.

Whiche were in euery fifth yere.

18 What tyme as the * Olimpians spoztes were playde at Tyrus, the kyng him selfe beyng present, 19 The vngracious Iason sent wicked men, bearyng from them of Hierusalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of siluer for an offerynge to Hercules: these had they that caried them desyred, vnder suche a fashion as though they shoulde not haue ben offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Nenertheles, he that sent them, sent them to the intent that they shoulde be offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were geuen as to the makyng of shyppes.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of kyng Ptolome Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceiued that he was put out from (b) medlyng in the realme, he sought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Joppa, and then to Hierusalem, D

(b) From his honour and gaynes.

22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torche lyght, and with great prayse: and so he turned his host vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeres, Iason sent Menelaus (the foresayd Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the kyng, and to bring him answeare of other necessarie matters. 2. Mac. 4. b.

24 But he, when he was commended to the kyng for magnifying of his power, turned the priesthood vnto hym selfe, laying vp three hundred talentes of siluer for Iason.

25 So when he had gotten commaundementes from the kyng, he came hauyng nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomache of a cruell tyrant, & the wrath of a wylde brute beast.

26 Then Iason, whiche had deceiued his owne brother, seeyng that he hym selfe was beguiled also, was fayne to flee into the lande of the Ammonites, 1. Mach. 3. b

27 And Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the kyng, he did nothyng therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of hym.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherfore they were both called before the kyng. E

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his steade, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the (c) Cyprians.

(c) That is, of them that measured the corne.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were geuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kinges concubine.

31 Then came the kyng in all haste to stylle them agayne, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Nowe Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a right conuenient tyme, stole certaine vessels of golde out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some he solde at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Whiche when Onias knewe of his curtesie, he reproued him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gate hym to Andronicus, and prayed him that he woulde slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counselled hym craftily to come out of the sanctuarie, gruyng him his hande with an othe (howbeit he suspect hym) and then he slue Onias, without any regard of righteousnesse.

F 35 For the which cause not only the Iewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the kyng was come agayne from Cilicia, the Iewes and certayne of the Greekes went vnto hym, complayning for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea Antiochus him selfe was sory in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied him and he wept, remembryng his soberneſſe, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kyndled in his mynde, that he commaunded Andronicus to be strypped out of his purple clothyng, and so to be ledde throughout the citie, yea and the vngratious man to be slayne in the same place where he committed his wickednesse vpon Onias: thus the Lorde rewarded hym his punyshment, as he had deserued.

39 Nowe when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the temple through the counsell of Menelaus, and the voyce came abroade: the multitude gathered them togeather against Lysimachus, for he had caryed out nowe muche golde.

40 So when the people arose, and were ful of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousande pythiftes to defende him, a certayne tyrant being theyr captayne, whiche was growen both in age and woodnesse.

G 41 They therefore seeyng the enterpryse of Lysimachus, caught vp some stones, some blockes endes, and some handfulles of dust that was next at hande, and threwe them vpon the rebels of Lysimachus bande that had set vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, some beyng slayne, and all the other chased away: but as for the wycked churche robber him selfe, they kylled hym beside the treasurie.

43 Of these matters therefore there was kept a court against Menelaus.

44 Nowe when the kyng came to Tyre, three men that were sent from the senate, pleaded hym guilte before the kyng.

45 But Menelaus being nowe connict, went and promyſed Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes to geue him muche money, if he woulde pacifie the kyng towarde hym.

46 So Ptolome went to the kyng into a coast, where as he was set to coole hym, and brought him out of that minde:

47 In so muche that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstandyng was ranke of all mischiefes and those poore men, whiche yf they had tolde the truth, yea before the Scythians, they shoulde haue ben iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they lame punyshed, which folowed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyre, moued with hatred of that wycked deede, vsed them to be very honorably buryed.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remayned styl in auctoritie, increasyng in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The v. Chapter.

1. Of the signes and tokens seene in Hierusalem. 6. Of the ende and office of Iason. 11. The pursute of Antiochus against the Iewes.

1 ABout the same tyme Antiochus vndertooke his seconde voyage into Egypt.

2 And then there there seene throughout all the citie (of Hierusalem) fourtie dayes long, horsmen runnyng in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speareemen,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, incountering and comming one against another, with shaking of shieldes and multitude of partes, and drawyng of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harneſſe of al sortes.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens myght turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had ben dead, Iason tooke a thousande men, and came sodaynely vpon the citie: the citizens ranne vnto the walles, at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Iason, he spared not his owne citizens in the slaughter, neither consydered he what great ruth it were, to destroy the prosperitie priſtis of his owne kinſwen: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enimies, and not of his frendes.

7 For all this gate he not the ſuperioritie, but at the laſt receyued confuſion for his malice, and ſhulde agayne lyue a vagabond into the londe of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse, he was accuſed before Aretha the kyng of the Arabians, in ſo muche that he was fayne to flee from citie to citie, being deſpiſed of euery man as a forſaker of the lawes, and as abominable perſone: and at the laſt, as an open enimie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, he was dryuen into Egypte.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne natiue lande, perished from home him ſelfe: he went to Lacedemon, thynkyng there to haue gotten ſuccour by reaſon of kynrede.

10 And he that afore had caſt many one out vnburyed, was throwen out hym ſelfe, no man mourning for hym, nor putting hym in his graue: ſo that he neyther enioyed the buryall of a ſtranger, neyther was he partaker of his fathers ſepulchre.

11 Nowe when this was donne, the kyng ſuſpected that the Iewes woulde haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great diſpleaſure out of Egypte, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commaunded his menne of warre alſo, that they ſhoulde ſley and not ſpare: but ſlay downe ſuche as withſtoode them, or clymed vp vpon the houſes.

13 Thus was there a great ſlaughter of young men, olde men, women, chyldren, and virgins.

14 In thre dayes were there ſlayne fourſcore thouſande, fourtie thouſande put in priſon: and there were as many ſolde as were ſlayne.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durſt goe into the moſt holy temple of all the worlde, Menelaus, that traytour to the lawes and to his owne naturall countrey, beyng his guyde.

16 And with his wicked handes tooke the holy veſſels, whiche other kinges and cities had geuen thyther for the garniſhing and honour of the place, them tooke he in his handes vnwoorthily, and defyled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he conſydered not howe that GOD was not a litle wroth for the ſinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the whiche ſuche confuſion came vpon that place.

18 And why? yf it had not happened them to haue beene lapped in many ſinnes, this Antiochus as ſoone as he had comme, had ſodenly beene puniſhed and thut out of his preſumption, lyke as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king ſent to robbe the treaſurie. 2.Mac.3.b.

19 Neuertheleſſe, God hath not choſen the people for the places ſake: but the place for the peoples ſake.

20 And therefore to the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde ſhal it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was nowe forſaken in the wrath of almighty God: ſo when the great God is reconciled, it ſhalbe ſet vp in hygh woorſhip agayne.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thouſande and eyght hundred talentes out of the temple, he gate him to Antioche in all the haſte, thinking in his pryde that he myght make men ſayle vpon the drye land, and to goe vpon the ſea, ſuche an hygh mind had he. D

22 He leafte deputies there to vexe the people: at Hieruſalem leafte he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruel then him ſelfe that ſet him there:

23 At Gariſim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, whiche were more grieuous to the citizens then other.

24 Nowe as he was thus ſet in malice agaynſt the Iewes, he ſent Apollonius, a cruel prince, with an armie of twentie and two thouſande, commaundyng hym to ſlay thoſe that were of perfect age, and to ſell the women, and the younger ſorte. 1.Mac.1.a.

25 When he came nowe to Hieruſalem, he faygned peace, and kept him ſyl vntyll the Sabboth day: and then he commaunded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And ſo he ſlue all them that were gonne forth to the open playe, running (here and there) through the citie with his menne weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Machabeus, whiche was the tenth, fledde into the wyldernesse, led his lyfe there with his company among wylde beaſtes, and vppon the mountaynes, dwelling there, and eating hearbes, leſt they ſhould be partakers of the ſylthynesse. 1.Mac.1.a.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. The Iewes are compelled to leave the lawe of God. 4. The temple is defyled. 12. The readers are admoniſhed that they ſhall not abhorre the aduerſitie wherewith the Lorde afflicteth them. 28. The greeuous payne of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, ſent the kyng an A olde man of Antioche for to compel or, Athe Iewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the lawe of God.

2 To defyle the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius: and that they should beim Garizim, as those which dwelt at the place of Iupiter the harberous.

3 This wicked sedition of the ungodly, was heauie vpon all the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuousnesse, bybbyng and hollyng of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlottes togeather: the women went into the holy places, and bare in that was not lawfull.

5 The aulter also was ful of vnlawful thinges, whiche the lawe forbiddeth to laye vpon it,

6 The Sabbothes were not kept, the other solempne feastes of the lande were not regarded: to be playne, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Iewe.

B 7 In the day of the kynges birth they were compelled perforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrayned to weare garlandes of yuie, and so to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsell of Ptolomeus, there went out a commaundement vnto the next cities of the heathen, agaynst the Iewes, that the lyke customs and * banketing should be kept.

* or, eating of the flesh that was sacrifyced.

9 And who so woulde not conforme themselues to the manners of ỳ gentiles, shoulde be put to death: then myght a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whō when they had ledde rounde about the citie, the babes hangyng at their breastes, they cast them downe headlonges ouer the walles.

11 Somme that were crept in Dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, and brent in the fyre, because that for the feare of G D they kept the commaundement so stikly, and woulde not defende themselues.

12 Nowe I beseeche all those whiche reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the thinges that are happened for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people.

Prou.3.b. 13 And why? When God suffereth not sinners long to folowe their owne mynd, but shortly pounisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.

C 14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sinne vnpounished, lyke as other nations:

15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may pounishe them in the fulnesse of their sinnes.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though he pounishe with aduersitie, yet dooth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that we haue spoken nowe with fewe wordes, be for a warning and admonition vnto the heathen: nowe wyll we come to the declaryng of the matter. * or, but vs.

18 Eleazar one of the principall scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenance, was constrayned to gape with open mouth, and to eate swynes flesshe.

19 But he defying rather to dye gloriously, then to lyue with shame, offered hym selfe wyllyngly to the martyrdome.

Leui.11.a. 20 Nowe when he sawe that he must needes goe to it, he tooke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with hym selfe, that he would not consent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleasure of lyfe.

21 They that (a) stoode by, beyng moued with pitie (but not ryght) for the old freendship of the man, tooke hym aside priuily, and prayed him that he would let such flesshe be brought hym as were lawfull to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the flesshe of the sacrifyce, lyke as the kyng commaunded, (a) They that had the charge of that wicked banket. D

22 For so he myght be deliuered from death: and so for the olde freendship of the man, they shewed him this kyndnesse.

23 But he beganne to consyder discreetely and as became his age, and the excellencye of his auncient yeeres, and the honour of his graye heares whereunto he was comme, and his most honest conuersation from his chyldehood, but chiefely the holy lawe made and geuen by God, therefore he answeared consequently, and willed them strayght wayes to sende him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not myne age, sayd he, in any wyse to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thynke that Eleazar beyng fowre score yeeres olde and tenne, were nowe gonne to a strange religion:

25 And so though myne hypocrisie for a litle tyme of a transitorie lyfe, they myght be deceyued: by this meanes also shoulde I defyle myne age, and make it abhominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of menne, yet shoulde I not escape the hande of almighty God, neyther alyue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I wyll dye manfully, and doo as it becommeth myne age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue Amos.1.b.

an an example of stedfastnesse for suche as be young, If I with a ready mynde, and manfully, dye an honest death for the most worthy & holy lawes. When he had said these wordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

39 Now they that led hym, and were milde a litle afore, began to take displeasure, because of the wordes that he sayde: for they thought he had spoken them of an high mynde.

40 But when he was in his martyrdome, he mourned, and said, Thou, O Lord, whiche hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that where as I myght be deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my mynde I am wel content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

41 Thus this man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto young men, but vnto al the people, to be stedfast and manly.

The. vii. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren, and of their mother.

1 IT happened also that there were seuen
M.II.A brethren with their mother taken, & compelled by the kyng against the lawe to eate swynes flesshe, (namely) with scourges and leatherne whyppes,

2 And one of them whiche was the cheefe, sayde, What seekest thou, and what requirest thou of vs? As for vs, we are ready rather to suffer death, then to offend the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the kyng angry, and bad heate cauldrons, and brasen pottes: which when they were made hot,

4 Immediatly he commaunded the tongue of hym that spake first, to be cut out, to pul the skynne ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete, yea, and that in the syght of his mother, and the other of his brethren.

5 Nowe when he was cleane mangled, he commaunded a fire to be made, & so (while there was any breath in hym) to be fryed in the cauldron: In the whiche when he had ben long payned, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted hym to dye manfully, saying,

Iud.32.c 6 The Lorde God shall regarde the trueth, and comfort vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his songue, (saying,) And he wyl haue compassion on his seruantes.

B 7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the seconde, to haue hym in derision, pulled the skynne with the heare ouer his head, and asked hym if he wolde eate (swynes flesshe or) he were payned in the other members also throughout his body.

8 But he answeared in his owne language, and sayde, I wyll not doo it: and so he was tormented like as the first.

9 And when he was euen at the geuyng vp of the ghost, he said, Thou most vngratious person puttest vs nowe to death: but the kyng of the worlde shal rayse vs vp whiche dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting lyfe.

10 After him was the third had in derision, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holdyng forth his handes manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast sayeth, These haue I of heauen, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shal receyue them of hym agayne.

12 In so much that the king and they which were with hym, marueyled at the young mans boldnesse, that he nothyng regarded the paynes.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in like maner.

14 So when he was nowe at his death, he C said, It is better that we being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shal rayse vs vp againe: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to lyfe.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, Iohn.5.c. they tormented hym.

16 Then looked he vnto the king, and said, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortall man also thy selfe, to doo what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abyde thee, tarry styl a whyle, and thou shalt see the great power of God, how he wyl punishe thee and thy seede.

18 After hym they brought the first, whiche beyng at the poynt of death, sayde, Be not deceyued, O kyng: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therfore marueylous thynges are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou whiche takest in hand to strine against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 This excellent mother, worthy to be wel D repoyted of, and had in remembrance, sawe her seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffred it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wisedome, waking vp vp her wyuishe thought with a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto them,

22 I can not tell howe ye sprang in my wombe, for I neyther gaue you breath, nor soule, nor lyfe, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodyes togeather, 23 But the maker of the worlde whiche fashioned the byrth of man, and began al thinges: euen he also of his owne mercy shall geue you breath and life agayne, like as ye nowe regarde not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Nowe thought Antiochus that she had despised hym, therefore he let her goe with her reproches, and beganne to exhorte the youngest sonne whiche was yet leaft, not onely with woordes, but swore vnto hym with an othe, that he shoulde make hym a riche and wealthye man, if he woulde forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he shoulde geue hym what so euer were necessarie for hym.

25 But when the young man woulde not be moued for all these thinges, he called his mother, & counselled her to saue her sonnes life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many woords, she promised hym that she would speake to her sonne.

¶ 27 So she turned her vnto hym, laughyng the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her countrey language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine monethes in my wombe, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age:

28 I beseech thee my sonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consyder that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue donne: that I may receyue thee agayne in the same mercye with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speakyng these woordes, the young man sayde, Whom looke ye for? (wherefore doo ye tarry?) I wyl not obey the kynges commaundement, but the lawe that God gaue vs by Moses.

Leuit. 11. a. 31 As for thou that imaginest all mischefe * or, Hebrues. against the * Iewes, thou shalt not escape the handes of God.

32 For we suffer these thynges because of our sinnes.

33 And though the lyuyng Lorde be angrye with vs a litle whyle, for our chastenyng & reformation, yet shall he be at one agayne with his seruantes.

¶ 34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pryde not thy selfe through vayne hope, in beyng so malitious vpon the seruantes of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgementes of God, which is almyghtie, and seeth al thynges.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle payne, are now vnder the couenant of euerlastyng lyfe: but through the iudgement of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pryde.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue donne, I offer my * soule and my bodye for the lawes of our fathers, callyng vpon God, that he wyll soone be mercyfull vnto our people, yea, and with payne and punishment to make them graunt that he only is God. * or, lyfe.

38 In me nowe and in my brethren the wrath of almyghtie God is at an ende, whiche righteously is fallen vpon all our people. 2. Mac. 7. c.

39 Then the king, beyng kindled in anger, was more cruel vpon hym then vpon al the other, and tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So this young man dyed vndefiled, and put his trust styl in the Lorde.

41 Last of all, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this now be ynough spoken touchyng the offeringes and exercise cruelnesse.

The. viii. Chapter.

I. Iudas gathereth together his host. 9. Nicanor is sent agaynst Iudas. 27. The Iewes geue thankes after they haue put their enimies to flyght, diuidyng the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse and wydowes.

1 THen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with hym, went priuily into the townes, called their kinsfolkes and frendes togeather, tooke vnto them al such as continued yet in the fayth and lawe of the Iewes, and brought forth fyue thousand men. A

2 So they called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gracious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, whiche was shortly like to be layd waste, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto hym,

4 To remember the most vnrighteous deathes of young innocent children, the blasphemies also donne vnto his name, and to punishe them.

5 Nowe

5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was to myghtie for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie.

6 He fel vpon the townes & cities vnwares, brent them, tooke the moste commodious places, and slue many of the enimies.

7 But specially he made suche chases by nyght, in so much that his manlynesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip sawe that the man encreased by litle and litle, and that the matter prospered with him for the most parte: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captayne in Celosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kynges businesse.

9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a special freend of his, in al the haste, and gaue him of the cõmon sorte of the heathen, no lesse then twentie thousande harnessed men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to helpe him one Gorgias a man of warre, whiche in matters concernyng battayles had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeyned also the tribute whiche the Romanes shulde haue had to be geuen vnto the kyng out of the captiue of the Iewes (namely) two thousande talentes.

11 And immediately he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requyrying them for to buy Iewes to be their seruantes and bondmen, promisyng to sel them foure score and tenne for one talent: but he consydered not the wrath of almyghtie God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Iudas knewe of this, he tolde the Iewes that were with him of Nicanors commyng.

13 Nowe were there some of them feareful, not trustyng vnto the righteousnes of God, & fled their way, & abode not in that place:

14 But the other solde al that they had left, and besought the lorde to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them or euer he came nygh them:

15 And though he wolde not doo it for their sakes, yet for the couenant that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious name.

16 And so Machabeus called his menne together, (namely) about syxe thousande, exhortyng them not to agree vnto their enimies, neyther to be afrayde for the multitude of their aduersaries comming against them vnryghteously, but to fyght manly,

17 Consyderyng the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cause, howe they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea, and destroyed the lawes of the fathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almyghtie Lorde, which in the twynckling of an eye, may both destroy them that come against vs, and al the worlde.

19 He exhorted them also to call to remembraunce the helpe that GOD shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred, foure score, and fyue thousande of Sennacheribs people:

20 And of the batayle that they had in Babylon against the Galathians: howe al the Macedonians that came to helpe them, being foure thousande, stoode in feare: and howe they being only but syxe thousand, slue an hundred and twentie thousand, throwe the helpe that was geuen them from heauen, wherby they also had receyued many benefites.

21 Through these woordes, the men tooke good hartes vnto them, redie to dye for the lawe and the countrey.

22 So he set vpon euery companie a captayne, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, geuyng eache one fyftene hundred men.

23 He caused Esdras also to reade the holy bookes vnto them, and to geue them a token of the helpe of GOD: then he him selfe being captayne in the forefront of the batayle, buckled with Nicanor.

24 And God was their helpe, in so muche that they slue aboue nienе thousande men, and compelled the more parte of Nicanors host to flee, they were so wounded & feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those that came to buye them, and folowed vpon them on euery syde.

26 But when the tyme came vppon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they folowed no more vpon them.

27 So they toke their weapons and spoyles, and kept the Sabboth, geuyng thankes vnto the Lorde, whiche had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercie.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to wydowes, and the residue had they them selues, with their.

29 When this was done, & they al had made a generall prayer, they besought the merciful Lorde to be at one with his seruantes.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus & Bacchides, whiche fought against them, they slue twentie thousande, wanne high & strong holdes, & diuided moe spoyles, euer geuing an equal portion vnto sicke, to the fatherlesse, to wydowes, & to aged persons.

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons togeather, they layde them al in conuenient places, and the remnant of the spoyles brought they to Hierusalem.

32 They slue also Philarches that wicked person, whiche was with Timothens, and had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they helde the thankes geuing at Hierusalem for the victorie, they brent those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple (namely) Callistheneș, whiche was fled into an house, and so they gat a worthy rewarde for their wickednesse.

34 As for that moste vngratious Nicanor, which had brought a thousand marchantes to buye the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: in so muche that he put of his glorious rayment, fled by sea, and came alone to Antioche with great shame and dishonour, which he gate through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus he that promised the Romanes to pay them their tribute when he tooke Hierusalem, began nowe to say playnely, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therefore not possible to wounde them, because they folowed the lawes whiche God had made.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. Antiochus wyllyng to spoyle Persepolis, is driuen to flyght. 9. As he persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lorde. 13. The faigned repentance of Antiochus. 28. He dyeth.

1 AT the same tyme came Antiochus agayne with dishonour out of Persia. 2. Mac. 6. c.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, & vndertooke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ran togeather, and defended themselues, in so muche that he and his were fayne to flee with shame: and so after that flyght, it happened that Antiochus came agayne with dishonour.

3 But when he came to Ecbatana, he gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timothens.

4 Nowe as he was auaunceyng himselfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was donne to them vpon the Iewes: and therefore commaunded to make redie his charret, hastyng on his iourney without ceassyng, the iudgement of God prouoking him, because he had spoken so proudely, that he would come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.

5 But the Lorde God of Israel that seeth all thynges, smote hym with a vncurable and inuisible plague (whiche no man coulde heale:) For as soone as he had spoken these woordes, there came vpon him an horrible payne of his bowelles, and a sore greefe of the inner partes,

6 And that was but ryght: for he had martyred other mens bowelles with diuers and strange tormentes. /

7 Howbeit, he woulde in no wyse ceasse B from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder, & more malitious agaynst the Iewes: but whyle he was commaundyng to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violently from the charret that ran swyftly, so that it hurled his body, and did him great payne.

8 And so he that thought a litle before, he myght commaunde the fluddes of the sea, (so proude was he beyonde the condition of man) and to weygh the hygh mountaynes in a payre of ballance, was nowe brought downe to the grounde, and carried vpon a horselytter, knowledging the manyfeste power of God vpon him:

9 So that the woormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whyles he was alyue, his flesshe fell of for payne and torment, and al his armie was grieued at * his smel. * or, stinkyng.

10 Thus he that a litle afore, thought he myght reache to the starres of heauen, him myght no man nowe abyde nor beare, for the vehemencie of hys yrnke.

11 Therefore he beyng brought from his great pride, began for to come to the knowledge of himselfe, for the punishmente of God warned him, and his payne encreased euer more and more.

12 And when he himselfe myght not abyde his owne hynke, he sayde these woordes, It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man whiche is mortall, thynke not through pride, himselfe to be equall vnto God.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who nowe wouldz haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so C hastily, to bring it downe to the grounde, and to make it a graue for dead men, nowe he delyteth to delyuer it free.

15 And as touchyng the Iewes whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the foules & wyld beastes, (saying that he wouldz haue destroyed both olde and young:) nowe he promised to make them lyke the citizens of Athens. 2. Mac. 8. c.

16 And

16 And where as he had ſpoyled the holy temple afore, nowe he maketh promiſe to garnith it with great gyftes, to increaſe the holy ornamentes, and of his owne rentes to beare the coſtes and charges belongyng to the offeringes:

17 Yea, and that he woulde alſo become a Iewe hym ſelfe, to goe thyough euery place of the worlde that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But when his paynes woulde not ceaſſe, (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon hym) out of a very diſpayre he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of interceſſion, conteyning theſe wordes.

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wiſheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Iewes, much health, and good proſperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if al thinges goe after your mynde, we geue great thankes.

D 21 In my ſickeneſſe alſo doo I remember you louyngly: for as I came out of Perſia, and was taken with ſore diſeaſe, I thought it neceſſary to care for the common wealth:

22 Neither diſpayre I in mee ſelfe, but haue a good hope to eſcape this ſickeneſſe.

23 But conſyderyng that my father led an hoſt ſometyme in the higher places, & herued who ſhould raigne after hym, 24 That if there happened any controuerſie, or any harde thyng were declared, they in the land might knowe their cheefe lorde, that there ſhould be no inſurrection.

25 Agayne, when I ponder with mee ſelfe howe that al the mightie men, and neyghbours round about, are laying wayte, and looke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my ſonne Antiochus ſhal raigne after me, whom I oft commended to many of you when I was in the higher kingdomes, and haue written vnto hym as it followeth herafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you, to remember the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally, and in eſpecial, and that euery man wyll be faythfull to me and my ſonne.

27 For I hope that he ſhall be of ſober and louyng behauiour, and if he folowe my deuice, he ſhalbe indifferent vnto you.

E 28 Thus that murderer and blaſphemer of God was ſore ſmytten: and like as he had entreated other men, ſo he dyed a miſerable death in a ſtrange countrey vppon a mountayne, 29 And his bodye dyd Philip that went with hym carrye awaye, whiche fearyng the ſonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple. 10. He begynneth to ſhew the actes of Eupator. 29. Fiue menne appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39. Timothi is ſlayne.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his companie, F through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the temple and the citie againe, 1. Mac. 4. c.

2 Deſtroyed the aulters and chappels that the heathen had builded thyough the ſtreets,

3 Cleanſed the temple, made another aulter of hycke ſtone, and after two yeeres they offered ſacrifices, ſet fooyth the incenſe, the lyghtes, and shewe bread. Exod. 20. a

4 When that was done, they fel downe flat vpon the grounde, and beſought the Lorde that they might come no more into ſuche trouble: but if they ſinned any more againſt hym, he him ſelf to chaſten them with mercy, and not to come into the handes of thoſe aliantes, and blaſphemous men.

5 Nowe vppon the ſame day that the ſtrangers polluted the temple, it happened, that on the very ſame daye it was cleanſed a- 1. Mac. 4. f. gayne, (namely) the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called Caſleu. November.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladneſſe, like as in the feaſt of the tabernacles, remembryng that not long afore they held the feaſt of the tabernacles vppon the mountaynes, and in dennes, like beaſtes.

7 And for the ſame token they bare greene B bowes, branches, and palmes, & ſong pſalmes before hym that had geuen them good ſucceſſe to cleanſe his place.

8 They agreed alſo togeather, and made a ſtatute, that euery yeere thoſe dayes ſhould be ſolemnly kept of all the people of the Iewes.

9 How Antiochus then, that was called the noble, dyed, it is ſufficiently tolde.

10 Nowe wyll we ſpeake of Eupator the ſonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened with him, and ſo with few wordes to comprehend the aduerſitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kyngdome, he made one Lyſias, whiche had ben captayne of the hoſt in Phenices and * Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the realme. * or, Celoſyria.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, being a ruler for the Iewes, and ſpecially to ſyt in iudgement for ſuche wrong as was done vnto them, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For

13 For the whiche cause he was accused of his frendes before Enpator: and when he was suspect to be a traytour, because he had left Cypres, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poysoned hym selfe, and dyed.

C 14 Nowe when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, and vndertooke oft tymes to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, receyued those that were driuen from Hierusalem, and tooke in hand to warre also.

1.Mac.5.a 16 But they that were with Machabeus, besought and prayed vnto the Lorde, that he woulde be their helper, and so they fel vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came against them, they slue, and kylled no lesse of altogeather, then twentie thousande.

18 Neuertheless, some, no lesse then nine thousande, were fled into two strong towers, hauyng al maner of ordinance to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus leauyng Simon, Iosephus, Zacheus, and those that were with them, whiche were very many, went to besiege them, and to fyght where most nede was.

D 20 Nowe they that were with Simon, beyng leade with couetousnesse, were intreated for money, through certaine of those that laye in the castles: and tooke threescore and ten thousand (a) Dragmas, and let some of them escape.

(a) A dragma is the eyght part of an ounce, whiche is about three pence.

21 But when it was told Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people togeather, accusyng those persons that they had solde the brethren for money, and let their enimies goe.

22 So he slue those traytours, and immediatly went in hand with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordered them selues manly with their weapons and bands, they slue in the two castles mo then twentie thousande.

1.Mac.5.b 2.Mac.8. 24 Nowe Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an host also of horsemen of the Asians, to wynne Iurie by strength.

2.Mac.11.b 25 But when he drewe nygh, Machabeus and they that were with hym, fell to their prayer, sprinkeled ashes vpon their heades, beyng gyrded with heary cloth about their loynes,

26 Fel downe before the aulter, & besought the Lorde that he woulde be merciefull to them, but an enimie vnto their enimies, & to take part against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the lawe. Deut.28.a

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie: and when they came nigh the enimies, they prepared them selues against them.

28 And betymes in the morning at the E breake of the day, both the hostes buckled togeather: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, whiche is the geuer of prosperitie, strength, and victorie: the other had a manly stomacke, whiche is a captayne of warre. Ierem.17.b 2.Chr.32.b

29 The batayle now beyng great, there appeared vnto the enimies from heauen fyue goodly men vpon horsebackes, with bridles of golde, leadyng the Iewes: 1.king.6.a 1.Mac.3.a and.11.b

30 And two of them hauyng Machabeus betwixt them, that kept hym safe on euery syde with their weapons, but shot dartes and lightenynges vpon the enimies, where through they were confounded with blyndnesse, and so sore afrayde, that they fel downe.

31 There were slayne of footemen twentie thousand and fiue hundred, and fyue hundred horsmen.

32 As for Timotheus hym selfe, he fled vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captayne.

33 But Machabeus and his company layde siege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great crakyng with wicked woordes.

35 Neuertheless, vppon the fifth day in the morning, twentie young men of Machabeus companie, beyng set on fire in their myndes because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bolde stomackes smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also clymed vp vppon the towers, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fyres that they had made, others brake open the gates, and receyued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie. F

47 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they found Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, & slue Chereas his brother in like manner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was donne, they song psalmes with prayses and thankes geuyng vnto the Lorde, whiche had donne so great thynges for Israel, and geuen them the victorie.

The

The.xi.Chapter.

I. Lyſias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8. Succour is ſent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

11 NOT long after this, Lyſias the kings ſteward, and a kynſman of his, which had the gouernaunce of his matters, tooke ſore diſpleaſure for the thynges that had happened.

2 And when he had geathered foure ſcore thouſande men of foote, with al the hoſt of the horſemen, he came againſt the Iewes, thynkyng to wynne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

1.b. 3 And the temple woulde he haue to be an houſe of lucre, lyke as the other gods houſes of the heathen are, and to ſel the prieſtes office euery yeere,

16.b. 4 Not conſyderyng the power of God, but was wylde in his mynde, truſtyng in the multitude of footemen, in thouſandes of horſemen, and in his fourteſcore Elephants.

5 So he came into Iurie, and then to Bethſura, a caſtle of defence, lying in a narowe place, fyue furlonges from Hieruſalem, and layde ſoare ſiege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus and his compa-
10.c nie knewe that his ſtrong holdes were beſieged, they fell to their prayers with weepyng and teares before the Lord: and al the people in lyke maner beſought him that he would ſend a good angel to deliuer Iſrael.

C 7 Machabeus him ſelfe was the fyrſt that made him redy to the battayle, exhortyng the other that were with him to ieoparde them ſelues, and to helpe their brethren.

3.d. 8 And when they were goyng forth of Hieruſalem togeather, with a redie and wyllyng mynde, there appeared before them vpon horſebacke a man in white clothyng, with harneſſe of golde, ſhakyng his ſpeare.

9 Then they prayſed the Lord altogeather, which had ſhewed them mercie, and were comforted in their myndes, in ſo much that they were redy not only to fyght with men, but with the moſte cruell beaſtes, yea, and runne through walles of iron.

10 Thus they went on wyllyngly, hauyng an helper from heauen, and the Lorde merciful vnto them,

11 They fel myghtily vpon their enimies like lions, ſlue eleuen thouſande footemen, ſyxtene hundred horſemen, and put all the other to flyght, 12 Many of them beyng wounded, & ſome gate away naked: yea Lyſias him ſelfe was fayne to flee ſhamefully, and ſo to eſcape.

13 Neuertheleſſe, that man was not without vnderſtandyng, but conſydered by him ſelfe that his power was minished, & pondered howe the Iewes, being defended by the helpe of almyghtie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he ſent them woorde,

C 14 And promiſed that he woulde conſent to all thynges whiche were reaſonable, and to make the kyng their freende.

15 To the which prayer of Lyſias, Machabeus agreed, ſeeking in al thynges the common wealth: and whatſoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lyſias concerning the Iewes, the kyng graunted it.

16 For there were letters wrytten vnto the Iewes from Lyſias, conteynyng theſe woordes, Lyſias ſendeth greetyng to the people of the Iewes, 17 Iohn and * Abſalon whiche were ſent * or, Abſalom.

from you, deliuered me wrytynges, and requyred me to fulfyl the thynges concerning their errande.

18 Therefore looke what myght be graunted, I certified the king therof: and what ſo euer was conuenient, he agreed thereto.

19 If ye nowe wyl be faythful in theſe matters, I ſhal endeuour my ſelfe hereafter alſo to doo you good.

20 As concernyng theſe thynges, by euery article thereof, I haue committed them to your meſſengers, and to thoſe whom I ſent vnto you to commune with you of the ſame particularly.

21 Fare ye well. In the hundred, fourtie, D and eyght yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioſcorinthius.

22 Nowe the kynges letter conteyned theſe woordes, Kyng Antiochus ſendeth greetyng vnto his brother Lyſias.

23 For ſo much as our father is nowe tranſ- 2.Mac.9.b.
lated vnto the Gods, our wyl is, that they whiche are in our realme, lyue without any inſurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters.

24 We vnderſtand alſo that ỹ Iewes would not conſent to our father for to be brought vnto the cuſtome of the gentiles, but ſtyfly to keepe theyr owne ſtatutes, for the whiche cauſe they requyre of vs alſo to let them remayne ſtyl after their owne lawes.

25 Wherfore, our mynde is, that this people ſhalbe in reſt: we haue concluded and determined alſo to reſtore them their temple againe, that they may lyue accordyng to the vſe and cuſtome of their forefathers.

26 Thou ſhalt doo vs a pleaſure therefore, yf thou ſende vnto them, and graunt them peace: that when they are certified of our mynde, they may be of good cheare, and looke to their owne wealth.

27 And

27 And this was the letter that the kyng wrote vnto the Iewes, Kyng Antiochus sendeth greetyng vnto the counsell, and the other people of the Iewes, 28 If ye fare wel, we haue our desyre: as for vs, we are in good health.
29 Menelaus came and tolde vs howe that your desyre was to returne home, & peaceably to enioy your owne possessions.
30 Wherfore, those that wyl come, we geue them free libertie vnto the thyrtieth day of the moneth of * Appyl, 31 That they may vse the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes lyke as afore: and none of them by any maner of wayes to haue harme for thynges done in ignorance.
32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.
33 Fare ye wel. In the hundred, fourtie, and eyght yere, the fyftienth day of the moneth of Appyl.
34 The Romanes also sent a letter, conteinyng these wordes, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadours of the Romanes, sende greetyng vnto the people of the Iewes.
35 Loke what Lysias the kynges kynsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also.
36 But as concernyng the thynges whiche he referred vnto the kyng, send hither some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we maye * cast the best to your profyte: for we must departe nowe vnto Antiochie.
37 And therefore wryte shortly agayne, that we may knowe your mynde.
38 Fare wel. In the hundred, fourtie, and eyght yeere, the fyftienth day of the moneth of Appyl.

* Xanthicus.

* or, consulte the best.

The .xii. Chapter.

2. Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3. The wicked deede of them of Ioppa agaynst the Iewes.

AND when these conenants were made, Lysias went vnto the kyng: and the Iewes tylled their grounde.
2 But Timotheus & Appollonius the sonne of Jennei, Jerome, and Demophon (the proude) Nicanor the captayne of Cypers, and they that laye in those places, wolde not let them lyue in rest and peace.
3 They of Ioppa also did euen such a shamefull deede: they prayed the Iewes that dwelte among them, to goe with their wiues and children into the shyppes which they had prepared, and dyd with them as though they had ought them no enyl wyl:
4 For so much then as there was gone forth a generall proclamation throughout the citie because of peace, they consented therto, and suspect nothyng: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they dyd wned no lesse then two hundred of them.
5 When Judas knewe of this crueltie shewed vnto his people, he commaunded those that were with him to make them redie,
6 Exhorting them to cal vpon God the righteous iudge, went forth agaynst those murderers of his brethren, set fyre in the hauen by nyght, burnt vp the shyppes: and those that escaped from the fyre, he slue (with the swoorde.)
7 And when he had done this, he departed, as though he wolde come agayne, & roote out all them of Ioppa.
8 But when he had gotten wooyde that the Iamnites were mynded to doo in lyke maner vnto the Iewes whiche dwelt among them,
9 He came vppon the Iamnites by nyght, & set fyre on the hauen, with the shyppes: so that the lyght of the fyre was seene at Hierusalem, vppon a two hundred and fourtie furlonges.
10 Nowe when they were gone from thence nyene furlonges, in their iourney towarde Timotheus, fyue thousande men on foote, and fyue hundred horsemen of the Arabians, fought with him.
11 So when the batayle was earnest, and prospered with Judas through the helpe of God, the residue of the (a) Arabians being ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promised to geue him certayne * pastures, and to doo him good in other thynges.
12 Judas thinkyng that they should in deede be profytable concernyng many thynges, * promised them peace: wherupon they shoke handes, & so they departed to their tentes.
13 Judas went also vnto a citie, which was very fast kept with bridges, fensed rounde about with walles, and diuers kyndes of people dwellyng therin, called Casyin.
14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in their store of victuals, that they were the slacker in their doynges, cursyng and reuilyng Judas with blasphemies, and speakyng suche wordes as it becommeth not.
15 But Machabeus callyng vpon the great prince of the worlde, (whiche without any batteyle rammes or ordinances of warre dyd cast downe the walles of Iericho in the time of Josuah) fel manfully vpon the walles,

(a) The Nabathites of Arabia, for because they were skilfull archers.

16 Tooke

16 Toke the citie, and throughe the helpe of the Lord made an exceeding great slaughter: insomuch that a lake of two furlonges brode, whiche lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slayne.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fiftie furlonges, and came to * Taraca, vnto the Iewes that are called Tubianei.

18 But as for Timotheus, they coulde not gett him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, & had left certaine men in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, whiche were captaynes with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousande men.

20 And Machabeus prepared hym with the fyue thousande men that were about hym, set them in order by companies, and went forth against Timotheus, whiche had with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foote, two thousande and fyue hundred horsmen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: For it coulde not be wonne, and was harde to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narrowe.

22 And when Judas his first bande came in sight, the enimies were smytten with feare, throughe the presence of God, whiche seeth al thinges: insomuche that they fleeyng one heere, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swordes.

23 Judas also was very earnest in folowing vpon them, punyshyng those vngodly, and slue thirtie thousande men of them.

24 Timotheus also hym selfe fell into the handes of Dositheus & Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his lyfe, because he had many of the Iewes fathers & brethren in prison, which if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had promysed faythfully to deliuer them agayne accordyng to the condition made, they let hym goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousande men.

27 Nowe after that he had chased away, and slayne his enimies, he remoued the host towarde Ephron a strong citie, wherin was Lysias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defending them mightyly: In this citie was muche ordinance and prouision of dartes.

28 But when Judas and his company had called vpon almightie God, whiche with his power breaketh the strength of the enimies, they wanne the citie, and slue twentie and fyue thousande of them that were within. E

29 From thence went they to the citie of the * Scythians, whiche lyeth fyue hundred furlonges from Hierusalem. * or, Scythopolis.

30 But when the Iewes which were in the citie, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea and intreated them kindly in the tyme of their aduersitie.

31 Judas and his company gaue them thankes, desyryng them to be freendly styll vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weekes being at hande.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousande men of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Whiche when they mette togeather, it chaunced a fewe of the Iewes to be slayne.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, F and woulde haue taken hym quicke: but an horsman of Thracia fell vpon hym, and smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fled into * Marisa. * or, Maresa.

36 When they nowe that were of * Gorgias side had foughten long, & were weery, Judas called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde * or, Eleim. be their helper, and captayne of the feelde:

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and song Psalmes with a loude voyce, insomuche that he made the enimies afrayde, and Gorgias men of warre tooke their flyght.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed them selues as the custome was, and kept the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vpon the day folowing, as necessitie required, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodies of the that were slayne, and to bury them in the fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coates of certaine Iewes which were slaine, they founde iewels that they had taken (out of the temple, and) from the ydolles of the Iamnites, whiche thyng is forbidden the Iewes by the lawe: then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slayne. Deut. 7. b. Iosu. 7. a.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous iudgement, whiche had opened the thing that was hid.

42 They fel downe also vnto theyr prayers, and besought GOD that the fault whiche was made, myght be put out of remembrance: Beydes that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to kepe them selues from suche sinne, forsomuche as they sawe before theyr eyes that these men were slayne for the same offences.
43 So he gathered of every one a certaine, and sent two thousande drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeede: in the whiche he did wel and right, for he had some consyderation and pondring of the life that is after this tyme.
44 For yf he had not thought that they whiche were slayne shoulde rise againe, it had ben superfluous & vayne to make any powe or sacrifice for them that were dead.
45 But forsommethe as he sawe that they whiche dye in the fauour & beleefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honorable for a reconciling, to do the same for those whiche were slayne, that the offence might be forgeuen.

The .xiii. Chapter.

1. The commyng of Eupator into Iury.
4. The death of Menelaus.

1 IN the hundred fourtie and niene yeere, came Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iurie,
2 And Lysias the stewarde and ruler of his matters with hym, hauyng an hundred and ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, fiue thousande horsemen, twentie and two Elephantes, and three hundred charrets set with hookes.
3 Menelaus also ioyned him selfe with them, but with great deceit, spake fayre to the kyng, not for any good to the countrey, but because he thought to haue ben made some great man of auctheritie.
4 But the kyng of kynges moued Antiochus myndе against this vngodly person, and Lysias enfourmed the kyng that this Menelaus was the cause of al mischiefe: so that the king commaunded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the manner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.
5 There was also in the same place a towre of fiftie cubites high, heaped with ashes: & it had an instrument that turned rounde, and on every side it rolled downe into the ashes, and there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other greeuous crime, was cast of al men vnto the death.
6 Whereinto the kyng commaunded that shamefull person to be cast among the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngratiousnesse.
7 And reason it was that the vnthrift should dye suche a death, and not to be buryed: B
8 For he had done muche mysscheefe vnto the aulter of GOD, whose fyre and ashes were holy: therefore was it ryght that he hym selfe also shoulde be destroyed with ashes.
9 But the king was wood in his mind, and came to shewe him selfe more cruel vnto the Iewes, then his father was.
10 Which when Judas perceyued, he commaunded the people to call vpon the Lorde 1. Mach.
nyght and day, that he wouldе nowe helpe them also, lyke as he had done alway: for they were afraid to be put from theyr law, from theyr natural countrey, and from the holy temple:
11 And not to suffer the people, which a litle while afore began to recouer, to be subdued agayne of the blasphemous nations.
12 So when they had done this together, and besought the Lorde for mercy, with weeping and fasting three dayes long, flat vpon the grounde, Judas exhorted them to make them selues redy.
13 But he and the elder together deuised to goe forth (first with the people) afore the kyng brought his host into Iurie, and afore he besieged the citie, and so to commyt the matter vnto God.
14 Wherefore he commytted the charge of C al thynges vnto GOD the maker of al the worlde, exhorteyng his people to fight manfully, yea euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, theyr owne natiue countrey, and to defende the citizens: and he set his host before Modin.
15 He gaue them also that were with hym 1. Mac. 6 a token of the victory of God, choosing out the manlyest young men, went by night into the kynges pauilion, slue of the host fourtiene thousande men, and the greatest of the Elephantes, with those that sate vpon them.
16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tents of their enimies, and al thinges went prosperously with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being theyr helper and defender.
18 Nowe when the kyng perceiued the manlynesse of the Iewes, he went about to take the strong places by craft, 19 And remoued his host vnto Bethsura, 2. Mac.
which was a well kept house of defence of the Iewes: but they were chased away, hurt,

hurt, and discomfyted.

30 And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, such thinges as were necessarie.

31 In the Iewes hoast also there was one D Rhodochus, which wolde the enimies their secretes: but they sought hym out, & when they had gotten hym, they put hym in prysson.

32 After this dyd the kyng commen with them that were in Bethsura, tooke truice with them, departed, and stroke a batayle with Judas, which ouercame him.

33 But when he vnderstoode that Philip, whom he had left to be ouerseer of this businesse at Antioch, beganne to rebel against him, he was astonyed in his mynde, so that he yeelded him selfe to the Iewes, & made them an othe to doo what so euer they thought ryght.

34 Nowe when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made muche of the temple, gaue great gyftes vnto it, 35 Embraced Machabeus, makyng hym captayne and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerrhenes.

36 Neuertheleſſe, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with the bonde of frendship: for they were afrayde that he wolde breake the couenant.

37 Then went Lysias vp into ỹ iudgement seate, & excused the fact as wel as he could, and enfourmed ỹ people, shewed them the cause why, and pacified them: so he came againe to Antioch. This is nowe the matter concerning the kinges iourney, and his returne.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

By the motion of the Lorde, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kyl the Iewes.

1 C AFter three yeres was Judas infourmed howe that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was comme vp with a great power and shippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certayne commodious places and countreys, against Antiochus and his captayne Lysias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, whiche had benne hygh priest, and wilfully defyled him selfe in the tyme of the mixting, seeyng that by no meanes he coulde be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the aulter.

4 He came to kyng Demetrius in the hundred fyftie and one yeere, presenting vnto hym a crowne of golde, a pauime, and an Olive tree, whiche as menne thought belonged to the temple: and that day helde his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie for his madnesse, Demetrius called hym to counsel, and asked him what thinges or counsels the Iewes leaned vnto?

6 He answeared, The Iewes that be called Assidei (whose captayne is Judas Machabeus) maynteyne warres, make insurrections, and wyll not let the realme be in peace.

7 For I beyng depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hygh priesthood) am comme hyther: B

8 Partly because I was faythfull vnto the kyng, and partly because I sought the profyte of myne owne citizens: And why? all our people through the wickednesse of them are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore I beseeche thee, O kyng, consyder al these thinges diligently, and then make some prouision for the lande and the people, according to the kindnesse that thou hast offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas lyueth, it is not possible that men can liue in peace.

11 When he had spoken these woordes, other freendes also hauyng euyll wyll at Judas, set the kyng Demetrius on fyre (against hym.)

12 Whiche immediatly sent Nicanor, ruler of the Elephantes, a captayne in Iurie, 1. Mac. 7. c

13 Commaundyng him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hygh priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, whiche fledde out of C Iurie from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thynking the harme and decaye of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Nowe when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering togeather of the heathen, they sprincked them selues with earth, and besought him whiche made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he would preserue them styl. 2. Mac. 10. c

16 So at the commaundement of the captayne, they remooued straight wayes from thence, and came to a towne called Dessau.

17 And Simon Judas brother fell in hande with Nicanor: but through the sodayne * or, sciente commyng of the enimies, he was afrayde.

18 Neuertheleſſe, Nicanor hearyng the manlynesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fyght for their natural countrey, durst not proone the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Possidonius, * Theodotus, and Mathathias before, to geue and to take peace. * or, Theodosius, Mathias.

20 So when they had taken long aduisement therupon, and the captayne shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

D 21 And they appoynted a day to sitte vpon these matters quietly among them selues, & for euery one stooles also were brought, and set forth.

22 Neuertheleſſe, Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to waite in conuenient places, leſt there shoulde sodenly aryse any tryal through the enimies: and so they communed reasonably togeather.

23 Nicanor whyle he abode at Hierusalem, ordered hym selfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were geathered togeather.

24 He loued Judas euer with his hart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed hym also to take a wyfe, and to bryng forth chyldren. So he maryed, liued in rest, and they led a common lyfe.

26 But Alcimus perceyuing the loue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed togeather, came to Demetrius, and tolde hym that Nicanor had taken straunge matters in hande, and ordeyned Judas, an enimie of the realme, to be the kinges succeſſour.

27 Then the kyng was sore displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, sayeing that he was very angry for the freendship and agreement whiche he had made with Machabeus, neuertheleſſe, he commaunded him in al the haste that he shoulde take Machabeus prisoner, and sende hym to Antioche.

E 28 Whiche (letters) when Nicanor harde seene, he was at his wittes ende, and sore greeued, that he shoulde breake the thinges wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer dyd hym harme.

29 But because he myght not withstande the kyng, he sought opportunitie to fulfil his commaundement.

30 Notwithstandyng, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor beganne to be churliſhe vnto him, and that he entreated hym more roughly then he was wont, he perceyued that suche vnkyndneſſe came not of good, and therefore he geathered a fewe of his menne, and withdrewe hym selfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knewe that Machabeus had manfully preuented hym, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commaunded the prieſtes whiche were dooing their vsuall offeringes, to deliuer hym the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tel where the man was, whom he sought, 1. Mac. 7.

33 He stretched out his right hande towarde the temple, and made an oth, saying, If ye wyl not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shal remooue this temple of ☉ D D into the playne feelde, I shal breake downe the aulter, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wooردes he departed. Then the prieſtes lyft vp their handes towarde heauen, and besought hym that was euer the defender of their people, saying,

35 Thou, O Lorde of all, whiche hast neede of nothyng, wouldeſt that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs:

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefyled, whiche lately was clensed, and stoppe all the mouthes of the vnrighteous. 1. Mac. 4.

37 Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, whiche for the kinde hart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Iewes.

38 This man oft tymes when the Iewes were mynded to keepe them selues vndefyled, defended and deliuered them, beyng content stedfastly to spende his body and his lyfe for his people. F

39 So Nicanor wyllyng to declare the hate that he bare to the Iewes, sent fyue hundred men of warre to take him:

40 For he thought if he gate hym, he should bryng the Iewes in great decay.

41 Nowe when the people beganne to rushe in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fyre on it, he beyng nowe taken, (c) fell vpon his swoorde, (c) This is not to be approued, that it is contrary to gods commaundement. Thou shalt not kyl. Exod. 20. Deut. 5.

42 Choosyng rather to dye manfully, then to yeelde him selfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue ben put to extreeme cruelties.

43 Notwithstanding, what tyme he myssed of his stroke, for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wal, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Whiche gaue soone place to his fall, so that he fel vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheleſſe, while there was yet breath within him, beyng kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and whyle his blood gushed out exceedingly, (for he was very sore wounded) he ranne through the middeſt of the people, & gate hym to the toppe of a rocke.

46 So when his blood was nowe gonne, he tooke out his owne bowels, and with both his handes threwe them vppon the people, ple, calling vpon the lord of lyfe and spirite to rewarde him this agayne: and so he dyed.

The. xv. Chapter.

2. Nicanor goeth about to comme vppon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5. The blasphemie of Nicanor.

1 NOwe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his company were in the a 7.b. countrey of Samaria, he thoughte with al his power to stryke a feelde with him vpon a Sabboth day.

2 Neuertheleſſe, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with hym, saide, O doo not so cruelly and vnkindly, but halowe the Sabboth daye, and woorshyp hym that seeth all thynges.

b 10.c 3 (For all this) yet sayde the vngratious person, Is there a myghtie one in heauen that b 10.b. commaunded the Sabboth day to be kept?

4 And when they said, Yea the liuing God, the myghtie Lorde in heauen commaunded the seuenth day to be kept:

5 He sayde, And I am myghtie vpon earth to commaunde them for to arme them selues, and to perfourme the kinges businesse: Notwithstandyng, he myght not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanor had deuised with great pride to ouercome Iudas, and to byrng awaye the victorie:

B 7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God that he woulde helpe hym:

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayde at the commyng of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had ben shewed vnto them from heauen, yea, and to be sure nowe also that almyghtie God would geue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, puttyng them in remembrance of the batailes that they had striken afore, and made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their hartes were pluckt vp, he shewed them also the deceitfulnesse of the heathen, and howe they would keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of shielde and speare, but with wholesome woordes and exhortations, he shewed them a dreame also worthy to be beleeued, wherebrough he made them all glad.

12 Whiche was this: He thought that he sawe Onias, which had benne hygh priest, a vertuous and louyng man, sad, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had benne exercised in godlynesse from a chylde, holdyng vp his handes toward heauen, and prayng for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto hym another man, whiche was aged, honourable, and glorious,

14 And Onias saide, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this C is he that prayeth muche for the people, and for al the holy citie, Ieremie the prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Ieremie helde out his ryght hande, and gaue vnto Iudas a swoord of golde, saying, 16 Take this holy swoord a gyft from God, wherewith thou shalt smyte downe the enimies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were wel comforted though the woordes of Iudas, whiche were very sweete, and able to styrre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, so that the young men were determined in their minds to fyght, and to abyde stiffy at it, in so much that in the thynges whiche they tooke in hande, their boldnesse shewed the same, because the holy citie, the sanctuarie, and the temple were in peryl.

18 For the which they tooke more care, then for their wyues, chyldren, brethren, & kinsfolkes.

19 Agayne, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those which were to fyght.

20 Nowe when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hande, and the enimies drue nygh, the host beyng set in araye, the Elephantes and horsemen euery one standyng in his place.

21 Machabeus consyderyng the commyng D of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beastes, held 2. Chr. 14.c vp his handes towarde heauen, callyng vp- Iud. 7.b.
pon the Lorde that dooth woonders, which geueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons, & power of the host, but to them that please hym, accordyng to his owne wyl.

22 Therefore in his prayer he sayde these 2. king. 19.a
woordes, O Lorde, thou that diddest sende thine angel in the time of Ezechias kyng of Iuda, and in the host of Sennacherib fluest an hundred, foure score, and fyue thousande:

23 Sende nowe also thy good angel before vs, O Lorde of heauens, in the fearefulnesse and dread of thy myghtie arme, 24 That they whiche come agaynst thy holy people to blaspheme them, maye be afrayde. And so he made an ende of his woordes.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drue nigh, with trumpets and howtynges for ioy:

26 But Judas and his companie, with prayer and calleng vpon God, encountred with the enimies.

27 With their handes they smote, but with their hartes they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thirtie and fiue thoulande menne: for through the present helpe of God they were gloriously comforted.

28 Nowe when they leaft of, and were turnyng againe with ioy, they vnderstood that Nicanor hym selfe was slayne with the other for al his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great showte & a crye, prayseng the almightie Lord in their owne language.

30 And Judas whiche was euer readye to spende his bodye and lyfe for his citizens, commaunded to smyte of Nicanors head, with his arme and hand, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called all the people and the priestes to the aulter, with those that were in the castle, 32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hande, whiche he had presumptuously holden vp agaynst the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle peeces, and to be caste to the foules, and that cruel mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vpon the high castle, for an euident & playne token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed altogeather to kepe that day holy (namely) the thirteenth daye of the moneth Adar:

37 Whiche in the Syrians language is called the next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that tyme foorth the Iewes had the citie in possession: and here wyl I now make an ende.

39 If I haue done wel, and as the storie required, it is the thyng that I desyred: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I coulde.

40 For as it is hurtful to drinke wyne alone, and then agayne water, and as wyne tempered with water is pleasant, and delyteth the taste: so the settyng out of the matter, delyteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shalbe the ende.

Ieſus Chriſte.

FOR better vnderſtanding of the contents of this Table, ye ſhal vnderſtande that the Euangeliſtes, Saint Matthew, & Saint Luke, haue diuerſly recited the generation of our ſauiour Chriſte, accordyng to the fleſh, and yet tende both to one ende: that is, to prooue (that as Dauid & Solomon kyng of Iuda, whiche is wrytten of hym in the prophecies) he is deſcended of the royall blood of Dauid, and ryghtly ſucceeded hym in the kyngdome. The diuerſitie of the ſayde recitall conſyſteth in this: that Saint Matthewe ſetteth foorth the ſayde generation deſſendyng from father to ſonne: and Saint Luke aſſendeth from ſonne to father, whiche comes al to one end. But to ſhewe the agreement of Saint Luke, with Saint Matthewe, I haue here ſet foorth the generation by him deſcribed, deſſendyng after the order of Saint Matthewe, to the end that the one may be conferred with the other. Furthermore, Saint Matthewe deſcribeth the generation of Ioſeph, though it belong nothyng to Ieſus Chriſte after the fleſh, & Saint Luke that of the virgin Marie: for it was very neceſſarie to note both, for as much as women were commonly reputed of the ligne of their huſbandes: And ſo as wel on her huſbandes ſyde, as on owne of ſpryng, it is manifeſt that ſhe was of the royal ligne of Dauid.

* Iuda of the ligne of Nathan, engendred Simeon, called Ioas, who came to the royall ſeate, becauſe the poſteritie of Solomon fayled in Ochoſias: and therefore the kyngdome belonged to Nathans poſteritie, accordyng to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the poſteritie of the children of Berſebe (whiche was Solomon) ſhoulde raigne after him, and that yf the poſteritie fayled, the kyngdome ſhoulde come to the poſteritie of the nexte pounger, whiche was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Abiſcar, that is to ſay, Brother of the prince, & they of his poſteritie, Abiſcarim, that is to ſay, Brothers of the prince, and Mathicim, whiche ſignifieth, Seruents ſucceeded. The ſayde Philo reciteth that the poſteritie of the ſayde Nathan was ſo honoured of kyng Ioſaphat, that he called his chyldren the brothers of Ioram ſonne, and their children the brothers of Ochoſias his nephewe: and this is the cauſe why the ſcripture ſayth, that Ioas was the ſonne of Ochoſias, though he were not his naturall ſonne, but the ſonne of Iuda, deſcended from Nathan.

Note that Saint Matthewe, goyng about to deſcribe the generation by fourtienes, dyd fyrſt leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azarias, who are ſet in betweene Ochoſias, the laſt of the race of Solomon, and Nathan. Further, he hath leaft out Ichaas, and Ioacim, placed here the ſame deſcription more perfect and playne.

* For as muche as it ſeemeth that Saint Luke maketh mention of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioſeph, for he vſeth their words that Ieſus was counted the ſonne of Ioſeph, which was of Heli, ſaying, the ſonne of Heli: we muſt vnderſtande that in this place the name of ſonne is taken for the name of ſonne in lawe, & that Saint Luke meaneth that Ioſeph was the ſonne in lawe to Heli, for that he tooke to wife the virgin Marie daughter to the ſayde Heli, which maner of ſpeaking is common in the ſcripture: for we fynde that Noemi calleth Ruth her mother, whiche was but her ſtepdaughter, her ſonnes wyfe.

A Preface into the newe Testament.

The newe Testament, so called, conteining the wrytinges of the Euangelistes, with the Epistles of Christes Apostles, and with other such deuine bookes, declare playnely vnto vs the summe and effect of all the scriptures expressed in the olde Testament. That whiche was in figure and in obscuritie inuolued by the patriarkes and prophetes in their prophetical volumes, written by the inspiration of the holy ghost: is in this booke more playnely and euidently set out, vttered also in the selfe same spirite by the children of the prophetes, the holy Apostles. In deede the lawe was geuen by Moses, but grace and veritie came by Iesus Christ, whiche grace this booke of the new Testament doth most euidently commend and set out. In this is discoursed the whole mysterie of our saluation and redemption, purchased by our sauiour Christe, here is his holy conception described, his nativitie, his circumcision, his whole lyfe & conuersation, his godly doctrine, his deuine miracles. In this booke of the newe Testament is set out his death, his resurrection, his assention, his sending of the holy spirite, his session in our flesh on the ryght hande of his father, making continual intercession to him for vs. In this booke is conteyned the fourme and order of his last iudgement, after the general resurrection of our bodies. These be the mysteries of our fayth, these be the groundes of our saluation, these be thus written that we should beleeue them, and by our beleefe should enioy lyfe euerlasting. Once and in tymes past God diuersly and many wayes spake vnto the fathers by the prophets, but in these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs (vpon whom the endes of the worlde be come) by his owne sonne, whom he hath made heire of al thinges, whose dignitie is such, that he is the brightnesse of his fathers glory, the very image of his substance, tulyng al thynges by the word of his power. This heauenly doctour so induced with glory & maiestie, we ought most reuerently to beleeue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heauenly father, to be heard as his most welbeloued sonne, in whom is his whole delight, by whom he wyll be pleased and pacified: for wyl eis come to passe, saith that prophete Moses, that whosoeuer shall not heare and obey that prophete in the wordes that he shal speake in his fathers name, I wyl be, sayth the father, reuenger of hym. This is the last prophete to be loked for to speake vnto vs: In hym be vniuersally inclosed the riches and treasures of the wisdome and knowledge of GOD his father, by him he hath decreed fynally to iudge the whole worlde, the liuing & the dead: by him hath he decreed to geue to his elect the life euerlasting, and to the reprobte (who hath condemned his lyfe and doctrine) death euerlasting. Let vs therfore seriously heare and obey this our heauenly teacher, submit our selues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs esteeme his doctrine and conuersation, as a full perfect, and sufficient patterne of al holinesse and vertue: Let vs obey me the doctrine of this booke, as a most inflexible rule to leade vs to al trueth and newenesse of lyfe. Here may we behold the eternal legacies of the newe Testament, bequeathed from God the father in Christe his sonne to all his electes, I say, the legacies liuely renewed vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharao his seruitude, but from the bondage & tiraldome of that perpetuall aduersarie of ours the deuil: here may we behold our inheritaunce, not of the temporal land of Chanaan, or of the translation of vs to the place of worldlye paradise: but here we may see the ful restitution of vs, both in body and soule, to the celestial paradise, the heauenly citie of Hierusalem aboue, there to raigne with God the father, God the sonne, and God the holy ghost for euer. Which legacies of his Testament promised and bequeathed, were notwithstandyng recorded in the bookes of the old Testament to our auncient fathers, which in hope beleeued in Christe to come, who was paynted before them in figures and shadowes, and signified in their olde lauements ordeined for that time: but now more euidently renewed & exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promise, but in open sight, in feeling, in handling and touchyng of this eternal lyfe, most manifestly confirmed vnto vs in Christ his blood in this his newe Testament continued and renued, yet in how sacraments, the better to beare in our remembraunce this his eternal Testament of all ioyfull felicities. Let vs nowe therefore good christian people, reioyce in these glad tidinges expressed vnto vs by the name of the Gospell of our sauiour Iesus Christ, and let it neuer fal out of our remembrance that we were some time ouerwhelmed in darknesse, and set in the shadowe of death: let vs consyder that we were sometyme by our natural birth the children of God his wrath, and vvholy estranged from the houshold of God. Let vs beare in mind that vve were sometyme no people of God, nor his beloued, that vve vvere by nature braunches of the vvilde olive, and nowve by mere mercy grafted into the ryght and natural olive tree: vvhereuppon let vs the rather repose our lyfe in feare and reuerence. If vve be now the chyldren of light, let vs vvalke in this our light in all holynesse and godlynesse of lyfe, approuing that vvhiche is pleasing to the lord. Let vs haue no felowship vvith the vnfruitfull vvorkes of darknesse, and let vs henceforth be no more chyldren, vvauering and caried about vvith euery vvinde of doctrine, and by the deceipt and craftynesse of menne, whereby they lay in vvayte to deceaue vs: but let vs folowe the trueth in loue and charitie, and in all thinges growe vp into hym whiche is the head, that is Christe our sauiour. If we be nowe the children of grace, and made liuely members of his bodye, though sometime straungers & forreyners farre of, and made neare by the blood of Christe, and made citizens with the saintes, and of the housholde of God: let vs direct our heartes thyther where our head is, delyting our selfe in all heauenly cogitations, walkyng in al spiritual workes and fruites of the spirite, as Gods deare electe. God graunt that Christe may so dwell in our heartes by faith, that we may be able to comprehend with all saintes the vnspeakeable loue of Christe, whiche passeth al mans knowledge. Vnto hym therfore whiche is able to doo exceedyng aboundantly aboue all that we can aske or thinke, be prayse in the Church by Christe Iesus, thoroweout all generations for euer, Amen.

The ☞ Gospel by saint Matthęwe.

The fyrst Chapter.

I. The genealogie of Christe from Abraham. 18. The maryage of his mother Marie. 20. The angel satisfyeth Iosephes minde. 21. The interpretation of Christes names.

A 1 This is the (b) booke of the generation of Iesus Christe, the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Abraham.

2 *Abrahā begate Isahac, *Isahac begate Iacob, *Iacob begate Iudas and his brethren.

3 *Iudas begate Phares, & Zara of Thamar, *Phares begate Esrom, *Esrom begate Aram.

4 *Aram begate Aminadab, *Aminadab begate Naasson, *Naasson begate Salmon.

5 *Salmon begate Boos, of Rachab, *Boos begate Obed, of Ruth, *Obed begate Isse.

6 *Isse begate Dauid the king, *Dauid the king begate Solomon, of her that was the wyfe of Urie.

7 *Solomon begate Roboam, *Roboam begate Abia, *Abia begate Asa.

8 *Asa begate Iosaphat, Iosaphat begate Joram, *Joram begate Ozias.

9 Ozias begate Joatham, *Joatham begate Achas, *Achas begate Ezekias.

10 *Ezekias begate Manasses, *Manasses begate Amon, *Amon begate Iosias.

11 * Iosias begate Iechonias and his brethren, about the time they were caryed away to Babylon.

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, *Iechonias begate Salathiel, Salathiel begate Zorobabel.

13 *Zorobabel begate Abiud, * Abiud begat Eliakim, Eliakim begate Azor.

14 Azor begate Sadoc, Sadoc begat Achen, Achen begate Eliud.

15 Eliud begate Eleazar, Eleazar begate Matthan, Matthan begate Iacob.

16 Iacob begat Ioseph the husband of Marie, of whom was borne Iesus, that is called Christe.

17 And so all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are foureteene generations: and from Dauid vntyll the caryeing away into Babylon, are foureteene generations: and from the caryeing away into Babylon vnto Christe, are foureteene generations.

18 The birth of Iesus Christe was on this wyse. When as his mother Marie was betrothed to Ioseph (before they came together) he was founde with childe of the holy ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willyng to make her a publique example, was myndeb privily to put her away.

20 But whyle he thought these thinges, beholde, the angel of the Lorde appeared vnto him in a dreame, sayeing, Ioseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take (vnto thee) Marie thy wyfe, for that whiche is conceiued in her, is of the holy ghost.

21 She shall bryng foorth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iesus: for he shal saue his people from their sinnes. Phil. 2. b. Actes. 4. b. D

22 (All this was donne, that it might be fulfylled, whiche was spoken of the Lorde by the prophete, sayeing.

23 *Beholde, a virgin shalbe with childe, and shal bryng foorth a sonne, and they shal call his name Emanuel, whiche is by interpretation, God with vs.) Esai. 7. c.

24 Then Ioseph, being rayſed from sleepe, dyd as the angel of the Lorde had bidden him, and he tooke his wyfe:

25 (c) And knew her not, tyl she had brought foorth her fyrst borne sonne, and called his name Iesus. (c) This phrase dooth not import that he knew her afterwarde: as the lyke phrase vsed Mat. 5. 28. d. and 9. 21. c. or that she had any mo children.

The .ii. Chapter.

1. The tyme and place of Christes byrth. 14. Christe fleeth into Egypt. 16. The young chyldren are slayne.

1 When Iesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Iurie, in the dayes of Herode the king: beholde, there came wyse men from the east to Hierusalem,

2 Sayeing, Where is he that is borne king of the Iewes? For we haue seene his *starre in the east, and are come to worshyp him. A The Gospell on the Epiphanie. Num. 24. c.

3 When Herode the king had hearde these thinges, he was troubled, and all (the citie of) Hierusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered al the chiefe priestes & scribes of the people together, he demaunded of them where Christe shoulde be borne.

5 And they sayde vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: For thus it is written by the prophete,
Miche.5.a. Iohn.7.f. 6 *And thou Bethlehem (in) the lande of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: For out of thee shal there comme a captayne, that shal gouerne my people Israel.
B 7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wyse men, enquired of them diligently what time the starre appeared.
8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, & sayde, Goe, and searche diligently for the young childe, and when ye haue found him, bring me woorde againe, that I may comme and worshipp him also.
9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and loe, the starre whiche they sawe in the East went before them, tyl it came and stoode ouer (the place) wherein the young childe was.
10 When they sawe the starre, they reioy-ced exceedingly with great ioy, 11 And went into the house, and they sawe
the young childe with Marie his mother, Psal.62.d. Cant.60.b. *and fell downe, and worshipped him:
and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him giftes, golde, and frankincense, and myrre.
12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they shoulde not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne country another way.
The Gospel on Innocents day. 13 When they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lorde appeared to Joseph in a dreame, sayeing, Aryse, and take the young childe, and (a) his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there tyll I bring thee woord: for it wyl comme to passe, that Herode shal seeke the young childe, to destroy him.
(a) Ioseph was not the father of Christe, els the angel woulde not haue sayde, take the childe and his mother, but rather, take thy chylde. 14 When he arose, he tooke the young childe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:
15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfylled whiche was spoken of the Lorde by the Prophete, sayeing, Osee.11.a. Num.24.c. *Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.
16 Then Herode, when he sawe that he was mocked of the wyse menne, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slue all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in al the coastes thereof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the time, which he had diligently searched out of the wyse men.
17 Then was fulfylled that whiche was spoken by Jeremie the prophete, sayeing, 18 In Rama was there a voyce hearde, lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping (for) her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.
19 But when Herode was dead, behold, an angel of the Lorde appeareth in a dreame to Joseph in Egypt,
20 Sayeing, Aryse, & take the young childe and his mother, & goe into the lande of Israel: *For they are dead, whiche sought the young childes lyfe.
21 And he arose, & tooke the young child and his mother, & came into the lande of Israel.
22 But when he heard that Archelaus dyd raigne in Iurie in the roome of his father Herode, he was afrayd to goe thyther: notwithstanding, after he was warned of god in a dreame, he turned aside into the parties of Galilee:
23 And when he was come thyther, he dwelt in a citie, whiche is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfylled which was spoken by the prophetes, He shalbe called a Nazarite.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. Iohns preaching, office, lyfe, baptisme,
7. reprehending of the Pharisees, 13. and baptising of Christe in Iordane.

1 *In those dayes came John the *Baptist, preaching in the wyldernesse of Iurie, 2 And sayeing, *Repent (a) ye: for the kingdome of heauen is at hande.
3 *For this is he that was spoken of by the prophete Esaias, sayeing, *The voyce of one crying in the wyldernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lorde, make ye his pathes straight.
4 This John had his rayment of Camels heare, & a letherne girdle about his loines, *his meate was locustes and *wild hony.
5 Then went out to him Hierusalem, and al Iurie, and all the region rounde about Iordane,
6 And were baptised of him in Iordane, confessing their sinnes.
7 But when he sawe many of the Pharisees and Saducees comme to his baptisme, he sayde vnto them, *O generation of vi-pers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come?
8 Bring foorth therefore fruites meete for repentance.
9 And be not of suche minde, that ye would say within your selues, We haue Abraham to (our) father: For I say vnto you, that GOD is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.
10 Euen nowe is the axe also put vnto the roote of the trees: Therefore, *euery tree which whiche bringeth not forth good fruits, is hewen downe, and cast into the fyre.

11 I baptise you in water * vnto repentance: but he that commeth after me, is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthye to beare, he shall baptise you with the holy ghost and with fyre.

12 * Whose fanne is in his hande, and he will throughly purge his floore, and gather his wheate into (his) garner: but wyl burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fyre.

13 Then commeth Iesus frō Galilee to Iordane, vnto Iohn, * to be baptised of hym.

14 But Iohn forbade him, saying, I haue nede to be baptised of thee, and commest thou to me?

15 Iesus answearing, sayd vnto him, Suffer it to be so nowe: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfyll all righteousnesse. Then he suffered hym.

16 And Iesus, when he was baptised, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe * the heauens were opened vnto hym, and (Iohn) sawe the spirite of God descendyng lyke a doue, and lighting vpon hym.

17 And loe there (came) a voyce from the heauens, saying, * This is my dearely beloued sonne, in whom I am wel pleased.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1. Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 18. He calleth Peter, Andrewe, Iames, and Iohn.

1 THen was Iesus * ledde vp of the spirite into wylderneſſe, to be tempted of the deuyl.

2 And when he had fasted fourtie dayes, and fourtie nyghtes, he was afterwarde an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to hym, he sayde, If thou be the sonne of GOD, commaunde that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answeared, and saide, It is written, * Man shal not lyue by bread only, but by euery worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuil taketh hym vp into the holy citie, and setteth him on a pinacle of the temple,

6 And sayth vnto him, If thou be the sonne of GOD, cast thee selfe downe: For it is wrytten, * that he shall geue his angelles charge ouer thee, and with theyr handes they shal lyft thee vp, lest at any time thou dashe thy foote against a stone.

7 Iesus said vnto him, It is writtē againe, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Agayne the deuyll taketh hym vp into an exceedyng high mountayne, and sheweth hym al the kyngdomes of the worlde, and the glory of them:

9 And saith vnto him, All these thinges wil I geue thee, if thou wilt fall downe & worshyp me.

10 Then sayth Iesus vnto hym, Geat thee hence behinde me Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worshyp the Lorde thy God, and hym only shalt thou serue. Deut. 6. c. and. 10. d. Luke. 4. b 11 Then the deuill leaueth him, & beholde, * the angels came, and ministred vnto hym. I. Reg. 7. a. Mark. 1. b.

12 When Iesus had heard * that Iohn was (a) deliuered vp, he departed into Galilee, Marke. 1. b. (a) That is, cast in prison

13 And when he had left Nazareth, he went and dwelt in Capernaum, whiche is (a citie) vpon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim.

14 That it might be fulfilled, whiche was spoken by Esaias the prophete, saying, C

15 The lande of Zabulon, and the lande of Nephthalim, (by) the way of the sea beyonde Iordane, Galilee of the Gentiles. Esai. 9. a.

16 The people, whiche sate in darkenesse, sawe great light: and to them whiche sate in the region and shadowe of death, light is sprong vp. Matth. 3. a. Mark. 1. a. Matth. 1. b.

17 From that time Iesus began to * preach, and to say, * Repent: for the kyngdome of heauen is at hande. Matth. 3. a. Mark. 1. b.

18 And Iesus walking by the sea of Galilee, sawe two brethren, Simon, whiche was called Peter, & Andrewe his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fyshers.) The Gospel on saint Andrewes day.

19 And he sayth vnto them, Folow me: and I wyl make you fyshers of men. Iere. 16. d. Ezech. 47. b

20 And they straightway left theyr netes, and folowed hym.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he sawe other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending theyr netes: and he called them. D

22 And they immediatly left the ship and theyr father, and folowed hym. Luke. 5. d.

23 And Iesus went about all Galilee, teachyng in their synagogues, and preachyng the Gospel of the kyngdome, and healyng al maner of sickenesse, & al maner of diseases among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroade throughout al Syria: and they brought vnto hym all sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and grypinges, and them that were possessed with deuilles, and those whiche were lunatike, and those that had the palsie, and he healed them.

25 And there folowed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, (b) and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Iurie, and from (the regions that lye) beyonde Iordane. Mark. 3. b. (b) A notable story.

The. v. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and in the two next folowyng, is conteyned the most excellent and loving sermon of Christe, in the mount. Which sermon, is the very key, that openeth the understandyng into the lawe. In this fifth Chapter specially, Z. he preacheth of the eyght beatitudes, or blessynges. 21. of manslaughter. 22. wrath, and anger. 33. of swearyng.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Of almes, 5. prayer, 16. of fastyng.
19. He forbiddeth the carefull seeking of worldly thynges.

1 TAke heede that ye doo not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no rewarde of your father, whiche is in heauen.

2 Therefore, when thou doest thyne almes, doo not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doo, in the synagogues, and in the streetes, that they might be esteemed of menne. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their rewarde.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy leaft hande knowe, what thy right hande doeth:

4 That thine almes may be in secrete: And thy father which seeth in secrete, him selfe shal rewarde thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, *thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standyng in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, that they may be seene of menne. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their rewarde. 3. Re. 18. c. Esai. 29. b

6 But when thou prayest, *enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father whiche is in secrete, and thy father whiche seeth in secrete, shall rewarde thee openly. 4. Re. 4. f.

7 But when ye pray, *babble not muche, as the heathen doo. For they thinke that they shalbe heard, for their muche babblinges sake. B Esai. 1. b.

8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: *For your father knoweth, what thinges ye haue nede of, before ye aske of him. Rom. 8. b.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: *O our father whiche art in heauen, halowed be thy name. Luke. 11. a.

10 Let thy kingdome comme. Thy wyl be donne, as wel in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Geue vs this day our dayly bread.

12 And forgeue vs our debtes, as we forgeue our debters.

13 And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from euyll: for thyne is the kingdome, and the power, and the glorye, for euer, Amen.

14 For, *yf ye forgeue men their trespasses, your heauenly father shal also forgeue you. C Mat. 18. b.

15 But, if ye forgeue not men their trespasses: no more shal your father forgeue (you) your trespasses.

18 For Johan came neither eatyng nor dyncking, and they ſay, He hath a deuyl.
19 The ſonne of man came eating and dyncking, and they ſay, Beholde a man glotton, and a wyne bybber, and a freend vnto publicanes and ſinners: and wiſedome was iuſtified of her children.
20 Then began he to vpbrayde the cities, wherein moſt of his mightie woorkes were done, becauſe they repented not.
21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethſaida: for if the mightie woorkes which were done in you, had ben done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long ago in ſackcloth and aſhes.
22 But I ſay vnto you, It ſhalbe eaſyer for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.
23 And thou Capernaum, which haſt ben lifted vp into heauen, ſhalt be brought downe to hel: For if the mightie woorkes which haue ben done in thee, had ben done among them of Sodome, they woulde haue remayned vntyl this day.
24 But I ſay vnto you, that it ſhalbe eaſyer for the land of Sodome in the day of iudgement, then for thee.
25 At that time Jeſus anſwearede, and ſaid, I thanke thee, O father, Lorde of heauen & earth, becauſe thou haſt hyd theſe thynges from the wiſe and prudent, and haſt ſhewed them vnto babes.
26 Euen ſo, O father, for ſo was it thy good pleaſure.
27 * All thinges are geuen vnto me of my father: * & no man knoweth the ſonne, but the father: neyther knoweth any man the father, ſaue the ſonne, and he to whom ſo euer the ſonne wyl open (hym.)
28 Come vnto me all ye that labour ſore, & are laden, and I wyl eaſe you.
29 * Take my yoke vpon you, and learne of me, for I am meeke and lowly in hart: and ye ſhal finde reſt vnto your ſoules.
30 For my yoke is eaſie, * and my burden is lyght.

The.xii. Chapter.

Chriſte excuſeth his diſciples whiche plucke the eares of corne.

1 AT that tyme, Jeſus went on the Sabboth dayes * through the corne, and his diſciples were an hungred, and began to * plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.
2 But when the Phariſees ſawe (them) they ſaide vnto hym, Beholde, thy diſciples doo that whiche is not lawful to doo vppon the Sabboth day.
3 But he ſayde vnto them, Haue ye not read what Dauid dyd when he was an hungred, and they that were with hym,
4 * Howe he entred into the houſe of God, and dyd eate the ſhewe bread, whiche was not lawful for hym to eate, neither for them whiche were with hym, but onely for the prieſtes? 1.Sa.21.a.
5 Or haue ye not read in the lawe, how that on the Sabboth dayes the prieſtes in the temple (a) prophane the Sabboth, and are blameleſſe?
6 But I ſay vnto you, that in this place is (one) greater then the temple.
7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, * I wyl mercy, and not ſacrifice, ye woulde not haue condemned the gyltleſſe.
8 For the ſonne of man is Lorde of the Sabboth day.
9 And when he was departed thence, * he went into their ſynagogue. Mark.3.a.
10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dryed vp, and they aſked hym, ſaying, * Is it lawful to heale on the Sabboth dayes, that they myght accuſe hym. Luk.14.a.
11 And he ſayde vnto them, What man of you wyl there be that ſhal haue * one ſheepe: and if it fal into a pyt on the Sabboth day, wyl he not take holde of it, and lyft it out? Deut.22.a.
12 Howe muche more then is a man better then a ſheepe? Wherfore it is lawful to doo wel on the Sabboth dayes.
13 Then ſaith he to the man, Stretche forth thy hand: and he ſtretched it forth, and it was reſtored whole like as the other.
14 * Then the Phariſees went out, and held a counſayle againſt him, howe they myght deſtroy hym. C Mark.3.a. Joh.10.c.
15 But when Jeſus knewe (it,) he departed thence: and great multitudes folowed him, and he healed them al, 16 And charged them that they ſhoulde not make hym knowen:
17 That it myght be fulfylled whiche was ſpoken by Eſaias the prophete, ſaying, 18 * Behold my child whom I haue choſen, my beloued, in whom my ſoule wel delighteth: I wyl put my ſpirite vpon him, and he ſhal ſhewe iudgement to the Gentiles. Eſai.42.a.
19 He ſhal not ſtryue, nor crye, neyther ſhall any man heare his voyce in the ſtreetes.
20 A bruyſed reede ſhal he not breake, and ſmoking flaxe ſhal he not quench, tyl he ſende forth iudgement vnto victorie:
21 And in his name ſhal the Gentiles truſt. D

25 But when Jesus knew their thoughtes, he sayde vnto them, Euery kyngdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and euery citie or house diuided against it selfe, shal not stande.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he diuided against him selfe, how shal then his kyngdome endure?

C 27 Also if I by Beelzebub cast out deuyls, by whom doo your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your Iudges.

3. The parable of the Sede, 24. and of the tares.

1 THe same day when Jesus was gone out of the house, *he sate by the sea side. A Marke.4.

2 And great multitudes were gathered togeather vnto hym, (so) that he went into the shyp, and sate, and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 And he spake many thynges to them in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, some sedes fel by the wayes side: and the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some

5 Some fell vpon ſtonie places, where they had not much earth: and anone they ſprong vp, becauſe they had no deepeneſſe of earth.
6 And when the ſunne was vp, they caught heate: and becauſe they had not roote, they wythered away.
7 Againe, ſome fell among thornes: and the thornes ſprong vp, and choked them.
8 But ſome fell into good ground: & brought foorth fruite, ſome an hundred folde, ſome ſyxtie folde, ſome thyrtie folde.
9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.
10 And the diſciples came, and ſayde vnto him, Why ſpeakeſt thou vnto them by parables?
11 He anſwered, and ſayd vnto them, *Becauſe it is geuen vnto you to knowe the ſecretes of the kyngdome of heauen, but to them it is not geuen.
12 * For who ſo euer hath, to him ſhalbe geuen, and he ſhal haue more abundance: but who ſo euer hath not, from him ſhalbe taken away, euen that he hath.
13 Therfore ſpeake I to them in parables: becauſe they ſeeing, ſee not: & hearing, they heare not, neyther doo they vnderſtande.
14 And in them is fulfylled the prophecie of Eſaias, whiche ſayth, With the care ye ſhal heare: and ſhal not vnderſtande, and ſeeyng, ye ſhal ſee, and ſhal not perceyue.
15 For this peoples hart is waxed groſſe, and their eares are dul of hearing, & their eyes haue they cloſed: leſt at any time they ſhoulde ſee with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and ſhoulde vnderſtande with their hart, & ſhoulde conuert, that I might heale them.
16 * Bleſſed are your eyes, for they ſee: and your eares, for they heare.
17 Verily I ſay vnto you, *that many prophetes and righteous men haue deſyred to ſee thoſe thynges whiche ye ſee, and haue not ſeene: and to heare thoſe thinges which ye heare, and haue not hearde.
18 Heare ye therfore the ſimilitude of the ſower.
19 When one heareth the word of the kingdome, and vnderſtandeth it not, then commeth that euyl, and catcheth away that whiche was ſowen in his hart: this is he whiche receyued ſeede by the way ſyde.
20 But he that receiued the ſeede into ſtonie places, the ſame is he that heareth the worde, and anone with ioy receyueth it:
21 Yet hath he not roote in him ſelfe, but dureth for a ſeaſon: for when tribulation or perſecution ariſeth becauſe of the worde, by and by he is offended.
22 He alſo that receiued ſeede into the thornes, is he that heareth the worde, & the care of this worlde, and the deceitefulneſſe of riches, choke vp the word, and ſo is he made vnfruiteful.
23 But he that receiued ſeede into the good grounde, is he that heareth the worde, and vnderſtandeth it, which alſo beareth fruite and bringeth foorth, ſome an hundred fold, ſome ſyxtie folde, ſome thirtie folde.
24 Another parable put he forth vnto them, ſaying, *The kyngdome of heauen is lykened vnto a man, which ſowed good ſeede in his feelde. Mark.4.c. The Goſpel on the fyfth ſunday after the Epiphanie.
25 But whyle men ſlept, his enimie came and ſowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.
26 But when the blade was ſprong vp, and had brought foorth fruite, then appeared the tares alſo.
27 So, the ſeruauntes of the houſholder came, and ſayde vnto hym, Syr, diddeſt not thou ſowe good ſeede in thy feeld, from whence then hath it tares?
28 He ſaide vnto them, The malitious man hath done this. The ſeruauntes ſayde vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe, and gather them vp? E
29 But he ſayd, Nay: leſt whyle ye gather vp the tares, ye roote vp alſo the wheate with them.
30 Let both growe together vntyl the harueſt: and in time of harueſt, I will ſay to the reapers, Gather ye together fyrſt the tares, and binde them in bundels to burne them: but carrie the wheate into my barne.
31 Another parable put he forth vnto them, ſaying, The kingdome of heauen is lyke to a graine of muſtarde ſeede, whiche a man tooke, and ſowed in his feelde. Mat.4.c. Luke.13.b.
32 Which in deede is the leaſt of all ſeedes: But when it is growen, it is the greateſt among herbes, and is a tree: (ſo) that the byrdes of the ayre come & make their neſtes in the branches therof.
33 Another parable ſpake he vnto them, (ſaying,) *The kyngdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, whiche a woman tooke, and hydde in three peckes of meale, tyl al were leauened. Luke.13.b.
34 * Al theſe thynges ſpake Jeſus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable ſpake he not vnto them: Mar.4.c.
35 That it myght be fulfylled whiche was ſpoken by the prophet, ſaying, *I wyl open my mouth in parables, I wyl ſpeake forth thynges whiche haue ben kept ſecrete from the fundation of the worlde. F Pſal.68.a.
36 Then Jeſus, when he had ſent the people away, went into the houſe: *And his diſciples came vnto him, ſaying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the feelde. Mar.4.c.

37 He

37 He answeared, and sayde vnto them, He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.

38 The feeld, is the worlde. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome. But the tares, are the children of the wicked.

39 And the enimie that sowed them, is the deuil. The harnest, is the end of the worlde. The reapers, be the angelles.

40 Euen as the tares therefore are gathered and burnt in the fyre: so shal it be in the ende of the worlde.

41 The sonne of man shall sende foorth his angelles, and (they) shal gather out of his kyngdome al thynges that offende, and them whiche doo iniquitie:

43 Then shal the righteous shyne as the sunne in the kyngdome of their father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto treasure hyd in the feelde: the whiche, when a man hath founde, hydeth, and for ioy therof goeth and selleth al that he hath, and buyeth that feelde.

45 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a marchant man, seekyng goodly pearles:

46 Which when he had found one pretious pearle, went and solde al that he had, and bought it.

47 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a net that was caste into the sea, and gathered of al kynde, 48 Which, whē it was ful, (the fyshers) drue to land, and sate downe, and gathered the good into vesselles, but cast the bad away.

49 So shal it be at the end of the worlde: the angelles shal come forth, and seuer the bad from among the iust, 50 And shal cast them into a furnace of fyre: there * shalbe waylyng and gnashyng of teethe.

Mat.22.b. and.25.a.

51 Jesus sayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderstande al these thynges? They say vnto hym, Yea, Lorde.

52 Then sayde he vnto them, Therfore euery scribe whiche is taught in the kingdome of heauen, is lyke vnto a man that is an housholder, whiche bryngeth foorth out of his treasure thynges newe and olde.

53 And it came to passe that when Jesus had finished these parables, * he departed thence.

10 And sent (a tormenter) and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and geuen to the damsell: and (she) brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, & tooke vp his body, and buried it: and went and told Jesus.

14 And when Jesus went foorth, he sawe muche people, and was moued with mercie towarde them, and he healed their sicke.

C

15 And when it was euening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desart place, and the houre is nowe past: let the people departe, that they may goe into the villages, and buye them victualles.

26 But Jesus sayde vnto them, They haue no nede to goe away: geue ye them to eate.
37 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues and two fishes.
38 He sayd, Bring them hither to me.
39 And when he had commaunded the people to sitte downe on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and lifted vp his eyes toward the heauen, he blessed and when he had broken (them) he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.
20 And they did all eate, and were suffised:
And they tooke vp (of the fragmentes that remayned) twelue basketes ful.
D 21 And they that had eaten, were about fyue thousand men, besides women and children.
22 * And straightway Jesus constrayned his disciples to goe vp into a shyppe, and to goe before hym vnto the other side, whyle he sent the people away.
23 And when he had sent the people away, he* went vp into a mountayne alone to pray: and when night was come, he was there him selfe alone.
24 But the shyp was nowe in the myddest of the sea, and was toss with the waues: for it was a contrary winde.
25 And in the fourth watche of the nyght,
Jesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.
26 And when the disciples sawe hym walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying,
That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.
27 But straightway Jesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afrayde.
28 Peter answeared him, and sayde, Lord, if it be thou, bydde me come vnto thee on the water.
29 And he sayde, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the shyppe, he walked on the water to goe to Jesus.
30 But when he sawe a mightie wynde, he was afrayde: and when he began to synke, he cryed, saying, Lorde saue me.
31 And immydiatly Jesus, when he had stretched forth his hande, caught him, and sayd vnto him, O thou of litle fayth, wherfore diddest thou doubt?
32 * And when they were come into the ship,
the winde ceassed.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.
34 And when they were gone ouer, they came into the lande of Genezaret.
35 And whē the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey rounde about, and brought vnto hym al that were sicke,

as touched, were made perfectly whole.

18 But those thinges which procede out of they defile the man.

19 For out of ỹ hart proceede yll thoughtes, murders, aduulteries, whoredomes, theftes, false witnesse, blasphemies.

D 23 But he answereth her not a worde. And his disciples came, & besought him, saying, Sende her away, for she cryeth after vs.

Luke. 19.

25 Then came he, and worshipped him, saying, Lorde helpe me.

26 But he answered, and saide, It is not meete to take the childrens breade, and to cast it to litle dogges.

27 And she sayde, Yes Lorde: for the lytle dogges also eate of the crummes which fal from their maisters table.

28 Then Jesus answered, and sayde vnto her, O woman, great is thy fayth: be it vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.

E 29 And Jesus, when he was departed from thence, came nigh vnto the sea of Galilee, and whe he was gone vp into a mountaine, he sate downe there.

31 Insomuch that the people wondred, when they saw the dumbe speake, the maymed to be whole, the lame to walke, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

Mark. 8. a.

32 * Then Jesus called his disciples vnto him, and sayde, I haue compassion on the people, because they continue with me now three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them departe fasting, lest they faynt in the way.

33 And his disciples say vnto him, Whence (should we get) so much bread in the wyldernesse, as to suffise so great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith vnto them, How many loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fyshes.

Mark. 16. b

35 And he commaunded the people to sitte downe on the grounde.

36 And when he had taken the seuen loaues and the fyshes, and had geuen thankes, he brake (them) and gaue to his disciples: and the disciples gaue them to the people.

37 And they did all eate, and were suffised: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets ful.

38 And yet they that did eate, were foure thousand men, beside women and children.

39 And when he had sent away the people, he tooke shyp, and came into the parties of Magdala.

The xvi. Chapter.

1. The Pharisees require a token, 6. Jesus warneth his disciples of the Pharisees doctrine.

1 THE * Pharisees also with the Sadducees, came, and tempting, desyred them that he would shew them a signe from heauen.

C Mark. 8. Luke. 11. b

2 He answered and said vnto them, When it is euening, ye say, (it will be) fayre weather: for the skye is red.

Luke. 12. g

3 And in the morning (it will be) foule weather to day: for the skye is lowring red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discerne the outward appearance of the skye: but can ye not discerne the signes of the tymes?

4 * A frowarde and aduulterous nation requireth a signe, and there shal no signe be geuen vnto it, but the signe of the * prophete Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

Mark. 8. Mark. 8. Luke. 11. b John. 6. b Jonas. 2. c

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side of the water, they had forgotten to take bread (with them.)

6 Then Jesus sayde vnto them, * Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

Luke. 12. b

7 And they thought in them selues, saying, For we haue taken no bread (with vs.)

D

8 (Which) when Jesus vnderstoode, he sayd vnto them, O ye of litle fayth, why thynke you within your selues, because ye haue brought no bread?

9 Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember those fiue loaues of the fiue thousande, and howe many baskets tooke ye vp?

Mark. 14.

10 * Neither the seuen loaues of the foure thousand, and howe many baskets tooke ye vp?

Mark. 8.

11 Howe is it that ye do not vnderstande that I speake it not vnto you concerning bread, that ye shoulde beware of the leuen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstoode they how that he bade not them beware of the leauen of the bread but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

13 When Jesus came into the coastes of Cesarea (whiche is called) Philippi, he asked his his disciples, sayeing, *Whom doo menne say that I the sonne of man am?

14 They sayde, Sommе say (that thou art) John Baptist, sommе Elias, sommе Jerremias, or one of the prophetes.
15 He sayth vnto them, But whom say ye that I am?
16 Simon Peter answeared, & said, *Thou art Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.
17 And Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto him, Happy art thou Simon Bar Jona: for flesh and blood hath not opened (that) vnto thee, *but my father whiche is in heauen.
18 And I say also vnto thee that thou art Peter, and vpon this *rocke I wyl buylde my congregation: and the gates * of hell shal not preuayle against it.
19 And I wyl geue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen: and *whatsoeuer thou shalt binde in earth, shalbe bounde in heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt loose in earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.
20 Then charged he his disciples that they shoulde tel no man that he was Jesus Christe.
21 *From that tyme forth beganne Jesus to shewe vnto his disciples, howe that he must goe vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many thinges of the elders and high priestes and scribes, and (must) be kylled, and be rayſed agayne the thirde day.
22 And when Peter had taken him aside, he beganne to rebuke him, sayeing, Lorde, fauour thee selfe, this shal not be vnto thee.
23 But he turned him about, and sayde vnto Peter, Goe after me Satan, thou art an offence vnto me: for thou sauerest not the things that (be) of God, but those that (be) of men.
24 Then sayde Jesus vnto his disciples, If any man wyll goe after me, let him forsake him selfe, & take vp his crosse, & folowe me.
25 *For who so euer wyl saue his lyfe, shal loose it: agayne, who so euer wyll loose his lyfe for my sake, shal fynde it.
26 For what is a man profited if he shal winne the whole worlde, and loose his owne soule? Or what shal a man geue for a raunsome of his soule?
27 For the sonne of man shal comme in the glory of his father with his angels: and *then shal he rewarde euery man accoyding to his woorkes.
28 Verely I say vnto you, *There be some standing here, which shal in no wyse taste of death, tyl they see the sonne of man comming in his kingdome.

12 But I say vnto you, that *Elias is come already, and they knewe him not, but haue donne vnto him what so euer they lusted: Lykewyse shall also the sonne of man suffer of them. *Mat.11.b.
13 Then the disciples vnderstoode that he spake vnto them of John Baptist.

Jesus sayth vnto him, Then are the chyldren free.

23 Therfore is the kyngdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine man that was a kyng, which would take accompt of his seruants.
24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought hym ten thousande talentes.
25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commaunded him to be solde, and his wife, and chyldren, and all that he had, and (payment) to be made.
26 The seruant therfore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Lorde, haue patience with me, and I wyl pay thee all.
27 Then the Lorde of that seruant, moued with pitie, loosed him, and forgaue him the debt.
C 28 But the same seruant went out, and found one of his felowes which ought him an hundred pence: and when he had laide handes on him, he tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay (me) that thou owest.
29 And his felowe fell downe at his feete, and besought hym, saying, Haue patience with me, and I wyl pay thee all.
30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.
31 So when his felowes sawe what was done, they were very sory: and came, and tolde vnto their Lorde all that was done.
32 Then his lorde, after that he had called hym, sayde vnto him, O thou vngracious seruant, I forgaue thee all that debt when thou desiredst me:

3. Christ geueth answeare concerning mariage. 21. and teacheth, that we be carefull, 22. not to loue worldly ryches.

A 1 AND it came to passe, that *when Jesus Mark.10.a had finished these sayinges, he gate him from Galilee, and came into the coastes of Iurie beyonde Iordane:
2 And great multitudes followed hym, and he healed them there.
3 The Pharisees also came vnto him, tempting him, and saying vnto hym, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for euery cause?

7 They say vnto him, Why did Moses then B commaunde to geue a writing of deuorcement, and to put her away?

15 And when he had put his handes on them, he departed thence.
16 And beholde, one came, and sayde vnto him, *Good maister, what good thing shal Mark.10.a I do, that I may haue eternal lyfe? Luke.18.d.

The. xx. Chapter.

1. Christe teacheth by a similitude, that God is better vnto no man. 20. He teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30. and geueth two blinde men their sight.

G 1 FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto
The Gospel on Septuages ima sunday. a man that is an housholder, whiche went out early in the morninge to hyre labourers into his vineyarde.
2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a peny a day, he sent them into his vineyarde.
3 And when he went out about the thyrde houre, he sawe other standyng idle in the market place,
4 And sayde vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde, and whatsoeuer is right, I wyll geue you. And they went their way.
5 Agayne, when he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, he did likewise.
6 And about the eleuenth houre, when he went out, he founde other standyng idle, and sayth vnto them, Why stande ye here al the day idle?
B 7 They saye vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He saith vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and whatsoeuer is ryght, that shal ye receiue.
8 So when euen was come, the Lord of the vineyarde saith vnto his stewarde, Call the labourers, and geue them their hyre, beginning from the last, vnto the first.
9 And when they came that (were hyred) about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a peny.
10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they shoulde haue receiued more: & they likewyse receiued euery man a peny.
11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured agaynst the good man of the house, 12 Saying, these last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, whiche haue borne the burden and feruent heate of the day.
13 But he answeared to one of them, and sayde, Freende, I do thee no wrong: hyredest thou not agree with me for a peny?
14 Take that thyne is, and goe thy way: I wyl geue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee. C
15 Is it not lawful for me to do that I will with mine owne? Is thine eye euyl, because I am good?
16 *So the last shalbe firste, and the fyrste (shalbe) last: for many be called, but fewe (be) chosen. Mat.19.d. Mark.10.d. Luke.13.f.
17 And Jesus going vp to Hierusalem, toke the twelue disciples aside in the way, and sayde vnto them, 18 *Beholde, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shalbe betrayed vnto the cheefe priestes, and vnto the Scribes, and they shal condemne hym to death: Mark. 9.d. Luke.18.d.
19 And shal deliuer him to the gentiles to be mocked, and to be scourged, and to be crucified: and the thirde day he shal rise againe.
20 Then came to hym the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshyppyng him, and desiring a certayne thyng of hym. The Gospel on S. Iames the Apostle. Mark.10.d
21 And he saith vnto her, What wylt thou? D
She saith vnto hym, Graunt, that these my two sonnes may sitte, the one on thy ryght hande, & the other on the left, in thy kyngdome.
22 But Jesus answeared, and sayd, Ye wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to dyncke of the cup that I shal dyncke of, and to be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with? They say vnto him, We are able.
23 He sayth vnto them, Ye shall dyncke in deede of my cup, and be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with: But to sit on my ryght hande, and on my leafte, is not myne to geue, but to them for whom it is prepared of my father. Mat.25.d

24 *And when the tenne heard de (this,) they disdayned at the two brethren.
25 But Jesus, when he had called them vnto him, sayde, *Ye knowe that the princes of the gentiles haue dominion ouer them: and they that are great, exercise auctho̅itie vpon them.
26 It shall not be so among you: But whosoeuer wyl be great among you, let him be your minister.
27 And who so wyl be cheefe among you, let him be your seruant.
28 Euen as *the sonne of man came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, & to geue his lyfe a raunsome for many.
29 *And as they departed from Hiericho, muche people folowed him.
30 And beholde, two blynd men sitting by the way syde, when they hearde that Jesus passed by, they cryed, sayeng, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.
31 And the people rebuked them, because they shoulde holde their peace: but they cryed the more, sayeng, Haue mercie on vs, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid.
32 And Jesus stoode styll, & called them, and sayde, What wyl ye that I shal doo vnto you?
33 They say vnto him, Lorde, that our eyes may be opened.
34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediatly their eyes receyued sight, & they folowed him.

The .xxi. Chapter.

7. He rydeth into Hierusalem, 12. driueth the marchantes out of the temple, 19. and curseth the fygge tree.

A 1 AND when they *drewe nygh vnto Hierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Olines, then sent Jesus two disciples,
2 Sayeng vnto them, Goe into the village that lyeth ouer against you, & anone ye shall fynde an asse tyed, & a colt with her, when ye haue loosed (them,) bring (them) vnto me.
3 And yf any man say ought vnto you, ye shal say the Lorde hath neede of them, and straightway he wyl let them goe.
4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, sayeng,
5 *Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy king commeth vnto thee meeke, and sitting vpon an Asse, and a colt, the foale of (the Asse) vsed to the yoke.
6 The disciples went, and dyd as Jesus commaunded them,
B 7 And brought the Asse, and the colt, & put on them their clothes, and he sate thereon.
8 And many of the people spread their garmentes in ye way, other cut downe braunches from the trees, & strawed them in ye way.
9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cryed, sayeng, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: *Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the lord, *Hosanna in the highest.
10 And when he was comme into Hierusalem, all the citie was moued, sayeng, Who is this?
11 And the multitude sayde, This is Jesus *that prophete of Nazareth (a citie) in Galilee.
12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that solde and bought in the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, & the seates of them that solde doues, 13 And sayde vnto them, it is written, *My house shalbe called the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.
14 And the blynde and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them.
15 When the cheefe priestes & Scribes sawe the woonders that he dyd, and the children crying in the temple, and sayeng, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdayned, 16 And sayde vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Jesus saith vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, *Out of the mouth of babes and sucklinges thou hast ordeyned prayse?
17 And he leaft them, and went out of the citie *vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.
18 *In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.
19 *And when he sawe one fygge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon but leaues only, and said vnto it, Neuer fruite growe on thee henceforwarde. And anone the fygge tree wythered away.
20 And when the disciples saw it, they marueyled, sayeng, Howe soone is the fygge tree wythered away?
21 Jesus answeared, & sayde vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, *yf ye haue fayth, and doubt not, ye shal not only doo this (whiche is done) to ye figgs tree, but also, if ye shal say vnto this mountayne, Be thou remooued, & be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe donne.
22 And all thinges what soeuer ye shal aske in prayer, beleeuing, ye shal receyue.
23 *And when he was comme into the temple, the cheefe priestes and the elders of the people came vnto him teaching & say, *By what auctho̅itie doest thou these thinges? and who gaue thee this power?
24 Jesus answeared, and saide vnto them, I also wyl aske you one question, which yf ye tell me, I in likewyse will tell you by what auctoritie I doo these thinges:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it?
from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with them selues, sayeing, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs,
Why dyd ye not then beleeue him?
Mat.14.a. 26 But if we shal say, Of men, then feare we the people, for all (men) holde John as a prophete.
27 And they answered vnto Jesus, & saide,
We can not tell. And he sayde vnto them, Neither tell I you by what auctoritie I doo these thinges.
C 28 But what thinke you? A certayne man had two sonnes, and when he came to the first, he sayde, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyarde.
29 He answered, and said, I will not: But afterwarde he repented, and went.
30 And when he came to the second, he sayd lyke wyse: And he answered, and sayde, I (go) sir, and went not.
31 Whether of them twaine dyd the will of his father? And they saide vnto him, The first. Jesus sayth vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the publicanes & the harlots
goe into the kingdome of God before you.
Matth.3.a. 32 For *John came vnto you by the way of righteousnesse, & ye beleeued him not: but the publicanes & the harlots beleeued him.
And ye, when ye had seene (it) were not moued afterwarde with repentance, that ye might haue beleeued him.
33 Heare me another similitude. *There was a certaine man, an housholder, which planted a vineyarde, and hedged it rounde about, and digged a wine pitte in it, & built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a straunge countrey.
Gene.9.e. Exodus.5.a. Jere.12.c. Mark.12.c. Luke.20.b. 34 And when the time of the fruite drewe neare, he sent his seruantes to the husband-men, that they might receiue the fruites of it.
F 35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruantes, they beat one, killed another, and stoned another.
36 Agayne, he sent other seruantes, mo then the first, and they did vnto them likewise.
37 But last of al, he sent vnto them his owne sonne, sayeing, They will stande in awe of my sonne.
Gene.37. 38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they saide among them selues, *This is the heyre, come, let vs kil him, and let vs season vpon his inheritance.
39 And they caught him, and thrust him out of the vineyarde, and slue (him.)
40 When the Lorde therefore of the vine-yarde commeth, what will he doo vnto those husbandmen?
41 They say vnto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked (men) and will let out his vineyarde vnto other husbandmen, who the shal render him the fruite in due tymes.
42 Jesus sayeth vnto them, Dyd ye neuer reade in the scriptures, *The stone which the buylders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner? This is the Lordes doing, and it is marueylous in our eyes.
Psal.118.c. Mark.12.d. Luke.20.c. 1.Pet.2.b. Actes.4.b.
43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shalbe taken from you, and geuen to a nation bringing foorth the fruites therof.
44 And *who so euer shal fall on this stone, shalbe broken in peeces: *but on whom so euer it shal fal, it shal to grinde him.
Zach.12.a. Dani.2.c.
45 And when the cheefe priestes and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceyuued that he spake of them.
46 *And when they sought to lay handes on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a prophete.

17. Tribute to be geuen to the Emperour,
36. He answereth the Scribe vnto his question.

1 AND Jesus answered, and spake vnto them agayne by parables, & saide, 2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto *a man that was a king, which made a marriage for his sonne.
G The Gospel on the xx. sunday after Trinitie. Luke.14.b 3 And sent forth his seruantes, to cal them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not comme.
4 Agayne, he sent forth other seruantes, sayeing, Tel them which are bidden, Be-holde, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my fatlinges are kylled, & al things are redy: comme vnto the mariage.
5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:
6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and entreated them spitefully, and slue them.
7 But when the king heard (thereof) he was wroth, and when he had sent forth his armies, he destroyed those murderers, and brent vp their citie.
B 8 Then sayth he to his seruantes, The ma-riage is made & prepared, but they which were bidden, were not worthy.
9 Goe ye therefore out in the high wayes, and as many as ye shall finde, bidde to the mariage.
10 And the seruantes went out into the high wayes, and gathered togither al, as many as they founde, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with ghestes.
11 Whenthe king came in to see the ghestes,
he

he lyked there a man, which had not on a* wedding garment, 12 And he saith vnto him, Frende, how camest thou in hither, not hauing a wedding garment? And he was euen speachlesse.
13 Then said the king to the ministers, Bynde ye hym vp, and cast him into vtter darknes, * there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.
14 For many are called, but few are chosen.
15 * Then went the Pharisees, and tooke counsaile howe they myght entangle hym in his talke.
16 And they sent out vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, * Maister, we knowe that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truely, neyther carest thou for any man, for thou dooest not respect mens persons.
17 Tel vs therfore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawful to geue tribute vnto Ceasar, or not?
18 But Iesus when he knewe their wickednes, said, Why tempt ye me ye hypocrites?
19 Shewe me the tribute money. And they brought vnto hym a peny.
20 And he sayth to them, Whose is this Image and superscription?
21 They say vnto him, Ceasars. Then saith he vnto them, * Geue therfore vnto Ceasar the (thynges) whiche are Ceasars: and vnto God, those (thynges) that are Gods.
22 When they had heard (these woordes,) they marueyled, and left hym, and went their way.
23 * The same day came to him the Saduces, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Maister, Moses said, * If a man dye, hauing no children, his brother shal * marrye his wyfe, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.
25 There were with vs seuen brethren, and the first, when he had marryed a wyfe, deceased, and hauing no issue, left his wyfe vnto his brother.
26 Likewise the second also, and the thirde, vnto the seuenth.
27 Last of al, the woman dyed also.
28 Therfore in the resurrection whose wyfe shall she be of the seuen? For they all had her.
29 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Ye doo erre, not knowyng the scriptures, nor the power of God.
30 For in the resurrection they neyther marye, nor are geuen in mariage, but are as the angels of God in heauen.
31 But as touchyng the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read that which was spoken vnto you of God, which sayth, 32 * I am the God of Abraham, & the God of Isahac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the lyuyng.
33 And when the multitudes heard this, they were astonied at his doctrine.
34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Saduces to silence, they were gathered together.
35 Then one (of them) whiche was a lawyer, asked (him) a question, tempting hym, and saying,
36 Maister, whiche is the great commaundement in the lawe?
37 Iesus sayde vnto hym, Thou * shalt loue the Lorde thy God with al thy hart, and with al thy soule, and with al thy mynde.
38 This is the first and great commaundement.
39 And the seconde is like vnto it. * Thou shalt loue thy neyghboor as thy selfe.
40 In these two commaundementes hang al the lawe and the prophetes.
41 When the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christe? whose sonne is he? They sayde vnto hym, (the sonne) of Dauid.
43 He sayth vnto them, * howe then doth Dauid in spirite cal hym Lord, saying,
44 The Lord said vnto my Lord, * Syt thou on my right hand, tyl I make thine enimies thy footstoole?
45 If Dauid then cal him Lord, howe is he then his sonne?
46 And no man was able to answeare hym a woord, neyther durst any man (from that day) aske hym any mor questions.

3. Christ cryeth woe to the Pharisees, Scribes, and hypocrites. 37. and prophesieth the destruction of Hierusalem.

1 Then spake Iesus to the multitudes, and to his disciples,
2 Saying, * The Scribes and the Pharisees * sate in Moses stare:
3 Al therfore what so euer they byd you obserue, that obserue & doo, but doo not after their woorkes: for they say, and doo not.
4 * Yea, they bynde togather heauie burdens, and grieuous to be borne, & laye them on mens shoulders, but they them selues wyl not mouue them with (one) of their fingers.
5 Al their woorkes they doo, for to be seene of men, they make broade their phylacteries, & enlarge the hemmes of their garmentes.
6 And loue the vppermost seates at feastes, & to sit in the chefe place in the synagogues.

The. xxiiii. Chapter.

1. Christe sheweth his disciple the destruction of the temple, 6. the ende of the world, and the tokens of the latter dayes, 42. and warneth them to wake, 44. for the worlde shal sodainly perishe.

1 AND Iesus went out, and departed from the temple: and *his disciples came (to hym) for to shewe hym the buyldynges of the temple.
A Mark. 13.a Luk. 21.a
2 Iesus saide vnto them, See ye not al these thinges? Verily I say vnto you, *there shal not not be left here one stone vpon another, that shal not be destroyed.

3 And as he sate vpon the mount of Olines, the disciples came vnto him secretely, saying, Tel vs, when shal these thynges be? and what (shalbe) the token of thy commyng, and of the ende of the worlde?

4 And Iesus answeared, & saide vnto them, Take * heede that no man deceyue you.

5 For many shal come in my name, saying, I am Christe: and shal deceyue many.

6 It wyl come to passe, that ye shal heare of warres, and rumours of warres: See that you be not troubled: for al (these thynges) must come to passe, but the ende is not yet.

7 * For nation shal ryse agaynst nation, and realme agaynst realme, and there shalbe famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in * certayne places.

8 Al these are the begynnyng of sorowes.

9 * Then shal they put you to trouble, and shal kyl you: and ye shalbe hated of al nations for my names sake.

10 And then shal many be offended, and shal betray one an other, and shal hate one an other.

11 And many false prophetes shal arise, and shal deceiue many.

12 * And because iniquitie shal abounde, the loue of many shal waxe colde.

13 * But he that shal endure to the ende, the same shalbe saued.

14 * And this Gospel of the kingdome shalbe preached in al the worlde, for a witnesse vnto all nations, & then shal the ende come.

15 * When ye therfore shal see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by * Daniel the prophete, stand in the holy place, (who so readeth, let him vnderstande,) 16 Then let them whiche be in Iurie, flee into the mountaynes.

17 And let him which is on the house toppe, not come downe to fetche any thyng out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the felde, returne backe to fetche his clothes.

19 Woe shalbe in those dayes to them that are with childe, & to them that geue sucke.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the Winter, neyther on the Sabboth day:

21 For then shalbe great tribulation, such as was not since the begynnyng of the worlde to this tyme, no, nor in any wyse shalbe.

22 Yea, and except those daies should be shortened, there should no flesh be saued: but for the chosens sake, those daies shalbe shortned.

23 * Then if any man shal say vnto you, Loe, here is Christe, or there: beleeue it not.

24 For there shal arise false Christes, & false prophetes,* & shal shewe great signes, and wonders: in so muche that (if it were possible) they shal deceiue the very elect.

25 Beholde, I haue tolde you before.

26 Wherefore, if they shal say vnto you, Behold, he is in the desart, goe not foorth, Behold, he is in the secret places: beleeue it not.

44 Therefore be ye also redie: for in such an houre as ye thinke not, the sonne of man commeth.
45 Who then is that faythful and wyse seruant, whom his Lord hath made ruler ouer his household, to geue them meate in season?
46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his Lord when he commeth, shal fynde so dooyng.
47 Verily I say vnto you, that he shal make him ruler ouer al his goodes.
48 But & if that euyl seruant shal say in his hart, My Lord wyl ha long a comming:

The. xxv. Chapter.

1. The ten virgins. 14. The talentes delyuered to the seruantes. 32. And of the generall iudgement.

25 Then shal the kingdome of heauen be lykened vnto ten virgins, whiche when they had take their lampes, went forth to meete the bridegrome.
2 But fyue of them were wyse, and fyue were foolishe.
3 They that were foolishe, when they had taken their lampes, tooke none oyle with them:
4 But the wyse tooke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.
5 Whyle the bridegrome tarried, they al slumbred and slept.
6 And euen at mydnyght there was a crie made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete him.
7 Then al those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.
8 So the foolishe saide vnto the wyse, Geue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are gonne out.
9 But the wyse answeared, saying, (Not so) lest there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sel, and buye for your selues.
10 And whyle they went to buye, the bridegrome came: and they that were redie, went in with him to the mariage, and the doore was shut vp.
11 Afterwarde came also the other virgins, saying, * Lorde, Lorde, open to vs.
12 But he answeared, and sayde, Verily I say vnto you, I know you not.
13 * Watche therefore, for ye knowe neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherin the sonne of man commeth.
14 * Likewyse, as (when) a (certayne) man taking his iourney into a straunge country, called his owne seruantes, and deliuered vnto them his goodes.
15 And vnto one he gaue fyue talentes, to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his habilitie, and straightway tooke his iourney.
16 Then he that had receiued the fyue talentes, went and occupied with the same, & made (them) other fyue talentes.
17 And like wyse he that had receiued two, he also gayned other two.
18 But he that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hydde his lordes money.
19 After a long season, the lorde of those seruantes commeth, and reckeneth with them.
20 And so he that had receiued fyue talents, came and brought other fyue talentes, saying, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto me fyue talentes, beholde, I haue gayned besydes them, fyue talentes mo.
21 His lord said vnto him, Well donne thou good and faythful seruant, thou hast ben faythful ouer fewe thynges, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy lorde.
22 He also that had receiued two talentes, came, and sayde, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: beholde, I haue wonne two other talentes besydes them.
23 His lorde sayde vnto him, Well donne good and faythful seruant, thou hast ben faythful ouer fewe thynges, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy lorde.
24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came, and sayd, Lord, I knewe thee that thou art an hard man, reapyng where thou hast not sowen, and geathering where thou hast not strawed:
25 And therefore was I afrayde, and went and hyd thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that thyne is.
26 His Lorde answeared, and sayde vnto him, Thou euyl and slouthful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and geather where I haue not strawed:
27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shoulde I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

but me ye haue not alwayes.
12 For in that this woman hath caſt this

15 And ſayde vnto them, What wyl ye geue

they appoynted vnto hym thirtie ſyluer

16 And from that tyme forth, he ſought opportunitie to betray hym.
17 The firſt (day) of ſweete breade, the diſ-

Where wylt thou that we ſhal prepare for 18 And he ſayde, Goe into the citie to ſuche

My time is at hande, I make the Paſſo-

19 And ỳ diſciples did as Jeſus had appoyn-

4 Saying, I haue synned, in that I haue betrayed the innocent blood. And they sayde, What is that to vs? see thou to that.
5 And when he had cast downe the peeces of syluer in the temple, he departed, * and went his way, and hanged him selfe. 2. Re. 18.b. Actes. 1.c.
6 And the cheefe prieſtes tooke the syluer (peeces,) and sayde, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasurie: because it is the price of blood.
7 And when they had taken counsayle, they bought with them the Potters feelde, to burie strangers in. B
8 Wherefore, that feelde was called, The feelde of blood, vntyl this day.

10 And gaue them for the Potters feeld, as the Lorde appoynted me.)

12 And when he was accused of the cheefe prieſtes and elders, he answeared nothing.
13 Then sayth Pilate vnto him, Heearest thou not howe many thynges they witnesse agaynst thee?

Mat.15.a. 22 Pilate sayd vnto them, * What shal I doo then with Iesus whiche is called Christe? Then al sayde vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie sayde, What euyl hath he done? But they cryed exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that he coulde preuayle nothing, but that more businesse was made, he tooke water, & washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see yee to it.

Actes.5.c. Mark.15.a. Luke.23.b. 25 Then answeared al the people, and said, His * blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 * Then let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, he deliuered him to be crucified.

Mat.15.a. 27 * Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hal, gathered vnto him al the bande (of souldiers.)

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, & a reede in his right hand: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Hayle kyng of the Iewes.

30 And when they had spyt vpon him, they tooke the reede, and smote him on the head.

Psal.22.d. Mar.15.c. Luke.23.c.

36 And sytting downe, they watched him there:

37 * And set vp ouer his head, his accusation wrytten, This is Iesus the king of the Iewes. Luke.23.c. John.19.a.

56 Among which was Maria Magdalene, and 57 When the euen was come, there came a riche man from (the cittie of) Arimathea, named Ioseph, whiche also him selfe was Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus: then Pilate commaunded the body to be deliuered.

59 And when Ioseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a cleane lynnen cloth:

60 And layde it in his newe tombe whiche he had hewen out in the rocke: and when he had rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, he departed.

61 And there was * Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, sittyng ouer against the sepulchre.

62 The next day that followed the day of preparing, the high priestes & pharisees came togeather vnto Pilate, 63 Saying, Syr, we remember that this deceiuer sayde while he was yet aliue, *After three dayes I aryse agayne.

64 Commaunde therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntyl the thirde day: lest his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is ryssen from the dead: and the last errour shalbe worse then the first.

65 Pilate sayne vnto them, Ye haue the watch, go your way, make it as sure as ye knowe.

66 So they went, and when they had sealed vp the stone, they made the sepulchre sure with the watche.

The. xxviii. Chapter.

6. The resurrection of Christe. 12. The high priestes geue the souldiers money, to say that Christe was stollen out of his graue.

IN the latter ende of the Sabboth day, which dawneth ỹ first (day) of the weeke, came Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, to see the sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.

3 His countenance was like lyghtnyng, and his rayment whyte as snowe.

4 And for feare of him the kepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 * The angel answered, and sayd vnto the women, Feare ye not: for I knowe that ye seeke Iesus, whiche was crucified. Mark. 16.b Luke. 24.a.

6 He is not here, he is ryssen, as he sayde, Come, see the place where that the Lorde was layde,

7 And goe quickly, and tel his disciples that he is ryssen from the dead. And beholde, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him: lo, I haue tolde you. B

8 * And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and dyd runne, to bring his disciples worde. Mark. 16.b Luke. 24.b.

9 And as they went to tel his disciples, beholde, Iesus met them, saying, All hayle. And they came, and helde him by the feete, and worshypped him.

10 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, Be not afrayde: goe tel my brethren, that they goe into Galilee, and there shal they see me.

11 When they were gone, beholde, some of the watche came into the cittie, and shewed vnto the high priestes all the thynges that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the deputies (eares) we wil perswade him, and make you careles. C

15 So they, when they had taken the money, did as they were taught. And this saying was noysed among the Iewes vntyll this day.

16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountayne, where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshypped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, * All power is geuen vnto me in heauen and in earth. Mark. 11.d. Iohn. 17.a. Mark. 16.c.

19 * Goe ye therefore, and teache all nations, baptising them in the name of the father, and of the sonne, and of the holy ghost:

We haue in this diſcription conteyned the vſe and maner of the celebration of Easter that the Iewes held, with that whiche we vſe to reckon and begynne at, and also to name the dayes of the weeke, and haue added thereto certayne dayes of the moneth of Marche in the yeere that Ieſus Chriſte ſuffered, to declare the vnderſtandyng of the ſayde difficultie. Wherin there is to be noted, that the Lord Ieſus celebrated not the Paſſouer the ſame day that the Iewes dyd: but that he which came not to breake the lawe, but to fulfyll the lawe in euery poynt, ate the lambe with his diſciples at ỳ time ordeyned by the law. Exo. 12. The diſciples prepare the lamme whiche Ieſus Chriſte eate with them after euen, the ſame day on whiche euen began the feaſt. Ieſus hauing eaten ſeaſteth with his diſciples, inſtituteth the ſacrament of the ſupper: is tryed by Iudas; is crucified, dead, and buried. Ieſus riſeth the graue all this day. The wo- men carry ointments very early in the morning to the graue.

whiche is the foureteenth day of the fyrſte moneth, (that is to ſay Marche) in the after noone, on the whiche began the ſayde feaſt: whiche fell this yeere on the Fryday, the euen of the Sabboth or day of reſt. On the whiche day he whiche was the true lambe was offered, to the ende that the troth myght agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebrated the ſayde Paſſouer the day folowyng at euen after sunne set, Ieſus Chriſt beyng in the graue: for that by tradition of their predeceſſours, the ſame feaſt whiche fel on the Fryday accordyng to the lawe, was deferred to the next day, whiche was the day of their weekely Sabboth, because they wolde not keepe two feaſtes togeather: for this feaſte day they called the great Sabboth. Iohn. 19. and also because (as enimies of the truth) they wolde ſeeke all meanes poſſible to keepe him from beyng knowen for the Meſſias.

Here is alſoo to be noted, that where the eatyng of the lambe, the inſtitution of the ſacrament, with the reſidue before mentioned, is referred to Thurſday and Fryday: Yf ye reckon accordyng to the Iewes accompt, who begynne their Fryday nyght on Thurſday after sunne set, and continueth that nyght and day vntyl the nexte day after sunne set, ye ſhal fynde that Chriſte dyd eate the Paſcal lambe, inſtituted the ſacrament of his body and blood, was kylled by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buryed on Fryday. But yf ye reckon after our vſe, then Chriſt dyd eate the Paſcal lambe, inſtituted the ſacrament of his body and blood, and was kylled of Iudas on Thurſday, but was crucified, dead, and buryed on Fryday.

¶ The Gospel by saint Marke.

The first Chapter.

a. The office of Iohn the Baptist. 9. The baptisme of Christ. 13. his fasting. 14. and preaching.

1 THE beginning of the Gospell of Iesu Christe, the sonne of God,

2 As it hath ben written in the prophetes, *Behold, I sende my messenger before thy face, whiche shal prepare thy way before thee.

3 A voyce of him that cryeth in the wyldernesse, *Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his pathes straight.

4 *Iohn was baptising in the wyldernesse, and preaching the baptisme of *repentance, for the remission of sinnes.

5 And all the land of Iurie, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto him, and were all baptised of him in the ryuer of Iordane, confessing their sinnes.

6 *Iohn was clothed with Camels heare, & with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: and he dyd eate locustes and wilde hony,

7 And preached, saying, *There cometh one mightier then I, commeth after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 I haue baptised you with water: but he shal baptise you with the holy ghost.

9 And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came fro Nazareth (a citie) of Galilee, *and was baptised of Iohn in Iordane.

10 And assoone as he was comme vp out of the water, *he sawe heauen open, and the spirite descending vpon him lyke a doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, *Thou art my deare sonne, in whom I am wel pleased.

12 And immediatly *the spirite driueth him into wyldernesse.

13 And he was there in the wyldernesse fourtie dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wyld beastes, *and the angels ministred vnto him.

14 After that Iohn was deliuered (to prison) *Iesus came into Galilee, *preaching the gospel of the kyngdome of God, 15 And saying, The tyme is comme, and the kingdome of God is at hande: *repent ye, and beleeue the Gospel.

16 *As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he sawe Simon, and Andrewe his brother, casting nettes into the sea (for they were fyshers.)

17 And Iesus saide vnto them, Folowe me, and I wyl make *you to become fyshers of men. Ier. 16. c.

18 And straightway they forsoke their nets, and folowed him.

19 And when he had gonne a litle further thence, he sawe Iames (the sonne) of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, which also were in the ship mending their nettes.

20 And anone he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruantes, and folowed him.

21 And they came into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabboth dayes, he entred into the synagogue, and taught. D

22 And they were astonied at his learning: *for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes. Mat. 4. b. Mat. 7. b.

23 *And there was in their synagogue, a man vexed with an vncleane spirite, and he cryed alowde, Luke. 3. c Mat. 7. b Luke. 4. c

24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue we (to do) with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou comme to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art, (euen) that holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and comme out of him.

26 And when the vncleane spirit had torne him, and cried with a loude voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuche that they demaunded one of another among themselues, saying, What thing is this? What new doctrine is this? For with authoritie commaundeth he the foule spirites, and they doo obey him?

28 And immediatly his fame spread abrode throughout all the region bordering on Galilee. E

29 And forthwith, when they were comme out of the synagogue, *they entred into the house of Simon & Andrewe, with Iames and Iohn. Mat. 8. b. Luke. 4. b.

30 But Simons wyues mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anone they tel him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hande, & lift her vp: and immediatly the feuer forsooke her, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the sunne was downe, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, & them that were vexed with deuils.

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the doore.

Luke.4.g. Mark.3.b. 34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and *cast out many deuils: and suffred not the deuils to speake, because they knewe him.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Jesus when he was ryssen vp, went out, & departed into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, & they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had founde him, they sayd vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And he sayde vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for therefore am I come.

39 And he preached in their synagogues in all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

Mat.8.a. Luke.5.c. 40 *And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling downe to him, & sayeng vnto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Jesus hauing compassion on him, when he had put forth his hande, touched him, and sayeth vnto him, I will, be thou cleane.

42 And assoone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after he had geuen him a strait commaundement, he sent him away forthwith:

44 And sayeth vnto him, *See thou say nothyng to any man: but goe thee hence, Mark.7.d. shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy cleansyng those thinges whiche Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

45 But he, assoone as he was departed, began openly to declare many thinges, and to publishe this rumour: insomuch, that Jesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desart places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

The.ii. Chapter.

3. He healeth the man of the paulsye, 14. and calleth Leui the customer.

1 AFter (a fewe) dayes agayn, he entred into Capernaum agayne, and it was noysed that he was in the house.

2 And anone many were gathered together, (insomuche) that nowe there was no roome to receyue (them,) no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word (of the Gospel) vnto them.

Mat.9.a. Luke.5.d. 3 *And they come vnto him, bringing one sicke of the paulsie, whiche was borne of foure men.

4 And when they could not come nygh vnto him for preasse, they vncouered the roofe (of the house) than he was into where they had broken by the roofe, they do (with cordes) let downe the bedde wherein the sicke of the paulsye lay.

5 When Jesus sawe their fayth, he sayde vnto the sicke of the paulsye, *Sonne, thy sinnes be forgeuen thee.

Esai.43.c. and.44.a. Luke.5.a. B

6 But there were certayne of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their harts,

7 Why doeth he thus speake blasphemies? Who can forgeue sinnes, but God onely?

8 And immediatly, when Jesus perceyued in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselues, he sayth vnto them, Why reason ye such thinges in your hartes?

9 Whether is it easyer to say to the sicke of the paulsie, Thy sinnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, Aryse, take vp thy bedde and walke?

10 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgeue sinnes, (he sayth to the sicke of the paulsye,) 11 I say vnto thee, *Aryse, and take vp thy bedde, & goe thee hence into thyne house. Mat.9.a. Luke.5.e.

12 And immediatly he arose, tooke vp the bedde, and went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, sayeng, We neuer sawe it on this fashion. Joha.5.b.

13 *And he went agayne by the sea syde, and all the people resorted vnto him, and he taught them. Mat.9.a.

14 And as Jesus passed by, he sawe Leui (the C sonne) of Alphee sytting at the receypte of custome, and sayde vnto him, Folowe me. And he arose, and folowed him.

15 And it came to passe, that when Jesus sate at meate in his house, many publicanes and synners sate also together at meate with Jesus and his Disciples: for there were many, and they folowed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees sawe him eate with Publicanes and synners, they sayde vnto his disciples, Howe is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicanes and sinners?

17 When Jesus heard (that,) he sayth vnto them, They that be whole, haue no neede of the phisition, but they that are sicke: *I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. 1.Tim.1. Mark.2.a. Luke.5.f.

18 And the disciples of Johu, and of the Pharisees vsed faste: and they come and say vnto him, Why doo the disciples of Johu, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said vnto them, Can the chyldren of the bride chamber fast, whyle the bridegroome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegroome with them, they can not fast.

20 But the dayes wyll comme, when the bride-

Iohannes haue take away from them, and then shal they fast in those dayes.
D 21 No man also setteth a piece of new cloth, vnto an old garment: otherwayes, his new peece taketh away (somewhat) from the old (garment,) and so the rent is made woorse.
22 And no man poureth newe wine into old vesselles, els the newe wine doth burst the vesselles, and the wine runneth out, and the vesselles wil be marred: But newe wine, must be put into newe vesselles.
Mat.12.a. 23 * And it came to passe, that he went thor-
Luke.6.a. rowe y corne fieldes on the sabboth dayes, & his disciples began by the way to pluck the eares of corne.
24 And the Pharisees sayde vnto him, Be-holde, why do they on the sabboth dayes that whiche is not lawfull?
25 And he sayde vnto them, Haue ye neuer
1.Reg.21.b. read what Dauid did, when he had neede and was an hungred, both he, and they that (were) with him?
26 * Howe he went into the house of GOD in the dayes of Abiathar the high priest, and did eate the shewe bread, whiche is not lawfull to eate but for the priestes, & gaue also to them whiche were with him?
27 And he saide vnto them, The sabboth was made for man, and not man for the sabboth.
28 Therefore is the sonne of man Lord also of the Sabboth.

The. iii. Chapter.

I. He helpeth the man with the dried hande,
14. chooseth his apostles.

A 1 AND he entred agayne into the synagogue, and a man was there whiche
Mat.12.a. had a * withered hande: Luke.6.a. 2 And they watched him, whether he would heale him on the sabboth day, that they might accuse him.
3 And he sayd vnto the man whiche had the withered hande, Aryse, (and stande) in the middes.
4 And he sayth vnto them, Is it lawfull to do good on the sabboth dayes, or to do euil?
to saue life, or to kil? But they helde their peace.
5 And when he had looked rounde about on them with anger, mourning for the hardnesse of their hartes, he sayth to the man,
Mat.12.b. * Stretche forth thine hande. And he stret-Luke.6.b. ched it out: and his hande was restored as 1.Reg.13.b. whole as the other.
Mat.12.b. 6 And the Pharisees departed, & strayghtway gathered a counsell with the Herodi-ans against him, that they might destroy him.
Mat.4.d. 7 But Iesus auoyded, with his disciples, to Luke.6.c. the sea: and a great multitude folowed him from Galilee, and from Iurie, 8 And from Hierusalem, and from Idu- B mea, and (from the region whiche is) beyond Iordane, and they that dwelt about Tyre Mat.4.b. and Sidon, a great multitude, when they Luke.6.c. had heard what thinges he did, came vnto Iohn.6.a.
him.
9 And Iesus commaunded his disciples that a ship houlde waite on him, because of the people, lest they should throng him.
10 For he had healed many, (insomuche) that they preassed vpon him for to touche him, as many as had plagues.
11 And the vncleane spirites, when they saw him, they fel downe before him (at his feete) & cried, saying, Thou art the sonne of God.
12 And he straightly charged them, that they houlde not make him knowen.
13 And he goeth vp into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom he would: and they came vnto him.
14 * And he ordeyned twelue, that they should C be with him, and that he might sende them Mat.10.a.
forth to preache:
15 And that they might haue power to heale
sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.
16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name Peter.
17 And he called Iames (the sonne) of Zebedee, and Iohn Iames brother (and gaue them names, Boanarges, whiche is to say, the sonnes of thunder.)
18 And Andrewe, and Philip, and Bartholomewe, and Matthewe, and Thomas, and Iames (the sonne) of Alphee, & Thaddeus, and Simon the Chananite, 19 And Iudas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they come into an house.
20 And the people commeth togeather a-gayne, so that they coulde not so much as eate bread.
21 And when they that belonged vnto him, D hearde (of it) they went out to lay handes vpon him, for they sayde, He is madde.
22 And the scribes which came downe from Hierusalem, sayde, He hath Beelzebub, * and by the prince of the deuilles, casteth he Mat.9.b out deuilles, and.12.b.
23 And when he had called them vnto him, Luke.11.b.
he sayde vnto them in parables, Howe can Satan cast out Satan?
24 And if a realme be diuided against it selfe, that realme can not endure.
25 And if a house be diuided against it selfe, that house can not continue.
26 And if Satan make insurrection against him selfe, and be diuided, he can not continue, but hath an ende.
27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goodes, except he wyll first bynde the strong man, and then wyl spoyle his house.

28 Verily I say vnto you, All sinnes shalbe forgeuen vnto the children of men, and blasphemies, wherwith so euer they shall blaspheme:

29 *But he that shal blaspheme agaynst the holy ghost, hath neuer forgeuenesse, but is in danger of eternal damnation. *Math.12.c. Luke.12.c.

30 For they sayde, He hath an vncleane spirite.

31 *There come his mother, and his brethren, and standing without, sent vnto him, calling him. *Math.12.d. Luke.8.c.

32 And the people sate about him, and saide vnto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren, & thy sisterne, seeke for thee without.

33 And he answeared them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And when he had looked rounde about on them whiche sate about hym, he sayde, Beholde my mother and my brethren.

35 For whosoeuer shal do the wyl of God, the same is my brother, & my sister, & mother.

The.iiii. Chapter.

2. The parable of the sower. 37. Christe stylleth the tempest of the sea, which obeyed him.

AND he began agayne to teache by the sea side: and there gathered vnto hym muche people, so that he entred into a shyp, *and sate in the sea: and al the people was by the sea side on the shore. *Mark.13.a.

2 And he taught them many thinges by parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, *there went out a sower to sowe: *Luke.8.a.

4 And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fel by the way side: and the fowles of the ayre came, and deuoured it vp.

5 Some fel on stonie grounde, where it had not much earth: and immediatly it sprang vp, because it had no deepth of earth.

6 But assoone as the sunne was vp, it caught heate: and because it had no roote, it wythered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grew vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruite.

8 And some fel vpon good grounde, and did yeelde fruite that sprang vp, and grewe, and brought forth, some thirtie, and some sixtie, and some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about hym, with the twelue, asked of hym the parable.

11 And he sayde vnto them, *Vnto you it is geuen to knowe the mysterie of the kyngdome of god: but vnto them that are without, al thinges are done by parables, *Math.12.b. Luke.8.b.

12 That when they see, they may see, and not discerne: and when they heare, *they may heare, and not understande, lest at any tyme they shoulde turne, and their sinnes shoulde be forgeuen them. *Esai.6.c. Math.13.b. Luke.8.b. John.12.f. Actes.28.f. Rom.11.b.

13 And he sayd vnto them, Knowe ye not this parable? And howe then wil ye know al parables?

14 *The sower soweth the worde. *C

15 And they that (receiued seede) by the way side, are those where the worde is sowen, but when they haue heard, sathan commeth immediatly, & taketh away the worde that was sowen in their hartes. *Math.13.c. Luke.8.b.

16 And lykewyse they that receiue seede into the stonie ground, are they, which when they haue heard the worde, at once receiue it with gladnesse;

17 Yet haue ye roote in them selues, and so endure but a time: and anone when trouble and persecution ariseth for the words sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And those be they that receyue seede among thornes: and they are suche as heare the worde, 19 And the cares of this worlde, and the deceitfulnesse of richesse, and the lustes of other thynges entring in, choke the worde, and it is made vnfruitful.

20 And they whiche receiued seede into good ground, are such as heare the worde, and receiue it, so that one corne doeth bring forth thirtie, some sixtie, some an hundred.

21 And he sayde vnto them, Is the candle lyghted to be put vnder a bushel, or vnder the table? & not to be put on a candlestycke? *Math.5.d. Luke.8.c. and.11.c.

22 *For there is nothyng so priuie that shal not be openedneither hath it ben so secret, but that it shal come abrode. *D Math.10.c. Luke.8.a.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare. and.12.a.

24 And he sayde vnto them, Take heede what ye heare: *With what measure ye meate, with the same shal it be measured to you agayne: And vnto you that heare, shal more be geuen. *Math.7.a. Luke.6.f.

25 *For vnto him that hath, shal it be geuen: and from him that hath not, shalbe taken away euen that whiche he hath. *Math.13.b. and.25.c. Luke.8.c. and.19.a. Mark.4.a

26 And he sayde, So is the kyngdome of God, euen as *if a man shoulde sowe seede in the grounde, 27 And shoulde sleepe, and ryse night and day, and the seede should spring and growe vp, he knoweth not howe.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the ful corne in the eare. *E

29 But when the fruite is brought forth, among mone be thrusteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 And he sayde, Wherevnto shal we liken the kingdome of God? Or with what comparison shal we compare it?

31 * It is lyke a grayne of mustarde seede: which when it is sowen in the earth, is lesse then all seedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of the ayre may make their nestes vnder the shadowe of it.

33 And with many such parables preached he the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without parable spake he not vnto them, but when they were alone, he expounded all thinges to his disciples.

35 And the same day when the euen was comme, he sayth vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other (syde.)

36 And they leaft the people, and toke him, euen as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other little shippes.

37 * And there arose a great storme of wind, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was nowe ful.

38 And he was in the sterne a sleepe on a pyllow: and they awake him, and say vnto him, Maister, carest thou not ywe perishe?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wynde, and sayde vnto the sea, Peace, and be styl: and the wynde ceassed, and there folowed a great calme.

40 And he sayde vnto them, Why are ye fearefull? howe is it that ye haue no fayth?

41 And they feared exceedyngly, and sayde one to another, Who is this? that both the wynde and the sea obey him.

The. v. Chapter.

8. Christe deliuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirite, 25. the woman from the bloodsy issue.

A ND they came ouer to the other (side) of the sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was comme out of the ship, immediatly there met hym from among the tombes, a man (possessed) of an vncleane spirite,

3 Whiche had his abiding among the tombes, and no man could bynde hym, no not with chaynes:

4 Because that he had benne often bounde with fetters and chaynes, and the chaynes had ben plucked a sunder by him, and the fetters broken in peces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes, nyght and day, he was in the mountaynes, and in the tombes, cryeng, & al to cutting him selfe with stones.

6 But when he had spyed Jesus a farre of, he ranne, and worshipped him:

7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, What haue I to doo with thee, Jesus, thou sonne of the most hyghest God? I require thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For he sayde vnto hym, Comme out of the man, thou foule spirite.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answeared, sayeng, My name is legion: for we are many.

10 And he prayed hym instantlye that he would not sende them away out of the countrey.

11 But there was there nygh vnto the mountaynes, a great hearde of swyne, feedyng.

12 And al the deuyls besought him, sayeng, Sende vs into the swyne, that we may enter into them.

13 And anone, Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirites went out, and entred into the swyne, and the heard ranne headlong into the sea, (they were about two thousande,) and were choked in the sea.

14 And the swyneheardes fledde, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:

15 And they comme to Jesus, and see hym that was vexed with the feende, & had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afrayde.

16 And they that sawe (it,) tolde them howe it came to passe to him that was possessed with the deuil, and also of the swyne.

17 * And they beganne to pray him to depart out of their coastes.

18 * And when he was comme into the ship, he that had benne possessed with the deuil, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howebeit, Jesus suffered him not, but sayth vnto him, Goe home to thy freendes, and shewe them howe great thinges the Lorde hath donne for thee, and had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publishe in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had done for him: and al men did maruayle.

21 And when Jesus was come ouer agayne by shippe vnto the other (syde,) much people geathered vnto him, and he was nygh vnto the sea.

22 * And behold, there commeth one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jarius by name: and when he sawe him, he fel downe at his feete,

23 And besought him greatly, sayeng, My young daughter lyeth at point of death,

(I pray thee) comme and lay thy handes on her, that she may be safe, and she shal liue.
24 And (Iesus) went with him, and muche people folowed him, and thronged him.
Matth.9.c. Luke.8.f. 25 And there was a certayne woman, which had ben diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffered many thinges, of many Phisitions, and had spent al that she had, & felt none amendement at all, but rather the worse.
27 When she had hearde of Iesus, she came in the presse behinde him, and touched his garment.
28 For she sayde, If I may but touche his clothes, I shalbe whole.
29 And straightway the fountayne of her blood was dryed vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.
30 And Iesus immediatly knowing in him selfe that vertue proceded from him, turned him about in the presse, and saide, Who touched my clothes?
31 And his Disciples saide vnto him, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who dyd touche me?
32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had donne this thing.
33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowyng what was donne within her, came and fell downe before him, and tolde him al the truth.

40 And they laught him to scorne: but he, after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damsel, and them that were with him, and entreth in where the Damsel lay.
41 And when he had taken the Damsel by the handes, he sayth vnto her, Talitha cumi, whiche is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say vnto thee) arise.
42 And straightway the Damsel arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: & they were astonied out of measure.
43 And he charged them straightly that no man shoulde knowe of it: and commanded to geue her meate.

The. vi. Chapeter.

Of Christes doinges and estimation in his owne countrey.

1 AND he *departed thence, and came A into his owne countrey, and his Disciples folowe him. Mat.13.g. Luke.4.c.
2 And when the Sabboth day was come, he began to teache in the synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonyed, sayeng, From whence hath he these thinges? And what wysedome is this that is geuen vnto him, and suche mighty workes that are wrought by his handes?
3 *Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, Mat.13.g. the brother of Iames and Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon? And are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.
4 Iesus saide vnto them, *A prophete is not Mark.13.d. without honour, but in his owne countrey, Luke.4.b. and among his owne kinne, & in his owne Iohn.5.f. house.
5 And he could there doo no mighty worke but layd his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed (them.)
6 And he marueyled because of their vnbeliefe. *And he went about by the villages Mark.6.b. that lay on every syde, teaching.
7 *And he calleth the twelue, and beganne B to sende them forth, two & two, and gaue Mat.10.d. them power agaynst vncleane spirites.
8 And commaunded them that they shoulde take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe (a) onelye: no scrippe, no bread, no money in their purse:
9 But shoulde be shoed with sandales: and that they should not put on two coates.
10 And he sayde vnto them, Wheresoeuer ye enter into an house, there abyde tyl ye departe thence.
11 *And whosoeuer shal not receyue you, nor Mark.10.b heare you, when ye depart thence, shake of Luke.9.d the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: *I say verily vnto you, Mat.11.d. it shalbe easyer for the Sodomites and the Luke.10.b Gomorreans in ỹ day of iudgement, then for that citie.
12 *And they went out, and preached, that Mat.10.d. men should repent.
13 And they cast out many deuils, and annoynted many that were sicke with oyle, and healed them.
14 And king Herode heard (of him,) (for his Mat.14.d name was spreade abroade:) and he sayde Luke.9.d. that

(a) They may take a staffe for their ease, and not to defende them selues, as in mat.x.

that Iohn Baptist was risen from ꝧ dead, and therefore mighte woorkes doo shewe foorth them selues in him.

15 Other saide, That it is Elias. Some saide, That it is a prophete, or as one of the prophetes.

16 But when Herode had heard of hym, he saide, It is Iohn, whom I beheaded, he is risen from death.

17 For Herode him selfe had sent foorth * ꝧ layd handes vpon Iohn, and bound hym in prison for Herodias sake, his brothers Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn saide vnto Herode, *It is not lawful for thee to haue thy brothers wyfe.

19 Therefore Herodias laid waite for hym, ꝧ would haue killed him, but she coulde not.

20 For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, ꝧ an holy, and gaue hym reuerence: and when he hearde him, he dyd many thinges, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a conuenient daye was come, that Herode on his * byrth day made a supper to the lordes, high captaines, and cheefe estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and daunced, ꝧ pleased Herode, and them that sate at boorde also, the king saide vnto the Damsel, Aske of me whatsoeuer thou wylt, ꝧ I will geue it thee.

23 And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou haste aske of me, I wyll geue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.

24 And she went foorth, and saide vnto her mother, What shal I aske? She said, Iohn Baptistes head.

25 And she came in straightway with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I wyl that thou geue me by and by in a charger, the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding sory, (howe be it) for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he would not cast her of.

27 And immediately the king sent the hangman, ꝧ commaunded his head to be brought in, and he went and beheaded hym in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the Damsel, and the damsel gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples hearde (of it) they came and tooke vp his body, and layde it in a tombe.

30 And the apostles gather them selues together vnto Iesus, and tolde hym al thinges, both what they had donne, and what they had taught.

31 And he saide vnto them, *Come ye alone out of the way into the wildernesse, and rest a whyle. For there were many comming and goyng, and they had no leysure so much as to eate.

32 *And they departed by shippe out of the way into a desart place.

33 And the people spyed them when they departed, and many knewe hym: and ranne a foote thither out of all cities, and came thyther before them, and came together vnto hym.

34 And Iesus, when he came out, sawe much people, * and had compassion on them, because * they were like sheepe, not hauyng a shepherde: And he began to teache them many thinges.

35 *And when ꝧ day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desart place, ꝧ now the time is farre passed:

36 Let them depart, that they may goe into the countrey rounde about, and into the villages, ꝧ buye them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

37 He answered, and said vnto them, Geue ye them to eate. And they say vnto hym, (shal we) goe and buye two hundred penye worth of bread, and geue them to eate?

38 He sayth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue ye? goe and looke. And when they had searched, they say, Fiue, and two fishes.

39 And he commaunded them to make them al sit downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, (by) hundredes, ꝧ (by) fiftes.

41 And when he had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and loked vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes diuided he among them al.

42 And they al dyd eate, and were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragmentes, and of the fishes.

44 And they that dyd eate the loaues, were about fiue thousande men.

45 And straightway he constrayned his disciples to get into the shyp, and to goe ouer the sea before vnto Bethsaida, whyle he shoulde sende away the people.

46 *And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.

47 And when euen was come, the shyp was in the middest of the sea, and he alone on the lande.

48 And he sawe them troubled in rowing, (for the wynde was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watche of the nyght, he commeth vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 But when they sawe hym walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had beene a spirite,

The.vii. Chapter.

1. The Pharisees finde fault at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashen handes.
32. The healyng of the deafe and dumbe.

A Nd the Pharisees came together vn-Matth.15.a to him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem.
2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashen handes) they found fault.
3 For the Pharisees, & all the Iewes, except they washe their handes oft, eate not, obseruyng the tradition of the elders.
4 And (when they) come from the market, except they washe, they eate not. And many other thinges there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, (as) the washyng of cuppes and pottes, brasen vessels, and of tables.
5 Then asked him the Pharisees and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples accor-dyng to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen handes?
6 He answered and said vnto them, Surely Esai.29.b. Esaias hath prophesied wel of you hypo-
Matth.15.a crites, as it is written. This people ho-B noureth me with their lippes, but their hart is farre from me.
7 Howbeit, in vaine doo they worshyp me, teachyng doctrines, the commaundementes of men.
8 For the commaundement of God beyng laid apart, ye obserue the tradition of men, as the washyng of pottes and cuppes: and many other such like thinges ye doo.
9 And he sayde vnto them, Full well ye cast
C aside the commaundement of God, that ye may keepe your owne tradition.
10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and Exod.21.b thy mother: and who so curseth father or Deut.5.b mother, let hym dye the death. Ephel.6.a 11 But ye say, if a man shal say to his father Exod.20.b or his mother, Corban (that is, by the gift) Leuit.20.b that (is offred) of me, thou shalt be holpen. Prou.20.c 12 And so ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the worde of God of none effect through your tradition, whiche ye haue or-deyned: And many such thinges doo ye.
14 And when he had called all the people vnto him, he said vnto them, Heare hym vnto me every one of you, and vnderstande.
15 There is nothyng without a man that can defile hym, when it entreth into hym: Matth.15.b but the thinges which procede out of a man, those are they that defile the man.
16 If any man haue eares to heare, let hym
heare.
17 And when he came into the house, away from the people, his disciples asked hym of the similitude.
18 And he saith vnto the, Are ye also so without vnderstandyng? Doo ye not perceyue that what so euer thyng from without entreth into the man, it can not defile hym, 19 Because it entreth not into his hart, but into the belly, & goeth out into the draught, purgyng al the meates.
20 And he sayd, That which commeth out of the man, defileth the man.
21 For from within, euen out of the hart of D men, procede euyll thoughtes, adulteries, fornications, murthers,
22 Theftes, couetousnesse, wickednesse, deceit, wantonnesse, a wicked eye, blasphemie, pride, foolishnesse:
23 All these euyll thinges come from within,
and defile the man.
24 And from thence he rose, and went into Matth.15.c
the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, & would that no man shoulde haue knowen, but he could not be hyd.
25 For a certayne woman, whose young daughter had an vncleane spirite, when she had heard of hym, came and fel at his feete.
26 (The woman was a Greeke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa:) and she besought him, that he would cast out the deuyl from his daughter.
27 But Iesus sayde vnto her, Let the chyldren first be fedde: for it is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the little lyttle dogges.

28 She answered, and sayd vnto him, Yes Lorde; for the lyttle dogges also eate vnder the table of the childrens crumbes.

29 And he sayde vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuyl is gonne out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she founde that the deuyl was departed, and her daughter lying on the bedde.

31 And when he was departed agayne from the coastes of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the sea of Galilee, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

32 And they bring vnto him one that was deafe, & had an impediment in his speache: and they pray him to put his handes vpon him.

33 And when he had taken him aside from the people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had spyt, touched his tongue.

34 And when he had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and sayde vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake playne.

36 And he commaunded them that they shoulde tell no man: but the more he commaunded them, so much the more a great deale they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, He hath done all thynges well: he hath made both the deafe to heare, & the dumbe to speake.

The. viii. Chapeter.

2. The miracle of the seuen loaues. 34. Howe we shoulde followe Christe.

IN those dayes, the companie being very great, and hauing nothing to eate, when Iesus had called his disciples vnto him, he sayth vnto them,

2 I haue compassion on the people, because they haue nowe ben with me three dayes, and haue nothyng to eate:

3 And if I send them away fastyng to their owne houses, they shal faynt by the way: for diuers of them come from farre.

4 And his disciples answeared him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with breade here in the wyldernesse?

5 And he asked them, Howe many loaues haue ye? They sayde, Seuen.

6 And he commaunded the people to syt downe on the grounde: and he tooke the seuen loaues, and when he had geuen thankes, he brake, and gaue to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a fewe smal fyshes; & when he had blessed, he commaunded to set them also before them.

8 So they dyd eate, and were satisfied: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.

9 And they that had eaten, were about foure thousande: And he sent them away.

10 And anone, when he had entred into a shyp with his disciples, he came into the partes of Dalmanutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, tempting him. Mat.16.a. Luke.11.b. Iohn.6.b.

12 And when he had sighed deepely in his spirite, he sayth, Why doo this generation seeke a signe? Verily I say vnto you, There shal no (a) signe be geuen vnto this generation. (a) It is in the Greke texte, yf a signe, whiche the Hebrues vse as a vehement negation.

13 And when he had left them, and entred into the shyp agayne, he departed ouer the water.

14 And they had forgotten to take bread (with them,) neyther had they in the shyp with them more then one loafe.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heede, beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herode. Mat.16.b. Luke.12.a.

16 And they reasoned among themselues, saying, We haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knewe (it,) he sayth vnto them, Why reason ye, because ye haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neyther vnderstande? Haue ye your hart yet hardned?

18 Hauing eyes, see ye not? and hauing eares, heare ye not? Doo ye not remember?

19 When I brake the fyue loaues among fyue thousande, (saye,) howe many baskets ful of broken meate tooke ye vp? They say vnto him, Twelue. Mat.14.c.

20 When I brake the seuen among foure thousande, howe many baskets of the leauynges of the broken meate tooke ye vp? They sayde, Seuen. Mat.15.b.

21 And he sayd vnto them, Howe happeneth it that ye doo not vnderstande? D

22 And he commeth to Bethsaida, and they bring a blynde man vnto hym, and desyred him to touche him.

23 And when he had caught the blynde by the hande, he led him out of the towne, and when he had spyt in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, he asked him if he sawe ought.

24 And he looked vp, & sayd, I see men: for I perceiue the walke as (they were) trees.

25 After that he put his handes agayne vpon his eyes, and made him see: and he was restored, and sawe euery man clearely.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the village, nor tel it to any other village.

Mat.16.c. and.20.c. Luke.9.c. 29 And he sayd vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answereth, and saith vnto him, * Thou art very Christe.

30 And he charged them that they shoulde tell no man.

31 And he begaune to teache them that the sonne of man must suffer many thynges, and be reproued of the elders, and of the hygh prieste and scribes, and be kylled, and after three dayes ryse agayne.

32 And he spake that saying openly, & Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about, & looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Goe after me Satan: for thou sauerest not the thynges that (be) of God, but the thynges that be of men.

F Mat.16.d. Luke.9.c. and.14.f 34 * And when he had called the people vnto him, with his disciples also, he sayde vnto them, Who so euer wyl come after me, let him forsake himself, and take vp his crosse, and folowe me.

35 For who so euer wyl saue his lyfe, shal lose it, but who so euer shal lose his lyfe for my sake & the Gospels, the same shal saue it.

36 For what shal it profite a man, yf he shal winne all the world, & lose his owne soule?

37 Or what shal a man geue, for a ransome of his soule?

Mat.10.c. Luke.12.b. 38 * Who so euer therefore shalbe ashamed of me, and of my wordes, in this aduouterous and synful generation, of him also shal the sonne of man be ashamed, when he commeth in the glorie of his father, with the holy angelles.

The.ix.Chapter.

2. The transfyguration of Christ. 49. Of forbyddyng with sak.

G 1 AND he sayde vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, * that there be some of them that standde here, whiche shal in no wyse taste of death, tyl they haue seene the kyngdome of God come with power.

Mat.17.a. Luke.9.c. 2 And after syx dayes, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them vp into an hygh mountayne out of the way alone: and he was transfygured before them.

3 And his rayment dyd synne, (and became) very whyte, euen as snow: so as no Fuller vpon the earth can whyte them.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talkyng with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered, and saith to Jesus, Maister, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wyst not what he shoulde say: for they were sore afrayde.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them: & a voyce came out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued sonne: heare him. B

8 And sodainely when they had loked round about, they sawe no man, more then Jesus onely with them selues. Mat.17.b. and.17.b. Luke.9.c.

9 And as they came downe from the hyl, he charged them that they shoulde tel no man those thynges that they had seene, tyl the sonne of man were ryssen from the dead. Mar.1.b. Elai.42.c Mat.17.b Mar.13.

10 And they kepte that saying with them, and demaunded one of another, what the ryssyng from the dead shoulde meane.

11 And they asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must fyrst come?

12 He answered, & sayde vnto them, Elias verely when he commeth fyrst, restoreth al thynges: and the sonne of man, as it is written of him, shal suffer many thynges, and be set at nought. Psal.4 Elai.53.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, and they haue donne vnto him what so euer they wolde, as it is wrytten of him.

C 14 And when he came to his disciples, he sawe muche people about them, and the scribes disputyng with them.

15 And straightway al the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amased, and runnyng to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What dispute ye * among your selues? * Gre. reas. them.

17 * And one of the company answered, & sayde, Maister, I haue brought vnto thee my sonne, whiche hath a dumbe spirite: Mat.17.c

18 And where so euer he taketh him, he teareth him, and (he) foometh, and gnasheth with his teethe, and pyneth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they shoulde cast him out, and they coulde not. Luke.9.c

19 He answereth him, and sayth, O faythlesse nation, howe long shal I be with you, howe long shal I suffer you? Bryng him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he sawe him, straightway the spirite tare him, and when he fel downe on the grounde, he walloued, fomyng.

21 And he asked his father, Howe long is it ages since this came vnto him? And D he he said, Of a childe.

Mat.17.b. 22 * And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst doo any thing, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs.

Mat.17.b 23 Jesus said vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleeue, *all thinges are possible to him that beleeueth.

24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cryed with teares, he said, Lord, I beleeue, helpe thou myne vnbeleefe.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came runnyng togeather, he rebuked the foule spirite, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And (the spirite) when he had cryed, and rent him sore, came out of him, and he was as one that had beene dead, insomuche that many said, he is dead.

27 But Jesus, when he had caught hym by the hand, lyfted him vp: and he arose.

Mat.17.b 28 And when he was come into the house, * his disciples asked him secretely, Why could not we cast him out?

Mat.17.b. Luc.9.b. 29 * And he sayde vnto them, This kynde * can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30 And after they departed thence, they toke their iourney through Galilee, & he wouldo not that any man should knowe (it.)

Mat.16.c Luc.9.c. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, * The sonne of man is deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kyll hym, and after that he is kylled, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they vnderstood not that saying, and were afrayde to aske him.

33 And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the way?

34 And they held their peace: For by the way they had reasoned among them selues, who (should be) the cheefest.

F 35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and saith vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto al.

21. Christe rideth to Hierusalem. 17. the Pharisees aske Christ of his auctoritie.

AND when they came nigh to Hieru-salem, vnto Bethphage and Bethanie, at the mount of Olines, he sendeth foorth two of his disciples, 2 And sayth vnto them, Goe your way into the towne that is ouer against you, and as soone as ye be entred into it, ye shal fynde a Colte tied, whereon neuer man sate, loose him, and bring him hither.
3 And yf any man say vnto you, Why doo ye so? Say ye that the Lorde hath neede of him: and straightway he wyl sende him hyther.
4 And they went their way, and founde the Colte tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they loose him.
5 And diuers of them that stoode there, said
vnto them, What doo ye loosyng the Colte?
6 And they sayde vnto them euen as Iesus had commaunded: and they let them go.
7 And they brought the Colte to Iesus, and caste their garmentes on him, and he sate vpon him.
8 And many spread their garmentes in the way: other cut downe branches of the trees, and strawed them in the way.
9 And they that went before, and they that folowed, cried, saying, Hosanna, * blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lorde.
10 Blessed be the kingdome that commeth in the name of him that is Lorde of our father

11 And Iesus entred into Hierusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked the euentyde was come, he went out vnto

Bethanie with the twelue.
12 * And on the morowe, when they were come out from Bethanie, he hungred.

myght fynde any thyng thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothyng but leaues:
for the tyme of figges was not yet.
14 And Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde doues,

16 And would not suffer that anye man should carrie any stuffe through the temple.
17 And he taught, saying vnto them, * Is it not written, My house shalbe called the house of prayer vnto al nations? But ye haue made it a deane of theues.
18 And the scribes and high priestes heard (it,) and sought howe they myght destroy him: * for they feared him, because al the people was astonied at his doctrine.
19 And when euen was come, Iesus went out of the citie.
20 * And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe the figge tree dried vp from the rootes.
21 And Peter hauing remembred, saith vnto him, Maister, behold, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered away.

Haue fayth in God.

29 Iesus answeared, and said vnto them, I wyl also aske of you one question: and answeare me, and I wyl tel you by what auctho\~ritie I doo these thyngs.

30 The baptisme of Iohn, whether was it from heauen, or of men? Answeare me.

31 And they reasoned with them selues, saying, Yf we shal say from heauen, he wyl say, Why then dyd ye not beleeue him?

(a) This is the thirde person in Greke. 32 But yf we shal say, Of men, (a) we feare the people: for al men counted Iohn that he was a very prophete.

33 And they answearing, say vnto Iesus, We can not tel. And Iesus answearyng, sayth vnto them, Neyther doo I tel you by what auctho\~ritie I doo these thynges.

The.xii. Chapter.

1. The Vineyarde is let out to husbandmen.
41. The poore wyddowes farthyng.

¶ 1 AND he began to speake vnto them by parables. A certayne man planted a Vineyarde, and he set an hedge about it, and digged a wyne presse, and buylt a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And when the tyme was come, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that he myght receiue of the husbandmen of the fruite of the Vineyarde.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away emptie.

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant: and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away al to reuiled.

5 And again he sent another, and him they killed: and many other, beating some, and killyng some.

6 And so when he had yet but one beloued sonne, he sent him also at the last vnto them, saying, They wil stand in awe of my sonne.

7 *But the husbandmen sayde amongest them selues, This is the heyre, come, let vs kyl him, and the inheritance shalbe ours. B Mat.21.b. Gene.37.d Luke.20.c

8 And they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the Vineyarde.

9 What shal therfore the Lord of the Vineyarde doo? He shal come and destroy the husbandmen, and wyl geue the Vineyarde vnto other.

10 Haue ye not read this Scripture? The stone which the builders disalowed, is become the cheefe stone of the corner: Mat.21.b. 1.Pet.2.a. Acts.4.a.

11 This was the Lordes dooyng, and it is marueylous in our eyes?

12 They went about also to take him, and feared the people: for they knewe that he had spoken the parable agaynst them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 And they sent vnto him certayne of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his wordes. Mat.22.a Luke.20.b

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Maister, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou consyderest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in trueth: Is it lawful to geue tribute to Caesar, or not? C

15 Shal we geue, or shal we not geue? But he knowing their hypocrisie, sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penie, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: & he saith vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they sayde vnto him, Caesars.

17 And Iesus answearing, saide vnto them, Geue *to Caesar the thynges that (belong) to Caesar: and to God, the thynges which (parteyne) to God. And they marueyled at him. Rom.13.b 1.Pet.2.b Mat.17.a and.20.d

18 There come also vnto him the Sadducees, whiche say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying, Mat.22.a Acts.23.a Luke.20.a

19 Maister, Moses wrote vnto vs, yf any mans brother dye, & leaue his wyfe behinde him, and leaue no children: that his brother shoulde take his wyfe, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother. Deut.25.b

20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wyfe, & when he dyed, left no seede behinde him.

21 And the second tooke her, & died, neither left he any seede: and the thirde lykewyse. D

22 And seuen had her, and left no seede behinde them: last of al the wyfe died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore when they shal ryse, whose wyfe shal she be of them? for for seuen had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answearing, saide vnto them, Do ye not therefore erre, because ye knowe not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shal rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are geuen in mariage: but are as the angels which (are) in heauen.

26 As touching the dead that they rise: haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, howe in the bushe God spake vnto him, saying, *I (am) the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore do greatly erre.

28 *And when there came one of the scribes, and had heard them disputing together, and perceiued that he had answered them wel, he asked him which is the fyrst commaundement of al.

29 Jesus answered him, The first of al the commaundementes (is,) Heare, O Israel, *the Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God with al thy hart, and with al thy soule, and with al thy minde, & with al thy strength. This (is) the first commaundement:

31 And the second is like vnto (this,) *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thee selfe: there is none other commeandement greater then these.

32 And the scribe said vnto him, Well master, thou hast saide the truth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with al the hart, & with al the vnderstanding, and with al the soule, and with all the strength, & to loue a (mans) neighbour as him selfe, is greater then all the burnt offeringes and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus sawe that he answered discretely, he said vnto him, Thou art not farre frō the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 And Jesus answearing, said, teaching in the temple, Howe say the scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

36 For Dauid him selfe inspired with the holy ghost, sayde, *The Lorde sayde to my Lorde, Syt on my right hande, tyl I make thine enimies thy footestoole.

37 Dauid him selfe calleth him Lorde: and whence is he then his sonne? And muche people heard him gladly.

38 And (he) said vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which* desyre to walke in long clothing, and (loue) salutations in the market places, 39 And the chiefe seates in the synagogues, and the vppermost roomes at feastes.

40 Which deuoure widowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers: These shal receiue greater damnation.

41 And when Jesus sate ouer against the treasurie, he behelde howe the people put money into the treasurie: and many that were riche, cast in muche. Luke. 21. a.

42 And there came a certaine poore widowe, and she threwe in two mites, which make a farthyng.

43 And when he had called vnto him his disciples, he sayth vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath cast more in, then al they which haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For al they did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her want, did cast in al that she had (euen) al her liuing.

21 * The sonne of man truely goeth as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: Good were it for y man if he had neuer ben borne.

22 And as they did eate, Jesus when he had taken bread, and blessed, he brake (it) and gaue to them, and sayde, Take, eate: this is my body.

23 And when he had taken the cup, and geuen thankes, he gaue it to them: and they al dranke of it.

25 Verely I say vnto you, I wyll drinke no more of y fruite of the vine, vntyl that day that I drinke it newe in y kingdome of god.

26 And when they had prayed (God,) they went out into the mount of Olines.

27 * And Jesus sayth vnto them, Al ye shal be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I wyll smyte the shepheard, and the sheepe shal be scattered.

28 But after that I am ryse, I wyl goe into Galilee before you.

29 Peter sayde vnto him, Although all men shalbe offended, yet (wyl) not I.

30 And Jesus sayth vnto him, Verely I say vnto ther, that this day, euen in this night, before the Cocke crowe twyse, thou shalt deny me three times.

39 * And agayne he went ayde, and prayed, and spake the same woordes. Mat. 26. D.

40 And when he returned, he founde them a sleepe agayne (for their eyes were heauy) neyther wist they what to answeare him.

42 Ryse vp, let vs goe: Loe, he that betrayeth me is at hande.

43 * And immediatly whyle he yet spake, commeth Judas, being one of the twelue, and with him a great number of people with swoordes and staues, from the high priestes, and scribes, and elders. Mat. 26. E. Luke. 22. E.

The.xv. Chapter.

1. Iesus is deliuered bounde to Pilate. 43. Ioseph beggeth Christes body, and buryeth it.

1 AND anone in the bawmyng, when the high priestes had helde a counsell with the elders, and the scribes, & the whole congregation, and had bounde Iesus, they caryed him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.
A The Gospel on the Tuesday next before Easter. Mat.27.a. Luke.23.a. Iohn.18.c.
2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Iewes? And he answearing, sayde vnto him, Thou sayest it.
3 And the high priestes accused him of many thinges, but he answeared nothing.
4 So Pilate asked him agayne, sayeing, Answearest thou nothing? beholde howe many thinges they witnesse against thee.
Mat.27.b. Luke.23.b.
5 Iesus yet answeared nothing at al, so that Pilate marueyled.
6 At that feast Pilate vsed deliuer vnto them one prisoner, who soeuer they desired.
7 And there was one that was named Barabbas, whiche lay bounde with them that made insurrection with him, whiche (meane) had committed murder also in the insurrection.
B
8 And the people crying aloude, beganne to desyre (that he would doo) according as he had euer donne vnto them.
9 Pilate answeared them, sayeing, Wyl ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?
10 (For he knewe that the high priestes had deliuered him for enuie.)
11 But the hygh priestes mooued the people, that he shoulde rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.
12 Pilate answearing agayne, sayde vnto thē, *What wyl ye then that I shal do vnto him whom ye cal the king of the Iewes?
Mat.27.c. Luke.23.c.
14 Pilate saide vnto them, What euyl hath he he wone? And they cried the more fervently, Crucifie him.

15 And so Pilate willing to content the people, let loose Barabbas vnto them, and delivered vp Iesus, when he had scourged him, for to be crucified.

16 And the souldiers ledde hym away into the hall, called Prætorium, and they call together the whole bande.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and whē they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it about his (head,)

18 And began to salute him, (saying,) Hayle kyng of the Iewes.

19 And they smote hym on the head with a reede, and dyd spit vpon him, and bowyng their knees, worshypped him.

20 And when they had mocked hym, they tooke of the purple from hym, and put his owne clothes on hym, and led hym out to crucifie hym.

21 And they compel one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (comming out of the feelde, the father of Alexander & Ruphus) to beare his crosse.

22 And they bryng him to a place named Golgotha, whiche is, yf a man interprete it, a place of a skul.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine, myngled with myrrhe, but he receiued it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garmentes, castyng lottes vpon them, what euery man shoulde take.

25 And it was the thirde houre, and they crucified hym.

26 And the title of his accusation was wrytten ouer, The kyng of the Iewes.

27 And they crucifie with him two theeues, the one on the right hande, and the other on his left.

28 And the scripture was fulfylled whiche saith, He was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, rayled on hym, wagging their heades, & saying, A wretch, (thou) that destroyest the temple, & buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thee selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also the high priestes mocking hym among them selues, with the scribes, said, He saued other men, him selfe he can not saue.

32 Let Christe the kyng of Israel descende nowe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleeue: And they that were crucified with him, checked hym also.

33 And when the sixth houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer al the earth, vntyl the ninth houre.

34 And at the ninth houre Iesus cried with a loude voyce, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lamasabachthani? which is, if one interprete it, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stoode by, when they hearde that, sayde, Beholde, he calleth for Elias.

36 And one ran, and after he had fylled a spunge ful of vinegar, and put it on a reede, he gaue him to drinke, saying, Let hym alone, let vs see whether Elias commeth to take hym downe.

37 But when Iesus had cried with a loude voyce, he gaue vp the ghost.

38 And the vayle of the temple was rent into two peeces, from the top to the bottome.

39 And when the Centurion, which stoode ouer against him, saw, that when he had so cried, he gaue vp the ghost, he sayd, Truely this man was the sonne of God.

40 There were also women a good way of beholding him, among whom was Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of James the litle, and of Ioses, & Salome:

41 Whiche also when he was in Galilee, folowed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women whiche came vp with hym vnto Hierusalem.

42 And nowe when the euen was come, (because it was the day of preparing, that goeth before the Sabboth,) 43 Ioseph (of the citie) of Arimathea, a noble counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and begged of him the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueyled yf he were already dead, and when he had called vnto hym the Centurion, asked of hym whether he had ben any whyle dead.

45 And when he knewe the trueth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph.

46 And when he had bought a linnen cloth, and taken him downe, he wrapped him in the linnen cloth, & laid him in a sepulchre, that was hewen out of the rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses beheld where he was layde.

¶ Here endeth the Gospel by saint Marke.

¶ The Gospel by saint Luke.

The first Chapter.

1. The preface of Luke. 5. Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40. Marie visiteth Elizabeth.

A 1 FOrasmuch as many haue taken in hande to set forth in order the declaration of those thynges which are most surely * beleeued among vs,

* or, proued.

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs whiche from the beginning sawe them them selues with their eyes, and were ministers of the (a) worde:

(a That is, they were doers in such thinges as be set foorth in the Gospel.

3 It seemed good to me also, hauing perfect vnderstanding of all thinges from the begynnyng, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest knowe the certaintie of those thinges wherein thou hast ben taught by mouth.

5 THere was in the dayes of Herode the kyng of Iurie, a certaine priest named Zacharias, *of the course of Abia, and his wife (was) of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. 2. Pa. 24.a

6 They were both righteous before God, walking in al the commaundements and ordinances of the Lorde, blameles.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe wel stricken in age. B

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharie executed the priestes office before God, as his course came,

9 Accordyng to the custome of the priestes office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lorde. Exod. 30.b Hebr. 9.b

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

11 And there appeared vnto hym an angel of the Lorde, standyng on the ryght side of the aulter of the incense.

12 And when Zacharias sawe hym, he was troubled, troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the angel sayde vnto him, Feare not Zacharie, for thy prayer is hearde, and thy wife Elizabeth shal beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt cal his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shal reioyce at his birth:

15 And he shalbe great in the syght of the Lorde, and shal neyther drinke wyne nor strong drinke, and he shalbe fylled with the holy ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 For many of the children of Israel, shall he turne to their Lorde God.

17 And he shall goe before him with the spirite & power of *Elias, to turne the hartes of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wysedome of the iust men, to make redy a perfect people for the Lorde.

18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the Angel, By what token shal I knowe this? For I am olde, and my wyfe well stricken in yeres.

19 And the angel answearing, sayde vnto hym, I am Gabriel that stande in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these glad tidinges.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntyl the day that these thinges shalbe performed, because thou beleuedst not my woordes, whiche shalbe fulfylled in their season.

21 And the people wayted for Zacharias, and marueyled that he taryed so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he coulde not speake vnto them: And they perceyued that he had seene a vision in the temple: For he beckned vnto them, & remained (speachlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that assoone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wyfe Elizabeth conceyued, and hydde her selfe fyue monethes, sayeing, 25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with me in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke (b) among men.

26 And in the sixth moneth, the angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And when the angel was comme in vnto her, he sayde, Hayle (thou that art) in high fauour, the Lorde is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his sayeing, and cast in her minde what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel sayde vnto her, Feare not Marie, for thou hast found fauour with god.

31 For beholde, *thou shalt conceyue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and *shalt call his name Iesus.

32 He shalbe great, and shalbe called ỹ sonne of the highest, and the Lorde God shal geue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid.

33 And *he shal raigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome ther shalbe none ende.

34 Then sayde Marie vnto the Angel, How shal this be, seeing I knowe not a man?

35 And the angel answearing, sayd vnto her, The holy ghost shall come vpon thee, & the power of the highest shall ouershadowe (c) thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shalbe borne, shalbe called the sonne of god.

36 And beholde, thy cosyn Elizabeth, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age, and this is her sixth moneth, whiche was called barren.

37 For with god shal no woord be vnpossible.

38 And Marie sayde, Beholde the handmayden of the Lorde, be it vnto me accordyng to thy woorde: and the angel departed from her.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hyll countrey with hast, into a citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth hearde the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was fylled with the holy ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loude voyce, and sayde, Blessed art thou among women, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For loe, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in myne eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued, for those thynges shalbe performed whiche were tolde her from the Lorde.

46 *And Marie sayde, My soule magnifyeth the Lorde,

47 And my spirite hath reioyced in God my sauiour.

48 For he hath looked on the lowlynesse of his handmayden, for loe, nowe from henceforth shal al generations cal me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath donne to me great thinges, and holy is his name.

50 And his mercie is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arme, he hath scattered them that are proude, in the imagination of their hartes.

9 When Iesus heard these thinges, he marueyled at him, and turned him about, and sayd vnto the people that folowed him, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth, no, not in Israel.

3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,

5 And when he hath founde it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycyng:

The Gospel on the. ix. sunday after Trinitie.

1 AND he sayde also vnto his disciples, There was a certaine rich man which had a Stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goodes.
2 And when he had called him, he sayde vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Geue accomptes of thy stewardshyp: for thou mayest be no longer Stewarde.
3 The Stewarde sayde within him selfe, What shal I doo, for my maister taketh away from me the stewardshyp? I can not dygge, and to begge I am ashamed.
4 I wote what to doo, that when I am put out of the stewardshyp, they may receiue me into their houses.
5 So whē he had called al his maisters detters togeather, he sayd vnto the fyrst, Howe muche owest thou vnto my maister?
6 And he said, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayd vnto him, Take thy byl, and syt downe quickly, and wryte fyftie.

14 Al these thinges heard the Pharisees also which were couetous: and they mocked him greatly.

18 * Whosoeuer forsaketh his wife, & marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her that is diuorced from her husband, committeth adultery (also.)

19 There was a certayne riche man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and fared very deliciously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layde at his gate full of sores:

22 And it came to passe that the begger dyed, and was carryed by the angels into (c) Abrahams bosome: The riche man also dyed, and was buryed.

23 And beyng in hell in tormentes, when he had lyfted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre of, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercy on me, and sende Lazarus that he may dippe the tippe of his fynger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayde, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life tyme receyuedst thy pleasure, and likewise Lazarus paynes, but nowe is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which woulde goe from hence to you, can not, neither haue they passage to vs that would come from thence.

27 Then he sayde, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send hym to my fathers house:

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he maye witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayth vnto hym, They haue Moses and the prophetes, let them heare them.

30 And he sayde, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they wyl repent.

31 He said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the prophetes, (f) neyther wyll they beleeue though one rose from death.

7 But which of you hauing a seruant plowing, or feeding cattell, wyl say vnto hym by and by when he were come from the field, Goe and syt downe at the table?

17. Christ the stone reproued. 41. Christ the sonne of Dauid.

1 And

20 AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the Gospel, the high priestes and the scribes came vppon him, with the elders, 2 And spake vnto him, saying, *Tel vs, by what auctoritie doest thou these thinges?
Eyther who is he that gaue thee this auc-toritie?
3 He answearing, said vnto them, I wyl also aske you one woorde, and answeare me.
4 The baptisme of (a) John, was it from heauen, or of men?
5 And they reasoned within them selues, saying, If we shal say from heauen, he wyl say, Why then beleeued ye hym not?
6 But and if we say of men, al the people wil stone vs: For they be perswaded that John is a prophete.
7 And they answeared, that they could not tel whence (it was.)
8 And Jesus sayde vnto them, Neyther tell
I you by what auctoritie I do these thyn-ges.
9 Then began he to put forth to the people this parable. A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went him selfe into a strange countrey for a great season.
10 And when the time was come, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they shoulde geue him of the fruite of the vineyard. But they, when they had beaten him, sent him away emptie.
11 And againe, (he) sent yet another seruant:
but they, when they had beaten hym also,
and entreated him shamefully, sent hym away emptie.
12 Againe, he sent the thirde, and when they had wounded hym also, they cast hym out.
13 Then sayde the Lorde of the vineyarde,
What shall I do? I wyll sende my deare sonne: it may be they wyll reuerence him when they see him.
14 But when the husbandmen sawe hym, they reasoned within them selues, saying,
This is the heyre, *come, let vs kil him, that the inheritance may be ours.
15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyarde, they killed hym. What then shall the Lorde of the vineyarde do vnto them?
16 He shal come and destroy these husban-men, and shal let out his vineyard to other.
When they heard (this,) they sayde, God forbid.
17 And he beheld them, and said, *What is this then that is written, The stone that (b) the builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner.
18 Whosoeuer shal stumble vpon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whomsoeuer it shall fal, it wil grinde him to powder.
19 And the high priestes and the scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on hym, and they feared the people: for they perceiued that he had spoken this similitude against them.
20 And they watched hym, and sent forth spies which should fayne them selues righteous men, that they might take hold of his woordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and auctoritie of the deputie.
21 And they asked him, saying, Maister, we knowe that thou sayest and teachest ryght, neyther considerest thou the outwarde appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:
22 Is it lawful for vs to geue tribute vnto
Caesar, or no?
23 When he had perceiued their craftinesse, he sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me?
24 Shewe me a peny: whose image and super scription hath it? They answering, sayd, Caesars.
25 And he sayd vnto them, Geue then vnto
Caesar the thinges whiche (belong) vnto Caesar: and to God the thynges that perteyne vnto God.
26 And they couldе not reproue his say-inges before the people: and they marueylled at his answeare, and held their peace.
27 Then *came to him certayne of the Saducees, * (whiche denye that there is any resurrection) and they asked hym, 28 Saying, Maister, Moses wrote vnto vs,
If any mans brother dye, hauyng a wyfe, and he dye without chyldren, that then his brother shoulde take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.
29 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first, when he had taken a wife, di-

30 And the seconde tooke her to wyfe, and he died childelesse.
31 And the thirde tooke her, and in likewyse
(the residue of) the seuen, and left no chyldren behinde them, and died.
32 Last of al, the woman died also.
33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wyfe.

24 And certayne of them whiche were with vs, went to the ſepulchre, and found it euen ſo as the women had ſayde, but him they ſawe not.
25 And he ſayde vnto them, O fooles, and ſlowe of hart, to beleeue al that the Prophetes haue ſpoken:
26 *Ought not Chriſte to haue ſuffered theſe thinges, and to enter into his glory?
28 And he beganne at Moſes, and al the prophetes, and throughly interpreted vnto them in all the ſcriptures, thoſe thinges which were written of him ſelfe, 28 And they dyue nigh vnto the village whiche they went vnto, and he made as though he would haue gonne further.
29 And they *constrayned him, ſayeing, Abyde with vs, for it draweth toward nyght, and the day is farre paſſed: And he went in to tary with them.
30 *And it came to paſſe, as he ſate at meate with them, he tooke bread, and (c) bleſſed it, and brake, and gaue to them.
31 And their eyes were opened, & they knewe him, and he vaniſhed out of their ſight.
32 And they ſayde one to another, Dyd not our hartes burne within vs, whyle he talked with vs by the way, and opened to vs the ſcriptures?
33 And they roſe vp the ſame houre, and returned (agayne) to Hieruſalem, and found the eleuen geathered togeather, and them that were with them, 34 Sayeing, The Lorde is ryſen in deede, and hath appeared to Simon.
35 And they tolde what thinges were donne in the way, and howe he was knowen of them in the breaking of the bread.
36 And as they thus ſpake, Ieſus him ſelfe ſtoode in the *middes of them, and ſayth vnto them, Peace be vnto you.
37 But they were abaſhed, and afrayde, and ſuppoſed that they had ſeene a ſpirite.
38 And he ſayd vnto them, Why are ye troubled, and why doe thoughtes ariſe in your hartes?
39 Beholde my handes and my feete, that it is euen I mee ſelfe, handle me and ſee, for a ſpirite hath not fleſhe and bones, as ye ſee me haue.
40 And when he had thus ſpoken, he ſhewed them his handes and his feete.
41 And whyle they yet beleeued not for ioy, and woondred, he ſayde vnto them, *Haue ye here any meate?
42 And they offered him a peece of a broyled fyſhe, and of an hony combe.
43 And he tooke it, & did eate before them.
44 And he ſayde vnto them, *Theſe are the woordes whiche I ſpake vnto you, whyle I was yet with you, that al muſt (needes) be fulfylled whiche were written of me in the lawe of Moſes, and in the Prophetes, and in the Pſalmes.
45 *Then opened he their *wittes, that they might vnderſtande the ſcriptures,

4 Jesus saith vnto her, Woman, what haue
I to doo with thee? myne houre is not yet

5 His mother sayth vnto the * ministers,
What so euer he saith vnto you, doo it.

7 Jesus sayth vnto them, Fil the water pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brym.
8 And he saith vnto them, Drawe out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feaste.
And they bare it.

and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem, that solde oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money.

scourge of smal cordes, he droue them all out of the temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:
16 And sayde vnto them that solde doues, Haue these thinges hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandise.
17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, * The zeale of thyne house hath evnto hym, What token shewest thou vnto

3. Christe teacheth Nicodemus. 16. The loue of God towarde the worlde.

A the Gospel on Trinitie sunday. John. 7.g.

1 THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:

2 The same came to Iesus by nyght, and saide vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these myracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Iesus answeared, and said vnto hym, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he can not see ỹ kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus saith vnto him, Howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter the seconde time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

John. 4.b. and. 7. d. Titus. 3.a. Rom. 8.a.

5 Iesus answeared, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirite, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that whiche is borne of the spirite, is spirite.

Eccle. 11.a.

8 The wynd bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sounde thereof, but canst not tel whence it commeth, and whyther it goeth: so is euery one that is borne of the spirite.

9 Nicodemus answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Howe can these thinges be?

10 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Art thou a maister of Israel, and knowest not these thinges?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, We speake that we do know, & testifie that we haue seene: and ye receyue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue told you earthly thinges, and ye beleeue not: howe shal ye beleeue if I tel you of heauenly thinges?

13 And no man hath ascended vp to (a) heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, (euen) the sonne of man which is in (b) heauen.

(a) No man by his owne wyt can know the misteries of Christes kingdome, but by Christ him selfe.

14 And as Moses lyft vp the serpent in the wyldernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lyft vp:

15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perishe, but haue eternal life.

16 For God so loued the world, that he gaue his only begotten sonne: that who so euer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

The Gospel on the annu day in whe inn weeke. (b) This is spoken for the vnitie of person, and that whiche is proper to one nature, is transferred to the other, as, Act. 20. and 28. and so Christe was in heauen, according to his diuine nature.

17 * For God sent not his sonne into the world to condemne the worlde: but that the (c) worlde through him might be saued.

Luk. 19.a.

18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the only begotten sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that lyght is come into the worlde, and men loued darkenesse rather then lyght: because their deedes were euyl.

(c) That is all sorts of people that beleeue, whether they be Iewes or Gentiles.

20 * For euery one that euyll dooth, hateth the lyght: neyther commeth to the lyght, lest his deedes shoulde be reproued.

John. 1.a. and. 12.f. Ephe. 5.b. John. 4.

22 After these thinges, came Iesus and his disciples into the lande of Iurie, and there he taryed with them, and (d) baptised.

23 And John also was baptising in Aenon, neare to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptised.

24 * For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 And there arose a question betweene Johns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto John, and sayd vnto hym, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyonde Iordane, to whom thou bearest witnesse, beholde, the same baptiseth, and all men come to hym.

27 John answeared, and sayde, A man can receyue nothyng, except it be geuen hym from heauen.

John. 1.b.

7 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to drawe water: Iesus sayth vnto her, Geue me drynke.

8 For his disciples were gonne away vnto the towne to buye meate.

9 Then sayth the woman of Samaria vnto him, Howe is it that thou, being a Iewe, askest drynke of me, whiche am a woman of Samaria: * For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto her, If thou knewest the gyft of God, and who it is that sayth to thee, Geue me drynke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he woulde haue * geuen thee water of lyfe.

11 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the wel is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of lyfe?

12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, whiche gaue vs the well, and he him selfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattel?

13 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto her, Who so euer drynketh of this water, shal thyrst agayne:

14 But who so euer drynketh of the water that I shall geue him, shall neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shal geue him, shalbe in him a wel of water spryngyng vp into euerlastyng lyfe. C

15 The woman saith vnto him, Syr, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neyther come hyther to drawe.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Goe, cal thy husbande, and come hyther.

17 The woman answeared, and sayde vnto him, I haue no husbande. Iesus sayd vnto her, Thou hast wel sayde, I haue no husbande.

18 For thou hast had fyue husbandes: and he whom thou nowe hast, is not thy husbande: In that saydest thou truely.

19 The woman sayth vnto him, * Syr, I perceyue that thou art a prophete. Luke.7.b.

21 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when ye shal neyther in this mountayne, nor yet at Hierusalem woorshyp the father. D

22 Ye woorshyp ye wote not what, we know what we woorshyp: * for saluation commeth of the Iewes. Exod.21.c

25 The woman saith vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, he wyl tel vs al thynges.

26 Iesus saith vnto her, * I that speake vnto thee, am (he.) Mat.26.f. Mar.14.g.

27 And immediatly came his disciples, and maruepled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man sayd, What seekest thou, or, why talkest thou with her? Luke.22.c. Iohn.9.b. and.10.c.

28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, and saith to the men, E

The.v. Chapter.

Christ healeth on the saboth day the man that was sicke thirtie and eyght yeres.

1 AFter this was there a feast day of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem. A

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the sheepe (a) (market) a poole, whiche is called in the Hebrue tongue Bethesda, hauyng fyue porches:

(a) Where sheepe were solde. Or els by the sheepe poole: that is, where they washed sheepe, or where sheepe dranke.

3 In whiche laye a great multitude of sicke folke, of blynde, halt, and wythered, waytyng for the mouyng of the water.

4 For an angel went downe at a certayne season into the poole, and troubled the water: Who so euer then fyrst after the troublyng of the water stepped in, was made whole of what so euer disease he had.

5 And a certayne man was there, which had ben diseased thirtie and eyght yeeres.

6 When Iesus sawe him lye, & knewe that he now long time had ben diseased, he saith vnto him, Wylt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answeared him, Syr, I B haue no man when the water is troubled to put me into the poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus saith vnto him, *Ryse, take vp thy bed, and walke. Mat.9.a. Mar.2.b Luke.5.c. Actes 3.b. and. 9.f.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: And on the same day was the sabboth.

10 The Iewes therfore sayde vnto him that was made whole, It is the sabboth day, it is not lawful for thee to carrie thy bed.

11 He answeared them, He that made me whole, sayde vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then

12 Then asked they him, What man is that whiche sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wyst not who it was: for Iesus had gotten him selfe away, because that there was preasse of people in that place.

14 *Afterwarde, Iesus fyndeth him in the temple, and saide vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee. *Iohn.5.d.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus whiche had made hym whole.

16 And therefore dyd the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought (the meanes) to slea hym, because he had donne these thinges on the Sabboth day.

17 Iesus answered them, *My father worketh hitherto, and I worke. *Gen.2.a.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kyll hym, not onely because he had broken the Sabboth, but sayd also, *that God was his father, and making him self equal with God. *Exo.26.f. *Mark.14.f. *Iohn.11.f.

19 Then answered Iesus, and sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, *The sonne can do nothing of him selfe, but that he seeth the father doo: for what so euer he doeth, that also doeth the sonne likewise. *Iohn.9.d.

20 For the father loueth the sonne, & sheweth him all thinges that he him selfe dooth: and he wyl shew him greater workes then these, because ye should marueyle.

D 21 For likewise as the father raiseth vp the dead, & quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whom he wyll. *Deut.32.c.

22 *Neyther iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed al iudgement vnto the sonne, *Iohn.10.c.

23 Because that al men shoulde honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne (the same) honoureth not the father which hath sent hym.

24 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, He that heareth my worde, and beleeueth on hym that sent me, hath euerlastyng life, and shal not come *into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto life. *Iohn.6.c. *Mat.22.c.

25 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, *The houre is commyng, and nowe is, when the dead (b) shal heare the voyce of the sonne of God: and they that heare, (c) shal liue. *Iohn.5.c. (b) Meanyng that the drowned sinne. (c) That is, they that receiue it by faith.

26 *For as the father hath lyfe in him selfe: so likewise hath he geuen to the sonne to haue lyfe in hym selfe. *Iohn.1.a.

27 And hath geuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man. *Gen.25.b

28 Marueyle not at this: for the *houre is commyng, in the whiche all that are in the graues, shal heare his voyce.

29 And shall comme forth, they that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue done euyll, vnto the resurrection of damnation. E

30 I can of myne owne selfe doo nothyng: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not myne owne wyll, but the wyl of the father, whiche hath sent me.

31 *If I beare witnesse of mee selfe, my witnesse is not true. *Iohn.8.b.

32 There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse whiche he witnesseth of me is true.

33 *Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witnesse vnto the trueth. *Iohn.1.b.

34 But I receyue not the record of man: neuertheless, these thinges I say, that ye might be saued.

35 He was a burnyng and a shynyng lyght: and ye would for a season haue reioyced in his lyght.

36 *But I haue greater witnesse then (the witnesse) of Iohn: *for the workes whiche the father hath geuen me to finishe, the same workes that I doo, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me. *Iohn.5.a. *Iohn.20.c.

37 And the father him selfe which hath sent me, *hath borne witnesse of me. Ye haue not hearde his voyce at any tyme, nor seene his shape, *Math.3.b. and.17.b. *Mark.1.b. Luke.3.b.

38 And his worde haue ye not abyding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeue not. *2.Pet.1.b.

39 Searche the Scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternall lyfe: *and they are they whiche testifie of me. *Actes.17.b. *Deut.18.c. F

40 And yet wyll ye not come to me, that ye myght haue lyfe.

41 I receiue not the prayse of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my fathers name, and ye receyue me not: *if another shal come in his owne name, him wyl ye receiue. *John.2.c. *1.Thes.2.c.

44 Howe can ye beleeue, whiche receiue honour one of another, & seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?

45 Doo not thinke that I wyl accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye woulde haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me. *Deut.18.c.

47 But if ye beleeue not his writtinges, how shal ye beleeue my wordes?

7 Philip answeared him, * Two hundred
(a) This sum amounteth to about fiue pounde sterling. (a) penyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that euery man may take a litle.
8 One of his disciples, Andrewe, Simon
Peters brother, saith vnto him:
9 There is a litle lad here, which hath fyue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus sayde, Make the people syt downe. There was much grasse in y place.
So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousande.
11 And Iesus toke the bread, and when he had geuen thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe, y likewise of the fishes, as much as they wolde.
12 When they were fylled, he sayd vnto his disciples, Gether vp the broken meate

13 And they gathered it togeather, and fylled twelue basketes with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which (broken meate) remained vnto them that had eaten.
C 14 Then those men, when they had seene the myracle that Iesus dyd, saide, This is of a Luke. 7.c. trueth * the same prophete that should come
John. 4.b. into the worlde.
15 When Iesus therefore perceyued that Luke. 6.d. they would come and take hym by * force, to make him king, he departed agayne into a mountaine him selfe alone.
Math. 24.c 16 * And when euen was nowe come, his Mark. 6.f. disciples went downe vnto the sea, 17 And gate vp into a shyp, and went ouer the sea, towardes Capernaum: and it was nowe darke, and Iesus was not comme to them.
18 And the sea rose with a great winde that blewe.
19 So, when they had rowed about. xxv. or xxx. furlonges, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh vnto the shyppe:
and they were afrayde.
20 But he saith vnto them, It is I, be not D afrayd.
21 And they would haue receyued him into the shyp, and immediately the shyp was at the lande whyther they went.
22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other shyp there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were en-tred, and that Iesus went not in with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone (away) alone:
23 Howbeit, there came other shyppes from Tiberias, nygh vnto the place where they dyd eate bread, after that the Lorde had geuen thankes.
24 When the people therfore sawe that Jesus was not there, neyther his disciples, they also tooke shyppyng, and came to Capernaum, seekyng for Iesus.
25 And when they had founde hym on the other side of the sea, they sayde vnto hym,
Rabbi, when cammest thou hyther?
26 Iesus answeared them, and said, Verely, verely, I say vnto you, Ye seeke me, not because ye sawe the myracles, but because ye dyd eate of the loaues, and were fylled.
27 Labour not for the meate whiche perisheth, but for that meate whiche endureth vnto euerlasting life, whiche (meate) the sonne of man shall geue vnto you: for hym hath God the father sealed.
28 Then saide they vnto hym, What shall G we doo, that we myght woorke the woorkes of God?
29 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto them,
This is the woorke of God, that ye beleeue on hym whom he hath sent.

that bread from heauen, * but my father ge- Math. 16.c
neth you the true bread from heauen.
33 For the bread of God, is he whiche commeth downe from heauen, and geueth lyfe

34 Then sayde they vnto hym, Lorde, euer- F more geue vs this bread.
35 And Iesus sayde vnto them, I am the bread of lyfe: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger in any wise: and he that belieueth on me, shal neuer thirst.
36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and yet ye beleeue not.
37 All that the father geueth me, shal come to me,

me, and him that commeth to me, I wyll in no wyse cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, * not to doo mine owne wil, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the fathers wyl which hath sent me, that of al which he hath geuen me, I shal loose nothyng, but rayse it vp agayne at the last day.

40 And this is the wyl of him that sent me, that euery one which seeth the sonne, * and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayd, I am the breed (of life) which came downe from heauen.

42 And they sayd, * Is not this Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we knowe? Howe is it then that he sayth, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 * No man can come to me, except the father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

45 It is wrytten in the prophetes, * And they shalbe al taught of God. Euery man therfore that hath heard, and hath learned of the father, commeth vnto me.

46 * Not that any man hath seene the father, saue he which is of god, the same hath seene the father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlasting lyfe.

48 I am that bread of lyfe.

49 Your fathers dyd eate Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead.

50 This is that bread which commeth downe from heauen, that yf any man eate therof, (he) should not dye.

51 I am that lyuyng bread, which came downe from heauē. If any man eate of this bread, he shal lyue for euer: * and the bread that I wyl geue, is my flesh, which I wyl geue for the lyfe of the worlde.

52 The Iewes therfore stroue amongst them selues, saying, Howe can this felowe geue vs that flesh of his to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the sonne of man, and drynke his blood, ye haue no lyfe in you.

54 Who so eateth my flesh, and drynketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meate in deede, and my blood is drynke in deede.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drynketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the lyuyng father hath sent me, and I lyue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth me, shal lyue by (the meanes of) me.

58 This is that bread, which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers dyd eate Manna, & are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shal lyue euer.

59 These thinges sayd he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard (this,) said, This is an hard saying, who can abyde the hearyng of it?

61 When Iesus knewe in him selfe that his disciples murmured at it, he sayde vnto them, Doeth this offende you?

62 (What) and if ye shal see the sonne of man assende vp thyther where he was before?

63 It is the spirite that quickneth, the flesh profyteth (a) nothyng: The woordes that I speake vnto you, are spirite and lyfe.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginnyng, which they were that beleeued not, & who should betray him.

65 And he sayd, Therfore sayd I vnto you, that * no man can come vnto me, except it were geuen vnto him of my father.

66 From that tyme many of his disciples went backe, & walked no more with him.

67 Then saide Iesus vnto the twelue, Wyl ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answeared him, Lord, to whom shal we goe? Thou hast the woordes of eternal lyfe:

69 * And we beleeue & are sure that thou art that Christ, the sonne of the lyuyng God.

70 Iesus answeared them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and * one of you is a deuyl?

71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot (the sonne) of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelue.

The. viii. Chapter.

12. Christe the light of the worlde. 56. Abraham dyd see Christes day.

A 1 IEsus went out vnto mount Oliuete:
2 And early in the morning he came a-gayne into the temple, and all the people came vnto him, and he sate downe, and taught them.
3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in aduulterie, and when they had set her in the middes, 4 They say vnto him, Maister, this woman was taken in aduulterie, euen as the deede was a doyng.
5 *Moses in the lawe commaunded vs that suche shoulde be stoned, but what sayest thou?
6 This they sayde, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Iesus stowped downe, and with his fynger wrote on the grounde, as though he hearde them not.
B 7 So, when they continued asking hym, he lyft vp him selfe, and sayde vnto them, Let hym that is among you without sinne, first cast the stone at her.
8 And agayne he stowped downe, and wrote on the grounde.
9 And when they heard this, beyng accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.
10 When Iesus had lift vp hym selfe, and sawe no man but the woman, he sayde vnto her, Woman, where are those thyne accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
11 She sayde, No man Lorde: And Iesus sayde, Neither do I condemne thee: Goe, *and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus agayne vnto them, saying, I am the lyght of the worlde: He that followeth me, *shal not in any wyse walke in darknesse, but shal haue the lyght of lyfe.
13 The Pharisees therefore saide vnto him, Thou beareste recorde of thee selfe, thy recorde is not true.
14 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto them,
Though I beare recorde of mee selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I knowe whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye can not tel whence I come, and whither I goe.
15 Ye iudge after the flesshe, I iudge no man,
16 And if I iudge, my iudgement is true:
for I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.
17 *It is also written in your lawe, that the testimonie of two men is true.
18 I am one that beareth witnesse of mee selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.
19 Then sayd they vnto hym, Where is thy father? Iesus answeared, Ye neyther know me, nor yet my father, yf ye had knowē me, ye shoulde haue knowen my father also.
20 These wordes spake Iesus in the trea-surie, as he taught in the temple: & no man laide handes on him, for his houre was not yet come.
21 Then sayde Iesus agayne vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shal seeke me, *and shal dye in your sinnes: Whither I goe, thyther can ye not come.
22 Then sayde the Iewes, Wyl he kyl him selfe, because he sayth, Whyther I goe, thither can ye not come?
23 And he sayde vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this worlde, I am not of this worlde.
24 I sayde therefore vnto you, that ye shal die in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not that I am he, ye shal die in your sinnes.
25 Then sayde they vnto hym, Who art thou? And Iesus sayth vnto them, Euen the very same thyng that I sayde vnto you from the begynnyng.
26 I haue many thynges to say, and to iudge of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true: and I speake to the worlde those thinges which I haue hearde of him.
27 Howbeit, they vnderstoode not that he spake to them of his father.
28 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lyfte vp (an hygh) the sonne of man, then shall ye knowe that I am he, and that I do nothyng of mee selfe: *but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these thinges.

The. ix. Chapter.

Christe restoreth sight vpon the Sabboth day to him that was borne blinde.

1 AND as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man whiche was blinde from his birth. A

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Maister, who did sinne, this man, or his parentes, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answeared, Neyther hath this man sinned, nor yet his parentes: but that the workes of God shoulde be made manyfest in him.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blynde, sayde, Is not this he that sate and begged?
9 Some sayde, This is he: Other sayde, He is lyke him. He him selfe sayde, I am (euen) he.
10 Therefore sayde they vnto him, Howe were thine eyes opened?
11 He answeared, and sayde, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and annoynted myne eyes, and sayde vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and washe: And when I went and washed, I receyued (my) syght.
12 Then sayde they vnto him, Where is he? He sayde, I can not tel.
13 They brought to the Pharisees, hym that a litle before was blinde.
C 14 And it was the * Sabboth day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.
15 Then agayne the Pharisees also asked him howe he had receyued his syght? He sayde vnto them, He put claye vppon myne eyes, and I washed, and doo see.
16 Therefore sayde some of the Pharisees, This man is not of god, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other sayde, Howe can a man that is a sinner doo suche myracles? And there was a * strife among them.
17 They say vnto the blinde man agayne, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thyne eyes? He sayde, He is a prophete.
18 But the Iewes dyd not beleeue the man howe that he had benne blinde, and receyued his syght, vntyl they called the parents of him that had receyued his syght.
19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne whom ye say that he was borne blinde? howe dooth he nowe see then?
20 His parentes answeared them, and sayd, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:
D 21 But by what meanes he nowe seeth, we can not tel, or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tel, he is of age, aske him, he shal speake for him selfe.
22 Suche woordes spake his parentes, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed already, that if any man dyd confesse that he was Christe, he shoulde be excommunicate out of the synagogue.
23 Therefore sayde his parentes, He is of age, aske him.
24 Then agayne called they the man that was blinde, and saide vnto him, Geue God the prayse, we knowe that this man is a sinner.
25 He answeared, and saide, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blynde, nowe I see.
26 Then sayde they to him agayne, What dyd he to thee? Howe opened he thyne eyes?
27 He answeared them, I tolde you yer whyle, and ye dyd not heare: wherefore woulde you heare it agayne? Wyll ye also be his disciples?
28 Then raued they him, and sayde, Thou E art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.
29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this felowe, we knowe not from whence he is.
30 The man answeared, and said vnto them, This is a marueylous thing, that ye wote not from whence he is, & yet he hath opened mine eyes.
31 For we be sure that God heareth not synners: but yf any man be a worshipper of God, and dooth his wyl, him heareth he.
32 Sence the worlde beganne was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.
33 If this man were not of God, he coulde doo nothing.
34 They answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, & dost thou teache vs? And they cast him out.
35 Iesus hearde that they had excommunicate him: and when he had founde hym, he sayde vnto hym, Doest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?
36 He answeared, and sayde, Who is he Lorde, that I might beleeue on him? F
37 And Iesus sayde vnto hym, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.
38 And he sayde, Lorde, I beleeue: and he (b) worshipped him. John.14.c
39 And Iesus sayde vnto him, I am comme vnto iudgement in this worlde, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blinde.
40 And some of the Pharisees which were with hym hearde these woordes, and sayde vnto him, Are we blynde also?
41 Iesus sayd vnto them, If ye were blind, ye shoulde haue no sinne, but nowe ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remayneth. John.15.b

3 Therefore his sister sent vnto hym, saying, Lorde, beholde, he whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus hearde that, he sayde, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

Ioh.9.a. 5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about (a) fyftiene furlonges of:)

(a) Which is about two myles.

19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.

20 Martha, as soone as she hearde that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Marie sate still in the house.

D 21 Then sayde Martha vnto Iesus, Lorde, Ioh.11.d. if thou hadst ben here, my brother had not dyed.

22 But euen nowe I knowe, that what so euer thou wilt aske of God, God wyll geue it thee.

23 Iesus saith vnto her, Thy brother shal rise againe.

24 Martha sayth vnto hym, I know that he shal rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the *life: he that beleeueth on me, yea though he were dead, yet shal he liue. John.11.a. and.14.a. John.3.b.

26 And who so euer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shal neuer dye. Beleeuest thou this? Rom.1.b. Abac.2.a. Heb.10.g.

27 She saith vnto him, Yea Lorde, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of god, whiche shoulde come into the worlde.

28 And when she had so sayde, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretely, saying, The maister is come, and calleth for thee. E

29 As soone as she hearde that, she aryseth quickly, and commeth vnto hym.

30 Iesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met hym.

31 The Iewes then whiche were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie that she rose vp hastily, and went out, folowed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and sawe him, she fel downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lorde, yf thou haddest ben here, my brother had not ben dead. John.11.c.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her weeping, and the Iewes also weeping whiche came with her, he groned (b) in the spirite, and was troubled in him selfe, 34 And sayde, Where haue ye laide him? They say vnto him, Lord, come, and see.

36 Then saide the Iewes, Beholde howe he loued him.

37 And some of them sayd, Coulde not this man, whiche opened the eyes of the blynde, haue caused that this man also shoulde not haue dyed? John.9.b.

38 Iesus therefore agayne groning in hym selfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone layde on it.

39 Iesus sayde, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith vnto him, Lorde, by this time he stynketh: for he hath ben dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus saith vnto her, Saide I not vnto thee, that yf thou wouldest beleeue, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

17 The people that was with hym, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and raised him from death, bare recorde.

18 Therefore met hym the people also, because they hearde that he had done suche a myracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore sayde among them selues, Perceiue ye howe ye preuayle nothing? Beholde, (al the whole) worlde is gone after him.

20 There were certayne Grekes among them,

21 The ſame came therefore to Philip, which (was) of Bethſaida, (a citie) of Galilee, and deſyred hym, ſayeing, Sir, we woulde (fayne) ſee Ieſus.
22 Philip commeth and telleth Andrewe: and againe Andrewe & Philip tolde Ieſus.
23 And Ieſus anſwearede them, ſayeing, * The houre is come, that the ſonne of man ſhoulde be glorifyed.
24 Verely, verely I ſay vnto you, * Except the wheate corne fall into the grounde, and dye, it abydeth alone: if it dye, it bringeth foorth much fruite.
25 He that loueth his lyfe, ſhal looſe it: and he that hateth his life in this worlde, ſhal keepe it vnto life eternal.
26 If any man miniſter vnto me, let him folowe me: and * where I am, there ſhall alſo my miniſter be: If any man miniſter vnto me, him wyl my father honour.
27 Nowe is my ſoule troubled, and what ſhall I ſay? Father, ſaue me from this houre, but therfore came I into this houre.
28 Father glorifye thy name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, (ſaying,) I haue both glorifyed it, & wyl glorifye it againe.
29 The people therefore that ſtoode by, and heard it, ſayd that it thundred: other ſayd, An angel ſpake to him.
30 Ieſus anſwearede, and ſayde, This voyce came not becauſe of me, * but for your ſakes.
31 Nowe is the iudgement of this worlde: * Nowe ſhall the prince of this worlde be caſt out.
32 And I, if I were lyft vp from the earth, wyl drawe al men vnto me.
33 (This he ſayde, ſignifying what death he ſhould dye.)
34 The people anſwearede him, We haue learde out of the lawe, * that Chriſte bydeth euer: and howe ſayeſt thou, the ſonne of man muſt be lyft vp? Who is that ſonne of man?
35 Then Ieſus ſayde vnto them, Yet a litle whyle is the light with you: walke whyle ye haue light, leſt the darkneſſe comme on you: For he that walketh in the darke, wotteth not whyther he goeth.
36 Whyle ye haue light, beleeue on the light, that ye may be the chyldren of the light. Theſe thinges ſpake Ieſus, and departed, and was hyd from them.
37 But though he had donne ſo many myracles before them, yet beleeued not they on him:
38 That the ſayeing of Eſaias the prophete might be fulfylled, whiche he ſpake, Lord, Who hath beleeued our ſayeing? and to whom hath the arme of the Lorde benne declared?
39 Therefore coulde they not beleeue, becauſe that Eſaias ſaide agayne, 40 * He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hart, that they ſhould not ſee with their eyes, and leſt they ſhoulde vnderſtand with their hart, and ſhoulde be conuerted, and I ſhoulde heale them.
41 Suche thinges ſayde Eſaias, when he ſawe his glory, and ſpake of him.
42 Neuertheleſſe, among the cheefe rulers alſo many beleeued on him: but becauſe of the Phariſees they dyd not confeſſe him, leſt they ſhould be put out of ꝑ ſynagogue.
43 * For they loued the prayſe of men, more then the prayſe of God.
44 Ieſus cryed, and ſayd, He that beleeueth on me, beleeueth not on me, but on him that ſent me.
45 And he that ſeeth me, ſeeth him that ſent me.
46 I am comme, * a lyght into the worlde, that who ſo euer beleeueth on me, ſhoulde not byde in darkneſſe.
47 And if any man heare my woordes, and beleeue not, I iudge him not: For I came not to iudge the worlde, but to ſaue the worlde.
48 He that refuſeth me, and receyueth not my woordes, hath one that iudgeth him: the woorde that I haue ſpoken, the ſame ſhal iudge him in the laſt day.
49 For I haue not ſpoken of mee ſelfe: but ꝑ father which ſent me, he gaue me a commaundement what I ſhoulde ſay, & what I ſhould ſpeake.
50 And I knowe that his commaundement is lyfe euerlaſting: What ſo euer I ſpeake therefore, euen as the father bade me, ſo I ſpeake.

He armeth his disciples with consolation agaynst trouble.

A

1 AND he sayde vnto his disciples,) Let not your hart be troubled: ye beleeue in God, beleeue also in me.

The Gospel on saint Philip and Iames day.

2 In my fathers house are many dwelling places:

places: if it were not so, I woulde haue told you, I goe to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I goe and prepare a place for you, I wyl come againe, and receiue you (euen) vnto mee selfe: that where I am, there may ye be also.

4 And whyther I goe, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.

5 Thomas saith vnto him, Lord, we knowe not whyther thou goest: and howe can we knowe the way?

6 Iesus saith vnto him, I am the way, and the trueth, and the life: no man commeth vnto the father but by me.

7 If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my father also: and now ye know him, and haue seene him.

8 Philip saith vnto him, Lord, shewe vs the father, and it suffiseth vs.

9 Iesus saith vnto him, Haue I ben so long tyme with you, and yet hast thou not knowen me? Philip, he that hath seene me, hath seene the father: and howe sayest thou then, Shewe vs the father.

10 Beleuest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of mee selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doeth the woorkes.

11 Beleeue me that I am in the father, and the father in me: or els beleeue me for the woorkes sake.

12 Verely, verily I say vnto you, he that beleeueth on me, the woorkes that I doo, the same shall he doo also, and greater woorkes then these shal he do: because I goe vnto the father.

13 And whatsoeuer ye shal aske in my name, that wyl I doo: that the father may be glorified in the sonne.

14 If ye shal aske any thing in my name, I wyl doo it.

15 If ye loue me, keepe my commaundementes,

16 And I wyl pray the father, and he shall geue you another comforter, that he maye byde with you for euer.

17 (Euen) the spirite of trueth, whom the worlde can not receyue, because the worlde seeth him not, neyther knoweth him: but ye knowe him: for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.

18 I wyl not leaue you comfortlesse, I come to you.

19 Yet a litle while, and the worlde seeth me no more: but ye see me, because I liue, & ye shal liue (also.)

20 That day shal ye knowe, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commaundementes, & keepeth them, the same is he that loueth mee: and he that loueth me, shalbe loued of my father, and I wyl loue hym, and wyl shewe mine owne selfe to hym.

22 Iudas saith vnto hym, not (Iudas) Iscariot, Lorde, what is donne that thou wylt shewe thee selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde? Actes. 15.c

23 Iesus answeared, and said vnto hym, If a man loue me, he wyl keepe my sayinges: and my father wyll loue hym, and we wyll come vnto him, & make our dwelling with hym.

24 He that loueth me not, keepeth not my sayinges, and the woord which ye heare, is not myne, but the fathers which sent me.

25 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, beyng yet present with you.

26 But the comforter (whiche is) the holy ghoste, whom the father wyll sende in my name, he shall teache you all thinges, and bring al things to your remembrance, what so euer I haue sayde vnto you. John. 20. b and. 16. b Actes. 2. a

27 Peace I leaue with you, my peace I geue vnto you: not as the worlde geueth, geue I vnto you: let not your hart be troubled, neyther let it feare.

28 Ye haue hearde howe I sayd vnto you, I goe away, and come againe vnto you. If ye loued me, ye woulde verely reioyce, because I sayde, I goe vnto the father: for the father is greater then I. John. 13. c and. 16. a 29 And nowe haue I shewed you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye myght beleeue.

30 Hereafter wyl I not talke many woordes vnto you: for the (a) prince of this worlde commeth, and hath nought in (b) me.

31 But that the worlde may knowe that I loue the father: and as the father gaue me commaundement, euen so doo I: Rise, let vs goe hence.

The Gospel on saint Barnabe Apostle John. 13. D. 1. John. 3. D. C

12 *This is my commaundement, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this: that a man bestowe his life for his freendes.

14 Ye are my freendes, if ye doo whatsoeuer I commaund you.

15 Henceforth cal I not you seruantes, for the seruant knoweth not what his Lorde dooth, but you haue I called freendes, for al (c) thinges that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knowen vnto you.

16 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeyned you, that you shoulde goe and bryng foorth fruite, and that your fruite shoulde remayne: that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of the father in my name, he may geue it you.

The Gospel on saint Simon and Iudes day.

17 This commaunde I you, that ye loue together.

18 If the worlde hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, the world would loue his owne: howbeit, because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the *world hateth you.

John. 17.e.

22 If I had not comme, and spoken vnto them, they shoulde haue had no sinne: but nowe haue they nothing to cloke their sinne withal.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not done among them the wooykes which none other man dyd, they should haue had no (e) sinne: but nowe haue they both seene, and hated both me & my father.

(e) They are without al excuse that follow not the worke of God preached vnto them.

25 But (this commeth to passe,) that the word might be fulfylled that is written in their lawe, *They hated me without a cause.

Psal. 35.c. and. 69.a.

The. xvi. Chapter.

7. Of the holy ghost, and of his office. 17. Of Christes ascenſion. 23. To aske in the name of Christe.

1 THese thinges haue I sayd vnto you, because ye should not be offended. A 2 They shal put you out of their synagogue: yea, the tyme commeth, that whosoeuer killeth you, wyll thinke that he dooth God seruice.

3 *And such thinges wyl they doo vnto you: because they haue not knowen the father, neyther yet me.

Actes. 9.a. John. 15.d.

4 But these thinges haue I told you, that when the tyme shall come, ye may remember then that I told you: These thynges sayde I not vnto you at the begynnyng, because I was present with you.

5 *But now I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whyther goest thou?

* The Gospel on the iii. sunday after Easter. John. 14.d. and. 15.b. Actes. 2.a.

6 But because I haue sayde suche thynges vnto you, sorowe hath fylled your hartes.

7 Neuertheless I tel you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: For if I goe not away, that comforter wyll not come vnto you: but if I depart, *I wyl sende hym vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he wyl *rebuke the world of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeue not on me.

10 Of righteousnesse, because (a) I goe to my father, and ye see me no more:

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this worlde is iudged (already.)

12 I haue yet many thinges to say vnto you, but ye can not beare them away nowe.

13 Howbeit, when he is come (whiche is) the spirite of trueth, he wyll leade you into all trueth. He shall not speake of himselfe: but whatsoeuer he shal heare, that shall he speake: and he wyl shewe you thinges to come.

(a) That whē the world shal see after his ascention the power of his spirite, she wedyd. on the Apostles by him, they shalbe compelled in conscience to confesse that he was iust, and that he was not condemned of God for a blasphemer, (as they had iudged) but approued and receyued. Actes. 2. 37.

14 He shal glorifie me, for he shal receyue of myne, myne, and ſhal ſhewe vnto you.

15 *Al things that the father hath, are mine: therefore ſayde I (vnto you) that he taketh of myne, and ſhal ſhewe vnto you.
16 *After a whyle, and ye ſhall not ſee me: and agayne after a whyle, and ye ſhall ſee me: for I goe to the father.
17 Then ſayde (ſome) of his diſciples betweene them ſelues, What is this that he ſayth vnto vs, After a whyle, and ye ſhal not ſee me, and agayne, After a whyle, & ye ſhal ſee me: and, That I goe to the father.
18 They ſayd therefore, What is this that he ſayth, After a whyle? we can not tell what he ſayth.
19 Ieſus perceiued that they wouldе aſke him, and ſaide vnto them, Doo ye enquyre among your ſelues of that I ſayde, After a whyle, and ye ſhal not ſee me: and agayne, after a whyle, and ye ſhal ſee me?
20 Verely, verely I ſay vnto you, that ye ſhal weepe and lament, the world ſhal reioyce: ye ſhal ſorowe, but your ſorowe ſhalbe turned to ioy.
21 A woman, when ſhe trauayleth, hath ſorowe, becauſe her houre is come: but as ſoone as ſhe is deliuered of the chylde, ſhe remembreth no more the anguyſhe, for ioy that a man is borne into the worlde.
22 And ye nowe therefore haue ſorowe: but I wyl ſee you (b) agayne, and your hartes ſhal reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.
23 And in that day ſhall ye aſke me no queſtion. Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, What ſo euer ye ſhall aſke the father in my name, he wyl geue it you.
24 Hytherto haue ye aſked (c) nothing in my name: aſke, and ye ſhal receiue, that your ioy may be ful.
25 Theſe thinges haue I ſpoken vnto you by prouerbes, the tyme commeth when I ſhal no more ſpeake vnto you by prouerbes, but I ſhal ſhewe you playnely of my father.
26 At that day ſhal ye aſke in my name: and I ſay not vnto you that I wyl pray vnto my father for you:
27 For the father him ſelfe loueth you, becauſe ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God.
28 I went out from the father, and came into the worlde: agayne, I leaue the world, & goe to the father.
29 His diſciples ſay vnto him, Lo, now talkeſt thou playnely, & ſpeakeſt no prouerbe.
30 Nowe are we ſure that thou knoweſt al thinges, & needeſt not that any man ſhould aſke thee (any queſtion:) therefore beleeue we that thou cameſt from God.
31 Ieſus anſwered them, Doo ye nowe beleeue?
32 *Beholde, the houre draweth nygh, and is alredie come, that ye ſhalbe ſcattered, euery man to his owne, and ſhall leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me. Zacha. 13.c. Mat. 26.c. Mar. 14.c. Iohn. 14.b

The. xvii. Chapter.

Chriſt prayeth to his father, that their glorie myght be made manyfeſte.

1 Theſe wordes ſpake Ieſus, and lyft vp A his eyes to heauen, and ſayde, Father, the *houre is come, glorifie thy ſonne, that thy ſonne alſo may glorifie thee: Iohn. 13.b.
2 As thou haſt geuen him power ouer all fleſhe, that he ſhould geue eternal lyfe to as many as thou haſt geuen him.
3 This is the lyfe eternal, that they myght knowe thee the onely true God, and Ieſus Chriſte whom thou haſt ſent. 1. Iohn. 1.a.
4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: *I haue finiſhed the worke whiche thou gaueſt me to doo. Iohn. 19.f.
5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne ſelfe, with the glorie whiche I had with thee yer the worlde was.
6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men (a) which thou gaueſt me out of the world: thyne they were, and thou gaueſt them me, and they haue kept thy worde. (a) That is, the apoſtles.
7 Nowe they haue knowen that all thynges what ſo euer thou haſt geuen me, are of thee:
8 For I haue geuen vnto them the wordes which thou gaueſt me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen ſurely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleeued that thou dyddeſt ſende me.
9 I pray for them, I pray not for the (b) worlde: but for them whiche thou haſt geuen me, for they are thyne. (b) That is, the reprobate, that ſeeke the worlde, and not Chriſt.
10 And al myne, are thyne, and thyne, are myne: and I am glorified in them.
11 And nowe am I not in the worlde, and they are in the worlde, and I come to thee. Holye father, keepe through thyne owne name them, whiche thou haſt geuen me, that they may alſo be (c) one, as we are. (c) That they may be ioyned together in loue, and vaine of loue, fayth, and ſpirite. Iohn. 18. b.
12 Whyle I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy name: thoſe that thou gaueſt me, haue I kept, and none of them is loſt, but that (d) loſt chylde: that the ſcripture myght be fulfylled. (d) That is, Iudas Iſcariote. Pſalm. 108.

13 Nowe

13 Nowe come I to thee, and these woordes speake I in the worlde, that they myght haue my ioy fulfylled in them selues.

17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth: thy woorde is the trueth.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I mee self, that they also myght be sanctified through the trueth.

20 (Neuertheleſſe,) I pray not for thē alone: but for them also whiche shal beleeue on me through their preachyng:

Galat.3.B.

22 And the glorie whiche thou gauest me, I haue geuen them: that they also may be one, as we also are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the worlde may knowe that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

24 Father, I wyl that they which thou hast geuen me, * be (e) with me where I am: that they may see my glorie which thou hast geuen me, for thou louedst me before the fundation of the worlde.

4 And Iesus knowyng all thynges that shoulde come on him, went foorth, & sayde vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

6 As soone then as he had sayde vnto them, I am he, they went backwarde, and fell to the grounde.

7 Then asked he them againe, Whom seeke ye? They sayde, Iesus of Nazareth.

24 Nowe Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming him selfe: Then sayd they vnto hym, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

37 Pilate therfore sayd vnto hym, Art thou a king then? Iesus answeared, Thou sayest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I should beare witnesse vnto the trueth, & al that are of the trueth heare my voyce.

4 Pilate went foorth againe, and saide vnto them, Beholde, I bring hym foorth to you, that ye may knowe that I finde no fault in hym.

5 Then came Iesus foorth, wearyng the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and (Pilate) sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

C 14 It was the preparyng of the Passouer, and about the syxth houre: and he saith vnto the Jewes, Behold your king.

32 Then came the soulditers, and (c) brake the legges of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

The. xx. Chapter.

1. Marie commeth to the sepulchre. 9. The Apostles were ignorant of the resurrection.

1 THe first day of the (a) sabbothes, *commeth Marie Magdalene early, when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, & seeth the stone taken away from the graue.

2 Then she runneth, & commeth to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple *whom Iesus loued, and sayth vnto them, They haue taken away the Lorde out of the graue, and we can not tel where they haue layde him.

3 Peter therfore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They ranne both togeather, and the other disciple did outrunne Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And when he had stowped downe, he saw the lynnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 *Then commeth Simon Peter folowing him, and went in to the sepulchre, and seeth the lynnen clothes lye,

7 And the napkyn that was about his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped togeather in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also that other disciple whiche came fyrst to the sepulchre, and he saw, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the *scripture, that he shoulde ryse from death.

10 Then the disciples went away agayne vnto their owne house.

11 *Marie stoode without at the sepulchre, weepyng: So as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels clothed in white, sitting, the one at the head, & the other at the feete, where the body of Iesus was layde.

13 They say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She sayth vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lorde, and I wote not where they haue layde him.

14 When she had thus sayd, she turned her selfe backe, and sawe Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposyng that he had ben the gardiner, saith vnto him, Syr, yf thou haue borne him hence, tel me where thou hast laide him, and I wyl fetche him.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Marie: She turned her selfe, and saide vnto him, Rabboni, whiche is to say, Maister.

17 Iesus sayth vnto her, Touch (b) me not, for I am not yet ascended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascende vnto my father and your father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene commeth, bryngyng tydynges to the disciples that she had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken such thynges vnto her.

19 *The same day at night, whiche was the fyrst day of the *sabbothes, whe the doores were shut, where the disciples were assembled togeather for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus, and stoode in the (c) myddes, and sayth vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his handes and his syde. Then were the disciples glad, when they sawe the Lorde.

21 Then sayd Iesus to them agayne, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so sende I you also.

22 And when he had sayde those woordes, he breathed on them, and sayth vnto them, Receyue ye the holy ghoste.

23 Whosoeuers synnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them, & whosoeuers synnes ye retayne, they are retayned.

24 (*) But Thomas, one of the twelue, whiche is called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore sayde vnto him, We haue seene the Lorde. But he sayde vnto them, Except I shal see in his handes the print of the nayles, and put my fynger into the print of the nayles, & thrust my hande into his syde, I wyll in no wyse beleeue.

26 And after eyght dayes, agayne his disciples were within, & Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores being shut, and stoode in the myddes, and sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that sayth he to Thomas, Bryng thy fynger hyther, and see my handes, and reache hyther thy hande, & thrust it into my syde, and be not faythlesse, but beleeuyng.

28 Thomas answeared, and said vnto him, My Lorde, and my God.

29 Iesus saith vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 And many other signes truely dyd Iesus before the eyes of his disciples, whiche are not wrytten in this booke.

31 These are wrytten, that ye might (d) beleeue that Iesus Christ is the sonne of god, and that in beleeuyng, ye myght haue lyfe through his name.

The. xxi. Chapter.

Christe forewarneth Peter of his death and persecution.

1 After.

21 AFterwarde dyd Jesus shewe him selfe agayne to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wyse shewed he him selfe.

2 There were togeather Simon Peter, and Thomas, whiche is called Didymus, and * Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

John.1.k.

3 Simon Peter sayth vnto them, I goe a fyshing. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship immediatly, and that night caught they nothyng.

4 But when the morowyng was nowe come, Jesus stoode on the shore: neuertheless, the disciples knewe not that it was Jesus.

* or, syrs. 5 Jesus sayth vnto them, * Children, haue ye any meate? They answered him, No.

6 And he sayth vnto them, Cast out the net on the ryght syde of the shyp, and ye shall fynde. They cast out therefore, and anone they were not able to drawe it for the multitude of fyshes.

B 7 Then sayde the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord: When Simon Peter hearde that it was the Lorde, he gyrd his coate vnto him, (for he was naked) and dyd cast him selfe into the sea.

8 The other disciples came in a litle shyp, (for they were not farre from lande, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawyng the net with fyshes.

9 As soone then as they were come to land, they sawe whot coales, and fyshe layd theron, and bread.

Luke.24.f 10 Jesus saith vnto them, * Bring of the fysh, whiche ye haue nowe caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drew the net to the lande, full of great fyshes, an hundred and fyftie and three, and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus sayth vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou? knowyng that it was the Lorde.

13 Jesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and geueth them, and fyshe lykewyse.

C 14 This is nowe the thirde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was ryssen from death.

15 So when they had dyned, Jesus sayth to Simon Peter, Simon * Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He saith vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, Feede my lambes.

* or, sonne of Iona.

16 He saith to him againe the seconde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayth vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the thirde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sorie, because he saide vnto him the thirde tyme, Louest thou me: And he saide vnto him, Lorde, thou * knowest al thynges, thou knowest that I loue thee: Jesus sayth vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

John.16.g

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, when thou wast younger, thou gyrdedst thee selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, * thou shalt stretche forth thy handes, and another shal gyrd thee, and carrie thee whither thou wouldest not.

John.13.b Actes.12.

19 This spake he, signifiyng by what death he shoulde glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he sayth vnto him, Folowe me.

20 Peter turnyng about, seeth the disciple whom * Jesus loued, folowyng, which also leaned at his byest at supper, & sayd, Lorde, whiche is he that betrayeth thee?

John.13.c and. 19.b

21 When Peter therefore sawe him, he sayth to Jesus, Lorde, what shal he doo?

The Gospel on saint Iohn Euangelists day.

22 Jesus sayth vnto him, If I will haue him to tarrie tyl I come, what is that to thee? Folowe thou me.

23 Then went this saying abrode among the brethren, that that disciple shoulde not dye: Yet Jesus sayde not to him, He shall not dye: but, If I will that he tarrie tyl I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same disciple is he whiche testifieth of these thinges, and wrote these thinges, and we knowe that his testimonie is true.

25 * There are also manye other thinges which Jesus did, the which if they shoulde be written euery one, I suppose the worlde coulde not conteyne the bookes that should be written. Amen.

¶ The Actes of the Apostles.

The first Chapter.

7. The wordes of Christe and his angels to the apostles. 9. His assention. 14. Wherein the apostles are occupyed, tyl the holy ghost be sent. 26. And of the election of Matthias.

THE former booke haue I made, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began both to do and teach,
2 Untyll the day in whiche he was taken vp, after that he thorowe the holy ghost had geuen commaundementes vnto the Apostles, whom he had chosen.
3 To whom also he *shewed him selfe alyue after his passion, and that by many tokens, appearing vnto them fourtie dayes, and speaking of the kingdome of God.
4 And gathering (them) togeather, * commaunded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but wayte for the promise of the father, * whereof (sayth he) ye haue heard of me.
5 For * Iohn truely baptised with water, but ye shalbe baptised with the holy ghost, after these fewe dayes.
6 When they therefore were come togeather, they asked of him, saying, Lorde, wylt thou at this time restore agayne the kyngdome of Israel?
7 And he sayd vnto them, * It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, whiche the father hath put in his owne power.
8 But * ye shal receiue power, after that the holy ghost is come vpon you, and * ye shalbe witnesses vnto me, both in Hierusalem, and in al Iurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worldes ende.
9 And when he had spoken these thinges, while they beheld, * he was taken vp an high, and a cloude receiued hym vp out of their sight.
10 And whyle they looked vp stedfastly towarde heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stoode by them in white apparel, 11 Whiche also sayde, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gasing vp into heauen? This same Iesus whiche is taken vp from you into heauen, * shal so come euen as you haue seene him goe into heauen.
12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, whiche is from Hierusalem a Sabboth dayes iourney.
13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both * Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrewe, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthewe, Iames (the sonne) of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, & Iudas (the brother) of Iames.
14 These al continued with one accorde in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.
15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the middes of the disciples, and said, (The number of (a) names togeather, were about an hundred and twentie.)
16 Ye men and brethren, this scripture must needes haue ben fulfilled, whiche the holy ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, * whiche was guide to them that tooke Iesus, 17 * For he was numbred with vs, and had obteyned felowship in this ministerie.
18 And the same hath now purchased a feeld, with the reward of (b) iniquitie, and when he was * hanged, he burst asunder in the middes, and al his bowels gushed out.
19 And it is knowen vnto al the dwellers at Hierusalem, in so much that the same feeld is called in their mother tongue Aceldema, that is to say, The feelde of blood.
20 For it is written in the booke of psalmes, * Let his habitation be desart, and no man be dwelling therein: * And his bishoprick let another take.
21 Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs al the time that the lorde Iesus went in and out (c) among vs, 22 Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordeyned to be a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.
23 And they appointed two, Ioseph which is called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.
24 And when they had prayed, they sayde, Thou Lorde, * which knowest the hartes

3. The holy ghost came vpon the Apostles in visible signes. 42. The godly exercise of the faythful.

A 1 AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were al with one accorde in one place.
The Epistle on Whitsunday. Deut. 16.b. Lenit. 23.c.
2 And sodaynly there came a sounde from heauen, as it had ben the comming of a mightie winde, and it fylled al the house where they were sitting.
3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, like as they had ben of fire, and (a) sate vpon eche one of them.
Actes. 4.f. and. 11.b. 4 * And they were all fylled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirite gaue them vtterance.
5 There were dwelling at Hierusalem Iewes, deuout men, out of euery nation of them that are vnder heauen.
6 When this was noysed about, the multitude came together, and were astonied, because that euery man hearde them speake in his owne language.
B 7 They wondred al, and marueyled, saying one to another, Beholde, are not all these whiche speake, of Galilee?
8 And howe heare we euery man his owne (a) towne, wherein we were borne?
9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iurie, and in Capadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,
10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parties of Lybia, whiche is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Iewes and (b) Proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do heare them speake in our tongues the wonderful works of God.
12 They were al amased, & were in a doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?
13 Other mocking, sayde, These men are ful of newe wine.
14 But Peter standing foorth with the eleuen, lyft vp his voyce, and sayd vnto them, Ye men of Iurie, and all ye that dwel at Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and heare my woordes, 15 For these are not dronken, as ye suppose, seing it is but the (c) third houre of the day.
16 But this is that whiche was spoken by the prophete Ioel,
17 And it shalbe in the last dayes (saith god) of my spirit I wil powre out vpon al flesh: * And your sonnes and your daughters shal prophesie, and your young men shal see visions, and your olde men shal dreame dreames:
18 And on my seruantes, and on my handemaydens, I wyl powre out of my spirite in those dayes, and they shal prophesie:
Ioel. 2.g.
19 And * I will shewe wonders in heauen Psal. 17. aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, Luke. 23.f. blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke, 20 The sunne shalbe turned into darkenesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lorde come.
21 And it shall come to passe, that * who so D euer shal call on the name of the Lord, shal Rom. 10.c. be saued.
22 Ye men of Israel, heare these woordes, Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you with myracles, wonders, and sigues whiche God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also knowe,
23 Him after that ye had taken by wycked hands, being deliuered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and slayne.
24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he shoulde be holden of it.
25 For Dauid speaketh of him, * I sawe the Psal. 16.f. Lord alwayes set foorth before my face, for he is on my right hande, that I should not be moued.
26 Therefore did my hart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shal rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hel, neyther wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.
28 Thou hast shewed me the wayes of lyfe, E thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.
29 Ye men & brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the patriarche Dauid: * For 3. Reg. 2. he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day?
30 Therefore, being a prophete, and knowing that God had sworne with an othe to him, that he woulde rayse vp Christe, as concerning the flesh of the fruite of his loynes, to sit on his seate, 31 He seing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christe, that his soule was not left in hel, neither his flesh did see corruption.

of we al are witnesses.

33 Then being by the right hande of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the father the promise of the holy ghost, he hath shed foorth this, which ye nowe see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not assended into the heauens, but he sayth him selfe, *The Lord sayde vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hande, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footestoole.

36 Therefore let al the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye haue crucifyed, both Lorde and Christe.

37 Nowe when they hearde this, they were pricked in their hart, and sayd vnto Peter, and to the other apostles, Ye menne and brethren, *What shal we do?

38 Then Peter sayde vnto them, Repent ye, and let euery one of you be baptised in the name of Jesus Christe, for the remission of synnes, and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy ghost.

39 For the promise was (made) vnto you and to your children, and to al that are a farre of, euen as many as the Lorde our God shal cal.

40 And with many other woordes dare he witnesse, and exhorted them, saying, Saue (your selues) from this vntoward generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptised, and the same day there were added (vnto them) about three thousande soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and (d) felowship, & in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vppon euery soule, and many woonders and signes were donne by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeued were togeather, and had al thinges common,

45 And solde their possessions and goodes, and parted them to al men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing dayly with one accorde in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, dyd eate their meate togeather with gladnesse of hart, 47 Praysing God, and hauing fauour with al the people. And the Lorde added to the Churche dayly such as should be saued.

The. iii. Chapter.

7. The lame is restored to his feete. 12. Peter preached Christ vnto the people.

NOw Peter and John went vp togeather into ỹ temple, at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certayne man that was lame from his mothers wombe was brought, whom they layde dayly at the gate of the temple whiche is called beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the temple.

3 Whiche seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an almes.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon hym, with John, saide, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receyue something of them.

6 Then saide Peter, Siluer & golde haue I none, but such as I haue, geue I thee, In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, *ryse vp and walke. Mat. 9.a.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, and lyft him vp, and immediatly his feete and ancle bones receyued strength.

8 And he leaping vp, stoode, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praysing God.

9 And al the people sawe him walking and praysyng God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was he whiche sate for the almes at the beautifull gate of the temple, and they woondred, & were sore astonyed at that whiche had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame whiche was healed held Peter and John, all the people ranne togeather greatly amazed vnto them in the *porche, that is called Solomons. 3. Re. 6.a. John. 2. b. Actes. 5. c.

12 And when Peter sawe that, he answered vnto the people, Ye menne of Israel, why marueyle ye at this? or why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or (a) godlynesse we had made this man to walke?

The.iiii. Chapter.

1. The apostles are brought before the counsel. 32. The Churche increaseth in doctrine, and exercises of al godlynesse.

1 AND as they spake vnto the people, the priestes and the * ruler of the temple, & the Saductees, came vpon them,

2 Taking it greeuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laide handes on them, and put them in holde vntyl the next day: for it was nowe euentide.

4 Howe be it, many of them whiche hearde the woorde, beleeued. and the number of the men was about fyue thousande.

5 And it came to passe on the morowe, that their rulers, and elders, and Scribes,

6 And Annas the cheefe priest, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, & Alexander, and as many as were of the kinrede of the high priestes, were geathered togeather at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, *By what power, or in what name haue ye donne this?

8 Then Peter ful of the holy ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, & elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deede donne to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of *Iesus Christe of Nazareth, whom ye crucifyed, whom GOD raysed againe from the dead, euen by him, doeth this man stande here before you whole. Math.1.d. Philip.2.b

11 This is the stone whiche was set nought by of you builders, whiche is the head of the (a) corner.

12 Neither is there (b) saluation in any other: for among men vnder heauen, there is geuen none other name wherein we must be saued.

13 Nowe when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstoode that they were vnlearned, and ignorant menne, they marueyled, and they knewe them that they had ben with Iesu:

14 And beholding also the man whiche was healed standing with them, they couldе not say against it.

15 But when they had commaunded them to goe aside out of the counsel, they counsayled among them selues, 16 *Sayeing, What shall we doo to these men? for a manifest signe is done by them, & is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we can not deny it.

17 But that it be noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten, & charge them that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, * and commaunded them, that in no wyse they shoulde speake nor teache in the name of Iesu. Actes.5.c

19 But Peter and John answearred, and sayd vnto them, Whether it be right in the syght of GOD, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.

20 For we can not but speake that, whiche we haue seene and hearde.

21 So when they had more sharply threatned them, they let them goe, fynding nothing howe to punishe them, because of the people, for all men glorifyed God, because of *that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this myracle of healing was shewed. Actes.3.b

23 Then assoone as they were let goe, they came to their felowes, and shewed all that the high priestes and elders had sayde vnto them.

29 And now lord, beholde their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy seruantes, that with al boldnesse they may speake thy worde, 31 And assoone as they had prayed, the place moued where they were assembled togeather, and they were al filled with the holy ghost, and they spake the worde of GOD boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one hart, & of one soule: Neyther sayd any of them, that ought of the thinges whiche he possessed was his owne, but they had al thinges common.
33 And with great power gaue the apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesu, and great grace was with them al.
34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: For as many as were possessours of landes, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the thinges that were solde,
35 And laide it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.
36 And Ioses, which was also called of the apostles Barnabas (that is to say by interpretacion, the sonne of consolation) beyng a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers,

1 BVT a certayne man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,
2 And kept away (part) of the price, his wyfe also beyng of counsel, and brought a certayne part, and layde it downe at the apostles feete.
3 But Peter sayd, Ananias, howe is it that Satan hath filled thine hart, to lie vnto the holy ghost, and kepe away (part) of the price of the lande?
4 Whyles it remayned, was it not thyne owne? and after it was solde, was it not in thyne owne power? why hast thou conceiued this thyng in thyne hart? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.
5 Ananias hearing these wordes, fel downe, & gaue vp the ghost: And great feare came on al them that hearde these thynges.
6 And the young men rose vp, and put him apart, and caried him out, and buried him.
7 And it came to passe, that as it were about the space of three houres after, his wife came in, not knowyng that whiche was done.
8 And Peter sayde vnto her, Tel me, solde ye not the lande for so much? And she sayd, Yea, for so muche.
9 Then Peter sayd vnto her, Why haue ye agreed togeather, to tempt the spirite of the Lorde? beholde, the feete of them whiche haue buried thy husbande, are at the doore, and shal cary thee out.
10 Then fel she downe strayghtway at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the young men came in, and founde her dead, and caried her out, and buryed her by her husbande, 11 And great feare came vpon al the church, and vpon as many as heard these thinges.
12 And by the handes of the apostles, were many signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were altogeather with one accorde in Solomons porche.
13 And of other durst no man ioyne him selfe to them: neuertheles the people magnified them.

17 Then the chefe priest rose vp, & all they that were with him, (whiche is the secte of the Sadduces,) & were ful of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.
19 But the angel of the Lorde by nyght opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and sayde,

(a) God at the first gaue lisning of his Gospel, wrought wonders by these things that seemed trifles to the world, whiche thinges as they were done for a time, so now the like must not be looked for.

The Epistle on saint Bartholomewe the Apostle. Wath. 16.b 2 Reg. 6.a John. 10.c Actes 3.b.

Actes. 4.a Actes. 11.a and. 16.f.

21 And when they hearde that, they entred into the temple early in the morning, and taught: but the chiefe priest came, and they that were with hym, and called a counsel togeather, and al the elders of the children of Israel: and sent to the prison to fetche them.

22 But when the officers came, and founde them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with al diligence, and the keepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe priest, and the captayne of the temple, and the hygh priestes hearde these thinges, they doubted of them whereunto this woulde growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, (saying,) Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standyng in the temple, and teachyng the people.

26 Then went the captayne of the temple with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they shoulde haue ben stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsel. And the chiefe priest asked them,

28 Saying, * Dyd not we strayghtly commaunde you that ye shoulde not teache in this name? And behold, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bryng * (b) this mans blood vpon vs. * Actes.4.d. (b) By this speache, they meane that they woulde charge them as gyltie of Christes blood that was shed. Math. 27.e

29 Then Peter and the other apostles answeared, and sayde, * We ought more to obey God then men. * Actes.4.d

30 The God of our fathers rayled vp Iesus, whom ye slue, and hanged on tree.

31 Him hath GOD lyft vp with his ryght hande, to be a prince and a sauiour, for to gene repentance to Israel, and forgeuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are recordes of these things whiche we say, & so is also the holy ghost, whom God hath geuen to them that obey hym.

33 When they hearde that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slea them.

34 Then stoode there vp one in the counsel, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among al the people, and commaunded to put the apostles foorth a litle space, Actes. 22.a

35 And sayde vnto them, Ye men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye entende to do as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting him selfe to be some great man, to whom a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned them selues: whiche was slayne, and they all whiche * beleued hym were scattered abrode, and brought to nought. * or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man arose vp one Iudas * of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drue away muche people after him: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed him, were scattered abrode. * Luke.13.a.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this worke be of men, it wyl come to nought.

39 But and if it be of God, ye can not destroy it, lest haply ye be founde to stryue against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Iesu, & let them goe. Actes.4.d.

41 And they departed from the face of the counsel, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name. Math.5.b.

4. The Apostles are scattered abrode.
38. Philip baptiseth the Eunuche.

1 AND Saul was consentyng vnto his death: And at that tyme there was a great persecution against the Church whiche was at Hierusalem, and they were all *scattered abrode throughout the regions of Iurie & Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 And deuout men carried Steuen together to his burial, and made great lamentation ouer hym.

3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of ỹ church, entryng into euery house, and drawyng out both menne and women, dyd put them into prison.

4 Therfore they that were scattered abrode, went euery where preaching the woorde of God.

5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christe vnto them.

6 And the people gaue herde vnto those thinges whiche Philip spake, with one accord, hearing and seeyng the myracles whiche he dyd.

7 For *vncleane spirites, crying with loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and many that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, whiche before tyme in the same citie vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he was a man that could doo great thinges:

10 To whom they al gaue herde, from the least to the greatest, sayeing, This man is the great power of God.

11 And him they set muche by, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beleeued Philips preachyng of the kingdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women.

13 Then Simon him selfe beleeued also: and when he was baptised, he continued with Philip, and wondred, beholdyng the myracles and signes whiche were done.

14 When the Apostles whiche were at Hierusalem, hearde say that Samaria had receyued the woorde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Whiche when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receiue the holy ghost.

16 (For as yet he was come downe vppon none of them: but they were baptised (a) onely in the name of Christ Iesu.)

17 Then layed they their handes on them, and they receyued the holy ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through layeng on of the Apostles hands, the holy ghost was geuen, he offered them money, 19 Sayeing, Geue me also this power, that on whom so euer I put the handes, he maye receyue the holy ghost.

20 But Peter saide vnto hym, Thy money perishe with thee, because thou hast thought *that the gift of God may be obteined with money.

21 Thou hast neyther parte nor felowshyp in this busines: for thy hart is not ryght in the syght of God.

22 *Repent therfore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine hart may be forgeuen thee.

23 For I perceyue that thou art (b) in the gal of bytternesse, and in the bond of (c) iniquitie.

24 Then answeared Simon, & saide, Pray ye to the Lorde for me, that none of (these thynges) which ye haue spoken, fal on me.

25 And they, when they had testified & preached the woorde of the Lorde, returned toward Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritanes.

26 And the angel of the lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, & goe toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza: which is desart.

27 And he arose, and went on: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great auctoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of al her treasure, *whiche came to Hierusalem for to worshyp.

28 And as he returned home againe, sittyng in his charet, he read Esaias the prophete.

29 Then the spirite said vnto Philip, Come neare, and ioyne thee selfe to this charet.

30 And Philip ran thyther to him, & heard hym reade the prophete Esaias, and saide, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he sayde, Howe can I, except some man should guyde me? And he desyred Philip that he would come vp, and sit with hym.

18 And immediately there fel from his eyes as it had ben scales, and he receyued syght forthwith, and arose, and was baptised.

19 And when he had receyued meate, he was comforted. Then was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples whiche were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christe in the synagogues, that he is the sonne of God.

21 But all that hearde hym, were amazed, D and sayde, Is not this he that destroyed them whiche called on this name in Hierusalem, and came hyther for that intent, that he myght bring them bounde vnto the hygh priestes.

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and and confoumded the Iewes whiche dwelt at Damascus, proouyng by conferryng (one scripture with another) that this is verye Christe.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfylled, the Iewes tooke counsell togeather to kyl him.

24 But their laying awayte was knowen of Saul: and they watched the gates day and nyght to kyl him.

25 *Then the disciples tooke him by nyght, and put him downe by the wal, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple him selfe to the disciples: but they were al afrayde of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them howe he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and howe he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Iesus.

28 And he was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem, 29 Speaking boldly in the name of the Lord Iesus, & he spake and disputed againste the Grekes: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knewe, *they brought him to Cesarea, & sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout al Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy ghoste.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout al quarters, he came also to the saintes whiche dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certayne man named Eneas, whiche had kept his bed eyght yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

34 And Peter saide vnto him, Eneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. *And he arose immediately.

35 And al that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, sawe him, whiche turned to the Lorde.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, whiche by interpretation is called (c) Dorcas: the same was ful of good woorkes, and almes deedes, whiche she dyd.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes that she was sicke, and died: whom when they had washed, they layde her in an vpper chamber.

38 And for as muche as Lydda was nygh to Ioppa, and the disciples had hearde that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desyring him that he would not be greeued to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber: And al the widdowes stode rounde about him weepyng, & shewing the coates and garmentes whiche Dorcas made whyle she was with them.

40 And Peter put them al forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and sayde, *Tabitha, aryse. And she opened her eyes, and when she sawe Peter, she sate vp.

41 And Peter gaue her the hande, and lyft her vp: and when he had called the saintes and widdowes, he delyuered her alyue.

42 And (it) was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lorde.

II. The vision that Peter sawe, 17. He was sent to Cornelius.

1 THere was a certayne man in Cesarea, A called Cornelius, a captayne of the bande, called the Italian bande,

2 A deuoute man, and one that feared God with al his houshold, whiche gaue muche almes to the people, and prayed GOD alway.

3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the nienth houre of the day, an angell of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afrayde, and sayde, What is it Lord? And he saide vnto him, Thy (a) prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 And nowe sende men to Ioppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea syde: He shal tel thee what thou oughtest to doo.

7 And when the angel whiche spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his houshold seruantes, and a deuout souldier of them that wayted on him,

8 And tolde them al the matter, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drewe nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the hyghest parte of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 And when he wared hungrie, he would haue eaten: But whyle they made redie, he fel into a traunce,

(a) The prayers & almes of Cornelius pleased God before he was baptised: but without faith God can not be pleased. Cornelius therfore (as Bede truely noteth) had faith, wherby his prayers & almes pleased god. For (sayth he) he came not to faith through workes, but to workes through fayth.

11 And

13 And there came a voyce to him, Ryse Peter, kyl, and eate.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him agayne the second time, What God hath cleansed, that * cal not thou common.

16 This was done thryse: and the vessel was receyued vp agayne into heauen.

17 Nowe while Peter doubted in him selfe what this vision which he had seene should meane: beholde, the men whiche were sent from Cornelius, had made enquiraunce for Simons house, and stoode before the doore, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon, whiche was synamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 Whyle Peter thought on the vision, the spirite sayde vnto him, Beholde, thyre men seeke thee.

20 Aryse therfore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubtyng nothyng: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men whiche were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and sayde, Beyolde, I am he whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they sayd, Cornelius the captaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good reporte among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angel, to sende for thee into his house, and to heare woordes of thee.

23 Then called he them in, * and lodged them: And on the morowe Peter went away with them, * and certayne brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 And the third day after entred they into Cesarea: and Cornelius wayted for them, and had called togeather his kynsmen and special frendes.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe (c) at his feete, and woorshypped (him.)

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp, I my selfe also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & fyndeth many that were come togeather.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, as soone as I was sent for: I aske therfore for what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius sayde, Foure dayes agoe vntyl this houre I was fastyng, and at the nienth houre I prayed in my house, and beholde, a man stoode before me in bright clothyng, 31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes deedes are had in remembraunce in the syght of God.

32 Send therfore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose synname is Peter, he is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the sea syde, who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast wel donne that thou art come. Now therfore are we al here present before God, to heare al things that are commaunded vnto thee of God.

42 And when they were gone out of the ſynagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles beſought that theſe wordes myght be preached to them the next ſabboth.

44 And the nexte ſabboth day came almoſte the whole citie together to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes ſawe the people, they were ful of indignation, and ſpake agaynſt thoſe thinges whiche were ſpoken of Paul, ſpeakyng agaynſt, and raylyng.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and ſayd, * It was neceſſarie that the worde of God ſhould fyrſt haue ben ſpoken to you: but ſeeyng ye put it from you, and thynke your ſelues vnworthie of euerlaſtyng lyfe, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

Mat. 10. b. Eſai. 49. b Luke. 1. c.

47 For ſo hath the Lorde commaunded vs, (ſaying,) I haue made thee a lyght of the Gentiles, that thou be the ſaluation vnto the ende of the worlde.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lorde: and as many as were ordeyned to eternal lyfe, beleeued.

49 And the worde of the Lorde was publiſhed throughout al the region.

50 But the Iewes wonted the deuoute (c) and honeſt women, and the cheefe men of the citie, and raiſed perſecution agaynſt Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coaſtes.

51 But they ſhooke of the duſt of their (d) feete againſt them, & came vnto Iconium,

(c) They were wealthy and ſubſtantial women, & yet ſuperſtitious, beyng led with a blind zeale whom the comon people eſteemed very godly and therefore Luke ſpeaketh here of theſe women, as the worlde eſteemed them.

(d) This they did according to the commaundement of the Goſpel, for a witneſſe of their trauayle, that they came into their citie, and offered to them the doctrine of the Goſpel, whiche they condemned, and thereby ſignified alſo that they ſo deteſted their companie, for this their contempt, that they would not haue the duſt of their citie hang vpon their ſhoes.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. God geueth ſucceſſe to his woorde.
19. Paul is ſtoned.

1 AND it came to paſſe in Iconium, that they went both togeather into the ſynagogue of the Iewes, and ſo ſpake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and alſo of the Grekes beleeued. A

2 But the vnbeleeuyng Iewes ſtyrred vp, and corrupted the myndes of the Gentiles agaynſt the brethren.

3 Long tyme therefore abode they there, ſpeaking boldly with the helpe of the lorde, whiche gaue teſtimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and graunted ſignes and woonders to be done by their handes.

4 But the multitude of the citie (a) was deuided: and part helde with the Iewes, and part with the apoſtles.

5 And when there was an aſſault made both of the Gentiles, & alſo of the Iewes, with their rulers, to doo them violence, and to ſtone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lyſtra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth rounde about.

7 And there were they preachyng the (b) Goſpel.

12 And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was the cheefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters priest, whiche was before their citie, brought oxen and garlandes vnto the doore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Syrs, why do ye these things? * We also are mortall men lyke vnto you, and preache vnto you the Gospell, that ye shoulde turne from these vanities, vnto the liuing GOD, whiche * made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all thynges that are therein.

16 The whiche in times past, suffred all nations to walke in their owne wayes.

17 * Neuertheles, he left not hym selfe without witnesse, in that he shewed his benefites from heauen, in geuyng vs rayne, and fruiteful seasons, fyllyng our hartes with foode and gladnesse.

18 And with these sayings scarse refrayned they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thither came certayne Iewes from Antioche and Iconium, whiche when they had perswaded the (c) people, & had stoned Paul, drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had ben dead.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stoode rounde about him, he rose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed, with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospel to that citie, and had taught many, they returned agayne to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioche, 22 And strengthed the disciples soules agayne, * and exhorted them to continue in the fayth, and that we muste * through much tribulation enter into the kyngdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeyned them Elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with (d) fasting, they commended them to the Lorde, on whom they beleeued.

24 And when they had gone throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had spoken the worde (of God) in Perga, they dessended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by ship to Antioch, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Churche together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and howe he had opened the doore of fayth vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long tyme with the disciples.

The xv. Chapter.

I. The decree of the apostles concernyng circumcision, and other ceremonies of the Iewes. 35. Paul and Barnabas preache in Antioche. 39. Paul and Barnabas sallyng at strife, breake company.

1 AND certaine men which came downe from Iurie, taught the brethren, (and sayde) * Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moses, ye can not be saued.

2 So when there was rysen dissention and disputing, not a litle vnto Paul and Barnabas, agaynst them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certayne other of them, should go vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles & Elders, about this question.

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Churche, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto al the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Churche, and of the Apostles, and Elders, and they declared al thynges that GOD had done with them.

5 Then rose vp certayne of the sect of the Pharisees whiche did beleeue, saying that it was needeful to circumcise them, and to commande to keepe the lawe of Moses.

6 And the Apostles and Elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had ben much disputing, Peter rose vp, and sayde vnto them, Ye men and brethren, ye knowe howe that a good whyle agoe, GOD dyd choose among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth shoulde heare the worde of the Gospel, and beleue.

8 And God whiche * knoweth the hartes bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy ghost, euen as he did vnto vs:

9 And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifying * their hartes by fayth.

10 Nowe therefore why tempt ye GOD, to put on the disciples neckes the (a) yoke, 12 Then al the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, whiche tolde what signes and wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they holde theyr peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon tolde howe God at the begynnyng dyd visite, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the prophetes, as it is written,

16 After this I will returne, and will builde agayne the (b) tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that whiche is fallen in decay of it, wyl I builde agayne, and I wyll set it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, & al the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, sayth the Lord, whiche doth al these thinges.

18 Knowen vnto GOD are all his workes from the beginning of the worlde.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them whiche from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstayne them selues * from filthynesse of idolles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and *from blood.

21 For Moses of olde tyme hath in euery citie them that preache hym in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles & Elders, with the whole Churche, to sende chosen men of theyr owne company to Antioche, with Paul and Barnabas: (That is) *Iudas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, whiche were cheefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, sende greetyng vnto the brethren whiche are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 For asmuche as we haue heard that certayne whiche departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbred your myndes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and kepe the lawe, to whom we gaue no suche commaundement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thyng, when we were come together with one accorde, to sende chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded theyr lyues for the name of our Lorde Iesu Christe.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas & Silas, which shal also tel you the same thinges by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy ghost and E to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary thynges.

29 (That is to say,) That ye abstayne from thynges offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye kepe your selues, ye shal do wel. So fare ye wel.

30 Nowe therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioche: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delyuered the Epistle.

31 Whiche when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, beyng prophetes also them selues, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthed them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the apostles.

34 Notwithstandyng, it pleased Silas to abyde there styl.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in F
Antioche, teaching & preaching the worde of the Lorde, with other many also.

36 But after a certayne space, Paul sayde vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe agayne and visite our brethren in euery citie where we haue vttered the worde of the Lorde, and knowe (and see) howe they do.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsel to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul woulde not take hym vnto theyr company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 And (c) the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other, and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cypers.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, beyng committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

3 Paul wolde that he shoulde goe forth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Jewes whiche were in those quarters: for they knewe al that his father was a Greke.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were * ordeyned of the apostles and elders which were at Hierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the fayth, and encreased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gonne throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were * forbidden of ỹ holy ghost to preache the woorde in Asia,

7 They comming to Mysia, sought to goe into Bithynia: but the spirite suffred them not.

8 And they passing through Mysia, came downe to Troada.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night, There stoode a man of Macedonie, and prayed hym, saying, Comme into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gathering by conference, that the lord had called vs for to preache the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then we being caryed from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, whiche is the cheefe citie in the partes of Macedocia, and a free citie: and we were in that citie abyding certayne dayes.

13 And on the day of the sabbothes we went out of the citie, besides a ryuer, where prayer was wont to be made: & we sate downe, and spake vnto the women whiche resorted thyther.

14 And a certayne woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, whiche woorshipped God, gaue vs audience: Whose hart the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the thinges whiche were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptised, & her household, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faythful to the Lord, come into my house, & abide there. And she constrayned vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certaine damsel possessed with a spirit of (a) soothsaying, met vs: which brought her maisters muche vantage with soothsaying.

17 The same followed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying, These men are the seruantes of the most high God, whiche shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this dyd she many dayes: But Paul not content, turned about, and sayde to the spirite, I commaunde thee * in the name of Jesu Christe, that thou comme out of her. And he came out the same houre. Mat. 17.a.

19 And when her maisters sawe that ỹ * hope of their gaynes was gonne, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers, Actes. 19. a.

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These menne being Jewes, doo exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preache ordinances, whiche are not lawful for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes. D

22 And the people ranne agaynst them, and the officers rent their clothes, & commaunded to beate them with rodes. 2. Cor. 11. f.

23 And when they had layde many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, commaunding the iaylour of the prison to keepe them diligently.

24 Whiche when he had receiued such commaundement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed & lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddainely there was a great earthquake, so that the fundation of the prison was shaken: & * immediatly all the doores opened, and euery mans bandes were losed. Actes. 5. d. and. 12. b.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and sawe the prison doores open, he drue out his swoord, and woulde haue killed him selfe, supposyng that the prisoners had ben fledde.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Doo thee selfe no harme, for we are all here. E

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and sayde, Syrs, * what must I doo to be saued? Luke. 3. a.

32 And they spake vnto him the woorde of the Lorde, and to al that were in his house.

33 And he tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their woundes, and was baptised him selfe, and all they of his household straightway.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeantes, sayeing, Let those menne goe.
36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this sayeing to Paul, The officers haue sent worde to loose you: Nowe therefore, gett you hence, and goe in peace.
37 Then sayde Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison, nowe doo they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verily: but let them come them selues, and fetche vs out.
38 And the sergeantes told these woordes vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.
Mat.8.9. 39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desyred them to depart out of the citie.
40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into (the house) of Lydia, and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

The.xvii. Chapter.

Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore.

17 1 AS they made their iourney through Amphypolis, & Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Iewes.
2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in vnto them, and three sabboth dayes disputed with them out of the scriptures,

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certayne vagabondes, and euyl menne, and gathered a company, & set all the citie on a roze: and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.
6 And when they found them not, they drue Iason & certayne brethren vnto the heades of the citie, crying, These that haue troubled the worlde, are come hither also,

8 And they troubled the people and the officers of the citie, when they heard these thinges.
9 And when they had taken sufficient surete of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.
10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: whiche when they were comme thither, they entred into the synagogue of the Iewes.
11 These were the noblest of birth among them of Thessalonica, whiche receiued the woorde with all readynesse of mynde, and searched* the scriptures dayly, whether 12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honest women whiche were Grekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the woorde of GOD was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thyther, and mooued the people.
14 And then immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to goe as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there stil. C Actes.18.
15 And they that guyded Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with speede, and went their way.
16 Whyle Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was moued in him, when he saw the citie geuen to woorshipping of idols.
17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto him by chaunce.
18 Then certayne philosophers of the (b) Epicures, and of the (c) Stoickes disputed with him: and some saide, What wyl this babler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of new gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, & the resurrection.
19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the streete of Mars, sayeing, May we knowe what this newe doctrine wherof thou speakest is?
20 For thou bringest certayne strange thinges to our eares, we woulde knowe therefore what these thinges meane.
21 (For al the Athenians and strangers whiche were there, had leysure to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare some newe thing.)
22 Then Paul stoode in the middes of the streete of Mars, and saide, Ye menne of Athens, I perceyue that in al thinges ye are to superstitious.

13 Saying, This felowe counselleth men to worship God contrary to the lawe.

14 And when Paul nowe was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, Yf it were a matter of wrong, or an euyll deede, O ye Iewes, reason would that I should beare with you:

15 But yf it be a question of wordes and names, or of your lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge of suche matters.

16 And he draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the cheefe ruler of the synagogue, & smote hym before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of those thynges.

18 And Paul after this tarryed (there) yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying hym.) And he shore his head in (b) Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.

(b) Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul takyng ship, did sheare his head according to his vowe. For according to the lawe of Moses, they that vowed them selues to God, were commaunded to suffer there heare to growe as long as they would continue Nazarites, and afterward to sheare it and to burne it. This did Paul, not forgetting what he had before decreed vpon the Apostles, touching the abolishyng of the lawe: but left the Iewes which beleeued should be offended, he fayned hym selfe a Iewe, sowing the Iewes. 1.Corin.9.b

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he him selfe entred into the synalogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.

20 When they desyred hym to tary longer time with them, he consented not:
21 But bade them farewel, saying, I must needes at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I wyll returne agayne vnto you yf God wil: And he sayled from Ephesus.
22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and assended vp, and saluted the Church,
he went to Antioche.
23 And when he had taryed there a whyle, he departed, and went ouer al the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strength-thening al the disciples.
I. Cor. 1. b. 24 And a certayne Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, & mighty in the scriptures.
25 The same was instourmed in the way of the Lorde, and being feruent in the spirite, he spake and taught diligently the thinges of the Lorde, knowing only the baptisme of Iohn.
26 And the same began to speake boldly in the synagogue: Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and (c) expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.
27 And when he was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Whiche when he was come, helped them much whiche had beleeued through grace.
28 For he ouercame the Iewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christe.

(c) Apollo being a witty and a learned man, was not ashamed to be taught & instructed in the doctrine of Christe, of a poore craftes man and his wyfe.

The. xix. Chapter.

3. Of baptisme. 6. Of the holy ghost geuen by Paules handes. 9. The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

1 AND it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thorowe the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and founde certayne disciples,
2 And sayde vnto them, Haue ye receiued (a) the holy ghost synce ye beleeued? And they sayde vnto hym, We haue not heard whether there be any holy ghost or no.
3 And he sayde vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptised? And they sayd, Vnto (b) Iohns baptisme.
4 Then sayde Paul, Iohn verily baptised with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shoulde beleeue on him which shoulde come after him, that is, on Christe Iesus.
5 When they heard this, they were baptised in (c) the name of the Lorde Iesus.
6 And when Paul had layde his handes vpon them, the holy ghost came on them, & they spake with tongues, and prophesied.
7 And al the men were about twelue.
8 And he went into the synagogue, & spake boldly for the space of three monethes, disputing and perswadyng those thynges that (apperteyne) to the kyngdome of God.
9 But when diuers waxed harde harted, and beleeued not, but spake euil of the way (of the Lorde) & that before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples: and he disputed dayly in the scoole of one called Tyrannus.
10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that al they which dwelt in Asia, hearde the worde of the Lorde Iesus, both Iewes and Greekes.
11 And God *wrought special myracles by the handes of Paul:
12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sycke, napkyns, and partlettes, and the diseases departed from them, and the *euil spirites went out of them.
13 Then certayne of the vagabounde Iewes exorcistes, toke vpon them to cal ouer them whiche had euyl spirites, the name of the Lorde Iesus, saying, We adiure you by *Iesus whom Paul preacheth.
14 And there was seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and cheefe of the priestes, whiche dyd so.
15 And the euil spirite answeared, and said, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?
16 And the man in whom the euil spirite was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuayled agaynst them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.
17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Greekes also whiche dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them al, & the name of the Lorde Iesus was magnified.
18 And many that beleeued, came, and *confessed, and shewed theyr workes.
19 Many also of them whiche vsed curious craftes, brought theyr bookes, and burned them before al men: and they counted the price of them, and founde it fiftie thousand peeces of siluer.
20 So mightily grewe the worde of God, and preuayled.
21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirite, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue ben there, I must also see Rome.
22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto hym, Timotheus and Erastus,

(a) By the holy ghost, here he meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirite.
(b) By this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrine which therefore is so cal. led, for that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.
(c) They that were baptised, were not baptised with water, beyng before baptised of Iohn with water: but they were baptised with visible gyftes of the holy ghost, which saint Luke declaryng howe it was, writeth that it was by the laying on of saint Paules handes.

Erastus, but he him selfe remayned in Asia for a season.

23 And the same tyme there arose no litle a doo about that way.

24 For a certayne man, named Demetrius, a syluer smith, whiche made syluer shrines for Diana, ministred no smal gayne vnto the craftes men:

25 Whom he called togeather, with ỳ workmen of like occupation, and sayde, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue aduantage.

Iere.16.d.

26 Moreouer, ye see & heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout al Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away inuche people, sayeing that they be no goddes which are made with handes.

Psal.115.a.

27 So that not only this our craft commeth into peril to be set at nought: but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana shoulde be despised, and her magnificence shoulde be destroyed, whom all Asia and the worlde worshippeth.

28 And when they hearde these sayeinges, they were ful of wrath, and cryed out, sayeing, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the common hall, with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Paules companions.

30 When Paul woulde haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certayne of the cheefe of Asia, whiche were his frendes, sent vnto him, desyring him that he woulde not presse into the common hal.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, & some another: and the assemblie was all our of quiet, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come togeather.

33 And (certayne) of the people drue Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander beckened with the hande, and would haue geuen the people an answeare.

Actes.21.g.

34 But when they knewe that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of al meant, cryeing, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacifyed the people, he sayde, Ye menne of Ephesus, what man is he that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is * the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the (image) whiche came downe from Jupiter?

* Some copies, a worshipper

36 Seeing then that these thinges can not be spoken agaynst, ye ought to be quiet, and to doo nothing rashely.

37 For ye haue brought hyther these menne, whiche are neyther robbers of Churches, not yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore yf Demetrius, & the craftes men whiche are with him, haue a matter agaynst any man, the lawe is open, & there are deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But yf ye enquire any thing concernyng other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuche as there is no cause whereby we may geue a reckening of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblie depart.

The. xx. Chapter.

1. Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia, 7. he celebrateth the Lordes supper, and preacheth.

1 AND after the vprore was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, and tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone ouer those partes, and had geuen them a long exhortation, he came into Grece,

3 And there abode three monethes: and when the Iewes layde wayte for hym, as he was about to sayle into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanyed him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 These going before, taried vs at Troas:

6 And we sayled away from Philippos, after the dayes of sweete bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fyue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And vpon one of the sabboth dayes, when the disciples came togeather for to breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, ready to depart on the morowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber where they were gathered togeather.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certayne young man named Eutichus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe, and as Paul was long reasoning, he was ỳ more ouercome with sleepe, and fel downe from the thirde lofte, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fell on him, and imbraced him, and sayde, Make nothing a doo: for his lyfe is in him.

12 And they brought the young man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afore to shippe, and sayled vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, minding him selfe to goe a foote.

¶ 14 And when he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarryed at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to sayle ouer by Ephesus, because he would not spende the tyme in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Epheius, and called the elders of the Churche.

18 Which when they were comme to him, he sayde vnto them, Ye knowe from the fyrst day that I came into Asia, after what manner I haue ben with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lorde with al humblenesse of minde, and with many teares, and temptations, which came vnto me by the layenges awaite of the Iewes:

20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profytable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throwe out euery house:

D 21 Witnessing both to the Iewes and also to the Grekes, the repentance that is towarde God, and the fayth which is toward our Lorde Iesus Christe.

Luke. 24. c.

22 And nowe beholde, I goe bounde (a) in the spirite vnto Hierusalem, not knowyng the thinges that shal come vnto me:

(a) That is to say, I goe by the impulsion and commaundement of the holy ghost, who draweth me as with a bonde.

23 But that the holy ghost witnesseth in euery cite, sayeing that bondes and troubles abyde me.

24 But none of these thinges moue me, neyther compt I my lyfe deare vnto mee selfe, so that I might fulfyl my course with ioy, and the ministerie which I haue receyued of the Lorde Iesu, to testifye the Gospel of the grace of God.

2. Tim. 2. b.

25 And nowe beholde, I am sure that henceforth ye al, among whom I haue gonne preching the kyngdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Therfore, I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure from the blood of al men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you al the counsel of God.

¶ 28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to al the flocke, ouer the whiche the holy ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the Churche of God, whiche he hath purchased (b) with his owne blood.

(b) That whiche apparteyneth to Christes manhood (whiche is shedding of blood) is here spoken of his godhead, because of the communion of the properties and vnion of two natures in one person.

29 For I knowe this, that after my departing, shal greeuous woolfes enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shal men aryse, speaking peruerse thinges, to (c) drawe away disciples after them.

(c) Through their ambition, which is mother of al sectes and heresies.

31 Therefore watche, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceassed not to warne euery one night & day with teares.

32 And nowe brethren, I commende you to God, and to the woorde of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to geue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctifyed.

33 I haue desyred no mans siluer, or golde, or vesture.

34 Yea, ye your selues knowe, that * these handes haue ministred vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all thinges, howe that so labouryng ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the woordes of the Lorde Iesu (howe that he sayde) It is more blessed to geue, then to receyue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them al.

37 And they all wept sore, and fel on Paules necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorowyng most of all for the woordes whiche he spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanyed him vnto the shippe.

1 AND when it came to passe that we had A lanched foorth, & were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day folowyng vnto the Rhodes, & from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had found a shippe sayling vnto Phenice, we went aboord, & set forth.

3 Nowe when Cyprus began to appeare (vnto vs) we left it on the left hande, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the shippe vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we tarryed there seuen dayes: who sayde to Paul through the spirite, * that he shoulde not goe vp to Hierusalem.

12 And when we heard these thinges, both we & other whiche were of the same place, besought hym, that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

*Acts 24.b. Paul doth curſe the high prieſte, as denoūce ſurely the puniſhment of god, which ſhoulde light vppon him in the name of prophecying.

2 And the high prieſte Ananias commaunded them that ſtoode by to ſmyte him on the mouth.

3 Then ſayde Paul vnto him, God ſhal ſmyte thee thou (a) painted wal: for *ſyteſt thou and iudgeſt me after the lawe, and commaundeſt me to be ſmytten contrarye to the lawe?

*Deut.17.b. *Leuit.18.b.

4 And they that ſtoode by, ſayde, *Reuileſt thou Gods high prieſte?

5 Then ſaide Paul, I wyſt not brethren, (b) that he was the high prieſte: For it is wrytten, Thou ſhalt not curſe the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceyued that the one parte were Saducees, and the other Phariſees, he cried out in the counſaile, Men and brethren, I am a Phariſie, the ſonne of a Phariſee: *of the hope and reſurrection of the dead I am iudged.

*Acts.24.b.

7 And when he had ſo ſayde, there aroſe a debate betweene the Phariſees, & the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 *For the Saducees ſay that there is no reſurrection, neyther angel, nor ſpirite: but the Phariſees confeſſe both.

*Mat.22.c. *Mar.12.b. *Luke.20.c.

9 And there aroſe a great crye: and when the Scribes whiche were of the Phariſees part aroſe, they ſtroue, ſaying, We fynd no euyl in this man: but if a ſpirite or an angel hath ſpoken to him, let vs not ſtryue agaynſt God.

10 And when there aroſe a great debate, the cheefe captayne fearyng leſt Paul ſhoulde haue benne pluckte a ſunder of them, commaunded the ſouldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, & to bryng him into the caſtle.

11 And the nyght folowyng, the Lorde ſtoode by him, and ſayde, Be of good cheare Paul: for as thou haſt teſtified of me in Hieruſalem, *ſo muſt thou beare witneſſe alſo at Rome.

*Acts.27.b.

12 And when it was day, certayne of the Iewes geathered them ſelues togeather, and made a (c) vowe, ſaying that they would neither eate nor drynke, tyll they had kylled Paul.

(c) The word properly ſignifieth curſing, as when a man either ſweareth, voweth, or wiſheth him ſelfe to dye, or to be gone to the deuyl, excepte he bring his purpoſe to paſſe.

13 And they were more then fourtie (men) whiche had made this conſpiracie.

14 And they came to the cheefe prieſtes and elders, and ſayde, We haue bounde our ſelues with a vowe, that we wyl eate nothyng vntyl we haue ſlayne Paul.

15 Nowe therfore geue ye knowledge to the cheefe captayne, and to the counſayle, that he bring him foorth vnto you to morowe, as though ye would knowe ſomethyng more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neare, are redie to kyl him.

16 And when Paules ſyſters ſonne hearde of their laying awayte, he went and entred into the caſtle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes vnto him, and ſayde, Bryng this young man vnto the high captayne: for he hath a certayne thyng to ſhewe him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captayne, and ſayd, Paul the priſoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this young man vnto thee, whiche hath a certayne matter to ſhewe thee.

19 Then the high captayne tooke him by the hande, and went with him out of the way, and aſked him, What is it that thou haſt to tel me?

20 And he ſayde, The Iewes are determined to deſyre thee, that thou wouldeſt bryng foorth Paul to morowe into the counſel, as though they would enquyre ſomewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But folowe not thou their myndes: for there lye in waite for him of them moe then fourtie men, whiche haue bounde them ſelues with a vowe, that they wyl neyther eate nor drynke, tyl they haue kylled him: and nowe are they redie, and looke for a promiſe from thee.

22 The cheefe captayne then let the young man man departe, and charged him, See thou tel it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these thynges to me.

23 And he called vnto him two vnder captaynes, saying, Make redie two hundred soudiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen three score and tenne, & spearemen two hundred, at the thyrde houre of the nyght:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the bygh deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner,

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most myghtie ruler Felix, sendeth greetynges.

Actes.20.f. 27 * This man was taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue benne kylled of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, and perceyued that he was a Romane:

Actes.22.g. 28 And when I woulde haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, * I brought him foorth into their counsayle.

29 Whom I perceyued to be accused of questions of their lawe: * but hauing nothyng layde to his charge woorthie of death, or of bondes.

Actes.25.e.

30 And when it was shewed me howe that the Iewes layde wayte for the man, I sent (him) straightway to thee, and gaue commaundement to his accusers, that the thinges whiche they haue against him, they shoulde tel before thee. Farewel.

31 Then the soudiers, as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by nighte to Antipatridis.

32 On the morowe, they lefte the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the deputie had read (the letter) he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia:

Deut.17.a. 35 * I will heare thee, saide he, when thyne accusers are come also. And he commaunded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hal.

The.xxiiii. Chapter.

Paul being accused, answeareth for his lyfe and doctrine.

1 AND after fyue dayes, Ananias * the bygh priest descended, with the elders, and with a certayne oratour, named Tertullus, whiche appeared before the deputie agaynst Paul.

Actes.25.d.

2 And when Paul was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue (a) obteined great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that manye good thynges are donne vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 That alowe we euer, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.

4 Notwithstandyng, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I praye thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe woordes.

5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto al the Iewes in the whole worlde, and a maynteyner of the secte of the Nazarites.

6 Whiche also hath gonne about to pollute the temple: * whom we tooke, and woulde haue iudged accordyng to our lawe.

7 But the bygh captayne Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence toke him away out of our handes,

8 Commaunding his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou mayest, yf thou wylt enquyre, knowe the certayntie of all these thinges, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes lykewyse affyrmed, saying that these thynges were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie him selfe had beckened vnto him that he shoulde speake, answeared, With a more quiet minde doo I answeare for mee selfe, forasmuch as I vnderstande, that thou hast ben of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to woorshyp.

12 And they neyther founde me in the temple disputyng with any man, either raysyng vp the people, neyther in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neyther canne they prooue the thinges whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way whiche they cal (b) heresie, so woorshyp I the God of my fathers, beleeuyng al thinges whiche are writen in the lawe and the prophetes,

15 And haue hope towardes God, that * the resurrection of the dead, whiche they them selues looke for also, shalbe both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein * studie I, to haue alwaye a cleare conscience toward God, and toward men.

17 Nowe after many yeeres, I came * and brought almes to my nation, and offerynges:

18 In the whiche they founde me purified in the temple, neyther with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.

19 Howbeit, there were certaine Iewes out of Asia,

20 Whiche

(a) Felix by his diligence had taken Lazarus the captayne of the murderers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which raysed vp tumultes in Iurie. For these the orator praysed him: as therwayes he was both cruel and couetous.

Actes.21.f.

(b) No marueile though in our time Gods true religion be called heresie, for so it was counted of the wyked, euen in the begynning of Christes kyngdome.

Actes.13.d.

Actes.21.h.

20 Whiche ought to be here (c) present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue found any euyll doyng in me, while I stand here in the counsaile.

22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, *That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these thinges, he deferred them: for he knew very wel of that way, and saide, When Lysias the captayne is come downe, I wyl know the vttermost of your matter.

24 And *he commaunded an vnder captaine to keepe Paul, and to let hym haue rest, and that he shoulde forbyd none of his acquaintance to minister vnto hym, or to come vnto hym.

25 And after certayne dayes, when Felix came with his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, he called forth Paul, and heard him of the fayth which is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of ryghteousnesse, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix (d) trembled, and answered, Goe thy way for this tyme, when I haue a conuenient season, I wyl sende for thee.

27 He hoped also that money shoulde haue ben geuen hym of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with hym.

28 But after two yeeres, Portius Festus came in to Felix roome: and Felix *willing to shewe the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bounde.

The. xxv. Chapter.

3. The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus.
2. He answereth for hym selfe.

NOw when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea vnto Hierusalem.

2 Then enfourmed him the high priest, and the cheefe of the Iewes, against Paul, and they besought hym,

3 And desyred fauour against hym, that he would sende for him to Hierusalem, laying wayte in the way to kyl hym.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he hym selfe would shortly depart thyther.

5 Let them therefore, sayd he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse hym, if there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had tarryed among them more then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, & commaunded Paul to be brought.

7 Who beyng come, the Iewes which were come from Hierusalem, stoode about (hym) and layde many and greeuous complaynts against Paul, whiche they coulde not (a) proue,

8 While he answered (for hym selfe) that neither against the lawe of the Iewes, neyther against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thyng at al.

9 But Festus wyllyng to doo the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and sayd, Wylt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these thinges before me?

10 Then sayde Paul, I stande at Cesars iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For if I doo any wrong, or haue committed any thyng woorthy of death, I refuse not to dye: but if there be none (of these thynges) whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto (b) Cesar.

12 Then spake Festus, with the counsayle, and answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa, and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had ben there a good season, Festus rehearsed Paules cause vnto the king, sayeing, There is a certayne man leaft in bondes of Felix, 15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high priestes and the elders of the Iewes enfourmed me, and desyred to haue iudgement against hym.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the maner of the Romans, for fauour to deliuer any man that he should perish, before that he whiche is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answeare for hym self, concerning the crime laid against hym.

17 Therfore when they were come thyther, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stoode vp, *they brought none accusation of suche thynges as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against hym of their own superstition, and of one Iesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alyue.

20 And because I doubted of suche maner of questions, I asked hym whether he would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

(a) whiles Paul lyued vnder the lawe like other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuertion vnto Christe, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a cõmon case, that the seruants of god are euyl spoken of for their welpoyng.

(b) The iniquitie of the Iudge, who contrary to equitie, wylling to pleasure the Iewes, denied howe to betray Paul, draue Paul to appeale, which is the vttermost remedie for suche as by wrong iudgement are ops pressed: and this appellation by gods prouidence, was a meane that Paul should testifie of Christ at Rome also Acts. 23.6.

21 But

D 21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded hym to be kept, tyl I myght send hym to Caesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Festus, I would also heare the man mee self. To morowe sayd he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the cheefe captaynes and cheefe men of the citie, at Festus cõmaundement was Paul brought forth.

24 And Festus sayd, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to lyue any longer.

25 Yet found I nothyng woorthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send hym:

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lorde: Wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I myght haue some what to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable for to send a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes which are layd against hym.

The .xxvi. Chapter.

1. Kyng Agrippa heareth Paul. 25. Paules modest answeare against the iniurie of Festus.

1 THen Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thee selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answeared (for hym selfe.)

2 I thinke mee selfe happy, kyng Agrippa, because I shal answere this day before thee of all the thynges whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all customes & questions which are among (a) the Iewes: wherfore I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

4 My life that I haue led of a chyld, which was at the first among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe al the Iewes, 5 Which knewe me from the begynnyng, (if they would testifie) that after the most straytest sect of our (b) religion, I lyued a Pharisee.

6 And nowe I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Vnto whiche promise our twelue tribes B instantly seruyng God day and nyght, hope to come: For which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thyng incredible vnto you, that God rayseth the dead?

9 I also verily thought in mee selfe, that I ought to doo many contrary thinges, cleane against the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

10 *Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, Actes.8.a. and many of the Saintes dyd I shut vp in 1.Cor.15.b. prison, hauyng receyued auctoritie of the Galat.1.c. hygh priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence.

11 And I pounished them oft in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, and persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 About whiche thinges as I went to Damascus, with auctoritie and commission of the hygh priestes, 13 Euen at mydday, O kyng, I sawe in the way a lyght from heauen, above the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about me, and them which iourneyed with me.

14 And when we were al fallen to the earth, C I hearde a voyce speakyng vnto me in the Hebrue tongue, and saying, *Saul, Saul, Actes.9.a. why persecutest thou me? It is harde for and.22.c. thee to kicke against the prickes.

15 And I said, Who art thou Lord? And he sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But ryse and stande vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister & a witnesse, both of those thinges which thou hast seene, and of those thinges in the whiche I wyl appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuerynge thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darkenesse to lyght, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receyue forgeuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by fayth that is in me.

19 Wherfore, O kyng Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision.

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout al the coastes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doo such workes as become them that repent.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in D the temple, and went about to kyl me.

22 Seeyng therefore that I haue obteyned helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessyng both to small and great, saying none

(a) He knew muche, but he sayled in the ryght applying of his knowlege, as they do which be wyse in their own conceites only, and haue the zeale of God, but not accordyng to knowledge.

(b) He taketh the sect of the Pharisees to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better then the other sectes. The Saduces denied the resurrection of the dead.

The Esseis glorying in strayghtnesse of lyfe, litle regarde true doctrine.

none other thinges then those whiche the prophetes and Moses did say should come:
23 That Christe shoulde suffer, and that he should be the fyrst that should ryse from the dead, and shoulde shewe lyght vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus spake for him selfe, Festus sayd with a loude voyce, Paul thou art besyde thee (c) selfe, muche learning doeth make thee mad.
25 But he sayde, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speake foorth the woordes of trueth and soberneſſe.
26 For the kyng knoweth of these thinges, before whom also I speake freely, neyther beleeue I, that any of these thynges are hidden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.
27 Kyng Agrippa, beleeuest thou the prophetes? I wote wel that thou beleeuest.
28 Then Agrippa sayd vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perſwadest (d) me to be a Christian.
29 And Paul sayde, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also al that heare me to day, were both somewhat, & also in a great deale suche as I am, except these bondes.
30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.
31 And when they were gonne aparte, they talked betweene them selues, saying, This man doeth nothing woorthie of death, or of bondes.
32 Then sayde Agrippa vnto Festus, This man myght haue ben let loose, yf he had not appealed vnto Caesar.

The. xxvii. Chapter.

1. Paul shyppeth toward Rome. 3. Julius the captayne entreateth hym curteously.

1 AND when it was concluded that we shoulde sayle into Italie, they delyue-red both Paul and certayne other prisoners, vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Augustus bande.
2 And we entred into a shyp of Adramyttium, & loosed from lande, appoynted to saile by the coastes of Asia, one * Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarrying styl with vs.
3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Julius * curteously entreated Paul, & gaue him libertie to goe vnto his frendes, and to refreshe him selfe.
4 And when we had launched from thence, we sayled harde by Cypers, because the wyndes were contrary.
5 And when we had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra (a citie) whiche is in Lycia, 6 And there the vnder captayne founde a shyp of Alexandria, sayling into Italie, and he put vs therein.
7 And when we had sayled slowly many B
dayes, and scarse were come ouer againſt Gnidum, because the winde withstoode vs, we sailed harde by * Candie, ouer against * Or, Creta, whiche was an high hyll of Candie.
Salmone,
8 And with much woorke sailed beyonde it:
and came vnto a place whiche is called the Fayre hauens, nygh whereunto was the citie of Lasea.
9 When muche tyme was spent, and when sayling was nowe iepardous, because also that the fast was nowe alredie past, Paul put them in remembraunce,
10 And sayde vnto them, Syrs, I perceyue that this voyage wyl be with hurt & muche domage, not of the ladyng and shyp onely, but also of our lyues.
11 Neuertheleſſe, the vnder captayne beleeued the gouernour and the maister of the shyp, more then those thynges which were spoken of Paul.
12 And because the hauen was not commodious to wynter in, many tooke counsayle to departe thence, yf by any meanes they might attayne to Phenice, & there to wynter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth toward the Southwest and Northwest wynde.
13 And when the Southwynde blewe softly, they supposyng that they had obteyned C their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sayled past Candie.
14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a stawe of wynde out of the Northeast, whiche is called Euroclydon.
15 And when the shyp was caught, & could not resyst the wynde, we let her goe, and were dryuen with the weather.
16 But we were carried into an Ile, which is called Clauda, and had muche woorke to come by a boate, 17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the shyp, fearyng lest they should fal into the Syrtes: and so they let downe a * vessel, and were carried. * Some reade, the sayles.
18 The nexte day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightned the ship:
19 And the third day we cast out with our owne handes the tackelyng of the shyp.
20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no smal tempest laye vppon vs, all hope that we should be saued was then taken away.
21 But after long abstinence, Paul stoode D foorth in the myddes of them, & sayd, Syrs, ye shoulde haue hearkened vnto me, and not haue loosed from Candie, and to haue gayned vnto vs this harme and losse.

N

22 And nowe I exhorte you to be of good cheare: for there shalbe no losse of any mans lyfe among you, but of the shyp.

23 For there stoode by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, & whom I serue, Actes.25. 24 Saying, Feare not Paul, * thou must be brought before Cæsar, and lo, God hath geuen thee (a) all them that saile with thee.

(a) The graces and blessinges which God geueth to his childrē profite many tymes the enimyes, whiche are vnworthie to receiue the fruite there.

25 Wherefore syrs be of good cheare: for I beleeue God that it shalbe euen as it was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a * certaine Ilande.

27 But when the fourtienth nyght was come, as we were sayling in Adria about mydnyght, the shippmen deemed that they drewe neare to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and founde it twentie fadomes: and when they had goone a litle further, they sounded agayne, and founde it fyftiene fadomes.

29 Then fearyng lest we should haue fallen on some rocke, they caste foure ankers out of the sterne, and wyshed for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the shyp, when they had let downe the boat into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue caste ankers out of the forshyp, 31 Paul sayde to the vnder captayne, and to the souldiers, Except these abyde in the shyp, ye (b) can not be saued.

(b) Paul woulde vse such meanes as God had ordeyned, lest he shuld seme to haue tempted hym

32 Then the souldiers cut of the rope of the boate, and let it fal away.

33 And when the day begamne to appeare, Paul besought them al to take meate, saying, This is the fourtienth day that ye haue tarried and continued fastyng, receyuyng nothyng at al.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubte is for your health, for there shal not (c) an heare fal from the head of any of you.

(c) By this Hebrewe speache is meant that they shoulde be in all pointes safe & sounde. 1. Tim. 4. a.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and * gaue thankes to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they al of good cheare, and they also tooke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the shyp, two hundred, three score, & sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lyghted the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the lande: but they spied a certayne bauen with a banke, into the whiche they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the shyp.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed * (them selues) vnto the sea, and loosed the vnder bandes, and hoysed vp the mayne saile to the winde, and drewe to lande.

* or, the shyppe.

41 And when they fell into a place whiche had the sea on both sydes, they thrust in the shyp, and the forepart stucke fast & moued not, but the hynder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsayle was to kyl the prisoners, lest any of them when he had swomme out, shoulde runne away.

43 But the vnder captayne willyng to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commaunded that they which could swym, should cast them selues fyrst into the sea, and scape to lande:

44 And the other, some on boordes, and some on broken peeces of the shyp: and so it came to passe, that they escaped al safe to lande.

The. xxviii. Chapter.

5. The Viper hurteth not Paules hande.
23. Paul preacheth Christe at Rome.

1 AND when they were escaped, then they knewe that the Ile was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no litle kyndnesse, for they kyndeled a fyre, and receiued vs euery one, because of the present rayne, and because of the colde.

3 And when Paul had geathered a bundle of stickes, and layde them on the fyre, there came a Viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hande.

4 And when the strangers sawe the beast hang on his hande, they sayde among them selues, No doubte this man is (a) a murderer, whom though we haue escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to lyue.

5 And he shooke of the Viper into the fyre, and (b) felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they wayted when he shoulde haue swolne, or fallen downe dead sodainly: but after they had looked a great while, and sawe no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and sayde that he was a (c) God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, whiche receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And it came to passe that ỹ father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, & of a bloody flyxe, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and layde his handes on him, and healed him.

(a) Suche is the peruerse iudgemente of mē, that they condemne them whom they see in any affliction.

(b) By this myracle God perfourmed his promise made to his disciples, that neither serpentes, nor poiso, should hurte them: and also the same, which cōfyrmed the Gospel of Christe, whiche Paul preached vnto the worlde.

(c) Behold the extremitie of infidelitie, for after outrage and errour, they forthwith turne to the contrarye.

9 So

9 So When this was done, other also whiche had diseases in the Ile, came, and were healed:

10 Whiche also did vs great honour, and when we departed, they laded vs with suche thinges as were necessarie.

11 And after three monethes we departed in a shyp of Alexandria, whiche had wyntred in the Ile, whose badge was (d) Castor and Pollux.

(d) These the Paynims fayned to be Iupiters chyldren, Gods of the sea.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we taryed there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the south winde blewe, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

14 Where we founde brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes: and so we came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes: When Paul sawe them, he thanked GOD, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captayne delyuered ỹ prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwel by him selfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes togeather. And when they were come togeather, he sayd vnto them, Men and brethren, though * I haue committed nothyng agaynst the people or lawes of the fathers, *yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the handes of the Romanes.

Acts.23.c

Acts.23.c

18 Whiche when they had examined me, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

Acts.23.b.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrayned to appeale vnto Caesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

(j) That is, our Iesus Christes sake, whom they had lōg looked for, to be the redeemer of the world.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see (you) and to speake with you: because that for the (e) hope of Israel I am bounde with this chayne.

21 And they sayde vnto hym, We neyther receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neyther any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we wyl heare of thee what thou thynkest: for as concerning this secte, we know that *euery where it is spokē against.

Luke.2.c.

23 And when they had appointed hym a day, there came many to him into his lodgyng, to whom he expounded and testified the kyngdome of God, perswadyng them concernyng Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the prophets, frō morning to nyght.

24 And * some were perswaded in the thinges which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

Actes.17.a.

25 And when they agreed not among themselues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, (that is to say,) Well spake the holy ghost by Esaias the prophete, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, *Goe vnto this people, and say, With your eares shal ye heare, and shal not vnderstand, and with your eyes shal ye se, and not perceiue.

Esai.6.c. Matth.13.b. Mark. 4.b. Luke.8.b. Iohn.12.f.

27 For the hart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearyng, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they shoulde see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hartes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shal heare it.

29 And when he had sayd these wordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasonyng among them selues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres full in his owne hyred house, & receiued all that came in vnto hym, 31 Preaching the kyngdome of God, and teaching those thinges whiche concerne the Lorde Iesus Christ, with al confidence, no man forbydding him.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

The first Chapter.

1. Paul sheweth to whom and to what purpose he is called. 16. What the Gospel is. 18. The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20. The vse of the creatures. 24. The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

A

(a) By this he declareth that he came not into the office of the apostleshyp by his owne arrogancie, but by the callyng of God, wherby he differeth frō the false apostles. Math. 1.a.

(b) Three manner of wayes Paul sheweth here Christe to be declared the sonne of god. Firste, by power or working of myracles. Secōdly, by the holy ghost appearing in visible sigs nes. Thirdly, by his resurrection from the dead. 1.Cor.1.a. Galat.1.a.

John.4.c. 1.Cor.3.c.

Philip.1.a. Colos.1.a.

Actes.26.b

(c) Al those that were not Iewes, by a comō worde were called Heathen. And here they are diuided into Greekes and barbarous. By Greekes, he vnderstandeth those that were learned, ciuile, and of good bringing vp. By barbarous, he meaneth rude & sauage people, with whom no man coulde wel haue to do.

PAVL the seruant of Iesus Christ, (a) called (to be) an apostle, seuered into the Gospel of God,

2 Which he had promised afore by his prophetes in the holy scriptures

3 Of his sonne, whiche was made of the *seede of Dauid after the flesh:

4 And hath ben declared to be the sonne of (b) God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Iesus Christe our Lorde:

5 By whom we haue receiued grace & apostleshyp, that obedience might be geuen vnto the faith in his name among al heathen,

6 Among whom, ye are also the called of Iesus Christe:

7 To al that be in Rome, beloued of God, saintes by calling: *Grace to you, & peace, from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe.

8 First verily I thanke my God through Iesus Christe for you al, that your fayth is published throughout al the worlde.

9 For God is my witnesse, whom I serue *with my spirit in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceassyng I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes * in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might take a prosperous iourney by the wyl of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I myght bestowe among you some spiritual gyft, that ye might be stablished.

12 That is, that I might haue consolation togeather with you, eche with others fayth, yours and mine.

13 I woulde that ye should knowe, brethren, howe that I haue oftentymes purposed to come vnto you (*and haue ben let hytherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Greekes, and to the (c) barbarous, both to the wyse, and to the vnwyse.

15 So that as muche as in me is, I am redy to preache the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christe, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to al that beleeue, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the righteousnesse of GOD opened from fayth to fayth. As it is wrytten, The iust shal liue by fayth.

18 For the wrath of GOD (d) is reuealed from heauen, agaynst al vngodlynesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, whiche (e) withholde the trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manyfest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible thinges, beyng vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the worlde, are seene, that is, both his eternal power & godhead: so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knewe GOD, (notwithstandyng) they glorified him not as GOD, neyther were thankful, but waxed ful of vanities in their imaginations, *and their foolishe hart was blynded.

22 When they counted them selues wyse, they became fooles:

23 *And turned the glory of the incorruptible god vnto an image, made not only after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of byrdes, and foure footed *beastes, and of creepyng beastes.

24 Wherfore God gaue them vp to vncleanesse, through the lustes of their owne hartes, that their owne bodyes shoulde be defiled among them selues.

25 Which changed his (f) trueth for a lye, and worshypped and serued the creature, more then the creator, whiche is to be praysed for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore GOD gaue them vp vnto shameful lustes, for euen their women dyd change the natural vse, into that whiche is agaynst nature.

(d) Which appearance the worlde knoweth not thing of. For in the sight of God all men are gods lesse, sinners, and the childrē of wrath, & when they knowe any thing of god, yet they be nought, because they neyther thanke him, nor serue hym, & therfore plagues are powred vpon them from heauē.

(e) Thei hold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse, the whiche vnderstand the trueth, and do not expresse the same in their deedes and lyfe. Psal. 106.c Ierem. 2.c. Ezech. 14.b

(f) By his trueth here he vnderstandeth the glory of god, and his true religion: and a lye he calleth idolles, because the idolaters went about to take away from wood & stone that whiche they were, thinking them to be neither wood nor stone, but attributed to them that that they were not, that is, diuine power and nature.

27 And

27 And lykewyse also, the men left the natural vse of the woman, and brent in theyr lustes one with another, and men with men wrought fylthynesse, and receiued in themselues the reward of theyr errour (as it was accordyng.)

Actes.7.f. ¶ 28 And as they regarded not to know God: * (euen so) God deliuered them vp vnto a lewde minde, that they shoulde do those thinges whiche were not comely:

29 Beyng ful of al vnryghteousnesse, fornication, crafte, nesse, couetousnesse, malitiousnesse, ful of enuie, murder, debate, deceyt, euyl conditioned, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proude, boasters, bringers vp of euyl thynges, disobedient to father and mother:

31 Without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affectiō, truce breakers, vnmercyful.

Deut.7.a. 32 The which knowyng the righteousnesse of GOD, (howe that they whiche commit suche thinges, are worthy of death,) not only do the same, * but also haue pleasure in them that do them.

The.ii. Chapter.

1. Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites.
13. Al men are sinners.

¶ 1 THerefore art thou inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer * thou be that (a) iudgest: For in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thee selfe. For thou that iudgest, dost euen the selfe same thynges.

2 But we are sure that the iudgement of GOD is accordyng to the truth, agaynst them whiche commit suche thynges.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them whiche do suche thynges, and doest the same (thee selfe) that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Eyther despisest thou the ryches of his goodnesse, and patience, & long sufferance, not knowyng that the goodnesse of GOD leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thy stubburnesse and hart that can not repent, heapest vnto thee selfe wrath, agaynst the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:

6 * Whiche wyll reward e euery man accordyng to his (b) deedes:

7 To them whiche by continuyng in well doyng seeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternal lyfe.

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and do not obey the trueth, but obey vnryghteousnesse (shal come) indignation & wrath.

9 Tribulation, & anguishe, vpon euery soule of man that doth euyl, of the Iewe first, and also of the Greeke:

10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doth good, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

11 For there is no respect of persons with God. 2.Par.19.c. Actes.10.c. Ephes.6.b. Colos.3.b.

12 For whosoeuer hath sinned without lawe, shal also perishe without lawe: and as many as haue sinned in the lawe, shalbe iudged by the lawe, 13 (For in the sight of God, * the hearers of the lawe are not ryghteous: but the doers of the lawe shalbe iustified. James.1.b.

14 For when the Gentiles whiche haue not the lawe, do of nature the thinges contayned in the lawe: they hauyng not the lawe, are a lawe vnto them selues. ¶

15 Whiche shewe the workes of the lawe wrytten in theyr hartes, theyr conscience bearyng them witnesse, & theyr thoughtes accusing one another, or excusing,)

16 At the day * when God shal iudge the secretes of men, by Iesus Christe, according to (c) my Gospel. John.8.c.

17 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, & (d) restest in the lawe, & makest thy boast of God,

18 And knowest (his) wyl, and alowest the thinges that be excellent, informed by the lawe:

19 And beleeuest that thou thee selfe art a guide of the blynde, a lyght of them (which are) in darkenesse, 20 An informer of them whiche lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: whiche hast the fourme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore whiche teachest another, teachest not thee selfe? * Thou preachest a man shoulde not steale, yet stealest thou?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit aduulterie, breakest thou wedlocke? Thou abhorrest idols, and yet committest sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the lawe, through breaking the lawe dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is euyl spoken of among the Gentiles through you, * as it is wrytten,

25 For circumcision verely auayleth, yf thou kepe the lawe: but yf thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore, yf the (e) vncircumcision kepe the ordinances of the lawe, shal not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And

(a) S. Paul speaketh here agaynst those men only, who beyng them selues filled with al wyckednesse, & impietie, yet be of al other most busie & curious in notyng and reprehēdyng other mens faultes: not of any godly zeale, but to iustifie them selues, & to bryng other men into hatred & contempt. Matth.7.a

Esai.30.d. Actes.17.g. Matth.16.d.

(b) Not that our workes be of suche merite that they deserue rewarde: but the scriptures vse this kynde of speakyng, that thereby it may prouoke and stirre vp men vnto good lyuyng, whereby our fayth may the more appeare. VVhich good workes God of his free grace doth rewarde.

(c) It is his Gospel, both for the feruent loue & zeale that he beareth to it, and also for the great paynes that he hath taken in setting foorth the same,

(d) He awaketh the Iewes which were asleepe through a certayne securitie and confidence in the lawe, Matth.7.a. Esai.52.a.

Ezech.36.f

(e) By this worde he meaneth all the people, of what countrey or nation soeuer they be, which haue not receiued the signe of circumcision, accordyng to the lawe of Moses.

27 And shal not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the lawe, iudge thee, whiche being vnder the letter and circumcision, dooest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, whiche is (a Iewe) * outward. Neyther is that circumcision, which is outwarde in the flesshe.

29 But *he is a Iewe, whiche is one * inwardly, and *the circumcision of the hart, whiche consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter (is circumcision) whose prayse is not of men, but of God.

* or, openly

John.8.c. * or, secretlye. Rom.9.b. Colos.2.b.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. The Iewes haue a prerogatiue. 24. Al are iustifyed by grace through fayth, and not thorowe woorker.

3 1 What preferment then hath the Iewe? or what profyte is there of circumcision?

2 Muche every way. Fyrst, for *because that vnto them were committed the woords of God.

Rom.9.a.

3 What then though somme of them dyd not beleeue? Shall their vnbeleefe make the (a) fayth of God without effect?

(a) Which is the performance of gods promise. For faith is taken after two sortes, both for our beleefe, when we assure our selues that God wil performe his promise, and also for the stedfastnesse of gods promise to his people. Foralthough some of the Iewes dyd not beleeue, yet gods troeth neuer fayled.

4 God forbyd: Yea let god be true, and euery man a lyer, as it is written, That thou myghtest be iustifyed in thy sayeinges, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

Psal.51.a. and.52.a.

5 But yf our vnrighteousnesse setteth forth the ryghteousnesse of GOD, what shal we say? Is God vnrighteous whiche taketh vengeance? (I speake after the manner of menne,)

6 God forbid: for how then shall God iudge the worlde?

7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded through my lye vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a synner?

8 And not rather (as we be slaunderously reported, & as some affirme that we say) let vs doo euyl, that good may come therof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then, are we better (then they?) No, in no wyse: for we haue before accused both Iewes & Gentiles, that they are al vnder sinne:

10 As it is written, *There is none ryghteous, no not one:

Psal.14.a. and.52.a.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gonne out of the way, they are all become vnprofytable: there is none that dooth good, no not one.

13 *Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceyued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lippes.

Psal.5.b.

14 *Whose mouth is full of curlyng and bitternesse:

Psal.5.b.

15 *Their feete are swift to shed blood.

Prou.1.b.

16 *Hartes greefe and miserie are in their wayes.

Esai.59.b.

17 And the way of peace haue they not known.

18 *There is no feare of GOD before their eyes.

Psal.36.a.

19 Nowe we knowe that what thinges so euer the lawe sayth, it sayth it to them whiche are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth may be stopped, and that all the worlde may be indangered to God.

20 Because that *by the deedes of the (b) lawe, there shall no flesshe be iustifyed in his syght: For by the lawe commeth the knowledge of synne.

Galat.2.c. (b) He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremonial and moral, whose works can not iustifye, because they be imperfect in al men.

21 But nowe the righteousnesse of GOD without the lawe is made manifest, beyng witnessed by the lawe and the prophetes.

22 The righteousnesse of God (commeth) by the fayth of Jesus Christ, vnto al and vpon al them that beleeue. There is no differēce:

23 For all haue sinned, and haue neede of the glory of God, 24 (But are) * iustifyed freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christe Jesu:

Esai.53.b.

25 Whom God hath set forth * to be a (c) propitiation, through fayth in his blood, to declare his ryghteousnesse, by the forgeuyng of the synnes that are past,

John.2.c. (c) Whiche is a pacifying of gods displeasure, that where as we were sometyme, bondslaues to sinne, god made his onely sonne Christe Iesus a sacrifice for our sins, to reconcile vs againe by fayth into gods fauour.

26 Whiche God dyd suffer, to shewe at this tyme his ryghteousnesse: that he might be iust, and the iustifyer of hym whiche beleeueth on Jesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of woorkes? Nay: but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therefore, we holde that a man is iustifyed by fayth, without the deedes of ꝑ lawe.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes onely? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God whiche shal iustifye the circumcision by (d) fayth, and vncircumcision through fayth.

Galat.2.c. (d) Meaning that the Iewe and the Gentile are both iustified by one meanes, whiche is by fayth.

31 Doo we then destroy the lawe through fayth? God forbyd: but we rather mayntayne the lawe.

The.iiii. Chapter.

7. Iustifycation is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham. 13. and also by the offyce of lawe and fayth.

4 1 What shal we say then that * Abraham our father, as pertayning to the flesshe, dyd fynde?

Esai.9.a.

2 For if Abraham were iustifyed by woorks, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

Gene.15.b. Galat.3.a. Iames.2.b.

3 For what sayth the scripture? *Abraham beleeued God, & it was counted vnto him for righteousnesse.

4 To him that worketh, is the rewarde not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

5 To him that worketh (a) not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the (b) vngodly, his fayth is counted for righteousnesse.

(a) That is, whiche meaneth not to obteyne saluation thorowe woorthynesse of his woorkes.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without woorkes:

Psal.32.a.

7 (Sayeing) *Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgeuen, & whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed is that man to whom the Lorde wyl not impute sinne.

The epistle on Newe yeeres day.

9 (Came) this blessednesse then vppon the circumcision only, or vppon the vncircumcision also? For we say that fayth was reckened to Abraham for righteousnesse.

(b) God is sayde to iustifye the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, and of a wicked man maketh him good.

10 How was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision, or (when he was) in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

Gene.15.b. Gene.17.b.

11 And he receyued the *signe of circumcision, as the (c) seale of the righteousnesse of fayth, whiche he had yet being vncircumcised: that he shoulde be the father of all them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also.

(c) So was Abrahams circumcision called, because therby was sealed the righteousnesse that through fayth was imputed to him before his circumcision.

12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them only whiche came of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the fayth that was in our father Abraham, before the tyme of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he shoulde be the heyre of the worlde, (was) not to Abraham, or to his seede thorough the lawe, but thorowe the righteousnesse of fayth.

¶ Galat.3.c.

14 * For if they whiche are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayth but vaine, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the lawe causeth wrath: For where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore by fayth (is the inheritance geuen) that it might (be) by grace, that the promise myght be sure to all the seede, not to that only whiche is of the lawe, but to that also whiche is of the fayth of Abraham, which is the father of vs al.

Esai.51.a. Ge 1.17.a.

17 (As it is written, *I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whom he beleeued, whiche restoreth the dead vnto lyfe, and calleth those thinges whiche be not, as (d) though they were.

(d) In the creation of the worlde this appeared. For whē he commaundedany thing to be, foorthwith it was.

18 Who contrary to hope, (e) beleeued in hope, that he shoulde be the father of many nations: accordyng to that whiche was spoken, So shal thy seede be.

(e) That is, which beleeued and hoped for those thinges which God dyd promise, when as to mans reason they were without hope.

19 And he fainted not in the fayth, nor consydered his owne body nowe dead, when he was almost an hundred yeeres olde, neyther yet the (f) deadnesse of Sarahs wombe.

(f) For that she was past chylde bearyng.

20 He stackered not at the promise of God thorough vnbelefe: but was strong in faith, geuing glory to God, 21 And being ful certified, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.

22 And therefore was it reckened to him for righteousnesse.

23 *Neuertheless, it is not written for him only, that it was reckened to him:

Rom.15.a.

24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe reckened, so that we beleeue on him that rayled vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead, 25 Whiche was deliuered for our synnes, and was rayled agayne for our iustification.

The.v.Chapter.

1. The fruite of fayth. 12. From whence commeth death, and from whence lyfe.

1 THerefore beyng iustifyed by fayth, we are * at (a) peace with God, thorough our Lorde Iesus Christe:

A Iohn.16.a.

(a) By peace whiche is the fruite of fayth, is ment the incredible and most constant ioy of mind, our conscience being quiet, and established in gods grace.

2 By whom also we haue had an entrance by fayth, vnto this grace wherin we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 Not that only: but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation woorketh patience:

4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:

5 And hope maketh not (b) ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abrode in our hartes by the holy ghost, whiche is geuen vnto vs.

Hebr.3.a.

(b) Both for that the hope of the godly is not disapoynted of that whiche they hope for, and also for that they are not ashamed of any affliction in this worlde, as the worldly minded be: but constantly abyde without shame, whatsoeuer trouble God doth sende to them.

6 For when we were yet weake, accordyng to the tyme, Christe dyed for the vngodly.

7 Now scarse wyl any man dye for the righteous: Yet peraduenture for the good somme man durst dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeyng that whyle we were yet sinners, Christe dyed for vs.

9 Muche more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shalbe saued from wrath thorough him.

10 For if when we were enimies, we were reconciled to GOD by the death of his sonne: muche more, seeing we are reconciled, we shalbe saued by his lyfe.

11 Not only so, but we also ioy in GOD, through through our Lord Iesus Christe, by whom we haue nowe receyued the attonement.

Gen.2.c. Eccl.6.d 12 Wherefore, as by one man synne entred into the worlde, and *death by synne: euen so, death entred into al men, inasmuche as all haue synned.

13 For vnto the law was synne in the worlde: but synne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

14 Nevertheles, death raigned from Adam to Moses, ouer them also that had not synned with like transgression as dyd Adam, whiche is the figure of hym that was to come.

15 But not as the synne, so is the free gyft. For if through the synne of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gyft by grace, *whiche (is) by one man Iesus Christe, hath abounded vnto many.

John.1.b

16 And not as by one that synned (euen so) the gift: for the synne entred by one (offence) into condemnation: but the gyft (c) of many synnes into iustification.

(c) For by Christ we are not only deliuered from the sinnes of Adam, but also from al suche sinnes awe haue added thereunto.

17 For if by the synne of one death raigned by the meanes of one, muche more (they) whiche receiue abundance of grace and of the gyft of rightewousnesse, shal raigne in life by the meanes of one, Iesus Christe.

18 Likewise then, as by the synne of one (synne came) on al menne to condemnation: euen so, by the rightewousnesse of one (good came) vpon all menne to the rightewousnesse of lyfe.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shal many be made rightewous.

Exodus.3.a

20 But *the lawe in the meane time entred in, that synne shoulde increase. But where synne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous.

6

21 That as synne hath raigned vnto death: euen so might grace raigne through rightewousnesse vnto eternal lyfe, by Iesus Christe our Lorde.

The.vi.Chapter.

Newenesse of lyfe foloweth iustification, to the whiche he exhorteth.

(a) He dyeth to sinne, in whom the strength of sinne is broken by the power of Christe.

1 What shal we say then? Shal we continue in synne, that grace may abounde? God forbyd.

2 Howe shall we that are dead (a) to synne, lyue any longer therein?

(*) The Epistle on the vi. sunday after Trinitie.

3 (*) Knowe ye not, that all we whiche haue ben baptised into Iesus Christe, haue ben baptised (b) into his death.

(b) That is, that sinne through Christes death may be abolished and dye in vs: and that as we are made cleane outwardly with water in our baptisme, so inwardly our sinnes may be washed away, & cleansed by the blood of Christe.

4 We are buryed then with him by baptisme into his death, that likewise as Christe was raysed vp from the dead by the glorye of the father: euen so, we also shoulde walke in newenesse of lyfe.

5 For if we be graft togeather by the likenesse of his death: euen so shal we be (partakers) of the resurrection:

6 Knowyng this, that our olde man is crucified with hym also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we shoulde not serue synne.

7 For he that is dead, is iustified frō sinne. B

8 And if we be dead with Christe, we beleeue that we shal also lyue with hym: 2. Tim. 3.5

9 Knowing that Christ beyng raysed from the dead, *dyeth no more, death hath no more power ouer hym. Apoc. 1.b

10 For as touchyng that he dyed, he dyed concernyng sinne once: And as touchyng that he lyueth, he lyueth vnto God.

11 Likewise recken your selues to be dead vnto sinne: but alyue vnto God, through Iesus Christe our Lorde.

12 Let not sinne raigne therfore in your mortal body, that ye shoulde therevnto obey by the lustes of it.

13 Neyther geue ye your members *as instrumentes of vnrighteousnesse vnto sinne: but geue your selues vnto God, as they that are alyue from the dead, & your members *as instruments of righteousnesse vnto God.

* or, weapons.

* or, weapons.

14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because ye are not vnder the (c) lawe, but vnder grace.

(c) That is, vnder the curse of the lawe, whose office is to accuse and condemne: but vnder grace, where by we haue forgeuenesse of our sinnes, & are sanctifyed by the holy ghost into the newnesse of lyfe.

15 What then? Shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbyd.

16 Knowe ye not howe that to whomsoeuer ye commit your selues as seruants to obey, his seruantes ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto rightewousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the seruantes of sinne: but ye haue obeyed with hart the fourme of doctrine, into the whiche ye were brought vnto.

18 *Being then made free from sinne, ye are become the seruantes of righteousnesse. John.8.b Rom.8.a

19 I speake after (d) the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesshe. For as ye haue geuen your members seruantes to vncleannesse and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so nowe geue your members seruantes to righteousnesse vnto holynesse.

(d) Men vse to speake gētily to their freendes, and not to exact so muche as they myght, but so farre forth as reason requireth.

20 For when ye were the seruantes of sinne, ye were free from righteousnesse.

21 What fruite had ye then in those thinges, whereof ye are nowe ashamed? For the end of those thinges, is death.

22 But

22 But now ye beyng made free from sinne, and made the seruantes of God, haue your fruite vnto holynesse, & the ende euerlastyng life.

Gene.2.c. Rom.5.c.

23 For the (a) reward of sinne is death: but the gyft of God is eternal lyfe, through Iesus Christe our Lord.

The.vii. Chapter.

The fyght betweene the lawe of the flesshe, and the lawe of the spirite.

(a) Before the comyng of Christ, al menne were maryied and bound to the lawe, whiche did the none other seruice but disclosed their sinne & wickednesse, forceyng the to seke helpe for their sinnes where. Nowe then the lawe being abolished for her imperfection, & they elensed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christe their newe husbande, him to serue in newnesse of lyfe.

1 KNowe ye not brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the (a) law) (howe) that the lawe hath power ouer a man, as long as he lyueth?

2 For the woman which hath an husbande, is bound by the law to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husbande be dead, she is loosed from the lawe of her husbande.

3 So then if while her husbande lyueth, she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe (a) counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husband be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the law by the (b) body of Christe, that ye shoulde be coupled to another, who is raised from the dead, that we shoulde bryng forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesshe, the lustes of sinne (whiche were) by the lawe wrought in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But now are we deliuered from the law, & dead vnto it wherevnto we were in bondage, that we shoulde serue in newenesse of spirite, and not in the oldenesse of the letter.

(a) Or, called.

(b) Because the body of Christe is made an offeryng and a sacrifice for our sinnes, whereby god is pleased, & his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy ghost is geuē to al beleeuers, whereby the power of sin is in vs dayly weakened: we are counted dead to the lawe, for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs.

7 What shal we say then? Is the law sinne? God forbyd. Naye, I knewe not sinne, but by the law: For I had not knowen lust, except the law had sayd, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne takyng occasion by the commaundement, wrought in me al manner of concupiscence. For without the lawe sinne (was) dead.

9 I once lyued without lawe: but when the commaundement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very same commaundement whiche was (ordeyned) vnto lyfe, was found (to be) vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne takyng occasion by the commaundement, hath deceyued me, and by the same slue (me.)

12 Wherefore the lawe is holy, and the commaundement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then whiche was good, made death vnto me? God forbyd. But sinne, that sinne myght appeare, by that whiche was good to worke death in me: that sinne by the commaundement myght be out of measure sinful.

14 For we know that the lawe is spiritual: but I am carnal, solde vnder (c) sinne.

Esai.52.2.

(c) Lyke as bond me are violentlye thrust, hurled, and tormoyled, and pleaseth their cruel maister: so are we that rowe heapes of sinnes drawen to many euyl doo ynges, Whiche we do neyther like nor alowe.

15 For that whiche I doo, I allowe not: for what I would, that doo I not: but what I hate, that doo I.

16 If I doo nowe that which I would not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is not I that doo it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me (that is to say in my flesshe) dwelleth no good thyng. For to wil, is present with me: but I fynd no meanes to perfourme that whiche is good.

19 For the good that I would, do I not: but the euyl which I would not, that doo I.

20 And if I doo that I woulde not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I fynde then by the lawe, that when I would doo good, euyl is present with me.

22 For I delite in the law of God, after the inwarde man.

23 But I see another law in my members, rebelling against the lawe of my mynd, and subduyng me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: Who shall deliuer me from the (d) body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lorde. So then, with the mind I my selfe serue the law of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of sinne.

(d) It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lump of sinne, consysting and tormenteyng the Whole man, & pluckyng him frō god. Whereby plague sand miseries are heaped on, and man lyueth as he were in the midst of death.

The.viii. Chapeter.

1. The assurance of the faythfull. 6. The fruites of the holy ghost.

1 THere is then no damnation to them whiche are in Christe Iesu, whiche walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

(a) The lawe of the spirite and the lawe of sin, is here taken imperperly for the power and strength of the lawe and sinne: and so is called the spirit of lyfe, because it quickneth & geueth lyfe.

2 For the lawe of the (a) spirite of lyfe, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free from the lawe of sinne and death.

3 For what the lawe coulde not doo, in as muche as it was weake through the flesshe, God hauyng sent his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinful flesshe, euen by sinne, (b) condemned sinne in the flesshe:

(b) God through the sacrifice of sinne, whiche Christe his onely sonne offered vpon the crosse in his flesshe, hath condemned and abolished synne, whiche raigned in our mortal flesshe,

4 That

4 That the ryghteousnesse of the lawe myght be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

5 For they that are carnal, are (c) carnally mynded: but they that are spirituall, are spiritually mynded.

6 To be carnally mynded, is death: But to be spiritually mynded, is lyfe and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enmitie agaynst God: for it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neyther can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesshe, can not please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesshe, but in the spirite, yf so be that the spirite of God dwel in you. Yf any man haue not the spirite of Christe, the same is none of his.

10 And yf Christe be in you, the body is dead because of (d) synne: but the spirite is lyfe for ryghteousnesse sake.

11 But if the spirite of him that rayled vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortal bodies, be cause that his spirite dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are detters, not to the flesshe, to lyue after the flesshe.

13 For yf ye lyue after the flesshe, ye shal dye: but yf ye through the spirite, do mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shal lyue.

14 For as many as are ledde by the spirite of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receyued the spirite of bondage agayne to feare: but * ye haue receyued the spirite of adoption, whereby we crie, Abba, father.

16 * The spirite it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirite, that we are the sonnes of God.

17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heyres, the heyres of God, and ioynt heyres with Christe: so that we suffer togeather, that we may be also glorified togeather.

18 For I am certaynely (e) perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not worthie of the glorie whiche shalbe shewed vpon vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abydeth, lookyng when the sonnes of God shal appeare:

20 Because the (f) creature is subiecte to vanitie, not wyllyng, but for him whiche hath subdued the same in hope, 21 For the creature it selfe shalbe made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauayleth in payne with vs, euen vnto this tyme.

23 Not only (they,) but we also which haue the first fruites of the spirite, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waytyng for the adoption, (euen) the vnlyuerance of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For howe can a man hope for that whiche he seeth?

25 But and yf we hope for that we se not, then doo we with patience abyde for it.

26 Lykewyse, the spirite also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desyre as we ought: but the spirite it selfe maketh great (g) intercession for vs, with gronyngs, whiche can not be expressed.

27 And he that searcheth the hartes, knoweth what is the meanyng of the spirite: for he maketh intercession for the saintes, according to the pleasure of God.

28 For we knowe that all thynges woorke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them whiche also are called of purpose.

29 For those whiche he knewe before, he also dyd predestinate, that they shoulde be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he myght be the fyrst begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he dyd predestinate, them also he called: and whom he called, them also he iustified: and whom he iustified, them also he glorified.

31 What shal we then say to these thynges? If * God be on our side, who can be agaynst vs?

32 Whiche spared not his owne sonne, * but gaue him for vs al: howe shall he not with him also geue vs al thynges?

33 Who shal laye any thyng to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ whiche dyed, yea rather whiche is rayled agayne, whiche is also on the ryght hande of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ? (Shal) tribulation, or anguyshe, or persecution, eyther hunger, eyther nakednesse, eyther peryl, eyther swoorde?

36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed al day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.)

37 Neuertheless, in all these thynges we ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither lyfe, neyther angels, nor rule, neither power, neither things present, neyther things to come,

39 Neither heigth, nor deapth, neither any other creature, shalbe able to separate vs from the loue of God, whiche is in Christ Iesu our Lorde.

(g) The right fourme and affection of prayer, cometh dy the holy ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that he praieth & mourneth: but that he so stirreth our hartes, that we lift them vp to heauen earnestly & fermentlye, which is the true prayer.

The.ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue towarde his nation.

A

1 I Say the trueth in Christ, I lye not, (my conscience also beareyng me witnesse by the holy ghost,)

2 That I haue great heauinesse, and continual sorowe in my hart.

3 For I haue wished mine selfe to be cursed from (a) Christe, for my brethren, my kynsmen as pertayneth to the flesshe,

4 Whiche are the Israelites: to whom pertayneth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenantes, and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of God, and the promises:

5 Of whom are the fathers, & of whom as concernyng the flesshe Christ (came) which is God, in al thynges to be praysed for euer, Amen.

6 And it can not be, that the worde of God hath taken none effect. For they are not al Israelites, whiche are of Israel:

7 Neyther are they all children that are the seede of Abraham: but in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

8 That is to say, They which are the children of the flesshe, these are not the children of God: but they whiche be the children of promise, are counted the seede.

9 For this is the worde of promise: About this tyme wyl I come, and Sara shal haue a sonne.

10 Not only this, but also Rebecca was with childe by one (euen) by our father Isahac.

11 For yer the (children) were borne, when they had neyther done good, neyther bad, (that the purpose of GOD by (b) election myght stande: not by the reason of workes, but by the caller,) 12 It was said vnto her, The elder shal serue the younger.

13 As it is written, Jacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shal we say then? is there any vnryghteousnesse with God? God forbyd.

15 For he sayth to Moses, I wyll shewe mercy, to whom soeuer I shewe mercy: and wyl haue compassion, on whom soeuer I haue compassion.

16 So then (election) is not of the wyller, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercy.

17 For the scripture sayth vnto Pharao, Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I myght shewe my power in thee, and that my name myght be declared throughout al the worlde.

18 So hath he mercy on whom he wyl, and whom he wyl he hardeneth.

19 Thou wylt say then vnto me, Why then blameth he (vs) yet? For who hath resysted his wyl.

20 But O man, what art thou whiche disputest with God? Shal the worke say to the workeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion? Esai. 45. b. Eccle. 33. b. Jere. 18. c.

24 Whom also he called (I meane) vs not of the Iewes only, but also of the Gentiles.

26 And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was sayde vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shal they be called the children of the lyuyng God.

27 And Esaias cryeth concernyng Israel, (Though) the number of the children of Israel be as the sande of the sea, yet (but) a remnant shalbe saued. Esai. 10. c.

28 For he finisheth the (c) woorde, and maketh it shorte in ryghteousnesse: for a shorte woorde wyl the Lorde make on earth. E

29 And as Esaias sayd before, Except the Lord of Sabboth had left vs (d) seede, we had ben made as Sodoma, and haue ben lykened to Gomorrha.

30 What shal we say then, That the gentyles whiche folowed not ryghteousnesse, haue obteyned ryghteousnesse: euen the ryghteousnesse (whiche commeth) of fayth?

31 But Israel whiche folowed the lawe of ryghteousnesse, hath not attayned to the lawe of ryghteousnesse.

32 Wherfore? Because (they sought it) not by fayth, but as it were by the woorkes of the law: For they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in (e) Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, and who so euer beleeueth on hym, shal not be confounded.

(a) He sawe the losse and destruction of his whole natiō, falling so farre from Gods true religiō, he considered how soare GOD shoulde be dishonored, when his woonderful benefites & blessings, be stowed vpon his people, shoulde take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, whiche so mightily moued hym, that he wyshed rather to be out of from Christ, then those thinges shoulde come to passe. Rom. 2. b. Gen. 21. b. Iohn. 8. b. Rom. 2. a. Gen. 18. b.

(b) The wyl & purpose of God, is the caule of the election and reprobation. For his mercy & calling, through Christe, are the meanes of saluation, & the withdrawing of his mercy, is the cause of damnation. Exod. 33. d. Exod 9. b.

The

(c) The word here is taken for a thing or matter. The Lord diminished his people by sundry plagues, persecutions, & banishmentes, and brought them to a verye fewe. Likewyse Esaias meneth saynt Paul, that a few of them shalbe saued, whiche fewe notwithstandyng shall abounde in righteousnes to the glorye of GOD.

(d) The seede is Christe Iesus, sowen abroade by his apostles and disciples. (e) Christe doeth iustifie vs by fayth without woorkes, whiche thyng the Iewes and Iusticiaries can not beleeue. Therfore they stumble at Christe, and are offended with him.

(c) That is Christe

(a) That is, a I wrayne affection, but not after knowledge. For no zeale, but no good intent can be acceptable vnto god, but only that which is grounded vpon fayth, & the knowledge of god (b) It is called punishment of vnrighteousnesse, when we refuse the ryghteousnesse which cõmeth by Christe, & imagine another rightes ousnesse which cometh by our owne woorkes and deuises. (*) The Epistle on saint Andrewes day. (c) That is, Christe hath fulfylled the whole lawe, and therefore who soeuer beleeueth in hym, is counted iust before God, as wel as he had fulfylled the whole lawe hym selfe. (d) For fayth teacheth vs that Christe is ascended vp into heauen, to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death, to destroy death, and to deliuer vs.

Etai. 53.8. Iohn. 12.8 Deut. 33.6.

BRethren, my hartes desyre and prayer to God for Israel is, that they myght be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue a (a) zeale of god: but not according to knowledge.

3 For they beyng ignorant of Gods ryghteousnesse, and goeyng about to stablishe their (b) owne righteousnesse, haue not ben obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.

4 For Christ is the ende of the law, (c) for ryghteousnesse to al that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse which is of the lawe, howe that the man which doth those things, shal liue by them.

6 But the righteousnesse which is of fayth, speaketh on this wise: Saye not thou in thine hart, Who shal ascend into (d) heauen? That is, to fetche Christe downe from aboue.

7 Either who shal descende into the deepe? That is, to fetche vp Christ agayne from the dead.

8 But what sayth he, The woorde is nygh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy hart. This same is the woord of fayth, which we preache.

9 (*) For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine hart that God raysed hym from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the hart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the scripture sayth, Whosoeuer beleueth on him, shal not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Iewe and the Greeke: for the same Lorde ouer al, is riche vnto al that cal vpon hym.

13 For who soeuer shall call on the name of the Lorde, shalbe saued.

14 How then shal they cal on him, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shal they beleue on him, of whom they haue not heard? Howe shal they heare, without a preacher?

15 And how shal they preach, except they be sent? As it is written, Howe beautifull are the feete of them which bring good tidinges of peace, and bryng good tydinges of good thinges?

16 But they haue not al obeyed the Gospel, for Esaias saith, Lorde, who hath beleeued our sayinges?

17 So then fayth commeth by hearyng, and hearyng commeth by the woorde of God.

18 But (I saye) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into al landes, and their woordes into the endes of the worlde.

19 *But I demaunde whether Israel dyd knowe, or not? First Moses sayth, I wyll prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people: and by a foolish nation I wyl anger you.

20 And Esaias is bold, and sayth, *I haue bene founde of them that sought me not: I haue ben made manifest vnto them that asked not after me. Etai. 52.b

5 Euen so at this tyme there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of woorkes: for then grace is no moze grace. But if it be of woorkes, then is it nowe no grace, for then woorke is no moze woorke.

30 I beseeche you brethren for the Lord Iesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that ye helpe me in my businesse with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered from them whiche beleeue not in Iurie, and that this my seruice whiche I haue at Hierusalem, may be accepted of the saintes:

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy by the wyl of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 * The GOD of peace be with you all, Amen.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. A number of salutations. 17. Paul wylleth them to beware of false brethren. 20. He prayeth and geueth thankes for them.

1 I Commende vnto you Phebe our syster, whiche is a minister of the (a) Churche of Cenchrea:

2 That ye receiue her in the Lord, as it becommeth saintes, and that ye assist her in whatsoeuer businesse she hath needē of you: For she hath succoured many, and mee selfe also.

3 Greete Priscilla, and Aquila, my helpers in Christe Iesu:

4 (Whiche haue for my lyfe layde downe their owne neckes: Vnto whom, not only I geue thankes, but also al the Churches of the Gentiles:)

5 Likewise (greete) the Churche that is in their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetus, whiche is the first fruite of Achaia in Christe.

6 Greete Marie, whiche bestowed muche labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus and Iunia my cosins, and prisoners with me also, which are well taken among the apostles, & were in Christ before me.

8 Greete Amplias, my beloued in the lord.

9 *Salute Urban, our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Apelles, approued in Christe. Salute them whiche are of Aristobulus houshold.

11 Salute Herodion my kynsman. Greete them that be of the houshold of Narcissus, whiche are in the Lorde.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, which labour in the lord. Salute the beloued Persis, whiche laboured muche in the Lorde.

13 Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethren whiche are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Iulia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saintes whiche are with them.

16 *Salute one another with an holy (b) kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 Nowe I beseeche you brethren (c) marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasions of enyl, contrary to the doctrine whiche ye haue learned, and auoyde them.

18 For they that are such, serue not the Lord Iesus Christ, but their owne belly, & with swete and flatteryng wordes deceiue the hartes of the innocentes.

19 For your obedience is gone abrode vnto al men. I am glad therfore on your behalfe: but yet I wouldē haue you wyse vnto that which is good, and simple concerning euil.

(c) There are two markes to know the false apostles by. The one is, whē they leaue Christ, & serue their belly. The other, when they regarde not the holy scripture, but preach lyes, and theyr owne fantasies.

Lorde Jesus Christe be with you, Amen.

D 21 Timotheus my worke felowe, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater my kinsmen salute you.

22 I Tertius, whiche wrote this Epistle, salute you in the Lorde.

¶ This Epistle was written to the Romanes from Corinthus, (and sent) by Phebe the minister of the Churche at Cenchrea.

¶ The.i. Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

1. He prayseth the great graces of God shewed towarde them, 10. exhorting them to concorde and humilitie.

Rom.1.

PAUL called (to be) an Apostle of Jesus Christ, through the wyl of god, and brother Sosthenes:

2 Unto the churche of God whiche is at Corinthus, to them that are sanctified in Christe Jesus, (a) saintes by calling, with al that call on the name of the Lorde Jesus Christe in every place, both of theyrs and ours:

(a) Made holy by the free mercy & calling of God.

Rom.1.a. Galat.1.a.

3 *Grace be unto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christe.

The Epistle on the.xviii. sunday after Trinitie.

4 I thanke my GOD alwayes on your behalfe, for the grace of God whiche is geuen you in Jesus Christe.

5 That in al things ye are enriched in him, in al utterance and in al knowledge:

6 As the testimonie of Jesus Christe was confirmed in you.

B 7 So that ye are destitute of no gyft, waytyng for the appearing of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

* or, confirme.

8 Whiche shal also *strengthen you unto the ende, that ye may be (b) blamelesse in the day of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

(b) For there is no cõdemnation to thẽ that are grafted in Christ Jesus.

9 *God is faythfull, by whom ye have ben called unto the felowshyp of his sonne Jesus Christe our Lorde.

Num.13.c 1.Cor.10.c.

10 Nowe I beseeche you brethren by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but that ye be perfectly joyned together in the same minde, and in the same meaning.

11 For it hath ben declared unto me, my brethren, of you, by them whiche are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I say, that every one of you sayth, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christe.

Actes.18.b 1.Cor.3.d. and.16.c.

13 Is Christe divided? was Paul crucified for you? eyther were ye baptised in the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God that I baptised none of you but Crispus and Gaius:

C

15 Lest any shoulde say that I had baptised in myne owne name.

16 I baptised also the housholde of Stephana: Besides, I knowe not whether I baptised any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptise, but to preache the Gospel: not with wysedome of (c) wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shoulde be made of none effect.

(c) Vnlesse men should attribute that vnto eloquence, whiche of right belongeth to the power of GOD.

18 For the preaching of the crosse, is to them that perishe, foolishnesse: but unto us which are saued, *it is the power of God.

Rom.1.b

19 For it is written, *I wyll destroy the wysedome of the wyse, and wyl cast away the understanding of the prudent.

Esai.29.b

20 Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this worlde? Hath not God made the wisedome of this worlde foolishe?

Esai.33.d

not not God, it pleased GOD through foolishnesse of preachyng, to saue the that beleue.

22 For *the Iewes require a signe, and the Grekes seeke after wysedome.

23 But we preache Christe crucifyed, vnto the Iewes a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grekes, foolishnesse:

24 But vnto them whiche are called, both Iewes and Grekes, Christe, the power of God, and the wysedome of God.

25 For the foolishnesse of God is wyser then menne: and the weakenesse of god is stronger then men.

26 Bretheren, ye se your calling, howe that not many wyse men after the flesshe, not many mighty, not many noble (are called:)

28 But God hath chosen the foolishe thinges of the worlde, to confounde the wyse: and God hath chosen the weake thinges of the worlde, to confounde the thinges which are mightie:

28 And vnnoble thinges of the worlde, and thinges which are despised, hath God chosen, (yea) and thinges whiche are not, to bring to nought thinges that are:

29 That no flesshe shoulde glory in his presence.

30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, which of God is made vnto vs wysedome, & righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That accordyng as it is written, he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lorde.

The. ii. Chapter.

He putteth for example his manner of preachyng, whiche was accordyng to the tenor of the Gospel.

1 AND I, bretheren, when I came to you, came not in *glorioustesse of wordes, or of wysedome, shewing vnto you the (a) testimonie of God.

2 For I estemed not to knowe any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucifyed.

3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in muche trembling.

4 And my woordes and my preaching was not with entising woordes of mans wysedome, but in shewyng of the spirite, and of power:

5 That your fayth shoulde not stande in the wysedome of menne, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wysedome among them that are perfect: not the wysedome of this worlde, neyther of the princes of this worlde, whiche come to nought:

7 But we speake the wysedome of God in a mysterie (euen) the hyd (wysedome) which God ordeyned before the worlde, vnto our glorye.

8 Which *none of the princes of this worlde knewe: For had they knowen it, they would not haue crucifyed the Lorde of glorye. Actes. 13. B.

9 But as it is written, * The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not hearde, neither haue entred into the hart of man, the thinges whiche GOD hath prepared for them that loue him. Esai. 63. a. Rom. 8.

10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirite: For *the spirite searcheth all thinges, yea the deepe thinges of God. Sapi. 7. c.

11 For what man knoweth the thinges of a man, saue the (b) spirite of man whiche is in him? Euen so the thinges of God, knoweth no man, but the spirite of God. (b) Mans mind, which vnderstandeth and iudgeth.

12 And we haue not receyued the spirite of the worlde, but the spirite whiche is of GOD, that we myght knowe the thinges that are geuen to vs of God.

13 Whiche thinges also we speake, not in the woordes whiche mans wysedome teacheth, but whiche the holy ghost teacheth: comparing spirituall thinges with spirituall thinges.

14 But the naturall man perceyueth not the thinges of the spirite of God, for they are foolishnesse vnto him: Neither can he know (them) because they are spiritually discerned.

15 But he that is spirituall, discerneth all thinges, yet he hym selfe is iudged of no man.

16 *For who hath knowen the mynde of the Lorde, that he might instruct him? But we haue (c) the mynde of Christe. Rom. 8. a. Esai. 40. c.

(c) That is, Christes spirite.

The. iii. Chapter.

3. Paul rebuketh the sectes and authours thereof. 13. Christe is the fundation of the churche.

1 AND I could not speake vnto you, bretheren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall (euen) as vnto (a) babes in Christe.

2 I haue nourished you with milke, & not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are yet carnal: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, & sectes, are ye not carnal, and walke as men?

4 For whyle one sayth, I am of Paul, & another, I (am) of Apollo, are ye not carnal?

5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? But ministers by whom ye beleeued, euen as the Lorde gaue to euery man.

6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but god gaue the encrease.

(a) Beinging graffed in Christ by fayth, we begin to moue by his spirite: and as we profyte in fayth, we growe vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he gene poyson. For milke & strong meate in effect are one, but only differ in manner and fourme.

7 So then, neyther is he that planteth any thing, neyther he that watereth: but God that geueth the encreale.

8 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: and euery man shall receyue his rewarde according to his labour.

Ephe. 2. d. 9 For we togeather are Gods labourers, ye are Gods hus bandry, ye *are Gods buyldyng.

10 Accordyng to the grace of God whiche is geuen vnto me, as a wyse maister buylder haue I layde the fundation, and another buyldeth theron. But let euery man (b) take heede howe he buildeth vpon.

(b) He reproueth the ministers of Corinth, as teachers of curious doctrines and questions.

11 For other fundation can no man lay then that is layde, *which is Iesus Christ.

12 If any man buylde on this fundation, golde, syluer, pretious stones, tymber, hay, (or) stubble:

Mat. 16. c. 13 Euery mans worke shal be made manifest. The day shall declare it, because it shalbe reuealed by the fyre, and the fyre shal trie euery mans worke what it is.

C 14 If any mans worke that he hath buylt vpon abyde, he shal receyue a rewarde.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall suffer losse, but he shalbe sate him selfe: yet as (it were) through fyre.

1. Cor. 6. d. 16 *Knowe ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you?

*or, destroy 17 If any man *defyle the temple of God, him shall GOD destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which (temple) ye are.

18 Let no man deceyue hym selfe: If any man among you seeme (to him selfe) to be wyse in this worlde, let him become a foole, that he may be wyse.

Iob. 5. b. 19 For the wysedome of this worlde, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, *He compasseth the wyse in (c) their owne craftinesse.

(c) Whē they them selues are entangled in the same snares whiche they layde for others.

20 And agayne, The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wyse, that they be vayne.

21 Therefore let no man glory in (d) menne: for al thinges are yours.

(d) But in God, who worketh by his ministers to his owne glory, and the comfort of his Churche.

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, eyther the worlde, eyther lyfe, or death, whether thinges present, or thinges to comme, al are yours:

23 But ye are Christes, and Christe (is) Gods.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1. After that he had described the office of a true apostle, 3. seeing they dyd not acknowledge hym suche one, 4. he appealeth to Gods iudgement.

The Epistle on the thirde sunday in Aduent.

1 LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christe, and disposers of the secretes of God.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the dispossers, that a man be founde faythfull.

3 With me it is but a very small thing that I shoulde be iudged of you, eyther of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not (a) myne owne selfe.

(a) Whether I haue great gifts or litle, few or many.

4 For I knowe nothing by me selfe, yet am I not thereby iustifyed: but he that iudgeth me is the Lorde.

5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntyll the Lorde come, who wyl lighten the hidden thinges of darknesse, and open the counseils of the hartes: and then shal euery man haue prayse of God.

6 And these thinges brethren, I haue figuratiuely applyed vnto me selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wyse aboue that whiche is written, that you swel not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who (b) separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receyued? If thou haue receyued it, why doest thou glory as though thou haddest not receyued it?

(b) To wit, from other menne, and preferreth thee.

8 Nowe ye are full, nowe ye are riche, ye haue raigned as kinges without vs, and I woulde to God ye dyd raigne, that we also might raigne with you.

B

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs whiche are the last apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For we are made a gasyng stocke vnto the worlde, and to angels, and to men.

Psal. 64. b. Rom. 8. f.

10 We (are) (c) fooles for Christes sake, but ye (are) wyse in Christe. We (are) weake, but ye (are) strong: Ye (are) honourable, but we (are) despised.

(c) By this bitter taunting, in abiecting him selfe, and exalting the Corinthians he maketh them ashamed of their vayne glory.

13 Beyng defamed, we pray: we are made as the filthynesse of the worlde, (and are) the offscouring of al thinges vnto this day.

C

14 I write not these thinges to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye haue tenne thousande instructours in Christe, yet (haue ye) not many fathers: For in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I desyre you, be ye folowers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, whiche is my beloued sonne, and faythful in the Lorde, who shall put you in remembrance of my wayes whiche be in Christe, as I teache euery where in all Churches.

1. Thes. 3.

18 Some

18 Some are swollen, as though I woulde come no more at you:

Actes.18.c 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will knowe, not the woords of them which are swollen, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in woord, but in (d) power.

(c) Of the holy ghost.

21 What wyl ye? Shal I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirite of meekenesse?

The. v. Chapter.

1. He reproueth sharpely theyr negligence in punishyng hym that had committed incest, 3. willing the to excommunicate him, 7. to imbrace puritie, 9. and flee wyckednesse.

1 IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and suche fornication as is not named among the (a) Gentiles: that one shoulde haue his fathers wife.

(a) who wold thinke that you would suffer that mischiefe vnpunished, whiche the most barbarous nations abhorre to speake of.

2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather sorowed, that he that hath done this deede, myght be taken away from among you.

3 For I verely, as absent in body, but present in spirite, haue determined already, as though I were present, that he that hath so done this deede,

4 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christe, you being gathered together, and my spirite with you, with the power of the Lorde Jesus Christe, Math.18.d. 5 *To deliuer suche (a one) vnto Satan for the destruction of the fleshe, that the spirite may be saued in the day of the Lord Jesus.

(b) Seeyng you suffer such monstruous vices vnpunished.

6 Your glorying is not (b) good. Knowe ye not that a litle leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe?

7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, as ye are vnleauened. For (euen) Christe our Passouer is *offered vp for vs.

*or, is slayne.

8 Therefore let vs keepe holy day, not with olde leauen, neither with the leauen of malitiousnesse and wickednesse: but with the vnleauened (bread) of pureneſſe and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye shoulde not company with fornicatours.

10 (I did not meane) not at al with the fornicatours of this woorlde, or with the coueitous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the woorld.

1.Thes.3.b 11 But nowe (this) I write vnto you, *not to company together, yf any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or coueitous, or a woorshypper of idols, or a rayler, or a drunkarde, or an extortioner: with hym that is suche, not to eate.

12 For what haue I to do to iudge them that are without? do not ye iudge them that are within?

13 Them that are without, God shal iudge. And ye shall *put away from among you that wicked person.

*or, against (a) He calleth them vniust, whosoeuer are not sanctified in Christe. Psal.7.c.

Deut.13.b

The. vi. Chapter.

7. Christians ought rather to suffer. 12. He reproueth the abusing of Christian libertie. 15. and sheweth that we ought to serue god purely, both in body and soule.

1 DAre any of you, hauing businesse with another, be iudged vnder the (a) vniust, & not rather vnder the saintes?

2 Do ye not know that the saints shal iudge the woorlde? If the woorlde shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Knowe ye not how that we shal iudge the angels? Howe muche more, thinges that pertayne to this lyfe?

4 If then ye haue iudgement of things pertayning to this lyfe, set vp them to iudge whiche are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wyse man among you? no not one that shalbe able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to lawe with brother, and that vnder the vnbelieuers?

7 Nowe therfore, there is vtterly a *fault among you, because ye goe to lawe one with another: Why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?

*or, want.

8 Nay, ye your selues do wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Knowe ye not that the vnrighteous shall not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: *neyther fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselues with mankynde, Galat.5.b. Ephes.5.a. *or, extortioners. Eccles.17.b. 1.Cor.10.c.

10 Nor theeues, nor coueitous, nor drunkardes, nor reuylers, nor *pyllers, shal inherite the kingdome of God.

(b) For we are subiect to those things whiche we can not, wat. (c) They abused meates, both in that they offended other thereby, and also prouoked their owne lustes to vncleanenesse.

11 And some suche lyke you were: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the spirite of our God.

12 All thinges are lawful vnto me, but *all thinges are not profitable: all thynges are lawfull for me, but I will not be brought vnder the (b) power of any.

13 Meates for the belly, & the belly for meates: but God shal destroy both it and them. Nowe the body (is) not for (c) fornication, but for the Lord: and the Lord for the body.

14 And God both hath rayfed vp the Lord, and also shal rayse vs vp by his power.

15 *Knowe ye not that your bodyes are the members of Christe? Shal I then take the members of Christe, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, knowe ye not that he which is coupled with an harlot, is one body? * For two (sayth he) shalbe one flesshe.

17 But he that is coupled vnto the Lorde, is one spirite.

18 Flee fornication: Euery sinne that a man doth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 What, knowe ye not that your body is the temple of the holy ghost (which is) in you, whom ye haue of God, and ye are not (a) your owne?

20 For ye are bought with a price: therfore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirite, which are goddes.

(a) With the harlot. Gene. 2.d. Matth. 19. Mark. 10.a Ephel. 5.g.

(d) To liue after your owne wyl, but after the wyl of hym that hath bought you

The. vii. Chapter.

The Apostle answereth to certayne questions which the Corinthians desired to knowe.

1 NOwe as concerning the things wherof ye wrote vnto me: It is (a) good for a man not to touche a woman.

2 Neuertheles, to auoyde fornication, * let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husbande.

3 Let the husbande geue vnto the wife due benevolence: Lykewise also the wyfe vnto the husbande.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husbande: And likewise also the husbande hath not the power of his owne body, but the wyfe.

5 * Defraude you not the one the other, except (it be) with both your consentes for a tyme, that ye may geue your selues to fastyng and prayer: and afterward come together agayne, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 This I say * of fauour, and (b) not of commaundement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, another after that.

8 I say therfore to the vnmaried and wyddowes, it is good for them yf they abyde euen as I:

9 But * yf they can not abstayne, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 Vnto the married commaunde, not I, but the Lord, * let not the wyfe depart from her husbande:

11 But and yf she depart, let her remayne vnmaried, or be reconciled to her husband (agayne:) And let not the husbande put away his wyfe.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wyfe that beleeueth not, and she consent to dwel with hym, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husbande an infidel, and he consent to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is sanctified by the wyfe, and the vnbeleeuyng wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children vncleane, but nowe are they (c) holy.

15 But yf the vnbeleeuyng depart, let hym departe: A brother or a sister is not made subiect in suche (thinges:) but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For howe knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husbande? or howe knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wyfe?

17 But as GOD hath distributed to euery man, * as the Lorde hath called euery one, so let hym walke, and so ordeyne I in all Churches.

18 Is anye man called being circumcised? let him not adde (vncircumcision:) Is any called in vncircumcision, let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keepyng of the commaundementes of God.

20 Let euery man abyde in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 * Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheles, yf thou mayest be made free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord (beyng) a seruant, is the Lordes free man: likewise also he that is called (beyng) free, is Christes seruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruantes of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abyde with (d) God.

25 Nowe concerning virgins, I haue no commaundement of the Lorde: yet geue I counsel, as one that hath obteined mercy of the Lorde to be faythful.

26 I suppose therfore that it is good for the present necessitie, that (I say) it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wyfe? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wyfe? seeke not a wyfe.

28 But and yf thou marry, thou hast not sinned: and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheles, such shal haue trouble in the

(b) He sheweth that he estimaudeth not precisely to marry, but that God hath graunted this remedy vnto them whiche can not lyue chaste. 1. Tim. 5.c Matth. 5.c. and. 19.a.

(c) They that are borne of either of the parentes faithful, are also counted members of Christes Churche, because of the promise.

the flesshe: But I * speare you.

29 But this say I brethren, because * the tyme is short: it remayneth that they also whiche haue wyues, be as though they had none:

Psal. 90. a. 2. Pet. 3. b.

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: they that bie, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this worlde, as not abusyng it: * For the fashion of this worlde goeth away.

Esai. 60. b.

32 * I would haue you without care. He that is vnmaryed, careth for the thinges that belong to the Lorde, howe he maye please the Lorde:

1. John. 2. c. Mat. 6. d. Luke. 6. c.

33 But he that hath maryed, careth for the thinges that are of the worlde, how he may please his wyfe.

34 There is differences betweene a virgin and a wyfe: The vnmaryed woman careth for the thinges that are of the Lorde, that she may be holy both in body & in spirite: But she that is maryed, careth for the thinges that perteyne to the worlde, howe she may please her husbande.

35 This speake I for your profyte: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelynesse sake and sytting fast vnto the Lorde without separation.

36 But yf any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin yf she passe the tyme of maryage, (c) and nede so require, let him doo what he wyl, he synneth not: let them be maryed.

(c) That is, that she should marry to auoyde fornication.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his hart, hauyng no nede, but hath power ouer his owne wyll, and hath so decreed in his hart that he wyl keepe his virgin, doth wel.

38 So then he that geueth in maryage, doeth well: but he that geueth not in maryage, doeth better.

39 The wyfe is bound to the * law as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberte to be maried to whom she wyl, only in the Lorde.

Rom. 7. a. * 9, by the lawe of maryage.

40 But she is happier yf she so abyde, after my iudgement: And I thinke verely that I haue the spirite of God.

The. viii. Chapter.

He rebuketh them that vse their liberte to the slaunder of other, in goyng to the idolatrous sacrifyces.

1 NOw touchyng thinges * offred vnto idols, we knowe that we all haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swel: but charite edifyeth.

Acts. 5. c.

4 As concernyng therefore the eatyng of those thinges that are offered in sacrifyce vnto idols, we knowe that * an idol is nothyng in the worlde, and that there is none other God but one.

1. Cor. 10. c.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth, (as there be goddes many, and (a) lordes many:)

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one God, (which is) the father, of whom are al thinges, and we in him, and one Lorde Iesus Christe, by whom are al thinges, and we by him.

(a) Which being idols, yet are esteemed of men, as Lordes and Seigneours.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: * For some hauyng conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience beyng weake, is defyled.

B 1. Cor. 8. g.

8 But meate dooth not commende to God: For neyther yf we eate, haue we the more: neyther yf we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this liberte of yours be cumme a stumbling to them that are weake.

10 For yf any man se thee which hast knowledge, syt at meate in the idols temple: shal not the conscience of him whiche is weake, be (b) boldened to eate those thinges which are offered to idols,

(b) By thyne example, without any ground of doctrine.

11 And through thy knowlege shall the (c) weake brother perishe, for whom Christe dyed?

(c) Which, eateth against his conscience.

12 But when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wounde their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christe.

13 Wherefore, * yf meate offende my brother, I wyl eate no flesshe whyle the worlde standeth, lest I should offende my brother.

Rom. 14. B

The. ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their liberte to the edifycation of others.

1 AM I not an apostle? am I not free? * haue I not seene Iesus Christe our Lorde? Are not ye my worke in the Lorde?

A Acts. 9. a. 22. a.

2 If I be not an apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you. For ye (a) seale of myne apostleship are ye in the Lorde.

(a) I neede no further declaration, but the workes that I haue wrought among you.

3 Myne answeare to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate and to drinke?

(b) Or a sister a wyfe. Saint Paul vseth none other word to expresse a wyfe then γυνὴ. Valla, what necessarie it is to adde a woman, where was premised a systerr? wherefore I thinke (sayth he) it ought to be translated a wyfe, specially because it is expressed in the singuler number γυναῖκα. The olde translation printed, transposeth the woords, sayeing, Mulierem sororem, where the most old written copies constantly haue sororem mulierem, as al the Greke copies ἀδελφὴν γυναῖκα. * with the handes. * or, boasting. * or, boast of. (c) The greke worde signifieth a guidance, bestowyng, or distribution of thinges, as it were to the profyte of an housholde. Actes. 16. 8. Galat. 2. 8.

5 Haue we not power to leade about a (a) sister a woman, aboue as other apostles, and as the brethren of the lorde and Cephas?
6 Is the liberte of not labouring * taken from me and Barnabas only?
7 Who goeth a warfare any tyme at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite therof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?
8 Say I these thinges after the manner of men? or sayth not the lawe the same also?
9 For it is written in the lawe of Moses, Thou shalt not muosel the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take care for oxen?
10 Either sayth he it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt (this) is written: that he which eareth, shoulde eare in hope: and that he which thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.
11 If we haue sowen vnto you spirituall thinges, is it a great thing yf we shal reape your carnal thinges?
12 If others be partaker of (their) power ouer you, (wherfore are) not we rather? Neuertheles, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer al things, lest we should hinder the Gospel of Christe.
13 Doo ye not knowe that they whiche minister about holy thinges, eate of the thynges of the temple? and they whiche wayte at the aulter, are partakers with the aulter?
14 Euen so hath the Lorde ordeyned, that they whiche preache the Gospel, shoulde liue of the Gospel.
15 But I haue vsed none of these thinges. Neuertheles, I wryte not these thinges, that it shoulde be so donne vnto me: For it were better for me to dye, then that any man should make my * reioycing voyde.
16 For yf I preache the Gospel, I haue nothing to * reioyce of: for necessitie is layd vpon me. But wo is vnto me if I preache not the Gospel.
17 For if I doo this thing with a good wyll, I haue a rewarde: but if agaynst my wyll, the (c) dispensation is committed vnto me.
18 What is my rewarde then? Verely that when I preache the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christe free, that I misuse not myne authoritie in the Gospel.
19 For though I be free from al menne, yet haue I made me selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the more.
20 * Vnto the Iewes, I become as a Iewe, that I might winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the lawe, as vnder the law, that I might winne them that are vnder the lawe:
21 To them that are without lawe, as without lawe, (when I was not without lawe as pertayning to the lawe of God, but was in the lawe of Christ) that I might winne them that are without lawe.
22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake: I am made * all thinges to all menne, that I might by al meanes saue some. 1. Cor. 10. 8.
23 And this I doo for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker therof.
24 Knowe ye not, that they whiche runne in a race, runne all, but one receyueth the rewarde? So runne, that ye may obteyne. The epistle on Septuagesima sunday.
25 Euery man that prooueth masteries, abstayneth from al thinges: and they (doo it) to obteyne a corruptible crowne, but we (to obteyne) an incorruptible (crowne.) 2. Tim. 4. b 1. Pet. 5. b.
26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertayne thing: so fyght I, not as one that beateth the ayre:
27 But I tame my (d) body, and bring it into subiection: lest by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be a cast away. (d) Lest he shoulde be reprooued of men when they should see him doo contrary, or contemne that thing which he taught othe to doo.

The. x. Chapter.

1. He seareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14. exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23. and offence of their neyghbour.

1 BRethren, I woulde not that ye shoulde be ignorant, howe that al our fathers were vnder the cloude, and all passed through the sea: A The Epistle on the .ix. sunday after Trinitie.
2 And were all baptised * vnto Moses in the cloude, and in the sea: * That is, into Moses lawe, as some reade. Or as saint Augustine readeth, by Moses.
3 And dyd all eate of the same (a) spirituall meate: (a) That is, Manna, which was the outwarde signe or sacrament of the spirituall grace. Exod. 16. c.
4 And dyd all drinke of the same spirituall drinke: (For they dranke of that spirituall rocke that folowed them: and that rocke was (b) Christe.) (b) That is, signifyed Christ, as al Sacramentes doo. Exod. 32. b. * or, dyd commit fornication.
5 But in many of them had god no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wyldernesse.
6 These thinges verely are our ensamples, that we shoulde not be lusters after euyll thinges, as they also lusted.
7 Neyther be ye idolatours, as (were) some of them, as it is written, The people sate downe to eate & drinke, & rose vp to playe.
8 Neyther let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed * fornication, & fell in one day three and twentie thousande.
9 Neither let vs tempt Christe, as some of them tempted, and were destroyed of serpentes.
10 Neither murmure ye, as some of them murmured.

murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 All these thynges happened vnto them for ensamples: but they are written (c) for our admonition, vpon whom the endes of the world are come.

12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh he standeth, take heede lest he fal.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as followeth the nature of man: but God is faythful, whiche shall not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able; but shal with the temptation make a way to escape, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my dearly beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them whiche haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessyng which we blesse, is it not the partaking of the blood of Christe? The bread whiche we breake, is it not the partaking of the body of Christe?

17 For we that are many, are one bread, and one body, in as muche as we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel (which is) after the flesshe: are not they whiche eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the aulter?

19 What say I then? that the Idol is any thyng? or that it whiche is offered in sacrifice to Idols is any thyng?

20 But (this I say) that the thinges which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to deuyles, and not to God: And I woulde not that ye shoulde haue (d) felowshyp with the deuyls.

21 Ye can not drinke the cup of the Lord, & the cup of deuyls: Ye can not be partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuyls.

22 Either doo we prouoke the Lorde to anger? What, are we stronger then he?

23 All thynges are lawfull for me, * but all thinges are not expedient: All thynges are lawful for me, but al thinges edifie not.

24 * Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man another's (wealth.)

25 Whatsoeuer is sold in the * market, that eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For * the earth is the Lordes, & the plentie therof.

27 If any of them whiche beleeue not, byd you (to a feast) and ye be disposed to goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idols, eate not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. The earth is the Lordes, and the plentie therof.

29 Conscience I say, not of thyne owne self, but of the other: For why is my (e) libertie iudged of another mans conscience?

30 For, if I by (Gods) benefite may be partaker (of the gyftes of God,) why am I euyl spoken of, for that wherfore I geue thanks?

31 * Whether therefore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye doo, doo all to the glorye of God.

32 See that ye geue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor yet to the Grecians, neither to the Churche of God.

33 * Euen as I please al men in al thinges, not seeking mine owne profite, but (the profite) of many, that they may be saued.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh the abuses whiche were crept into their Churche, 4. as touchyng prayer, or prophesying, 18. and ministring the Lords supper, 23. bryngyng them againe to the first institution thereof.

1 BE ye the folowers of me, euen as I (am) of Christ.

2 I commend you brethren, that ye remember al my * thynges, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I will that ye knowe, that Christe is the head of euery man: and the man is the * womans head, & God is Christes head.

4 Euery man praying or prophesying, hauyng any thyng on his head, shameth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or prophesieth bare headed, dishonesteth her head: for that is euen al one as if she were shauen.

6 If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: if it be a shame for a woman to be shorne, or shauen, let her be couered.

7 A man ought not to couer his head, for asmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For * the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

9 Neyther was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman to haue (a) power on her head, for the angels sakes.

11 Nearetheles, neyther is the man without the woman, neyther the woman without the man, in the Lorde.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man also by the woman, but all thynges of God.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gyft of tongues, and other ſpirituall gyftes.
5. But cheetely prophecying.

1 FOlowe after charitie, and couet ſpiritual (gyftes:) but moſte cheefely that ye may prophecie.
2 For he that ſpeaketh with (an vnknowen) tongue, ſpeaketh not vnto men, but vnto GOD: For no man (a) heareth (him:) Howbeit, in the ſpirite he ſpeaketh myſteries.
3 But he that prophecieth, ſpeaketh vnto men to edifiyng, and exhortation, and comforte.
4 He that ſpeaketh with (an vnknowen) tongue, edifieth him ſelfe: * but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Churche.
5 I would that ye al ſpake with (b) tongues, but rather that ye prophecied: For greater is he that prophecieth, then he that ſpeaketh with tongues, excepte he expounde it, that the Church may receyue edifiyng.
6 Nowe brethren, yf I come vnto you ſpeaking with tongues, what ſhal I profite you, excepte I ſhal ſpeake to you eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?
7 And euen thynges without lyfe, geuyng ſounde, whether (it be) a pipe, or an harpe, excepte they geue a diſtinction in the ſounds,

(a) Vnderſtandeth him not.
Rom.12.b. Num.11.g.
(b) Tongue, in this place & ſuch lyke, ſignifieth not the inſtrument that we ſpeake with, but propriety of ſome language that the hearer vnderſtandeth not without an interpreter.

howe

howe shal it be knowen what is pyped or harped?

8 For yf the Trumpe gene an uncertayne sounde, who shalbe prepared to the warre?

9 So lykewyse you, except ye utter wordes by the tongue easie to be understoode, howe shal it be knowen what is spoken? For ye shal speake in the (b) ayre.

(b) Your wordes shal be lost, for ye shal neyther glorifie God thereby, nor profite man.

10 There are happily so many kyndes of voyces in the worlde, and none (of them) are without signification.

11 Therefore yf I knowe not the meanyng of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh an aliant, and he that speaketh shalbe an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, for as muche as ye couet spiritual (gyftes) seeke that ye may excel, vnto the edifiyng of the Churche.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

C 14 For if I pray with (an vnknowen) tongue, my spirite prayeth, but my vnderstandyng is vnfruitful.

15 What is it then? I wyl pray with the spirite, and wyl pray with the vnderstandyng also: I wyl (c) syng with the spirite, & wyl syng with the vnderstandyng also.

(c) Or gene thankes by syngyng.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirite, howe shal he that * occupieth ỹ roome of the vnlearned say Amen at thy geuyng of thankes, seeyng he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

* or, fylleth

17 Thou verely genest thankes wel, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then ye al.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake fyue wordes with my vnderstandyng, that by my voyce I myght teach other also, then tenne thousande wordes in (an vnknowen) tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstandyng: howbeit, as concerning nought inesse be ye children, but in vnderstandyng be perfect.

D 21 In the lawe it is written, *With (men of) sundry tongues and sundry lyppes, wyll I speake vnto this people: and yet for al that wyl they not heare me, sayth the Lorde.

* Esai. 28. c.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: But propheciyng (serueth) not for them that beleeue not, but for them whiche beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Churche be come together into one place, and al speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they whiche beleeue not, wyl they not say that ye are madde?

24 But yf all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of al men, he is iudged of al men.

25 And so are the secretes of his hart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he wyl worshyp God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come togeather, euery one of you hath a Psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let al thynges be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the moste by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him E keepe silence in the Churche, and let him speake to him selfe, and to God.

29 Let the prophetes speake two or three, and * let the other iudge.

* 1. Ioh. 4. 1.

30 If any reuelation be made to an other that sytteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may al prophecie one by one, that al may learne, and al may be comforted.

32 And the (d) spirites of the prophetes are subiect to the prophetes.

(d) That is, the doctrine that they do bring, as being put in mynd by the spirit of god.

33 For God is not (the auctheur) of confusion, but of * peace, as in al Churches of the saintes.

* Roma. 15. 33. 1. Tim. 2. 2.

34 *Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but (they are commaunded) to be vnder obedience, as also saith the law.

* Gene. 3. c.

35 If they wyll learne any thyng, let them aske their husbandes at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

1. Cor. 11. 4.

36 Spronge the worde of God from you? eyther came it vnto you only?

37 If any man thynke him selfe to be a prophete, eyther spirituall, let him knowe that the thynges that I wryte vnto you, are the commaundementes of the Lorde.

38 But yf any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbyd not to speake with tongues.

40 Let al thinges be done honestly, and in order.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. He prooueth the resurrection of the dead, 3. and first that Christe is ryssen.

1 MOreouer, brethren, I declare vnto A you, the Gospel whiche I preached vnto you, whiche also ye haue receyued, and wherein ye haue * continued,

The Epistle on the. xi. sunday after trinitie.

* or, stode.

2 By the whiche also ye are saued, if ye kepe the doctrine whiche I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vayne.

3 For

3 For I delyuered vnto you fyrst of all, that
(a) He shewed that nothyng ought to be taught, whiche we haue not learned by Gods word. Deut. 28.b Ioha. 20.a. Luke. 24.b.
which also I (a) receiued, howe that Christ dyed for our synnes, accordyng to the scriptures:
4 And that he was buryed, and that he arose the thirde day accordyng to the scriptures:
5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:
6 After that he was seene of moe then fyue hundred brethren at once: of whiche, the more part remayne vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.
7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of al the Apostles.
8 And last of al he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due tyme.
9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Churche of God. Actes. 7. 8. Galat. 2. c.
10 But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in me, was not vayne: but I laboured more abundantly then they al, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.
11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preache, and so haue ye beleeued.
12 If Christe be preached howe that he rose from the dead: howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 If there be no rysyng of the dead, then is Christe not risen.
14 If Christe be not rysen, then is our preaching vaine, & your fayth is also (b) vayne.
(b) For if Christe be swalowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of lyfe any more,
15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, how that he raised vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead ryse not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ risen.
17 If it be so that Christ is not risen, then is your fayth vayne, ye are yet in your synnes.
Coloss. 1. c. (c) As by the offeryng of the first fruite, the whole fruite is sanctified: so by Christ, which is the first that is, raysed, all haue assurance of the resurrection.
18 But also they which are fallen asleepe in Christ, are perished.
19 If in this lyfe onely we haue hope in Christe, then are we of al menne most miserable.
20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, he is become *the (c) first fruites of them that sleapt.
* or, in A. dam.
21 For since by man (came) death, euen so by man (came) the resurrection of the dead.
22 For as by * Adam all dye, euen so * by Christe shal al (d) be made alyue,
* or, in Christ. (d) so wyt, the faythful.
23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruites (is) Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his comming.
24 Then (commeth) the ende, when he shal haue delyuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shal haue put downe al rule, and al auctoritie, and power.
25 For he must raigne * tyll he hal haue put Psal. 110. a. Math. 22. b Heb. 1. c. al his enimies vnder his feete.
26 The last enimie that shalbe destroyed, (is) death.
27 * For he hath put downe all thinges vnder his feete: But when he sayth, Al thinges are put vnder hym, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put al thinges vnder hym. Psalm. 8. b. Heb. 2. b.
28 When all thynges shalbe subdued vnto hym, then shal the sonne also him selfe be subiect vnto him that put all thinges vnder hym, that God may be al in al. C
29 Els what shal they doo which are baptised for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptised for the dead?
30 And why stande we in ieopardie euery houre?
31 (I protest) by our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I dye dayly.
32 If I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the (c) maner of men, what auaunteth it me, if the dead ryse not? * Let vs eate and drinke, for to morowe we dye. (c) That is, hauyng regard to this present lyfe, and not to Gods glory, and to lyfe euerlastyng.
33 Be ye not deceyued: Euyll woordes corrupt good maners.
34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame. F
35 But some man wyll saye, Howe are the dead raysed vp? With what body doo they come?
36 Thou * foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye. 1. Ioh. 12. b. * or, mad man.
37 And that whiche thou sowest, thou sowest not that bodye that shalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheate, or of some other (corne.)
38 But God geueth it a body, as it hath pleased hym, and to euery seede his owne body. * or, one maner of flesshe.
39 All flesh, is not * the same flesh, but there is one (maner of) flesh of men, another flesshe of beastes, another of fishes, and another of byrdes. (f) Euen as the Sunne & the moone beyng of one substance, differ in dignitie: so in the resurrection, our bodyes shal haue more excellent qualities then they haue nowe.
40 There are also celestial bodyes, & bodyes terrestrial: But the glory of the celestial is one, & (the glory) of the terrestrial another.
41 There is one glory of the (f) Sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: For (one) starre differeth from (another) starre in glory.
42 So is the resurrection of the dead, it is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.
43 It is sowen in (g) dishonour, it ryseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it riseth in power. (g) For what is more vyle to looke vpon, then the dead carkase 44 It is sowen a natural body, it ryseth a spiritual body: There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And

45 And so it is also written: The first man Gene.2.b * Adam was made a lyuyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickenyng spirite.
46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spiritual, but that (whiche is) natural, and then that (whiche is) spiritual.
47 The first man (is) of the earth, earthy:
the seconde man (is) the Lord from heauen:
48 As is the earthy, suche (are) they that are earthy: and as is the heauenly, suche (are) they also that are heauenly.
49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, we shal also beare the image of the heauenly.
50 This say I brethren, that flesh and blood can not inherite the kingdome of God: neyther doth corruption inherite incorruption.
51 Behold, I shew you a mysterie. We shal
I.Thes.4.d not al sleepe, but we shal al be changed.

Esai.25.c
Osee.13.b
52 In a moment, in the twinckling of an eye, at the last trumpe, (for the trumpe shal blowe,) and the dead shall ryse incorruptible, and we shalbe changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incor-ruption, and this mortal (must) put on im-mortalitie.
54 When this corruptible shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortal shal haue put on immortalitie, then shalbe brought to passe the saying that is written, * Death is swa-lowed vp in victorie.
55 * O death, where is thy sting? O * hel where is thy victorie?
56 The sting of death (is) sinne, and the
(h) strength of sinne is the lawe.
57 * But thankes be vnto God, whiche giueth vs the victorie through our Lord Iesus Christe.
58 Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, alwayes abundyng in the worke of the Lorde, forasmuche as ye know that your labour is not in (i) vayne in the Lorde.

¶ The first Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, by Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

¶ The seconde Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faythfull by their afflictions.

A 1 PAul an Apostle of Jesu Christe, by the wyl of God, and brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God, whiche is at Corinthus, with all the Saintes which are in al Achaia:

2 Grace (be) with you, and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christe

Rom.1.a. 1.Cor.1.a. Gala.1.a. Ephes.1.a. 1.Pet.1.a. 3 *Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Jesus Christ, (whiche is) the father of mercies, and the God of al comfort:

4 Which comforteth vs in al our tribulation, that we may be able to comforte them whiche are in al manner trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

Colos.1.c. (a) Whiche I suffer for Christe, or which Christ suffereth in me. 5 For as the (a) afflictions of Christe are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christe.

6 Whether we be troubled, (it is) for your consolation and saluation, whiche (saluation) is wrought by the sufferyng of the same afflictions whiche we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, (it is) for your consolation, and saluation, and our hope of you is stedfast:

B 7 Knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so (ye shalbe partakers) also of the consolation.

Actes.19.f. 8 For we wolde not brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble whiche came vnto vs in* Asia: that we were greeued out of measure, passyng strength, in so muche that we were in great doubt, euen of lyfe.

1.Reg.2.b. Deut.8.b. 9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust in our selues, *but in God, whiche rayseth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth delyuer: in whom we trust that hereafter also he wyl delyuer (vs:)

11 You also helping togeather by prayer for vs, that for the benefites (bestowed) vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thankes may be geuen of many on our behalfe.

1.Cor.4.c. 12 For our reioycyng is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly pureneſſe, not with fleshly wyldome, (b) but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and most of al to youwardes.

(b) Vsing that wyſedome whiche God gaue me frō heauen.

13 For we wryte none other thynges vnto you then that ye reade, or also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we * are your reioycyng, euen as ye are (c) ours in the day of the (d) lord Jesus.

C 1.Thes.2.c. (c) Because we haue woone you to Christe.

15 *And in this confidence was I myndeth first to haue come vnto you, that ye myght haue had * one pleasure more:

1.Cor.16.a (d) Whiche shal abolish al worldlye glorie.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you into Jurie.

17 When I therfore was thus minded, dyd I vse lightneſſe? or mynde I (e) carnally those thinges whiche I mynde, that with me shoulde be yea yea, and nay nay?

* or, the seconde benefite.

18 Yea (f) God is faythful, for our preachyng to you, was not yea and nay.

(e) Nowe to affirme one thing, and then to denie it, whiche is a signe of inconstancie.

19 For Gods sonne Jesus Christe, whiche was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea.

(f) He taketh God to witnesse, that he preacheth the trueth.

20 (For all the promises of God in him are yea, and are in him, Amen,) vnto the glory of God through vs.

Rom.8.a. Ephes.4.c. 21 And he which stablisheth vs with you in Christe, and hath annointed vs (a) God:

22 Whiche hath also sealed vs, & * hath geuen the earnest of the spirite in our hartes.

23 I cal God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

1.Pet.5.a. 24 *Not that we be lordes ouer your fayth, but are helpers of your ioy: for by fayth ye stande.

The.ii. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

1 BVT I determined this in mee selfe, A that I would not come agayne to you in heauinesse.

2 For yf I make you sorie, who is he that maketh me glad, but the same whiche is made (a) sorie by me?

(a) Whiche was geuen to Satan, but nowe doth repent.

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I shoulde take heauyneſſe of of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you al, that my ioy, is (the ioy) of you al.

4 For in great affliction and anguyshe of hart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye shoulde be made sorie, but that ye myght perceyue the loue whiche I haue moste abundantly vnto you.

5 But yf any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly, lest I shoulde ouergreeue you al.

1.Cor.5.b. 6 * It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwyse ye ought rather to forgeue him, and comfort him, lest that same (person) shoulde be swalowed vp with ouermuche heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you woulde confyrme your loue towardes him.

9 For to this ende also dyd I write, that I myght knowe the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in al thinges.

10 To whom ye forgeue any thing, I (forgeue) also: For if I forgeue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes (forgaue I it) in the (b) syght of Christe,

(b) That is, truely and from myne hart, euen as in the presence of Christe.

11 Lest we shoulde be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to (preache) Christes Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lorde, 13 I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Nowe thankes be vnto God, whiche alwayes causeth vs to triumph (c) in Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

(c) In woorkyng mightyly by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie & triumphe. Luke. 2. c.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christe in them that are saued, and in them whiche perishe.

16 To the one (are we) the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of lyfe, vnto lyfe: And who is meete vnto these thinges?

17 For we are not as many are, whiche chop and change with the woorde of God: but as of pureneſſe, but as of God in the syght of God, speake we * in Christe.

* or, of Christe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Paul exalteth his apostleshyp against the braggers of the false apostles.

DO we begyn to commende our selues agayne? Or nede we, as some (other) Epistles of commendation vnto you? or (lewes) of commendation from you?

2 Ye are our Epistle wrytten in our hartes, * vnderstoode and read of al men:

* or, known.

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christe ministred by vs, wrytten not with ynke, but with the spirite of the lyuyng God, * not in stonie tables, but in fleshie tables of the hart.

Exod.24.b Deut. 5. b. Jerem.31.a The Epistle on the .xii. sunday after Trinitie.

4 Suche trust haue we through Christe to Godwarde.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thynke any thyng, as of our selues: * but our sufficiencie (is) of God:

Phil.2.b. 1.Cor.4.b

6 Whiche hath made vs able * ministers of the newe testament, not of the letter, but of the spirite: For the letter killeth, but the (a) spirite geueth lyfe.

(a) Meanyng the spirituall doctrine whiche is in our hartes.

7 But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glory, so that the children of Israel coulde not stedfastly beholde the face of Moses, for (b) the glory of the countenaunce, whiche (glory) is done away:

(b) After that god had spoke with him, & geuen him the lawe, Exod.24.b,

8 How shal not the ministration of the spirite be muche more in glory?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory: muche more doeth the ministration of rygh teousnesse exceede in glory.

(c) Moses shewed the lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Iewes eyes were not lightned, but blynded, and so could not comme to Christe, who was the ende thereof. Agayne, the Gospel setteth foorth the glorye of god clearely, not couering our eyes, but driuyng the darkenesse away from them.

10 For euen that whiche was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceedyng glory.

11 For if that whiche is put away was glorious: muth more that whiche remayneth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we * haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speache:

* or, hardened.

13 And not as Moses, which put a (c) vale ouer his face, that the children of Israel shoulde not stedfastly looke into the ende of that whiche is abolished.

14 But their myndes were * blynded: for vntil this day remayneth the same vale vntaken away in the readyng of the olde testament, whiche (vale) is put away in Christe.

John.4.c. (d) In Christ who is God manifeste in the fleashe, we see God the father as in a more cleare glasse, 15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the vale is layde vpon their hart.

16 Neuertheleſſe, when it shal turne to the Lorde, the vale shalbe taken away.

17 * The Lorde is the spirite: and where the spirite of the Lorde (is) there (is) libertie.

18 But we al beholding (as) in a (d) myrrour the glory of the Lorde, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glory to glorye, euen as of the spirite of the Lorde.

The vii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by the promise of God to kepe them selues pure.

A 1 HAuing therfore these promises (dearely beloued) let vs clense our selues frō al filthinesse of the flesche and (a) spirit, perfetyng holynesse in the feare of God.

(a) That is of body and soule.

2 *Receiue (b) vs: we haue wronged no man, we haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

*Or, vnto slaunde.

(b) To perswade the Gospel vnto you.

3 I speake not this to condemne (you:) for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our hartes to dye and line with you.

4 I vse great boldnesse of speach towardes you, I glory greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in al our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our *flesche had no rest, but we were troubled on euery syde: without were fightynges, within were feares.

Actes.16.c

6 Neuertheless, *God that comforteth the humble, comforted vs by the commyng of Titus.

2.Cor.1.a

7 And not by his commyng only, but also B by the consolation whiche he receiued of you, when he told vs your vehement desire, your weeping, your feruent minde toward me: so that I reioyced the more.

8 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: For

I

I perceiue that the same Epistle made you sory, though it were but for a season.

9 I nowe reioyce: not that ye were made sory, but that ye were made sory to repentance: For ye were made sory to godwarde, that in nothyng ye myght be hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorowe, causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the sorowe of the *worlde causeth death.

11 For beholde this selfe same thing that ye were made sory to Godwarde, howe much carefulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea (what) (c) clearing of your selues, yea (what) indignation, yea (what) feare, yea (what) vehement desyre, yea (what) zeale, yea (what) pounishment? for in al thinges ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in that matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, (I dyd it) not for his cause that had donne the hurt, neyther for his cause that was hurt: *but that your good mynde to vswarde, myght appeare among you in the syght of God.

13 Therefore we are comforted in your comfort: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed we for the ioy of Titus, because his spirite was refreshed by you al.

14 But yf I haue boasted any thing vnto him of you, I haue not ben shamed (therein) for as we spake all thinges vnto you in trueth, euen so our boasting which I made vnto Titus, is founde a trueth.

15 And his *inwarde affection is more abundant towarde you, whyle he remembreth the obedience of you all, howe with feare and trembling ye receyued him.

16 I reioyce that I haue confydence in you in all thinges.

The. viii. Chapter.

I. By the example of the Macedonians, 9. and Christe, he exhorteth them to continue in releeuing the poore saintes, commending their good begynnyng.

1 MOreouer, we doo you to wit brethrē, of the grace of God, whiche was geuen in the Churches of Macedonia.

2 Howe that in muche triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their deepe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

3 For to their power (I beare them recorde) yea and beyonde their powers, they (were) willyng of them selues:

4 Prayeng vs with great instance, that we would receyue this (a) grace and societie of the ministerie whiche is towarde the saintes.

5 (And this they dyd) not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues fyrst to the lord, and (after) vnto vs, by the wyl of God,

6 That we shoulde desyre Titus to accomplyshe the same grace among you also, euen as he had begunne.

7 Nowe therefore as ye are plenteous in all thinges, in fayth, and in woord, & in knowledge, and in all feruentnesse, and in loue whiche ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye be plenteous in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commaundement, but because of the feruentnesse of *other, and proouing the vnfaignednesse of your loue.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christe, that though he was *rich, yet for your sakes he became poore, that ye through his powertie might be made rich.

10 And I geue counsell herein: For this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doo only, but also to wyl a yeere agoe.

11 Nowe therefore perfourme to doo (it) also: that as there (appeared in you) a redynesse to wyll, euen so there may appeare a redynesse to perfourme, *of that whiche ye haue.

12 For *yf there be fyrst a wylling minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Truely, not that other be set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of lyke condition nowe at this tyme your abundance (supplyeth) their want, that their abundance also may supply your want, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, *He that (had gathered) muche, had nothyng ouer, and he that (had gathered) litle, had no lacke.

16 Thankes be vnto GOD, whiche put the same earnest care for you in the hart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and being the more carefull, came of his owne accorde vnto you.

18 We haue sent with him that brother (b) whose prayse is in the Gospell throughout al the churches:

19 (And not that only, but he was also chosen of the Churches to be a felowe with vs in our iourney, concernyng this *grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorye of the same Lorde, and (declaration) of your redy minde,)

20 Eschewyng this, that any man shoulde rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is *ministred by vs:

The.ix.Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companyons commyng to them.

A Actes. II. d. 1. Cor. 16. a. 2. Cor. 8. a. Rom. 15. f.

1 FOR of the *ministring to the saintes, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you:

2 For I knowe the redinesse of your mind, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe: and * your zeale hath prouoked many.

* or, zeale in you.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you shoulde be in vayne in this behalfe, that (as I haue sayd) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest haply yf they of Macedonia comme with me, and fynde you vnprepared, we (I wyll not say you) shoulde be ashamed in this boldnesse of boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, that they woulde comme before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised benefycence, that it might be redy as a benefycence, and (a) not as an extortion.

(a) That is, as a thing extorted, or violently wrong from you.

8 God is able to make you plentiful in al grace, that ye in al things hauing alwayes sufficient vnto the vttermost, may be plentiful in euery good woorke.

Psal. 112. b. (d) Dauid speaketh of the man whiche feareth god, and loueth his neighbour.

10 Moreouer (I beseeche hym) that ministreth seede vnto the sower, to minister bread also for foode, and to multiplie your seede, and to encreale the fruites of your righteousnesse:

11 That in al thinges ye may be made riche vnto al bountifulnesse, whiche causeth thorowe vs thankes geuing vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not only supplyeth the want of the saintes: but also is abundant by the thankes geuing of many vnto God,

13 (Whyles by the experiment of this ministration, they glorifye God for the obedience of your consentyng to the Gospel of Christe, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to al men:)

14 And by their prayers for you, whiche * long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

The.x.Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

1 I Paul mee selfe beseeche you by * meekenesse and gentlenesse of Christe, whiche in presence am lowly among you: but am bolde towardes you being absent. A 2 I beseeche you that I may not (neede) to be bold when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherewith I * am supposed to haue benne bolde agaynst some, whiche repute vs as though we walked according to the flesh.

* or, wherewith I meane to be bolde.

3 For walkyng in the flesh, yet we doo not warre according to the flesh.

4 (* For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mighty through God, to the ouerthrowyng of strong holdes,) Ephes. 6. c.

5 Wherewith we ouerthrowe counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted agaynst the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie al imagination to the obedience of Christe:

6 And hauing in a redynesse wherewith to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfylled.

7 Looke ye on thinges after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christes, let hym consyder this agayne of hym selfe, that as he (is) of Christe, euen so (are) we of Christe. B

8 For though I shoulde boast somewhat moze of our authoritie, whiche the Lorde hath geuen to vs for edification, & not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed. 2. Cor. 13. d.

9 Lest I shoulde seeme as it were to make you afrayde by letters.

10 For the letters (a) (sayth he) are soare and strong: but (his) bodyly presence is weake, and his speache nothing woorth. (a) Meaning a certayne man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

11 Let hym that is suche a one, thinke on this wyse, that as we are in woorde by letters when we are absent, suche also are we in deede when we are present.

themselues with them selues, they vnder-ſtande not.

(b) That is, the gyftes & vocatiō whiche God had geuen hym to win others by.

13 But we wyll not boast aboue measure:
but according to the (b) measure of the rule whiche GOD hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reache euen vnto you.

14 For we stretche not out our selues beyond measure, as though we reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Chriſte:

15 Not boastyng our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hopyng when your fayth is encreased, to be magnified among you accordyng to our measure abundantly,

16 That I may preache the Gospel in thoſe (regions) whiche (are) beyond you: and not glorye of thoſe thynges whiche by another mans measure are prepared alredy.

The.xii. Chapter.

I. He reioyceth in preferment, 5. but chiefely in his humblenesſe.

¶ 1 IT is not expedient doubtleſſe for me to glorie, I wil come to viſions and reuelations of the Lorde.

(a) That is, Chriſtian, or I ſpeake in Chriſte. 2 For I knewe a man in (a) Chriſt aboue fourtene yeeres agoe, (whether in the body I can not tel, or whether out of the body I can not tel, God knoweth) taken vp into the thirde (b) heauen:

(b) That is to ſay, into the higheſt heauen. 3 And I knewe the ſame man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tel, GOD knoweth,)

(c) Mans infirmitie was not able to declare the, neyther were they ſhewed vnto him for that ende. 4 Howe that he was taken vp into (c) paradiſe, & heard vnſpeakeable wordes, whiche is not lawful for man to vtter.

* or, thyng. 5 Of ſuch * (a man) wil I glory, yet of mee ſelfe wil I not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would deſyre to glory (of them) I ſhal not be a foole, for I wil ſay the truth, but I nowe refrayne, leſt any man ſhould thinke of me aboue (that) whiche he ſeeth me (to be,) or (that) he heareth of me.

¶ 7 John.2.b. And * leſt I ſhould be exalted out of meaſure through the abundance of the reuelations, there was geuen to me a pricke to the fleſhe, the meſſengers of Satan to buffet me, becauſe I ſhoulde not be exalted out of meaſure.

8 For this thing beſought I the Lord thrise, that it myght depart from me.

9 And he ſayde vnto me, My grace is ſufficient for thee: for my ſtrength is made perfect in weakeneſſe. Moſt gladly therefore I wyl rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Chriſte myght dwel in me.

10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in neceſſities, in perſecutions, in anguiſhes for Chriſtes ſake: For when I am weake, then am I ſtrong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue ben cõmended of you. * For nothing was I inferiour vnto the chiefe apoſtles, though I be nothing. I.Cor.9.a.

12 Truely the ſignes of an apoſtle were wrought among you, in al patience, in ſignes, and woonders, and mighty deedes.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except (it be) that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idleneſſe? forgeue me this wrong.

14 Beholde, nowe the thirde tyme I am redy to come vnto you, and yet wyl I not be chargeable vnto you by my idleneſſe: For * I ſeeke not yours, but you. For the chyldren ought not to lay vp for the parentes, but the parentes for the chyldren. ¶ Actes.20.g 2.Cor.11.a. Eccle.46.c.

15 I wyl very gladly ſpende, & wyl be ſpent for your ſoules, though the more abundantly I loue you, the leſſe I be loued agayne. I.Reg.12.a.

16 But be it, (that) I was not chargeable vnto you: (d) Neuertheleſſe, being craftie, I caught you with guile. (d) Thus ſaid his aduerſaries, that though he toke it not by him ſelfe, yet he dyd it by the meanes of others

17 Dyd I pyll you by any of them whom I ſent vnto you?

18 I deſyred Titus, and with hym I ſent a brother: Dyd Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the ſame ſpirite? not in the ſame ſteppes?

19 Agayne, thynke you that we excuſe our ſelues vnto you? We ſpeake in Chriſte in the ſyght of God: but (we do) all thynges dearely beloued for your edifying.

20 For I feare leſt when I come, I ſhal not finde you ſuche as I would, and that I ſhalbe founde vnto you, ſuche as ye would not: leſt there be * debates, enuyinges, wrathes, ſtryues, backbytinges, whiſperinges, ſwellynges, and ſeditions: Galat.5.d.

21 And that when I come againe, my God bring me lowe among you, and I ſhall bewayle many of them which haue ſinned alredy, and haue not repented of the vncleanneſſe, and fornication, and wantonneſſe whiche they haue committed. I.Cor.5.a.

The.xiii. Chapter.

I. He threatneth the obſtinate, 5. and declareth what his power is, by their owne teſtimonie.

1 NOwe come I the thyrde tyme vnto you. * In the mouth of two or three wytneſſes ſhall euery worde be eſtabliſhed. Deut.19.d Math.18.c John.8.c. Heb.10.f.

2 I tolde you before, and tel you before, as though I had benne present (with you) the seconde tyme, so write I nowe beyng absent, to them whiche in time past haue synned, and to all other: that yf I comme agayne, I wyl not spare,

3 Seeing that ye seeke experience of Christ *whiche speaketh in me, whiche to you-warde is not weake, but is mighty in you. *Pat.10.d.

4 For though he was crucifyed of weakeneſſe, yet liueth he of the power of GOD: And we also are weake in him: but we shall liue with him by the might of God towarde you.

5 *Examine your selues whether ye are in the fayth: Proue your owne selues. Know ye not your owne selues howe that Jesus Christe is in you? except ye be reprobates. *1.Cor.11.k. Eccls.18.c.

6 But I trust that ye shall knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Truely I pray to God that ye doo none euyl, not that we shoulde seeme approued, but that ye shoulde doo that which is honeſt, though we be as (a) reprobates. (a) In that he humbled him selfe, & tooke vpon him the fourme of a seruant.

8 For we can doo nothing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and ye are strong. Truely this also we wishe, euen your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these thinges beyng absent, lest being present, I shoulde vse sharpneſſe, accordyng to the power *whiche the Lorde hath geuen me to edification, and not to destruction. *2.Cor.10.c.

11 Finally brethren, farewel, be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, liue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

12 *Grette one another in an holy kysse. *1.Cor.16.f.

13 All the saintes salute you.

14 The grace of • our Lorde Jesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the • communion of the holy ghost, be with you al, Amen. • or, the Lorde. • or, felowship.

¶ The seconde Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, (a cittie) of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Galathians.

The fyrst Chapter.

Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, whiche suffered them selues to be seduced by the false apostles.

1 PAUL an Apostle not of menne, neyther by man, but by Jesus Christe, and by God the father, whiche rayſed hym vp from the dead:

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace (be) with you, and peace from god the father, & from our Lorde Jesus Christ:

4 Whiche gaue hym selfe for our synnes, to deliuer vs from this (a) present euyl world, accordyng to the wyll of God, and our father: Rom.1.a. 1.Cor.1.a. 2.Cor.1.a. (a) Which is the corrupt lyfe of man without Christe.

5 To whom (be) glory for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I marueyle that ye are so soone turned from him that had called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospel:

7 Whiche is not another (Gospel) but that there be some whiche trouble you, and *intende to peruert the Gospel of Christe.

8 Neuertheleſſe though we, or an angel from heauen, preache any other Gospel vnto you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed. Acts.15.g.

9 As we sayde before, so say I now againe, If any man preache any other Gospell vnto you, then (that) ye haue receiued, let hym be accursed.

10 Doo I nowe perswade menne, or God? Other doo I seeke to please menne? *For yf I yet pleased menne, I shoulde not be the seruant of Christe. *John.13.b.

11 I certifye you, brethren, that the Gospel whiche was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neyther receyued it of man, neither was I taught (it,) but by the reuelation of Jesus Christe. Acts.8.a.

13 For ye haue hearde of my conuersation in tyme past, in the Iewes religion (how) that beyonde measure *I persecuted ye church of God, and spoyled it: *or, myne agt. 1.Cor.15.b. Phil.3.a.

14 And profyted in the Iewes religion a-bone many of my • companyons in myne owne nation, *beyng a very feruent mayntayner of the (b) traditions of my fathers. (b) That is, of the lawe of God, whiche was geuen to the auncient fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, whiche separated me from my mothers wombe, and *called (me) by his grace, Acts.9.c.

16 To reuealе his ſonne by me, that I ſhould by the Goſpel preache him among the heathen: immediatly I communed not with (c)* fleaſhe and blood:

(a) That is, with any man, as though I had neede of his counſel to approue my doctrine. Mat. 16.c.

17 Neither went I vp to Hieruſalem, to them whiche (were) apoſtles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, & came agayne vnto Damaſcus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hieruſalem to ſee Peter, and abode with him fyfteene dayes.

19 But other of the Apoſtles ſawe I none, ſaue Iames the Lordes brother.

20 The thinges therefore whiche I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lye not.

Actes. 22.b. 21 *Afterwarde I came into the coaſtes of Cyria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Iurie whiche were in Chriſte:

22 But they had hearde only, that he whiche perſecuted vs in times paſt, now preacheth the (d) fayth, which before he deſtroyed.

(d) That is, the Goſpel whiche is the doctrine of fayth.

23 And they glorifyed God in me.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Confyrmyng his apoſtleſhip to be of God. 3. he ſheweth why Titus was not circumciſed.

Q 1 Acts. 15.a. THen fourteene yeeres after, I went vp agayne to Hieruſalem *with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Goſpell whiche I preache among the Gentiles: but priuately with them whiche were eſteemed the cheefe: leſt by any meanes I ſhoulde runne, or hadde runne in vayne.

3 But neyther Titus which was with me, being a Greke, was compelled to be circumciſed:

4 And that becauſe of incommers, bryng falſe brethren, whiche came in priuily to ſpie out our libertie whiche we haue in Chriſt Ieſu, that they myght bryng vs into bondage.

* or, moment. 5 To whom, no not for an * houre, we gaue place by ſubiection, that the truth of the Goſpel might continue with you.

6 Of them whiche ſeemed to be ſomewhat (what they (a) were in times paſſed it maketh no matter to me, God accepteth no mans perſon:) for they whiche ſeemed cheefe, (b) added nothyng (to me.)

(a) Albeit, they had ben conuerſant with Chriſte aforetyme. (b) That is, they taught me not: but approued my doctrine perfect in al poyntes.

7 But contrarywyſe, when they ſawe that the goſpel of the vncircumciſion was committed vnto me, as the goſpel of the circumciſion was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mighty in Peter to the apoſtleſhip of the circumciſion, the ſame was mighty in me towarde the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was geuen vnto me, (then) Iames, Cephas, and Iohn, whiche ſeemed to be pillers, gaue to me and Barnabas the right hands of felowſhip: that we (ſhoulde be apoſtles) vnto the heathen, and they vnto the circumciſion.

10 Only * that we ſhoulde remember the poore: *Wherin alſo I was diligent to doo the ſame.

* they admoniſhed. Acts. 11.b. 2. Cor. 9.a.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioche, I withſtode him (b) to the face, becauſe he was to be blamed.

(b) Meaning before al menne.

12 For before that certaine came frō Iames, he dyd eate with the Gentiles: but when they were comme, he withdrewe, and ſeparated him ſelfe, fearing them (which were) of the circumciſion.

13 And the other Iewes diſſembled lykewyſe with hym: inſomuche that Barnabas alſo was brought into their ſimulatiō.

14 But when I ſawe that they went not the ryght way to the trueth of the Goſpel, I ſayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou beyng a Iewe, lyueſt after the manner of the Gentiles, and not as doo the Iewes: Why compelleſt thou the Gentiles to line as doo the Iewes?

E

15 We (whiche are) * Iewes by nature, and not (c) ſynners of the Gentiles, Phil. 3.a. (c) For ſo the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproche.

16 Knowe that a man *is not iuſtifyed by the deedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Ieſus Chriſte: and we haue beleeued on Ieſus Chriſte, that we might be iuſtifyed by the fayth of Chriſte, and not by the deedes of the lawe: becauſe by the deedes of the lawe no fleſhe ſhalbe iuſtifyed. Rom. 3.c.

17 If then, whyle we ſeeke to be made righteous by Chriſte, we our ſelues alſo are founde ſynners: is therefore Chriſte the miniſter of ſynne? God forbyd.

18 For yf I buylde agayne the thinges whiche I deſtroyed, then make I me ſelfe a treſpaſſer.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I myght lyue vnto God: I am crucifyed with Chriſte.

20 Neuertheleſſe, I lyue: yet nowe not I, but Chriſte lyueth in me: and the lyfe whiche I nowe lyue in the fleſhe, I lyue by the fayth of the ſonne of God, * whiche loued me, and gaue him ſelfe for me. Ephel. 5.c. Rom. 4.c.

I For-

O Foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey the truth: to whom Jesus Christ was before (a) described before the eyes, & among you crucified?

(a) To whom Christe was so lyuely preached, as if his lyuely image were set before your eyes, or els had ben crucified among you.

2 This onely woulde I learne of you, whether ye receyued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearing of the fayth?

3 Are ye suche fooles, that after ye haue begun in the spirite, ye woulde nowe ende in the flesshe?

4 Haue ye suffered so great things in vaine? If it be yet in vaine.

5 He therfore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh myracles among you, doeth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearyng of the fayth?

Gene. 15.b Rom. 4.a James. 2.b

6 * Euen as Abraham beleeued God, and it was ascribed to hym for righteousnesse.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they whiche are of fayth, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the scripture seeyng afore hande that God woulde iustifie the Heathen through fayth, shewed before hand glad tidinges vnto Abraham (saying) * In thee shal al nations be blessed.

Gene. 12.a and. 22.b

9 So then, they whiche be of fayth, are blessed with the faythful Abraham.

(b) whiche thinke to be iustified by them.

10 For as many as are of the (b) deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse: For it is written, * Cursed is euery one that continueth not in all thinges whiche are written in the booke of the lawe, to doo them.

Deut. 27.b Abac. 2.a Rom. 20.c

11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the syght of God, it is euident: * For the iust shal lyue by fayth.

Heb. 10.g Leuit. 28.a Ezec. 20.b

12 And the law is not of faith: * but the man that doeth them, shal lyue in them.

Rom. 10.a Deut. 21.b

(c) I wyl vse a cómon example, that you may be ashamed to attribute les vnto God, the to suche couenants, whiche one man maketh to an other.

13 Christe hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, beyng made a curse for vs: For it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessyng of Abraham myght come on ỹ Gentiles through Jesus Christe, that we myght receyue the promise of the spirite through fayth.

15 Brethren (c) I speake after the maner of men, though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be allowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

The Epistle one the. xiii. sunday after trinitie.

16 To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He saith not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christe.

17 This I say, that the lawe whiche began after warde beyonde * foure hundred & thirtie yeeres, doeth not disanul the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christ warde, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the law, then not nowe of promise. But God gaue (the inheritance) vnto Abraham by promise.

Rom. 4.c

19 Wherefore then (serueth) the lawe? * It was added because of transgressions, tyl the seede should come to whom the promise was made: and it was ordeyned * by angels in the hande of a mediatour.

Rom. 5.c * the lawe. Actes. 7.g

20 A mediatour, is not (a mediatour) of one, but God is (d) one.

(d) Cõstant, and alwayes lyke hym selfe.

21 Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbyd. For if there had benne a lawe geuen whiche coulde haue geuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse shoulde haue ben by the lawe.

D Rom. 7.c 1. Tim. 1.b

22 But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the fayth of Jesus Christe shoulde be geuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the lawe, & were shut vp vnto the fayth which should afterward be reuealed.

24 Wherefore the law was our schoolemaister vnto Christ, that we should be iustified by fayth.

25 But after that fayth is come, we are no longer vnder a schoolemaister.

26 For ye are al the children of God by fayth in Christe Jesus.

27 For * all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christe.

* Somme reade, al ye that are baptised in to Christe, haue put on Christe.

28 There is no Jew, neyther Greeke, there is neyther bond, nor free, there is neyther male nor female: for ye are al one in Christe Jesus.

29 If (ye be) Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heyres accoyding to the promise.

The Epistle on the. ii. sunday after trinitie.

1 AND I say, That the heyre as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of al:

2 But is vnder tutours and gouernours, vntyl the tyme appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the (a) rudiments of the worlde:

(a) That is, the law, whiche before he called a scolemaister. Luk. 20.b

4 But when the fulnesse of the tyme was comme, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, that we myght receyue the adoption of children.

John. 3.b Rom. 8.c

6 Because

6 ¶ Because ye are sonnes, * God hath sent foorth the spirite of his sonne into your hartes, crying (c) Abba, father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heyre of God, through Christ.

8 Notwithstanding, when ye (d) knewe not God, ye did seruice vnto them which by nature are no Goddes.

9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, howe turne ye agayne vnto the weake and beggerly rudimentes, whereunto agayne ye desyre a fresh to be in bondage.

10 Ye obserue dayes, and monethes, and tymes, and yeres.

11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I (am) for I (am) as ye are: Ye haue not iniuryed me at al.

13 Ye knowe howe through infirmitie of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 (e) And my temptation whiche was in my flesh ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receyued me as an angel of God, euen as Christ Iesus.

15 What is then your felicitie? for I beare you recorde, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enimie, because I tel you the trueth?

17 They are ielous ouer you (f) amisse: Yea, they intend to exclude (g) you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde.

18 It is good alwayes to be ielous in a good thyng, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My litle chyldren, of whom I trauayle in byrth agayne, vntyl Christe be (h) fashioned in you.

20 But I desyre to be present with you now, and to change my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.

21 (i) Tel me, ye that desyre to be vnder the lawe, doo ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes: the one by a bondmayde, the other by a free woman.

23 But he whiche was of the bond woman, was borne after the flesh: but he whiche was of the free woman (was borne) by promise.

24 Whiche thinges are spoken by (i) an allegorie: For these are two testamentes: the one from the mount Sina, whiche gendereth vnto bondage, whiche is Agar:

25 For * Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and boydereth vpon the citie which (is) nowe (called) Hierusalem, and is in bondage, with her children.

26 But * Hierusalem whiche is aboue, is free, whiche is the mother of vs al.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children, breake foorth and crye, thou that trauaylest not: For the desolate hath many mo children then she whiche hath an husbande.

28 But brethren, we are after Isahac the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted hym that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it nowe.

30 Neuertheles, what saith the scripture? * Put away the bondwoman & her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shall in no wise be heyre with the sonne of the free woman.

31 So then brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

Rom. 8. c

(d) When ye receyued the Gospel, ye were idolaters, therfore it is shame for you to refuse lyberte & becom seruants, yea and seeing the Iewes desire to be out of their felowshyp.

13 For brethren, ye haue ben called vnto libertie: only *let not libertie be an occasion to the flesshe, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the lawe is fulfylled in one woorde (which is this) *Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thee selfe.

15 Yf ye byte and deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, walke in the spirite, and ye shal not fulfyl the lust of the flesshe.

17 For the flesshe lusteth contrary to the spirite, * and the spirite contrary to the flesshe: these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not doo what ye woulde.

18 But and yf ye be led of the spirite, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesshe are manifest, which are these, aduoutrie, fornication, vncleannesse, wantonnesse,

20 Worshyppyng of images, witchcrafte, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, sectes, 21 Enuyinges, murders, dronkennesse, gluttonies, & such like, of the whiche I tel you before, as I haue tolde you in tyme past, that (euen) they whiche doo such thynges, shall not inherite the kyngdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is, loue, ioy, peace, long sufferyng, gentlenesse, goodnes, fayth, 23 Meekenesse, temperance: agaynst suche there is no lawe.

24 They truely that (are) Christes, (b) haue crucified the flesshe, with the affections and lustes.

25 If we lyue in the spirite, let vs also walke in the spirite.

26 Let vs not be desyrous of vaine glorie, prouokyng one another, enuying one another.

After his salutation, 4. he sheweth that the cheefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christe, 16. he declareth his good wyl towarde them, geuyng thankes, and prayying God for theyr fayth. 21. The maiestie of Christe.

A 1 PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christe by the wyl of God, to the saintes which are at Ephesus, and to the fayethfull in Christe Jesus, Roma.1.a. 1.Cor.1.a. 2 * Grace (be) with you, and peace from God our father, and (from) the Lorde Jesus Christe.

1.Pet.1.a. Galat.1.a. 3 * Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche hath blessed vs in al spirituall blessyng in heauenly thynges by Christe:

4 Accordyng as he had chosen vs in him, before the fundation of the worlde, that we shoulde be holy, and without blame before him through loue.

5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of (a) children by Jesus Christe vnto him selfe, accordyng to the good pleasure of his wyl:

(a) Wheras we were not the naturall chyldren, he receyued vs by grace, and made vs his chyldren.

6 To the prayse of the glorie of his grace, wherein he hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

2.Cor.1.b. 9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his wyll, accordyng to his good pleasure whiche he had purposed in him selfe,

(b) Though we be redeemed frō the bondage of synne by the death of Christ. Ro 6 yet we hope for this seconde redemption, which shalbe whē we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, whereof we haue the holye ghoste for a gage, as ca.4. 10 * That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, he might gather togeather in one al thynges in Christe, both whiche are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whom also we are chosen, being predestinate accordyng to the purpose of him who worketh al thinges after the counsaile of his owne wyl:

12 That we shoulde be vnto the prayse of his glorie, whiche before beleeued in Christe.

13 In whom also ye (hoped) after that ye hearde the worde of trueth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherin also after that ye beleeued, were * sealed with the holy spirite of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the (b) redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the prayse of his glorie.

15 Wherefore I also, after that I heard of the fayth which ye haue in the Lord Jesus, and loue vnto al the saintes, C

16 Ceasse not to geue thankes for you, makyng mention of you in my prayers,

(a) The faithfull haue not onely to striue against men, and them selues: but against Satan the spirituall enimy, who is most dangerous: for he is ouer our heades, so that we canne not reache him, but he must be resysted by Gods peace.

12 For we wrestle not against (a) blood and flesshe, but agaynst rules, agaynst powers, agaynst worldly gouernours of the darkenesse of this worlde, agaynst spirituall wickednesse in heauenly (places.)

13 Wherefore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resyst in the euyl day, and hauing finished al thinges, to stande fast.

14 Stande therefore, * hauyng your loynes gyrt about with the trueth, and hauyng on the brest plate of ryghteousnesse:

15 And your feete shod in the (b) preparation of the Gospel of peace.

16 Aboue al, takyng the shielde of fayth, wherewith ye may quenche al the fyerie dartes of the wicked.

17 And take the helmet of saluation, and the swoorde of the spirite, whiche is the woorde of God:

Luke. 18. a. 1. Thes. 5. d.

18 * Prayng alwayes in al prayer and supplication in the spirite, and watchyng for the same purpose with all instance and supplication for al saintes:

19 And for me, * that vtterance may be geuen vnto me, that I may open my mouth freely, to vtter the secretes of the Gospel, 20 Whereof I am a messenger in bondes, that therin I may speake freely, as I ought to speake.

D

21 But that ye also may knowe my affayres, and what I doo, Tychicus a deare brother and faythful minister in the Lord, shal shew you al thynges:

22 Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye myght knowe of our affayres, & that he myght comfort your hartes.

23 Peace (be vnto you) brethren, & loue with fayth from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe.

24 Grace (be) with al them whiche loue our Lorde Iesus Christe in sincerite. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Philippians.

The first Chapter.

I. Saint Paul discouereth his hart towardes them, 3. by his thankes geuyng, 4. prayers, 8. and wyshes for their fayth and saluation.

1 PAul and Timotheus the seruantes of Iesus Christe, to al the saintes in Christe Iesus, whiche are at Philippos, with the Bishops and Deacons:

2 Grace (be) vnto you, and peace from God our father, and (from) the Lorde Iesus Christe.

The Epistle on the. xii. sunday after trinitie.

3 I thanke my God with al remembraunce of you.

Rom. 1. b. Colos. 1. a

4 (Alwayes in al my prayer for al you, makyng prayer with gladnesse:)

(a) That ye receyued the Gospel.

5 For your felowshyp in the gospel, from the first (a) day vntyl nowe:

(b) Of this peculier benefite to suffer for Christes sake.

6 Being perswaded of this same thing, that he whiche hath begunne a good woorke in you, wyll perfourme it vntyl the day of Iesus Christe:

(c) That is, frō the verye hart roote of Iesus Christ.

7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you all, because I haue you in my hart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confyrmation of the Gospel, you al being partakers of my (b) grace.

8 For God is my recorde howe greatly I long after you al in the (c) bowels of Iesus Christe.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abounde yet more and more in knowledge, and in al vnderstandyng:

10 That ye may discerne thynges that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence tyl the day of Christe, 11 Beyng fylled with the fruites of ryghteousnesse, whiche (are) by Iesus Christ, vnto the glory and prayse of God.

12 But I woulde ye shoulde vnderstande, brethren, that the thinges whiche (came) vnto me, hath come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.

(d) Which I suffeyne for Christes cause.

13 (So) that my (d) bondes in Christ are manifest throughout al the iudgement hal, and in al other places.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lorde, being incouraged through my bondes, dare more plentifully speake the woorde without feare.

15 Some preache Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good wyl:

16 The one preache Christ of stryfe, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:

17 But the others of loue, knowyng that I am am set to the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by truth, I ioy therein, and will ioy.
19 For I knowe that this shal turne to my 2.Cor.1.b. (a) saluation through your prayer, and ministryng of the spirite of Iesus Christe, 20 According to my earnest expectation & my hope, that in nothyng I shalbe ashamed: but that with al boldnes, as alwayes, (so) nowe also Christe shalbe magnified in my body, whether it be by lyfe, or by death.
D 21 For Christe (is) to me lyfe, and death is to me aduantage.
22 But whether to line in the flesche, this (be) the fruite of my labour, & what I shal chuse, I wote not.
2.Cor.5.a. 23 * For I am in a straite betwixt two, hauyng a desyre to departe, and to be with Christe, which is muche farre better.
* or, body. 24 Neuertheles, to abyde in the * flesche (is) more needful for you.
25 And this I am sure of, that I shal abide, and continue with you al, for your furtherance and ioy of fayth:
26 That your reioycyng may be the more abundant in Iesus Christe for me, by my commyng to you agayne.
Ephes.4.a 27 Only let your conuersation * be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirit, in one soule, holding togeather in defence of the fayth of the Gospel.
(c) God sheweth by this meanes of bearyng the crosse, who are his, and who are not. * or, Christes cause. 28 And in nothyng fearyng your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and (c) that of god.
29 For vnto you it is geuen for Christe, not only this to beleeue on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake, 30 Hauing the same fight which ye sawe in me, and nowe heare in me.

The. ii. Chapter.

3. He exhorteth them aboue al thynges to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chefly mayntayned.

A 1 IF (there be) therefore any (a) consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any felowshyp of the spirite, if any compassion and mercy:
(a) If you so loue me that you desyre my comfort. 2 Fulfil ye my ioy, that ye be like mynded, hauing the same loue, being of one accorde, of one minde.
3 Let nothyng (be done) through stryfe or vayneglory, but in meekenesse euery man estieme one the other better then him selfe.
1.Cor.10.f 4 * Looke not euery man on his owne thynges, but euery man also on the thynges of others.
5 Let the same minde be in you, which was in Christe Iesus:
6 Who being in the fourme of god, thought it not (b) robbery to be equal with God:
7 But made him selfe of no reputation, taking on him the fourme of a seruant, and made in the likenesse of men, and founde in figure as a man:
8 He humbled him selfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.
9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and geuen him a name which is aboue euery name:
10 That in * the name of Iesus * euery (c) knee shoulde bowe, (of thynges) in heauen, and (thynges) in earth, and (thynges) vnder the earth:
11 And that euery tongue shoulde confesse that the Lorde is Iesus Christe, to the glory of God the father.
12 Wherefore, my dearely beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence only, but nowe muche more in my absence, worke (d) out your owne saluation with feare and trembling.
13 For it is GOD which worketh in you, both to wyl and to do, of good wil.
14 Do al thinges without murmuring and disputing:
15 That ye may be blameles and pure, the sonnes of GOD, without rebuke in the middes of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whom shine ye as lyghtes in the worlde, 16 Holdyng fast the worde of lyfe, to my * reioycyng in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vayne, neyther laboured in vayne.
17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice and seruice of your fayth, I reioyce, and reioyce with you al.
18 For the same cause also do ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.
19 But I trust in the Lorde Iesus, to * sende Timotheus shortly vnto you, * that I also may be of good comfort, when I knowe your state.
20 For I haue no man like mynded, who wyl naturally care for your state.
21 For al seke their owne, not the thinges which are Iesus Christes.
D 22 Ye knowe the proufe of him, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospel.
23 Him therefore I hope to sende, as soone as I knowe my state.
24 But I trust in the Lorde, that I also mee selfe shal come shortly.
25 But I suppoſed it necessary, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and companion

27 And no doubt he was sicke nigh vnto death, but God had mercy on hym: and not on him only, but on me also: lest I shoulde haue sorowe vpon sorowe.

2. He warneth them to beware of false teachers, & agaynst whom he setteth Christe.

3 1 MOreouer my brethren, reioyce in the Lorde. It greeueth me not to write the same thynges often to you, for to you it is a sure thyng.

(a) Whiche barke against the true doctrine, to fyll theyr bellies. (b) S. Paul here alludeth vnto circumcision by lyke blance of a like woorde, because that they who craked therof, did rather cause a scisme, diuision, or cutting of and rearyng in sunder, then an accorde in the Churche. 2. Cor. 11. a. Actes. 23. b. Math. 14. c.

2 Beware of (a) dogges, beware of cyrll workers, beware of (b) concision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirite, & reioyce in Christe Iesus, and haue no confidence in the flesshe.

4 Though I myght also haue confidence in the flesshe. If any other man thynketh that he hath whereof he myght trust in the flesshe, I more:

5 Circumcised the eyght day, of the kinrede of Israel, of the tribe of Beiamin, an Hebrue of the Hebrues, after the lawe a Pharisier.

6 Concerning feruentnesse, persecuting the church: touching the righteousnesse which is in the lawe, I was blameles.

7 * But the thinges that were vauntage vnto me, those I counted losse for Christes sake.

8 Yea, I thynke al thynges but losse for the excellencie of the knowledge of Christ Iesus my Lord: for whose sake I haue lost all thynges, and do iudge them but * doung, that I may winne Christe,

9 And be founde in hym, not hauyng myne owne ryghteousnesse which is of the lawe: but that whiche is through the fayth of Christ, the ryghteousnesse which commeth of God through fayth:

10 That I may knowe hym, and the power of his resurrection, and the felowshyp of his passions, being made conformable vnto his death,

* Assaying.

11 * If by any meanes I might atteyne vnto the resurrection of the dead.

12 (c) Not as though I had already atteyned, either were already perfect: but I followe, yf that I may comprehende, wherein also I am comprehended of Christ Iesus.

13 Brethren, I count not mee selfe as yet that I haue atteyned: but this one thing (I say,) I forget those thinges which are behynde, and endeuour mee selfe vnto those thynges whiche are before,

14 And I presse towarde the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christe Iesus.

15 Let vs therfore as many as be perfect, be thus minded: And if ye be otherwise minded, God shal reuelate y same also vnto you.

16 Neuertheles, vnto that which we haue atteyned vnto, let vs procede by one rule, that we may be of one accorde.

17 * Brethren, be followers togeather of me, and looke on them whiche walke so as ye haue vs for an ensample.

The Epistle on the. xxiii. Sunday after trinitie. 1. Cor. 4. c.

18 For many walke, of whom I haue tolde you often, and nowe tel you weeping, (that they are) the enimies of the crosse of Christ:

15 Ye Philippians knowe also, that in the (d) beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated to me, as concernyng geuing and receyuing, but ye only.
(d) When I fyrst preached the Gospel vnto you.
16 For euen in Thessalonica ye sent once, and agayne vnto my necessitie.
17 Not that I desyre a gyft: but I desyre fruite abounding to your accompt.
18 But I haue receiued al, and haue plentie: I was euenfylled after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus the thinges (whiche were sent) from you, an odour of a swette smel, a * sacrifyce acceptable, pleasant to God.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Colossians.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. He geueth thankes vnto God for their fayth. 7. Confyrmeth the doctrine of Epaphras. 9. prayeth for the increase of their fayth.

1 PAUL an apostle of Iesus Christe, by the wyl of God, and Timotheus the brother,
2 To the saintes and faythfull brethren in Christe, whiche are at Colossa, * grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe.
Galat. 1. a. Ephe. 1. a.
3 * We geue thankes to God and the father of our Lorde Iesus Christe, alwayes for you prayeng:
The Epistle on the. xxiiii. sunday after trinitie. Phil. 1. a.
4 Sence we heard of your fayth (a) in Christe Iesus, and of the loue whiche ye haue to al saintes:
(a) For without Christe there is no fayth to be stued by, but only a vayne opinion.
5 For the hopes sake whiche is layde vp for you in heauen, of which (hope) ye heard before in the woord of trueth of the Gospel,
6 Whiche is comme vnto you euen as (it is) in al the worlde, and is fruiteful, as it is also in you, from the day ye heard (of it) and knewe the grace of God in trueth.
7 As ye also learned of * Epaphras our deare felowe seruant, whiche is for you a faythful minister of Christe:
Colos. 4. c.
8 Who also declared vnto vs your loue (b) in the spirite.
(b) Whiche commeth of the holy ghost.
9 * For this cause we also sence the day we heard it, doo not cease to pray for you, and to desyre that ye myght be fulfylled with knowledge of his wyl, in al wysedome and spiritual vnderstandyng:
Ephes. 1. b.
10 That ye might walke woorthy of the Lorde in all pleasyng, * being fruiteful in all good woorkes, and encreasyng in the knowledge of God:
Iohn. 15. c.
11 Strengthened with all might, through his glorious power, vnto all patience and long suffering with ioyfulnesse.

12 Geuing thankes vnto the father, whiche hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritaunce of the saintes in light:
13 Who hath deliuered vs from the power of darknesse, and hath translated vs into the kingdome of his deare sonne:
14 *In whom we haue redemption throughe his bloud, (euen) the forgeuenesse of sinnes:
15 Who is the image of the inuisible GOD, the first borne of all creatures.
16 *For by him were all thinges created that are in heauen, and that are in earth, visible and inuisible, whether (they be) maieslies or lordeshippes, either rules or powers: all thinges were created by him and for him.
17 And he is before all thinges, and in him all thinges consist.
18 *And he is the head of the body of the Churche: who is the beginning, the first borne from the dead, that in all thinges he might haue the preeminence:
19 For it pleased (the father) that in him shoulde al (c) fulnesse dwel,
20 And by him to reconcile all thinges vnto him selfe, since he hath set at peace throughe the bloud of his crosse by him, both the thinges in earth, and thinges in heauen.
21 And you *whiche were sometime strangers, and enimies by (d) cogitation in your wourkes, hath he nowe yet reconciled, 22 In the body of his flesh throughe death, to present you holy, and vnblameable, and without fault in his syght.
23 If ye continue grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not moued away from the hope of the Gospel, whiche ye haue heard howe it is preached to euery creature whiche is vnder heauen, whereof I Paulus made a minister.
24 Nowe reioyce I in my sufferinges *for you, & fulfyl that whiche is behinde of the afflictions of Christe in my flesh, for his bodyes sake, whiche is the Churche,
25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God, whiche is geuen to me toward you, to fulfyl the worde of God:
26 (Euen) the *mysterie whiche hath benne hyd sence the worlde began, and (sence the beginning of) generations: *but nowe is opened to his (e) saintes:
27 To whom GOD woulde make knowen what (is) the riches of the glory of this mysterie among the gentiles, which is Christe in you, the hope of glory:
28 Whom we preache, warnyng euery man, and teaching euery man in all wisedome, that we may present euery man perfect in Christe Iesus.
29 Whereunto I also labour striuing, according to his worckyng whiche worcketh in me mightyly.

The. ii. Chapter.

I. Hauyng protested his good will towarde them, 4. he admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christe.

1 FOR I wolde that ye knewe what great fyght I haue for you, and for them that (are) at Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my face in the flesh:
2 That their hartes might be comforted, beyng knit together in loue, and in al riches of certaintie of vnderstandyng, to knowe the mysterie of God, and of the father, and of Christe:
3 In whom are hyd all the treasures of wysdome and knowledge.
4 *This I say, lest any man shoulde beguyle you with perswasion of woordes.
5 For thoughe I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirite, toying and beholdyng your order, and your stedfaste fayth in Christe.
6 As ye haue therefore receyued Christ Iesus the Lorde, (so) walke ye in him:
7 Rooted and buylt in him, and stablished in the fayth, as ye haue ben taught, aboundyng therein with thankesgeuing.
8 Beware lest any man spoyle you throughe (a) philosophie and vaine deceipt, after the tradition of menne, and after the rudiments of the worlde, & not after Christe.
9 For in him dwelleth al the fulnesse of the Godhead bodyly:
10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of al principalitie and power.
11 In whom also ye are *circumcised with circumcision made without handes, by putting of the body of the flesh subiect to synne, by the circumcision of Christe:
12 Buryed with him in baptisme, in whom ye are also risen agayne throughe the faith (b) of the operation of God, who hath raysed him from the dead.
13 And ye beyng dead in your synnes, and the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened with him, hauing forgeuen all your trespasses,
14 (And) when he had blotted out the hande writing of ordinances that was against vs, and that was contrary to vs, euen that hath he taken out of the way, hauing fastened it to his crosse:
15 (And) hauyng spoyled all principalities and powers, hath made a shewe of them openly, triumphing ouer them in him selfe.
16 Let no man therefore iudge you in meate, or

The.ii.Chapter.

2. He commendeth his diligence in preachyng, 13. and theirs in obeying.

1 FOR ye your ſelues, *bzethren, knowe our entrance in vnto you, that it was not in (a) vayne:

2 But euen after that we had ſuffered before, and were * ſhamefully entreated as ye knowe at Philippos, we were bolde in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpel of god, in *muche ſtriuing.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceipt, neyther of vncleanneſſe, neither in guile:

4 But as we were alowed of God to be put in credite with the Goſpell, euen ſo we ſpeake, not as pleaſyng menne, but God, whiche tryeth our hartes.

5 For neither at any time vſed we flatteryng woordes, as ye knowe, neither cloke of courtouſneſſe, God (b) recorde,

6 Neyther ſought we prayſe of menne, neyther of you, nor yet of others:

7 When we might haue ben in * auctho̱ritie, as the apoſtles of Chriſte, but were tender among you, euen as a (b) nourſe cheriſheth her children.

8 So, being tenderly affected towarde you, our good wyl was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Goſpel of God onlye, but alſo our owne ſoules: becauſe ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, bzethren, our labour and trauayle: for we labouring night and day, becauſe we woulde not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the goſpel of God.

10 Ye (are) witneſſes, and God (alſo,) howe holyly, and iuſtly, & vnblameably, we behaued our ſelues among (c) you that beleue.

11 And ye knowe howe that as a father his chyldren, ſo we haue exhorted, comforted, and beſought euery one of you, 12 That ye woulde walke woorthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kyngdome and glory.

13 For this cauſe thanke we God alſo without ceaſſing, becauſe when ye had receiued the woorde of God whiche ye heard of vs, ye receyued it not as the woorde of menne, (but as it is in deede) the woorde of God, whiche effectuouſly woorketh alſo in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, bzethren, became folowers of the Churches of God, whiche in Iurie are in Chriſte Ieſus: for ye alſo haue ſuffered like thinges of your countreymen, as they haue of the Iewes:

15 Who both killed the Lorde Ieſus, & their owne prophetes, and haue perſecuted vs: and God they pleaſe not, and are contrary (d) to al men:

16 And hinder vs to ſpeake to the Gentiles, that they might be ſaued, to fulfyll their ſynnes alway. For the wrath (of GOD) is comme on them to the vttermoſt.

17 Foraſmuche, bzethren, as we are kept from you for a ſhort ſeaſon, in perſon, not in hart, we enforced the more to ſee you perſonally with great deſyre.

18 And therefore we woulde haue comme vnto you, (euen I Paul) once and agayne: * but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? Are (e) not ye it in the preſence of our Lorde Ieſus Chriſte at his comming?

2. He ſheweth howe greatly he was affectioned towarde them, both in that he ſent Timotheus to them, 10. and alſo prayed for them.

1 WHerefore, ſence we coulde no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at * Athens alone: Acte.17. b.

2 And ſent Timotheus, our bzother and miniſter of God, and felowe labourer in the Goſpel of Chriſte, to ſtablyſhe you, and to comfort you concerning your fayth:

3 * That no man ſhoulde be moued in theſe afflictions: For ye your ſelues knowe that we are appoynted therevnto. Iohn.16.c. Acte.14. b.

4 For verily when we were with you, we tolde you before that we ſhoulde ſuffer tribulation: euen as it came to paſſe, and (as) ye knowe.

5 For this cauſe when I (a) could no longer forbeare, I ſent (him) to knowe your fayth, leſt by ſome meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had ben vayne.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tydinges of your fayth & charitie, and howe that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, deſyring greatly to ſee vs, as we alſo (to ſee) you:

7 Therefore, bzethren, we were comforted ouer you, in al our aduerſitie and neceſſitie, becauſe of your fayth:

8 For nowe we (b) liue, yf ye ſtande faſt in the Lorde.

9 For what thankes can we recompence to God agayne for you, for all the ioy wherewith we ioy for your ſakes before our God:

10 Prayeng night and day exceedingly to ſee you perſonally, and repayre the wantinges of your fayth?

(a) His great affection towarde the ſmal flocke.

(b) If ye remayne conſtant in faith and true doctrine, I ſhall thinke that al myne afflictions be ſo many pleaſures, and ſhalbe reſtored from death to life

11 Nowe God him selfe, and our father, and our Lorde Iesus Christe, guide our way vnto you.
12 And the Lorde increase you, and make you abounde in charitie one towarde another, and towarde al men, euen as we also towarde you:

¶ The fyrſt Epiſtle of Saint Paul the Apoſtle vnto Timothie.

The fyrſt Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothie to wayte vppon his office, namely to ſee that nothyng be taught but Gods worde.

Actes.9.c. 1. Thel.1.a. Actes.16.a. (a) So called, becauſe he folowed the ſimplicitie of the Goſpell.

PAVL the Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, *by the commiſſion of God our Sauiour, and Lorde Jeſus Chriſte (which is) *our hope, Vnto *Timothie a natural (a) ſonne in the fayth: Grace, mercie, (and) peace from God our father, & Jeſus Chriſt our Lorde.

1 Tim.2.c. Titus.3.c. 1.Tim.4.a. (b) Becauſe theſe queſtioniſts preferred theyr curious fables to all other knowledge, and beautified them with the lawe, as yf they had ben the very law of God: Saint Paule ſheweth that the ende of Gods lawe is loue, whiche canne not be without a good conſcience, neither a good conſcience without faith, nor faith without the worde of god: So their doctrine whiche is an occaſion of cõtention, is worth nothyng.

As I beſought thee to abyde ſtyl at Epheſus, when I departed into *Macedonia, (ſo doo) that thou commaunde ſome that they teache no other doctrine:

Neyther geue heede to *fables, & endleſſe genealogies, which breede queſtions, more then godly edifyng, whiche is in fayth.

But the (b) ende of the commaundement, is charitie out of a pure hart, and of a good conſcience, and of fayth vnfaygned.

From the whiche thynges, ſome hauyng erred, haue turned vnto vayne iangelyng:

Coueryng to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderſtandyng what they ſpeake, neyther whereof they affyrme.

Lenit. 21.b. Roma.1.b. Actes.9.a. 1.Cor.15.b Galat.1.c. (c) Not knowyng that I foughte agaynſt God.

But we knowe that the lawe is good, yf a man vſe it lawfully:

Knowyng this, that the law is not geuen vnto a ryghteous man, but vnto the lawleſſe and diſobedient, to the vngodly, and to ſynners, to vnholy, and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, & murderers of mothers, to manſlears,

*Whoremongers, to them that defyle them ſelues with mankynde, to manſtealers, to lyers, to periured, and yf there be any other thyng that is contrary to wholeſome doctrine:

Accoꝛding to the Goſpel of the glorie of the bleſſed God, whiche is committed vnto me.

And I thanke Chriſte Jeſus our Lorde, which hath made me ſtrong: for he counted me faithfull, putting me into the miniſterie,

Who was before a blaſphemer, *and an oppreſſour: But yet I obteyned mercie, becauſe I did it (c) ignorantly, in vnbelefe.

And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with fayth, and loue, whiche is in Chriſte Jeſus.

This is a faythful ſaying, & by al meanes woorthie to be receiued, that *Chriſte Jeſus came into the worlde, to ſaue ſynners, of whom I am cheefe.

Math.9.b. Mark.2.c. Luke.19.a.

Notwithſtandyng, for this cauſe was mercy ſhewed vnto me, that in me the firſt, Jeſus Chriſt might ſhewe al long ſuffring, to the example of them whiche ſhoulde beleeue on him to lyfe euerlaſtyng.

John.3.c.

Now vnto the kyng euerlaſtyng, incoꝛruptible, inuiſible, vnto God only wyſe, (be) honour and glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

(d) He burſteth foorth into theſe godly affections, conſyderyng Gods great mercie towatd him.

This commaundement commit I vnto thee ſonne Timotheus, accoꝛdyng to the prophecies whiche went before vppon thee, that thou in them ſhouldeſt fyght a good fyght:

Hauing faith and good conſcience, whiche ſome hauing put away, as concernyng fayth, haue made ſhypwracke.

Of whom is *Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I haue (e) delyuered vnto Satan, that they may learne not to blaſpheme.

The.iii.Chapter.

2. He declareth what is the office of Miniſters, 11. and as touchyng theyr families. 15. The dignitye of the Churche, 16. and the principal poynt of the heauenly doctrine.

¶ 1 THIS IS) a faythfull ſaying: yf a man deſyre the office of a Byſhop, he deſyreth a good woorke.

2 A Byſhop therfore muſt be blameleſſe, the huſbande of one wyfe, watchyng, ſober, comely apparelled, a louer of hoſpitalitie, apt to teache,

3 Not geuen to ouermuch wyne, no ſtryker, not greedie of ſylthie lucre: but gentle, abhorring fyghtyng, abhorring couetouſneſſe:

4 One that ruleth wel his owne houſe, hauing chyldren in ſubiection with al grauitie.

5 (For if a man knowe not to rule his owne houſe, howe ſhall he care for the Churche of God?)

(a) Leſt being proud of his degree, he be lykewyſe condemned as the deuyll was for lyftyng vp hym ſelfe by pride 6 Not a yong ſcoller, leſt he being puffed vp, (a) fal into the condemnation of the deuyl.

7 He muſt alſo haue a good reporte of them whiche are without, leſt he fall into the rebuke and ſnare of the deuyl.

* or, deacons 8 Lykewyſe muſt the * miniſters be * graue, not double tongued, not geuen to muche wyne, neyther greedie of ſylthie lucre:

(b) Hauyng the true doctrine of the Goſpel, and the feare of God. 9 (b) Holding the myſterie of the fayth in a pure conſcience.

10 And let them fyrſt be proued, then let them miniſter, being blameleſſe.

11 Euen ſo muſt their wyues be graue, not cuyl ſpeakers, ſober, faythful in al thyngs.

12 Let the deacons be the huſbandes of one wyfe, and ſuche as can rule their chyldren wel, and their owne houſholdes.

13 * For they that haue miniſtred wel, geat them ſelues a good degree, and great libertie to ſpeake in the fayth (whiche is) in Chriſte Ieſus. Mat.25.b.

14 Theſe thinges wryte I vnto thee, hoping to come ſhortly vnto thee: C

16 And without doubt, great is that myſterie of godlyneſſe: * God was ſhewed manifeſtly in the fleſhe, was iuſtified in the ſpirite, was ſeene among ỹ angels, was preached vnto the gentiles, was beleeued on in the worlde, and was receiued vp in glorie. John.1.b.

5. He aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernement of the Churche. 7. The ordinance and office of ministers. 12. The nature of the Cretians, & of them whiche sowe abrode Iewyshe fables, and inuentions of men.

1 PAUL a seruant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, according to the (a) faythe of Gods elect, and the knowledge of the trueth, whiche is after godlynesse:

2 In the hope of eternal lyfe, whiche * God that can not lye, promised before the worlde began:

3 But hath made manifest his worde at the time appointed through preaching, which is committed vnto me according to the ordinance of God our sauiour:

4 To * Titus a naturall (b) sonne after the common faith. Grace, mercy, (and) peace from God the father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe our sauiour.

9 Holdyng fast the faythful worde whiche is according to doctrine, that he may be able both to exhorte in wholsome doctrine, and to improue them that say agaynst it.

10 For there are many vnruly and vayne talkers, and deceiuers of myndes, specially they (that are) of the (c) circumcision:

11 Whose mouthes must be stopped, which subuert whole houses, teachyng thynges which they ought not, for filthy lucre sake.

12 One of them selues, (euen) a prophete of their owne, sayde, The Cretians (are) alwayes lyers, euil beastes, slowe bellyes.

13 This witnesse is true: wherfore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sounde in the fayth,

The. ii. Chapter.

He exorteth us to be obedient unto the newe lawe whiche Christe hath geven us.

1 Wherefore we ought to gyve the more earnest heede to the thinges whiche we have hearde: lest at any (a) tyme we shoulde let them slippe.

(a) We must diligently keepe in memorie, the doctrine whiche we have learned, lest lyke vessels full of chaps, we leake and runne out on euery part.

2 For yf the (b) woorde spoken by angels, was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience receyved a iust recompence of rewarde:

(b) As the Gospel is, whiche only offereth salvation. Mark. 16. d.

3 Howe shal we escape if we neglect so great salvation: whiche at the fyrst began to be preached of the Lorde, and was confyrmed unto us warde by them that hearde it,

4 God bearing witnesse (thereto) both with signes and woonders also, and with diuers powers, & gifts of the holy ghost, according to his owne wyl.

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subiection the worlde to comme, whereof we speake.

6 But one in a certayne place witnessed, sayeing, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the sonne of man that thou visitest him?

Psal. 7. a.

7 Thou madest him for a litle whyle lower then the angels, thou hast crowned him with (c) glory and honour, and hast set him above the woorkes of thy handes.

(c) In making hym felowe heyre with Christ. Psal. 8. b 1. Cor. 15. d.

8 Thou hast put all thinges in subiection under his feete. In that he put al thinges under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But nowe we se not yet all thinges put under him.

9 But him that for a whyle was made lesse then the angels; we se (that is) Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God, shoulde taste of death for all.

10 For it became him, for whom are al thinges, and by whom are al thinges, after he had brought many sonnes unto glory, that he shoulde make the captayne of their salvation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both he that sanctifyeth, and they whiche are sanctifyed (are) al of one: For whiche cause, he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Sayeing, I wyl declare thy name unto my brethren, in the middes of the Church wyl I prayse thee.

Psal. 22. c Iohn. 20. d.

13 And agayne, I wyl put my trust in hym. And agayne, Beholde here am I, and the children whiche God hath geven me.

14 For asmuche then as the children are partakers of flesshe and blood, he also him selfe lykewyse tooke part with them, that thorowe death he myght expell hym that had lordship over death, that is the deuil:

C

15 And that he might deliver them whiche through feare of death, were all their lyfe time in dangers of bondage.

16 For he in no place taketh on him the (d) angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on him.

(d) Not the nature of angels, but of men.

17 Wherefore in al thinges it became hym to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be mercyfull, and a faythful hygh priest in thinges concerning God, for to purge the peoples synnes.

18 For in that he him selfe suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. He requireth them to be obedient unto the woorde of Christe, 3. who is more woorthy then Moses.

1 Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestial callyng, (a) consyder the apostle and hygh priest of our profession Christe Iesus,

(a) Take heede to his woordes, and heare him.

2 Beyng faythfull to hym that appointed hym, as also Moyses (was faythful) in all his

3 For this (man) was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, inasmuche as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man: but he that builded all thinges, is God.

5 And Moses verely was faythful in al his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those thinges which he were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath a rule ouer his owne house: (b) whose house are we, yf we holde fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the ende.

(b) For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of god Rom. 5. 2.

7 Wherefore, as the holy ghost sayth, To day if ye wyl heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation in the day of the temptation in the wyldernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, and sawe my workes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was greeued with this generation, and sayde, They do alway erre in hart, they verely haue not knowen my wayes.

(c) Here note the Hebrue phrase, meaning that they shal not enter.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, (c) If they shal enter into my rest.

12 Take heede brethren, lest at any tyme there be in any of you an euyl hart of vnbeleefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another dayly, while it is called to day: lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

¶ 14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende (d) the begynning of the substance.

(p) Whiche is, by fayth to imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christe.

15 * So long as it is sayd, To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they had heard, did prouoke: howbeit, not al that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourtie yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkasses fel in the desart?

18 And to whom sware he that they shulde not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they coulde not enter in, because of vnbeleefe.

1 LEt vs feare therefore, lest at any tyme by forsakyng the promise of entryng into his rest, any of you shoulde seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as wel as vnto them: but the worde which they heard, did not profite them, not being coupled with fayth to them that heard.

3 For we which haue beleeued, do enter into his rest, as he sayde, Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, yf (a) they shal enter into my rest: although the workes were made perfect from the fundation of the worlde.

(a) Although that God by his rest after the creation of his works, signified the spirituall rest of the faythful, yet he sware to geue rest in Chanaan, whiche was but a figure of the heauenly rest, & dured but for a tyme. Gene. 2. 2.

4 For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth day on this wyse: And God did rest the seuenth day from al his workes.

5 And in this place agayne, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeyng therefore it followeth that some must enter therinto, and they to whom the Gospel was first preached entred not therin for vnbeleefe.

7 Agayne, he appointeth a certaine day, by to day, saying in Dauid after so long a time (as it is sayd,) To day yf ye wyl heare his voyce, harden not your hartes.

8 For yf (b) Iesus had geuen them rest, then woulde he not afterwarde haue spoken of another day.

(b) By Iesus is meant Iosua.

9 There remayneth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne workes, as God (dyd) from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall * after the same ensample of disobedience.

* or, into.

12 For the worde of GOD is quicke and mygthie in operation, and sharper then any two edged swoorde, & entreth through euen vnto the diuidyng a sunder of the (c) soule and the (d) spirite, and of the ioyntes, and the marowe, & is a discerner of the thoughtes and of the intentes of the hart.

(d) VVhiche conteyneth wyll and reason.

13 Neyther is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but al thynges (are) naked and open vnto the eyes of him of whom we speake.

14 Seeyng then that we haue a great high priest, which is entred into heauens, Iesus the sonne of GOD, let vs holde fast (this) confession.

¶

15 For we haue not an high priest which can not be touched with the feelyng of our infirmities: but * was in al poyntes tempted lyke as we are, and yet without sinne.

* Phil. 2. 8.

16 * Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obteyne mercy, & finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

The. v. Chapter.

to offer for) synnes, as well for him selfe as for the people.
4 And no man taketh honour vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.
5 Euen so, Christ also glorified not him selfe to be made the high priest: but he that sayd vse, haue their wittes exercised to discerne

The vi. Chapter.

1. He proceedeth in setting them, and exhorteth them not to faynt, 13. bicause he stedfastly purposeth, 18. to stande to Gods sure promyse.

1 Therefore leauing the doctrine of the be-

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection of the

The vii. Chapter.

1. He compareth the priesthood of Christe vnto Melchisedech. 11. also Christes priesthood with the Leuites.

1 FOr this Melchisedech king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kinges, and blessed him

Gene.14.b.

2 To whom also Abraham gaue tithe of all thinges: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, king of Salem, which is king of peace,

3 Without (a) father, without mother, without kin, hauing neither beginning of dayes, nor ende of lyfe, but liknes vnto the sonne of God, continueth a priest for euer.

(a) So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parentes or kinsfolkes, but as he had ben sodenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christe, or euerlasting priest, and shortly taken out of the worlde agayne. So Christe as touching his humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

4 Nowe consyder howe great this (man) was, vnto whom also the patriarche Abraham gaue tithe of the spoyles.

5 And verely they whiche are of the children of Leui, whiche receyue the office of the priesthood, haue a commaundement to take tithes of the people according to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kinrede is not counted among them, receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that dye, receyue tithes: but there he (receyueth them) of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also whiche receyueth tithes, paied tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection were by the priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder that priesthood the people receiued the lawe) what needeth it further more, that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, & not to be called after the order of Aaron?

15 And (it is) yet a farre more euident thing: for after the similitude of Melchisedech there ariseth another priest, 17 For he thus testifyeth, *Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

*Psal.110.b Hebr.4.c.

18 For there is truely a disannulling of the commaundement going before, for the weakenesse and vnprofytablenesse thereof.

9 1 THe fyrst (couenant) then had verely * iustifying ordinances, seruinges of God, and worldly holynesse.

* Or, ceremonies of seruice.

2 For there was a tabernacle made, the fyrst (truely) wherin was the candelsticke, and the table, and the holye loaues, whiche is called holy.

3 But after the (a) seconde veyle, (was) a tabernacle, whiche is called holyest of al:

4 Whiche had the golden censer, and the arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden pot hauing *Manna, and *Aarons rodde that had budded, and *the tables of the couenant:

5 And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowing the mercie seate: Of whiche thynges we can not nowe speake particularely.

6 When these thinges were thus ordeyned, the priestes went alwayes into the fyrst tabernacle, accomplishyng the seruice of God.

7 But into the seconde (went) the high priest alone, *once euery yere, not without blood, whiche he offered for him selfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 The holy ghost this signifying, that the (b) way of holy thinges was not yet made manifest, whyle as yet the fyrst tabernacle was standing:

9 Whiche (was) a similitude for the tyme then present, in whiche were offered gyftes, and sacrifyces, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as pertayning to the conscience,

10 With only meates and drinkes, and diuers washinges, and iustifyinges of the flesh, whiche were layde vp vntyl the tyme of reformation.

(a) That is, on the inwarde syde of the vayle, whiche was hydde from the people. Exod. 16. g. Leuit. 17. a. Exod. 40. c. Exod. 30. b. Leuit. 16. b.

(b) So long as the high priest offered once a yeere for his owne sinnes and for the people, and also whyle this earthly tabernacle stoode, the way to the heauenly tabernacle, whiche is made open by Christes blood, could not be entred into. Hebr. 6. d. 1. Pet. 1. b. The Epistle on the fyfth sunday in Lent.

11 But * Christe being come an high priest of good thinges that shoulde be, by a greater & more perfect tabernacle, not made with handes, that is to say, not of this building,

(c) The Leuitical priestes offered beastes blood: But Christe the true and eternal priest, offered his own blood, which was most holy and pure. The Leuitical priest offered yeerely, and therefore dyd only represent the true holynesse: but Christ by one only sacrifyce hath made holy for euer them that beleeue.

12 Entryng by yᵉ blood of Goates, & Calues: but by * his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, and founde eternal redemption.

13 For yf the (c) blood of Oxen & of Goates, and the asshes of a young Cowe, sprinckling the vncleane, sanctifyeth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 Howe muche more the blood of Christe, whiche through the eternall spirite offered him selfe without spot to God, shall purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the mediatour of the newe * couenant, that through death, whiche was for the redemption of the transgressions (that were) vnder the fyrst * couenant, they whiche are called might receyue the promise of eternal inheritance.

* Or, testament.

1. Tim. 2. a. The Epistle on the Wednesday before Easter.

16 For where as is a testament, there must also of necessitie be the death of hym that made the testament.

17 For

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he that made the testament is alyue.

18 For whiche cause also, neyther the first (testament) was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to all the people accordyng to the lawe, taking the blood of Calues, and of Goates, with water and purple wool, and Hyssope, he sprinkled both the booke it selfe, and all the people, Exod. 24.b. 20 Sayng, This (*) the blood of the testament, whiche God hath enioyned vnto you.

D 21 And likewise he sprinkeled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessilles of the ministerie.

22 And almost all thinges are by the lawe purged with blood, and without sheddyng of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly thinges be purified with suche thynges: but the heauenly thinges them selues (be purified) with better sacrifices then are those.

Actes. 16. c. 24 * For Christe is not entred into the holy places made with handes, (whiche are) paternes of true thinges: but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the sight of God for vs.

1. Ioh. 2. a.

(d) Therfore to make any other offering or sacrifice for sin, after that Christes body was once offered, is blasphemie.

25 Not that he shoulde offer hym selfe (d) often, as the high priest entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood.

26 (For then must he haue often suffred since the fundation of the worlde:) but nowe once in the end of the worlde hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him selfe.

27 And as it is appoynted vnto men once to dye, and after this the iudgement:

Rom. 5. b. 1. Pet. 3. b. 28 * Euen so Christ once offred to take away the sinnes of many, the seconde tyme shalbe seene without sinne of them whiche wayte for hym vnto saluation.

The. x. Chapter.

1. The olde lawe had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10. but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all.

A 1 The Epistle an good Fryday. Colos. 2. c. Heb. 8. a.

FOr the lawe hauing the (a) shadowe of good thynges to come, and not the very fashion of the thinges them selues, can neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

(a) whiche was as it were the first draught and purtract of the lyuely paterne to come.

2 For woulde not then those (sacrifices) haue ceassed to haue ben offered, because that the offerers onse purged, shoulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuerthelesse, in those (sacrifices) is mention made of sinnes euery yeere.

5 Wherefore when he commeth into the worlde, he sayth, * Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not haue: but a bodye hast thou ordeyned me. Psal. 40. b.

6 In burnt sacrifices (and offeryngs) for sinne thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then sayde I, Loe, I come, (In the beginnyng of the booke it is written of me) to doo thy wyl, O God. B

8 Aboue when he saith, that sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, (and offeryngs) for sinne thou wouldest not, neither hadest pleasure (therein) (which are offered by the lawe:)

9 Then said he, Loe, I come to do thy wyl, O God: he taketh away the first (b) to stablishe the (c) seconde.

(b) That is, sacrifices. (c) whiche is the wyl of god, to stand content with Christes sacrifice.

10 In the which wil we are made holy, euen by the offeryng of the body of Iesus Christ once for al.

11 And euery priest standeth dayly ministryng, and offeryng oftentymes the same sacrifices, whiche can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man after he hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, is set downe for euer on the ryght hande of God, 13 From hencefoorth tarrying tyll his foes be made his foote stoole.

14 For with one offeryng hath he made perfect for euer them that are sanctified. C

15 And the holy ghost also beareth vs recorde: For after that he had tolde before, 16 This is the * couenant that I will make vnto them after those dayes, (saith the lord) geuyng my lawes in their hart, and in their myndes wyl I write them: * Or, testament.

17 And their sinnes and iniquities, wyll I in no wise remember any more.

18 And where remission of these thynges (is) there (is) no more offeryng for sinne.

19 Hauing therfore, brethren, libertie to enter into holy (places) in the (d) blood of Iesus, (d) we by Christe haue that liberte whiche the ancient fathers coulde not haue by the lawe.

20 By the newe and (e) liuyng way, whiche he hath prepared for vs through the vayle, that is to say, his flesh:

21 And (seyng we haue) an high priest ouer the house of God:

22 Let vs drawe nigh with a true hart, in assurance of feyth, sprinkeled in our hartes from an euyl conscience, and washed in body with pure water. (e) The blood of Christ is alwaies fresh and lyuely before the father, to sprinkle and quicken vs.

23 Let vs holde the profession of the hope without wauering, (for he is faythful that promised:)

24 And let vs consyder one another to prouoke vnto loue, and good woorkes,

25 Not

25 Not forsakyng the assemblyng of our selues togeather, as the maner of some (is) but exhortyng one (another) and so muche the more, as ye see the day approchyng.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the handes of the liuing God.

32 Call to remembrance the former dayes, in the which after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight of afflictions:

33 Partely whyle ye were made a gasyng stocke, both by reproches and afflictions, & partly whyle ye became companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.

34 For ye suffered also with my bondes, & coake in worth the spoyling of your goodes with gladnesse, knowyng in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better and an enduryng substance.

35 Cast not away therfore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue nede of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye myght receiue the promise.

37 For yet a very litle while, and he that shal come, wyl come, and wyll not tarry.

Abacuc. 2.a Rom. 1.a. Galat. 3.b.

A 1 IAmes a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christe, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroad, greetyng.

2 My brethren, count it al ioy when ye fall into diuers temptations:

3 Knowyng (this) that the tryeing of your fayth worketh patience,

4 And let patience haue (her) perfect worke, that ye may be perfect, and sound, lackyng nothyng.

5 If any of you lacke wisedome, * let hym aske of God, that geueth to all men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shalbe geuen hym.

6 But let hym aske in fayth, nothyng wauerynge: For he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the wynde, and carryed with violence.

B 7 Neyther let that man thinke that he shall receyue any thyng of the Lorde.

8 A double mynded man is vnstable in al his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioyce in that he is (a) exalted:

10 Againe, the rich, in that he is made low: * Because as the flowre of the grasse he shall passe away.

11 For (as) the Sunne hath risen with heat, and the grasse hath withered, and his flowre hath fallen away, and the beautie of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shal the rich man fade away in his wayes.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tryed, he shal receiue the crowne of lyfe, whiche the Lorde hath promised to them that loue hym.

13 Let no man say when he is (b) tempted, I am tempted of God: For God can not be tempted with euil, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when he is drawen away, and entised with the bayte of his

The.ii. Chapter.

1. He forbyddeth to haue any reſpect of perſons, 5. but to regarde the poore as wel as the riche.

1 My brethren, haue not the fayth of our Lorde Ieſus Chriſte, the Lord of glory, (a) with reſpect of perſons.

(a) As eſteemyng fayth and religion by the outward appearance of men

2 For if there come into your *companye a man wearing a golde ryng, in goodly apparel, and there come in alſo a poore man in vyle rayment:

* or, congregation.

3 And ye haue a reſpect to him that weareth the gay clothing, & ſay vnto hym, Syt thou here in a good place: and ſay vnto the poore, Stande thou there, or ſyt here vnder my footſtoole:

4 Are ye not partial in your ſelues, and are made iudges of euyl thoughtes?

5 Hearken, my deare beloued brethren, hath not God choſen the poore of this worlde, (that they myght be) riche in fayth, & heyres of the kyngdome, whiche he promiſed to them that loue hym?

6 But ye haue deſpiſed the poore. Doo not riche men oppreſſe you by tyrannie, & drawe you before the iudgement ſeates?

7 Doo not they blaſpheme that good (b) name, by the which ye are named?

(b) The name of God and Chriſte, wherof you make profeſſion: & in that they diſhonour god, it is not meet that you his childrē ſhold honor them, Math. 5.c.

8 If ye fulfyl the royal law accordyng to the Scripture, Thou ſhalt loue thy neyghbour as thee ſelfe, ye doo wel:

9 But if ye regarde one perſon more then another, ye commit ſinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as tranſgreſſours.

10 Who ſo euer ſhall keepe the whole lawe, and yet fayle in one poynt, he is gyltie of all.

11 For he that ſayde, Doo not commit aduulterie: ſayd alſo, Doo not kyl. Though thou doo none aduulterie, yet if thou kyl, thou art become a tranſgreſſour of the lawe.

12 So ſpeake ye, and ſo doo, as they that ſhalbe iudged by the lawe of (c) libertie.

(c) By the mercy of god whiche deliuereth vs frō the curſe of the lawe.

13 For he (that haue) iudgement without mercye, that hath ſhewed no mercye: and mercy reioyceth againſt iudgement.

14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man ſay, he hath fayth, & hath not deedes? can fayth ſaue hym?

15 If a brother or a ſiſter be naked, and deſtitute of dayly foode, 16 And one of you ſay vnto them, Departe in peace, be you warmed and fylled: notwithſtanding, ye geue them not thoſe thinges whiche are needefull to the body: what (ſhall it) profite?

17 Euen ſo fayth, if it haue not deedes, is dead in it ſelfe.

18 But ſome man wyl ſay, Thou haſt fayth, and I haue deedes: ſhewe me thy fayth by thy (d) deedes, and I wyll ſhewe thee my fayth by my deedes.

(d) Here deedes are conſydered, as ioyned with the true fayth.

19 Thou beleeueſt that there is one God, thou doeſt wel: the deuyls alſo beleeue, and tremble.

20 But wylt thou knowe, O thou vayne man, that that fayth (whiche is) without woorkes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iuſtifyed D through woorkes, when he had offered Iſaac his ſonne vpon the aulter? Gene. 22.b.

22 Seeſt thou not howe that fayth wrought with his deedes, and through the deedes was the fayth made perfect?

23 And the Scripture was fulfylled, which ſayth, Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteouſneſſe: and he was called the frende of God. Gene. 15.b. Rom. 4.a. Galat. 3.a.

24 Ye se then, howe that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of fayth onely?

25 Lykewyse also, was not Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

Iosuah.2.a.

26 For as the body without the spirite is dead: euen so fayth without workes is dead (also.)

The.iii.Chapter.

2. He forbyddeth al ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3. He describeth the propertie of the tongue.

1 MY brethren, be not many maisters, knowyng howe that we shal receyue the greater damnation.

Mat.23.f. Pro.17.a.

2 For in many thynges we synne all. If a man synne not in (a) worde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body.

(a) He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath atteyned to an excellent vertue.

3 Behold, we put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about their whole body:

4 Beholde also the shippes, whiche though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce wyndes, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whither so euer the lust of the gouernour wyl:

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member also, and boasteth great thynges: beholde howe great a matter a litle fyre kyndeleth.

6 And the tongue is fyre, euen a worlde of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defyleth the whole body, and (b) setteth on fyre the course of nature, and it is set on fyre of hel.

(b) The intemperancie of the tong, is a flambe of hell fyre.

7 All the nature of beastes, and of byrdes, and of serpentes, and thynges of the sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, (it is) an vnruly euyl, ful of deadly poyson:

9 Therwith blesse we (our) God and father: and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

Gene.1.d.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessyng & curssyng: My brethren, these thynges ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountaine sende forth at one hole sweete (water,) and bytter (also?)

12 Can the fygge tree, my brethren, beare Olyue berries? either a vine beare Fygges? so (can) no fountayne geue both salte water, and freshe also.

13 Who is a wyse man, and endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe his workes out of good conuersation with meekenesse of wysdome.

14 But yf ye haue bytter enuying and strife in your hart, glorie not, neyther be lyers agaynst the truth.

15 For suche wysdome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensual, & deuilyshe.

16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and al maner of cuyl workes.

17 But the wysdome that is from aboue, is fyrst pure, then peaceable, gentle, & easie to be entreated, full of mercie & good fruites, without iudgeyng, without simulation.

18 Yea, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

The.iiii.Chapter.

4. He exhorteth them to loue God, 7. and submit them selues to hym.

1 FRom whence commeth warres & fightynges among you? Come they not here hence, (euen) of your lustes that (a) fyght in your members?

(a) For the lawe of the members cõtinually fyghteth agaynst the lawe of the mynde.

2 Ye lust, and haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obteyne: Ye fight and warre, ye haue not, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

4 Ye adulterers, and (b) adulteresses, knowe you not howe that the freendshyppe of the worlde is enmitie with God? Who so euer therefore wyl be a frende of the worlde, is made the enimie of God.

(b) He calleth adulterers here, after the maner of the Scriptures, them which prefere the pleasures of the worlde, to the loue of GOD.

5 Eyther doo ye thynke that the scripture sayth in vayne, The (c) spirite that dwelleth in vs, lusteth to enuie.

(c) The imagination of mans hart, is wicked.

6 But (the scripture) offereth more grace, and therfore saith, God resysteth the proud, but geueth grace vnto the lowly.

I.Pet.5.b.

7 Submit your selues therefore to God: but resyst the deuyl, and he wyl flee from you.

8 Drawe nygh to God, and he wyll drawe nygh to you: cleanse your handes (ye) sinners, and purifie your hartes (ye) double mynded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, & weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mournyng, and your ioy to heauinesse.

10 Humble your selues in the syght of the Lorde, and he shal lyft you vp.

I.Pet.5.a.

11 Backbyte not one another, brethren: He that backbyteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbyteth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe: but & yf thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge.

12 There is one lawegeuer, whiche is able to saue, & to destroy: What art thou that iudgest another?

Roma.14.a

13 Goe to nowe ye that say, (d) To day & to morowe let vs goe into suche a citie, & continue there a yeere, & buy, and sel, & wynne:

(b) We ought to submitte our selues to the prouidence of God.

14 (And

14 (And yet can not ye tell what (shall happen) on the morow: For what thing is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle (tyme) and then he vanisheth away.)

Luke.12.b. 17 Therefore * to him that knoweth howe to doo good, and doth it not, to him it is synne.

The.v. Chapter.

2. He threateneth the wicked riche men, 7. exhorteth vnto patience, 12. to beware of sweareyng.

1 GOE to nowe ye riche men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shal come vpon you.

2 Your richesse is corrupt, your garmentes are moth eaten:

(a) And kyndle the wrath of GOD against you. (b) To suffer tyll the ende of the world. 3 Your golde and syluer is cankred, and the rust of them shalbe a (a) (witnesse against you, and shall eate your fleshe as it were fyre. Ye haue heaped treasure together in the (b) last dayes.

4 Behold, * the hyre of the labourers which haue reaped downe your feeldes, whiche hyre is of you kept backe by fraude, cryeth: and the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lorde of Sabaoth.

5 Ye haue lyued in pleasure on the earth, and ben wanton: Ye haue nourished your hartes, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and kylled the iust, and he doeth not resyst you.

7 Be patient therefore brethren, vnto the commyng of the Lorde, beholde, the husbandman wayteth for the precious fruite of the earth, & hath long patience therevpon, vntyl he receyue the early and latter rayne.

8 Be ye also patient, & settle your hartes: for the comming of the Lorde draweth nygh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be damned: beholde, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophetes for an example of suffring aduersitie, and of patience, whiche spake in the name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, * we count them happie whiche endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and haue seene the ende of the Lorde: For the Lorde is very pitiful and merciful. Math.5.a.

12 But aboue all thynges, my brethren, sweare not, neyther by the heauen, neyther by the earth, neyther by any other oth: Let your (c) yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest you fal into condemnation. Math.5.f.

(c) That which must be affyrmed, affyrme it simply, and without othes: lykewyse that which must be denyed. By this he taketh not frō the magistrate his auctoritie, who may requyre an oth for the maintenaunce of iustice, iudgmentee, and trueth.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merie? let him syng psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let him call for the elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and annoynt him with oyle in the name of the Lorde:

15 And the prayer of fayth shall saue the sicke, and the Lorde shal rayse him vp: and yf he haue committed synnes, they shalbe forgeuen him.

16 Knowledge your faultes one to another, and pray one for an other, that ye may be healed: (For) the feruent prayer of a righteous man auayleth muche.

17 Elias was a man vnder infirmities euen as we are, and he prayed in his prayer that it myght not rayne: * and it rayned not on the earth by the space of three yeres and sire monethes. 3.Reg.17.a. Luke. 4. c.

18 And he prayed agayne, & the heauen gaue rayne, & the earth brought forth her fruite.

19 Brethren, if any of you doo erre from the trueth, and an other conuert him, 20 Let the same knowe, that he which conuerteth the synner from going astraye out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shal hyde the multitude of synnes.

2 That he henceforth shoulde line, as muche tyme as remayneth in the flesh, not after the lustes of menne, but after the wyl of God.

3 For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the tyme that is past of the lyfe, after the wyl of the * Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lustes, in excesse of wynes, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abominable idolatrie.

The seconde Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

Forasmuche as the power of God hath geuen them al thinges parteyning vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lustes.

A 1 Simon Peter, a seruant and an Apostle of Jesus Christe, to them whiche haue obteyned lyke pretious fayth with vs, through the rygh-teousnesse of our God and Sauiour JESUS Christe.

1.Pet.1.a. 2 Grace and peace be multiplyed vnto you through the knowlege of God, and of Jesus our Lorde:

3 According as his godly power hath geuen vnto vs al thinges that (pertayne) vnto
(a) The sum of our saluation and religion is, to be led by Christ to the father, who calleth vs in the sonne. John.1.c. Colos.2.b. lyfe and (a) godlynesse, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue:

4 By the whiche are geuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes therof ye might be partakers of the godly nature, yf ye flee the corruption of worldly lust.

5 And therewithal geue all diligence, in your fayth minister vertue, in vertue knowledge, 6 In knowledge temperance, in temperance patience, in patience godlynesse, 1.Cor.8.a.

7 In godlynesse brotherly kyndnesse, in brotherly kindnesse, charitie. B

8 For yf these thinges be among you, & be plenteous, they make you that ye neyther shalbe idle, nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

9 But he that lacketh these thinges, is blind, and can not see farre of, and hath forgotten that he was purged frō his olde sinnes.

10 Wherefore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callyng and election (b) sure: for yf ye doo suche thinges, ye shal neuer fal. (b) Albeit it be sure in it selfe, forasmuche as God can not change: yet we must confirme it in our selues by the fruites of the spirite, knowyng that the purpose of God electeth, calleth, sanctifyeth, and iustifyeth vs.

11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in shalbe ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlastyng kingdome of our Lorde and Sauiour Jesus Christe.

12 Wherefore I wyl not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembraunce of suche thinges, though ye know them your selues, and be stablished in the present veryth.

13 Notwithstandyng I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowyng that shortly I must put of this my 2.Cor.5.a.

John. 21.b. my tabernacle, * euen as our Lorde Jesus Christe shewed me.

15 I wyll euer also geue my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to styre vp the remembrance of these thynges after my departyng.

16 For we haue not folowed deceitfull fables, when we opened vnto you the power and comming of our Lorde Jesus Christe,

1.Ioh.1.a. but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

17 Euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, and when there came suche a voyce to hym from the excellent glory: * This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delyght.

Matth.17.b. Mark.1.b. Luke.3.b.

18 This voyce we heard come from heauen, when we were with hym in the holy mount.

19 We haue also a right sure worde of prophesie, whereunto if ye take heede, as vnto a * light that shineth in a darke place, ye do wel, vntyl the day dawne, & the day starre aryse in your hartes.

2.Co.4.b.

20 So that ye first knowe this, that no prophesie in the scripture is of any priuate * motion.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde tyme by the wyl of man: but holy men of God, spake as they were moued by the holy ghost.

The.ii.Chapter.

He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punyshment.

A 1 THere were false prophetes also among the people, euen as * there shalbe false teachers among you, whiche priuily shal bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring vpon them selues swift damnation.

5 Neither spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eight (person) a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the worlde of the vngodly,

6 And turned their cities of Sodome and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrewe them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto thole that after shoulde lyue vngodly:

7 And iust * Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wycked, deliuered he. B Gene.12.d.

10 But cheefely them that walke after the flesshe in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise auctoritie. Presumptuous (are they) and stande in their owne conceipt, whiche feare not to speake euyll of them that excell in worshyp.

11 Where the angels which are greater both in power and might, geue not (b) raylyng iudgement agaynst them before the Lorde. (b) Albeit the angels condemne the vice and iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the auethoritie and power which is geuē them of God.

12 But these as dulle beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken and destroyed, speake euil of the thynges that they vnderstand not, and shal perishe through their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the rewarde of vnrighteousnesse, they count it pleasure to liue delitiously for a season: spottes they are & blots, (c) delyghtyng them selues in their deceiuynges, in feastyng with you:

(c) For in your holy feastes, the sitte as members of the Churche, where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you.

18 For when they speake the great swelling wordes of vanitie, they entice through lustes with the bayte of wantonnesse of the flesshe, them that were cleane escaped from them, whiche are wrapped in errour:

from the filthinesse of the worlde, through the knowledge of the Lord and the sauiour Iesus Christe, are yet tangled againe therin, and ouercome, then is the latter ende woorse with them then the beginning.

Math.12.d.

21 For it had ben better for them not to haue knowen the way of rygh teousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commaundement that was geuen vnto them.

22 But the same is happened vnto them that is vsed to be spoken by the true prouerbe, The dogge is turned to his owne vomite agayne, and the sow that was washed, (is turned agayne) to her wallowing in the myre.

5 For this they knowe not (and that (a) wilfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consistyng of the water, and by the water, by the woorde of God:

17 Ye therfore beloued, seyng ye be warned aforehande, beware lest ye also beyng led̄e away with the errour of the wycked, fall from your owne stedfastnesse:

The firſt Chapter.

a. The true witneſſe of the euerlaſting woord of God. 7. The blood of Chriſt is the purgation of ſynne. 11. No man is without ſynne.

1 THAT whiche was from the beginning, whiche we haue hearde, whiche we haue ſeene with our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled, of the woorde of life:

2 (And the lyfe appeared, and we haue ſeene, and beare witneſſe, and ſhewe vnto you *that eternal lyfe whiche was with the father, and appeared vnto vs:)

3 That whiche we haue ſeene and heарde, declare we vnto you, that ye alſo may haue (a) felowſhip with vs, and that our felowſhip may be with the father, and his ſonne Ieſus Chriſte.

4 And theſe things write we vnto you, that your ioy may be ful.

5 And this is the tydinges whiche we haue heарde of him, and declare vnto you, that God is lyght, and in him is no darkneſſe at al.

6 If we ſay that we haue felowſhip with him, and walke in darkneſſe, we lye, and doo not the trueth.

7 But yf we walke in the lyght, euen as he is in the lyght, then haue we felowſhip (b) one with another, and the blood of Ieſus Chriſte his ſonne cleanſeth vs from all ſinne.

8 *If we ſay that we haue no ſynne, we deceiue our ſelues, & the trueth is not in vs.

9 *If we knowledge our ſynnes, he is faythful and iuſt to forgeue vs our ſinnes, & to cleanſe vs from all vnrighteouſneſſe.

10 If we ſay that we haue not ſinned, we make him a lyar, and his woorde is not in vs.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Chriſt is our aduocate, 10. Of true loue, and howe it is tryed, 18. To beware of Antechriſte.

1 MY litle children, theſe thinges write I vnto you, that ye ſynne not. And yf any man ſynne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Ieſus Chriſte the righteous.

2 And he is the attonement for our ſynnes: not for our (ſinnes) onlye, but alſo for the (ſinnes) of al the woorlde.

3 And herby we are ſure that we (a) know him, if we keepe his commaundementes.

4 *He that ſayeth, I knowe him, and kepeth not his commaundementes, is a lyer, and the · veritie is not in him.

5 But who ſo keepeth his woorde, in hym is the loue of God perfect in deed: Herby knowe we that we are in him.

6 He that ſayth he abydeth in hym, ought hym ſelfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe commaundement vnto you, but an olde commaundement whiche ye haue heарde from the begynnyng. The olde commaundement, is the woorde whiche ye haue heard from the beginnyng.

8 Agayne, a new commaundement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and (the ſame is true) alſo in you, for the darkneſſe is paſt, and the true lyght nowe ſhineth.

9 He that ſayeth how that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkneſſe euen vntyl this time.

10 He that loueth his brother, abydeth in the lyght, and there is none occaſion of euyl in hym.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darkneſſe, and walketh in darkneſſe: and can not tel whyther he goeth, becauſe that darkneſſe hath blynded his eyes.

12 Babes I write vnto you, becauſe your ſynnes are forgeuen you for his names ſake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, becauſe ye haue knowen hym that is from the begynning. I write vnto you young men, becauſe you haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I write to you litle children, becauſe ye haue knowen the father. I haue written to you fathers, becauſe ye haue knowen hym that (is) from the begynnyng. I haue written vnto you young menne, becauſe ye are ſtrong, and the woorde of God abydeth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not *the woorlde, neyther the thinges that are in the woorlde. If any man loue the woorlde, the loue of the father is not in him.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. The singuler loue of God towarde vs, 7. and howe we agayne ought to loue one another.

1 BEholde what charitie the father hath shewed vs (euen) that we should be called the * sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.

A

Luke.20.f. Iohn.1.b.

2 Dearely beloued, nowe are we the sonnes of God, and yet is it not yet appeared what we shalbe: But we knowe that when he shal appeare, we shalbe lyke hym: for we shal see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him self, euen as he also is pure.

4 Who so euer committeth synne, transgresseth also the lawe: for synne is the transgression of the lawe.

5 And ye knowe that he appeared to take away our sinnes, and in him is no synne.

6 As many as byde in him, sinne not: who so euer synneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.

7 Babes, let no man deceyue you: he that B doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuil: *for the deuil sinneth sence the beginnyng: For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the workes of the deuil. Gen.3.a. Iohn.8.f.

9 Who so euer is borne of GOD, sinneth not: for his seede remayneth in him, and he can not synne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the chyldren of God knowen, and the chyldren of the deuyl: who so euer doeth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the tydinges that ye heardde from the beginning, that ye shoulde loue one another.

12 Not as *Caine (whiche) was of that wicked, and slue his brother: And wherefore slue he him? because his owne workes were euyl, and his brothers righteous. Gen.4.b.

13 Marueyle not, my brethren, yf the worlde hate you.

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we (a) loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death. The Epistle on the.iii. sunday after Trinitie. (a) This loue is the special fruite of our fayth, & h certayne signe of our regeneration

15 Who so euer hateth his brother, is a manslear: and ye knowe that no manslear hath eternal lyfe abyding in him.

16 Hereby perceyue we loue, because he layd downe his lyfe for vs: and we ought to lay downe our lyues for the brethren.

17 But who so hath this worldes good, and *seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him: howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?

Deut.15.b.

18 My babes, let vs not loue in woorde, neyther in tongue, but in deede, & in veritie.

19 Hereby we know that we are of the trueth, and shal assure our hartes before him.

20 For if our hart condemne vs, God is greater then our hart, and knoweth all thinges.

21 Dearely beloued, yf our hart condemne vs do not, then haue we boldenesse towarde God.

Matth.7.a Iohn.15.d Iacob.1.a

22 And *whatsoeuer we aske, we receiue of hym, because we keepe his commaundementes, and doo those thynges whiche are pleasyng in his syght.

1.Iohn.5.a Iohn.13.b

23 And this is his commaundement, that we shoulde beleeue on the name of his sonne Iesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue vs commaundement.

24 And he that keepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that he abydeth in vs, (euen) by the spirite whiche he hath geuen vs.

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. Difference of spirites, 2. howe the spirite of God may be knowen from the spirite of errour.

A 1 Derely beloued, *beleeue not euery spirite, but prooue the spirites whether they are of God, or not: for many false prophetes are gone out into the worlde.

Matth.7.c Deut.13.a Math.24.a Marke.13.a Luke.21.b

2 Hereby shall ye knowe the spirite of God: Euery spirite that confesseth that Iesus (a) Christe is come in the flesshe, is of God.

(a) Who being very god came frō his father, and tooke vpon hym our flesshe. He that confesseth or preacheth this truely, hath the spirite of god, els not.

3 And euery spirite which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesshe, is not of God, and this is that (spirite) of Antechrist, of whom ye haue heard howe that he should come: and euen nowe already is he in the worlde.

4 Litle children, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater (a) he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

6 We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the spirite of veritie, and the spirite of errour.

The Epistle on the first sunday after Trinitie.

7 Derely beloued, let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

Iohn.13.b 1.Thes.1.b.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

Iohn.3.c. Rom.5.b

9 In this appeared the loue of God to vswarde, because God *sent his only begotten sonne into the worlde, that we myght lyue through hym.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, & sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Derely beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

Exod.33.b Iudic.5.c

12 *No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe we that we dwel in hym, and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spirite.

14 And we haue seene, and doo testifie that C the father sent the sonne (to be) the sauiour of the worlde.

15 Who so euer confesseth that Iesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And we haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in hym.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we shoulde haue boldenesse in the day of iudgement: For as he is, euen so are we in this worlde.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath payne, fulnesse. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue hym, for he loued vs first.

20 If a man say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a lyer: For howe can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 And this commaundement haue we of hym, that he which loueth God, should loue his brother also.

The.v.chapter.
Of the fruites of fayth.

1 Who so euer beleeueth that Iesus is A Christe, is borne of God: and euery one that loueth hym whiche begate, loueth hym also whiche is begotten of hym.

2 *By this we knowe that we loue the chyldren of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commaundementes.

John.12.c Mat.12.b

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commaundementes: & *his commaundementes are not greeuous.

(*) The Epistle on the first sunday after Easter, 1.Cor.15.a.

4 (*) For al that is borne of God, ouercōmeth the worlde: and this is the *victorie that hath ouercomme the worlde, (euen) our fayth.

(a) The water & blood that came out of his side, declare that we haue our sinnes washed by hym, and he hath made full satisfactiō for the same.

5 Who is it that ouercommeth the worlde, but he whiche beleeueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

6 This Iesus Christe is he that came by water and (a) blood: not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the spirit that beareth witnesse, because the spirite is (b) veretie.

(b) Whiche testifieth to our hartes, that we be the chyldren of God.

7 For there are three whiche beare recorde in heauen, the father, the woorde, and the holy ghost, and these three are one.

8 And there are three whiche beare recorde in in earth, the spirite, and water, and blood, and these three agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: For this is the witnesse of God, which he testified of his sonne.

10 He that beleeueth on the sonne of God, hath the witnesse in him selfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made hym a lyer, because he beleeued not the recorde that God gaue of his sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath geuen vnto vs eternal lyfe, and this lyfe is in his sonne.

12 He that hath the sonne, hath lyfe: he that hath not the sonne of God, hath not lyfe.

13 These thinges haue I written vnto you that beleue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye maye knowe that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: that * if we aske any thyng according to his wyl, he heareth vs.

15 And if we knowe that he heare vs whatsoeuer we aske, we knowe that we haue the petitions that we desyre of hym.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne (whiche is) not vnto death, he shal aske, and he shal gene hym life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that he shoulde pray for it.

17 All vnrighteousnesse is sinne: and there is sinne not vnto death.

18 We knowe that who so euer is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth hym selfe, and that wicked toucheth hym not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole worlde lyeth in wickednesse.

20 We know that the sonne of God is come, and hath geuen vs a mynde to knowe hym which is true: & we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christe: This same is very God, and eternal lyfe.

2 For the truethes sake whiche dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe, the sonne of the father in (b) trueth and loue.

(b) We can not receyue the grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue proceedeth.

Saint Iude admonisheth al Churches generally to take heede of deceyuers, which goe about to drawe away the hartes of the simple people from the trueth of God.

The Epistle on Saint Simon & Iude

IUDE the seruant of Iesus Christe, the brother of Iames, to them whicheare called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesus Christe:
2 Mercie vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplied.
3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to wryte vnto you of the common saluation, it was needeful for me to wryte vnto you, exhorting you that ye shoulde earnestly (a) contend for the faith whiche was once geuen vnto the saintes.
(a) Against assaultes of Satan and heretykes.
4 For there are certayne vngodly men craftily crept in, whiche were before of olde ordeyned to this condemnation, turnyng the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse: and denying God which is the onely Lord, and our Lorde Iesus Christe.
5 Yet mynde is therefore to put you in remembrance (hereof,) forasmuch as ye once knowe this, howe that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them which afterward beleeued not.
6 The angelles also whiche kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day.
7 Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, whiche in lyke manner defyled them selues with fornication, and folowed strange flesh, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the payne of eternal fyre. B Gene. 19. f.
8 Likewise these being deceiued by dreames, defyle the flesshe, despise rulers, and speake euyl of them that are in auctoritie.
9 Yet Michael the archangel, when he stroue against the deuyll, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not geue raylyng sentence, but sayde, The Lorde rebuke thee.

10 But

10 But these speake euyll of those thynges whiche they knowe not: and what thynges they know naturally, as beastes which are without reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginnyng and the endyng, sayth the Lord almightie, whiche is, and whiche was, and whiche is to come.

9 I John your brother and companion in tribulation, tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of Iesus Christ, was in the Ile that is called Patmos, for the worde of God, and for the witnessyng of Iesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirite on the * Lordes day, and heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had ben of a trumpe, 11 Sayeng, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: that thou seest write in a booke, and sende it vnto the seuen churches whiche are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, & vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candlesticks, 13 And in the midst of the seuen candlesticks, (one) like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, & gyrde about the pappes with a golden gyrdle.

14 His head and his heares were white, as white wool, & as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a furnace: and his voyce as the sounde of many waters.

16 And he had in his ryght hande seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged swoorde: and his face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feete euen as dead: and he layde his ryght hande vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare not, * I am the first and the last,

18 And am alyue, and was dead: and behold * I am alyue for euermore, Amen, and haue the keyes of hel and of death.

19 Write therefore the thinges which thou hast seene, and the thinges which are, and the thinges which shalbe fulfylled hereafter.

4 Neuertheles, I haue (somewhat) against ther, because thou hast leaft thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first workes: or els, I wyll come vnto thee shortly, and wyll remoue thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

15 Euen so hast thou them that mayntayne the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, whiche thyng I hate.

A 1 AFter this I looked, and behold a doore was open in heauen: and the first voyce whiche I hearde, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, whiche sayde, Come vp hyther, and I wyll shewe thee thynges which must be fulfylled hereafter.

The epistle on trinitie sunday.

2 And immediately I was in the spirite: and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and (one) sate on the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to looke vpon lyke a Iasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainebowe about the throne, in syght lyke vnto an Emeraude.

4 And about the throne were foure & twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe foure and twentie elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, and they had on their heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doo proceede lightnynges, and thundrynges, and voyces: and there were seuen lampes of fyre burnyng before the throne, whiche are the seuen spirites of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse, lyke vnto Crystal: and in the myddest of the throne, and round about the throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behynde.

7 And the first beast was lyke a Lion, and B the second beast lyke a Calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was lyke a flieryng Egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eache of them syxe wynges about him, and they were ful of eyes within, and they had no rest day neyther nyght, saying, Holy, holy, holy, lord God almyghtie, whiche was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glorie, and Esai.6.b. honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie elders fel downe before him that sate on the throne, and worshypped him that liueth for euer and euer, and caste their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthie, O Lorde, to receyue glorie, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all thynges, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

The.v. Chapter.

1. He seeth the Lambe openyng the booke, 8. 14. and therefore the foure beastes, the xxiiii. elders, and the angelles prayse the Lambe, and doo him worshyp. 9. for their redemption, and other benefites.

1 AND I sawe in the ryght hand of him A that sate on the throne, a booke wrytten within, and on the backeside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I saw a strong angel preaching with a loud voyce, Who is worthie to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neyther vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neyther to looke therein.

4 And I wept muche, because no man was founde worthie to open, and to reade the booke, neyther to looke therein.

5 And one of the elders sayth vnto me, Weepe not: beholde, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the myddes of the throne, and of the foure beastes, and in the myddes myddes of the elders, stoode a Lambe as though he had beene kylled, hauyng seuen hornes and seuen eyes, whiche are the seuen spirites of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And he came, and toke the booke out of the ryght hande of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And whē he had taken the booke, the foure beastes and foure and twentie elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes, and golden violles full of odours, whiche are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they song a newe song, saying, Thou art worthie to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redemed vs to God by thy blood, out of al kynrede, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 And hast made vs vnto our God kynges and prieastes, and we shal reigne on the earth.

11 And I behelde, and I hearde the voyce of many angels about the throne, and (about) the beastes and the elders, and heard their number was thousandes of thousandes, 12 Saying with a loude voyce, Worthie is the Lambe that was killed to receyue power, and riches, & wysdome, and strength, and honour, and glorie, and blessyng.

13 And al the creatures whiche are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, & al that are in them, hearde I saying, Blessyng, honour, glorie, and power be vnto him that sytteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes sayd, Amen. And the foure and twentie elders fel vpon their faces, and worshypped him that liueth for euermore.

The.vi. Chapter,

The Lambe openeth the fyue seales, and many thynges follow the openyng therof.

1 AND I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the voyce of thunder, Come, and see.

2 And I sawe, and behelde (where was) a whyte horse, and he that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was geuen vnto him, and he went forth, conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was redde: and power was geuen to him that sate thereon, to take peace from the earth, & that they should kyll one another, & there was geuen vnto him a great swoorde.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I heard the third beast say, Come, and see. And I beheld, and loe a blacke horse: and he that sate on him had a paire of ballans in his handes.

6 And I heard a voyce in the myddes of the foure beastes say, A measure of wheate for a penie, and three measures of barley for a penie, and oyle and wyne see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and behelde a pale horse, & his name that sate on him was death, and hel followed with him: and power was geuen vnto them ouer the fourth parte of the earth, to kyll with swoorde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the aulter the soules of them that were kylled for the woord of God, and for the testimonie whiche they had.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long (master) thou Lorde holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwel on the earth.

11 And long whyte garmentes were geuen vnto euerye one of them, and it was sayd vnto them that they shoulde rest yet for a little season, vntyl their fellowe seruantes, and their brethren that should be kylled as they were, shoulde be fulfylled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seale, and loe there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackecloth made of heare, and the moone waxed all red as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth her vnripenesse figs when she is shaken of a mighty wynde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scrowle when it is rolled together, and all mountaynes and Iles were moued out of their places.

15 And the kinges of the earth, and the great men, and the riche men, and the chiefe captaynes, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, and euery free man, hydde themselues in the dennes, & in the rockes of the hylles:

16 * And sayde to the hylles and rockes, Fal vpon vs, and hyde vs from the face of him that sytteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

4. 9. He seeth the seruantes of God sealed in theyr foreheades, out of al nations and people, 14. whiche though they suffer trouble, yet the lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaynes of liuyng water, 17. and GOD shall wype away al teares from theyr eyes.

A 1 AND after that I sawe foure angelles standyng on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the winde shoulde not blowe on the earth, neyther on the sea, neither on any tree.

The Epistle on al saintes day.

2 And I sawe another angel ascendyng from the ryssing of the sunne, hauyng the seale of the liuing GOD: and he cried with a loude voyce to the foure angels to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt ye not the earth, neyther the sea, neyther the trees, tyl we shal haue sealed the seruantes of our GOD in theyr foreheades.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, of al the tribes of the chyldren of Israel:

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousande.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousande.

B 7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousande.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulō were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousande.

9 After this I beheld, and loe a great multitude whiche no man coulde number, of al nations, and kinredes, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the lambe, clothed with white garmentes, and Paulmes in theyr handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation (be ascribed) to him that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the lambe.

11 And al the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the elders, and of the foure beastes, and fell before the throne on theyr faces, and worshypped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessyng, and glory, and wysedome, and thankes, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our GOD for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in white garmentes? and whence came they?

14 And I sayde vnto hym, Lorde thou wotest. And he sayde to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed theyr long robes, and made (a) them white by the blood of the lambe. C

(a) That is, the sayde long robes.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and nyght in his temple: and he that sitteth in the throne wyl dwel among them.

16 They shal hunger no more, neither thirst, neyther shall the sunne lyght on them, neyther any heate.

17 For the lambe whiche is in the middes of the throne shal feede them, and shal leade them vnto lyuyng fountaynes of waters: and GOD shal wype away al teares from theyr eyes.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6. The foure angels blowe their trumpets, and great plagues folowe vpon the earth.

1 AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an houre. A

2 And I sawe the seuen angels which stoode before God, and to them were geuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stoode before the aulter, hauyng a golden censer, and many odours were geuen vnto hym, that he shoulde offer with the prayers of al saintes vpon the golden aulter whiche was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours which came of the prayers of saintes, ascended vp before God, out of the angels hande.

5 And the angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fyre of the aulter, and cast it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thunderynges, and lightninges, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared them selues to blowe.

7 The first angel blewe, & there was made hayle & fyre mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt. B

8 And the seconde angel blewe, and as it were a great mountayne burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the ſea and had lyfe, dyed, and the third part of the ſhips were deſtroyed.
10 And the third angel blewe, and there fell a great ſtarre from heauen, burnyng as it were a lampe, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, & into fountaynes of waters:
11 And the name of the ſtarre is called wormewood. and the thirde part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, becauſe they were made bytter.
12 And the fourth angel blewe, and the third parte of the Sunne was ſmytten, and the thirde part of the Moone, and the thyrde parte of ſtarres, that the thirde parte of them ſhould be darkened: and the day ſhone (myrken) that the thirde part of it ſhoulde not ſhine, and lykewyſe the nyght.
13 And I beheelde, and heard an angel flee ing through the myddes of heauen, ſayeng with a loude voyce, Alle, we, we to the inhabiters of the earth, becauſe of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angelles whiche were yet to blowe.

The.ix. Chapter.

12. The firſte woe is paſt. 14. The foure angels that were bound are looſed. 18. And the thirde part of men is kylled.

1 AND the fifth angel blewe, and I ſawe a ſtarre fall from heauen vnto the earth: and to hym was geuen the key of the bottomleſſe pyt.
2 And he opened the bottomleſſe pyt, and the ſmoke of the pyt aroſe, as the ſmoke of a great furnace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reaſon of the ſmoke of the pyt.
3 And there came out of the ſmoke locuſtes vpon the earth, and vnto them was geuen power, as the Scorpious of the earth haue power.
4 And it was commaunded them that they ſhoulde not hurt the graſſe of the earth, neither any greene thyng, neither any tree: but only thoſe men which haue not the ſeale of God in theyr foreheaders.
5 And to them it was geuē that they ſhould not kyl them, but that they ſhould be vexed fyue monethes, and theyr payne was as the payne that commeth of a Scorpion, when he ſhal haue ſtrycken a man.
6 * And in thoſe dayes ſhal men ſeeke death, and ſhal not finde it, and ſhal deſyre to dye, and death ſhal flee from them.
7 And the ſimilitude of the locuſtes was like vnto horſes prepared vnto battayle, and on their heades (were) as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had ben the faces of menne.
8 And they had heares as the heare of women, and theyr teeth were as the teeth of Lions.
9 And they had habergions as it were habergions of yron, and the ſounde of theyr wynges was as the ſounde of charets when many horſes runne to battayle.
10 And they had tayles lyke vnto Scorpions, and there were ſtynges in theyr tayles: and theyr power was to hurt menne fiue monethes.
11 And they had a kyng ouer them, whiche is the angel of the bottomleſſe pit, whoſe name in the Hebrue tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greke tongue hath hys name Apollyon (that is to ſay, a deſtroyer.)
12 One woe is paſt, and beholde two woes come yet after this.
13 And the ſixth angel blewe, and I hearde a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden aulter, whiche is before God, 14 Sayeng to the ſixth angel whiche had the trumpe, Loſe the foure angels which are bounde in the great ryuer Euphrates.
15 And the foure angels were loſed, whiche were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to ſlay the thirde part of men.
16 And the number of the hoſtmen of the armies were twentie thouſande tymes tenne thouſande: and I hearde the number of them.
17 And thus I ſaw the horſes in the viſion, and them that ſate on them, hauing fierie habergions of a iacinct colour, and brymſtone, and the heades of the horſes were as the heades of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth fourth fyre, and ſmoke, and brymſtone.
18 And of theſe three was the thirde part of menne kylled (that is to ſay) of the fyre, and of the ſmoke, and of the brymſtone, whiche proceeded out of the mouthes of them.
19 For theyr powers be in theyr mouthes, & in their tayles: for theyr tayles were like vnto ſerpentes, hauing heades, and with them they doo hurt.
20 And the remnant of the menne whiche were not kylled by theſe plagues, repented not of the deedes of theyr handes, that they ſhoulde not worſhip dinyls, and idols of golde, and ſyluer, and braſſe, and ſtone, and of wood, whiche neyther can ſee, neyther heare, neyther goe:
21 Alſo they repented not of theyr murders, and of their ſorceries, neither of their fornication, neyther of their theftes.

9. The angel hath the booke open, 6. he sweareth there shalbe no more tyme, 9. he geueth the booke vnto Iohn, whiche eateth it vp.

A 1 AND I sawe another mighty angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rayneboowe vpon his head: and his face as it were the sunne, and his feete as it were pillers of fyre.

2 And he had in his hand a litle booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cryed with a loude voyce, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cryed, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I hearde a voyce from heauen, sayeing vnto me, Seale vp those thinges which the seuen thunders vttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel whiche I sawe stande vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen,

6 And sware by hym that liueth for euermore, whiche created heauen, and the thinges that therein are, and the earth, and the thinges that therein are, and the sea, & the thinges which therein are, that there should be no longer tyme.

Ezech. 2. c. 8 And the voyce whiche I heard from heauen, spake vnto me agayne, and said, Goe, and take the litle booke (whiche is) open in the hande of the angel whiche standeth vpon the sea and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the angel, and sayd vnto him, Geue me the litle booke. And he sayde vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it shal make thy belly bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweete as hony.

Ezech. 3. c. 10 And I tooke the litle booke out of the angels hande, & ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony: and assoone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

A 1 AND then was geuen me a reede lyke vnto a rodde, and the angel stoode by, sayeing, Ryse and meate the temple of God, and the aulter, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple cast out, and meate it not: for it is geuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.

3 And I wyll geue (power) vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesie a thousande, two hundred, and three score dayes, clothed in sackecloth.

4 These are two olyue trees, and two candlesticks, standyng before the God of the earth.

5 And yf any man wyll hurt them, fyre proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enimies, and yf any man wyll hurt them, this wyse must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it rayne not in the dayes of their prophecying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with al manner plagues, as often as they wyl.

B 7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre agaynst them, and shal ouercome them, and kyll them.

8 And their bodyes shall lye in the streetes of the great citie, whiche spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where also our Lorde was crucifyed.

9 And they of the people, and kinredes, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall se their bodyes three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their bodyes to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwel vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall sende gyftes one to another: for these two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the spirite of lyfe (comming) from God, entred into them: And they stoode vp vppon their feete, and great feare fel vpon them which sawe them.

1 AND there appeared a great * woonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, & vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres:

* o. signe.

2 And she being with childe, cryeth trauayling in byrth, and payned redy to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another woonder in heauen, for beholde a great red Dragon, hauyng seuen heades, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his tayle drayweth the thirde part of the starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stoode before the woman whiche was redy to be deliuered, for to deuoure her childe assoone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man child, which shal rule all nations with a rodde of iron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and (to) his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of GOD, that they shoulde feede her there a thousand, two hundred, and three score dayes.

The Epistle on saynt Michael and all angels.

7 And there was a batayle in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels,

8 And preuayled not, neyther was their place founde any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuill & Satanas, was cast out, whiche deceyueth all the worlde: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce sayeng in heauen: Nowe is comme saluation, and strength, and the kyngdome of our GOD, and the power of his Christe: For the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, whiche accused them before our GOD day and night.

11 And they ouercame hym by the blood of the lambe, and by the woorde of his testimonie, and they loued not their lines vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce heauens, and ye that dwel in them. Wo to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea: for the deuil is comme downe vnto you, whiche hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a shorte time.

13 And when the Dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman whiche brought foorth the man childe.

14 And to the woman were geuen two winges of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wyldernesse into her place, where she is nourished for a tyme, and tymes, and halfe a tyme, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had ben a flud: that he myght cause her to be caryed away of the fludde.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the riuer whiche the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, whiche keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christe.

18 And * I stoode on the sea sande.

* Somme reade, and he stoode.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1.8. The beast deceyueth the reprobate. 2. 4. 12. and is confyrmed by another. 17. The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

1 AND I sawe a beast ryse out of the sea, hauing seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and vppon his hornes tenne crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And

2 And the beast whiche I sawe was lyke a Leoparde, and his feete were as (the feete) of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue hym his power, and his seate, & great auctho̅ritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: and al the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshypped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? Who is able to warre with hym?

5 And there was geuen vnto him a mouth, speakyng great thinges, and blasphemies, and power was geuen vnto hym, to doo fourtie and two monethes.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was geuē vnto him to make warre with the saintes, and to ouercomme them: And power was geuen hym ouer al kynredes, and tongues, and nations,

8 And al that dwel vpon the earth shal worshyp hym, whose names are not written in the booke of lyfe of the lambe, which was kylled from the beginning of the worlde.

9 If any man haue an eare, let hym heare.

Gene.9.b Mat.26.c 10 He that leadeth into captiuitie, shal goe into captiuitie: *He that killeth with a swoorde, must be kylled with a swoorde. Here is the patience and the fayth of the saintes.

11 And I behelde another beast comming vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes lyke a lambe, and he spake as dyd the Dragon.

12 And he doeth al that the fyrst beast could do in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them which dwel therein to worshyp the fyrst beast, whose deadly wounde was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fyre comme downe from heauen on the earth in the syght of menne,

14 And deceyueth them that dwel on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwel on the earth, that they shoulde make an image to the beast whiche hath the wounde of a swoord, and dyd lyue.

15 And he had power to geue a spirite vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speake, & should cause that as many as wouldne not worshyp the image of the beast, shoulde be kylled.

16 And he causeth al, both smal and great, riche and poore, free, & bond, that he should geue them a marke in their right hande, or in their foreheades.

17 And that no man might buy or sel, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, other the number of his name.

18 Here is wysedome. Let hym that hath wit, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. The notable companie of the lambe. 6. One annou̅ceth the Gospel. 8. Another, the fal of Babylon. 9. And the thyrde warneth to flee from the beast. 18. Of the Lordes harueste.

1 AND I looked, and loe a lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with hym an hundred fourtie and foure thousande, hauyng his fathers name written in their foreheades. ¶ The Epistle on the Innocentes day.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes:

3 And they sing as it were a newe song before the throne, & before the foure beastes, and the elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, whiche were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defyled with women, for they are virgins: These are they which folowe the lambe whyther soeuer he goeth: These were redeemed from menne, beyng the fyrst fruites vnto God, and to the lambe.

5 And in their mouth was found no guyle: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauyng the euerlasting Gospel, to preache vnto them that dwel on the earth, and to al nations, and kinredes, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, *Feare God, and geue glory to hym, for the houre of his iudgement is comme: and woorshyp hym that made heaueh and earth, and the sea, and fountaynes of waters. ¶ Actes. 14.d

8 And there folowed another angel, saying, *Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for she made al nations drinke of the wine of ỹ wrath of her fornication. ¶ Esai. 21.c Ier. 51.d

9 And the thirde angel folowed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man woorshyp the beast and his image, and receyue his marke in his forehead, or on his hande,

10 The same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: (yea) of the pure wine whiche is powred in the cup of his wrath, and he shalbe punished in fyre and brymstone before the holy angelles, and before the lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor nyght: whiche worshyp the beast and his image, and who so euer receyueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saintes: Here are they that kepe the commaundements of God, and the fayth of Jesus.

13 And I hearde a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, wryte, blessed are the dead, whiche hereafter dye in the Lorde. Euen so sayth the spirit, that they may rest from their labour, & their workes folowe them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hande a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple crying with a loude voyce to hym that sate on the cloude: Thruste in thy sickle and reape, for the time is come to reape, for the haruest of the earth is ripe. Ioel. 3. c.

16 And he that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the aulter, which had power ouer fyre, & cried with a loude crye to hym that hadde the sharpe sickle, saying, Thruste in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyarde of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridels, by the space of a thousande and fyue hundred furlonges.

The. xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

1 AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueylous, seuen angels hauyng the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfylled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, & of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they syng the song of Moses the seruant of god, and the song of the lambe, saying, Great and marueylous are thy workes, Lorde God almyghtie: iust and true are thy wayes, thou kyng of saintes. Exai. 27. c. Iere. 51. a.

4 Who shal not feare thee, O Lorde, and glorifie thy name? for thou only art holy: And al Gentiles shal come, and worshyp before thee, for thy iudgementes are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the temple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bryght linnen, and hauing their breastes gyrded with golden gyrdels.

7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen angels seuen golden vials, ful of the wrath of God whiche liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was ful of the smoke of the glory of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, tyl the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfylled.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. The angels powre out their vialles ful of wrath. 6. and what plagues folowe thereof. 15. Admonition to take heede and watch.

1 AND I hearde a great voyce out of the temple, saying to the seuen angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the fyrst (angel) went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth, and there fel a noysome and a sore botche vpon the menne whiche had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshiped his image.

3 And the second angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuyng thing dyed in the sea.

4 And the thirde angel shedde out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I hearde the angel of the waters say, Lorde, whiche art, and wast, thou art ryghteous and that holy one, because thou hast geuen such iudgementes:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saints and prophetes, and therefore hast thou geuen genen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

B 7 And I hearde another out of the aulter say, Euen so Lord God almightie, true and rightwous are thy iudgementes.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and power was genen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of god, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to geue him glory.

10 And the fifth angel powred out his viall vpon the seate of the beast, & his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnew their tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not of their deedes.

12 And the sixth angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, & the water therof dryed vp, that the way of the kinges of the East shoulde be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirites lyke frogges, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophete.

C 14 For they are the spirites of deuils wooркyng myracles, to goe out vnto the kinges of the earth, and of ỹ whole worlde, to gather them to the batayle of that great day of God almightie.

Mat. 24. b. 2. Pet. 3. c. 1. Thes. 5. a.

15 *Beholde, I come as a theefe. Happy is he that watcheth, & kepeth his garments, lest he walke naked, and men se his filthynesse.

16 And he gathered them togeather into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a great voyce out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, sayeing, It is done.

18 And there folowed voyces, thunderynges, and lightenings: & there was a great earthquake, suche as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and ỹ cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to geue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

20 Euery Ile also fled away, and the mountaynes were not founde.

21 And there fel a great hayle, as it had ben talentes, out of heauen vpon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hayle: for the plague therof was exceedyng great.

The. xvii. Chapter.

1. The description of the great whoore,
8. and her sinnes, and pounishement.

1 AND there came one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with me, sayeing vnto me, Come, I wyl shewe vnto thee the iudgement of the great whoore, that sitteth vpon many waters: A

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kinges of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are dronken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carryed me away in the spirite into the wyldernesse: And I sawe a woman sit vppon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple & scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of gold in her hand, ful of abominations and filthynesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoredome & abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman dronken with the blood of the saintes, and with the blood of the martyrs of Iesus: And when I sawe her, I wondred with great maruayle.

7 And the angel sayde vnto me, Wherefore B maruaylest thou? I wyl shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heades, and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, & shal ascende out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shal wonder, (whose names are not written in the booke of lyfe from the begynnyng of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meanyng that hath wysdome. The seuen heades, are seuen mountaynes, on which the woman sitteth: They are also seuen kynges.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eyght, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are tenne kynges, which haue receyued no kyngdome as yet: but receiue power as kynges at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast.
C 14 These shal fight with the lambe, and the
1. Tim. 6. lambe shal ouercome them: * For he is the Lorde of Lordes, and King of Kinges, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faythfull.
15 And he saith vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whoore sytteth, are people, and folke, & nations, and tongues.
16 And the ten hornes whiche thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whoore, and shal make her desolate, and naked, and shal eate her flesh, and burne her with fyre.
17 For God hath put in their hartes to ful-fyl his wyl, and to do with one consent, for to geue their kyngdome vnto the beast, vn-tyl the woordes of God shal be fulfylled.
18 And the woman whiche thou sawest, is that great citie whiche raigneth ouer the kynges of the earth.

The. xviii. Chapter.

3. 9. The louers of the worlde are sory for the fal of the whore of Babylon. 20. But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

A 1 AND after that, I sawe another angel come from heauen, hauing great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.
2 And he cryed mightyly with a strong of the wrath of her fornication, & the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchantes of the earth are waxed riche of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.
5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wicked dedes.
6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, &
geue her double accordyng to her workes, and powre in double to her in the same cup whiche she filled vnto you.

lyued wantonly, so much powre ye in for the Lorde whiche iudgeth her.

9 And they shal bewayle her, and the kings of the earth shal lament for her, whiche haue

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, C no more at al.

15 The marchantes of these thinges whiche they that occupie ships, & shipmen, and as many as woorke in the sea, stoode a farre

of,
18 And cryed when they sawe the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vncryed, weeping, and wailing, and saying, is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye houen your iudgement on her.

21 And a mighty angel tooke vp a stone lyke a great mylstone, & cast it into the sea, saying, With suche violence shall that great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe founde

foūde no moze at al.

22 And the voyce of harpers, & muſitions, and of pipers & trumpetters, ſhalbe heard no moze at all in thee: and no craftes man, of whatſoeuer craft he be, ſhalbe found any moze in thee: and the ſounde of a myl, ſhalbe heard no moze at al in thee:

23 And the light of a candle ſhal ſhine no moze at al in thee, and the voyce of the bridegrome & of the bride, ſhalbe heard no moze at al in thee: for thy marchantes were the great men of the earth, and with thyne enchauntement were deceyued al nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the prophetes, and of the ſaintes, and of al that were ſlayne vpon the earth.

The. xix. Chapter.

Prayſes are geuen vnto God for iudgyng the whoore.

A 1 AND after theſe thinges, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, ſayeing, (a) Alleluia: ſalnation, and glozy, and honour, and power, (be aſcribed) to the Lozde our God:

(a) That is, prayſe ye god, becauſe that Antechriſt and al wickednesſe is taken out of the world.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgementes, for he hath iudged the great whoore whiche dyd corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his ſeruantes of her hande.

3 And agayne they ſayde, Alleluia: and her ſmoke roſe vp for euermoze.

4 And the foure and twentie elders, and the foure beaſtes fel downe, and woꝛſhypped God that ſate on the throne, ſaying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the throne, ſayeing, Prayſe our Lozde God all ye that are his ſeruantes, and ye that feare hym both ſmal and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voyce of much people, eurnas the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of ſtrong thundzinges, ſaying, Alleluia: for the Lozde our God omnipotent raigneth.

B 7 Let vs be glad, and reioyce, and gene honour to hym: for the marriage of the lambe is come, and his wyfe hath made her ſelfe ready.

Math. 22. a. Luke. 14. a 8 And to her was graunted that ſhe ſhoulde be arayed with pure and goodly raynes: for the raynes is the righteouſnelle of ſaintes.

9 And he ſaide vnto me, Wꝛite, Happy are they whiche are called vnto the ſupper of the lambes marriage. And he ſaid vnto me, Theſe are the true ſayinges of God.

10 And I fel at his feete to woꝛſhyp hym: And he ſaide vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy felowe ſeruant, and of thy bꝛethꝛen that haue the teſtimonie of Jeſus. Woꝛſhyp God: for the teſtimonie of Jeſus, is the ſpirite of prophecie.

11 And I ſawe heauen open, and beholde a white hoꝛſe, and he that ſate vppon hym was called faythful and true, and in righteouſnelle (he) doth iudge and make batayle.

12 His eyes (were) as a flame of fire, and on his head were many cꝛownes, and he had a name wꝛitten, that no man knewe but he hym ſelfe. Eſai. 53. b.

13 And he was clothed with a veſture dyed in blood: and his name is called the woꝛde of God.

14 And the armies whiche were in heauen C folowed hym vppon whyte hoꝛſes, clothed with white and pure raynes.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a ſharp ſwoꝛd, that with it he ſhoulde ſmite the heathen: And he ſhall rule them with a rod of yꝛon: and he treadeth the winefat of the fiercenelle and wꝛath of almyghtie God.

16 And he hath on his veſture, & on his thigh a name wꝛitten, King of Kinges, and Lozd of Lozdes.

17 And I ſawe an angel ſtand in the Sunne, and he cꝛyed with a loude voyce, ſayeing to al the foules that flee by the myddes of heauen, Come and geather your ſelues togeather vnto the ſupper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the fleſhe of kings, and the fleſhe of hygh captaynes, and the fleſhe of myghtie men, and the fleſh of hoꝛſes, and of them that ſyt on them, and the fleſhe of al free men, and bond men, and of ſmal and great.

19 And I ſawe the beaſt, and the kynges of the earth, and their armies geathered togeather, to make batayle againſt hym that ſate on the hoꝛſe, and againſt his armie.

20 And the beaſt was taken, and with hym that falſe prophete that wꝛought myracles before hym, with whiche he deceyued them that receyued the beaſtes marke, and them that woꝛſhypped his Image. Theſe both were caſt quicke into a ponde of fire, burnyng with bꝛymſtone:

21 And the remnant were ſlayne with the D ſwoꝛde of hym that ſate vppon the hoꝛſe, which ſwoꝛd proceedeth out of his mouth: and all the foules were fylled with their fleſhe.

The. xx. Chapter.

2. Satan beyng bounde for a certayne tyme, 7. and after let looſe, vexeth the Churche greeuouſly.

A 1 AND I ſawe an Angel come downe from heauen, hauyng the keye of the bottom-bottomlesse pyt, and a great chayne in his handes.

2 And he toke the dragon, that olde serpent, whiche is the deuyll and Satanas, and he bounde hym a thousande yeres, 3 And cast hym into the bottomlesse pyt, and he shut hym vp, and set a seale on hym, that he shulde deceyue the nations no more, tyll the thousande yeres shulde be fulfylled: and after that he must be loosed (for) a litle season.
4 And I sawe thrones, and they sate vppon them, & iudgement was geuen vnto them:
and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the woord of God, and which had not worshypped the beast, neyther his image, neyther had taken his marke vppon their foreheades, or in their handes, and they lyued and raigned with Christe a thousande yeres.
5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe, vntyll the thousande yeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.
6 Blessed and holy is he that hath parte in the first resurrection: for on suche the second death hath no power, but they shalbe the prestes of God and of Christ, & shal raigne with hym a thousande yeres.
7 *And when the thousande yeres are expired, Satan shalbe loosed out of his prison:
8 And shall goe out to deceyue the nations
whiche are in the foure quarters of ye earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to batayle: whose number is as the sande of the sea.
9 And they went vp in the playne of the earth, and compassed the tentes of the sain-tes about, and the beloued citie: and fyre came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:
10 And the deuyll that deceyued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophete shalbe tormented day and nyght for euermore.
11 And I sawe a great white throne, and hym that sate on it, from whose face fledde away both the earth and the heauen, & their place was no more founde.
12 And I sawe the dead both small and great stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another booke was opened, which is (the booke) of lyfe: and the dead were iudged of those thinges which were written in the bookes, according to their deedes.
13 And the sea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead whiche were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deedes.
14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the seconde death.
15 And who so euer was not found written in the booke of lyfe, was cast into the lake of fyre.

neyther sorowe, neyther crying, neither shal there be any more payne: for the former thinges are gone.
5 And he that sate vppon the throne, sayde, Beholde, I make all thinges newe. And he sayde vnto me, Write: for these wordes are true and faythful.
6 And he sayde vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende. I wyl geue vnto hym that is a thirste of the wel of the water of lyfe freely.
7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all

8 But the fearful and vnbeleeuyng, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all lyers, shall haue their parte in the lake whiche burneth with fyre and brimstone:
whiche is the seconde death.
9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen viols full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hyther, I wyll shewe thee the bryde, the lambes wyfe.
10 And he caried me away in the spirite to a great and high mountaine, and he shewed me the great citie holy Hierusalem, descen-dyng out of heauen from God, 11 Hauyng the glorye of God: and her shy-nyng (was) like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Iasper, cleare as Crystal:
12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue angels,

gels, and names wryten, whiche are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the eastsyde three gates, and on the north syde three gates, and towardes the south three gates, and from the west three C gates.

14 And the wal of the citie had twelue fundations, and in them the twelue names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withal, and the gates therof, and the wal therof.

16 And the citie lyeth foure square, and the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousande furlonges, and the length and the breadth, and the heighth of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wal therof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the 18 And the buyldyng of the wall of it was

19 And the fundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first fundation was Iasper, the seconde Sapphyre, the thyrde a Chalcedonie, the fourth an Emeraude, 20 The fyfth Sardonix, the sixth, Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beryl, the nienth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasius, the eleuenth a Iacinct, the twelfth an Amethist.

D 21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euery gate was of one pearle, & the strette of the citie was pure golde, as it were shynyng glasse.

22 And I sawe no temple therein: For the Lorde God almighty & the Lambe, are the temple of it.

23 And the citie hath no nede of the sunne, neyther of the moone to lyghten it: for the glorie of God did lighten it, and the Lambe is the lyght of it.

24 And the nations of them which are saued, shal walke in the lyght of it: and the kynges of the earth doo bryng their glorie and honour vnto it.

25 And the gates of it shal not be shut at all by day: for there shalbe no nyght.

26 And they shall bryng the glorie and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shall in no wyse enter into it any vncleane thyng, neyther what so euer woorketh abomination, or (maketh) lyes: but they onely which are wryten in the Lambes booke of lyfe.

5 And there shalbe no nyght there, and they Esai.40.b. nede no candle, neither light of the sunne, for the Lorde God geueth them lyght, and they shal raigne for euermore.

6 And he sayd vnto me, These sayinges are faythfull and true. And the Lorde God of the holy prophetes sent his angell to shewe vnto his seruantes the thynges which must shortly be fulfylled.

7 Beholde, I come shortly: * Happie is he B that kepeth the sayinges of the prophecie of Apoc.1.a. this booke.

9 Then sayth he vnto me, See thou doo it not: for I am thy felowe seruant, and (the felowe seruant) of thy brethren the prophetes, and of them which keepe the sayinges of this booke: but woorshyp God.

10 And he sayth vnto me, Seale not the sayinges of the prophecie of this booke: for the tyme is at hande.
